Semjase:

135. Wilbert B. Smith, Canada.

136. Direct contact with extraterrestrials as with Fry, but remained silent by order.

137. Was infiltrated as head of the Project Magnet.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_563

Ptaah:

82. A certain Wilbert B. Smith was probably a contactee, but unfortunately one of the negative kind.

83. His contact was only a one-time and absolutely meaningless contact and furthermore only a hypnotic direct contact with the group of the 'Ashtar Sheran', whereby the whole thing was, as already mentioned, effectively of an insignificant nature.

84. As hypnotic direct contacts we call those where the hypnosis is not performed independently by apparatuses, but directly by the human being, but where the hypnotic transmission of energy thanks to hypnosis over long distances is also performed by strong transmitting apparatuses.

85. So Smith, like many other contact persons, was in contact under hypnosis with post-hypnotic aspect, and he did not act consciously and not of his own free will, as it was common practice in the 'Ashtar Sheran' group to keep the contact persons absolutely under control.

86. And this was the case with all the numerous contacts who were abused by the 'Ashtar Sheran' group.

87. Such contacts with Earth-humans were very often the case through the 'Ashtar Sheran' group, whereby this group simply impulsively influenced Earth-humans to make them willing tools for their dark machinations on Earth.

88. These influencers were in great numbers, but none of the human beings ever had any idea what the actual reality of the contacts was and how they took place.

89. In fact, they never had any real physical contact, but always only hypnotic impulsive contact, with real visions also being part of the whole, so that many of those contacts, who were abusively manipulated by the 'Ashtar Sheran' group, were convinced that they had real contact with extraterrestrials.

90. So they were not aware that they had no real encounters with the aliens in this sense, and consequently they also had not flown in their flying apparatus, because in fact they were only pretended to have had real hypnotic visions.

91. Through this hypnotic real vision illusion the contactees were misled in such a way that they actually believed that they had real contacts with extraterrestrials and had flown with their flying apparatus.

92. So they were no longer able to distinguish reality from the hypnotic illusion, and lived or still live in the implanted delusion that their contacts were real.

93. A further fact was that these contactees were hypnotically and suggestively given false data about the origin of the 'Ashtar Sheran' group, thus practically all these contactees were reminded of different places of origin.

94. But all these facts were unknown to us at the time when we gave you the list of these contactees, because at that time we only analyzed the memories of the people concerned.

95. These were, however, so profoundly hypnotically and suggestively manipulated that we were deceived by them and therefore did not recognize the memory manipulation.

96. We only found out the real facts three weeks ago, with better technical possibilities, which we now have at our disposal and which we have now used for the first time.

97. In recent years, we have noticed things that seemed strange to us in various such contactees, which is why we used the new equipment and devices to re-analyze the memory impulses of all still living contact persons and were able to penetrate their hypnotic blockade.

100. It must be said, however, that the persons forced into contact in this way are left with no conscious knowledge of their own, but only the post-hypnotic memory, which shortly after the manipulation became so strong that it could not be reversed .

101. And this applies without exception to all those many Earth-humans whom we have named individually or in lists as contact persons and who without exception have been forcibly manipulated in a hypnotic-suggestive-revisionary way by the 'Ashtar Sheran' group.

102. In all cases, however, the impulses were such that the recipients of the impulses had false visions and thought that they had experienced contact, which is why they took notes, wrote books and also made public statements.

103. The reason for this was, on the one hand, that this was supposed to lead to a worldwide disinformation regarding the existence and origin of various extraterrestrials, while on the other hand it was also connected to a plan of the 'Ashtar Sheran' group, which consisted of becoming a ruling power on Earth and finding a new home there.

104. The plan was that this group would act as a kind of savior for the Earth's population, against various 'evil' alien invaders who were supposed to threaten Earth.

105. For this purpose a big spectacle with aerial battles and fights in earth orbit was planned to make everything seem real.

106. And this would finally have led to the 'Ashtar Sheran' group taking over the rule of Earth, as an extraterrestrial armada, so to speak.

107. So all this was aimed at with the hypnotic contacts to Earth-humans, and it was all to come about after official contacts with the Earth governments had been established.

108. This could actually have been achieved by influencing certain Earth-humans through impulses, which would also have included the rulers of all countries, who would have acted according to the impulses in such a way that the plans could have been realised.

109. Since these persons, of whom there were a greater number, all failed and for reasons as yet unknown to us did not fulfill the orders placed in them, the evil plan did not come to pass.

110. All the contactees, whom we also used to call by their names, were supposed to be the pathfinders for the realization of the plans of the 'Ashtar Sheran' group.

111. And since all these Earth-humans were hypnotically and suggestively manipulated by the aliens of the 'Ashtar Sheran' group, which we did not know at that time, we called them real contact persons.

112. That was probably wrong of us, because we let ourselves be misled, which led to false assumptions on your part and also on the part of Earth-humans, which resulted in the assumption that these contact persons with the 'Ashtar Sheran' group had real physical or telepathic contact with any aliens.

113. Of course this was not true, as we know today, but even then it seemed strange to us, because we did not know any other group apart from the three groups unknown to us.

114. So we assumed that these contact persons were connected to the three unknown people we did not know.

115. So this misunderstanding was due to us, which we regret very much.

116. And it should also be mentioned that this form of forced manipulative contacts had nothing to do with our impulse contacts, which we used to have with Earth-humans, but for them unconsciously and in such a way that they assumed that their progressive ideas were their own.

117. In particular, these impulse contacts from our side to scientists took place in order to promote the sciences of medicine and technology among Earth-humans, which has also been proven by the very rapid developments in the last decades through many inventions and innovations etc ., as is actually the case.

118. Our contacts were also such that the recipients of our impulse transmissions had no knowledge of the whole of the unconscious telepathic information impulses.

119. The 'Ashtar Sheran' group, which finally ended in the DAL universe, as you know what was supposed to cause disaster on Earth, which would have happened if their manipulative machinations with the forcibly contacted Earth-humans had been successful.

120. As for the name 'Alan', which was used by Wilbert B. Smith, it was also a fantastic invention, as were all his utterances.

121. With regard to the name 'Alan', it did not mean that he was a liar, but that the meaning of the name meant 'the liar'.

122. This is described in PP Volume 6, page 264, sentences: Ptaah 238–248, the following:

238. With regard to the name ALAN, or what this word is supposed to be, we found out that it is just a falsely invented word formation which has no value or meaning.

239. This word form is also not to be found in any of our languages or in any language we know, of which we know and have stored more than 3.7 million in our entire field of knowledge and expertise.

240. You told me about this word formation ALAN during my last visit, so that I could make sure in the meantime that it does not exist in any language known to us.

241. According to this, a group of specialists tried to get to the bottom of things in Japan and it turned out that the word formation ALAN is a pure, unwise and lying invention of deceitful and maliciously lying Earth-humans whose evolutionary level is in the lower reaches of the earthly lowest level.

242. As a name, this word formation ALAN, which is intended to deceive and cheat, does not appear in the entire area of the universe known to us, but this does not mean that we do not know names of a similar form.

243. Thus, for example, the names Alaan, Aaland, Allan, Alann, Aljon, A'Lan and Nala exist in various languages known to us, whereby this last name represents the reverse form of the mad word formation ALAN

244. But the meanings for these names are all very negative forms, which is why they are only used there with the human beings who live in degeneration and exist with peoples whose education and observance in matters of truth and truthful evolution is still at a level of primitive form.

245. So the names also mean primitive, just as Alaan means 'the truth adverse'.

246. Aaland means 'the truth twister', Allan has the meaning 'the truth verifier' and Alann stands for the unworthiness 'the truth hate

247. The name Aljon has the meaning 'the destroyer', while A'Lan means 'the deceiver'.

248. Nala, the name which in the reverse form would result in ALAN, has the meaning 'the liar'.

Billy:

These are new findings again, which show many things in a new light.

Ptaah:

123. That is so, but we are also not immune from mistakes and misguidance, not even in the mentioned relationship by the 'Ashtar Sheran' group, which has been doing very bad things and has caused a lot of trouble regarding alleged physical and telepathic contacts with various extraterrestrials from allegedly different places of origin.

124. As we have now been able to find out, their victims were hypnotically and visionarily duped into alleged physical contacts, as well as into alleged messages of Christian religious form.

125. This, along with various other underhand machinations, which caused wrong assumptions and views in many Earth-humans, even among civil servants and military personnel etc.

126. Also, for the sake of confusion, sightings with various kinds of flying apparatus were actually organized around the world, as well as strange acts of animal mutilation etc., as well as by Earth-humans who were impulsively hypnotized by the 'Ashtar Sheran' group.

127. We only found out about this through Asket, because she told us that during the fighting in the DAL universe four prisoners were taken from the 'Ashtar Sheran' group before their armada was completely destroyed.

128. One of the four prisoners was the first representative of Ashtar Sheran and Armada commander.

129. Recently he, like the three other prisoners, finally agreed to break the silence and reveal the many evil machinations of the group, so that we could get to the bottom of it with their hypnosis contactees and find the truth.

130. These prisoners also gave the names of various such false contactees who had already died, including one Wilbert B. Smith, as well as others in various countries in Europe, Africa, Japan, America, Israel and South America, such as Brazil and Argentina etc., but also Australia and Russia etc.

...

Billy:

I can understand that, but now the question arises whether the whole thing with the prisoners and your investigations have perhaps also led to findings with regard to the three groups unknown to you, and if so, which ones?

Ptaah:

136. This was also clarified with the prisoners, and their statements make it absolutely clear that the 'Ashtar Sheran' group had no connection whatsoever with the three groups unknown to us.

... But what about the folks who received Ashtar Sheran's messages? As far as I know, one of these people is called Speer. But this one is not on your list. On the other hand, however, there are many other well-known names of persons who are specifically mentioned in books and writings by Ventla-Publishers.

Semjase:

178. The Aruseak Group in Berlin is a particularity and does not belong to the areas of extraterrestrial intelligence.

179. As you have been oriented by Quetzal, Aruseak has been pinning his hopes on the Giza intelligences, and therefore it is necessary to wait for further development first

180. Furthermore, we are informed about the names in books and writings of the Ventla-Publishers as well as many other groups and individuals.

181. But as contact persons they are completely foreign to us, although we know from many of them that they partly belong to the Giza intelligences or grossly abuse any truth.

182. The Ventla-Publishers are sectarian in nature, and also publish false contact reports.

Billy:

There will be an uproar, Semjase, because Ventla-Publishers has a lot of names ...

Semjase:

183. ... of which only a few belong to very few real contact persons.

123. Rudolf Steiner/Switzerland.

124. Impulse telepathy contacts with aliens.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_655

Ptaah:

154. Anthroposophic medicine is grounded in a worldwide and very confusing 'spiritual-esoteric' worldview and its associated training and cognitive pathways.

155. Anthroposophy is an attempt to combine elements of German idealism, the world view of Goethe and the gnosis of Far Eastern teachings with the 'scientific' insights of Steiner.

156. An application of the idea of evolution in relation to 'spiritual' development forms a central aspect of this.

157. Steiner took for his anthroposophy evolutionary approaches of the Darwinist Haeckel, as well as especially from the modern theosophy of Helena Blavatsky.

158. In contrast to representatives of a purely secular, scientifically oriented idea of progress, understanding humanity and its development 'spiritually' and supersensibly, anthroposophy sets itself apart from theosophy proper and its eastern religious orientation.

159. Anthroposophy includes evolution, as well as a new interpretation of evolution, which led to extensive controversies about possible social Darwinist and racist aspects at the time when the anthroposophical system first came into being.

160. According to the unreal understanding of the founder Rudolf Steiner, anthroposophical medicine is based on confused esoteric principles of natural science and on anthroposophical 'spiritual science', as well as on research into the phenomena of the physical, the living, the 'soul' and the 'spiritual', which, realistically speaking, raises more questions than real knowledge.

Amata Stetter

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_057

Billy:

... So I want to ask the first question. Amata writes it this way: "Are these large ships, which I see again and again, with a large superstructure and many cabins, simply spaceships or even large-capacity ships? How many people are on a ship like this?"

Quetzal:

5. This description of the objects is neither one nor the other, but quite simply very large emigration ships with an average diameter of 120 kilometers, with a capacity for human life-forms of around one million.
6. These gigantic ships serve exclusively for emigration purposes, especially when a world is very endangered and destruction is to be considered.
7. These are the same giant migratory ships that were used by our ancestors at the earliest times, when they came from the Lyra-Vega region to Earth and later also settled on our Plejaren constellation.
8. Their external shape and size have been maintained since then, but they have been subject to constant innovations of a technological form, so they are equipped today according to the state of the art.
9. When Amata received our teleimpulses as teleprojections, she saw everything in an extremely reduced form, because she would not have been able to grasp and overview the gigantic size and the reality of it.

Billy:

Aha, then she practically saw something like models?

Quetzal:

10. No, that is not quite so, because she sees the projections as quite large.

...

Billy:

She goes on to write: "What do these creatures mean who, on Thursday night, climbed out of a wonderful blush in the sky, each time after a bolt of lightning that was not followed by thunder, got out of a vehicle and descended on UFOs stationed in the vicinity of our house, on or over trees, etc.? They were all dressed in white robes and they were all looking at me. One climbed down a staircase in a long white garment with wonderful glittering silver stars on the robe .He went under my window and then went to a UFO stationed under a tree. From there he looked up to me, while more and more other beings in white clothes and in whole groups came here.

Quetzal:

12. This phenomenon is a teleprojection on our part, for the purpose of triggering memory.

13. The beings wrapped in white clothes embody our ancestors from a period of approximately 70,000 years ago, who came to Earth at that time, but who did not live in fixed houses, but in their free-floating beamships, which they had stationed mainly over forests.

14. Hence the UFOs seen by Amata and floating above trees, as she says.

15. Between the ships there were radiation belts of visible nature, which served as connections between the formations and lit up at intervals.

16. These are the flashes Amata saw.

17. The man dressed in the wonderful robe with the adorning stars was the YHWH of this emigration group, whose most distant descendants still live somewhere on the earth as their own smallest group of former extraterrestrials, but whom we have not yet been able to find by any means imaginable.

18. In the meantime we could only find out with certainty that Amata, from her old personalities, must today be a very distant descendant of the brother of the former YHWH, which means that this group of extraterrestrials, who as mentioned were a part of our ancestors, must have mixed with terrestrial people here on Earth and forgot their actual origin.

19. And to find out how these connections extend now and how, and where today's descendants of these ancestors live is one of our tasks, and that is why we also are making an effort for Amata.

Billy:

This is really fantastic; then here's another question from Amata: On Friday evening a vehicle came out behind the moon, hanging on two clouds, and floated down onto the roof opposite our house, which was suddenly covered as if by a white blanket of snow. An old man with white glasses looked out of the window. The vehicle stayed only briefly on the roof, rose again and floated past my window, while the old man looked at me insistently. Then it ascended again to the sky and disappeared behind the moon.

Quetzal:

20. This teleprojection is the representation of the brother of the old YHWH to solve further memory factors in Amata.

21. The beamship or vehicle, as Amata says, floating between two clouds, means the representative position of the old man as YHWH.

Billy:

Good, then the next Amata question: Other white figures sat again on the opposite balconies. A man in a white robe was lifted out of a UFO by two men in gray working clothes and lifted onto a stage where he sat down and looked up to me. Down in the courtyard of the neighboring house stood a bunch of people in gray working clothes right next to this stage. One of these men detached himself from the group, lit a star and hung it over the garden railing. More and more people came in large beam or space ships and settled on the surrounding roofs. Then came again beings in white garments and in vehicles which looked like thick tree trunks and had large cabins. With these vehicles they drove directly into an already present big ship. Could these white creatures be sons of heaven?

Quetzal:

22. Our ancestors and us in former times were called sons of heaven by the earth-humans.

23. This teleprojection is a reference to the past, the present and the future.

...

41. The white figures Amata had seen on the opposite balconies are teleprojections of the old venerable ones of long gone times.

42. These are the beings who begat and ruled the white earthly human races.

43. But there are also their descendants among them who in peaceful form pushed forward and determined, up to a certain value, the later earthly development of humankind.

44. So they are the true ancestors of the white earthly human race, while the people in gray working clothes (the folk, as Amata calls them) represent earthly mankind in all its colors and races of today, standing next to a large platform.

45. This platform symbolizes the foundation of truth, knowledge and wisdom.

46. Onto which two gray clad Earth-humans lift a man dressed in a white gown, whom they have previously lifted out of a beamship.

47. After they have lifted the white-dressed man onto the stage, one of the two men takes a star and lets it shine in bright light, in order then to hang it brightly on a fence.

48. These pictures symbolize the present.

49. This is the call of time and evolution in the sense of knowledge and dissemination of truth in the Aquarian era.

50. The venerables, dressed in white mentioned above, are and were the origin of all human life existing on the earth today in their known form.

51. Everything was determined and directed and partly pre-programmed by them, but this never elevates them to hierarchical forces or powers, because such values do not exist.

52. However, due to the willfulness of the Earth-humans, who are many races, many things failed and went in very degenerate [got very badly out of control of the good human nature] and negative tracks.

53. Thus it was determined by the decision of the old venerable ones in foreseeing of the coming events that at the time of the Aquarian era a new prophet should appear, who already would have been so in former times as other personalities had who walked the Earth and patiently fulfilled his very heavy duty, true to his mission.

54. So it had been foretold by the venerable ones that at a certain time the same prophet would come again incarnated in a new personality, begotten by predestination and born by earthly parents, as was the case in former times, but begotten at that time by the seed of a son of the heavens.

55. The incarnation of the prophet in the Aquarian age is represented by the image, of two beings dressed in grey, a man and a woman, two earth-humans, lifting a man dressed in white out of a beam ship and putting him on a platform, from where he will spread the knowledge of truth, wisdom and love.

56. The great multitude, as Amata says, represents the mass of earthly humanity that hears and receives his teaching, while his light of wisdom shines and radiates, symbolized by the shining star suspended from the fence.

57. This action takes place through another gray clad being, an Earth woman.

58. This is Amata herself, for she makes the star shine and hangs it on the fence, which represents the barrier between knowledge and ignorance and between truth and untruth.

59. The hanging or placing of the star on the fence symbolizes the state of the Prophet who has overcome the 'barrier of ignorance' so he is able to fulfill his mission.

60. But the doing of enlightening and putting the star on the fence also shows the state of Amata, her important role which she has to exercise in connection with the mission fulfillment of the prophet, because through her connection to our ancestors, which we have meanwhile established, she was destined to help the prophet in the form of her teleprojective connections and contacts to us, to be able to testify through her teleprojective connections and contacts to us that we exist and maintain actual contacts with the prophet himself.

61. This, however, is only of importance in the narrowest of circles through which the basic values in every relationship are developed and disseminated.

63. This is fundamentally the interpretive value of this important teleprojection.

64. In Amata's important interest it should also be mentioned that certain projections of these things are unavoidable for us, because only through them can we track down these very old facts anchored in the memory banks and memories penetrating very deeply into her subconscious, which can provide us with valuable information about the connections that are extremely important to us.

65. But Amata should be careful not to deal with the projections more than necessary.

66. On the other hand, we have also noticed that Amata is burdened with misleading teleprojections from an unknown side, which obviously serve a lower purpose.

67. We have known this for some time, but have not yet been able to produce an analysis.

68. So let her exercise caution.

69. We will continue our efforts to find out where these strange teleprojections come from and what their real reasons are.

70. However, this task is made very difficult for us because the teleprojection impulses are so distorted that we cannot locate their origin.

...

74. The further appearing figures with white clothes are the Earth-humans of the future, who through the teachings of the prophet will knowingly become wise and defeat ignorance in any form, whereby they will build large but still primitive spaceships, with which they will fly to other stars and planets foreign to the [Sol] system for the first time after a very long time and establish contact with other races of humans in the universe.

75. This is represented by the flying tree trunks with the large cabins that fly into an already present large ship.

76. This is the interpretation of this teleprojection, which we sent out by teleimpulses for certain reasons and which was apparently actually received by Amata.

...

Billy:

A huge thing, I think. But may one know where this prophet now lives, what his name is and where he had already appeared as a prophet before, and under what name?

Quetzal:

79. You know him very well because you embody this person, and we suspect that you know that better than we do.

Wendelle C. Stevens

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_759

Ptaah:

During our conversation, however, she {Asket} mentioned Wendelle Stevens and said that she had also known him personally. However, she did not want to get involved in further explanations in this regard, but referred me to you, which I then also did and you instructed me to ask her again about the place and date of your first encounter with Wendelle Stevens. It was only a few days later that she told me more about your and her first and continuing acquaintance with him. He was also strictly sworn to secrecy and was not allowed to talk to anyone about your early acquaintance. This was also not the case when the predetermined official path to an official acquaintance with him via Lou Zinsstag – Professor C.G. Jung was a distant uncle to her – had emerged. Your much earlier acquaintance with Wendelle Stevens, however, as Asket explained, had to remain as secret as her contact with him. He was under constant surveillance by the secret service and also had to answer questions several times, but because he remained silent and did not give any information about what was suspected of him, false accusations were made against him, which he accepted in silence and was therefore innocently sentenced to a long prison term. Nevertheless, he remained silent because otherwise he would have been charged with endangering the state and would have had to spend the rest of his life as a prisoner. But now that he has passed away, to which Asket said, when I asked her about it, that she would no longer have to keep her silence, she gave some dates where and when you first saw and met Wendelle Stevens. According to her, it was in the United States of America on 14 May 1969, in an area called Casa Adobes, but where the three of you went several times until 1975, in areas Asket called 'Saguoro area', 'Javslina Rocks', 'Pine top Lake' and 'Gila Bend'.

Asket also told me that she had entrusted Wendelle Stevens with the date and location of an upcoming secret test flight concerning a secret new type of fighter aircraft called F 117A, which would take place in the month of June 1981 in an area called 'Groom Lake'. This tempted him, with their help, to enter the area and remain hidden, and then, when the test flight was carried out, to take a large number of photographs at the risk of his life. If he had been noticed by the many guards who secured the whole area, then, as Asket said, he would have been shot immediately without a call.

Zafenatpaneach:

If I start again from the beginning. The reason for the whole thing was because you had told Guido a strange thing and he was interested in it, consequently he wanted to see the place and the traces of the phenomenon that happens in that desert area from time to time. When you informed Semjase of Guido's interest, which urged him to at least see and enter the place in question himself and also to meet Wendelle Stevens, Semjase agreed to fly him to Death Valley in America with you in their flying apparatus and also to include Wendelle Stevens, which is how it turned out.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_877

Billy:

... Like Wendelle himself, I was supposed to keep quiet about this during his lifetime, which I also did. But now that someone has come across the fact that Wendelle took photos of UFOs at the restricted military area in southern Nevada and thus at Area 51 – which is known because of the Roswell incident, Robert Lazar and experimental aeroplanes, etc. – I can talk about it now, since Wendelle is no longer there. Well – Wendelle has left us and has nothing more to fear from the American henchmen, because of whom he also had to remain silent, otherwise he would have been 'captured' by the American military intelligence service. He was also ordered to keep quiet about the fact that he was allowed to fly around with her a few times in Asket's beamship and also see the future. However, it was still not enough to prevent him from being arrested and imprisoned, even though he was completely innocent, as he was unable to defend himself against the intrigue being waged against him by the upper management.

What can be said now is that the photos and films he took at Area 51 were made with my cameras, which I had lent him, and I also took care of developing the slides and films, because it was too 'hot' for him to have them developed in America. The slides and films were also too 'hot' for him, which is why Asket and I advised him not to publish them, after which he finally destroyed them in Asket's and my presence.

He only kept a few pictures that were unknown to me or took them later with a camera that did not belong to me, because I had no knowledge of them and did not have them developed.

These photos are also known and circulated today, but where he took them, I really do not know, but they were obviously taken over a sea, and they show a UFO and an American fighter plane that are completely unknown to me. But as I said, I do not know where these photos were taken, and I cannot ask Asket, because she is not here, and I also do not know whether these photos were taken in her presence. And if I look closely at these photos, they do not show a beamship of you Plejaren, but something foreign, which is probably a UFO of the foreigners ...

Quetzal:

But there is also a record of Sfath, and that is a note concerning a man called Tesla, whom you were able to meet, who according to my research today is credited with strange inventions. For example, an apparatus which is said to have produced so-called 'death rays' and to have been called a 'death ray'. What do you know about it? Do you have any knowledge about it? And what was the other...

Billy:

... Sfath told me to keep quiet regarding such things and not to tell anything that could somehow be invented for weapons development and killing. Tesla and I met Sfath when he was 'tinkering' and we suddenly appeared out of nowhere, which frightened him immensely. It took him a long time to recover from his fright, and it was only when Sfath 'beamed' him and me into his pear ship and 'circled' the planet that he calmed down and listened to what Sfath told him. He was then also willing to talk about his inventions and explain everything in detail. Besides, I can say this because there is a lot of talk in the world about the alleged 'death rays', he told Sfath and me that he was not talking about 'death rays' but about 'cathode rays', an invention in the field of electrical power engineering. He told us that a journalist had created the term 'death rays' and that it had been quickly spread, but that he had really only spoken of a 'cathode ray', which was really nothing other than an electron ray, which – if I remember half rightly – was an electrical invention, by means of which, on the one hand, a weak bluish illumination of the air could be brought about, but that, on the other hand, it was an electrode, which had a negative pole or so, etc., which was necessary in order to be able, when the light was switched on, to produce an electric current, which was necessary in order, when the electrode was put together with an opposite plasma electrode, to produce a certain ... whereby a ... could be produced. Tesla then explained this to us in detail, as well as what the final result was with regard to the invention in this respect and what resulted from it and what could be done with it, etc., about which, however, I had to promise him not to speak, namely that I would keep my mouth shut for the rest of my life and never say anything. That is because That on the one hand, on the other hand also because ..., which ... So it is that what he really invented, developed further and ..., which was very effective, something that ... But this is to be kept quiet about, especially because it really worked, as he demonstrated to Sfath and me and also explicitly explained to us all his plan records in this regard, but which he earnestly declared he would destroy because he could not bear the responsibility that through his invention the irresponsible as well as the power-hungry and military of the world could not only endanger all existence of humanity, but even destroy the planet. Therefore, I will say nothing more about his inventions, which he developed much further and more precisely than was known, although Sfath advised him not to reveal this, as well as nothing about the possible applications. Since then, these have only triggered conjecture, lies or simply nothing more than partly wild fantasies, which cannot be further than far from the truth. In particular, I am thinking of the fantasy story about the allegedly disappeared warship, whose alleged reappearance was supposed to have 'fused' some of the crew members with the metal of the ship, which corresponds to an unparalleled nonsense. Clearly, however, I may say that Nicola was not an extraterrestrial and he also had no inspiration from extraterrestrials – which also applies to Albert Einstein – to make the inventions, which, however, is claimed to the contrary by delusionists and believers.

98. These were then provided with the full names and addresses of all US Presidents in office from 1950 to the year 2000, as they had been fathomed by my father Sfath through time-forward visits.

99. He was then also responsible – which I only found out today from my father's annals – for the 10 copies reaching the White House in the USA, where they were hidden away as a special secret matter for all presidents, with the involvement of the then President Harry S. Truman, who resided in 1953.

But how was it then that the whole incident was erased from Truman's memory?

Ptaah:

102. To explain this would require longer explanations, but they would go too far and would explain facts which I am not allowed to state openly.

103. First, however, it must be explained that the erasure of the relevant memory factors was not forced, but was done with the consent of President Truman.

104. However, I can and may only point out that my father proceeded in 3 steps, the first of which was neuroscientific, in which President Truman himself made an active effort to erase his memory.

105. On the one hand, this occurred as a result of my father's influence of speech, whereby Truman so reshaped, altered and removed his mental context from his memory itself that he was no longer aware of, and thus erased, the whole incident relating to the contact with my father and the hiding of the secret matter.

106. The 2nd step took place in a post-hypnotic manner in order to remove the whole thing as a memory for a long time, but the 3rd step in this context consisted of a co-application of xenon gas, whereby the specific biographical thing that occurred lapsed into amnesia and was thus erased.

Illyitch "Jitschi" Ustinov

{Billy:}

... We had just rounded a large boulder when Asket suddenly stopped and held me back: Not three metres in front of us a fire was glowing faintly, while a figure had just leapt towards us, waving a rifle. He spoke hastily to us. I did not understand a word of it, because the man, obviously a European, spoke English, a language I did not yet know. Asket, however, knew the language and calmed the man down, who then began to speak in German, so that I could also understand everything. This man, who was about 45–50 years old, was a Russian citizen who had been wandering the world alone and lonely for many years. He had already travelled to many countries and was now camping alone in the Jordanian desert mountains near the Dead Sea. When we suddenly appeared, he was frightened and believed himself endangered by some dark elements. So he came at us with his rifle. Quickly, however, we were able to clarify the situation and then sat down together around his campfire. He offered us tea in a small metal pot, and suddenly I realised that I was hungry and had not eaten anything since early morning. As if the man had noticed my thoughts, he offered us something edible, and ravenous, I devoured everything. Asket also seemed to suffer from the same malady, for she also ate the dried bread and dried fruit with an obvious appetite.

We must have been with the man for an hour when we wanted to go back. But then he stopped us and explained that he had been wandering alone for many years and had never been able to join human beings. He distrusted human beings and would therefore avoid them, which is why he had also set up camp here in this lonely place. Since many years, now, while we were together, strange feelings had begun to stir in him. He could not explain it all, but he found us very sympathetic human beings, which had never happened to him before, or only very rarely. He had already learned to hate human beings in his adolescence, and now this change had suddenly taken place in him with regard to us, so that he would be very happy if we could stay with him a little longer or at least meet him again in a few days.

Already holding Asket's hand again, I felt her handshake getting stronger. Then she spoke softly and gently to the man and made a promise for both of us that we would meet him again in the same place and at the same time on the 7th of February, which was already in a few days. With this promise, we said goodbye to him and returned to the ships, for the ship that had brought me here from my home was still there.

Still somewhat tired, I awoke in the early morning.

It was, to me, as if I had heard a shot somewhere.

Asket also immediately got up from the couch and quickly approached me at one of the ship's windows.

Some 20 metres away from the ship stood a man who, leaning on his rifle, grinned up at us.

Quite obviously he had fired a shot in order to cause us to notice him.

It was, without doubt, the same man whom we had met at night, some days ago, far from the ship.

Wordlessly, we let ourselves be carried out of the ship and went to the man who, grinning, slowly came to meet us.

He spontaneously reached out his right hand to us and laughed.

Jitschi:

That is really a surprise - what in the world!

Come and let me greet you two - that is really a surprise.

I should have thought of that right away, because how would it otherwise have been possible to find you two so sympathetic when you visited me at my camp.

That is really a surprise.

- I am Illyitch Ustinov, but simply call me Jitschi.

That is a surprise.

{Billy:}

(He vigorously shook Asket's hand and then mine.)

...

{Billy:}

(We then went to the ship together and then pushed Jitschi forward towards the transport beam, in order to get him into the ship. Grasped by the power, he was lifted from the ground and slowly glided upward. Quite suddenly his eyes widened unnaturally, and then a shrill scream tore the stillness. Once Asket and I were likewise in the ship, I saw how Jitschi, pale with terror, sat in an armchair and, completely dumbfounded, stared at the entrance shaft. Several minutes passed until he finally calmed down again, while Asket patiently enlightened him. ...)

Billy:

UFO Sect Wants To Clone People

With an entirely clear conscience one may call the "Raelian Movement" an imbecilic UFO sect. And now they are once again spouting off in a questionable manner. This sect, founded by French automobile journalist Claude Vorilhon, awaits the blessing of "Elohims" and praises the cloning of human beings. For a cool US $200,000 the UFO sect claims that it will clone humans. The project is part of the-end-is-nigh-ideology of Vorilhon, a clever and smart fisherman-of-the-faithful. The story of Vorilhon's sect began on December 13, 1973. This date was also the alleged beginning of the "New Age" when, according to his claims, extraterrestrial entities who call themselves "Elohims" made a revelation to him. Vorilhon, who disseminates untruth, claims that these 1.20 m [4 ft] tall extraterrestrial super beings have visited him in their UFOs and designated him as their mystical conveyor of salvation on Earth. The lively bunch of little extraterrestrial men supposedly introduced themselves to him as this self-proclaimed guru's foster parents. Vorilhon says the Elohim told him they began breeding terrestrials in their laboratories 13,000 years ago but their genetic gameplaying was not very successful, since an alleged inspection from space later revealed that Earth was in chaos. As a result, Vorilhon says, the Elohim felt sorry for their terrestrial wards who were irrationally bashing in each other's skulls, holding wars, committing adultery, performing criminal or villainous acts, and disobeying their creators in other ways as well. Consequently, the creators had to come up with a rescue plan, indeed, an entire rescue mission, to save the depraved earthlings.

In 1975, when the Elohim purportedly revisited Vorilhon, they invited him for a quick outing through the cosmic spheres, where he allegedly had the opportunity to sit at the dinner table with ancient biblical personalities as he visited the Elohim's home planet. There they divulged their plans to "Rael," as they call him. Of course, these plans always fit harmoniously into his delusional assertions to which many thousands of believers have since fallen prey.

Furthermore, so claims Vorilhon, the aliens mandated that he establish a UFO sect, after which he and his followers, along with the terrestrial human population, would be allowed to witness the peaceful invasion by the Elohim near the turn of the millennium.

In 1974--telling rubbish and mad fantasies--"Rael" [aka Claude Vorilhon] wrote his book The Message of the Extraterrestrials-- The Book That Tells The Truth. From the onset of his machinations he has also continued to hold lectures and various types of other activities, to which many of his faithful have succumbed. In 1994 he even went so far as to induce the Swiss Raelites into demanding that the Swiss government grant diplomatic immunity to the Elohim. And in order to receive the Elohim in style on Judgment Day, Rael's followers simultaneously presented model plans for an ambassadorial residence for the aliens which the fanatically faithful Raelites intended to finance to the tune of 6 million Swiss Franks [approx. US$ 4 million]. In his reply to the strange demands of the sectarians, former Federal Council Otto Stich whimsically queried them as to how they intended to deal with the aliens at the annual New Year's reception for all diplomats.

Once again in accordance with the false teachings of their guru, the Raelites now believe that through their human cloning project they will rapidly advance toward their goal to salvation. Together with their extraterrestrial Elohiminal foster parents, they vie for the salvation of the evil and degenerate terrestrials who are, so they believe, exceptionally degenerate beings, lost almost beyond hope, and total freaks within the entire universe. Hence, their objective is to remedy the many human shortcomings through cloning technology. The Raelites operate from a headquarter in Geneva, Switzerland; a base they established over a period of several years. In order to reach their imbecilic and deranged objectives, to put it mildly, the guru's followers sacrifice 7% of their entire income, which adds up to quite a healthy bundle considering the sect's membership totals somewhere between 20,000 and 40,000.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_294

Billy:

... You know the thing about Bulletin No. 11, that the head guru Claude Vorilhon alias Raël of the Raël sect quoted me in court for alleged personality violation. We printed a total of 320 bulletins, which of course were all distributed and sent out. Now I thought it would be best if we did a recall for this No. 11 Bulletin. What do you think?

Ptaah:

43. I think you are doing good with it.

...

49. But what I would like to say something about is the Raël sect thing:

50. It is incomprehensible to me that the Swiss judiciary would even accept a complaint from the sect leader, because your statements do not contain any inaccuracies or untruths.

Billy:

That's part of the illogical laws we have here in Switzerland. By these unreal laws it is forbidden and punishable to officially tell the truth. For this reason, I can be prosecuted for publicly naming the sect chief's fiddling and using terms that the court describes as offensive to personality as those of the sect guru. But let us not do that, because it is of no use. We can only wait and see what happens in the second instance with regard to a judgment. But if we are talking about sects, then I would like to hear your word about the nonsense that the sectarian hooligans are letting go of themselves, which also applies to the Raël movement leader. So, the sect gurus and also all alleged contact persons, who want to be in physical or telepathic connection with extraterrestrials or people of other dimensions, consistently claim that the extraterrestrials or people of other dimensions are gods, saints, messengers of God or angels, etc., but at least salvation bringer, who want to save the people of the earth from destruction, etc.. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_296

Billy:

... Then there is something else: the cult guru Raël alias Claude Vorilhon and his followers as well as several others, such as unscrupulous doctors in Italy and in some other countries, already want to create human clones. ... Behind all this there is only the desire for prestige and greed for profit, etc., where people are deceived who are incapable of procreation or who have lost a child or an adult and are left in the belief or are fraudulently informed that the deceased could be recreated. I think this is criminal.

Ptaah:

88. Which you are right about.

89. The research of terrestrial men concerning the creation of clones is still in its infancy.

90. Besides, irresponsible people like doctors and sectarians etc., lie and deceit, as you rightly said, are doing this, where greed for profit and prestige play a decisive role.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_312

Billy:

... F.B. {Fred Bell} has contacted us on the Internet complaining that we are revealing his name in connection with his hanky-panky about alleged contacts of his with your daughter Semjase. He wants us to have his name removed from the Internet. I do not agree with this, however, because his untrue allegations should be made public, I think. I think, however, that perhaps some words in the text should be changed so that less aggressiveness is expressed, because you know that in Switzerland and elsewhere in the world we are no longer allowed to call a spade a spade, otherwise legal action will be taken against me and ourselves, such as the removal of his name from the Internet. For example, in the case of Claude Vorilhon alias Raël, with whom I have been litigating for years because I called a spade a spade and it looks as if the Swiss courts still agree with the guy and are kicking my ass for that. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_330

Billy:

I have been using the term wangle for quite some time now because it's impossible to quote me in court for it – at least I suppose not – as it happened to me when I spoke my mind openly about a certain wangle. In Switzerland, unfortunately, it is forbidden to speak your mind openly and state the facts by name if you want to expose someone's unfair machinations etc. If you do it anyway, then unfortunately there are tough laws in Switzerland that forbid this and punish you, so that you are muzzled and the truth cannot be publicly disseminated. This is called freedom, justice and the rule of law. In this way, lies, fraud, crime and swindling are rewarded by the legislation, the administration of justice and thus by the courts and their jurisdiction, and also by the fact that, when really serious and most serious crimes as well as violent and capital crimes are committed, the guilty are handled and treated with kid gloves and sentenced to extremely short and inadequate prison terms – if at all, if they are not given a suspended sentence. The greater and more serious the criminal act or crime, and the higher the professional, financial or social position of the perpetrator, the more lenient the judgement of certain courts will be, and the lower the sentences and penalties will be, the more inappropriate and completely inappropriate and scornful of justice. This is in stark contrast to real justice, which is very often trampled underfoot, thereby giving effect to the principle: "The little ones are hanged and the big ones let go". So it also happens that if a person speaks the truth openly and honestly in public with those words that clearly state the facts of the case, he will be punished by law for this, because any liar, cheat, swindler, thief, murderer, charlatan, burglar, work-shy person and criminal can be sued in court, if one publicly exposes his real machinations with the correct descriptions of his character traits and his actions and behaviour.

Florena:

4. In fact, it {see Urandir Fernandes de Oliveira} is a large-scale fiddle, as you like to call it, probably for security reasons as a result of the unjustified court decisions against you in the case of the cult leader Claude Vorilhon alias Raël.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_619

Billy:

... Well, then, I have something here that you should read. It is an E-Brief which was beamed to me by Elisabeth Gruber and which is addressed to the FIGU. It is a matter of the sect of the alleged UFO contact Raël, who wants to be in contact with so-called 'Elohim' and on whose behalf he is supposed to be ambassador or something on earth. I'm sure you'll remember that I was sued by this Raël sect because I wrote something about the cult boss Claude Vorilhon that didn't fit into the sect members' stuff. The sect had created a symbol that represented a hexagram with a swastika, which was later replaced by a windmill. The Raël movement, also called Raëlism or Raëlist religion, was until 1976 also known as MADECH ('Mouvement pour l'accueil des extraterrestres, créateurs de l'humanité', German: 'Bewegung für den Empfang der Außerirdischen, Schöpfer der Menschheit'). The 'New Religious Movement' was founded in 1973 by Claude Vorilhon alias Raël (*1946), who claims to have had an encounter with a representative of an extraterrestrial civilization who had stepped out of a UFO. The group became known for its desire to facilitate human cloning.

Ptaah:

27. The whole matter is no more and no less than absolutely ridiculous, and it must show every rational human being on Earth the boundless nonsense spread by this sect.

Billy:

The sect obviously does not consist of bright members, because they do not think for themselves, because they are not capable of doing so, so they let their guru think and decide for them. I don't want to say more about this either, because it would carry water into the Rhine. But I wanted to show you how the Raël sect is still doing its stupid mischief.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_650

Billy:

Thank you, then we will finally have clarity in this respect as to how everything has happened. This also refutes the weak-headed assertion of those lunatics who swear that humanity on Earth was created by extraterrestrials, such as the Raelian sect and other sects spread this nonsense.

Ptaah:

74. Extraterrestrials have in very early and also in more recent times only interfered in the development of the ancient terrestrial early human beings, which is why they have played certain determining roles in this respect and have also brought calamity to the Earth.

75. This, too, in the wise of their mating and mixing with the terrestrial early humans beings and so bringing the Sirian genetic manipulation to the Earth.

76. The latter has then spread on a large scale among the earthly humankind by way of heredity and has through aggression, disharmony, jealousy, wars, murders, manslaughter, unpeace and unfreedom, etc., brought a great deal of calamity and has preserved it up to the present time.

77. But so this did not happen as a result of a creation of Earth-humans by extraterrestrials and alleged Elohim etc.

78. By extraterrestrial immigrants, who mated and mixed with the early herd people, on the one hand only the Sirian gene manipulation and other gene transfers caused by race were spread worldwide by inheritance, and on the other hand already early the generally all-encompassing and at that time possible primitive development was promoted in various relations.

79. Only in these forms did the extraterrestrial immigrants of all times make reference to the terrestrial human beings, but never in such a way that terrestrial humanity was created by them, extraterrestrials.

80. So the effective truth is that humanity on Earth has emerged as its own creation from the development of life forms on Earth itself, although certain genetic factors of extraterrestrial immigrants have remained in it from the early days of early earthly humans and also from later times, as well as Sirian gene manipulation in large parts.

Billy:

And that you Plejaren, through your teachings, try to do something against the misconduct and the mischief of the old extraterrestrial immigrants, just by teaching and informing, you consider this simply as your obligation, because the old immigrants belonged to the Nokodemion descendant peoples, just like you Plejaren. That's the point, isn't it?

Ptaah:

81. That's so, yes.

{Earth: An Alien Enterprise by Timothy Good, pages 91-96}

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_142

Billy:

... Today, I have something similar, namely a letter again, which clearly indicates that it is a swindle. Here, if you want to read it...

Semjase:

...

7. Is this supposed to be a joke, or have these very faulty words been written with seriously deceitful intention?

Billy:

They are really meant to be serious, obviously in order to perpetrate a fraud.

Semjase:

8. Then it truly does concern a fraud, which certainly must be explained by me.

9. The few human races in the area of the Cassiopeia constellation in another space-time configuration are well-known to us, but they have no resemblance to the life-forms mentioned in this letter.

10. Also, their flying apparatus do not correspond in any manner to the kind described here, and besides, their technology is not so far and highly developed that they could, with their own flying apparatuses, reach the Earth.

11. The technology of one of the two races is presently developed so far that they prepare just the first flight attempts to outer space, and they stand just a little bit behind Earth's technological development.

12. The second race, which is on another planet behind the Cassiopeia constellation, only has flying apparatuses that master their own planetary space somewhat certainly.

13. Among these facts is the further complication that both of these races of human life-forms exist in a different time plane in relation to the Earth, like I said, so separated from the time plane that is known to the Earth human being and in which they live.

14. So when the human beings of the Cassiopeia constellation one day master space travel, they still will not be able, for a long time, to penetrate into the time plane in which the Earth-humans live their existence.

Billy:

And in our time plane known to us, no human life-forms exist, who would be capable of space flight in Cassiopeia, ie in that area?

Semjase:

15. Sure, there are human beings there, but these are not yet advanced in space flight, or are not yet so far advanced that they could carry out journeys through universal space.

...

Billy:

... Then this Josef Wanderka, who wrote this letter, is just another spinner?

...

Semjase:

28. Especially with this letter, it would have had to hit him {Wendelle Stevens} that an attempted fraud was present because certain similarities to your writings unmistakably point to the fact that these are clearly based on the fact that your written material was reproduced in a distorted and fraudulent form.

29. A lot of this very clearly and without a doubt points to the fact that this person, Josef Wanderka, has falsified compositions from your writings and from our contact reports in his own favour and has maliciously and intentionally written them down as his own experiences.

Billy:

Aha, we have already determined this. So then, it is true that this guy has stolen material from my writings.

Semjase:

30. Sure, because that is unmistakable and clear.

61. But the greatest deceiver was the man who called himself Karl Michalek.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_007

100. It is, in fact, already enough that certain deceivers like George Adamski and K. Michalek and so on have driven many human beings into delusion and misery.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_029

Semjase:

129. But especially I would like to talk again about George Adamski, because he made the most tremendous assertions together with Karl Michalek, and because of the excessive number of trick photos, etc. he became more and more audacious and frivolous in the course of the years.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_031

Billy:

... But now I would like to come back to the UFO contacts, that is, to those people whom you call swindlers and fraudsters. What I am interested in is this: under what circumstances do you call these persons guilty of swindling and fraud?

Ptaah:

1059. If it is indeed the case that their statements and reports are not true.

1060. This is the case if these Earth-humans are not in contact with any extraterrestrial life-forms and only fabricate their statements and 'evidence' themselves through their imagination and skill, as was the case with Karl Michalek and George Adamski, for example.

Billy:

So that means that these people are deliberately creating and spreading lies for some reason?

Ptaah:

1061. It is so.

...

1093. Fortunately, real swindlers and frauds are few at present, but there will be very many more in the decades to come who lie and are fraudulently false contactees in this respect, i.e. such Earth-humans who, for selfish or world-improving reasons, etc., create lies, swindles and frauds, have created or will create lies, fraud and deceit to serve their own or other's egoism, delusion and profit, like Michalek and Adamski.

...

80. There probably exist foils of the measurement you have referred to, but they were fraudulently made for unfair purposes by Earth-humans a number of years ago.

Billy:

This answer is clear; but what kind of characters are there on these man-made foils?

Semjase:

81. They were confusingly, but logically, made by a whole group of earthlings for fraudulent charlatan purposes.

82. But they are truthfully of complete insignificance.

83. Adamski also worked in the same form and also forged such characters for fraudulent purposes.

84. Also Michalek and some others have indulged in the same lower machinations.

Horst {Fenner}:

One of them was called Adami, or something like that, another one Genovesa and yet another one Michalek. Could you tell me something about them?

Kohun:

... The names you mentioned are well known to us, but you mispronounced them: The first is called ADAMSKI, the second, Genovese, and the third, Michalek. These are not names of real contact persons, but of malicious swindlers. Neither one nor the other of them has ever had contact with us or any of the other space races.

To the best of our knowledge, they have also never even sighted one of our beamships.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_109

4. Furthermore, the incredibly stupid and audacious assertions contain such blatant excesses of contradictions that even a person who is uneducated in this field must recognize the incredibility of the whole story.
5. Just looking at the claim concerning the celestial body Aldebaran shows such ignorance and stupidity that I blush with shame when I think of a grown man publicly spreading such nonsense.
6. Aldebaran is on the one hand, as you yourself know very well, an already very far expanding and decaying star, which has only an inherent heat of hardly 5,000 degrees Celsius and no more energy and power to guarantee higher, let alone human or human-like life on any planet.
7. And furthermore, you know this as well as we do, because we also let you see this star, its nearer and farther surroundings and the entire Taurus region on your Great Journey {see Contact Report 31}, there are no solid-matter planets in the entire Aldebaran system, only gas planets, which do not and could not carry any higher life apart from bacterial life.
8. So there is also no planet called Arian or inhabitants who would call themselves Arian, who are also supposed to be distant relatives of the Earth-humans.
9. These assertions alone are so nonsensical that I have to ask myself whether the man who invented these dubious stupidities is still in his right mind.

[Those Who Lie About Contacts \[pamphlet\]](#), page 4

Billy:

... not a single person in America or elsewhere on Earth has had contact with Pleiadians until now nor will they have any in the near or distant future. This also shows that I, BILLY, am the only human being on Earth who has ever had any contact with the Pleiadians or will have had any contact. All those who claim the contrary, however, or claim that other people on Earth or they themselves are having physical or spiritual contacts with Pleiadians. no matter how, are simply always very conscious, contemptible, dirty, characterless and indecent, depraved, impertinent and morally degenerate, disgusting, miserable and despicable liars, cheats and deceivers beyond compare. Amongst those who stand out are especially Americans or those of American decent (however, people from other countries, e.g., Germany, Spain, Italy, South America and France, and so forth, fall into the same category of depravity, even though they are not quite as blatant as Americans). Names such as Fred Bell, Roberta Brooks, Siracusa, Rael, Andreas Schneider, Jahnke, Groenke, Griscom, Penny McLean and many others, are daily routine items.

Billy:

I simply want to point out that so many lunatics on Earth still claim and the longer the more that they have contact with humans or spirit-forms etc. of the Pleiades, e.g. the liar B. F. then the South American or Mexican C. and the Mexican professor anyway, then also the actress M., with whom we had quite bad experiences, but also G. G., who wants to maintain contact with a Pleiades commander Hatoon, then P. M., or as they are called and many, many others, such as R. B. and the super-channel G. C., etc. etc. and so on.

Ptaah:

767. They all fall under the names of liars, swindlers and fraudsters.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_256

Billy:

... Is there anything you know about a certain Jani King? Recently I received a fax saying that this women from North Queensland in Australia has written at least two books about...

Ptaah:

44. ... alleged contacts with me, which of course is just as much a kind of irrational shady wheeling and dealing as the untenable claims of Penny McLean, Barbara Hand Clow, Barbara Marciniak and Amora Quan Yin and others, who engage in shady wheeling and dealing and claim to be in some way in contact with me or with other persons or some spiritual beings of our people.

45. In the same league also belong F. B. with his made-up contacts to my daughter Semjase as well as Adrain with his story of lies and the alleged contacts in Florida.

46. We have from our side never had such contacts with human beings on Earth – except those known to you, and only those to your person -, and there are also no such contacts at present, and in the future too no such contacts from any human beings on Earth will materialise with anyone of our peoples.

47. But if human beings of the Earth nevertheless claim to be in contact with one of us, or with spirit-beings of our peoples, then this is equivalent to a lie, to a fraud or to a charlatanism.

48. Also schizophrenic processes and suggestive influences as well as self-deception etc. cannot be ruled out in such cases.

49. Liars, swindlers, fraudsters, charlatans and persons with delusional sickness of the kind who claim to be in contact with us, are unfortunately more and more found on Earth.

50. All of them are as a whole, and I must emphasise strongly ALL of them, only poor lunatics, schizophrenics or other delusional-sick ones, or otherwise deliberate liars, swindlers, fraudsters or charlatans.

51. And it is in that context interesting to note that it is only since the time of officially spreading your mission and thus your appearance in public that we Pleiades/Plejaren have become the focus of public interest and have been abused by dozens of delusional-sick ones as well as liars, swindlers and charlatans for alleged contacts with them, whereby all these sick and dishonest persons are assessed by practically all UFO circles to be true contact persons and their delusional or lie and fantasy stories are accepted as true, even though no letter of their blathering is correct – while you as real contact person towards us are in an abusive way accused of being a liar and fraudster and your evidence accused of being falsifications.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_294

Billy:

... But since we are already talking about sects, I would like to hear your word about the nonsense that the sect henchmen spout, which also applies to the Raël movement leader. So, the sect gurus and also all alleged contactees, who want to be in physical or telepathic connection with extraterrestrials or other dimensioned ones consistently claim that the extraterrestrial or other dimensioned ones are gods, saints, God's messengers or angels etc., but at least saviors who want to save the people of earth from destruction etc. These claims also exist in relation to you Pleiadians/Plejarans and in particular to you, when I think of the fraudulent claims of those who are said to be in contact with you or with other Pleiadians/Plejarans. I'm thinking in particular of Jani King, Barbara Marciniak, Fred Bell and Penny McLean and their ilk. Of course, Carlos Diaz must not be forgotten either, nor must Siracusa and many others who deal with people other than you. ...

...

Ptaah:

70. We Plejadians do not come to earth as gods, angels, saints or the like, and we also do not come to bring salvation, peace, freedom, love, knowledge, wisdom and progress to the earthly world and to earthly men, for all these values must be laboriously worked out by the man of the earth himself through his reason and understanding as well as through his thinking, feeling and acting.

71. So we also do not solve any problems for the earth-men, because just as we are not saviours, we are also not omniscient, who we could solve and master all problems and evils.

72. So we are not ultimate saviours either, but only simple people, whom we do not rise above the earth-men or other people in the universe, even if we are generally higher developed in all things than the earth-men etc..

73. We only come here in the obligation of bringing certain values of knowledge etc. to man of the earth through you, as well as through teleimpulse impressions etc. unconscious for man of the earth, which he himself must grasp and compile to knowledge.

74. And as I said; as mediator between the earth-man and us serves thereby our only contact person living on earth, namely you, Eduard, to whom you are called 'Billy' according to your destiny, together with the name Eduard Albert Meier given to you at birth.

75. And you too, as our messenger, are not omniscient and not salutary, for knowledge and salvation must be created by man on earth himself.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

... So you are not located on the mentioned stars or on any alleged planets, such as the Pleiades, which at the beginning of our contacts we had at first deliberately falsely named as your home stars, in order to later be able to expose liars, deceivers and charlatans, who allegedly or falsely and thus untruthfully would have contacts with you Plejaren. And that this is exactly how it came to be, you knew this in advance through foresight, which is why we started the deceptive manoeuvre with the false place of origin 'Pleiades' and only named your real place of origin Erra with the Pleiaren stars in the ANKAR space-time structure, when in the course of the years various lying alleged contact persons, who claimed to be in contact with you, could be unmasked. ...

However, the fact that I had to name the Pleiades stars as your place of origin at the beginning of our contacts in 1975 according to your instructions was effectively the correct way, because only in this way could the fraudulent alleged Pleiades contactors of both sexes be convicted of lying. It is true that there are still a few lunatics and madmen who claim to be in contact with you, Ptaah, by channelling etc., like the confused Penny McLean etc., ...

Billy:

Then one last question, which refers to Gabriele Wittek. You once told me that all her so-called revelations etc. were invented and offered by herself and that not a single word of everything corresponded to the truth. The woman presents herself as a self-proclaimed prophetess, also as a self-proclaimed medium of the sect 'Universal Life' and also as a mouthpiece of God, as did Erika Bertschinger alias Uriella. According to your statements I made a corresponding remark in Bulletin No. 25, on page 21, as a result of which I once again received a harnessed complaint, this time from France, from a man who obviously had something to do with this woman and who told him various things about his and his wife's life. What is this about?

Ptaah:

46. What I explained to you is true.

47. Not a word of what Gabriele Wittek tells as a medium etc. has any origin other than her own.

48. She has no contact with any beings except her own, which means that she actually creates and invents the whole in herself and then imposes it as 'divine wisdom and love' on her believers and other followers.

49. But an alleged alien also plays a certain role here, who for the chosen ones of the sect 'Universal Life' is supposed to be, so to speak, a saviour in need, by one day – probably at the end of the world, since this is also an end-time sect – saving the chosen cult members with a spaceship.

50. And since the woman possesses a good psychological ability – as is characteristic of practically all sect heads, by which they astonish their believers and other followers again and again, combined with a certain knowledge of human nature – it is easy for her to eavesdrop on her followers without them noticing it, consequently she makes all sorts of combinatorial assumptions about her followers, etc., which are often correct. The latter then naturally fall for it and believe everything, so that the woman can do more than others and that she is actually in contact and connection with 'higher' beings.

Mr. X

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_437

Billy:

... Then once again a question that also refers to something related to UFOs, because there is a story going around on the Internet at <http://projectcamelotportal.com/> about a certain Mr. X who is said to have appeared in December 2005 and who allegedly – according to the title 'Mr. X speaks out on secret UFO archives' – worked on secret archives about UFOs and extraterrestrials for a contractor company of the U.S. Department of Defense. An author Bill Ryan and an author Kerry Cassidy are responsible for the publication of the story. The story seems very strange to me, since certain contradictions appear as well as ideas for world improvement, Raël fantasies, strange claims about statements of alleged extraterrestrials and also inconsistent claims regarding Roswell and other UFO crashes, etc.

Ptaah:

45. These fantasies are also known to me, but they are not to be taken seriously, like all the other nonsense, which is spread by many female and male wannabe greats all over the world in an addicted to show off manner in the context of extraterrestrials and their flying machines etc.

Billy:

If my first sightings of UFOs were only at night, when I saw them as "moving stars," then that changed already after a relatively short time, for on one beautiful and warm late summer afternoon, I saw, to my delight, a spherical object high in the blue sky, slowly drifting along and sinking deeper, until I was able to recognize it as a proper sphere. Then, it vanished all of a sudden and without a trace, without any noise or recognizable reason.

In the following time, the day sightings accumulated, and one day I again felt something strangely foreign in me. It was like a voice somewhere in my head, and somewhere there were also drawn pictures that were inexplicable to me. This inner voice and the pictures prompted me intensively and repeatedly to seek an answer and also to give it. This happened in the late autumn of 1942, just a few months before the transition to my sixth year of age.

These appearances completely foreign to me, this inner voice and the pictures, they somehow worried me, for in my then still own unknowledge about such matters, the thought came to me that I would slowly go crazy and insane. This was a reason for me to approach one of our Protestant pastors, in the hope that he would help me. He then did this very helpfully and with obvious knowledge of the situation, even though I had never told him anything before. As it seemed to me, he was well informed about UFO matters and had a great deal of knowledge in this regard. So he cleared me up in the matters of UFOs and my "inner voice" and the "inner pictures" and explained to me that I should attempt and try as fast as possible to give a response to the voice continuously calling out in me. I can still remember very well that he, while friendly laughing, took away my anxiety with the words, "You need not be afraid, because you know what you hear and see inside you, that's just telepathy." Then, to my astonished and probably also rather uncomprehending face, he explained to me very exactly what I had to understand by telepathy. Together with this, however, he still explained to me very many other things, which I still could not fully understand at that time as a five-year-old boy, but which I learned to understand fully in later years, as I also became aware that this old and lovable pastor was an initiate.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_280

Billy:

... You once told me that Father Zimmermann was called to a contact. Consequently, I thought that at least one contact was personal and physical.

Ptaah:

37. No, to my knowledge this was not the case, but all contacts were purely telepathic in nature.

38. Apparently you misunderstood 'being called' and concluded that a personal contact had taken place.

39. Being called to a contact simply means being called to a telepathic contact.

Billy:

Then it's like a radio call etc. - you are called, that would be the right version.

Ptaah:

40. You can also define it that way, yes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_690

Ptaah:

89. Father Zimmermann also knew this, because he was personally contacted by my father Sfath on one occasion and educated in all necessary matters, as a result of which he knew everything about you and your mission and also maintained a friendly relationship with your parents.

90. However, he kept silent about your mission to them and to all other Earth-humans, and he kept this secret all his life.

91. So my father only had a one-time personal contact with him, after which, however, telepathic contacts took place several times, whereby my father also explained to him several times and advised him never to influence you religiously, but simply to teach you neutrally about the Christian religion, because you would have to be instructed about it – as also about other religions and sects – and consequently he refrained from any religious influence in every respect.

...

Billy:

Man, that's news. You are telling me things there that I did not know, also that Reverend Zimmermann had a personal contact with your father Sfath ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_719

Billy:

... That everyone was fully on my side was arranged by your father Sfath with Pastor Zimmermann, who in turn agreed with my first teacher, Karl Graf, and then also with Gustav Lehmann, to help me. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_725

Ptaah:

95. The records show that Father Zimmermann on the one hand concealed his contact with my father, Sfath, you and Professor Jung from his entire family, as was also the case with your two teachers Graf and Lehmann.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_727

Ptaah:

7. However, you were never a believer in God, but Father Zimmermann was before my father Sfath came into contact with him, after which he was in any case no longer a believer in the sense of the Christian religion.

8. You knew that, but the priest ordered you to keep quiet about it, because neither his family, who were and remained believers in the Bible, nor the authorities and the population were allowed to know anything about it, because his office as priest would have been endangered.

9. When he felt called to become a pastor as a young man, he was very Bible-believing and God-believing, and he remained so until that time when my father contacted him.

10. Particularly significant – which is now also clear and understandable to me – was the behaviour of Pastor Zimmermann, because it is clear from the secret annals that my father Sfath contacted Pastor Zimmermann even before you started school in 1944, and not only through inspirations, but also personally.

11. That he then brought him back to Jmmanuel during a two-day time journey when he was 28 years old and was also able to speak with him via a language converter, you never told me anything about that, just as you never told me that you had already travelled back in time twice with my father before your journey with Asket and were able to speak with Jmmanuel, as well as with all the other earlier prophets.

12. This experience, however, that Pastor Zimmermann was able to talk to Jmmanuel and came to know the reality and thus the falseness of his religious faith, caused him to change his belief in the Bible and God, consequently his faith very quickly changed to an acknowledgement of reality.

...

Billy:

Ptaah, excuse me, I had no idea about that, because Sfath never told me. I am really gobsmacked there – really. The fact that Sfath was in personal contact with Reverend Zimmermann and that he even went back to Jmmanuel with him, he never told me about that either, just as Reverend Zimmermann never told me. Sfath, I think, would have told him that he must never speak about it, which he then perhaps understood to mean that he should also remain silent towards me. Sfath never said anything to me about it either, so I could never say anything to you either. And as for my journeys back with Sfath to all the other heralds, I was not allowed to say anything about it to you, Semjase and Quetzal, for your father said that you in particular would learn the whole thing when the correct time came for it, which, however, would be when you gained knowledge of it through your own efforts.

Ptaah:

... on the one hand your two teachers Graf and Lehmann, as well as also Pastor Zimmermann, were contacted in person by my father Sfath, informed and variously enlightened and instructed.

...

38. He further instructed both of them regarding the reality of creation as well as the falsity of religions, as he also informed them – as was the case with Pastor Zimmermann – that you would suffer terrible slander and be harassed by the school authorities etc. throughout your school years and also for some time afterwards as a result of slander.

39. My father also taught them how the falsity of religions and the faith of Earth-humans came about.

40. Through all the teachings, both teachers caused themselves, as was also the case with Reverend Zimmermann, to turn to the truth from then on and to be helpful to you in a secret way.

42. So it was incumbent upon all of them, the two teachers, as well as Pastor Zimmermann, to remain silent, because on the one hand they would have forfeited their reputation and their livelihood by making an announcement, and on the other hand they would not have been able to provide the necessary help for you, but furthermore also with regard to ...

Ptaah:

... My father never told you that even before your birth he personally contacted Pastor Rudolf Emanuel Zimmermann, instructed him in his flying apparatus for several hours regarding your mission and let him see the planet and also the whole Earth from a great height from the perspective of his flying apparatus. He undertook to remain silent for the rest of his life, as did all the others who were later initiated into your mission in the same way and were allowed to enter his flying apparatus for the first time. ...

... Several people from America and South America contacted Wendelle Stevens – some of them years ago – who claimed and claim that they had had or still have contact with Pleiades from the Alkyone system, whereby the different Pleiadian contact groups had no knowledge of each other and therefore did not know that other groups were in contact with terrestrial humans.

Ptaah:

30. Overall this corresponds only to lies, fantasies, dizziness and fraud, because all Pleiadian-Plejaren groups, and thus also all individuals, have always been – and still are today – under my command, because I am the Jschwish responsible for this solar system, but also the one responsible for the entire Pleiadian-Plejaren systems, so consequently nothing can be done with regard to contacts with terrestrial humans without me having knowledge of it and issuing an order for it.

31. We have already explained to you several times that of us Plejadians/Plejaren only my command is authoritative for the Earth and that apart from the members of my command no other Pleiadian-Plejaren forces have contact with any human beings of the Earth, neither physical nor telepathic.

35. So it can be said that you are actually the only person on Earth who is in physical and telepathic contact with and from the Pleiadian/Plejaren.

Asket {3rd February 1953}:

3. And to fulfil our mission, we have to neutralize the spacetime connection barrier between our and your universes, so that we can achieve a harmonious passage through without damage to ships and universes.

4. Because our home world lies in the DAL universe, in the AKON system, in a system foreign to you Earth-humans, of a universe just as foreign to you, of which several surround the universe known to you, on the seventh outer belt.

5. Many of these universes lie in other time planes, and in, for you, expanses of utter foreignness.

6. Our universe is a parallel sister universe to yours, respectively a twin universe, and, calculated according to your concepts, it lies in a similar plane.

7. The difference between your time and ours is only very slight.

9. Made possible through technical developments, an ancient universe barrier was opened again between our (universe) and your universe, that guaranteed us the entrance into your time, after which the knowledge about it, lost many thousands of years ago, was worked out again.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_%E2%80%93_Part_2

Asket {4th February 1953}:

1. The entire existence of all creational universes, world-bodies and life-forms, etc., can be embedded in a perfect mathematics that works like an infallible machinery and causes life to become or perish.
2. The elementary formulae rest in the mathematically most important numbers 3, 7 and 12.
3. All calculations in these three numbers always and all the time give one and the same result in the equation itself – and the equation is a perfect round that can be calculated infallibly in multiples of 7×7 .
4. The entirety of mathematics is based in a closed ring which can be calculated at any time by the numbers 3, 7, 12 and 7×7 , since the Primordial is itself a perfect roundness, perfect to the smallest degree – a roundness of the relatively perfect in mastery of the becoming and passing away in the Creation itself.

Billy:

That's what I meant – I just expressed myself inappropriately.

Billy:

... What about the blue stars over there, how big are they, and is life possible on them?

Ptaah:

196. They are no bigger than your homeworld, although this kind of star is normally five to six times larger than the Earth.

197. They are as inhospitable and hostile to life as any sun and as the great planets in the SOL system such as Jupiter, Saturn and Uranus.

198. The gravity alone allows no life on these stars, and not even any spiritual life-forms are located on them.

199. In 97% of all cases they are as completely devoid of higher life like your sun and the planets Jupiter, Saturn and Uranus, etc.

200. In the few cases, however, where life exists on such stars, the existing life-forms are exceedingly small, where the total size of thermobacteria is usually not exceeded.

201. The gravitational force of such stars would crush larger forms.

202. But of course, this varies from planet to planet or from star to star, while the atmosphere itself plays no role, because different life-forms also live in different atmospheres.

203. Not all life-forms breathe oxygen like we pure humans do.

...

Billy:

... Could you therefore explain the difference between stars and planets?

Ptaah:

211. That can be easily and very quickly explained, because planets are solid and not gaseous cosmic bodies which have practically no inherent luminosity, and which receive their light by the conversion of the incoming solar radiation.

212. Stars are gaseous and energy-converting cosmic bodies, which consequently have an inherent luminosity and generate their light from the emanating processes within their own body.

213. Both are inhabitable for life-forms.

214. Planets as well as stars, if atmospheric and other conditions permit it; whereby on stars, resp. suns, as a rule only thermobacterial or thermobiocell life is possible.

Asket:

52. Besides in the whole Universe there are life-forms that look deceptively similar to each other, whereby a person can be mistaken for someone else.

53. You call this doppelgänger.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_053

Semjase:

1. Today I bring back the drawings to you, you should only label them according to my instructions.

...

14. The round spiral illustrates the creational structure of the whole.

15. It is evident from this that the entire creational power is considered to be the centre, but that it forms both the inside and the outside.

16. The powers of the new Creations emanating from Creation resonate through the interior and exterior and also develop in this form.
17. The arrows pointing inwards and outwards embody this.
18. They should make this process clear.
19. The corresponding 7 levels of development, which are subdivided again into 7 x 7 mature forms, correspond both to the conditional evolution-stages of the life-forms and to the energetic forms.
20. So it becomes obvious by the fact that the overall structure takes place in the form of a spiral and is absolutely uniform for all forms of matter, both the fine-material and the coarse-material.
21. Also this evolutionary form, which cannot show any other form, is of universal validity.
22. Therefore, if the Earth-human chases after other concerns and assumptions, then he/she moves in fundamentally wrong paths and misconceptions, because the entire universal life in every form is creationally-directed and is not subject to any degenerations or variations.
23. Like the creational power itself, any other existence has to follow the same paths.
24. However, the Earth-human is ignorant and unknowing, consequently he/she searches and draws illogical conclusions from sham observations.
25. There are no 7 levels of the SOL-system, because all existing levels are all universal, consequently no worlds and suns or whole systems have separate levels.
26. So there are truly only 7 all universal levels, which in their overall structure are however also arranged differently than assumed by the terrestrial human being.
27. The presentation you have given me {from Mr. Reiz} is thoroughly wrong and corresponds exactly to the earthly human errors.
28. In order to correct this error, I have used his own representation to better understand the designer, according to which he is able to recognise the truth if he really makes an effort to do so.
- ...
32. The attached diagram, made by me according to his own design, shows the true structure of all levels, from the spiritual of origin to the material and relative perfection.
33. He may recognise the individual intermediate values of the different levels from my earlier exposition, so that I do not need to name them another time and have therefore omitted them in the graphic representation.
- ...
38. The Universe is the inner and outer body of Creation.
39. In its entirety pulsates the universal mind and the universal consciousness and the power of life, of existence in general.
40. This is permeated by everything, and everything is permeated by it, so everything forms a unity in itself.
41. All life and all evolution admitted to it also takes place in this unity itself.
42. So the universe is the inner and outer body of creation at the same time, everything existing in it is also inner and outer at the same time.
43. But all life springs from this itself, and in it all developmental evolves.
44. So every Creation has emerged from inside and outside, develops inside and outside, and perfects itself in the same form in order to enter into the absolute power of the Creation as an absolute power inside and outside.
45. The consistency of this fact can be represented schematically with the graphic representation, whereby the outer two semicircles record the egg-shaped spiral of creation, in which even everything develops spirally from the absolute power to the absolute power.
46. The connecting lines from the material primary level to the absolute levels of Creation embody the permanent connection of the two material forms of existence of a gross and subtle nature, which are maintained by willpower at the exit from absolute power until re-entry into absolute power.

47. The same applies to the material intellect-will.

48. The different levels are also recognisable from the representation, if my earlier explanations are called in to help {see Contact Report 006:50-99}, whereby it can also be recognised that the Earth-human is to be classified into the sixth step of the second level of development, which corresponds to a still lower state and says that these life-forms only slowly advance to the frontiers of the recognisable truth and only attain the most minimal realisations of spiritual values.

Billy:

Okay; I am supposed to ask you what Asket's people actually call our Universe?

Semjase:

11. SENAN-Universum translates from their language.

12. We call it DERN Universe, as you know.

Billy:

9. Sigrid Kinet sent me something that knocked me off of balance.

10. Here, look, this picture here.

Semjase:

26. What you have here is a drawing of an inspirational picture transmitted to an illustration painter for the purpose of slowly acquainting the Earth-human with things that will cause them trouble in the future. {Note: The original German word Nachzeichnung is translated by DeepL translator as "tracing" or "redraw" rather than "drawing".}

27. There are certain reasons why the image of a universe barrier was used, but I am not allowed to mention them.

28. By the way, this drawing is not very good, the original is masterly.

29. Pay attention to the differences:

30. Our picture shows the centre of the barrier as an egg-shaped structure, as it is in reality, while on this bad imitation the centre is circular.

31. Also the radiations show very blatant differences, as well as the foreground, where in our picture the wobbling, shimmering energy is recognisable, while on the drawing a landscape is represented.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_069

Billy:

70. But now something else, namely to do with the centre of our galaxy.

71. If I remember correctly, Asket once told me that this is about 50,000 light-years away from our SOL-system, while our science claims that it is only 30,000 light-years.

72. What is true now?

Semjase:

96. The galaxy centre, or the galaxy central sun, is at a distance of 57,000 light-years if SOL is taken as the starting point.

Billy:

73. Aha, and what does this central sun consist of?

74. I mean, of what matter?

Semjase:

97. On the one hand these are wild particles, gases and electrons, etc. as well as different atoms, which means that it, the central sun in its outer forms is a seething galactic storm still in disordered form, but in the centre itself it is a 'black hole', whereby the atoms, etc. constantly split and produce new connections, which separate, in spiral forms, from the outer central areas, and indeed in gigantic masses.

98. These, rotate around themselves in an enormous glowing, dividing themselves further, in order to then form themselves into single gigantic clouds and spherical formations, so also develop themselves into sun formations, which develop in whole masses, in agglomerations.

Billy:

75. You mean there is never a sun alone?

Semjase:

99. They often develop in heaps, but not every structure of these species becomes a real sun, because many are too small in the mass to develop as such.

100. Others become, in the course of millions and billions of years, which is not rare, since their matter condenses, to very compact formations, suns and planets, whereby the planets themselves will produce and one day carry life.

101. However, the formation of planets does not stop there, it has to be said that the planetary formations that are developing capture many meteors, space matter of all kinds and comets and thus grow into large formations.

Billy:

76. By that you mean a process like it happens in our SOL-system with the 'solar systems' Jupiter and Saturn?

77. These planets are actually unsuccessful suns and are only now perhaps developing into real planets by attracting space matter of all kinds and thereby growing and becoming dense.

Semjase:

102. Sure.

Billy:

78. Okay, and how is such a galaxy centre formed at all?

79. Such a central sun from which a galaxy develops, I mean?

Semjase:

103. This is very simple, namely by the immeasurable agglomerations of neutrinos, particles, gases and electrons drifting everywhere in space, as well as the different atoms, etc. which agglomerate, transform and change, form new processes, heat up tremendously in the course of time and thus condense and finally, driven by the heat in the cold of space, which acts like a recoil, get into rotation and condense even more.

Billy:

80. I can understand that, even if I am not a physicist.

81. These squibblers will deny your explanation anyway, because they always want to be smarter.

82. But now a question about the universal central sun and the origin of the ur-matter that is chasing through space; where does it come from, what is it made of and what actually is the universal central sun?

83. One cannot see it from the Earth.

84. Where is it?

Semjase:

104. These are many questions at once, but they are connected:

105. The ur-matter whirling through free space and the actual space matter are the direct condensed product of the central sun of the universe.

106. This, in turn, is the origin of all growing fine-material and coarse-material matter, which in finer form also includes the gases as well as the electrons, neutrons, neutrinos and all other elements, etc.

107. The central sun of the universe itself does not correspond to the same substantive form as a central galaxy sun, but rather it still consists of pure spiritual matter or energy, which, however, already creates flake-like condensations, whereby, however, it still corresponds, as said, to pure spiritual nature, i.e. it still does not show any coarse material manifestations.

108. This spiritual matter has a milky whitish colour and is already visible to humans, as light, because spiritual matter in this form is light.

109. As with a coarse-material galaxy, these spiritual energies also cluster together, form an immeasurable centre, transform and condense into gases, electrons and various atoms, etc., and are ejected from the centre in order to whirl through free space as primordial matter and space matter and other things, from which the visible and coarse-material galaxies, etc., ultimately develop.

110. The Universal Central Sun itself is approximately in the middle of the universe, much too far away from the SOL-system for it to be observed by the naked eye or even seen or even detected by the best technological means, despite the immense power of light.

111. Only with very strong aids can it be seen outside the belt of matter or the material universe as a fine milky, central band mass, which, however, is still very distant from earthly astronomical science, thus they have never succeeded in recognising the central sun.

112. As a band, the Universal-Central-Galaxy is recognisable outside the material belt of the universe, because from any point outside the material universe it is also seen sideways like your own galaxy, the Milky Way, as you call it.

113. So earthly astronomical science has never proved that the central sun or the central galaxy exists.

114. From the Earth, the central galaxy does not appear like an immeasurable great lightning bolt, which continues to expand, as it is claimed, whereby it is also assumed that this lightning bolt is equivalent to the Big Bang effect, which is nonsense, of course, because the noticeable lightning appearance has nothing to do with it, because in reality it is the flashing luminosity of the transformation belt, through which the fine-matter is formed into the course-matter.

Billy:

85. Fantastic, but where does this spiritual matter or energy and these flakes of light come from, or how you call them?

...

Semjase:

118. Therefore, the flakes of light, as you just said, are pure condensed spirit-energies, starting from the Creation, originating from its will created ideas.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_089

Billy:

35. Can you tell me how old our current universe is?

Semjase:

...

80. The present universe exists in its forty-sixth trillion (46,000,000,000,000) year.

Billy:

36. You are complicated, you think our present universe is about 46 trillion (46,000,000,000,000) years old if we calculate it from the last slumber, right?

Semjase:

81. Sure, that is what I said.

Billy:

...

40. How often was our universe already material?

...

42. How often was our universe already present in the same material form as it is this time?

Semjase:

83. Our universe is still a very young one and since the beginning of this universal Creation and since its self-creation this universe is the first of this present material form.

84. Prior to the creation of this universe, the Creation of this universe slumbered in the seven-all-great time slumber into which it had spiralled after the emergence and passing away of the first universe from its own ideation, which was only a realm with boundaries without solid material bodies, as is the case in the present material belt of the universe.

...

Billy:

...

44. Then again about the age of our present universe:

45. It is 46 trillion (46,000,000,000,000) years old and expanding.

46. This number of years corresponds to about one-sixth of a great age, somewhat inaccurately, but it is a rough estimate, because a great age comprises 311,040,000,000,000 years.

47. This means, then, that we are in the second act of creation in our universe and have only completed 46 trillion (46,000,000,000,000) years of this second act of creation, or have completed the universe, and have 265,040,000,000,000 years left to exist before the completion of the act, with the contraction or backslide beginning after 155.502 trillion (155,502,000,000,000) years.

Semjase:

86. Sure, this is calculated very precisely.

Billy:

48. Well, then we can calculate how old our Creation is in general since its self-creation by the Ur-Creation's idea, whereby I mean the whole universe and not simply the material part of the universe, the belt of matter, which we here on Earth simply erroneously call universe and mean that this is the whole universe.

49. So that is 46 trillion (46,000,000,000,000) years to the present time, then we have the slumber period of 311,040,000,000,000 years, just as long of a wake period before, and then again a slumber time, so the Creation-time, right?

50. So there are 3 times 311,040,000,000,000 years.

Semjase:

87. No, you are mistaken.

Billy:

51. How? ... Wait – – – oh so, yes, that is how it is:

52. 3 x 311,040,000,000,000 years, plus 46 trillion (46,000,000,000,000) years.

53. Then wait a minute, ... yes, that makes – wait ... yes, it should be true:

54. 979,120,000,000,000 years.

55. Is it so?

Semjase:

88. Sure, I could not calculate that as fast as you could.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_097

Billy:

24. Do you know what these Timars {Asket's people} call our universe?

Quetzal:

...

32. They call it DERN universe.

Billy:

25. And what do you call it?

Quetzal:

33. Our universe is also called DERN universe.

Billy:

26. That is how we talk about the DERN universe in the future.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_119

Billy:

... Look here; here is an entire stack of descriptive sheets. I have them fully written with cosmic and mathematical calculations regarding various things. In the main, this was all about calculating the expansion rate of the Creation and, thus, also of the universe. With this, I wanted to work out the distance of the diameter of the universe and thereby came across the following results, if I may present these?

...

Quetzal:

8. You may not have succeeded in getting the right data calculation because you would have needed certain basic data for that, which you could not have at your disposal, however.

...

Billy:

... But tell me, where did you get the basic data for these calculations? ...

Quetzal:

...

24. We – that is, our scientists – retrieved the basic data known to us from a cosmic memory block approximately 2,700 years ago.

25. That is how they are known to us.

...

Billy:

... Thus, my first question: Is the speed of light constant of presently 299,792.5 kilometres per second, which is calculated by our earthly scientists, correct?

Quetzal:

29. This figure is of correctness.

30. But I notice with your question that you speak of a present constant; what do you want to express with that?

Billy:

I have calculated that the light constant steadily decreases within the framework of a certain half-life.

...

Ptaah:

13. That is unbelievable – how could you find out that the constant of light is only apparently of stability?

...

Billy:

Good, then the next question: Is my calculation right, that only in the present Creation Universe, a day amounts to 311,040,000,000,000 years, as Genesis explains this?

Quetzal:

32. That is naturally of correctness.

Billy:

Good, so then a Creation hour in the present material evolution universe amounts to 12 trillion 960 billion (12,960,000,000,000) years, a minute amounts to 216 billion (216,000,000,000) years, and a second amounts to 3.6 billion (3,600,000,000) years, while a Creation Age, then, would have to be calculated at 25 trillion 920 billion (25,920,000,000,000) years? Everything is reckoned according to terrestrial years, of course.

Ptaah:

15. ... – that, yes, that's right.

Billy:

Very well, then, once again, a Genesis calculation: A day of the first material Creation Universe evolving in this form amounts to 311,040,000,000,000 well-known years of earthly chronology, and this is calculated from the first beginning of its becoming up to the last iota of its passing. In a 7 x 7-fold form, the length of day of Creation increases with every new and higher developed universe, so the next universe and, thus, Creation would have to have a longer day, which is to be calculated at 2,177,280,000,000,000 years, according to which, then, the calculation would have to look like this:

first materially evolving universe:	311,040,000,000,000 years
second materially evolving universe:	2,177,280,000,000,000 years
third materially evolving universe:	15,240,960,000,000,000 years fourth materially evolving universe:	106,686,720,000,000,000 years
fifth materially evolving universe:	746,807,040,000,000,000 years
sixth materially evolving universe:	5,227,649,280,000,000,000 years
seventh materially evolving universe:	36,593,544,960,000,000,000 years

(After the first coarse-material universe, the coarse-material matter refines itself from universe to universe, until with the seventh stage, all of the coarse-material matter is changed to fine materiality.)

After the seventh development, the Creation would then have to evolve to the Ur-Creation and carry out the corresponding transformation. Now, my calculations do not include the last figures, but they agree in the large values. Is this right?

Quetzal:

33. This question is superfluous because you know about the correctness of the calculation itself.

Billy:

Thanks, so then to the next question: Is it right if I have calculated that space and time are separate and independent, in their course, from the Creation itself because this is determined by space and time themselves?

Ptaah:

16. Your calculation is right.

Billy:

Thanks. Then is it also right that in the next material evolution universe, a Creation hour amounts to 90 trillion (90,000,000,000,000) and 720 billion (720,000,000,000) years, a minute amounts to 1 trillion (1,000,000,000,000) and 512 billion (512,000,000,000) years, and a second is accordingly 60 times less?

Quetzal:

34. You know that you do not have to ask because the calculation is of correctness.

Billy:

Then just not. But is it right, now, if I have calculated that the Creation's expansion rate, for the initial period, was 44,069,497.5 kilometres per second, with a steadily constant half-life rate of almost exactly 6,347,755,102,040 years, from which the results arise that the expansion rate of the Creation at its universal beginning was 147 times the speed of today's speed of light constant, but this speed decreased with a half-life of 6,347,755,102,040 years and continues to decrease, so the starting point of today's light constant lay at a speed of 344,292.9 kilometres per second, but through the already elapsed portion of half-time, it has already dropped by 44,500.4 kilometres per second, whereby the present and current light constant of 299,792.5 kilometres per second arises, according to which an original light-year, from the starting point of the current light constant, of around 1.390×10^{15} km has amounted. This means, according to my calculations, that the constant of one second of the initial period of the expansion rate must have been 147 times faster than the constant of one second today, because at that time, around 46 trillion years ago, the speed of light was even 44,069,497.5 kilometres per second. From this, it also arose in my calculations that one second has, in each case, exactly that number of chronons that the light constant of one septillionth of a millimeter contains in itself because a chronon has a length of 105 septillionths of 140 mm and because exactly that number of chronons is able to pass a certain point, from the source to the fade-out of a beam of light, as the speed of light contains in itself – so in the present case, around 20.394×10^{30} chronons per second. This was even easier to calculate since I knew that space and time are dependent on each other; therefore, both time holds space in itself as also space holds time. From these results, however, my acceptance has arisen that through the transformation and lowering of the speed of light by the half-life, also space and the chronons change themselves, according to which, then, normal space would have to change itself to hyperspace and the chronons would have to change themselves to tachyons, which continue to exist in hyperspace as the smallest units of time at their own, old speed, according to which the oldest tachyons would, therefore, have to have a speed of 44,069,497.5 kilometres per second in their own hyperspace. It also became clear to me that each dwindling away of a half-life creates its own hyperspace; thus, already seven different hyperspaces (7 half-lives = 7 X 6,347,755,102,040 = 44.434×10^{12} years) would have to exist in our universe. Furthermore, it also became clear to me that time-travels into the past or future can only be associated with this fact, because somehow, the travelling object must be manipulated in such a way that the flow of chronons is steered. So for example, if tachyons with a speed of light higher than ours and present in hyperspace or normal space would be stored around a travelling object, then it would be hurled into the past, while a flow of chronons below our current speed of light must have a journey into the future as a consequence. This has become clear to me, but the HOW, that has remained a riddle to me. It is now also clear to me that the chronons can only stay and move in normal space, while the tachyons only move in hyperspace. This, then, along with many other things that have become perceptible to me, about which I would still like to say nothing today, however, because I am not yet sure of the results. Ah yes, what could still be said: According to my calculations, after the end of the next half-life, our light constant would have to be 172,146.45 kilometres per second. Now to these things, the big question: To what extent are my calculations and findings right?

...

Semjase:

24. If I am not mistaken, then your calculations have turned out to be very accurate.

25. Is that so, father?

...

Ptaah:

18. They are; it is stunning and unbelievable.

...

Billy:

I would still have a few more questions: Is it right that the absolute hyper-light-constant lies at a value of 10^{7000} , as Sfath once explained this to me?

Quetzal:

40. That is of correctness.

41. At the same time, it concerns the constant in the space of the Absolutum of Creation, so the highest speed of Creation and the Creation's expansion rate at the origin.

Billy:

Thanks, that is clear to me. Is it also true now, as I have calculated, that the great time, in the most exact calculation, amounts to 311,039,999,999,960 years and that the universe only expands during 155,519,999,999,980 years and then falls into a contraction speed, which causes a fall back with a declining speed in the constant half-lives, like in the case of the building up, until the maximum speed of the original, preceding light constant of 44,069,497.5 kilometres per second is reached again? If that is true, then a great time comprises 49 half-lives during 6,347,755,102,040 years, in which case, then, at one half of the total, so at 24.5 half-lives, the change from becoming to passing takes place, or just the change from expansion to contraction. This would mean, then, that within the context of the Creation's evolution, everything created by it during this fallback could still develop to perfection, whereby no iota of that which is created by it would be eliminated.

Quetzal:

42. That is also of correctness.

Billy:

Good, then still these questions: Can you explain to me what diameter in light-years the Creation had exactly at the time of its first expansion process at the origin and whether universal space must be measured in a straight line or in a curve?

...

Quetzal:

43. On one side, the expansion of the Creation amounted to 14 vigintillion (Translator's Note: a 14 followed by 63 zeros) light-years.

44. This expansion must be multiplied twice for half of space and multiplied four times for all of space.

45. The distances in universal space must be measured in a curve because there is no straight line.

Billy:

Aha, I thought that myself. So then theoretically, the universe could be measured in a middle straight line in such a way that 28 vigintillion light-years count as a central starting point, whereto the distance in light-years of the previously completed expansion would then still come. Is that right?

Quetzal:

46. That is of correctness.

Billy:

So it is, therefore, also true that the expansion of the universe takes place all-dimensionally and spirally, where the shape, then, resembles a somewhat round egg?

Quetzal:

47. Also that is of correctness.

Billy:

Good, then still one last question relating to this: If the initial expansion rate was 44,069,497.5 kilometres per second, then at the same time, it concerns the constant of immaterial energy. Consequently, this would have to be consistent for the time of existence of the universe. But on the other hand, the spiritual thoughts of human beings would also have to move at this speed throughout this entire great time, so at 147 times the speed of light, if I calculate this according to today's light constant, where the material thoughts of the material consciousness reach, at most, simply the speed of light.

(Only applies to normal space but not to para-space, in which the speed is indefinite, therefore = $10^{7000} \text{ Light} = 10^{7000} \times 299,792.5 \text{ km/sec.}$)

141. So far, we only know that the whole process {see Venus, CR130 entry} was triggered by the Sun on the one hand, but a long and very thin, extended arm of that huge dark nebula, toward which the SOL-system is drifting, played an even more important role.

Billy:

By that, you probably mean that dark nebula that drifts between the constellation Hercules and our solar system and toward which we are flying?

How is it, actually? Will our system certainly drift into this dark entity?

Ptaah:

180. The original generation of the Universe resulted from an idea of the original Creation which created the original core, just a flea-sized product full of energy that was created out of a consciousness form by itself and that accumulated its energy and evolved in strength.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_143

Billy:

... What is the diameter of the entire Creation?

...

Semjase:

...

10. The Universe is divided into seven units, i.e. rings or belts that, entirely together, form the whole Universe, and all of these rings are rotating against each other and have different diameters and an ovoid shape.

11. These seven rings, which we call belts, are the following:

12. 1) Central Core,
- 2) Ur-Core Belt,
- 3) Ur-Space Belt,
- 4) Solid-state Matter Universe Belt,
- 5) Transformation Belt,
- 6) Creation Belt, and
- 7) Displacement Belt,

And we also call the Creation Belt the Creation Matter Belt or the Expansion Belt, and the Displacement Belt, the last and extreme, embodies, according to your sense, a bumper belt.

13. Now, the Solid-state Universe is that part of the Universe in which the new births exist, so the nascent stars, etc. with all their life-forms.

14. This real Solid-state Universe is calculated from the end of the Creation Ur-Core's outer wall up to the beginning of the outer wall of the Transformation Belt, which exhibits a half diameter of 7,869 octillion light-years and is, thus, the next largest belt after the Creation Belt.

15. In addition, the outer wall of the Transformation Belt is where this belt collides with the inner wall of the real Creation Belt, also known as the Expansion Belt or Creation Matter Belt.

16. So this is that space which embodies the Solid-state Universe and is so called because in these three areas, the coarse-material becomes existent and is existent, and the course-material becomes existent in the Transformation Belt only by a transformation from remains of the penetrating Creation Belt, which are converted into course-material from immaterial energy.

17. This is the real Solid-state Universe, which consists of the Transformation Belt, the Universe Belt, and the Ur-Space Belt.

18. In addition, the Transformation Belt exhibits such a gigantic mass and is the next largest belt to the Creation Belt because it is responsible for ensuring that in the space created by the Expansion Belt, the transformation of fine-material energies into course-material takes place, and at the same time, time itself appears and becomes existent.

19. Already in this Transformation Belt, time begins to run into the past, from which aging originates.

20. This means that in this Transformation Belt, chronons begin to exist, then are aging and becoming tachyons and are representing the past. By the way, tachyons may be proven by the terrestrial scientists in a short time.

21. At the same time, the speed also decreases from the Transformation Belt in an irregular manner but in a certain half-life.

22. The irregular decrease in speed, which amounts to 147 times the speed of light in its starting point and expansion point, comes about through mutually self-influencing and different time streams that have already changed in their speed.

23. In the interior centre of the Universe is the real Ur-Core, which grows with each fall-back of the Creation, so of the whole Universe, doubling itself in size.

24. Thus, the Ur-Core will be twice as large with the next fall-back as it is today.

25. From this Ur-Core, referring to the energy field resting in the Ur-Space Belt, which is the fallen-back Creation, new energies form for the renewed expansion to the next universe, whereby at the end of the slumber time, a new Big Bang takes place and a new expansion creates a new universe, generally all things of a much more refined form, which means that all coarse-material will not be so stable any more as in this Universe.

26. The Ur-Space Belt itself is that part of the Universe from which the expansion of the Creation occurs, in which the Creation energy also slumbers and, on the other hand, after every fall-back, develops itself and takes up new fundamental forces from the Ur-Core, just to expand again through a renewed Big Bang.

27. Of course, the dimension of the Ur-Space Belt also grows from fall-back to fall-back because through every expansion of the Universe and through the associated unchangeable effects and the extreme expansion that again follows contraction, the mass of the entire Creation grows, always doubling itself in size.

28. So thus, it becomes evident from this that in the becoming and passing of the Universe, a cycle of Big Bang expansion – contraction – Big Bang expansion, etc. is arranged.

29. Now, the Central core embodies that belt which consists of the real Ur-Matter, which carries out its existence as generative material and life material of a pure, spiritual form, as real idea energy, created from an Ur-Creation, by whose strength alone this Universe was able to create itself.

30. This Central core resembles an immense and continually loading accumulator block, which exhibits a magnetic energy that is immeasurable to us up to now, which binds the existing Universe to itself and prevents too great of an expansion.

31. This power guarantees that with the start of approximately 47 trillion years of expansion, the expansion speed starts to decrease from 147 times the speed of light and slowly drops until the expansion comes to a halt after 155,520 trillion years and, thus, begins the fall-back, the contraction.

32. Thus, the Central core forms the real power and life centre, while the Ur-Core can be seen as a real energy storage.

33. But this Central core, the Ur-Core and the Ur-Space, are only an infinitesimally small fraction of the size of the whole Universe.

34. The most gigantic belt is embodied by the Creation Belt, which further spreads itself into the gaps of the surrounding universes and creates a new Universal space.

35. This Creation Belt is the real Creation and the Creation centre, while the Central core, with its diameter of seven light-years, as well as the Ur-Space Belt, with its half diameter of 103 trillion light-years, and the Ur-Core Belt, with its half diameter of 103.5 trillion light-years, represent those structures known as the Universe's Central Sun and the Universe's Central Galaxy, respectively.

36. In addition, the Central core represents the central sun of the Universe, while the Ur-Space and the Ur-Core carry out their existence as a central universe-galaxy.

37. Now, the outermost belt, with its half diameter of 14 million light-years, which we do not count with the actual Universe, is the Displacement Belt.

38. This has the task of displacing outwardly and against adjacent universes and against the nothing-space of the Absolute Absolutum, so to speak, as the ramming force, which pushes everything away from itself and displaces outwardly, so that, after knocking against it and before pressing itself behind it, it can provide the Universe the necessary space for expansion and, therefore, the expansion itself.

Billy:

With that, you have actually answered virtually all relevant questions that I wanted to ask. Just one more question: Would it be possible that we could represent this ring belt construction of the Universe schematically? I have paper and a ball-point pen here.

Semjase:

39. Sure. Here, you can transfer this representation to your paper.

Billy:

Ah, this is really good. Thank you. Only, I see here that everything is perfectly circular and not ovoid.

Semjase:

40. We make our diagrams in this manner for the reason that we can insert the exact data in their average values.

41. Of course, the Universe is, in reality, ovoid and not round, as we show it here schematically, and also, the information given to you does not correspond to those measures that exist in the Universe.

42. They are only the exact average values, calculated according to the shape of the circle.

Billy:

I understand, but can you tell me about where we can find ourselves with the Earth on this diagram?

Semjase:

43. Sure, you could mark the SOL-system around here and the DAL universe here.

Billy:

Ah, then when we went or flew into the DAL universe, we would have flown in a direct line here through the Ur-Space Belt and then here through the Transformation Belt!

Semjase:

44. That is correct because other than the Ur-Core and the Central core, all other belts of the Universe are usable for all life-forms and are passable if they have the necessary means for it.

Billy:

Fantastic, and I am also finished with the drawing. But I would still have a question now: The Creation itself, so the Creation Belt which still expands at 147 times the speed of light, is truly nothing more than a tremendous and immeasurable mass of spiritual, Sohar-radiant, blazing energy that spreads out in a storm-tossed, glimmering explosion, right?

Semjase:

45. That is right.

122. Yes, there is another reason, and it is based on the fact that a lot of damage and harm can be caused by photos if human beings with evil thoughts concentrate negatively upon others and upon photographically depicted human beings.

123. Negatively oriented Earth-humans could affect us so heavily and viciously and inflict a lot of harm and evil upon us if they could steal photographic images of us.

124. This is the second and most important reason why we may not let ourselves be photographically depicted.

125. With Asket and Nera, we could allow it only because both of them live in the DAL Universe and cannot be affected from the Earth in their lives in the aforementioned way because no forces of any kind can penetrate through the barriers of the Universe.

Billy:

A question in between: by "zero temperature," you probably mean the zero point of space, which we designate as absolute zero, so therefore 273 degrees below zero or something. There could be misunderstandings in this regard because with us, it is maintained and determined by science that the zero point is where the forces divide, so where plus and minus begin, so thus the zero from where values begin to increase with plus 1 degree up to infinity and from where values begin to decrease with minus 1 degree down to minus 273.5 degrees Celsius.

Quetzal:

70. That is very right; my explanation regarding the zero temperature refers to the totality of the negative value, which is not uniform throughout the whole Universe, however, and neither are the appearances of light or of the colours in their respective positive or negative values.

Billy:

Right, but that probably goes too far because we can hardly make it understandable to the human beings of Earth that the colours and light, known to them, also exist in negative values, that there are still many other colours than what the human being knows, just as there is also black light, which, unfortunately, seems crazy to the human beings of the Earth. ...

Billy:

... In the beginning there was the so-called Big Bang, whereby our Creation resp. our Universe came into being from an infinitely tiny point, whereby I have endeavoured to describe the preliminary process up to that point in my book Ur-Ur-Ur-Ur-Ursprung.

Our Creation, which is the 7-fold universe in 7 different dimensions, but which does not form the cosmos, is for the human beings of the Earth, and in particular for the cosmologists resp. astronomers, simply the cosmos.

But the truth is that the cosmos is nothing other than the material belt, whereby space has always existed, precisely since the Creation resp. the universe has existed.

This, if I may say so, hovers timelessly in the 'Endless Duration' in the 'Nihilo' resp. in the 'Absolute Nothing' or 'Nothing-Space', if I am to define this in earthly terms, so that we understand what is meant.

If the universe is considered, i.e. the Creation, then for us only that and the dimension in which we live is to be seen, while, however, 6 further and other dimensions exist alongside it.

In addition, our universe has 7 belts, namely 6 space belts that consist of gaseous matter, while the material belt is generally called the cosmos by astronomers and earthlings.

Three of the gaseous belts are located in front of the material belt, and three more are located behind, which, however, enclose the material belt as a whole, whereby it already becomes clear that the material belt resp. the cosmos floats or exists as the fourth belt between the six others in the middle.

Our astronomers etc., however, have since time immemorial made a completely false picture of the whole, just as they are not to be taught about reality and its truth, as is unfortunately also the case in every respect with the majority of earthlings.

The universe is also not infinitely large, and it has not always been there, as certain scientists etc. assume, because its existence came into being and will also have an end again, but completely differently than earthly astronomers etc. imagine.

That a change resp. a constant renewal of the galaxies and the universe takes place every 49 billion (49,000,000,000) years is obviously also unknown to our astronomers, that there are galaxies up to 12 times bigger than the Milky Way, such huge spiral galaxies that they seem to be infinite.

Billy:

... But shall I say what I was asked, namely, how the process was formed by the Creation and by its action the material belt and then the suns, after which the solar systems with the planets were formed? Sfath actually said that I should keep quiet about this, because astronomy was still far from being knowledgeable enough to understand the whole thing. On the contrary, however, I have been asked several times if I may say something in this regard?

Ptaah:

You are certainly allowed to explain something about that in this day and age, because ...

Billy:

Then I can try to explain it. So: It is probably to begin with that something cloud-like was formed, something in the manner of something oval-shaped and not exactly round, like an upset egg. The whole thing was like coloured billowing and transparent, which expanded over a long period of time and then spread out like an explosion and formed into 7 belts, which however were 7-fold in themselves and each a different dimension. In each of the 7 forms, which I simply call universes for the sake of understanding, a new iridescent coloured billowing mass was formed as the 4th belt, which then expanded again like an explosion and produced further smaller billowing, faintly oval and shimmering coloured cloud-like formations. Sfath explained that these contained the tiniest molecules to which atoms attached themselves, whereby the formations, which in the first sequence raged wildly, but in the course of time formed together, from which finally one formation emerged, or 2 or even more luminous formations. In the course of time – which we human beings probably define as billions of years, because we created the concept of time – these formed into hot shapes, miniature suns, so to speak, which then grew in the course of time and became bigger and bigger. Also, if I may say so, double-molecule clouds like multiple-molecule clouds came into being, from which several or many solar formations emerged, just as there were individual formations that produced suns a thousand times larger than our sun is. Now, finally, it happened again that, like an explosion, the colourful, iridescent and billowing almost egg-shaped shells were torn apart and the large and hot formations became free and floated around in free space. In the course of time, other forms of matter gradually accumulated in the area of attraction of these formations, which had come into being in similar manner, but which did not develop as hot suns. I will refer to these smaller formations as matter or asteroid urns in order to perhaps make it easier to understand what can be imagined by this. From these, together with the suns, systems were formed over the course of time, solar systems, which joined together to form huge clusters, star clusters and star streets, such as the Milky Way, which ultimately resulted in the cosmos, resp. the material belt. That is what actually has to be explained.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_836

Billy:

Therefore he/she {“the earthling, the human being”} also does not know that actually the all-embracing being depends on swinging waves, as also on sounds resulting from them. The sun, as the authoritative celestial body of the system, orders the distance of planets away from it in its system area by means of swinging waves and sounds. Something that is obviously not yet known to the 'great' science of astronomy, because at least I have never heard of it. But it is the case, as I learned from Sfath and was able to sense and hear through his apparatus, that every system satellite actually orbits around the sun with a very specific swinging wave resp. vibration. This swinging wave also corresponds to a very specific wavelength as well as an impulse, which in turn produces a special sound.

Billy:

... Quantum technology is actually based on the fact that it can be used, for example, to explain the basic behaviour of energy and matter in the atomic and subatomic range. Quantum technology is actually the basis of so-called modern physics, which is actually concerned with 'Creation-energy', but which is still erroneously called 'spirit' – this is probably from a religious point of view, because the earthling is a believer in religion. In the level of Creation-energy resp. the quantum level, as it can also be called – which for the time being is probably the last 'realisation' for physics – is actually the level of the original substance of matter. This level, which precedes matter, has no measurable particles for material technology and likewise no waves, because it already reaches the area of the outer levels of Creation-energy, which can no longer be measured with gross material apparatus.

This energy level is distributed in the entire space of Creation, i.e. in the entirety of all 7 universes, each of which has a different dimension and exists within one another. So we can speak of a quantum field that is in itself superluminously attuned to all forms of Creation-energy, thus permeating all 7 dimensions of the 7 universes in Creation-space. This field is actually 'egg-shaped'; the Creation with all its 7 dimensions, which are interwoven and independent of each other, is, roughly speaking, egg-shaped.

The Creation, I will explain, is a gigantic All-Consciousness, which is not only single-universal, but 7-fold-universal and thus all-creative – once arising from the 'Absolute Absolutum', which developed via the 'Primordial Absolutum', then the 'Creation Absolutum', 'Super Absolutum', and further via the 'SOHAR Absolutum', then the 'BEING Absolutum' and finally found its original origin in the Nihilo, the 'Absolute Nothing' (see book, Billy: 'Primordial Primordial Primordial Primordial Origin of All Existence'). Unfortunately, I cannot say much about all that is commonplace in earthly physics, because my knowledge of physical moments only relates to a general knowledge that I learned from Sfath and at school. But the truth is nevertheless: The whole of Creation has nothing to do with the limited cosmos, which alone comprises only the 4th belt of the 7-fold belts of the universe, which again is only 1 part of the 7-fold Creation, which in itself contains 7 universes, each of which exists in a different dimension within the other. The nihilo itself is the unrevealing, the formless, unfathomable and unspeakable, and the essence of the primal ground of all existence, from which alone everything has emerged.

... the Creation contains within itself 7 universes, each of which has a different present dimension, whereby each of these universes has its own material belt resp. cosmos. Even the infinitely many Creations that 'float' in the nothingness space of the Nihilo, which is inconceivable to the human beings – as also the DAL-sister universe of our universe, like ours of the same kind – have a cosmos resp. material belt that is constantly changing and also inexorably expanding. However, all higher and more developed forms of Creation – which will also be our Creation one day – still have 7 universes with 7 levels resp. dimensions each, but no longer a material belt, but special levels of development. In this form, the materialless resp. cosmos-less Creation universes exist and develop in 'Timeless Duration' up to the 'Absolute Absolutum', then further over all other Absolutum forms resp. Absolutum universes resp. Absolutum Creations resp. Absolutum levels up to the SEIN-Absolutum. From the lowest level up to the highest, to the SEIN-level, as I list it here:

This is innumerable manifold and specific in the single existing space of Creation for the 7fold universes of Creation, each oriented to the genera and species of life-forms in all 7 dimensions of all 7 universes. ...

With regard to 7 dimensions and 7 universes, it is to be explained – since in this respect false assertions are taught worldwide and exist accordingly – that the visible cosmos is the whole universe, whereas this, however, consists of 7 planes. The universe is egg-shaped and contains 3 spatial planes before the visible cosmos, which exists as the 4th plane, just as 3 further spatial planes follow after the visible cosmos, thus 7 spatial planes form the egg-shaped universe. Creation, however, contains within itself 7 universes, each of which has different dimensions, but all of which are in the same space of Creation, but which, due to their different dimension, do not touch or feel each other in any way. Creation therefore consists in itself of 7 universes, which flow resp. exist in each other in completely different dimensions. To understand this, the following can be explained symbolically: A glass full of water is taken, which is clear, completely colourless and transparent; 6 times 1 small drop of different thin colours is put into it and the whole thing is stirred. But although 7 different colours are now mixed in the glass – whereby the glass itself is to be regarded as a mantle of creation – the water remains unchanged transparent for the human eye, although it actually consists of 7 different colours. But this is really only an example to make it more or less understandable how the different dimensions in the space of creation can exist at the same time in different dimensions without affecting each other in the slightest manner.

So, in truth, the visible universe is only the 7th part of Creation, which consists of 7 universes, just as the visible cosmos is the 7th part of the universe, which in truth has a total diameter of unimaginable width and, moreover, continues to expand for as long as it takes for the Creation to fall back.

But it is still to be explained that Creation alone is the factor which, through its power and energy, animates everything and anything that exists at all, just as it is also to be explained that there is nothing, nothing at all, that would not exist. Even the Nihilo, as the absolute nothing, is existent, from which the Being Absolutum and the 6 other Absolutum forms emerged, whereby then the 'Absolute Absolutum' created the first form of creation, whereby only evolution was made possible.

...

Billy:

... your universe does not simply exist in a different dimension in our DERN universe, but is a completely different universe in the overall space of the 7 comprehensive universes of Creation, whereby each universe has its own countless dimensions of the past and the future in addition to the present. This on the one hand, just as it is also necessary in order to pass from one of the 7 universes of Creation into another of the same Creation, that a certain transformation of living or 'dead' matter is required, as when 'breaking into' a universe of a foreign Creation or into a universe of the twin Creation of our Creation.

Ptaah:

... It is also important to mention that we do not come from a planet in this cosmos, but that our home world Erra is in the cosmos of the differently dimensioned ANKAR universe, which as such belongs to the same Creation comprising 7 universes of different dimensions.

... This, just as the technology of the foreigners, which seems very futuristic to Earth-humans, is also far behind ours, and consequently they are also unable to locate us. Not to mention the fact that their technology – which is far inferior to ours – also makes them incapable of penetrating into one of the dimensional structures of the 7 universes of our Creation, and therefore certainly not into a dimension of a foreign Creation. This is because they lack the knowledge of the necessary synchronisation of the dimensions of the various universes that would enable them to change to another universe. It is also known to us that they have no knowledge of the fact that countless Creations exist in the infinite of the Absolute Nothing, just as we know that they have no knowledge of the fact that there are sevenfold and different sizes and levels of development of absolute forms. ... However, we do not know how far the foreigners – whom we therefore avoid for safety reasons – in this universe we call DERN are able to penetrate into the dimensions of the past and the future and therefore also manipulate them. ...

...

Billy:

Thank you, that is enough, but then I want to address again what has recently come up through a conversation with Michael, namely that your ANKAR universe does not simply exist in a different dimension in our DERN universe, but is a completely different universe in the overall space of the 7 comprehensive universes of our Creation. So this has nothing to do with the fact that our universe has its own countless dimensions of the past as well as the future in addition to the present, as is the case with all 7 universes of Creation.

Ptaah:

Billy:

... So: travelling to other times, travelling back to earlier times or future journeys are indeed journeys to other time dimensions, but they always take place in the same universe. This has nothing to do with the fact that the Plejaren are dimensionally shifted to our time, because Erra, their home world, is not located in any dimension of this universe, because they come here from a completely different universe, which is, however, one of our Creation, which contains 7 different universes, each of which of course has its own countless dimensions of the past and the future, as is the case in every universe. The 7 dimensions of the 7 universes of Creation are spatially separated only by the type of dimensions and exist practically in the same place as we do. However, since this type of dimension is shaped differently from the past and future of our universe, there is no tangent between the 7 universes of Creation, so the Plejaren have to create openings from their Ankar universe in order to enter our universe. This takes place in various places in our cosmos, such as hundreds of light-years beyond the Pleiades stars that we can see from Earth. ...

80. But now I have to mention again some things that arose in connection with the secret laboratory experiments and led Mao to take up the American's motives, although he did not like him and called him a vindictive 'go~uzázho~ng', although he nevertheless agreed with him that he had secretly initiated the laboratory research.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_739

Billy:

Good, then I now have a different related question, and that is, to what extent are you, through your observations and research today, with your findings in relation to the continuation of the whole affair that Mao Zedong and the vindictive American set up in the 1970s? It is also not clear to me why Mao got involved in this in the first place.

Ptaah:

57. What was carried out in a secret backyard laboratory from the mid-1970s onwards on the orders of Mao Zedong and with the cooperation of the client, the vengeful American ... until recently, in order to ..., now belongs to secret history, because the last three persons who were jointly responsible for the Corona epidemic had also been infected with the Corona virus and died a few weeks ago.

59. However, since work continued in secret, the purpose of the research and the American's revenge were finally fulfilled, although the spread of the epidemic did not affect the USA as planned, but the entire world.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_741

Ptaah:

35. This virus has mutated several times since then and has persisted until the 1970s, at which time, as a result of the American's ... boundless hatred of the USA, it was enacted in the mid-1970s as a secret matter by China's ruler Mao Zedong, in like-mindedness, to develop in a laboratory through the virus a disease of destruction to be used against the United States of America.

36. However, this did not come to pass during the lifetime of Mao Zedong and the hateful American, but now his hatefulness is nevertheless fulfilled at the present time, if one considers that the most comprehensive number of corona deaths is to be lamented in the USA to this day.

Billy:

I took the liberty of telling the minister that the origin of the disease goes back to an order by Mao Zedong, who in the 1970s, before his death, conspired with the American ... to research and produce a disease agent in laboratories, which was then to be imported into the USA by the American and trigger a deadly disease there. This was revenge for the fact that he, the American, ..., could have taken revenge for what ...

Ptaah:

93. You should keep quiet about that.

Billy:

I did, because I did not mention his name, because I only mention it to you, nor did I say what the American's reason was for negotiating something so vindictive with Mao, who also hated the hell out of the powerful in the US, which is why he went along with the revenge plan.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_756

Billy:

Nor do these official calculations include the numbers of Corona-infected and Corona-death victims that have emerged since 1981, when the plague found its first origin after the US-Ami ... in his hatred of the US agreed with Mao Zedong, ... consequently, now the country is also being hit worst by the plague in late revenge fulfilment, through the fault of the moronic US President Trampel-Tramp-Trump.

Ptaah:

It is then recorded that my father Sfath instructed you to write a letter to all governments and public media in Europe, which you then did on Thursday, the 7th of July 1949. After that, however, you explored with my father the next 6 decades from 1970 to 2030 and learned how, why and by what means the viral corona plague will arise and then evolve over the next decades to become the plague. This, my father wrote, will first emerge in mild forms to mutate itself over time, as but also by researchers deliberately commissioned by Mao Zedong in agreement with the vengeful American ... under threat of death, to begin their evil work, which is how it all came about. However, I cannot understand why you want to keep the name of this man secret from the public, because he died, as did Mao Zedong {died September 9, 1976}, before the plan of revenge that the two had devised together could be implemented, but is now being fulfilled for them posthumously, so to speak, but not only in the USA as planned, but worldwide. What is further written in my father's notes, however, is that in China, in a secret laboratory in the city of Guangzhou {southeast coast of China}, a virus will be created that will escape from a laboratory for the first time in 1976 as a result of carelessness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_761

Ptaah:

Thanks for your understanding. I am aware of what we said on the 6th of November with regard to ending the talk about the Corona plague, but obviously there is a certain final word that needs to be said about it, and that is the following: Our observations show that through various scientific efforts and processes attempts are being made to fathom the origin and cause of the Corona plague. As for the term Corona-19, it is misleading and should be called something else, according to its actual origin. Subsequently, the name should have been traced back to the US-American ... who, full of hatred against America, together with Mao Zedong, laid the foundation for the emergence of the epidemic. Both of them were responsible for this, but they can no longer be prosecuted for it, because they have gone the way of the transient, as in the meantime also all those who have worked in the three different secret laboratories since the mid-1970s on this hate project, which now brings deadly consequences for the entire population of the earth, instead of only for US America, as was fundamentally intended.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_765

Billy:

However, what is still to be said or explained with regard to the Corona epidemic has already been said since the epidemic emerged in November 2019, and also that the epidemic was already spread from a laboratory in Southeast China after the middle of 1979, which you obviously do not know. So I will briefly explain that its origins can be traced back to sheer evil hatred of an American, ... , who joined forces with Chinese leader Mao Zedong – who was also quite viciously ambitious against the US – whereby a plan was hatched to create a deadly virus that would then be released in the US to take revenge for something. As I said in this regard, the first precursor of the virus was unintentionally released as early as after the mid-1970s, has mutated some 5,000 times up to the present time, and then in its first rampant form as of January 2019, has already claimed victims all over the world who have fallen ill, with many already dying from it, and without the disease being recognised, consequently the deaths of many human beings have been attributed to other diseases.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_767

Billy:

And everything we discussed, we also published, and also that this Corona epidemic began to claim many lives on a larger scale as early as January 2019 – although already before, but just less -, as well as that these through secret machinations of the vengeful American ... with the anti-American Mao caused the whole thing together in the 1970s, whereby secret laboratory work began, which already led to the origin of the epidemic in the 1970s. Even then, the first mutations emerged, which continued in large numbers into the new millennium and claimed many human lives because the disease was not recognised and defined as a different disease than it really was. So it was able to continue to develop unchecked, mutating many times, until it was finally discovered in Wuhan, because in the last secret laboratory the whole group became infected through carelessness and carried the disease out and spread it, but all those involved also died. Since then, many questions from all over the world have emerged about this, wanting to know what else has come out of it all. So far, I only know of one person from Brazil who has looked into the whole of these facts and also found out who the American was who made a pact with Mao and then the Corona plague disaster came out of that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_770

Florena:

Through the work of lies and deception, which is already a done deal, the whole of what has emerged as the effective origin of the Corona virus in the 1970s between Mao Tse-tung and the American ... who was grown up in hatred against America, is to be prevented, whereby the virus was bred in secret laboratories and then released through carelessness.

Billy:

And if it possibly comes to that with the origin of the Corona plague, then it will be to absolve the USA of any guilt, although it was an act of revenge by the American ... in collaboration with Mao

Tse-tung, because the hatred of ... was directed against the American people and he wanted to punish them, although this ..., but that is all the same.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_773

Billy:

It has been delivered to me, and it roughly confirms that an American, just, had been with Mao in the mid-1970s for years and was responsible for the fact that the corona plague or the corona virus could develop in the laboratory. Of course, the connection and the name is not mentioned, because the scientists could not know the whole thing, but it practically confirms the story that the corona plague was developed in the laboratory. Of course, the researchers Dr Steven Quay, the founder of Atossa Therapeutics, and Richard Muller, a former top scientist at Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, could not have known that wanted to take revenge on the US people and secretly used the services of Mao and his secret lab assistants to do so, as I said in 2020.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_776

Billy:

But as far as the US secret services are concerned, which are also involved, according to Florena's statement, they have for some time been frantically trying to find out the origin of the Corona epidemic and to hold the Chinese responsible for it. This, just as the WHO is also working in this way, which, however, the Chinese will not let sit on their hands and will defend themselves against. And they will rightly do so, because they really can't help it, and they also don't know anything about the deal and the origin of the whole thing between Mao and the hateful American, both of whom ensured that the epidemic could come about – even if the effect only manifested itself many years later and long after their deaths, and in a different way than was intended, precisely not only that America would be affected, but the whole world. Presumably, the US secret services read in the reports of the talks that an American together with Mao was responsible for the emergence of the epidemic back in the mid-1970s. Probably with all possible lies the truth is now to be covered up and the whole thing is to be maliciously blamed on a natural origin or the Chinese, although they – neither the rulers nor the people – know anything about the deal between the Yank and Mao. As far as I know, all 3 laboratories have been destroyed and the laboratory workers are all dead, ultimately also those who contracted the disease and carried it out as the final form, allowing it to spread.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_777

Billy:

The only thing that has not been mentioned so far is the name of the hateful American who achieved with Mao that the virus was 'created' and released, albeit involuntarily. Although in South America Jose... found out who it was, I have been silent about how it should remain.

Billy {1949}:

... But all this will still be harmless to what will erupt, which has been brewing since the mid-1970s, through the boundless hatred of an American who will join minds with the Chinese leader. For it will come to pass that millions of human beings of the Earth will die when in the new millennium and at the end of the 2nd decade of the 3rd millennium the corona disease will officially begin to be open and against the truth it will be claimed that its origin is to be sought in bats. The truth, however, will by no means be so, for already in the middle of the 1970s, through the hatred of a man from America and the dictator of China Land, this plague will be created in laboratories and spread far into the 3rd millennium, and thereby much death will be spread throughout the world. ...

... The crown disease will arise in China, but the rulers and the experts of the country will conceal the truth from the world and keep silent, although they will know it – but they will not know the real origin and the real connections. However, despite the knowledge of the existence of the epidemic, no information from the Chinese government and the scientific community will reach the outside world that would contain a warning to humanity that it will spread worldwide in a short time as a pandemic and claim millions of victims. And all this truth of the crown disease will be initially denied – even from China – which will be 'invented' in laboratories by the hatred of a man from America and the complicity of the dictator of that country. It will be bred in China as a plague in laboratories by laboratory experts in about 25 years without being noticed and will mutate and survive all hurdles until the new millennium, the 3rd millennium. Then, due to the carelessness of a laboratory worker, he or she will become infected with the newly developed virus and infect other human beings, who will carry the virus further and cause an epidemic that will soon spread worldwide, causing a pandemic and, moreover, influencing the emerging flu viruses from then on, which, however, can neither be proven by virologists nor by medical doctors, because research into this foreign mutation is far beyond their knowledge and abilities.

... All that will demonstrably emerge at that time – but which will be officially concealed – will be the 'investigation' of a false origin of the epidemic, which is intended to make us forget the effective truth, namely that the origin of the epidemic was an act of revenge by an American who had fallen into hatred. A man who, in the 1970s, secretly joined like-mindedly with the Chinese dictator and, in a spirit of revenge, was able to bring into being the laboratory work that will bring the crown plague in the new millennium. Consequently, it will undoubtedly result in the plague being 'worked out' and ultimately beginning its deadly work of revenge and spreading its work of death not only in America – as is envisaged – but throughout the world. ...

I know that America has been doing critical gain-of-function research in Wuhan, China – the site of the Corona outbreak, which is still not acknowledged to be man-made, which was vindictively conceived by an American, together with the Chinese strongman in the 1970s, and over time developed into what it eventually became. Gain-of-function research), which was strictly forbidden in America, though in 2017 the corresponding moratorium was lifted by the irresponsible President Donald Trump.

... The Corona plague - a virus that was created in various laboratories and that has been changing and spreading in different variations since the mid-1970s, because it was carried around at the time and caused a lot of harm and often mutated - only developed dangerously into a pandemic in 2019 due to a new carry-over, which quickly resulted in new mutations worldwide. And so this epidemic was not simply 'there overnight', as is claimed, and it will continue to exist, and for a very long time, consequently the epidemic will not simply disappear, but will continue to exist underground for a very long time. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_815

Ptaah:

... It turned out – I put it carefully – that the American ... sought advice from a scientist in virology named ..., who is now deceased. Then ... travelled to China, where he agreed with Mao to commission researchers in suitable laboratories, who then began their work according to the order. This was the actual beginning, from which the first laboratory successes resulted and it also happened towards the end of the 7th decade of the 20th century that one of the laboratory assistants became infected with the new artificially created virus and spread this first variation in a disseminating manner. In addition, at the same time as the laboratory worker, 2 female bats of the diverse species Rhinolophidae were infected with the Corona virus, which as a result of the accidental circumstances escaped into the wild and joined their own kind. Consequently, these were also infected, but they remained only carriers of the disease virus, but were themselves immune to the outbreak of the disease. This laboratory-generated and released virus mutated thousands of times until the end of the millennium, infecting human beings who fell ill with a wide variety of ailments, causing many to die, like the laboratory worker himself who was infected by the accident. In the meantime, however, research and tests have continued since then, resulting in the Corona virus. This – again caused by a carelessness of a laboratory accident – again infected a laboratory worker in January 2019, who by infecting himself carried the virus and in this way spread the Corona plague, which very quickly spread on Earth among the peoples and became a pandemic.

Billy:

Interesting – then, as I understand your explanation, the Corona virus is not a virus that came from bats and was further developed, but is effectively a true spawn of human laboratory work, or rather a product of human ingenuity?

Ptaah:

If you want to call it that, but the basis or the initial basis was a human pathogenic virus that has existed since ancient times, belonging to the tribe Coronaviridae, whose habitability by way of ... , but you shall not call that openly.

Billy:

If it is to be, then I will make the known dots when calling off the conversation. But it is important to know, I think, that no bats were involved in the laboratory work and were test animals, just as it is also important to know that the Corona plague did not originate with bats and was transmitted from them to human beings.

Because of the 'yellow peril', as it was often called in the past when talking about China, everything has changed since Mao is dead. Billy:

But there are many other things that are not done or accepted, such as also with regard to the Corona pandemic, namely that this pandemic is man-made in 3 laboratories in China, on behalf of a vengeful American, together with Mao.

It is a plague that has spread not only to human beings, but also to animals and other living beings, which, depending on their species, are probably carriers of the virus, but do not fall ill themselves.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_833

Billy:

... that the virus is a product produced out of hatred by a Yank in collusion with the dictator Mao in the years of 1970 in Chinese laboratories and had already triggered SARS because a laboratory accident had carried the virus out, which was repeated in the spring of 2019 and then brought the Corona pandemic, precisely the Corona pandemic, the US is studiously concealing that. They probably don't want to know that – they really don't know, or they're keeping quiet because they want to dismiss the blame for the pandemic.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_836

Ptaah:

... In America it is now so far that it has been recognised that the Corona virus is a laboratory production. However, it will probably be concealed in the realisation of it all then that an American person was behind it vindictively.

Bermunda:

... But America is also to be mentioned with regard to war addiction and world domination mania, as it is also guilty as the indirect originator of the Corona rampantly spreading disease. This is because an American person was treated dishonourably, had many followers and together with them and according to their decision in China with the state leader Mao Zedong decided on a deal to create a rampantly spreading disease in laboratories, after which the virus was to be brought to America and released. However, due to a laboratory accident, the virus escaped, was released and spread rapidly mutating and causing various diseases and epidemics. These claimed a large number of human lives until 2019, without it being possible to establish what the actual origin of the diseases and rampantly spreading diseases was. However, when another laboratory accident occurred at the beginning of 2019 – although wild animals infected with the now developed Corona virus, such as foxes, martens, weasels, bats and tanuki, had already been illegally transported to America – laboratory staff also became infected and died as a result. The rampantly spreading disease, however, was also spread by infected wild animals, bats and birds; it quickly spread among human beings, and by the end of the year, the epidemic had begun and spread to a worldwide pandemic.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_840

Billy:

... I can also expose lies and frauds, such as the lie told by the 'Tages-Anzeiger' on 24.3.2023 that the Corona rampantly spreading disease epidemic in China was 'created' by martens and then spread worldwide. This is despite the fact that the rampantly spreading disease was created in China in laboratories through a secret deal between the Yank ... and Mao to take revenge because ... The fact that 3 laboratory accidents have occurred since then and that the disease has been released, mutated many times and also spread to animals and livestock was not actually taken into account when the Yank and Mao vindictively made the pact. But everything is done to conceal the truth and to lift the biggest criminal state on Earth, America, up into the sky.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_842

... Especially the religionists and their sectarians are to be mentioned, on whose cap also goes the emergence of the Corona rampantly spreading disease that is taking hold worldwide as a pandemic, which has so far claimed more than 8 million lives on Earth alone, ...

Jjfa:

... this is known to us, because it has been known to us since the beginning of the outbreak of the pandemic, through our planetary information system, so we have been informed about it, that the fanatical religionist ... the American ... was influenced to seek China's leadership in order to create a rampantly spreading disease, which on the one hand should serve as revenge and on the other hand to exterminate that part of the American people, who are considered non-Christians, people of other faiths, such as believers in Islam. For example, believers who belonged to Islam or Judaism, or non-believers and thus those who were considered infidels, ...

...

Jjfa:

...and that there is a large Jewish population in America, mainly in New York, we know that.

Billy:

That's right, and that was also the thorn in the side of the religious fanatic ... who wanted to exterminate people of other faiths with the help of ... precisely, which is why he teamed up with this vengeful man who negotiated the deal with Mao that ultimately led to the Corona Pandemic and ...

{Note: This comment indicates the involvement of a third man, aside from "the vengeful American" and Mao Zedong, in the origins of Covid-19. There is speculation that this third person may have been Billy Graham.}

... the religious fanatic ... was behind everything that happened with the vengeful The fact that ... was not only the actual originator of the idea and was on fire for the Vietnam War and was able to influence the respective superiors, that this war was then really waged, clearly proves, as has been the case since time immemorial, that the American government leaders – which is probably also the case in practically all other countries on Earth – can be influenced by religious faith and control politics in some way in this regard. Besides, ... also interfered in politics everywhere, and at his religiously devious request, the vengeful ... was also harassed and became willing to do what was demanded. But the fact that the whole thing got out of hand, failed and turned out completely differently from what was intended, that was just bad luck, as we say when something goes wrong. ...

...

... The religion-fanatic American, precisely ..., who also ... incited, who then agreed with Mao in the 1970s that the Corona rampantly spreading disease – as it has been called since 2019 – was 'tinkered' in laboratories, lived long enough into the new millennium to continue working undisturbed in US politics, which was very easy for him because the majority of Americans believe in Christ.

...

... While the first virus was created in the mid-1970s in China through laboratory work, which then spread through a laboratory accident, mutated and caused epidemics that claimed victims in many places, nothing was yet known about the later epidemic. However, further research was carried out, after which it happened at the beginning of 2019 that after a change resp. a new one of the many mutations, another laboratory accident occurred and the virus was released to the outside – this time in Wuhan – whereby the Corona virus spread rapidly, which very quickly spread to human beings and also to animals, livestock and other living beings, and finally triggered a worldwide pandemic. ...

...

Well, the actual authors of the whole Corona rampantly spreading disease have all died, the American ... who, out of revenge, won the dictator Mao as an accomplice in order to have the disease created in laboratories, as well as the religious fanatic ... who was able to win over ... in order to persuade Mao as an accomplice, whereby the Corona rampantly spreading disease finally came into being. Many millions of human beings were murdered by the fanaticism of the religion-obsessed man alone, just as millions of human beings who were not included in the murderous plan died as a result of the Corona rampantly spreading disease that was created willy-nilly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_863

Billy:

There are many other evil and negative things to be mentioned, such as what is to be said about the Corona rampantly spreading disease, which was declared to be over due to the unreasonableness and incompetence of those in power, but which still exists and has not been fully combated. Consequently, it will claim victims again, and also through new vaccines that are still not sufficiently researched and are still dangerous and therefore should not be used. The fact is that for such a product to be really effective or even curative, at least 10 to 15 years of research are needed to come up with a remedy that is really helpful. In the case of malaria tropica, it even took about 100 years until the first vaccine was found, although I do not know how or whether it is effective at all. It should also be said that in future it will be claimed – which is already almost a done deal – that the Corona rampantly spreading disease originated with a species of bat, because under no circumstances should it be made noisy that the American ... together with Mao Tse-tung, hatefully developed the corona disease in Chinese laboratories from the mid-1970s onwards, causing thousands of mutations and already costing human lives, before – long after the death of the two authors – the rampantly spreading disease finally broke out in 2019 as a result of an accident – preceded by several others – and began to spread worldwide, becoming a pandemic. But it will be – because America is such a liar that since time immemorial it has brought nothing but disaster and ruin upon the world and obscures everything from the truth more and more and in such a way – that ultimately the monstrous lie claim to have 'recognised' the alleged origin of the epidemic will circle around the planet as 'fact', namely that it was 'clearly' a rampantly spreading disease that had originated from bats or other animals. This will happen in the future because everything will be denied and twisted in such a way, because the truth is simply not supposed to be true, that an American full of hate together with the Chinese president Mao Tse-tung had the rampantly spreading disease created by laboratories in order to wipe out large parts of the US population. But whether this is of interest to those who believe everything that is lies and deception and lift hegemonic America high into the sky is not in question.

44. If this is neutralised in the human body, then through this, that substance is made ineffective, which drives the human being to criminality.

{Note: Please see the full Contact Report for the context of this entry.}

Billy:

... But the danger of the disturbance or even the destruction of destiny-swinging waves is presently very large, due to the wrong lifestyles and the wrong environmental influences associated with them and so on, but above all, due to the fact that the lack of knowledge of the human beings – in relation to the teaching and its impact, as well as to the causes and effects of thinking, of material consciousness, as well as of the workings of the subconscious and the determinations and the power of the psyche – usually lets the human beings act wrongfully, whereby they ignore their determinations and even destroy them in many cases. This usually leads to the fact that descendants who were not determined are produced, who must grow up in one case without a father or in another case with a wrong father and a wrong mother, when an already false and not determined marriage is entered, or when, through another false and not determined marriage, they are brought up by a just as wrong foster father. This, then, is often the reason why such children are abused by their forced parents and are even killed, but in the very least cases, they simply find disdain or expulsion. The human beings of the Earth then simply call such parents cruel parents. But through the overall disregard of the provision for marriage, it also happens that many wrong and not determined marriages are entered, from which also many descendants originate who also are not determined. These descendants then largely find no connection in their families, as well as not in the environment and in the society of their civilisation. As I know, you designate these non-determined descendants as descendants of overpopulation. These are human beings who are produced thoughtlessly and through falsehood and who become placed into the world and who, therefore, cannot find their way in the world within a natural framework. These, then, are those who operate illegally, who become terrorists and anarchists and who want to turn the world and the social order upside down with murder, mayhem and violence, or with sectarianism and fanaticism. And the more the human beings of the Earth produce such not determined or unconsidered offspring and bring them into the world, the greater the number of human beings of overpopulation and, with it, the number of those who cry for murder, war, mayhem, revenge, hatred, sectarianism, fanaticism, terrorism, and anarchism and who also manage it all. From this, it follows that with the number of the overpopulation – containing not determined as well as irresponsibly produced descendants – murder, mayhem, crime, and sectarianism, etc. continue to grow steadily and tremendously and cannot be contained. But these non-determined, as well as irresponsibly produced descendants, also include those flipped-out ones who are abnormal or have fallen to euphoria, etc.

On the other hand, your truthful contacts with us are vehemently denied by know-it-alls and opponents, envyers, autocrats, image addicts, sectarians, etc., and you are portrayed as a liar and a fraud, despite all the irrefutable evidence you can produce; evidence that no alleged contact person can produce.

298. But all this will intensify in the time to come, with the UFO believers running after all the contact swindlers without hesitation, courting them and going astray.

299. Increasingly many will claim through lies and deceit that they are in personal or telepathic contact with Semjase, with Ptaah, with me, or with others of our races, as well as with higher spirit-forms of our planes, in personal or telepathic as well as channeling contact.

300. But everything will only be lies, deceit and dizziness, because no human being on the Earth apart from you will be able to come into any kind of contact with us, just as we will only be able to come into contact with you, for which you know the reasons.

301. Nevertheless, in the next few years a contactee psychosis will spread across the Earth, as well as a true extraterrestrial delusion and a kidnapping delusion by extraterrestrials will appear in relation to belief in all imaginable and unimaginable extraterrestrials.

302. Thereby, through the extraterrestrial fairy tale, will create a financial violent business that will far exceed the previous one and will be coupled with esotericism and parapsychology.

303. This will benefit the secret plans of the countries which are doing their mischief with the flying discs, which is why they are very diligent in their machinations, which they then ascribe to aliens through their information channels, e.g. certain machinations with crop circles, animal massacres and alleged abductions and harm etc. by alleged aliens, in which all sorts of pretences are made by hypnosis and even foreign bodies are implanted in the 'abducted' etc.

304. Thus all possible and impossible aliens are invented, so that the secret plans and machinations can be carried out unchallenged, whereby however also the fear of aliens is stirred up and driven up.

305. So it is a fact that since 1945, when the plans of the air disk technology fell into the hands of the Americans, Russians and English, with few exceptions the whole earthly mankind is lied to and deceived, and to it every means is right – also alleged activities of extraterrestrials.

306. And all those fools, irresponsible, criminals, deceivers, liars and swindlers etc. in matters of alleged contacts with extraterrestrials, spirits, dead and higher beings are co-responsible for the fact that the secret machinations can be promoted in relation to the flying discs, because with their lies and deceits they promote everything still.

Ptaah:

193. A fact which can in no way be dismissed with any humorous phrases, because there is really nothing ridiculous about it, as is the case, for example, with those misguided people who still believe in the boundless nonsense of the circles and figures in the cornfields of Stonehenge in England and around the world, who even worship them and glorify them as works of extraterrestrial or secret occult earthly forces, etc., although all in all everything is only the work of earthly human charlatans, business people and jokers as well as of evil swindlers etc., as you could see yourself when you saw with your own eyes the machinations for the emergence of such circles and figures in cornfields and meadows in Stonehenge and in other places of the earth with Quetzal's help.

194. In this respect another spectacular series of such cornfield circles and cornfield figures is now in the offing, this time in northern Germany, which will make a name for themselves all over the world and attract misguided believers, fanatics, would-be experts, profiteers, ghost seers, etc.

195. Wildest suppositions and assertions of allegedly observed phenomena and UFOs etc. will quickly make the rounds and attract or speculate all those misguided people who believe all the nonsense and mischief in this regard, although these cornfield circles and cornfield figures appearing in Northern Germany will also be nothing but a prank, which will be made in the same way as the circles and figures in Stonehenge and in other places around the globe.

196. In the case of this imminent prank, which is already planned, the authors of the cornfield circles and cornfield figures will soon speak up and openly announce their prank with the hint that they could do just as well as the people of Stonehenge and in the rest of the world.

197. A fact that also comes true, and a work of joke that will not stand back behind the deceptions of Stonehenge and the rest of the world, only that it is not a deception to be committed, as in Stonehenge and all other places on Earth, but just a joke, which after the publication of the circles and figures will soon be made recognizable as a student eulogy, but after many misguided, believers, fanatics, profiteers and wannabe scientists and wannabe connoisseurs of the subject will have exposed themselves to ridicule, which is likely to be true around the middle or end of July. ...

284. The same thing will happen in England as in northern Germany.

285. The fraud and deception with the crop circles will be revealed.

Billy:

... You said earlier that in England, too, the vertigo of cornfield circles is finally being uncovered. Does that also apply to all other similar machinations around the world, and is the uncovering of the worldwide giant swindle and this fraud final?

Ptaah:

319. My speech was only of the fact that in England the same will happen concerning the cornfield circles as in Germany.

320. So my words mean that some persons in England will be as active as in northern Germany with regard to the circles in the cornfields, whereby these persons will also openly and officially confess their actions in public, if some pseudo-scientists have made a fool of themselves who are consulted for the examination of the pictograms.

Billy:

Then it is not a question of actually exposing the whole swindle, neither in England nor in the rest of the world, where the same swindles and frauds are cheerfully continuing. Nor does anything seem to be said about those who belong to that ancient Celtic cult and who have been making such cornfield circles and other cornfield figures, which are also called pictograms, into the cornfields for magical and evocative cult rituals since time immemorial. From Quetzal I know that not only the believers of these old cults, but also followers and members of the witch faith fabricate these mysterious signs and circles into the cornfields, by trampling down the corn in various ways or rolling it down with any kind of equipment, without bending the stalks of the corn or otherwise injuring it. The reason why cornfields of all things are used for this purpose is the fertility of the ear and the fact that not only does life sprout from it, but also the bread is made from it, which in the cultic realm symbolizes the body and soul of human beings and the divine. These Celtic cults led back to the time of the 8th century BC to the Indo-Germanic people of the Celts, who were actually settled in Western Europe, some of whom, however, were very fond of wandering and as a result set off on never - returning journeys throughout the world. Incredible as it may sound, they actually almost reached the remoteness of the last corners of the Earth, where they mixed with various natives and continued their Celtic cults, although often in such a modified form that the origin was hardly recognizable. Yes it was similar or even the same with the Vikings, from whom also the original inhabitants of Switzerland descended. Yes, with regard to the Celts it was so that they spread out especially in England and Scotland and of course indulged in their cults there, as the emigrants in the wide world outside also did. So it was only natural that they erected and created their signs and pictograms etc. already at that time or simply made them, so also the signs and circles in the cornfields, as the Celtic cultists still do today in England and also in many other places in the wide world. Only, these cult pictograms, as they are called, these cornfield circles and cornfield figures of all kinds, these are not made with fraudulent and swindling intentions like those which are made by swindlers, cheats and charlatans, in order to profit from it or to let a certain stupid mass of humanity walk the fool'.

Ptaah:

321. Actually you have said and explained everything necessary with it.

322. You only did not mention that with Quetzal's help you could observe not only the machinations of the swindlers, swindlers and charlatans in England and elsewhere on Earth several times, but also the efforts of those who, for cultic reasons, rolled the many signs and circles into the cornfields.

Billy:

I did not find it necessary to mention this, because these ritualists do not make the cornfield circles in order to deceive people and to make a profit or to make fun of the stupid believers, but in order to fulfill their rites according to their faith and thus to wish for all good and love for all mankind.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Billy:

Whereby the so-called supernatural of course does not exist in any way, because everything and everything is always naturally explainable and also naturally given. The supernatural exists only in the ignorance and the incomprehension of man, because he has no knowledge about all those things which he cannot understand and cannot explain himself. Truthfully everything so-called supernatural is absolutely natural and thus also classified according to the corresponding laws of spirit or matter, which are able to give an explanation for everything and everyone, whereby something supernatural becomes a fact of non-existence. Everything that can be grasped and perceived, everything that can be seen and heard and everything that can be felt, recognized, experienced and experienced, etc., is always real, real and natural in every case, regardless of whether it takes place on a spiritual or material level or on a medium level between spirit and matter, which is so often called the level of the supernatural or the supernatural by parapsychologists and esoterics who do not understand it.

Ptaah:

181. A true word.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_269

Billy:

Then there's another question, which refers to the pictograms themselves: For years now, more and more unknown flying objects have been appearing, which appear in the sky in masses and form figures that can be described as sky pictograms or the like. Do these appearances have any connection with the real crop circle pictograms, I mean whether they are connected?

Ptaah:

44. That is not really the case – at least in several cases where we did some research, there were celestial pictograms, but they have nothing to do with the crop circle pictograms and nothing to do with alleged extraterrestrials.

Billy:

And both of these manifestations really extend across the whole world?

Ptaah:

45. That is right, so not everything that appears to be true is always real, because crop circle pictogram forgers have been at work all over the world for a long time, that is, for years, for whatever ridiculous reasons.

...

13th May 1996, 14:59 hrs {Note: probably a private conversation during Contact 256}

Billy:

On your last visit you also told me that with regard to the so-called crop circles everything is no longer of a purely earthly human nature, but that for some time now there have also been earth-foreigner influences at play?

... Then things have actually changed with regard to crop circle forgeries in certain things, just in the sense that now also extraterrestrial influences are involved.

Ptaah:

8. For quite some time this is actually swinging-wave-based the case.

9. However, this does not mean that the pictograms etc. are not genuine and cannot be traced back to the Earth-foreigners.

10. As always, counterfeits are being made by freeloaders who are not exposed to the swinging waves.

Billy:

And what is the connection between the pictograms which are created by the influence of extraterrestrial vibrations of forces? I think it's rather stupid that humans on Earth who are not yet highly developed make themselves felt in this way.

Ptaah:

11 So the connection does not exist by coming events within the SOL system and also not by the announcement of the appearance of earth-foreigners, whose ancestors came to Earth earlier.

12. And with regard to the stupidity that you address, you are not wrong, but the stupidity does not lie with earth-foreigners, but with Earth humans themselves, who in this actually quite primitive form want to draw attention to alleged extraterrestrial events, because allegedly a direct and open appearance of extraterrestrials could cause chaos.

13. Through the pictograms, in which even terrestrial humans have a hand in the matter, terrestrial humanity is supposed to be slowly confronted with things of the future, even if this is indeed a very primitive procedure - tailored to terrestrial humans.

14. So the pictograms must not overlook the fact that there are forgeries that are the work of earthly artists, charlatans and swindlers alone.

Billy:

I was able to observe such activities with Quetzal's help. But I did not know that pictograms were and are also created in which extraterrestrial vibrations of forces are involved.

Ptaah:

15. There was no need for us to mention this earlier, and moreover there was and is a lot of dizziness, lies, charlatany and deception interwoven in this relationship from the very beginning.

16. This must always be taken into account.

17. We did not give you any false information, but we only concealed certain facts from you, because they would have interfered with your task and would have led many honest seekers into confusion.

18. But now the time has come to give a more precise explanation, because the event from which a connection between terrestrial men and aliens arises has not yet come closer.

Billy:

According to your concept, not in the near future.

Ptaah:

19. Right. ...

Billy:

... how long have you known that extraterrestrial influences are also involved in crop circles? When I watched the deception together with Quetzal, you had not yet mentioned anything about it.

Ptaah:

21. That corresponds to the facts.

22. Because we knew about the machinations of swindlers and charlatans regarding the pictograms, we did not care anymore about them, although they appeared more and more frequently.

23. It was not until 1985, when we observed certain things through one of our surveillance flying apparatuses, that we turned our attention to the matter again, whereby we then detected activities that were also attributed to Earth-foreign force vibrations, through which, among other things, Earth-humans were influenced who were active in matters of the performing arts.

... there are still many questions open regarding the pictograms, and there is still charlatanry and deceit, as always, from people who do not represent and produce the pictures as a result of art, but as a result of deceit.

25. The only thing that is certain for us so far is that there are certain extraterrestrial energy influences that influence humans on Earth, among others, so that they are active in making pictograms.

26. This does not mean, however, that everything concerning the so-called crop circles is allegedly of honest origin, that it is traced back to influences of earth-foreign beings.

Billy:

So swindlers, charlatans and fraudsters continue to work with us, through whom many crop circle believers are led around on a fool's rope, in addition to the fact that the energy-influenced ones naturally continue to do their art.

Ptaah:

27. It should also be explained that the pictogram makers influenced by alien energies are ignorant of the influences, according to which they consider their actions to be their voluntary work.

Billy:

But I still find it stupid that highly developed extraterrestrials are supposed to make messages in such a primitive way or have them made by Earth humans influenced by them, as crop circle believers claim.

Ptaah:

28. You are not wrong about this, although it must be said that the Earth humans responsible for this are still very far below the development that is peculiar to us Plejaren.

29. But it must also be said that these Earth humans think in this form because they cannot deal openly with reality through their stupidity as Earth humans and because they fear a personal panic or a personal chaos.

30. For this reason, they resort to their primitive faith, namely in the form of faith in extraterrestrials and their alleged signs, which are also supposed to be encoded, so that everything first has to be unravelled and only becomes known in certain circles for the time being.

31. The whole thing thus prevents a mass publication of the real truth in the big public, which is why euphoria, fear, panic or chaos could break out into the crop circle believers.

32. Out of such fears the crop circle pictures are not secretly produced, but the thought plays along that more interest is aroused by the secretiveness etc., whereby it does not play a role, however, that terrestrial humans influenced by extraterrestrial energies are active in relation to the pictogram production and that also swindlers, charlatans and fraudsters do the same in this regard.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_322

Billy:

Now then: You told me – when I do not know anymore – that you are working intensively on the clarification of the crop circle phenomena, because you have come across things that in this respect go far back in time. You said that the so-called crop circles had appeared in all last passed centuries. These pictograms and diagrams, etc., as they are also called, are said to have been conjured up in rape fields, corn fields and meadows, even in medieval and ancient times. According to your explanations, however, you Plejaren never bothered about this, on the one hand because there was no interest on your part in it, and on the other hand because you were of the opinion that the figures in the fields were pure earth-man-made work. That was even still seen by you in the eighties in such a way, for which there was also sufficient reason. So Quetzal took me with him to England once, where I was able to observe how different people – individually or in groups – made crop circles or pictograms. According to your explanations, which you made a few years ago, other forces than those of earth people are supposed to be involved in the creation of the works, and it is exactly these forces that you wanted to get to the bottom of. Since then a few years have passed but you did not give me any more explanations, you just remained silent. Have you not gained any new knowledge or are such knowledge to remain a secret for us earthlings?

Ptaah:

19. There is a whole range of new knowledge, but for the time being these still fall within the scope of our directives, which do not yet allow us to release the relevant knowledge to earthlings.

20. Besides, we have not yet clarified everything.

21. But this much I can say, that besides the very many banal crop circle fakes – which since the 20th century even appear worldwide and of course are also constructed by earth-men – also since ancient times energy crop circles resp. energy-pictograms, as we call them, are given, which are based on sources, which we are not allowed to name yet according to our directives, because earth-men have to find the solution of the riddle by progressive research and knowledge by themselves.

22. If we were to openly reveal the knowledge we have gained, then we would violate our directives and, in addition, would negatively influence the course of evolution of earthly humanity, which, however, must never be in our mind and actions.

23. So the investigations and researches for the achievement of results and for all knowledge must be carried out and advanced by Earth humans themselves.

Billy:

Nice mess. I thought that you would reveal the secret now. Could you at least tell me what kind of energy sources these crop circles or diagrams and pictograms etc. are? How are these energy sources created and where do they come from? Are there purely earthly forces behind them, such as earthly magnetic energies; are there any extraterrestrial intelligences involved or do extraterrestrial energies simply play a role in this?

Ptaah:

24. You are asking very profound questions, dear friend, which actually embarrass me, because I am not even allowed to give an evasive answer, but only an absolutely negative one, in order not to violate our directives.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_328

Billy:

... But now I would like to talk to you about what we talked about the other day regarding the so-called crop circles. You said that in the next few weeks you could give me permission to talk about what you explained to me. Is that now, or is now the time?

Ptaah:

107. The time has come to be able to talk openly about everything, because we have been able to finish our research and clarifications.

108. In addition, since our conversation on this matter, knowledge has come to light among the earthlings that allows me to speak openly about it now. ...

113. As I have already explained in previous conversations, the so-called energy crop circles and energy pictograms are actually connected with extraterrestrial influences, but we first had to find out why you should not talk about them, because false explanations should not be allowed to arise, so that no harm could arise through which the wrong paths could have been taken.

114. But these outside influences are not as much as the crop circle believers assume, who believe that extraterrestrials are directly the originators of these creations.

115. In fact, it is indeed earthmen who in an artistic way and laborious work kick and roll the crop circles and pictograms with suitable aids of quite primitive form into the grain, etc., starting from prefabricated drafts and drawings, which in the beginning were handmade, but for some time now have been very artistically produced on computers and manually transferred to the crop fields etc.

116. So the whole thing is actually, as in old times, and as you have found out quite early on with Quetzal, a pure man-made machine, although it must not be overlooked, as I have explained to you several times already, that extraterrestrial forces are involved.

117. This is not, however, a form of extraterrestrials or extraterrestrial life forms of human or any other material kind, but solely and exclusively cosmic energies, which are taken up by the people sensitive to them and which creatively support their fantasies and ideas.

118. If one starts from these vibrational forces and specifies them, then one can speak of universal evolutionary energies or evolutionary energies, as we do.

119. These are the finest energy-vibrations, which are present universally and are absorbed by every human life form, thus stimulating their fantasy and ideas to develop.

120. Depending on the person and his disposition, these oscillation impulses give rise to the most diverse forms of application and use.

121. In case of making crop circles, the factor of drawing and designing as well as creative arts will appear, where these good values will simply be used by the vibration- resp. impulse-receivers in the way, how it just comes out of the crop circles.

122. This kind of art production is an individual form of each artist, and most of them want to remain anonymous and are content to indulge in their art and enjoy it as well as the confusion and the erroneous faith of certain people who, as a result of their non-realistic thinking, indulge in things that are alien to any reality.

123. It is still to be explained that during the first time when we noticed that extraterrestrial influences were playing a part in the energy pictograms or energy crop circles, that these could be suggestive and impulsive influences of any mischievous extraterrestrial human life forms, which is why we only started research in this direction, which took a long time.

124. Finally we were able to exclude this possibility, so we turned to further research several months ago and finally found the solution to the mystery, which we only managed to do last week. ...

125. What I have not explained yet is the crop circle video, where white coloured objects appear, fly over a crop field and in the next moment wide pictograms appear in the grain. 126. This video, like others of the same or similar kind, are also fakes made on computers.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_329

Billy:

... On the 13th of May 1996 and the 24th of August 1998, you stated in regard to the crop circles and crop circle pictograms, respectively, that extraterrestrial forces were involved. In the course of your clarifications, however, according to your statements of the 20th of July, i.e. 14 days ago, it has now turned out that these are not extraterrestrials in the sense of life-forms or humans, but extraterrestrial energies, namely evolutionary energies. I have not received any explanation from you, I mean in regard to why you assumed that extraterrestrial life forms would participate in the creation of the crop circles and therefore would have their fingers in the pie as well as the earth humans. Could you give me an explanation of this afterwards?

Ptaah:

43. As you know, we, like you, have always known that humans on Earth are behind the making of crop circles.

44. Through Quetzal you were also given the opportunity to observe these earthly human machinations.

45. Now it turned out, however, that since the eighties we observed again and again strange apparently extraterrestrial flying objects, as we assumed, with and in the vicinity of the crop circle pictograms, which has been preserved until today, whereby we have now gained the knowledge that these are not actual extraterrestrial flying objects, but flying objects belonging to Earth.

46. Of course we were interested in what was going on there, but due to our extensive tasks we could not personally seek detailed observations and clarifications, so we exposed a very small stationary observation probe at high altitude, which was equipped with all the necessary exploration facilities.

47. But this did not happen until spring of this year, i.e. a few months ago, although up to then we were still of the opinion that the movements recorded by our registration equipment were extraterrestrial flying objects and would have a direct or indirect connection with the crop circles.

48. Soon it turned out, however, that this was not the case, but that these alien flying objects only had a fraudulent function.

49. A fact that quite obviously was only due to the interest of crop circle believers, who, as we now know, do not come from a different space-time structure, and thus also not from one that is upstream of the earth in the future.

50. And as no influence of these objects could be detected, another small probe was exposed, which records and analyses fine-matter vibrations and thus fine-matter energies.

51. In this episode our scientists used your formulas from the memory banks of Henok and Nokodemion, which you left to us and through which they were able to make the fine-matter energy probe, through which distinct and therefore very powerful evolutive energies could be registered, which are oriented towards the performing arts, i.e. towards a knowledgeable and active mastery of the representation of great artistic works.

52. In this form the mentioned evolutive-energies work in the direction of monumental art, consequently only very large art objects, like the crop circle pictograms, which have a decisive size, as determined by the evolutive energies of the mentioned form, as we could find out according to the Henok-formulas and Nokodemion-formulas.

53. Now humans who are sensitive to these energies are busy according to the determination of the evolutive energies of the mentioned kind and work in drawing and on computers in the creation and design of artistic structures and drawings as well as exact masses, which are then transferred into the cornfields and meadows etc. by treading, stamping and rolling or with other aids.

54. In this way and by the mentioned origin, thus the crop circle pictograms are created.

55. These evolutionary energies, that still has to be explained, refer, as you know very well, to every development of man and every other form of life in the whole universe and since the very beginning of the first life form that came into existence, they have had a specific effect on every genus and type of all forms of life.

56. This explains that all evolution of every form is effected by the evolutionary energies of universal resp. This explains that all evolution of every form is impulsively controlled by the evolutionary energies of universal or creative origin through a predetermined striving for something higher, whereby, however, the conscious life form human being is free in its will to follow and behave according to this and thus to follow the impulses of its own free will or not, as you defined this very precisely in a spiritual teaching work on us and which I would like to repeat here as an explanation, as you will write down my statements as a contact conversation and make them accessible to the Earth humans.

57. This will certainly cause uproar in some earth humans, as there is a widespread opinion that extraterrestrial beings are actually behind the making of the crop circles, but according to our extensive investigations this is actually not the case, as everything can be traced back to Earth human machinations, whereby however, as explained, cosmic or universal, creative evolutionary energies are the triggering factor and the true origin.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_620

Billy:

... I can now once again talk about the crop circles, of which one only rarely hears anything nowadays, because they have gone out of fashion, so to speak, and because on the other hand it was already certain about 25 years ago that the actual first authors of the pictograms admitted that they fabricated the crop circles in England for fun, which then found imitators in England and even in Europe and the whole world. I had forgotten the names of the two decisive authors of the crop circles, although you had already told me the names of the authors of the crop circles at the beginning of the appearance of the first crop circles, which I was supposed to keep silent about – for whatever reason. The reason did not interest me and does not interest me now. Well, in the meantime I had forgotten the names of the two men, but in the last few days I searched for them on the internet and also found them, and also a description of the whole story.

Ptaah:

12. The names of the two men were Doug Bower and Dave Chorley.

Billy:

... I want to clarify something. Back in the 1980s and 1990s we talked about crop circles on various occasions, and you always said that they were made by earthlings, and in a rather primitive way, as I was once able to see for myself with your help. In the making of the crop circles, however, it did not remain with the two older men who trampled these pictograms into the grain, as I have already mentioned, but there were many imitators around the world who also made crop circles, in the same way as Doug Bower and Dave Chorley. In the end, the whole thing became a real crop circle hysteria, which has died down again today, but there are still many phantasmists who believe that the pictograms were created by extraterrestrials or by magical powers, etc., and would still be created today if earthlings stepped on them again in some crop fields. What interests me now is what you have said several times, that on the one hand energy pictographs can appear in cornfields, cornfields as well as in meadows and forests, but that they are not produced by earthlings, but can appear through ruins hidden in the earth, watercourses and magnetic factors. But you were not allowed to give any information about this, because everything belongs to the area of earthly scientific research, which you were not allowed to disclose according to your directives, because this had to be reserved for earthly researchers and must also continue to be reserved. In the meantime, however, earthly technology is so advanced in every respect that scientists with the appropriate apparatus and equipment have been able to detect and record such natural phenomena for many years, whereby ruins and watercourses etc. hidden in the earth can also be detected and explored. This is correct, or?

Ptaah:

14. That is correct, because according to our directives we are not allowed to state any secrets of that kind as findings and facts.

Billy:

... What I would like to know now, however, relates to your statements that extra-terrestrial forces have also been involved in the crop circle productions and can also continue to be involved. Basically, all crop circles, and indeed all crop circles without exception, were and are made by earthlings, whereby they are called pictograms by so-called 'crop circle researchers' and crop circle believers. Nevertheless, you have said that extraterrestrial forces are also involved and play a decisive role. I know what it is about and how it is to be understood and that it is not about extraterrestrials who have their fingers in the pie, because these extraterrestrial forces are based on natural universal vibrations, which let an artistic 'vein' vibrate in the human beings, so to speak, through which they create artistic structures. Can you explain something about that, please.

Ptaah:

15. Universe-wide, a creative-natural movement vibrates, which spreads artistic impulses in many forms, for example, predominantly in relation to geometric and symmetrical forms, which are important in the production of crop circles, because the Earth-humans who produce these pictograms absorb these vibrations and transform them into works of art according to their meaning, as in pictograms, which they then press into crop fields by treading down the stalks of grain.

16. Apart from geometrical and symmetrical forms, the extraterrestrial or cosmic energetic impulses of art also impart many other forms of art, such as painting, carving, sculpture, drawing and music, etc.

17. I have explained various things to you in earlier private conversations, such as that these creative-natural artistic impulses are of a universal-energetic vibrational nature and are also contained in the cosmic-electromagnetic life energy and stimulate the consciousness of human beings through their subconsciousness in order to become artistically active and to represent and create all kinds of art forms, be it drawing, sculpting or in any other artistic way.

18. Human beings in particular – as well as other life-forms – who are sensitive enough to pick up these vibrations contained in the cosmic-electromagnetic life-energy, can also translate them into many different forms.

19. This is especially true of human beings who have artistic abilities and interests, so that they are especially predisposed or talented to absorb these vibrations.

20. This creative-natural art-mediating vibration also affects all other living beings, such as animals, birds, insects, reptiles, aquatic creatures and amphibians, for which the universal art vibrations are important for nest-building or for mate-making and the play instinct, etc.

21. The same also happens with regard to minerals, which are solids and have a defined chemical composition and also a defined physical crystalline structure.

22. Many of them form themselves into geometrical and symmetrical figures, which consistently arise as universal art from the corresponding creative-natural artistic vibrations.

23. So this art arises not only in Earth-humans, but also throughout the universe in all of nature, in which geometric and symmetrical forms of all kinds are formed through the extraterrestrial or creative-natural art vibrations, such as e.g. Galaxies, circles, crosses, rings, cubes and many other geometrical and symmetrical forms, whereby for Earth-humans the best known in this respect are the crystal forms which arise in minerals of all kinds, but also in snowflakes in infinite variations and in ice formations, etc.

24. From this point of view is to be understood what my daughter Semjase, as well as Quetzal and I, have said in regard to extraterrestrial forces which are involved in the production of crop circle formations.

25. So it is not earthly-planetary vibrations, but extraterrestrial ones, which are of universal form.

26. The Earth-humans who made or continue to make such crop circle pictograms thus find their ideas for them in the extraterrestrial or creative-natural universal artistic vibrations through which all life-forms and all minerals and plants derive benefit.

27. Plants of all kinds use this extraterrestrial art-vibration to form their shapes, just as Earth-humans use it to be artistically active, in whatever way, while other life-forms use this creative-natural art-vibration in various other ways according to their species and kind.

28. And because this art vibration does not emanate from Earth, but moves creatively-naturally universe-wide, we call it extraterrestrial and universal.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_669

Billy:

... You have told me in confidence some things about the so-called crop circles and also pointed out that about 88% are artistic works of earthlings, but we have not spoken openly about this yet. Although you said that the earthly works or earthly crop circles are made by extraterrestrial forces, you also said that only from the end of the year 2016 this fact may be officially mentioned, so I will talk about it now. But it would be interesting to be allowed to say something about the remaining 12%, which have other origins than earthly work, whereby I only mention those percentages, which can be traced back to terrestrial-planetary sources, which are also connected to light phenomena, which appear in grain fields etc.

Ptaah:

67. Of course we can speak openly about this, if we do not also want to mention the other factors that we are not allowed to address.

Billy:

That is the point of my question, because what you said before was never complete, because certain things had to be kept silent about, which is no longer necessary, as I understood your words at the time. And the rest, which still must not be addressed, we do not need to discuss that.

Ptaah:

68. Of course, that is correct. –

69. A certain percentage of crop circle appearances is, as you know, not the product of Earth-humans being, although I cannot give the exact percentage for directive reasons.

70. What I openly address in relation to crop circles, as well as other symbolic formations in other natural straw plants resp. in various grain fields, as well as in grass, bamboo, rape and reed resp. sweet grass, does not refer to works of Earth-humans.

71. These are in fact based all over the Earth on purely Earth-magnetic phenomena, which, however, are related to early Earth-humans' energy-force practices, the effective nature of which must be concealed.

72. This is because if today the old practices in this respect, which have fallen into oblivion, were to become known again, then, due to the unreasonableness and greed for war of Earth-humans, their use for the production of a very dangerous military weapon would be unavoidable.

73. This would have extremely far-reaching and serious consequences, which I could not be responsible for if I acted against our directives.

74. It would also not be in our Plejaren sense as a whole.

75. On the other hand, as far as the extraterrestrial influences during the creation of the crop circles are concerned, I can only explain again the same thing in other words as I have already explained to you earlier, namely that the extraterrestrial forces, which are created during the creation of crop circles by Earth-humans, correspond to normal natural universal impulse vibrations. 76. These influence everything and anything, including all genera and species of human beings, including Earth-humans beings, as well as all matter and all fauna and flora.

77. These energetic impulse oscillations correspond to cosmic-natural forces, which create all 'works of art of nature' and also create perfect symmetrical forms of various kinds, which arise everywhere and also in the open nature in everything that exists.

78. All imaginable circle forms, squares, octahedrons, hexahedrons, cubes, crosses, etc. are created, which appear in many materials, such as plants, crystals, ores and especially snowflakes.

79. When it snows, enormous masses of snow crystals fall from the sky as frozen works of art, billions of them, whereby no two snow crystals are the same, because each one is a unique piece of nature or the extraterrestrial-cosmic-universal artistic vibration. ...

83. All living beings are also affected by the whole, and consequently also the human beings, in which the human being creates and brings to bear the whole of the artistic through his consciousness and thus also through his thoughts and imagination as well as through his actions and artistic creations.

84. With regard to crop circles, this is especially true for certain Earth-humans with regard to their artistic impulse vibration receptiveness, if they are sensitive to it.

85. This leads to the special creation of the so-called crop circles, because the cosmic-universal artistic impulses give them this ability.

86. Therefore it has to be said that these crop circles are made by Earth-humans, but they are not purely earth human beings, but effectively an extraterrestrial phenomenon or a cosmic-universal size. ...

97. Other things concerning light phenomena and unknown flying objects around the worldwide crop circles are the result of Earth-humans and private pranks on the one hand, but also of military and espionage research achievements on the other hand.

98. This is especially true in England, which is considered the 'mother of crop circles' in crop circle 'expert circles' and where the main centers of crop circles are surrounded. ...

Billy:

... There is, however, one mystery that has not yet been solved, and that is how the angled, altered and sometimes 'burst' or 'exploded' growth nodes of cereal stalks come about. Can you explain something about this?

Ptaah:

100. This also has a very simple cause, which is based on the electromagnetic radiation, which creates a tension and thus the knot housing is torn open or 'bursts open', as you say.

101. Exploding cannot be said about this, because the electromagnetic effect does not produce heat, but only tension, which causes the growth nodes to rupture. ...

Billy:

... And the fact that the so-called 'crop circle researchers' have suspected for a long time that strong heating causes the growth nodes to 'burst open' is of course pure nonsense, because your father Sfath has explained on the one hand that there is no heat effect, but only a very strong electromagnetism, and on the other hand he has also shown me experimentally that growth nodes in cereals do indeed burst open due to electromagnetic influence. Sfath explained that when heated, the inside of the plant would expand, causing the cells to burst, but that this was not effectively the case, because electromagnetism in this form is a cold process and therefore also acts 'cold', which is also the reason why the growth nodes and stalks would retain their special elasticity and altered shape, which could not be the case if the whole thing was caused by heat radiation. ...

Crystal Skulls

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Crystal_skull

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_400

Billy:

... I have explained again and again that the crystal heads have nothing to do with extraterrestrials and therefore cannot be traced back to them, but that these crystal heads were made in Germany in the 19th century. Nevertheless, this does not want to be accepted as the truth ...

Ptaah:

12. The crystal heads you mentioned, which were found in southern America and attributed to the Maya and supposedly originated from extraterrestrials, were, as you just said, produced in Germany in the 19th century, in the gemstone and diamond cutting workshops of those places that were merged to form the city of Idar-Oberstein in 1933.

13. The client was a wealthy man named Florian Rosenfelder from Germany, who was privately and as a hobby engaged in archaeology and who also brought the crystal heads to the Mayan areas, where he 'discovered' them as a sensation.

14. However, he was only able to place the crystal heads at different places, where he thought to 'discover' them under witnesses, but he was not able to do this anymore, because he died of poisoning, which he suffered from locals, who robbed him.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_593

Billy:

Then a question about the crystal heads or crystal skulls, especially the one called the Mitchell-Hedges Crystal Skull, because it was allegedly 'discovered' in 1927 by Anna Mitchell Hedges in a temple complex in the jungle of Honduras. The Crystal Skull is said to be a machined rock crystal in the shape of a skull ...

Again and again there are broadcasts on television where the age, origin and purpose of the crystal skulls is known commercially, but the solution to the mystery is not found. Perhaps we should say something about it again, or rather you, to make things clearer.

Ptaah:

63. There is not only one crystal skull, but several of them, which are ascribed to old cultures, but also to extraterrestrials and are said to be very old.

64. However, this in relation to extraterrestrials corresponds to nonsensical assertions of insane esoteric believers and phantoms, as well as blind archaeologists etc., who would like to see certain crystal skulls as products of Central or South American advanced civilizations, such as the Incas, Maya or Aztecs.

65. Everything in this respect is based only on assertions which have no archaeological value whatsoever and which cannot be confirmed and substantiated by effective real finds of crystal skulls which have not been fraudulently brought about.

66. In reality, various crystal skulls have been deliberately faked and placed in places to be 'found' there.

67. Various such crystal skulls were made from rock crystal, quartz or other precious stones as replicas of human skulls.

68. They were made in the 19th century in a European centre for crystal cutting, namely in Idar-Oberstein in Germany, in the Rhineland-Palatinate.

69. So the whole thing, as I said, is just nonsensical claims of people who want to ascribe everything to Indian advanced civilizations or extraterrestrials.

70. Truth is that these crystal skulls do not have an age of a thousand years or more, but only of some more than two hundred years.

71. The crystal skulls continue to be counterfeited worldwide, also in a commercial way, and especially in Asia many hundreds of such crystal skulls are produced every year and sold all over the world.

72. Such fake skulls have also repeatedly found their way into museums.

73. Three crystal skulls are particularly well known in this regard, the Mitchell-Hedges crystal skull in the British Museum in London, the London crystal skull in the Welcome Gallery of the British Museum and the Paris crystal skull in the Musée du quai Branly in Paris.

74. As said before, all these crystal skulls are more modern productions of the modern age, which were made in the 19th century in Idar-Oberstein in Germany, but where other places have to be considered as well, as electron microscopic examinations of the London Crystal Skull show, where traces of processing are demonstrably present, as they are only caused by modern grinding tools.

75. If the time of the first discovery of a crystal skull is investigated, the earliest evidence of this can be found in the 19th century.

76. And if the controversy is discussed whether these are ancient artefacts or modern forgeries, then it must be said that this is completely superfluous, because reason alone does not permit such a thing, because a highly technical, mechanical prerequisite had to be given for the production of the crystal skulls.

77. This is also proven by the traces of very regular abrasion and polishing marks which can only be produced by machines and which could never have been produced by hand.

78. The Mitchell-Hedges crystal skull is probably the most famous, and in life-size production it weighs 5.3 kg.

79. It is said to have been found in 1924 in Lubaantun/British Honduras (note Billy: Today Belize) by Anna Mitchell-Hedges, who was 17 years old at the time, when she is said to have accompanied her adoptive father Frederick Albert Mitchell-Hedges (1882–1959).

80. She is said to have been present at his excavations, but this is not true, because she was not with him when he searched for 'Atlantis', which he believed to have discovered.

81. I was able to clarify this clearly by looking back.

82. This Mitchell-Hedges skull is particularly noteworthy because, in addition to its almost perfect workmanship, it differs from most other crystal skulls because it has a removable lower jaw, made from the same piece of crystal as the skull itself.

83. But also this fact and the great similarity to the London skull cannot hide the fact that this Mitchell-Hedges crystal skull is also a fake.

84. This also does not change the fact that when the skull is illuminated from behind with a strong light, this light is bundled inside the skull so that it shines like a 'third eye' on the forehead and through the two eye sockets.

85. If at that time in Idar-Oberstein there had not been adequate modern apparatus and machines etc. available in accordance with the time and the development, the production of such crystal skulls would not have been possible, so that they could only be produced in the modern world with appropriate devices, as these have existed and been used in Europe for a very long time.

86. Nowadays, such skull sculptures are even produced in large quantities by machine and sold all over the world, whereby the production is mainly from the Asian region, as well as the sale of these products all over the world.

87. Also supernatural forces or techniques of processing from times long past, which are no longer known today, cannot be considered for the production of the crystal skulls, because they simply did not exist at that time, when the advanced cultures of the Incas, Maya and Aztecs etc. were in bloom.

88. If they had had to grind and polish a crystal skull with manual labour, it would have required an enormous amount of manual labour and taken many centuries or even well over 1,500 years, if the whole procedure is calculated with about 12 daily working hours per skull.

89. Although the processing of rock crystal is rather unproblematic, without appropriate machines everything would have been an unsolvable problem for the Maya, Incas and Aztecs etc.

90. In contrast, the techniques for working rock crystal and gemstones have been known and used in Europe for centuries, as can be seen in the drinking vessels made of rock crystal from the baroque period (note Billy: the baroque period was 1575–1770).

91. If we continue to look at the London crystal skull, it is very similar to the 'Mitchell-Hedges skull', but it does not have a removable lower jaw.

92. It is said that this skull was 'found' in Mexico in the 19th century, but another time this is not true, because it was made by the same artisans and was also 'exposed' to be 'discovered'.

93. On the surface of the crystal there are traces which are clearly caused by the use of grinding wheels, but which were not known in the ancient civilizations of the Incas, Maya and Aztecs and therefore could not be used.

94. Furthermore, no occurrence of the corresponding type of crystal from which this skull is made can be found in Mexico, but on the other hand this type of crystal is found in Brazil, from where crystal and gem cutters in Idar-Oberstein had crystals brought here as early as the 19th century.

95. Then there is the Parisian crystal skull, which is considerably smaller than life-size and is made of cloudy quartz.

96. This skull is quite roughly worked and in this respect it does not bear comparison with the Mitchell-Hedges and London skulls.

97. This skull is also said to have been found in a grave in Central America, but this is again a lie in the sense that it was made and left there by an ancient civilization.

98. This skull was forged by an antiquarian named Eugène Boban and then brought to France.

99. The skull was worked with modern milling machines, which is proven by traces of iron, which can be found on the skull.

100. At the time of pre-Columbian peoples, however, iron was demonstrably still unknown.

Billy:

It is claimed that even today it is not possible to imitate such skulls.

Ptaah:

101. This is also not true, because it can be proved that such crystal skulls have already been reproduced with the most modern technology in good perfection, so that their reproduction is absolutely comprehensible, and in a way that is just as perfect as it was done in the past in Idar-Oberstein with less high-tech possibilities.

102. I am talking about scientific works that have been made, but which have no relation to the hundreds and thousands of skulls made of all kinds of glass, crystals and other materials that have been produced and sold on the world market for decades.

103. Furthermore, it must be clearly stated that it is completely mistaken and misleading as well as irresponsible to claim that the aforementioned crystal skulls have been lost for many centuries, because this is not possible and also not the case, because their production in Idar-Oberstein actually took place in the 19th century, as I personally clarified in my own interest when the matter became public.

104. And the fact that the crystal skulls have been attributed to these magical powers ever since they became known, is as much an absolute nonsense as the fact that a human being dies when he looks into the eye socket of the Mitchell-Hedges crystal skull, which is therefore called the 'Skull of Doom'.

Curse Of The Pharaohs / King Tut's Curse

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Curse_of_the_pharaohs

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_052

Billy:

... does a 'curse of the Pharaohs' exist?

Semjase:

44. There is no curse of the Pharaohs.

45. This is just a fantastic concoction of legendary nature, as usual created by human beings of the Earth, who believe in recognising some kinds of secrets and mysteries in all things, because of still being caught too much in their religious fantasies, etc.

46. Well, there have always repeatedly been deaths, when the tombs of the Pharaohs were robbed, also by your scientists, because they too conducted robbery of tombs.

47. That can partially be put down to provoked accidents and on the other hand, to the protection measures of the ancient Pharaohs and priests, who were perfectly aware of the upcoming tomb robberies.

48. For this reason they created for example protective provisions and the like.

49. Thus e.g., they let slaves collect the hair-spines from the fruits of ficus-indica cactus, and had them [the cactuses] poisoned by poisoners.

50. Afterwards these spines, impregnated with a millennia-durable deadly poison, were embalmed in the bandages of the deceased Pharaohs, and thus those who at a later time would come into contact with them, whereby, inevitably, the hair-fine spines penetrated into the skin, killing them.

Billy:

Fantastic, however with the hairy-spines of ficus-indica, are you talking about those fine as hair spines that grow on the surface of the cactus-fruit?

Semjase:

51. Certainly ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Ptaah:

157. Since time immemorial, we have used a bat symbol as a hazard image for radioactivity.

Billy:

This is interesting. Is this perhaps related to the bat symbols found in ancient Egyptian pictorial writing?

Ptaah:

158. That's right.

159. The bat symbol as a hazard image for radioactivity already existed in our early ancestors who came to earth from the Lyra regions.

160. The symbol thus found its way into Earth of various peoples, whereby in ancient Egyptian regions in particular it was used as a warning sign for anything that in any form had to do with radioactivity.

161. Especially the priests of Egypt at that time often handled radioactive materials and then marked their works etc. with the warning sign of the bat symbol.

162. It was also their own way to mummify the deceased with radioactive substances, which also caused grave robbers to become radioactively contaminated and ill at all times, often resulting in death, which also applies to archaeologists.

163. Thus the radioactivation of corpses was on the one hand a means of mummification and on the other hand also a means of preventing the robbing of corpses and mummies by body and grave robbers, which already existed in very old times.

164. As protection against such robbers served not only the radioactivity, which was won from uranium Pecherz, uranium mica and Carnotit and is both chemically and radiologically very poisonous, but also extremely long-lived and many millennia effective poisons and gases were used.

Billy:

I know. There were pure deadly contact poisons as well as poisons in which Figi-d'India spines were soaked, i.e. hair-thin spines of the Indian fig, a cactus fruit. The mummy bandages were then coated with it in order to keep grave robbers away or to punish them if they desecrated the mummy. The hair-thin thorns penetrated into the skin at the slightest touch and thus spread death. Some poisons were such that they brought agonizing deaths only slowly and over many years, while others brought rapid deaths. Deadly gases were also used, which were immediately released when the mummies or burial objects were touched. These gases were then inhaled by the grave robbers, etc., as well as deadly floating poisons, which immediately impregnated the air if there was even the slightest movement. – Well, your explanation should make it clear that the bats symbols on mummy graves etc. in Egypt and the surrounding area have indicated since ancient times that the mummies etc. are radioactive and that danger emanates from them. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_450

Billy:

It is always said that the undamaged tomb of King Tutankhamun was discovered or excavated in 1922 by a sponsored English archaeologist named Howard Carter in the Valley of the Kings. Unfortunately, I do not know the name of the sponsor, but I know that it has always been claimed that both Howard Carter and the sponsor had enriched themselves with the gold and jewelry treasure of the grave goods. Do you know anything about whether these suspicions were made up out of thin air and are therefore pure invention?

Ptaah:

99. There were two men for whom the archaeologist and draughtsman Howard Carter worked as excavation director.

100. One was a certain T. M. Davis, and the actual sponsor was a certain G. E. Earl of Carnarvon, and indeed it is true that the assumption is correct, because both Earl of Carnarvon and Howard Carter enriched themselves by stealing grave goods, because they stole gold values as well as jewels and artefacts.

Billy:

The nonsensical story was then told that Carter, because he desecrated Tutankhamun's tomb, died shortly after the opening of the tomb by a curse that was placed on the tomb.

Ptaah:

101. In fact a nonsensical story, because the man died of severe blood poisoning because he had contracted a deep infection when he injured himself with his razor.

Dalai Lama [Tenzin Gyatso / Bstan-'dzin-rgya-mtsho]

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/14th_Dalai_Lama

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_261

Billy:

... But now I have a question about the Dalai Lama. Yesterday evening we had a little discussion, which led to the question if he belonged to our group, which I answered with a no, because Quetzal once gave me an answer of this form. But we did not talk about whether he, the Dalai Lama, belonged to the outer circle of those who were involved as voluntary advisors and helpers at the decisive early time. Do you know anything about it?

Ptaah:

26. His spiritual form and his total block of consciousness are indeed among those former personalities who were active as external, voluntary counsellors and helpers.

27. However, there is no relationship with today's core group, for in his form he works freely, although the circumstances do not correspond exactly to the provisions he was supposed to fulfil.

28. In principle, he should have been a free teacher of the teaching of the spirit, without being bound to any religion.

Billy:

This raises a new question: Why did the Dalai Lama come to Buddhism when he should have been a free teacher? I was asked this question, which I then answered as follows, and I hope that I was right: The Buddhist monks, as is generally known, seek their head with the help of meditation and with visions, etc., when such a monk has to take on his new task again. The responsible Buddhist monks now consciously believe themselves to be so far and highly developed that through meditation and vision, etc., they are able to take on their new task. They would receive information and hints where to look for the new head. The child himself is still in childhood at that time and is brought by the monks to their centre, where the child is then taught and trained for many years, so that when his time comes he can take over his office. And the child is allegedly found by the monks because it is to be equipped with extraordinarily high consciousness vibrations, which are supposedly caught and elicited by the monks. From this it should be evident that a child of this kind already carries out strong consciousness activities at an early age and consequently also has a high development of consciousness, so that it is only a matter of time for the seeking monks until they come across these vibrations and find the child, which then also recognizes objects etc. through meditative influences etc., which e.g. are supposed to have belonged to former heads of Buddhist imprint. Of course this explanation is very simplified.

Ptaah:

29. An explanation that can be left at that, because it is true, even if it is very simple, as you say.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_437

Billy:

Then yet again a bulletin question which relates to the 13th Dalai Lama. The question is this: "Why did the 13th Dalai Lama (Mongolian dalai = "ocean of learned knowledge", and Tibetan bla-ma = "the superior") have to flee from the Chinese?" The question is somewhat confusing, because Quetzal taught me something else, as, however, you also did, consequently, to my knowledge, it was not the 13th Dalai Lama who fled from the Chinese, rather the 14th, who is actually called Bstan-'dzin-rgya-mtsho and who was born in 1935 and enthroned in 1940. His current domicile, if I am not mistaken, is Dharmasala, in the constituent state of Himachal Pradesh in India. In 1959 he fled to India as the Chinese occupied Tibet, because the Dalai Lama is, in truth, not a religious head, rather a political head, even if something else is asserted by the Lamaists who say that he is the highest spiritual dignitary. He emerged as the political power-holder, in the context of the Tibetan government-in-exile led by him, in order to obtain a real autonomous Tibet through negotiations with the Chinese government, whereby the Dalai Lama is then naturally supposed to constitute the sovereign, respectively, the political ruler. The Tibetan government-in-exile is not officially acknowledged by any country. Even when the 14th Dalai Lama emerges as the spiritual dignitary of Lamaism and officially stands up in the world for tolerance among the religions and the peoples, as well as for the observation of humanity's global responsibility, in the background, hidden in his deeds, is actually his political power-nature which he gladly wants to exercise in Tibet and presumably even in the entire world. With him it is therefore about power, ... You have also taught me, that on one hand, the Lamaist Lhasa, the Lamaist centre in Tibet, is, so to speak, a secret world-centre in Asia and that, secondly, Lamaism is a degenerated and despotic sect which cannot be equated with Buddhism, although the Dalai Lama and the Lamaists refer to Buddhism in regard to their religion. Accordingly, the national religion of Tibet also cannot be called Buddhism, rather only Lamaism, which has nothing to do with real Buddhism, if nowadays a true Buddhism may be spoken of at all, because, even with this, very many things were distorted and indeed even in regard to the teaching of Gotama Buddha, consequently the real teaching was only taught, understood and lived by the prophet himself. ... The Dalai Lama, Bstan-'dzin-rgya-mtsho, who today cruises around in the world, promotes a free Tibet and writes books with inexpert content, is no Buddhist at all, rather a Lamaist who strives for state power. Who then still wonders that he had to flee from the Chinese? The fact is that the Tibetan Lamaists committed monstrous atrocities before the Chinese again took over control of Tibet, whereby, at any rate, they are also to blame for unbelievable atrocities. Naturally this truth is vehemently disputed and denied as well as twisted from all sides. ...

...

Billy:

Despite these facts, most western countries revere the Dalai Lama in particular, as also, however, do the Tibetan Lamaists, whereby neither these believers nor the western worshippers and followers know the actual facts about the Dalai Lama and Lamaism. The believers of Lamaism are so duped that they follow the Dalai Lama blindly and neither examine the background of this nor the background of the machinations of Lamaism. There are only few real experts in the entire matter about the Dalai Lama and Lamaism, as, for example, diverse journalists who also name the facts openly, as, for example, in 2000, when the German media openly challenged the Dalai Lama and talked plainly.

- 1) that he defames his critics, respectively, slanders them, and brings them into disrepute;
- 2) that he actively oppresses religious minorities, however, otherwise plays the good human;
- 3) that he has knowingly falsified the history of Tibet and his flight, and so forth;
- 4) that he perfidiously exploits his political status and his power as head of the Lamaists over the believers;
- 5) that he oppresses any political and religious opposition to himself;
- 6) that he has fallen into to a most extreme tyrannical and undemocratic leadership style;
- 7) that he maintains rituals which are misogynistic, respectively, antagonistic to women;
- 8) that he maintained, and maintains, friendship-based contacts with former SS members, respectively, Nazi big-wigs, as well as with neo-Nazis.

What there is further to say relates to the USA – which indeed cannot possibly be any other way at all – whose secret service CIA plays a decisive role in the more recent history of Tibet, as Quetzal once said. The CIA, according to his statement, was the authoritative factor behind the success of the Dalai Lama's flight to India where he lived in exile and was supported by the US secret service as well as the guerrilla army, respectively, the armed Tibetan-Lamaist troops, who caused much harm and perpetrated monstrous atrocities, however, in reality, could not accomplish much to bring Tibet under their and the Dalai Lama's control. Nevertheless, however, the acts of the guerrilla army had a great significance for the moral of the community of Tibetan exiles who fled to various countries, because they hoped that a return to a 'free' Tibet would be possible for them, whereby, however, they only knew the propaganda of the Dalai Lama – which is always still the case – while the truth is withheld from them. And that the CIA in Tibet also forcefully functioned in another way, was also clearly connected, among other things, with the occurrences of uranium which the country had to offer and which was not supposed to fall into the hands of the Russians. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_461

Ptaah:

37. This year there will be a lot of snow around Easter time.
38. Tibet, and Lhasa in particular, is plagued by great political and religious unrest by the population, directed against China, with the numerous monks also heavily involved, proving that they are not as peaceful as they claim to be.
39. The reason for the bloody and destructive riots is taken as the upcoming Olympic Games, which are a welcome means of stirring up the world against China, which of course fights back harshly and ruthlessly, costing a large number of human lives.
40. The mastermind or originator for this is the Dalai Lama, who in his stupidity works in a subterranean political and domineering way and thereby causes the unrest, whereby he, as it is usual for a wolf in sheep's clothing, handles everything in such a way that nothing can be proven against him.
41. I attribute stupidity to the Dalai Lama because he is not able to judge what he instigates underhandedly, cannot see it through and cannot foresee the consequences.

42. Consequently, he irresponsibly carries out his underhanded work in such a way – he is so clever again – that he only works on his followers and special helpers and messengers orally with his incitements and does nothing in writing, so that nothing can be proven against him.

43. Through his policy as leader of the exile government and spiritual leader, he has great influence and great power over his followers who worship him as a deity, so that he can direct his followers according to his plans and his will, without them realizing his deceitful goals, which are to become the undisputed political and spiritual ruler of Tibet and to secede it from China as independent.

44. The Dalai Lama's supporters deliberately overlook the fact that he displays political power, as well as the fact that he drives his followers with his infamous actions into hardship and misery and even often to their deaths, which is completely irrelevant to him and is calculatedly included in his actions.

45. Officially, he is hypocritical and calls for moderation and peace, while he is deceitfully and underhandedly inciting his followers and believers to resistance against China and to rebellion and unrest.

46. He does this in a way that in his stupidity he himself does not recognize as what it really is, namely that he is a religious and political rebel, who by his actions and conduct drives his believing people mad and into misery and leads them into misery and into continuing enmity against China.

47. He succeeds in this very easily because China does not enjoy a good reputation all over the world and is engaged in many inhuman and inhuman machinations.

48. And the Dalai Lama, in his stupidity and in his striving for power, is not able to estimate what he is doing to his believers with regard to what is happening to them in need, misery and harm by China's brutal and murderous measures, because the Chinese rulers are not squeamish and allow evil and degenerate violence to be used, as has been customary in China since time immemorial.

...

Billy:

This is as familiar to me as his misogyny, but he knows how to hide it. So there is stink in Tibet, and as you say especially in the capital Lhasa. I do not think much of the methods of coercion used by the government and the murderous actions of the Chinese government against enemies of the regime and those who think differently, as well as criminals, etc., because all in all it is inhuman and degrading. However, what the Dalai Lama does with the believing people falls into the same category, because through his false religious-political and world-political machinations he lets the believers run into the open knife with the Chinese. He talks loudly about peace while he deceitfully seduces the faithful to resist China instead of honestly trying to reach a compromise with China by giving up his autocratic and unjustified claims of being the political ruler of Tibet and its people. He should be content to be the spiritual leader of the Tibetans who believe in him, who worship him like a god and believe that the sun will not shine if he resigns as leader of the political-religious government in exile, as a Tibetan recently told me when I was talking to him in the waiting room at the doctor's office. These people are so misled by the Dalai Lama and his false speeches that they cannot understand what is really going on and that he is the mastermind behind the fact that there has been a political fire between Tibet and China for a long time, that there is murder and manslaughter, riots, destruction, bloodshed and terror on both sides, both by the Chinese and by the Tibetans themselves, with the supposedly peaceful monks also involved. If the Dalai Lama were to do his duty as spiritual leader, he would not be involved in politics and would not have ambitions as a political leader. If he were who he claims to be, he would be striving for true love and peace and would be trying to find a peaceful solution with China by withdrawing himself as political leader and renouncing any political activity. With that he would also save the lives of many of his believers and give them a better life, because by such an action he would save the Tibetan people from exposing themselves to the murderous machinations of the Chinese rulers when they cause riots and uprisings. Although this would not make Tibet a state in its own right, it would lead to a compromise peace that could last until the balance of power in China changes in such a way that one day Tibet's independence can be negotiated peacefully with responsible and humane Chinese leaders and that this independence can actually be achieved. However, as long as the Tibetan people are still controlled by a Dalai Lama who is greedy for political power and is not prepared to make the necessary compromise, much disaster will continue to befall the misguided Tibetans.

Billy:

... And while we're on the subject of unpleasantness, I would like to ask you if you know a little bit more today about the Tibet-China thing, by which I mean the Olympic torch relay, which is supposed to go through several countries of the world and even to Mount Everest. I could imagine that the Tibetans in exile and their followers and those of the Dalai Lama will demonstrate against it worldwide.

Ptaah:

26. This corresponds to the reality, because through the Dalai Lama's false propaganda and his political and religious machinations, a great many people are being incited and misled with regard to his real intentions and the reality of what is happening in Tibet and its context.

27. Thus, many innocent people are being misled about the reality of things against China and the Olympics, causing riots, Olympic boycott cries, fisticuffs, be incited to other violence and demonstrations, and tarnish the apolitical spirit of the Olympics.

...

Billy:

... The Dalai Lama's machinations regarding his claim to power over Tibet and its aspired independence from China is a purely political matter and has nothing to do with the Olympics in China. The fact that he is nevertheless deceitfully inciting his believers and other followers against China and the Olympics in a political way is something that they obviously do not realise, nor do all those government-incompetent rulers who hype him up and see him as a saint. These rulers are so dumb and stupid that they think they can bask in his 'spirituality' and shine with it, not realising that they are shaking hands with a wolf in sheep's clothing, as you called him. As a 'clergyman' he is hypocrisy itself, and what he has to do politically with China is his business alone, for it is he alone among all Tibetans who claims spiritual and political might for Tibet. So, from his side, the whole thing is only a primitive claim to power, through which he is at loggerheads with China, which in turn exerts evil violence in Tibet, with the Tibetans, and indeed also the supposedly peaceful monks, exerting counter-violence. This violence is also exercised by the Dalai Lama, even if he does it deceitfully through the believers and other followers he has misled, who leave their blood or are otherwise harassed or punished, while not a hair on his head is touched. But this should not distract from the fact that China, just like the Dalai Lama and the Tibetans, also commits evil mistakes and spreads fear, terror, horror and death through evil violence, only that China does it openly and thus infuriates the world, while the Dalai Lama remains unscathed through his nasty deceitful machinations, because officially nothing can be proven against him, since he only preaches peace in public, but sows misguidance and violence in the background.

Ptaah:

31. His believers and other followers do not want to see or know the real truth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_463

Billy:

... The Olympic torch relay is very much disturbed in practically all countries by demonstrations and violent attacks by Tibetans and Tibetans living in the countries where the torch relay takes place. There is howling and raving against China and demands for "Free Tibet". Of course the Dalai Lama is behind all this with his anti-China propaganda. He knows how to get his followers in a rage just by threatening to resign as the big boss of the exile government because they see in him the real saviour.

Ptaah:

77. This is what is real.

79. The Dalai Lama uses his believers and other followers to turn the Olympics into an act of political terror and to insult and denigrate China in every possible way.

80. Of course China has been a state of violence and injustice since ancient times, but what is done by the Dalai Lama and his followers and believers is not right.

...

82. And that here now the peaceful competitive spirit of the Olympics is turned into a political power struggle by the machinations of the Dalai Lama and his believers and followers, this is not only wrong and very regrettable, but criminal, inhumane, criminal and a farce of the very same kind.

...

86. Consequently, every human being who joins in the Dalai Lama's power-hungry machinations, disrupts the Olympic torch relay, cries out obscene words against China and demands a free Tibet is in the wrong.

87. This is not the way and not an act of peace, but an evil act of open terror, of which every human being is guilty, who participates in such actions or also cultivates thoughts in this way.

88. For Tibet cannot be freed by the Dalai Lama's conjured up worldwide terror against China, for China is rightly not getting involved in this.

...

91. Should it be that Tibet will one day become independent, then this will require lengthy negotiations as well as reason, reason and logic, which, however, cannot be conducted by the power-hungry Dalai Lama and his envoys, but only by neutral negotiating partners who themselves do not seek religious and political power, as is the case with the Dalai Lama and his envoys.

...

Billy:

... it is a boundless disgrace for all those who harass China with regard to the Olympics and the Olympic torch relay, because it is not the Chinese regime that is fundamentally affected by the demonstrations and violent machinations of the fools who are believers and followers of the Dalai Lama, but the entire Chinese population. ... It is already no longer just stupid, it is even primitive and indeed, as you say, criminal and criminal to call what the demonstrators and perpetrators of violence against the Olympic torch relay and against the Chinese people, under the insidious leadership and wicked machinations of the Dalai Lama and his vicious underground army, are doing and are jeopardising the Chinese people's right to hold and experience an Olympic Games in their country at long last. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_465

Billy:

Just as the Dalai Lama is being hailed and given unjustified aid by all the world's innocent people, while China and its people are being rammed to the ground. Of course, it is no coincidence that there is such an evil sentiment against China, if one thinks of all the horrors that have been repeatedly brought to light in China since time immemorial, but the fact that the Dalai Lama's criminal political machinations are being praised unscrupulously and against all existing truth of his evil deeds is unjust.

Ptaah:

41. Earth-humans neither want to see the truth nor know or accept it, because they prefer to be deceived and deceived by false words of hypocrites.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_487

Billy:

... And I have a bulletin question to answer directly in regard to the Dalai Lama, because people simply do not want to understand what is really going on with this bloke and that he is not the peaceful human being which he always pretends, worldwide, to be. Truly, he is certainly not a 'Holiness', that is to say, a venerable one, rather, he is a 'feigned Holiness'. The reader's question which I shall answer is: "Why do you abusively insult the Dalai Lama, who is really a peace-loving and good human being? That which you write about him in your bulletins is unbelievable." A. Sanders, Germany.

Ptaah:

36. Lies, bigotry and slander hold very much more weight for the Earth-humans than does the truth.

Billy:

An article has also appeared in which something is said about that which is really behind the Dalai Lama. So, the talk therein is also that the truth about him is this: he pretends to be a worldwide apostle of peace and is followed by millions of faithful who transfer millions in funds to him with which he can carry out and finance his secret work in Tibet. Millions, from which the misogynist can also live very well, whereby it is primarily the woman – of all people – who believe in him, who finance him, as thanks, as it were, that he is ill-disposed towards them, but – because of his faked pious and peace-loving nature – they do not realise it. But his image as an apostle of peace does not correspond to the truth, just as his "holiness" is also only the mask of his sanctimoniousness. Born Tenzin Gyatso, he was appointed, as a child, to the position of 14th Dalai Lama, respectively, to the position of the highest ecclesiastical dignitary and political head of Lamaism. Enthroned from 1935 until 1940, he fled to India after China occupied Tibet in 1959 and ended the bloody goings on and the serfdom maintained by the Dalai Lama, and the punishments of blinding, flogging, hacking off of limbs and appropriation of the property of Tibetans who had committed punishable offences. He set up his Indian residence in Dharamsala in the state of Himachal Pradesh. Since the advent of the Tibetan government-in-exile, he has been the leader whereby, however, this government-in-exile is not officially acknowledged by any country. Nevertheless, however, many powerful state figures of diverse countries crawl up the Dalai Lama's backside and help him. Officially, the government-in-exile supports negotiations with the Chinese government in order to obtain real autonomy for Tibet. At the international level, the Dalai Lama sanctimoniously devotes himself to love, peace, freedom and tolerance among the religions and peoples, as well as to the observation of humanity's global responsibility. For that reason he was also awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1989. Thereby, however, the fact was completely disregarded (probably due to ignorance) that, behind his actions and his sanctimonious behaviour, he strives for religious and political might, and leads a Tibetan resistance movement. This positions itself against the brutal force of the Chinese and has caused great harm since it has been in existence. The members of this underground army call themselves "freedom-fighters", whereby, however, in reality, they commit terrorist acts against the Chinese occupiers. The weapons they employ are extremely varied and range from slingshots, knives, pistols and rifles, and swords, right up to captured Chinese artillery. Therewith, and by means of their underhandedness, their hate and their thirst for blood and revenge – which they call fearlessness – they taught the Chinese occupiers angst, but they also taught them to raise themselves up, more brutally than ever, against the Tibetans. And all that leads back to the so "peaceful" and "love-preaching" Dalai Lama. Truly there is nothing pertaining to the "freedom-fighters" – secretly led by the Dalai Lama – which would position them passively against the Chinese occupation, because peace-readiness is, for them, just as much a sanctimonious farce and, indeed, exactly to the degree maintained by their leader. Yet the simple Tibetans, as well as the exiled Tibetans, and the worldwide believers and followers of the Dalai Lama, know nothing of all that. However, the Chinese Tibetan occupation, for which the whole thing is a military nightmare, knows better. And one can understand this well when one knows that the Tibetan underground army, Chushi Gangdruk, still exists today and carries out its murderous mischief against the Chinese occupation. This underground army, lead by Gyalo Thondup, a brother of the Dalai Lama, was, namely, never disbanded. Earlier, they were supported by the US-American CIA, and indeed for around 25 years. When this was the case, the Dalai Lama also managed to obtain the USA's support, for himself and the exiled Tibetan court, against China. Thereby, with this Dalai Lama-USA connection, armed conflicts were also fought out with the Chinese occupiers by means of USA powers and Tibetan Chushi Gangdruk fighters, whereby it was said, of the Tibetan "peace-fighters", that, over a long period of time, for every Tibetan killed, ten Chinese had been killed. The Dalai Lama's flight was already prepared in 1951, and indeed with the help of the US American secret services' CIA, whereby, at the same time, with their help, great treasures were also already secretly smuggled to India out of the Dalai Lama's main city, Lhasa: primarily gold dust and silver bullion with a current value of around 65 million Swiss francs, respectively, about 47.5 million euros. Then, years later, the Dalai Lama's flight took place; well-organised by the CIA, which had earlier, in the USA, already trained a small, elite army of "freedom-fighters" – and indeed in Camp Hale in the Rocky Mountains – which then also accompanied and protected the Dalai Lama as he fled. It comprised around 350 soldiers and 50 "freedom-fighters". But that was not enough, because the elite fighters had still other tasks to carry out, as, for example, the guerrilla war, but also in that they, as paratroopers, jumped out of smuggled B-17 bombers which bore no national emblems, and led a terrorist form of war against the brutal Chinese occupiers. And so that they could not talk, they were equipped with very fast-acting cyanide poison capsules, which they were required to swallow in the event of being taken prisoner. Yet that was still not enough, because the CIA also pottered about outside of Tibet, as, for example, in the Kingdom of Mustang in Nepal, where a rebel army of more than 12,000 terrorist fighters was set up, which carried out murderous actions against the Chinese occupation in Nepal. And the fact that all the CIA machinations, in association with Tibet, has cost the USA hundreds of millions of dollars, is naturally clear, yet even today that is not known by the American people. Also, that the Dalai Lama was paid 186,000 US dollars annually would not be known by the American people. Only in 1972 was the CIA's direct support for the Tibetan resistance suspended, only, however, to be continued by a private – although federally organised – financing, as well as by means of the help of ignorant Dalai Lama followers. One can name, for example, the NED (National Endowment for Democracy) which spent, and still spends, millions of US dollars in order to damage China and to claim that China steers the bloody unrest in Tibet. The NED claims this contrary to better knowledge, and, self-evidently, contrary to its denial of all its activities in regard to that. And what the CIA carried out earlier in Tibet is carried out these days in secret by his Feigned-Holiness, the Dalai Lama.

Ptaah:

25. And to this article here in relation to the explanations and the descriptions from the book 'The Shadow of the Dalai Lama' it is to be said that effective facts are mentioned, which, however, on the one hand are not accepted as truth by the believers who follow the Dalai Lama, and on the other hand by various governments of various countries as well as by many of the world's population, whereby blinded faith reasons play just as large a role as, however, also profit reasons in relation to secret service, political and economic machinations etc.

Billy:

I will also add the other article that appeared in the journal TAXI under the title 'Der Schleiermacher' by Martin Ulrich, which is sold by unemployed people who can earn a supplement to their welfare money. The article is freely available and published by the editors of TAXI for FIGU, and is a treatment of the book 'The Shadow of the Dalai Lama' (816 pages, by Victor and Victoria Trimondi, published by Patmos in 1999). The content of the article and the book is about the Dalai Lamas etc. and their inhumane, misanthropic and inhuman machinations in Tibet. Unfortunately, there are no more books about this article in bookshops, because they are sold out. Some people say that the majority of the 1999 edition was bought up and destroyed by Dalai Lama friends. Whether this really corresponds to the facts is unfortunately not known. The book is unfortunately out of print, but may still be found as read copies in second-hand bookshops and at AMAZON. Similarly to this book, 'The Shadow of the Dalai Lama', there is another work worth reading by an author called Colin Goldner, entitled 'The Case of a God-King' (2nd edition 2008 expanded, 736 pages, ISBN 7335 3-86569-021-1 from Albin Verlag, Aschaffenburg), although this book, which is also worth reading, is still available in bookshops, so it can still be bought by those interested.

Billy {1949}:

As for the present Dalai Lama – who is already in the service and on the payroll of the USA and the CIA with many dollars – he is now doing everything he can to shake up Chinese oppression through a guerrilla movement, financially supported by the USA with millions of dollars, which he will make act violently against the Chinese. In the process, as already mentioned, he is chosen as the 14th Dalai-Lama, whose real name is Tenzin Gyatso, to be the ringleader of the Tibetan free fighters with large bribes from the USA, who in his greed for money has already allowed himself to be bought by the secret service.

The Dalai-Lama is a liar who is already deceiving the whole world in his juveniles and will also lie and deceive the world throughout his life, as very clear foresight clearly proves. He will do everything in this respect and try to present himself as a peaceful angel, but in reality he is a wolf in sheep's clothing and will be partly responsible for all the violent riots in Tibet that will continue well into the third millennium. He will stop at nothing, just as the entire criminal Nazi regime in Nazi Germany stopped at nothing. So everything will be completely different from the Dalai Lama and Tibet-friendly propaganda worldwide and all lies and deceit will be carried far into the future. But also in Tibet many things will change when the Dalai-Lama, who is still young and selfish today, will flee to India and then to the West in 10 years' time and consequently leave his believers in Tibet in the lurch and far behind him and he will live a good and lying life paid for by stupid believers in foreign countries until old age. And in all respects, even after his flight in 10 years' time, he will live carelessly on large donations and tributes from his stupid believers and other godly followers, as has been the case with all religious leaders since time immemorial and will also remain so for a long time to come. ...

Billy:

If only the Buddhist sectarianism of Lamaism in Tibet is examined, it reveals the same evil as in Myanmar, for what the Lamas and Panchen Lamas have done there would knock Siddharta Gautama's hat off his head and he would turn over in his grave in disgust, shame and pain (note Wikipedia: Penchen Lama is the title of an important reincarnation lineage of the Gelug order in Tibetan Buddhism. The Penchen Lama is considered the second highest Trülku of the Gelugpa and traditionally the emanation of the 'Buddha of Immeasurable Light' Amitabha). If I were to describe the atrocities of Lamaism in Tibet alone, I would have to write several books about it, but I can recommend a book that shows some of what has become of Buddhist sects that practice completely false teachings of Buddhism that have absolutely no real connection to the original teachings of Siddharta Gautama any more. To gain a really clear insight into yesterday's and today's Buddhist sects, especially Lamaism and its Panchen Lama as well as the equally mendacious Dalai Lama Tenzin Gyatso (note: today's Dalai Lama, who is especially adored by women, although he despises and hates them abysmally – I wonder why?), the book 'The Shadow of the Dalai Lama' by Victor and Victoria Trimondi/PATMOS-Verlag/Düsseldorf is recommended.

Billy {1947}:

... America, since time immemorial – especially now through Harry S. Truman, who since his installation as the 33rd president of the USA – secretly and without the knowledge of the people – interferes in the political affairs between China and Tibet because of wanting to drive the Chinese out of Tibet. This is the case because he secretly worships the current Dalai Lama, who, as a 5-year-old boy in 1940, was enthroned as the 14th Dalai Lama, who is listed as the head of the Tibetans. He is supposed to be a 'man of peace' in the future but in reality, he is not. In truth, even at his young age, he is a high-handed and devious rebel, conspirator, insurrectionist and evil terror to the women whose enemy he is, which he knows how to conceal; consequently they will follow him. However, he does not like them while he lyingly pretends equal rights to them, in order to secure their allegiance to him and needed support as well as to be sure of their gifts of grace to the religious leader. Contrary to his hypocrisy, it must be said that even at his young age he is only a 'man of discord, falsehood and misogyny', and as religiously mendacious as others and the Panchen Lamas before him. Their believers who are in bondage to them were, and still are, mistreated worse than slaves; by means of torture their torturers cut off fingers, hands, arms, legs or ears of the believers, or they allowed their believers to be blinded if they did not do what was demanded of them. With my own ears I heard the 14th Dalai Lama idealising the conditions in the former Tibet, where I saw with my own eyes the opposite of what he mendaciously claimed. With my own eyes I saw how the Lamaist monks, together with some members of a noble class, chastised serfs and slaves who were supervised by the monk police and were subjected to corporal punishment with Gewalt that mutilated their limbs or even blinded them. A fact, however, that will be disputed by the Tibetan government-in-exile when the 14th Dalai Lama, aka Tenzin Gyatso, waves his sceptre and flees Tibet.

However, as far as the present Dalai Lama is concerned – who is on the payroll of the USA and the CIA with many dollars – he tries to do everything possible to shake the Chinese occupation, namely with a guerrilla movement financially supported by the USA with many millions of dollars, which the young Dalai Lama allows to proceed against the Chinese with Gewalt. As the 14th Dalai Lama and with slush funds from the USA – as already said – he thereby becomes the ringleader of the Tibetan freedom fighters, who, in his greed for might and money, allows himself to be bought by the secret service CIA.

Already since his youth, the young 14th Dalai-Lama has been a liar, wherethrough he deceives the whole world and will prove this doing all his life, which clearly conducted foresights show clearly. He will present himself as a peaceful angel, but who in reality is a wolf in sheep's clothing, who will be partly responsible for all the gewaltsam riots in Tibet until the 3rd decade of the 3rd millennium. He will not shy away from any infamous action, which he will conceal from the outside world after he has fled Tibet and will continue his life in the government-in-exile under the protection of the USA. Therefore everything will be totally different from his Tibet-friendly propaganda worldwide, and all the lies and deceit will be carried far into the future. But everything will change in Tibet when the young and selfish 14th Dalai-Lama will flee and consequently abandon his believers in Tibet, when he will live a good but mendacious life in government in exile until old age, paid for by believers of low intelligentum. And even after his escape he will live in a carefree form from large taxes, gifts and donations from his believers that are of low intelligentum and from devoted followers, as has been the case with all religious leaders since time immemorial and will remain so in the distant future.

Erich von Däniken

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_119

Billy:

... Can you tell me, perhaps, how many things of Erich von Däniken correspond to the correctness and the truth, with regard to his representations and assertions? Maybe you can give me a percentage?

Semjase:

33. Sure, I can do that, because in recent times, I have dealt very intensively with these things

34. His basic statements regarding the intelligences from the depths of universal space and influencing the human beings of Earth are to be confirmed completely.

35. But his statements in reference to many ancient relics of bygone times are, in most cases, based on very extravagant fantasies.

36. Only less than 4% of his statements correspond to reality, as I could determine through the most exact calculations.

37. The man Erich von Däniken, unfortunately, tends too much to force all ancient findings and everything existing here since time immemorial into the area of extraterrestrial intelligences because he is too caught up in these things and has long lost the clear overview, if he ever possessed this at all, which is doubtful after everything that I have analysed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_155

Billy:

Also responsible for this is, indeed, the damn delusional belief of human beings, who are still fueled by the likes of Erich von Däniken and Peter Krassa and through whom they still earn huge sums of money thereby.

Quetzal:

88. That is also of correctness because by such fantasy-story writers, many people become led astray and even led to such degenerate [those who have gotten very badly out of control of the good human nature] human beings, such as this Hansi Hauck {see Tatunca Nara}.

89. Not only are the misled and fantasy believers confused and partially or heavily disturbed in their consciousnesses by fantasy writers such as Erich von Däniken and Peter Krassa, but they also sometimes run the risk of losing their lives, like in this case.

90. However, this disturbs the fantasy writers very little or not at all because for them, it is always just important that they obtain prestige and riches through their fantasy stories and writings, which truly have no significant value, however.

Billy:

Unfortunately, the earth-humans grasp at sensations, and in their unknowledge of the truth, they allow themselves to be taken for fools, and indeed, taken literally. They do not want to know the real and true truth, which is why they run after such dreamers, as they also do with the sects and religions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_216

Billy:

So all of the various allegations are rubbish, such as the ones that the geoglyphs {see Nazca Lines} would mark or indicate underground rivers or that these are prehistoric airfields of or for extraterrestrials, as this, along with other things, is fantasised by Erich von Däniken.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Billy:

... You know that I don't think much of Erich von Däniken's writing, especially not because I know of you that in his writing only 4 (four) percent of his assertions come close to the truth, which is admittedly very much. But I don't like his self-opinionated posturing and megalomania, which doesn't make him sympathetic to me. The fact that he accuses me of lying and cheating leaves me actually cold, because to want to be resentful or instructive to megalomaniacs and autocrats is not to be because they are too small in their consciousness and mind to be able to grasp and evaluate complaints or teachings. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_399

Billy:

Then I would like to take up the following: Erich von Däniken as well as Krassa and various others who write about historical events, claim in countless cases that all over the world there is evidence in many peoples or that they have found such evidence that extraterrestrials are supposed to have intervened in the development of the terrestrial human beings. They also submit all kinds of photos and materials that they consider and declare as evidence. In my opinion and according to your statements, however, most of this evidence is worthless, because very many of the things show no relation to extraterrestrials, but only to the works of man on earth. Semjase, you and Quetzal, you once declared that it is only about 4 percent of everything that Erich von Däniken describes in relation to things of extraterrestrial origin. Is that still true, or has his hit rate increased since then?

Ptaah:

7. At that time, when Erich von Däniken's researches concerning things of extraterrestrial origin were stated by us with 4 percent, it referred to all his researches at that time.
8. But what he has continued to produce since then and what he calls extraterrestrial origin, or rather what is supposed to be evidence that things would point to extraterrestrial gods and space travellers, is simply based on unfounded assumptions, hopes and illusions.
9. Thus, since our statement, with all the material further collected by him, the percentage of the correctness of his statements has fallen to below 0.6 percent.

Billy:

Which proves that extraterrestrials were extremely rare on Earth in ancient times etc., as was the case with certain gods who were extraterrestrials, while most of the deities were pure inventions of Earthmen and therefore imaginary figures. So an enormous number of things of the old times are of pure earthly human origin, so in relation to technology and thus to mechanics, medicine, architecture, mathematics, geometry and all knowledge and ability in every respect. ...

Quetzal:

85. It would be unscientific and arrogant to try to do this, because the entire expanse of our universe is so vast and involved in constant change that it is impossible to calculate exactly.

86. Moreover, our universe – like any other, of course – consists not only of gross matter, but also of pure energies, one of which is black energy, as we call it, which is responsible for a certain form of antigravity in the material universe and is estimated to account for 3/5 of all universal energies {60%}.

87. Matter must also be seen in different forms, so on the one hand the visible and tangible matter, which is very small to be calculated with about 0.5/5 {10%}, while on the other hand still the dark matter is 1.5/5 {30%}.

88. But, as I said, this information is only based on estimations and calculations, which, due to the constant change of the visible material universe, are not constant but extremely variable.

89. To want to name exact results would therefore be nonsensical and arrogant and, moreover, ridiculous, because exact calculations cannot be made due to the constant change of the universe.

Billy:

Then I guess it would be fair to say that our material universe belt is actually dominated by black energy, right?

Quetzal:

90. That is of correctness.

Billy:

We know, after all, that the total universe does not expand forever, but only expands until the time of 155.5 trillion years, and then succumbs to contraction. During the expansion process of the entire universe, the visible material universe also becomes larger and larger, if I look at the whole thing correctly. And since this must be the case, there must also be different temperatures in our universe, because I assume that heat and cold must be generated by the constant change movement. Am I correct in my assumption?

Quetzal:

91. That is of correctness.

92. Although the temperature fluctuations are universe-wide and very minimal, they occur mainly in those parts of our material universe where the uninterrupted change through the outer, immaterial belts takes place.

93. This is what we call the transitionless open change zone.

Billy:

This transformation zone does produce a rushing sound, as Ptaah taught me on the Great Journey {see Contact Report 31}. I was also allowed to hear it through the technical devices in the giant spacecraft. It was simply gigantic. Ptaah explained to me that the earthlings call this phenomenon cosmic background radiation and assume that the big bang took place there in that zone and that the universe also ended there.

Quetzal:

94. Which does not correspond to correctness, as you know.

Billy:

Of course, because that's where the actual total universe begins with its other six immeasurable belts. Ptaah also said that the differences in temperature are actually very small and therefore only subject to tiny fluctuations caused by fluctuations caused by differences in density in all regions of our material universe.

Billy:

... Then a question regarding Albert Einstein's general theory of relativity: He taught that the light rays in the vicinity of large masses run in curved paths.

Quetzal:

609. That is of rightness.

610. Therefore, it is not a theory, but the reality.

611. However, the light rays are not only bent in the outer space by large masses such as stars and planets, but also by so-called wild magnetic fields in the outer space as well as by neutrino masses and dark energy masses etc., which assemble in the outer space.

612. The same applies equally on planets, but in hardly measurable form, if artificial light sources are used on them, because they also bend unnoticeably when their light encounters larger masses.

Billy:

And since light has a mass and a weight, it can probably also be used for the braking effect if it is only strong enough. So I think that a tremendously strong spotlight could, for example, even bring a moving vehicle to a standstill.

Quetzal:

613. This is of rightness, but the light source would have to be beam bundled and tremendously strong.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_435

Billy:

If I am right, then that means that our material belt – that is to say, our visible, material part of the universe – will persist for 32,000,000,000 more years, before a transformation occurs again. And how must one imagine this transformation?

Ptaah:

76. The entirety of the coarse-matter material, of every kind, renews itself. Consequently, therefore, new galaxies, stars and planets, and so forth, come into existence.

77. With this transformation, which takes place within about 2,000,000,000 years, certain residues remain, which are deposited both in the transition zones, and in the material belt, as dark energy and as particle-like dark matter, which can, with special technologies, be captured and measured.

78. This dark matter is, therefore, very much older than the actual coarse matter material of the visible material belt – that is to say, than the visible part of the universe – which is mistakenly referred to as the universe by the Earth-humans, although this material belt constitutes only one part out of the seven parts which make up the actual universe.

Ptaah:

31. But well, what I am allowed to say is at least that the Dark Energy is the actual centrifugal force of the material belt, which is erroneously considered by the terrestrial science of astrophysics and astronomy to be the entire universe, leaving aside the other six Universe Belts because they are unknown to scientists.

32. The centrifugal force runs through the entire material belt, whereby it spreads out according to its rotation.

33. And that the speed to the outside increases more and more is due to the fact that the centrifugal force in the inner area of the belt is logically lower than in the outer areas.

34. And as the extension of the matter belt increases, the outward speed also increases, and consequently the galaxies etc. move away from the inner area of the matter belt with ever-increasing speed.

35. I am not allowed to explain more about this.

Billy:

That is enough for the time being, because your explanation will give our scientists many nuts to crack, as it will also do with many other things. These clever people do not even know that the Creation of Universal Consciousness is a pure spirit-energy-individuality, which itself does not think, but where everything is aimed at causing all things to become existent, to pass away and become again, by purely spiritual-physical and natural-physical laws. But since letting something become an existence in the human sense, such as an idea and love for the thing etc., is called and valued as something valuable, already in primeval times attempts were made to explain this to the human beings by speaking of an idea and love of the creation of universal consciousness. This, although the Creation does not consciously create these values, but only practices them spiritually and physically, which is called universal consciousness for the understanding of the human beings. In the human sense, Creation is not consciously active, as is characteristic of the human being, but rather individually in terms of spiritual physics, from which natural laws and laws of nature arise, which in a causal form work independently.

Ptaah:

36. This also corresponds to our findings.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_530

Billy:

... On the 3rd of November we talked about the dark energy in the universe, through which everything accelerates outwards. But this dark energy, respectively the centrifugal force of the rotating matter belt, has nothing to do with the so-called dark matter, which is being puzzled about by earthly scientists. This should be said before more rascals come along and claim that dark energy and dark matter are one and the same thing.

Ptaah:

120. It is good that you bring it up, because they are actually two different things, because the dark energy is one thing, while the dark matter is something completely different, but I am not allowed to make any explanations.

Billy:

Exactly, that is what you explained on my Great Journey {see Contact Report 31}, which is why I have also mentioned it now, so that the matter is clear: Dark Matter is really a form of matter, an extremely fine form of matter, but not a pure form of energy, which is where centrifugal force comes from. Energy itself is a mass at rest, so to speak, but it has the ability to unfold power from within itself and have an effect. At least that is how I remember your explanations. However, when it comes to energy and power, the human beings of the Earth always talk about only one thing in relation to energy and power, even though they are fundamentally two different values, because energy is not power, but power is created from energy.

Ptaah:

121. Your words will not please many Earth-humans, but they correspond to what should really be understood by energy and power.

When I was in the fourth grade of primary school, and my teacher was Hans Frei - it was in 1948 - your father, Sfath, explained to me that altogether there are seven major powers of nature in the universe: on the one hand, the gravity, then the electromagnetism as well as the strong and weak nuclear power, and further the ...

Ptaah:

29. Stop, you are not permitted to openly name the three others, as indeed my father already had forbidden it to you.

30. These three other powers of nature are not yet known of by the terrestrial physicists, and they are still not allowed to discover them, because premature cognitions would have severe consequences.

Billy:

All right, excuse me, it remains withheld. It is certainly not in my interest to betray confided secrets, as I really only wanted to talk about the fact that there are not only the four natural powers known to the terrestrial physicists, rather also the remaining three which are still unknown to them, which exist as certain tiny and ultra-tiny particles, as related to the gravity, the electromagnetism and the strong and weak nuclear power. Also, the dark energy and the dark matter are included in the realm of particles, whereby certain of these particles, which are indeed also energies with powers, are supposed to be discovered in the foreseeable future, as you have said recently. Although it will still take a while, the success is to be understood - indeed according to your explanation - as a prediction. Additionally, I assume that I may say that, These - let us say, the normal or simple elementary particles - in turn contain, in sevenfold wise, still tiny particles, which, as I learned from Sfath, can be designated as ultra-tiny, ultra-elementary particles, so to speak. Even when I with this statement draw attention to the fact, that a fundamental seven-fold chain of natural powers exists and that other particles exist in the already known and unknown elementary particles and that only then, below that series of seven, that begins, wherefrom originally everything evolved from pure spirit-energy, I thereby betray no secret, because all of that corresponds to the spiritual teaching, in which I indeed also mention these things openly. And since the terrestrial physicists, especially the particle physicists, lack the inner and fundamental knowledge about the actual spirit-energetical structure of these things, they anyway are not able to comprehend anything of which I speak. There would probably have to be exact statements and explanations in order for the physicists to get any benefit from it. Among the physicists, the physical cognitions in relation to the true and fundamental structure and the exact interrelationships of the material, are indeed still in the material realm of the material, because till this day they have not yet become so smart that they would have arrived at the thought that the origin of all material, everything which exists and the entire universe as a whole, cannot be explained simply from the perspective of the purely material realm. So, the elementary particles, as such - despite their energetical tininess and inconspicuousness - are also purely material and not immaterial, because the immaterial is of pure spirit-energetical nature, and that energy alone is the absolutely one and only origin of all things and all material of any kind. And thereby, belonging to the material is everything which is solid material, liquid and gaseous, which can also be perceived by the human being and measured in the most various ways and detected, as your father explained to me according to your physics. However, that which is fine-fluidal, and high-fine-fluidal, consists of pure spirit-energy, and this is not graspable for the human being. And alone this spirit-energy is the origin of all existence of those things which can be registered, detected and measured in any manner by the human being, while, up to the present time it is not yet possible, nor will it be possible for a long time into the future, for human beings to provide evidence for, and measure, the creational-natural spirit-energy. But since those terrestrial physicists - who deal with the origin of life, and therefore also with the solid, liquid and gaseous material, and who attempt to explore everything in this regard - lack even the most minimal cognition regarding the spirit-energy from which everything in its absolute origin has arisen and come about, they are still very far from being able to research for and gain cognitions about how the process of coming into material being results from the purely spiritual energy. Like children who poke around in their food annoyedly and do not find in it what tastes good to them, so the terrestrial physicists poke around in an area where they cannot find the real origin of all things. Of course it is necessary, with the research related to this, to recognize the purely material aspects of the material and then to in the right way utilize these cognitions so as to do no harm with them, but if the real origin of all things is to be recognized, then after all the cognition must mature that it lies in the spirit-energy. However, this energy has nothing to do with that which is erroneously designated as 'spirit' by the human beings of Earth, which as such is supposed to embody what is the human consciousness. The spirit, that is to say, the spirit-energy, is not the consciousness, because the spirit, or indeed the spirit-energy, does not think and it creates no 'spiritual' property, because this is reserved for the material consciousness alone. Thus, in human beings - or other life forms - also no 'illness of the spirit' can appear, rather only a consciousness-clouding and consciousness-illness, and so forth, because the spirit, that is to say, the spirit form, ie, the spirit-energy, is absolutely off limits and not capable of being influenced by anything whatsoever such as diseases etc. from the material realm.

Billy:

... That's enough said, you do not need to mention more, besides he told me emphatically to keep quiet about what he taught me, because scientists have to find out for themselves what really is. The 3 central stars, which we simply call 'black holes', have been 'discovered' in the meantime, but the full reality of this is not yet known to earthly scientists, nor is the real truth of the energy of the existence of the universe, nor the basic matter of the universe, which they call 'dark energy'. Years ago I once talked to Ptaah about this, but I did not say what this matter actually is in truth, because officially I am not supposed to talk about it. The clever ones have to find out everything for themselves, and only slowly, slowly, because too much knowledge, too much too soon, only brings harm. The truth of this fact is proven by the far too rapid technical development alone, whereby the murder instruments weapons have been brought to such a level that with them the earth can fly apart into the infinity of the universe. Fortunately, it is not yet possible for the earthlings to penetrate into the other 6 universes of Creation, although they suspect that these exist, but see their existence as dimensions of the future and past and do not know that the 6 universes are their own spatialities and precisely universes of creation.

... It must have been 1946, if I remember correctly, when Sfath explained to me that there are two different types of dark matter in the universe and in the material belt of the universe, respectively. He spoke of a heavy and a light dark matter. As I still remember well, he said at that time that only through these two forms of dark matter could the material universe and all the galaxies, suns, planets, comets, meteors and gas nebulae etc. be created. This is understandable to me, but Sfath did not say how these two forms of dark matter form galaxies etc. In this respect, am I right in assuming that the two forms of dark matter cause and go through very specific physical processes, and that they cause a change of matter and, through rotation, a compression, and that gravity is then also created, by which an actual compression is stimulated, which goes beyond a normal compression? And is it correct that the infinitely existing electrons and neutrinos also play a role in this process, since they also have a certain mass and, under certain circumstances, come together to form rivers or streams in the space of the universe and also condense?

Ptaah:

45. That can be confirmed, but to speak about it officially in an explanatory way from my side at this point in time would be against our directives.

Billy:

I see. Our scientists are not yet ready.

Ptaah:

46. That's the meaning of my words.

The Dark Matter in the universe, we have talked about it a few times, but it was only in a private way, so nothing was ever written about it in the contact reports. Yes, you also kept me quiet about this topic, the last time was about five years ago. Is it still not allowed to say anything about it, I mean, what is the task of Dark Matter and what do you call it?

Ptaah:

7. It is not necessary to remain silent about it, so you can openly reveal your knowledge.

Billy:

Which you could also do, but if you think that I should say something about it, then please: If I remember correctly, you call dark matter 'expansion substance', which also has the property that it makes every solar system, every galaxy and the entire universe expand. So it is a kind of expansion matter.

Ptaah:

8. That is true.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_471

Billy:

Can black holes also form in dwarf galaxies, or is this only true for large galaxies?

Ptaah:

209. They can also occur in small galaxies and dwarf galaxies, as well as in free space, where black holes have been formed since the formation of the matter belt.

Billy:

Then black holes are not necessarily dependent on galaxies to form?

Ptaah:

210. No, because black holes can also form in free space due to very specific circumstances.

Billy:

And what are these circumstances?

Ptaah:

211. I am not allowed to talk openly about that, because I have to leave the research of these things to earthly scientists.

212. For them, it must be enough to know that black holes also originate in free world-dream.

Billy:

And so this is only possible in the matter belt, which our scientists mistakenly see as the universe, because they don't know that the matter belt is only one of seven belts, while the other six contain no coarse matter.

Ptaah:

213. Your assumption is true that black holes can only form in the matter belt, because only in the matter belt are the necessary conditions for their formation.

214. In the other matter-less universe belts the formation of black holes is not possible.

Billy:

Aha, then the case is clear; therefore, certain physical factors are necessary for this, such as vibrations or radiations, dark matter and fine matter, which compress and thus become so dense that they become an enormously heavy mass and develop a tremendous gravity and thus an attraction of gigantic strength.

Ptaah:

215. I am not allowed to give any information about that.

216. It is also not given to me that I could consciously violate our directives.

Ptaah:

56. To be said straight away is that the terrestrial scientists err to a large degree in regard to the Sun's lifespan, because it is a dying star and its real remaining lifetime accordingly amounts to only 1,500,000,000 to 2,500,000,000 years.

57. To say, further to that, is that the star has drifted for years in a weak dynamic phase, and only becomes more active now and again, for example, in March 2010.

58. The dynamic of the Sun is based on cycles of approximately eleven years which, in turn, are connected with the magnetic fields which, however, also impede the emergence of the energy which surges from the interior of the sun.

59. But an even greater number of other factors exists through which all processes are determined.

60. Dark matter, which for the terrestrial scientists is still very mysterious, therefore thereby plays a certain role, and indeed in particular in regard to the transport of the Sun's hot energy, because without the influence of the dark matter this would not be possible .

Billy:

... Once again I would like to talk about 'black matter', because the earthly astrophysicists are still bickering about what it might be, but they just don't get to the point. We have talked about this matter several times, but you have always said that you are not allowed to give any information about it. ...

Here is my question: On the one hand you say that 'Dark Matter' is an expanding substance or matter, but on the other hand you also once said that only through 'Dark Matter' is gravity possible and can function. Isn't that a contradiction? Somehow I just do not understand the whole thing, it confuses me.

Ptaah:

103. As far as I am allowed to make a statement, I will explain the following:

104. Dark matter is an interactive mass, which means that it is massive particles which – measured in the atomic range – have an enormous weight.

105. These massive particles have an interaction that is related to both gravity and expansion force, which is why I explained that dark matter is expansion matter, although I did not mention that it is also gravity matter.

106. So without the dark matter there would be neither centrifugal force nor gravity.

107. So without gravity no expansion substance can exist, and without expansion matter no gravity.

108. Both factors, centrifugal force and gravity, are everywhere, but they are only perceptible and therefore also measurable, but not visible, because they radiate neither light nor darkness visible to the eye.

109. I am not allowed to explain more about this.

Billy:

So far I understand what you are saying, but I would be interested to know how it works and other connections, as well as whether 'dark matter' also exists in the 'black holes', which seems logical to me, although I also know, because you told me, that there are small and large 'black holes' in the whole space of the universe, apart from the central 'black holes' at the centre of the galaxies.

Ptaah:

110. I am not allowed to explain further about 'dark matter', but with regard to 'black holes', I can say once again that they exist in almost incalculable numbers throughout the universe, and also in free space.

111. So there are large ones that comprise or contain millions of times the masses of the sun, while others are small and almost puny, as you once said, because they do not cover even one cubic metre.

112. And, of course, 'black holes' also contain 'dark matter'.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_592

Billy:

Thanks, then once again I have a question about dark matter, which you call expansion matter. I was asked a question about what is meant by this. So I answered what you explained to me, that expansion substance is the universal gravitational force, which runs through the whole universe like a net and forms knots in groups, in constant change. And if I myself have understood correctly what you have explained to me, then the entire network corresponds to an invisible gravitational energy, which attracts or forms and collects every form of fine matter, and at the same time expands or contracts, from which material formations and even galaxies are formed, whereby in this respect the very energetic nodes play a particularly important role. So this invisible universal gravity net, especially its nodes, forms all kinds of fine-matter, whereby this fine-matter matter is not yet known to earthly scientists. The nodes are constantly widening and expanding, which ultimately results in visible matter that develops into galaxies. And because the dark matter expands in this way, you call it expansion substance, whereby the invisible matter develops and expands into nodes or visible matter, from which planets, suns and whole galaxies develop over billions of years. Dark matter is not to be confused with the factor called dark energy, which corresponds to the universal centrifugal force.

Ptaah:

80. This is correct, but this only corresponds to what I have explained to you, which you may also pass on.

81. However, our directives do not allow me to explain more about this, because the knowledge of Dark Matter can hold many dangers for the earthly sciences, precisely when it is made useful and used for far-reaching destructive weaponry.

Billy:

This is understandable, for the barbaric earthlings will be in a state of barbaric destructive fury for a long time to come, and will therefore immediately convert all knowledge and materials they acquire into mortal and destructive weapons. Therefore, I have also only explained what I have understood, knowing that the explanations are not the yellow of the egg, but only a superficial explanation. In the worst case, all the madmen of this world, the degenerate rulers and their vassals, would even blow up the Earth if the means to do so fell into their blood-soaked hands. For all these mighty men are blind in their lust for power and domination, and they are not able to use their intellect, just as they cannot use reason. ...

Daylight Saving Time

Quetzal:

202. Toward the end of the month of March, the procedure of shifting the time forward, which is incomprehensible to us and which is also carried out by the human beings of Switzerland, takes place once again.

203. This incomprehensible procedure is designated as daylight-savings time, which disturbs and interferes with the normal and established rhythms.

204. At the same time, it is in no wise beneficial that through this daylight-savings time, people must begin their labour an hour earlier than usual, so that by this incomprehensibly low intelligentum, already established rhythms and times are seriously impaired, whereby interferences appear that cannot be removed.

205. With you, for example, the meditations are so disturbed, partly because the time is shifted, whereby the normal rhythm is impaired, and partly because all of our monitoring and impulse devices are set for existing, specified times, and we simply cannot change them in their time functions because they are aligned toward the true, effective solar time.

...

207. The reason why it is regulated in such a wise now is because we took into consideration a further assistance for all group members, which consists of a fixed time meditation, determined in accordance with the most valuable times of solar time.

208. At the established times, all necessary forces are at their highest potential, which is why we selected these times.

209. But if, now, the stupidity of daylight-savings time becomes effective again, then everything is destroyed, with the efforts of the meditation becoming meaningless, powerless, and useless.

Billy:

Idiotic – I mean with the daylight-savings time. If the people would think a little more logically and cleverly, then this daylight-savings time would not be necessary at all. The simplest thing would be to say that during the whole year, early morning work does not start at 7:00 AM but rather at 6:00 AM. Thus, no daylight-savings time would have to be introduced, so that in the evening, there could be one more hour of leisure time. In addition, throughout the whole year, the end of work in the evening would always be at 4:00 PM, which would give the people even other advantages. But for people to think so far and find reasonable solutions, that is asking too much. Yet I think that what you can do with your people on Erra, that should also be good and inexpensive for the Earth-humans. Just the fact that you do a lot of regular duty work on Erra between the sixth and eighth hour of the morning and after that, you can leave and do what you want, I have found that to be very fine and reasonable, and I just ask myself why this reasonable solution cannot be handled in such a wise on the Earth as well. ...

517. The Dead Sea is not really an ocean, but a salt lake without runoff with a lot of potash salt and bromine salt, whereby the total concentration is to be calculated with 33 percent, in the so-called Jordan Trench.

518. As you know, it is in Arabic language ...

Billy:

... called Al-Bahar al Maijit.

Quetzal:

519. That is what I was about to say.

520. The Hebrew name is Yam-Hammelah = Dead Sea, which however is also known to you.

521. The lake is 15 kilometres wide and 80 kilometres long and covers an area of 1,020 square kilometre.

522. Due to the peninsula Lisan as well as due to solid sediments of salt, the lake i.e. the Dead Sea is divided into a small basin in the south and a large basin in the north.

523. The Dead Sea is about 400 meters deep, and the bottom of the Dead Sea lies at the deepest point 829 meters below sea level, which is the deepest depression on Earth.

524. The origin of the Dead Sea can be traced back to a primeval earthquake, during which the salty and partly rocky earth was deeply torn open and formed a deep canyon, in which in the course of time many waters accumulated, especially through the very ancient Jordan, which flows into the salt lake in the north.

Dead Sea Scrolls / Essenes

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Dead_Sea_Scrolls

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Essenes>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_236

Billy:

... What is actually up with the Qumran Dead Sea Scrolls? Quetzal explained to me in 1985, just like Sfath shortly before his departure, that at the beginning of the year 1947, a nomadic shepherd had found ancient scrolls from the time before Jmmanuel's birth in a cave near the village or place of Khirbet Qumran by the Dead Sea. However, neither Quetzal nor Sfath told me more details about it. Can you tell me more about it? I read somewhere that the scrolls of Jmmanuel or so are ascribed

Ptaah:

277. The scrolls of Qumran at the Dead Sea do not represent the history and teaching of Jmmanuel but rather of a self-appointed, megalomaniacal, and self-glorifying Jewish scribe, referred to as Son of God and highest of all angels, by the name of Menahem.

278. He was a revolutionary who mixed the old teachings of the Bible with new ideas and with his own ideas and – in this context, in a self-proclaimed manner – called himself prophet and referred his followers, with regard to his person, to the testimony of the prophet Isaiah regarding the coming Messiah, whereby he saw himself as this Messiah.

279. As a result of his actions and his delusion, he was rejected by the Pharisaic scribes and was ultimately pursued and threatened with death.

280. Menahem, the self-proclaimed prophet, founded the Essene sect, which was also known at that time as the Qumran Sect.

281. He was their supreme leader and maintained that he was the Son of God, and he related Isaiah's statements – about the sufferings, the life, the crucifixion, and the alleged "resurrection from the dead," which was announced by former prophets in reference to Jmmanuel – to himself and disseminated this.

282. Then, he actually became ostracized and pursued, in order to be murdered, then, in Jerusalem by Roman soldiers, after which he was left lying in an alleyway for three days, before he was taken and buried by sect members.

283. He had assembled 160 disciples around himself, who then invented and spread the alleged story of the Resurrection and the Ascension after some time.

284. The false prophet, in an arrogant and megalomaniacal manner, called himself "The Beloved" and "The Companion of the King," and by this, he meant God-King.

285. Thus, in his delusion, he presumed himself as the chosen Messiah and saw himself seated on the "Throne in the Council of the Gods and Angels," so therefore, also seated in heaven at the right hand of God.

286. Unlike Jmmanuel, who never called himself Messiah, who also did not see himself as such and who forbade his disciples from ever calling him such, Menahem was eager to be regarded, respected, and revered as Messiah.

287. And when, in the future, it will be claimed by those who are ignorant that Jmmanuel had received the teachings of Menahem, which will happen in the foreseeable time, it will not only represent falsehood but also defamation and slander against Jmmanuel and the true teaching.

288. Jmmanuel did not receive or continue on a tiny piece of the self-styled sect leader, for the truth is that the prophet Menahem, out of his own grace and as a stroke of fate, encountered the secret, old-traditional teaching of the spirit, which was reported to him in an oral manner.

289. It was the true teaching, as taught by the ancient prophets, and then also taught by Jmmanuel, in the execution of his mission and also in detail to certain parts, according to the instructions of Gabriel and several others who were involved in the affair.

290. From this, it cannot and may not in any way be said in the coming time that Jmmanuel had used Menahem's teachings for his own purposes.

291. Such an assertion corresponds to a bad misrepresentation of the actual truth.

292. In the coming time, a large number of books will be written about the Qumran Scrolls, but these won't contain the facts, unfortunately, but rather untenable theories and assertions, etc. and, thus, not the truth and not the real connections, and these won't reveal the reality.

293. But back to the false prophet, Menahem:

294. He had succumbed to the delusion that he had reached a superhuman state, where he saw himself as immune to carnal desires and as standing over every possible capacity for physical suffering, and he also said this.

295. A nonsense that he also preached all around, not just within his sect.

296. In equal measure, he also presumed himself as the most glorious in magnificence person and, at the same time, the most despicable person on Earth, but only despicable in the eyes of his adversaries.

297. In his delusion, he also presumed himself as absolutely infallible and as elevated above the whole world, as this is found as a parallel with the Pope.

298. Furthermore, he was so blinded and arrogant in his delusion that he himself described his false teachings and speeches as absolutely incomparable.

299. In very great measure, he glorified himself and saw himself not only as Messiah and Prophet but also as God himself.

Billy:

So Jmmanuel had no connection at all with the Qumran Sect, respectively with the Qumran Essene Sect.

Ptaah:

300. That corresponds to what I explained.

Death Penalty

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Capital_punishment

see also Murder

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_031

Ptaah:

711. Elimination in a rational and truly humane form never means the infliction and execution of a death penalty, but a measure in the form of banishment for a fixed term or for life, depending on the gravity of the crime, and so on.

712. Elimination in the total sense of the word does not mean destruction, annihilation, killing, eradication, etc., as is unfortunately often understood by Earth-humans, because the value of the word, coming from the Latin language, means that something is put over a threshold or that something is removed.

713. It means that something is removed from a smaller or larger complex because it brings harm or because it is insufficient, faulty or superfluous, consequently it must be eliminated, sidelined or moved to another place, etc., so that it can be treated separately and, if possible, changed or transformed into what is correct.

714. Earth-humans also see it this manner, as can be seen from their dictionaries and language books, although in the end they still consider eliminating any human beings, which unfortunately extends in this respect to the death penalty and its application.

715. But that is not in the actual sense of the term value.

...

723. The laws of nature seem very harsh and inhuman to the still ignorant Earth human being.

724. But they are absolutely perfect and logical in their nature, and never need revision.

725. At the present time the human beings of Earth cry out for humanism, but they do not understand the meaning of their cry and of the word humanism.

726. He/she believes that if they create or preserve the punishment of death, they are thereby doing a good work and showing themselves as humane.

727. But this is by no means so, for by inflicting the penalty of actual total elimination they become indifferent-unhumane and commit a crime against the laws of the Creation, against themselves, against the guilty and against their whole environment, and this because they do not replace the penalty of death by banishment and do not grant the fallible the possibility of error recognition and its correction as well as of conscious evolution.

728. The death penalty of degenerate human life-forms on Earth is still often considered the only lawful manner to protect the healthy and good life-forms and to satisfy human laws.

729. But this is wrong and totally contrary to the law of Creation.

730. But whoever sees it differently is either religiously biased or otherwise misguided.

731. Earth-humans of the present time would very well be able to apply the natural laws of elimination in the form of an expedient and time-appropriate as well as evolution-promoting and error-inhibiting banishment for degenerated human life-forms in the form of humane humanity, if they finally became aware of their reason and intellect and were willing to think.

732. But bestiality still prevails in Earth-humans, and his/her humanism is only an evil false show.

733. Outwardly and in public he/she cries out for humanity, but in his/her innermost being they are still barbarous and very immature.

734. The Earth human being deceives himself/herself and cries out in offence for vindication when he/she is reproached for their merely feigned humanism, which they often display publicly through demonstrations.

735. This humanism, however, is nothing but a sham, a lie and a deception.

736. The Earth human being cries out indignantly when accused of this lie and deception of merely feigned humanism, for they don't want to acknowledge or see the truth.

737. He/she speaks of peace and love and doesn't know what it is all about, just as he/she doesn't know what humanism is all about.

738. He/she speaks great words and believes himself/herself justified by them, but they kill without hesitation when they believe themselves to be in danger, or they kill without hesitation on an order.

739. And once he/she has killed, all his/her good intentions quickly vanish and the slumbering bestiality within him/her breaks through with tremendous violence.

740. Earth-humans have experienced this again and again up to the present day, just think of the wars and revolutions of modern times.

741. Where can real humanism still be found?

742. Or does he/she perhaps think that terror and criminal acts of violence, bombings, religious wars such as in Ireland and Palestine, assassinations and many other horrible things are humane?

743. Or does he/she perhaps think of humanity when he/she goes out into the streets and demonstrates, even if this may be done 'peacefully' and without murder and manslaughter?

744. Nowhere is humanity to be found – also not in a peaceful demonstration.

745. Everything is only lies and deceit, malicious deception and self-importance with the sense of wanting to make oneself better than the human beings of the Earth really are.

746. But this is only because he/she has not yet perceived himself/herself and consequently still lies to himself/herself.

747. If he/she really wanted to practise self-knowledge and act in humanity, he/she would take hold of the spiritual teaching in order to finally find the truth and try to act accordingly.

748. The consequence of this would be that the peoples would depose their governments and replace them with spiritual leaders.

749. Through Earth-humans, then, who would know, rule and honour the truth and the natural and creational laws, whereby they would govern the Earth and all human beings unselfishly and in correct form.

750. But chaos still prevails on Earth and so also the punishment of total elimination of life.

751. I have already said that Earth-humans are already capable of correctly carrying out the punishment of the elimination of their time according to time-given and evolutionary banishment, if only they would become aware of reason and intellect.

752. Nature herself would give him/her a recognisable example to create the necessary laws and carry out their application.

753. On your Earth, too, there are various places where degenerate animals are forced into seclusion, into an isolation where they can no longer indulge in their degeneracy.

754. So where this is possible, nature acts accordingly in order not to have to kill.

755. Earth-humans are offered the same possibilities, even more so than is possible for nature, because the human beings' lack of understanding has restricted their freedom.

756. In your oceans you have large islands which you can usefully employ for the banishing elimination of degenerates.

757. Create certain zones from these islands and deport the degenerates there for a time or, if necessary, for the duration of their lives.

758. In this manner these elements will be eliminated from your ranks without you having to apply the penalty of death.

759. However, in doing so, separate female and male life-forms from each other on different islands, so that they cannot see each other during the rest of their lives and also cannot reproduce.

760. But give them all the necessary means to ensure the evolution of the spirit and consciousness.

761. However, secure everything to such an extent that never a human being thus eliminated can ever return to society unauthorised.

762. Also do not provide them with technical aids, but provides for them only in respect of health and food and the necessary means of spiritual and consciousness evolution.

763. On the whole, however, let them work for themselves on their islands, so that they have to earn their living by the work of their hands.

764. You should only give them the bare necessities, then you will do the correct thing.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_863

{Billy: (1949)}

In the Pentateuch and Exodus, too, the human-invented commandments can be found, but the best religious joke is made in the Bible with – Genesis 9, Luther Bible – "Whoever sheds the blood of man, his blood shall also be shed by man; for God made man in His image", for there the imaginary and alleged God immediately vehemently contradicts the "Thou shalt not kill", namely by shedding the blood of human beings vengefully and executing and killing the human being who himself has killed. This contradiction has spread all over the Earth since ancient times and gave birth to the death penalty, which has since been used in practically all countries of the Earth and is still practised today in various states in a fanatical-religious and vindictive manner, especially by religious believers and sect followers. Furthermore, the stupid and primitive claim of lies that God made human beings 'in his image' is so ridiculous as a justification that the blood of a human being must also be demanded if the human being in question has shed human blood. A death penalty cannot be justified in a more primitive and lowly intelligent manner than that an imaginary God created human beings in his image, and this is a reason for killing resp. murdering them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_866

Billy:

... the great mass of earthly humanity is so wickedly inclined in its deepest character that it is brutally uncontrolled in its self-preservation behaviour to kill immediately as soon as a situation arises that requires self-defence. In the majority of Earth-humans, the perception of responsibility for life and the development of their character is anchored in such a way that they immediately resort to violence and killing as soon as a situation of self-defence arises. As a rule, unfortunately, through the upbringing of the legal guardians and as a result of the lack of self-education, life-appropriate learning is not learned at all or only in a half-value way, or even less, as a result of which the character is not formed rightly. Thus all of the character's life-importance lies completely unworked, is given over to bad moods, uncontrolled and wrong thoughts, as well as the bad feelings that arise from them and the bad and evil emotions that also result from them, which in turn give rise to bad feelings. This also means that we do not learn to honour and protect foreign life in the correct way, but only our own, and that through thoughtless and conscienceless killing and murder. In doing so, however, many kinds of justifications and appearances come into play, but all of them are null and void, for there is never an acceptable reason for killing resp. murdering a human being. Thus, all killing-murdering methods fall away, be it the death penalty, killing and murdering in wars, killing and murdering in the heat of the moment, out of advantage, desire for wealth, jealousy, lust, fear or joy, as well as out of self-defence, revenge, retaliation or pity etc. etc.. But this is precisely what human beings do not learn through the education they receive or through their self-education, that they should never kill and murder under any circumstances, because everything and anything should always and normally be regulated in life-affirming logic, with a clear mind and the highest reason. But only a vanishingly small minority of the Earth's human beings do this, true human beings who really deserve this designation with regard to true human beinghood, as well as human beings who are consciously on the path to true human beinghood and seriously strive to become true human beings and not to kill and not to murder, but to protect life.

Just as what has been said so far applies to human beings, it also applies with regard to the behaviour of human beings towards animals, creatures, fish and living beings of all genera and species in general. Of course, these are and have been since time immemorial part of the food for human beings, but these 'meat suppliers' should be appreciated and treated accordingly and not desecrated and tortured, and this also when it becomes unavoidable that their lives are ended. The correct thing would be for the human beings of Earth to at last endeavour to feed themselves in an acceptable natural way, and if it must be meat, that it should be artificially and wholesomely produced, so that animals and creatures and other life-forms etc. need not be slaughtered.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_875

Billy:

... I also think that today, namely that the human being as such is vilified or otherwise maligned when he acts wrongly or wickedly, that is not correct. Either way, he/she is and remains a human being, and therefore he/she should also be treated as a human being, even if he/she commits a criminal offence and a punishment is imposed on him/her. However, this should always be such that it does not harm human beings as such and also not their body and organism, i.e. corporal punishment, torture or the death penalty should never be used. If this is done, then those who demand and carry out corporal punishment or torture are guilty in this respect, just as those who demand the death penalty are also guilty of murder, as are those who carry it out. Every human being's life should be absolutely inviolable – just like every life in general. Torture and the death penalty were invented in ancient times, contrary to all truth, through religious lies, as a result of revenge, greed and thirst for wealth, etc., created and mendaciously attributed to an imaginary god who allegedly demanded them. And this was fabricated in all religions and sects in the same manner and elevated to religious laws, which very quickly also found their way into purely secular laws and became the unquestioning imposition and exercise of the death penalty. And this is still practised criminally today against all laws of life in various states, both religious and secular, in Christian states as well as in Islamic states and countries of other faiths. ...

Billy:

... The human being, whatever he might do and whatever his disposition and actions are evil and wrong, is and remains a human being who is also to be seen, treated and never condemned in this way. Therefore, if he has committed them, he should be punished for evil and wrong deeds, and also for torture, abuse and even murder, but never by the death penalty, as you Mrs ... think would be correct. Such things are not provided for by life itself and are wrong and only devised by human beings, but never commanded or counselled by an imaginary God. ...

5. But, as usual on this world, they got in each others' hair and annihilated themselves.

6. They invented atom bombs and exploded them in a blitzkrieg.

...

9. Even today, after many, many millennia, you still name many regions of this continent the same as they were named in much earlier times.

10. These designations were handed down up to the current time, if also often in strongly altered form.

11. But they still exist as testimony to that unreasonable and barbaric time.

12. Those who wish to see hard evidence can find it at any time and view it and think about it.

13. There are sites of former cities which stood there many, many thousands of years ago and have been melted by atomic hells into glass-like masses.

14. The best preserved testimonies have become curiosities in your time because the Earth human does not know their genesis.

15. But very well known in this regard are names like "Death Valley", which, however, also still has a relationship to other events in the present day.

16. The "Valley of Fire" near the city of Las Vegas is another witness to the past and the timeless, atomic insanity of humans who populated the Earth again and again.

40. We call it the "Destroyer", and we know that it has already been racing through outer space for millions of years.
41. According to your calculation of time, this dangerous comet has an orbital period of 575½ years and in the year 2255 of your calculation of time it will again enter the realm of the Earth in a very dangerous way, unless its orbit is changed or even destroyed by some cosmic circumstances or by our planned efforts.
42. The last passage of this comet took place 295 years ago (calculated from 1975), namely in the year 1680.
43. 10,079 years ago, this giant comet, which had originated from a natural cosmic catastrophe, got very close to the realm of the Earth and almost destroyed it.
44. Only the knowledge and ability of our ancestors, who had settled on the Earth and had begotten their descendants here, prevented the terrible end.
45. Also in the following millennia the giant comet has always been a great threat to the Earth – and it will remain so too until one day it will be destroyed or diverted away.
46. The last major catastrophe that emanated from this comet was about 3,500 years ago, as I have already mentioned.
47. To be precise, it was 3,453 years ago according to your calculation of time.
48. Due to this comet, an event took place, which is very rare in the universe, namely a planetary transplantation:
49. By the monstrous Gewalt of this giant comet, a planet, just developing life in a very distant planet system of the SOL system, was flung out of its orbit and driven out into the outer space, in a trajectory parallel to that of the destructive giant comet.
50. For more than 130 years this planet then trailed far behind the giant and deviated only infinitely slowly from its path.
51. Then, 3,453 years ago, the Destroyer penetrated the terrestrial solar system and brought the planetary orbits into disorder by its gigantic forces.
52. Passing close to Earth, it enshrouded latter in its huge tail and shook it very hard.
53. Immense storms and volcanic eruptions were the result.
54. Human beings and animals died in large masses, mountains were shifted and the ocean depths changed.
55. In the Mediterranean Sea, the magma walls of the Santorini volcano were torn to pieces deep down, and large quantities of water penetrated.
56. This caused an immense catastrophe since the volcano exploded thereby and destroyed the island.
57. The explosion created a gigantic storm surge, which grew nearly 200 metres high into the sky and swept over the sea like a primeval monster.
58. Everything in it was killed and crushed, and the water turned blood red.
59. In Egypt, this storm surge flooded vast areas and caused all sorts of epidemics, while the tidal wave receded and continued racing northeast across the sea, to destroy vast areas and all port cities on the eastern shore of the sea, in present-day Syria.
60. The comet, however, shot through the terrestrial solar system and raced around the Sun again off into the outer space to return in 575 ½ years.
61. But the slower following planet, carried along in its wake, which was about the same size as the Earth, shot past the Earth at a distance of about 600,000 kilometres and was captured by the attraction force of the Sun.
62. By its tremendous power, it forced the new planet into an orbit between its closest satellites, namely between Mercury and the Earth.

63. And since then, this "transplanted" and "immigrated" planet has been known to the Earth-humans, and s/he calls it "Venus."

...

64. Sure, but I am not finished yet, because I want to tell you even more primordial things now; the prehistory of this comet so fateful for the Earth, which also brought the satellite, the Moon over here – the fragment of a small planet from a very distant solar system.

65. The Earth's moon, which originates from a small planet 4.5 million years older than the Earth.

66. It was millions of years ago.

67. Deep in the unknown space, in a space-time shifted solar system of the Milky Way, a solitary star floated far away from the normal orbits of the satellites orbiting the Sun.

68. It was a dark star, devoid of any life, very dangerous in its unpredictable path, into which it had been flung by an immense eruption of its original sun.

69. This was when its original sun burst through all-shaking explosions and, in its destruction, partially destroyed the satellites orbiting it or hurled them as dangerous projectiles into the dark space.

70. The sun itself then collapsed into itself and tore a hole in the outer space.

71. Its material pressed itself together with monstrous Gewalt and was compressed into a small mass.

72. While the sun in its normal pulsating state had a diameter of eleven million kilometres, it now shrank down to a concentration of only 4.2 kilometres.

73. As a result, the material was compressed in such a way that a single cubic centimetre weighed several thousand tons.

74. Since then it has hovered in space as a dark, gaping hollow, which tears everything within millions of kilometres of its perimeter into itself, whatever it is capable of seizing and what falls under its spell.

75. The dark star, which got flung away by it at that time, got caught again in a neighbouring solar system and orbited it in an unpredictable path.

76. In the field of the force of the huge sun, it orbited the sun's satellites for many millennia as well as the sun itself, testifying to the fact that it would sometime cause a catastrophe to fall upon the system.

77. Yet still far away from the actual worlds, the dark planet, bare of any life, roamed through space.

78. Powerfully and unapproachably, it drifted through the icy cold of the universe – as an outcast, as a wandering planet, as a stranger in a foreign system; dark, dangerous, and deadly.

79. Within the hold of the far outstretched force-arms of the sun, it came closer and closer over the course of thousands of years to the actual area of the system of satellites, which it had already been orbiting for such a long time at an ever-increasing speed.

80. Imperceptibly, however, its course always became narrower and narrower, and year by year the extent of its danger grew.

81. After the thousands of years, it then rushed suddenly and unexpectedly into the closest sphere of influence of the sun and its planets.

82. Like a greedy monster, it emerged from the blackness of the universe and announced deadly destruction.

83. Initially it was only like a silhouette out of nowhere; but then it was recognised in a hazy and blurred way as a half-dark round disc.

84. Now already illuminated by the reflecting rays of the sun, it approached the orbit of the outermost planet at tremendous speed.

85. But it was still millions of units away from the actual hearth of the peaceful calm, which though, due to its gigantic size, it soon had to transform into a seething hell, once it penetrated into the silence of this harmony.

86. But still some time went by at first, until the giant finally strayed from his path and had moved into the most dangerous proximity.

87. Now already recognisable as a round sphere, the Destroyer reflected the sunlight while dragging a fine veil of luminous particles behind it.

88. Still only a few hundred units away from the next worlds, it evoked hellish storms in these, which destroyed large areas that had been cultivated by the human beings peacefully emerging there.

89. With trembling for their arduously gained goods and their already hard lives, they suddenly found themselves exposed to the immense and uncompassionate forces of the universe.

90. Helpless, doomed to be handed over from life to death, they stared out into the sky, to the gigantic wandering planet which raced towards them as a cosmic mortal projectile.

91. It was no more than a question of time before the forces of the cosmos had to unfold their monstrous powers.

92. On the night of the third day after the incursion of the Destroyer into the planetary pathways, the middle of the night may just have passed, the drifter from outer space entered the elliptical orbit of the sixth planet.

93. Causing immense cosmic storms, it flung the planet belonging to the orbit a few units off its direction and brought it on a dangerous course towards the sun.

94. Monstrous eruptions and storms tore apart the peaceful appearance of the planet thriving in its magnificence.

95. Letting mountains collapse and casting seas out of their beds, it sought a new path around its sun for itself.

96. Full of horror and consternation over the immense forces of nature, the human beings fled into the vast plains that covered the planet in great numbers.

97. But the unleashed forces of nature were stronger than the will and the saving idea of the human beings.

98. Two thirds of the humankind that inhabited the planet was killed and destroyed in the unleashed hell of nature.

99. Wild waters tore away large parts of the mainland, while exploding volcanoes buried vast areas beneath glowing lava and turned them to rubble and ashes.

100. The planet's daily rotation time doubled, and it circumnavigated the sun in the opposite direction.

101. Forced by cosmic determinations, the survivors had to find a new beginning – devoid of any culture – set back to a primordial time of the development.

102. The Destroyer, however, continued racing through the system, spreading hell, death and destruction.

103. It crossed the path of the fifth planet; a world that was about to give birth to first life.

104. Fortunately, at the time of the event, the latter was too far away from the point of crossing its orbital path to be seriously affected.

105. Apart from mighty storms and minor quakes on land and at sea, there were no notable incidents on it.

106. The fourth satellite of the system, however, would find its destruction in the battle of the worlds.

107. As the smallest of all satellites, it stoically traversed its orbit, and from the perspective of anticipatory calculations, it had to cross the flight path of the wanderer exactly when facing it head-on.

108. And that's exactly what happened:

109. It got into the irresistible destructive power of the giant.

110. Like two wild monsters, the two planets raced towards each other; a giant and a dwarf.

111. But before both of them could collide, immense explosions tore the lifeless dead dwarf planet apart.

...

127. In the distant solar system, however, the Destroyer continued to rage.

128. Destroying everything in its path, it flung the planet closest to the sun with unimaginable force towards the sun, in front of which it destroyed itself at a millionfold distance by immense eruptions and fell into the sun as smallest fragments and atomised.

129. The Destroyer itself drifted by a few units from its old course and shot past the sun in dangerous proximity, back into the expanses of the space, in order to take the same path as long times before the small planet did, consequently it also passed the dimension gate created by technically highly advanced human beings' hands and came into the space-time configuration of our DERN universe and into the area of the Milky Way and thus also into the SOL-system.

130. But due to the unimaginable heat of the blazing sun the surface of the dangerous wanderer liquefied, and the glowing substances and particles flung away by its racing speed created behind it a shining tail hundreds of thousands of units long, shining as bright as the destroyer planet itself, which had now become deadly comet.

131. Due to the zero cold of the universe, the surface of the wanderer quickly solidified again.

132. But its illuminating power remained with it, as did the shining tail.

133. Myriads and myriads upon myriads of smallest particles and substances have covered it ever since, inundating it and following it as long tail when it comes into the realm of a sun; shining and showing the beings of the universe the path of the comet.

134. Due to the continuous sequence of meteor dust, particles, substances and the corpuscular radiation of the suns, it will never lose its illuminating power again until one day it will fall victim to its destruction.

135. It will still wander through space for thousands or further millions of years before it itself has turned into dust by the grinding particles or is captured and destroyed by a sun.

...

137. Millions of years have already elapsed since its emerging, and its course is still unpredictable.

138. Due to all sorts of cosmic forces, it often changes its course in the SOL-system quite unexpectedly and endangers, among others, its unfinished solar systems of Jupiter and Saturn.

139. But by and large, its dangerous path is that stable that it passes through the same planetary systems again and again over the course of 575½ years, albeit with variations in the distance of up to one million kilometres.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_029

Semjase:

74. Millions of years ago a giant dark star in another space-time configuration destroyed half a planetary system in many light-years distance from the earthly system.

75. After the destruction of that distant system, the wanderer rushed out into the vastness of space, entered the space-time structure of the Milky Way of the DERN universe, and set course for Earth.

76. By large and small planets and by the Sun it was forced into a new course, which consequently had to bring it again and again into the SOL system.

77. Known as the Destroyer, it stubbornly followed its new course and over the course of millions of years created a firm path for itself.

78. But this orbit often led the Destroyer uncontrollably to planetary systems or other wandering stars or comets, which were pushed off course by its gigantic size or attracted by its attraction and destroyed or abducted.

79. This also happened only a few thousand years ago when this gigantic Destroyer tore an object into its tow and brought it many millions of kilometres outside of the Earth's range, to the earthly planetary system.

80. The destroyer itself passed very far out of Earth's range, while the object in tow, however, came dangerously close to Earth and caused devastating disasters.

81. The whole solar system got into disorder at that time, and all planets were pushed into new orbits.

82. But the harmony destroying object was forced into an orbit between Earth and Mercury by the gravity of the large planets and the Sun and was unable to leave the system.

83. And as the brightest planet of the SOL-system, the dragged object orbits the Sun since then and is called Venus by the Earth-humans.

Billy:

... Can you give me more detailed data on the Destroyer and Venus? I mean, can you tell me its orbit time and its context? And can you tell me which system was Venus torn away from? You once said that the Destroyer practically stole this planet from a distant system. And what about the distant systems that the Destroyer goes through again and again?

Semjase:

49. I can give you very precise details about that, but we are occupied with a puzzle.

50. It is still an unsolved mystery to us, how some concerns relate to the Destroyer, especially the recurring constant speed of this giant comet.

51. Its orbit time always returns to a constant of 575.5 years, although it has large intermediate fluctuations of up to 205 years, which means that during a few orbits it drops down to 478 years due to the mutual gravitational pull of different planets and the sun and it rises up to 683 years due to the reciprocal mass attraction of the sun, and after a few orbits it returns to its constant orbit time of 575.5 years, which is very puzzling to us and finds no parallels known to us.

52. Our scientists have calculated that this phenomenon occurs at extremely irregular intervals and that the Destroyer, as soon as it has reached its 575.5-year orbital period again, comes again and again into very dangerous proximity to the Earth and mostly causes enormous destruction.

53. According to our scientific research, the escape velocity of the SOL-system plays a crucial role in this peculiar phenomenon, which moves at enormous speed towards the Hercules constellation.

54. However, this is not the only factor, because further calculations and research show that the planetary systems of the SOL-system are also decisively involved in this peculiar orbital period of the Destroyer, which becomes constant again and again, because, as I explained to you earlier, the giant passes through the same systems again and again.

...

55. Venus was torn out of Uranus' system by the gravitational-pull effect of the Destroyer and by various other factors and drifted on the Destroyer's trajectory, in its wake, so to speak, apart from the fact that the comet giant was much faster and left its appendage far behind.

...

57. This happened about 8,590 years ago from the present time, i.e. during a Destroyer passage through the SOL-system, before it had reached the constant of 575.5 years again.

58. In this run, the orbit of the comet was 632 years, 57 years above the constant of 575.5 years, which is so puzzling to us.

...

60. This orbit paused Venus until 7,957 years ago, thus over 632 years [cycle duration], when the Destroyer came again and changed its orbit again and brought it on course towards Earth, while the giant itself came into dangerous proximity to the Earth and caused violent destruction and flooding.

61. This was the second deluge of the last 12,000 years caused by the Destroyer.

62. Through these events, the Destroyer once again changed its orbiting time and went through the SOL-system on the next run, without causing any damage, passing very far away from the Earth.

63. Already at the next passage, however, it had the constant of 575.5 years again, namely 6,906 years ago, and again Venus got into its orbit and changed its course again, but now so much that it got into orbit near the Earth and around the central star.

64. It stayed there until 4,058 years ago, when it was affected in its orbit again during the next passage of the giant comet.

65. At that time, the Destroyer had an orbital period of 605 years.

...

68. But then, 3,453 years ago, the Destroyer, which had regained the 575.5-year constant, came back, shot past the planet that was constantly thrown out of orbit at a distance of a few hundred thousand kilometres and finally tore it into its orbit, which Venus now inevitably and finally had to bring to Earth.

69. After a short time, the Destroyer shot past the Earth, in its wake Venus, which came very close to the Earth and caused the Santorini catastrophe.

70. Since then, the Destroyer has again had a very different cycle time over several rounds and has no longer affected the SOL-system if minor irregularities are ignored.

71. So it was not until 1680 that it reached the constant of 575.5 years again, when it passed through the SOL-system again, but this time in an almost peaceful ride and without causing any changes.

72. Therefore, its next run will again be 575.5 years, if it reappears in 2255.

73. What is also important and very interesting to mention is the fact that in the case of this gigantic comet, the inexplicable phenomena of the balancing constant of 575.5 years, which appears again and again, is joined by a second and equally inexplicable phenomenon, namely that the orbital period of the destroyer always and without exception balances out in such a way that two orbits always result in 1,151 years, i.e. 575.5 years in duplicate.

74. For example, if the cycle time is 478 years for one round, then the cycle time for the next round is 673 years with complete certainty.

75. At least that is what the average calculations say.

76. In any case, it is the case that, even if longer non-constant circulations come to light, the years phenomenally always and without exception balance each other out again.

77. It is a phenomenon that is known to our science as unique and actually finds no parallels at all.

...

Billy:

... But one more question concerning the Destroyer: Does it penetrate our planetary systems or even our solar system at all during every passage?

Semjase:

100. Of course, this is always the case, but sometimes it passes the SOL so far away that it is hardly visible.

Billy:

Oh, and has that also happened here and there in the last 12,000 years?

Semjase:

101. Absolutely.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_150

Billy:

... Years ago I spoke to Semjase several times about the Destroyer, which must be a gigantic comet. Semjase gave me a lot of information about this wanderer, but she was not quite sure about the exact dates of the real times of the orbit and the years of appearance, etc. She told me back then that she was not sure about the exact dates. She told me at the time that she was not very well oriented about everything and that it was therefore very possible that she might have made mistakes in her information.

Quetzal:

454. That is of correctness, because these matters are not her field and she has never dealt with them in-depth.

455. She took up this information only in passing, which she then passed along to you in a friendly manner, but unfortunately, she somewhat intermingled some data of importance, particularly in issues of time, whereby she somewhat confusingly intertwined different time calculations into one another.

456. It is to be noted that four different and thoroughly divergent calculations of time appear, which Semjase probably mentioned in her explanations to you, but did not explain in detail, which would have been necessary for a full understanding of the issues.

457. Correctly you should have turned to me for precise information on this matter, because the concerns about comets and similar phenomena fall within my learned field of work.

458. But now, this should not mean that you have been misinformed by Semjase because that is not the case.

459. Her statements reflect the given facts, but these were mixed with each other due to inexact knowledge.

Billy:

That is reassuring, but can you at least give me the exact details now?

Quetzal:

460. Our subject of conversation is of something quite different, but if it is so important for you, then I will gladly be ready to give you the exact dates.

461. It is necessary, however, that I go back very far and also put the times into a uniform calculation, that is, into the calculation of time which is usual on the Earth.

462. However, it must be explained at the outset that the present earthly calculation of time does not correspond to the truthful calculation of time, because at the beginning of this new time human beings made various transgressions of time which were never recorded.

463. As is known to you, the new calendar is calculated after Jmmanuel, although, this calendar already differs by six (6) years, in the form that six years too few have been calculated.

464. This is, by the way, a fact that is even known to those responsible for terrestrial time calculation, who know exactly, that according to the year 1981, that must already become calculated with the year 1987.

465. Apart from this six-year break in time, however, another one comes to light, namely one of 40 years and four months, which also has to be set before the new calendar.

466. Thus, between the time before Jmmanuel, which is called 'before Christ' on Earth, and between the time 'after Christ', 46 years and four months are missing, which are not taken into account in the new calendar.

467. These 46 years and 4 months were simply misappropriated by various changes of power at that time, whereby also the data concerning the rulers and their lives and reigns were changed and falsified by those who had to carry out chronistic work and record keeping.

468. In many cases, such sources of error only appeared because the records were only made many years after an event, whereby miscalculations were bound to occur.

469. But through these false calculations, errors embedded themselves into the calendar, which do not want to be vouched for by the Earth-humans and do not want to be repaired.

470. But if we want to give the exact dates of the Destroyer, then we have to take into account these time misinterpretations and, in addition, start from the present time, whereby we then have to place the missing 46.4 years, which were suppressed by the chroniclers, between the post-Christian and the pre-Christian times, in such a wise that they practically appear as an extraordinary and forgotten time between the old and the new calendar, whereby we can then actually begin with the new calendar at the year one (1) Jmmanuel, alias post-Christ.

471. Thereby it is still to be noted by you, as I must explain, that all now following data are calculated according to usual earthly pre- and post-Jmmanuel time reckoning.

Billy:

Good, then go right ahead, and best of all, starting from where the Destroyer originally came from. Concerning this, unfortunately, ambiguities also still exist.

Quetzal:

472. The original point of origin of the Destroyer is unknown to us, which is why I can only give details on where it found its way into the SOL-system.

473. Its origin lies in the old Lyra System where, from time immemorial, the dark planet—called 'Wanderer' at that time wreaked system-wide destruction and had brought the earthly Moon on that course which led it to the SOL-system and to the Earth.

474. A fact that may seem incredible, fantastic and an unusual coincidence to many Earth scientists, but which nevertheless corresponds to the truth.

475. The Earth's moon was torn loose by the Destroyer many millions of years ago as a fragment of a planet four million years older than Earth is, and thrown out into space, heading for the SOL-system, where it was then captured by the Earth as a satellite.

476. Meanwhile, the Destroyer, after colliding with the planet, followed the path of the planetary fragment much more slowly.

477. This, for reasons unknown to us and as a result of events, we have never been able to clarify.

478. In this connection, we can therefore only employ speculations with regard to similar events that are well-known to us, but which do not satisfy us regarding the Destroyer and its course to the SOL-system behind the planetary fragment, which is why I would not like to explain our relevant thesis more closely, although for us it seems to be the only possibility why the Destroyer also found its way to the SOL-system, so it cannot be spoken of as a coincidence anymore.

479. The moon, the former planetary fragment, already joined the Earth as a satellite a few million years ago, while the much slower Destroyer that followed it first entered the SOL-system about 970,000 years ago, causing a tremendous Earth catastrophe.

480. A large part of the Earth-humans at that time, however, found protection and survival because they had been warned by our ancestors regarding the coming of the Destroyer and the impending disasters, consequently, they built themselves structures like the Pyramids and also other shelters.

481. After this umpteenth appearance of the Destroyer, it entered an orbit about 75,000 years ago that carried it back to the SOL-system regularly every 714 years.

482. Around 87 times it passed through the SOL-system on its orbit, before it changed its orbit and orbital period for the first time in 12,943.5 B.C. due to circumstances unknown to us, namely to a constant of 575.5 years.

483. This took place by means of circumstances very strange and incomprehensible to us, whereby the first and second course and orbital period change did not fall on 575.5 years, but on 533 and 618 years.

484. Burdened with a phenomenon inexplicable to us until a few months ago, the Destroyer had a constant orbital period of 575.5 years, which, however, it reached only every third time, with one major exception.

485. In between, there arose, and still are, regular variations of large orbital periods of years, with the lowest orbital period being 412 years and the highest orbital period over 670 years.

486. Here, look, these are the exact dates of the years of appearance of the Destroyer in the SOL-system as well as its respective exact orbital period, in addition to various data that give you other values, such as disturbances of the Earth by the Destroyer and by Venus, which was torn out of the solar system of Uranus by the Destroyer and brought onto Earth's course. 487. But there are also other important dates from these records, as you can see here. 488. So if you start here, you have the year 14,812 B.C., a time when the Destroyer still had a fixed constant orbital period of 714 years.

Destroyer flies on collision course with Jupiter and disrupts its rotation, passing so close to the outer layers that a violent storm is created within, rotating and reaching into the innermost layers. Jupiter's mass tears at the Destroyer's matter and gathers a particle and moon ring around it that will continue for millions of years, along with the original particle and moon ring system that has already existed for about four billion (4,000,000,000) years, into which the new ring will be integrated. The gigantic whirlwind on the giant planet, already developed in primaeval times, has nothing to do with the Destroyer. – At the same time as the Destroyer passes through the Jupiter system, it tears an old small moon of about four kilometres in diameter out of its orbit, which flies out at tremendous speed on an unknown path into the SOL-system space, accompanied by some smaller asteroids. First, this moon loses itself in a very wide orbit, after which it reappears after a long time and moves through the SOL-system – again and again, until one day it will be recaptured by Jupiter and will almost certainly crash down on it, which according to our calculations will be close to the time of the turn of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries AD. Conversation between Ptaah and Billy:

Billy: ... But now to another question: In the 150th contact report of Saturday 10th October 1981, 3:15 hrs, Quetzal spoke of a small moon of about four kilometres in diameter having been torn loose from Jupiter by the Destroyer in 13,384 B.C. and set in motion, which was also followed by several smaller asteroids. The talk was then that this small moon would one day return to its place of origin, namely Jupiter, and then crash down on it. Now the following: Earthly scientists have discovered that a small planetoid about four kilometres in diameter is currently approaching Jupiter on a collision course, accompanied by several asteroids following it. According to scientific calculations, this small planetoid, called Shoemaker-Levy 9, should crash into Jupiter in mid-1994, just beyond the horizon visible from Earth. Now is this small planetoid the small moon mentioned by Quetzal, which set sail from Jupiter in 13,384 B.C. and which is now 'celebrating' its return to its place of origin, or is it another space projectile?

Ptaah: It is indeed the small moon mentioned by Quetzal, which will almost certainly return to Jupiter's gravitational pull).

Conversation between Ptaah and Billy:

Billy: ... Now I have something again concerning the Bible, namely concerning the so-called Noah's Ark, which was indeed once built, but at a completely different time than this is claimed in the Bible. The biblical Flood also did not take place at that time, as the Bible claims, but in 4613 B.C. caused by the Destroyer. ... The biblical Flood is, therefore, true, even if it has been transferred to another time by the chroniclers etc., as is also the case with the construction and events surrounding Noah's Ark. This was actually built, but about 98,400 years earlier and thus calculated back from today about 100,000 years ago. Is that correct?

Ptaah: That is correct, but from which source does your knowledge come?

Billy: Of course from Quetzal. I was with him several times on Mount Ararat in eastern Turkey or on the Russian-Turkish-Iranian border, precisely because I was interested in the history of the Ark. Quetzal explained these things to me. According to this, the ark did not land on the summit of the 5,165-metre-high Ararat about 100,000 years ago, but about 30 kilometres away and not at the height of the summit. The measure of the ark given in the Bible are also roughly correct. Many animals and only a few human beings had actually survived an earlier flood, which, like the biblical Flood, had been caused by a polar collapse.

Ptaah: That is not correct, because it was a giant tidal wave caused by a large comet that nearly collided with the Earth and caused tremendous disasters, including the gigantic tidal wave that lifted the Ark up Mount Ararat.

Billy: Excuse me, I must be confusing two events.

Ptaah: That will be so.

Billy: Thank you for your correction. Well – Noah was not alive at the time of the Ark event, nor was his family. Nevertheless, amazingly, the event took place approximately as reported in the Bible, except that the builder was a man named Noahkadnosser and he had contacts with an extraterrestrial named Zebalon, who explained to him the approaching danger from the comet and advised him to build the ark, which he then also did in community work with his family and thus survived the mighty Flood – together with his relatives and with many domestic and land animals. These real occurrences have been passed down orally ever since for some 98,000 years, with the name Noahkadnosser gradually being changed and forgotten, eventually ending up in the name Noah, while the extraterrestrial with whom Noahkadosser was in contact was renamed and elevated to a god. After the biblical Flood, the actual Bible-Arche-Noah story was then created out of it, whereby the real origin of the events was finally lost.

Ptaah: This is also how it is recorded in our chronicles regarding important events on Earth. So your explanation is correct.)

A bright wandering planet 1.4 times the size of the Earth's moon breaks into the SOL-system. Of unknown origin, it comes in from space and breaks into the orbit of Venus, in order to disturb its course. It then passes dangerously close to the Earth and disturbs its orbit and balance, whereby the Earth, in the course of about 158 years, is disturbed by the wanderer that returns several times, and the Earth is even reversed in its rotation, accompanied by apocalyptic disasters, by which the cardinal directions and the annual revolution of the Earth around the Sun are changed in such a manner that the orbital period drops up to 284 days. Worldwide fires, earthquakes, floods, and volcanic eruptions are the consequences and leave their marks on the Earth. Continental parts and islands sink into the seas, while new portions of land are pushed upward.

{The following discussion sentences related to the previous entry are from Contact Report 155}

Billy:

Possibly, but tell me how the people behaved back then, when all this happened. I see here that your records still mention that this wandering planet remained in the SOL-system for a total of 758 years before it disappeared again.

Quetzal:

68. That is of correctness; this wanderer moved in a staggering course around the Sun for 758 years, and it repeatedly brought the Earth, Venus, and Mars into distress and hardship, and especially the inhabited Earth was endangered very much and was covered with catastrophes.

69. The human beings of the Earth still worsened the catastrophes by causing whole empires to fall through wars, destruction, murder, and plundering, when certain countries had not been very badly affected by the catastrophes.

70. And this entire catastrophe and insanity process lasted for a long 758 years, namely up to the year 753 B.C.

71. But all that was not enough, for after the year 1151 B.C., the Destroyer, with its next return, also brought new terrors and fears for the human beings of the Earth, but which you already mentioned in your records.

72. For eleven days, the Earth drifted in the tail of the Destroyer, causing smaller disasters in this passageway.

Not only do many human beings die as a result, but also countless animals whose carcasses decompose after the flood rolls back, causing much evil. This event triggers the 'seven biblical plagues' (Moses time/Moses), whereby the waters of the Nile also turn red through the blood of the countless life-forms killed and their torn and battered bodies. The flood that rolls back again pushes back across the Mediterranean and forward to the northeast, where it then floods Syria and causes tremendous terror and devastation.

Billy:

... You have always talked about a gigantic comet in terms of the Destroyer, so I would be interested to know what the actual dimensions of this guy are.

Quetzal:

537. Its volumetric mass corresponds to 1.72 times that of the planet Earth, but its specific gravity is different from the average mass of the Earth.

538. The total mass of the Destroyer matter is much more compressed than that of the Earth.

539. If the Earth has a volume of approx. 1083.3 billion cubic metres, with an average density of 5.516 grams per cubic centimetre, then in comparison the Destroyer is a giant, with a volume of 1694.2 billion cubic metres, with an average density of 7.18 grams per cubic centimetre, if I may give you these data according to earthly understanding.

Billy:

Interesting – and does the Destroyer also have a self-rotation like, for example, the Earth?

Quetzal:

540. That is of correctness, but it is less than the Earth, which has about 465 metres per second at the equator.

541. The Destroyer's own rotation is only 314.7 metres per second on the respective line.

Billy:

So only about $\frac{3}{4}$ of the Earth's rotational speed.

Quetzal:

542. That is of correctness.

543. However, this speed has been increased for some time, through our efforts, because we are striving to divert this wandering star from its orbit in order to guide it to areas far away from the SOL-system, where it can no longer do any damage.

Billy:

Gigantic, then Earth-humans would also no longer have to fear that it will threaten Earth again – if you succeed in the endeavour.

Quetzal:

544. That is of correctness, and we are quite confident.

Billy:

But one question about this: why are you allowed to interfere with the Destroyer when, on the other hand, you are not allowed to do anything about other impending dangers, such as the expected 'Red Meteor'?

Quetzal:

545. The Destroyer was partially interfered with in its natural orbit by very early ancestors of ours, vindictively, causing damage to the SOL-system that is not of natural cosmic origin.

Billy:

But you did not say anything about that in all your explanations – Semjase did not talk about it either.

Quetzal:

546. We do not know the exact circumstances of that time, which is why we cannot give any further details or explanations about that.

71. The thesis that Satan-like forces and forms of life are at play, actually only arises from religious fanatics who seek in all inexplicable events, Satanic powers, in order to make a secret or an event explainable to themselves.

72. Firstly, Satan is only an imaginary product of your Christian religion, and secondly, this imaginary figure embodies neither darkness nor blackness, as is claimed, but light and the power of the radiation of truth.

Arahat Athersata, 2019 FIGU-Landesgruppe Canada, pages 243-246

Billy:

159. As rather clever and resourceful leaders, they formed formulas, laws, recommendations and prohibitions from this and attributed them to the gods.

160. And already the religion was born.

161. This in turn gave rise to a single God who was made responsible for all Creation and all happenings - and who should embody the love and salvation.

162. The only thing still missing was therefore the embodying and naming of the evil.

163. For this, a few resourceful heads seized on the history of the old Celts, who in ancient times worshipped a superhuman, one of those called god, as the God of the Hunt, because he used his tremendous consciousness-powers for the benefit of the people for hunting.

164. Ancient traditions, etc. demonstrate that this god, who had two horn-like outgrowths on his skull, had been called Teubel.

165. After his death, his position was further personified by a Celt who, in a change of name, was named Teibel and who, as a symbolisation of the one called god, carried an animal skull on his head, thus imitating the superhuman with his horn outgrowths.

166. In the course of the hundreds and thousands of years the name Teubel changed innumerable times until the name Teufel arose from it. [Teufel is the German word for devil.]

167. A name that was taken up by the still young religions and, in memory of the horned one who was called god, was introduced as an evil counterpart to the un-horned god of the alleged goodness and love as a second god.

168. Good and evil were thus created - heaven and hell.

Billy:

About 65 million years ago, the great catastrophe, in which dinosaurs and many other large animals were exterminated, was an approximately 11,000-metre-large world space projectile that hit the Earth. Is it really true that only this meteor was to blame for everything?

Quetzal:

82. Basically yes, at least in the origin, because from this there were other bad consequences, which led to the final catastrophe.

83. Due to the tremendous impact, enormous vibrations were caused on the whole planet, which were triggered by a chain reaction of worldwide earthquakes, as a result of which 314 large volcanoes erupted almost simultaneously within a few hours, followed by 608 further heavy eruptions in a few days.

84. The meteor and the volcanic eruptions spewed so much dust, ash and steam as well as poisonous gases and other substances into the atmosphere that most of the larger life on Earth suffocated or perished, whereby the solar radiation did not penetrate to the earth's surface.

85. These are other things that we have researched by looking back.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Ptaah:

298. If I have to answer your question about the dinosaur death, I must point out that this question was already answered about 15 years ago by my daughter Semjase, who explained to you that 50% of all terrestrial life-forms died out due to a worldwide climate change, which brought with it a tremendous cold.

299. In addition to dinosaurs, climate change has also exterminated many other animal species, and of course countless species of flora.

300. The reason for the worldwide climate change was found at that time in two enormous natural events, so on the one hand in the fact that several gigantic meteorites crashed on the Earth, which had wandered for many millennia far away from the asteroid track of the asteroid belt through the space, whereby they more and more distanced themselves from the actual asteroid belt and finally found the track to Earth and plunged this by their impact into a gigantic catastrophe and climate change.

301. The Earth was shaken to its foundations by the tremendous impact, which revealed the second natural event, the fact that in many places the Earth and the seabed were torn open and the magma bubbling inside the Earth opened the way to the surface.

302. New volcanoes erupted from the Earth and from the waters, while old volcanoes began to live again, not to mention active fire mountains that suddenly spew out their lava in wild force.

303. It seemed as if the Earth was going down, as if around the world hundreds of volcanoes with unprecedented force spit their glowing Earth and rock masses and smoke, sulphur vapours and ash high into the sky, whereby within a few weeks the firmament darkened and became one with the gigantic dust cloud, which had developed by the meteorite impact and which had already darkened to large parts the sun.

304. By the many hundreds of volcanoes and Earth chimneys raging with primeval force and by the dirt, soot and dust particles hurled out, a world-encompassing, dense and opaque veil developed, which suffocated and destroyed 50% of all life among itself.

Billy:

And when was that about?

Ptaah:

305. It took place roughly at the turn of the Cretaceous-Tertiary period.

Billy:

Doesn't this correspond to the time before 60 million years?

Ptaah:

306. About 5 million years later, about 65 million years ago.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Billy:

My next question relates to very early events on Earth, namely meteorite and comet impacts. I am especially interested in those events that belong to the chalk-tertiary boundary, so about 65 million years ago. You once explained to me that at that time at least one large meteor crashed into the Mexican basin of Yucatán and thus near the same peninsula in northern Central America between the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea and triggered that worldwide catastrophe, which then extinguished the dinosaurs and all larger living beings.

Ptaah:

102. I myself explained these early occurrences to you, but I only spoke of this one small planetoid or meteorite, which had a diameter of 10,000 metres and exploded when it touched the sea surface and a part of the land mass of the peninsula.

103. At that time this was not the only great meteorite that hit Earth, but it was only one of a chain of 48 large, larger and smaller space projectiles, which flew in a line one after the other towards Earth and hit it.

104. An 11,000 metre diameter lump drilled its way exploding into the Atlantic Ocean at the north coast of America at a speed of more than 100,000 kilometres per hour.

105. Only hours later, the next impact followed in today's state of Iowa/USA, which led to the Manson crater known today.

106. According to our estimates, the relevant object from outer space was about 2,300 metres in diameter.

107. Gradually then, and within about 20 days, the remaining small and smallest further meteors crashed to Earth, creating a few more small craters around the world, but they were not significant.

Billy:

In Yucatán the crater measures about 170 kilometres in diameter, if I am not mistaken.

Ptaah:

108. You are not mistaken.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_411

Ptaah:

26. Already three million years earlier, before the dinosaurs were destroyed by the big meteorite of 11,000 meters – resp. it was an asteroid from the asteroid belt, like various other lumps that crashed into the Earth – in the area of today's Yucatan and created a crater about 180 kilometers in size, it happened that about 330,000 years earlier, at exactly the same place, a first asteroid of about 6,700 meters in size struck, which already caused devastation and shook the Earth, causing many volcanoes to erupt.

27. The first asteroid's fall triggered several huge tsunamis, the largest of which reached a height of 300 metres. However, the second impact of the 11,000-metre asteroid also produced several tsunamis, the most powerful of which reached a height of 490 meters and took its fatal course at around 800 kilometers per hour.

28. Many volcanoes around the world got into turmoil by the impacts and spewed out their glowing and fiery masses, while during both events there were also huge seaquakes and earthquakes, which partly led to big tsunamis again

29. The volcanic eruptions caused an enormous amount of dust, ashes, steam and poisonous gases to enter the atmosphere and, for the most part, suffocated all major life on earth, at least that which came under their influence.

30. The enormous volcanic eruptions drove ash clouds into the atmosphere, so that huge areas of the earth were no longer hit by the sun's rays and these were laid in twilight or darkness.

31. This led to the fact that practically all plants died and thus the animal world was robbed of food, at least those who lived on plants.

32. As a result, vast areas became desolate, with the waters receding, further contributing to the catastrophe.

33. But these were actually only the last effects of the two big asteroid collapses in the Yucatan area.

34. Besides this, there were several other space projectiles which were not harmless either.

35. But the ultimate reason for the final extinction of the dinosaurs were the catastrophic effects caused by the large meteorite or asteroid that hit the earth about 65 million years ago near Yucatan.

36. Of course, the process of dying was not immediate, but lasted for a number of years, depending on how nature and the climate changed.

37. It must be said, however, that even without the two space projectiles the dinosaurs would have become extinct, because before the great catastrophe occurred some 65 million years ago, a strong climatic change process had already been taking place for three million years and entire animal populations had already fallen victim to it.

38. All genera and species of dinosaurs were also affected by this, so in the end they had a history of dying for about three million years.

39. If they had not died out gradually over time after the great asteroid catastrophe, they would otherwise have died out within the next 500,000 to 600,000 years at the latest.

Billy:

So the catastrophe began three million years earlier when the climate began to change in such a way that ...

Ptaah:

40. ... life once again began to change and a new evolutionary process began.

41. This affected all dinosaur genera and species in such a way that they slowly but surely became extinct, as was the case with various other large animals, which were no longer able to cope with the climate and environmental conditions and also found less and less food.

Billy:

So, then, the dinosaurs and other large animals did not die by fire rolls caused by the meteoric fall, nor did they die frozen to death by freezing cold or acid rain, etc., as certain scientists claim.

Ptaah:

42. No, no it was other deadly combinations that were caused by the various circumstances of global climate and vegetation change etc.

Billy:

So, then there was not the same event that I know happened 500 million years before the dinosaurs died, when a catastrophe came upon the Earth, in which many huge volcanoes around the world were extremely active and caused global warming, leading to climate change on a huge scale, and millions of years later, dinosaurs and other giant creatures emerged.

Ptaah:

43. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_456

Billy:

... Although we have talked about it several times, it was always done unofficially, even with Quetzal. It is about the primeval volcanic eruption about 75 million years ago, by which many life forms were already exterminated, including several large species of dinosaurs, such as similar to the Tyrannosaurus, but smaller than them, but which were followed by larger creatures after the volcanic catastrophe, such as the Tyrannosaurus and even more powerful ones. These were then again wiped out by an enormous catastrophe, when a huge chunk from the space of the world crashed onto the earth and hit a huge crater in the Gulf of Mexico, in addition to the fact that various large and small volcanoes erupted worldwide as a result of the impact, which completed the catastrophe and affected the whole world, which happened about 65 million years ago. That is what our earthly scientists have found out. But they seem to know nothing about the volcanic catastrophe 75 million years ago, at least I have never read about it or seen anything on television. Only after this catastrophe, so you said, the actual giant dinosaurs emerged, which were then exterminated by the great cometary impact. Unfortunately, I no longer know where the giant volcano was on the continent of America at that time, which 75 million years ago destroyed the life of that time, just like the dinosaur generation at that time.

Ptaah:

24. The area was where the state of Montana is today.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_544

Billy:

... If a large object, a large comet, meteorite or asteroid crashes onto the Earth, as it did more than 240 million years ago, wherethrough indeed on the one hand the dinosaurs only came into existence and these were then exterminated again about 65 million years ago, then there are of course worldwide catastrophes, through which practically all life is extinguished. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_555

Billy:

You mentioned Yucatan in the Gulf of Mexico earlier, because something was missing in an earlier interview report. At the time, we were talking about what happened some 65–70 million years ago, when a gigantic space projectile about 10–11 kilometres in size crashed into the Gulf of Mexico and contributed to the extinction of dinosaurs and many other animals and creatures, along with huge earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and the darkening of the Earth. The question of whether this was an asteroid, a meteor or a comet?

Ptaah:

97. Our research showed that it was an asteroid that caused the catastrophe. ...

101. We call a body an asteroid if it corresponds to a loose and porous or halfway compact mass.

102. Such asteroids originate – seen in relation to the SOL system – from the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter, from the Kuiper belt, from the Oort sphere or from the depths of space, no matter whether such a body flies through a solar system or not.

103. And if such a body penetrates the earth's atmosphere, for example, or falls to the Earth, it remains an asteroid either way, and thus does not correspond to a meteor.

104. The largest asteroids have a diameter of many kilometres, and they move – in relation to the SOL system – on elliptical orbits around the sun.

105. However, as already mentioned, asteroids are usually not compact lumps of rock, but loose and porous heaps of debris that are held together only by their own gravity. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_722

Billy:

(... The cause was that a gigantic comet impact occurred in Yucatan/Central America 66 million years ago [according to the Plejaren, not a meteorite impact, as earthly researchers claim], which triggered an ecosystem catastrophe and wiped out all large creatures on the two American continents and thus also the dinosaurs. However, this did not happen worldwide, because as the Plejaren records indicate, Europe, Eurasia as well as the Near East and Asia proper were largely spared from the catastrophe and were only affected by very few climatic impacts).

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_727

Billy:

... 77.2 million years ago, an atmospheric fire or a tremendous atmospheric explosion occurred, as could be determined by time travel. It turned out that a porous giant meteor penetrated the Earth's shell and exploded high in the atmosphere. On the one hand, an enormous heat was generated and much of the Earth's surface was burnt away, while on the other hand, an enormous mass of asteroid dust changed the climate worldwide and affected much life of all kinds, after which the climate changed several more times during 30.4 million years. Then, 46.8 million years ago, the entire world of life forms began to change again in the course of time, as had also been the case during the preceding period as a result of climate changes. Many early and very large life-forms fell victim to this change, as some time travels back to that time and corresponding observations have shown. The great dinosaurs, for example, died out over a period of several million years, although some species continued to exist for a very long time, even in all areas of today's northern and southern Europe, down to Arabia and Africa, as well as from North to South America. Their various descendants gradually adapted to the new climatic conditions, changed, became smaller over millions of years, as did the entire vegetation, and adapted to the new climatic and ecological conditions, just like the new life-forms that emerged from the changes. According to Sfath, today's chickens, for example, evolved from earlier walking dinosaurs and from pterosaurs as descendants of the reptile Tyrannosaurus Rex. However, according to Sfath's explanations, the whole of this world-encompassing process had nothing to do with the asteroid crash about 66.4 million years ago near what is now Mexico's Yucatán Peninsula in Central America, a small part of which was swept away. As far as I know, this is not known to geologists, who assume that the meteor only crashed into the sea. The crashed giant asteroid probably caused a giant crater of almost 200 kilometers in diameter – this is now called Chicxulub crater – but the catastrophic destruction directly resulting from the crash did not extend over the entire Earth, as false Earthly geological and palaeontological claims, etc., have shown for a long time. In truth, the direct area of destruction was just a little over 1800 kilometers wide, and it was in this direct area that all life was completely wiped out and extinct, so also all the various dinosaurs living there, which by the way had habitats deep down into South America, as well as in the present areas of Africa, Arabia and the ancient northern regions of the Earth, as Sfath explained. The geological, paleontological and biological fantasies that the crash caused a worldwide extinction of all large and largest creatures, such as dinosaurs, etc., is absolute nonsense, because effectively only the direct area of influence of 1800 kilometers was affected in this way. his, while outside this area the giant meteor impact caused very severe damage, destruction, annihilation and the death of living beings, but the severity of the impact steadily decreased depending on the distance from the source of the impact. As a result, only a gigantic tsunami swept across the Atlantic - because a large part of the comet had not fallen onto land but into the sea - but the areas to the east, what exists today as Europe and Eurasia, were only affected by weak impacts and so there was little to no destruction, annihilation and extinction of life-forms any more.

The gigantic asteroid impact near Yucatán 66.4 million years ago only had a horrendously catastrophic effect on the ecosystems in Central America, while North America and South America as a whole were more or less affected, because the further away from the site of the crash, the more the whole thing weakened. And the huge amounts of dust that were supposedly thrown into the earth's atmosphere by the crash, as our clever researchers claim, Sfath said that only a little dust was created from the small piece of land that was affected by the meteor's crash, because most of it fell into the sea. So also the sun did not darken for a long time, just as the temperatures did not drop rapidly and for a long time. What did happen, however, as Sfath explained, were enormous masses of water that raced hundreds of kilometers inland as tsunamis.

A worldwide dramatic decline in species, as is claimed, also does not correspond to the truth, but only to fantasy hypotheses, because such an event only occurred on the entire North and South American continent affected by the meteor impact, because the impact had very little or no influence at all on all other areas of the earth, neither on the ecosystems nor on the geological structures, so consequently no geological changes occurred.

Since only North and South America were affected by the meteor impact, the rest of the Earth was not affected, so neither animals nor plants were directly affected, so they did not have to recover from the effects of the meteor crash disaster, but were able to develop normally.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_829

Billy:

Back then, when the dinosaurs existed, it was largely natural events that led to the disappearance of the great living creatures.

At that time, by the way – even if it is vehemently denied by the 'great' scientists and mad know-it-alls and insulted as wild fantasy – there were also human beings who, however, were not born here on Earth, but who actually existed, as I once saw on a journey back into the past with Sfath.

... Aha – so you are researching what all went on in your father's day.

Ptaah:

37. Yes. – Through that I also found a fossilised excrement of a human being there, which is called 'coprolite' on Earth.

38. When I examined it closely, I was astonished to find that the excrement was 74 million years old.

39. You have travelled together very far back in time, much further than only 25 million years ago.

Billy:

Yes, that was very interesting for me, because that is how I learned a lot of things that had already happened at very early times, when no Earthlings had yet been created on Earth through evolution.

And it is to be said that in those early times many things, indeed many things, were quite different from what the 'all-knowing ones' of today claim, precisely those who concern themselves with the past.

So, I think I may now speak openly and say that beings from the depths of the space of this universe visited the Earth before there were Earthlings.

Since then, however, their descendants have come here again and again...

Unfortunately, such beings from the vastness of the material belt also brought various bacteria and viruses to Earth, which since then have been spreading worldwide from time to time and even causing health havoc.

Whereby the so-called supernatural of course does not exist in any way, because everything and everything is always naturally explainable and also naturally given. The supernatural exists only in the ignorance and the incomprehension of man, because he has no knowledge about all those things which he cannot understand and cannot explain himself. Truthfully everything so-called supernatural is absolutely natural and thus also classified according to the corresponding laws of spirit or matter, which are able to give an explanation for everything and everyone, whereby something supernatural becomes a fact of non-existence. Everything that can be grasped and perceived, everything that can be seen and heard and everything that can be felt, recognized, experienced and experienced, etc., is always real, real and natural in every case, regardless of whether it takes place on a spiritual or material level or on a medium level between spirit and matter, which is so often called the level of the supernatural or the supernatural by parapsychologists and esoterics who do not understand it.

Ptaah:

181. A true word.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_367

Billy:

Although Sfath, your father, already explained to me what it is about the earth rays and water veins, that this is all nonsense, but I would like to have an official explanation in a contact conversation. In this context is also the pendulum resp. the radiesthesia, which is operated by the so-called radiesthesi with the sidereal pendulum and the dowsing rod. These people are supposed to be medially gifted and, by 'striking' the pendulum or the divining rod, find underground deposits of 'water veins', 'earth rays' and ore deposits, as well as other hidden information of all kinds, in addition to the alleged perception of fluid vibrations of people, animals, plants and objects. The radiesthesiologists also claim that they could find missing people, animals and objects etc. through radiesthesia. But this, so Sfath taught me, is absolute nonsense, which he could prove to me by the machinations of a larger number of radiesthesiologists, whom I was allowed to observe and accompany in their work with radiesthesia. In addition, Sfath proved to me with very highly developed measuring instruments and apparatus that the so-called 'earth rays' do not exist and that they are therefore only an illusion. Also with regard to underground water veins he taught me that there are no such veins and that they neither 'radiate' to the earth's surface nor can they negatively influence people, animals and plants. Underground water veins of this form do not exist, but only underground rivers and large quantities of water, which, however, occupy large areas of the earth's interior, whereby the water is stored in certain absorbent rocks and other layers of the earth. And such water-storing rock and earth layers are so frequent that practically everywhere water can be found in the earth's interior, whereby the question arises in each case only how deep must be drilled in order to come across such water-bearing layers, which can then perhaps be used for wells. The only thing that really exists is the earth's magnetism, which can manifest itself particularly strongly in certain places, but which in no way has a harmful influence on people, animals and plants, but can only produce some particularly strong magnetic effects. This is in contrast to electromagnetic oscillations, which are generated by electro-technical plants, apparatuses, devices, lines, transformers as well as transmitting antennas etc. and are harmful to health with regard to the physical organism of humans, animals and plants, but also to the psyche and even to the consciousness of humans. But all this has nothing to do with the so-called 'places of power' as they are thought up by people who believe that great mental powers or other vibrations occur and work in a parapsychological or esoteric framework, which is of course pure nonsense. All this is based solely on a profound imagination and on delusions that are the preserve of all those who believe this nonsense. I know from my own experience that the people who cling to the nonsense of this belief are as completely unteachable as those who have a strong religious, sectarian, political, scientific or philosophical belief. For them, truth and reality are something foreign or imaginary, which is why they banish themselves to the realm of illusion and negate everything that has to do with truth and reality. In fact, I know what I am talking about, because I have had enough experience around the world, also with regard to the deceptions of alleged 'ghostly apparitions', 'ghost photos', 'spirit operations', 'spirit healing', alleged telekinesis, telepathy and levitation, clairvoyance etc.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_450

Billy:

... regarding dowsing: As I know, the rod does not react to alleged water sources and other things that are sought, but it is the subtle sensuality of the person who dowses. It is the fine-material sensuality – if it really works – that activates the dowsers nerves, causing imperceptible movements in the rod carrying hand and thus making the rod swing. This is the real reason why people with a fine matter sensuality can actually find sources of water and lost things etc. through rods and pendulums. But people who have such subtle-material abilities are seldom found, for the majority of dowsers/commuters are either swindlers, deluders, or charlatans, whose actions they consciously or unconsciously deceive by their wishful thinking. The whole thing is, in any case, generally erroneously called something supernatural, which does not really exist, because for man everything and anything is sensually graspable. And what cannot be grasped in a coarse-material sense is perceived in a subtle-material sense, as I have described in the spiritual teachings in Special Letter XLVII and in Special Bulletin No. 38 with the title 'Supersensory or subtle-material or fluidic forces'. Through the subtle-material sensuality, not only thoughts and feelings etc. can be perceived by people, animals and many other creatures, but also fluid vibrations of objects etc. as well as all kinds of electromagnetic vibrations of elements and substances, including water etc.

11. In the dream the human being is able to create worlds of miracles, just as the Creation consciously creates the worlds.

12. For the human being this ability grows out of his/her consciousness, which in the existence is present in him/her, in the same way as all miracles are present in him/her.

20. But that bullet missed you by only a little, Quetzal told me.

...

25. According to Quetzal, you did not worry about the event, nor did you think about it in any other manner, neither before, when you received the knowledge of what was to come, nor afterwards.

Billy:

It's really not worth thinking a lot about such stupid things. But now you have said something about the previous knowledge about the coming events. Did you guys just cut in and teach me that stuff in my dream? It was a bit strange, because I really didn't know anything about it and so I could not adjust to it.

Semjase:

26. It was an intuitive dream form that warned you.

Semjase's solution was to order the farmer through an impulsive telepathic urge to get up immediately and mow his meadow.

A few weeks later Billy spoke with the farmer and told him that he heard that the farmer had mowed his meadow at 3:00 hrs in the morning. The man confirmed this and explained that he had immediately awakened from a dream with the unconditional urge to mow his meadow. 30. His dreams are likely triggered by the very deplorable incidents of recent weeks and months, which produced an overload in him, which he is simply no longer able to bear.

31. Everything accumulated in him until it led to an explosion, which apparently only pushed itself to the surface through his dreams, fortunately.

32. This is completely natural but also harmful and dangerous over time if he does not try to bring himself back into his own power nervously and mentally.

33. This should not be too difficult for him because he usually brings such attacks from the subconscious very well under control.

34. With the whole happening, he should just be very careful that his manner, attacked by this, does not spread to his family members or to the group members, as this is frequently the case in such instances, because due to such phenomena, the behaviour towards fellow human beings usually changes in an aggressive form, which the fellow human beings then simply do not accept and do not cope with because it is, after all, an unjustified attack.

35. But he can be reassured concerning this, that truly no outside influences whatsoever appear at present or have appeared in the last time, apart from the regrettable issues surrounding the vehicle.

132. This is nonsense if it is assumed that clinical death can be equated with actual death.

133. The truth for such assertions is truthly that the supposedly 'deceased' were only in the state of a false death, in which the spiritual form remains in the body, while the material consciousness works underground, generating dreams, visions, etc.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_249

Billy:

... Truthfully, however, it is the case that nothing at all that man can conceive, dream up, conceive and fantasize about is simply undoable, for truthfully man can conceive, conceive, dream up and conceive about nothing at all that is not feasible or producible. Everything that man can conceive, conceive, dream up or fantasize about is possible and feasible in a technical or conscious way or in any other way. So there is nothing for man in the whole universe that is not feasible and not producible for him when he imagines, conceives, imagines or dreams something. The only things that are not feasible, not producible or not producible for him are delusions, such as religious delusion and fanaticism etc. as well as illusions, which as delusions and fictitious images etc. of the deluded affect their consciousness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_251

Billy:

In the spiritual teaching I started with the extensive work of dream interpretation and already explained that dream symbols in the whole universe have the same value or the same interpretation for human life-forms. For this it is of course always assumed that on other worlds the same symbols appear on the people there as on our earth. Of course, this is not always the case, because many other prerequisites are given on alien worlds, e.g. in the animal world and in technology as well as in landscapes etc. etc., whereby other symbols are also given in this respect. But if we now assume that ravens or snakes etc. also exist on other worlds, then these have the same value in symbolic form as here on earth. Stars, fire, water, air, volcanoes and tens of thousands of other things exist in the entire universe, and these have the same values and interpretations as dream symbols, as is the case on earth. Symbols that do not exist on earth due to the other animal world, environment, technology, music and landscapes as well as plant world etc. etc., but exist on other worlds, would have the same values on earth or elsewhere, if the corresponding prerequisites for them were also given here. Does this also apply to other universes? I think that this cannot be any different.

Ptaah:

193. Your assumption is absolutely correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_294

Billy:

... We once talked about whether animals can dream as well as humans. I remember that you explained – as did Quetzal and Semjase – that all life-forms, regardless of genus and species, are classified as dreaming if they have a functioning brain. As you have said, there is no need for conscious consciousness, because a pure instinct-drive-consciousness is sufficient for dream formation. But in my opinion this means that every instinctive instinct-consciousness also stores day impressions, etc., which can even take weeks, months and years to establish themselves and produce their effects in dreams, as is the case with humans. Again, this also means, as I see it at least, that animal life-forms of all kinds, as well as birds, fish, reptiles and beetles and worms, etc., must have an instinct drive memory in which, so to speak, instinct drive memories are stored. Have I understood that correctly?

Ptaah:

46. You have not forgotten anything, but you have added something by your thinking.

47. What you say corresponds to the correctness.

Billy:

... But if this is so, as I explained, then it also means that all animal living beings, all birds and reptiles and the beetle and worms, which have an instinct drive consciousness and thus in some way a functioning brain, must logically also be classified into an instinct drive emotional form and further also into an instinct drive psychic form. Is that right?

Ptaah:

48. Your execution needs no further explanation.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_412

Billy:

Well, my friend, you have a clever hunch, because I dreamt about how several of the trees fell down due to snow loads and by storm, killing Engelbert and two hikers. So I acted immediately and cut down all the trees I saw falling down in my dream or where heavy branches were falling down, and one rider was also seriously injured. You know, I rely on my dreams when they occur in this way. I have always done well with that and could avoid a lot of bad things. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_572

Billy:

... Surrealism is therefore based on something completely imaginary, imagined, illusory, deceptive, deceptive, and on something strange and utopian, unreal, intangible and unreal. In my opinion, the whole thing has nothing to do with fantasy. What is your opinion?

Ptaah:

32. Surrealism really has nothing to do with fantasy, but with pathologically unreal and imaginative, illusory ideas, which in a certain sense show unreal forms of delusional structures.

33. The whole of surrealism thus corresponds to something unreal, confused and erroneously alien to reality, which is a sign that the human being, who is temporarily or permanently addicted to surrealism, lives in a completely abnormal world of thoughts and feelings, which he cannot reconcile with reality and thus behaves towards it in one of the many forms of outsiderhood.

34. This corresponds to a certain pathologically absurd, confused thought behaviour which cannot be reconciled with a really healthy combination of real ideas about reality.

35. With regard to the human beings who create surrealistic things, such as so-called 'works of art' etc., or who are also only temporarily addicted to surrealistic ideas, they are unstable with regard to reality, and therefore, at least in certain moments, openly break through a certain unreal and unworldly reality and unfamiliarity with the world in terms of ideas, thoughts and imagination.

...

Billy:

Imagination can also be incorporated into purely futuristic ideas and works, but I do not see surrealism in them.

Ptaah:

37. Imagination, whatever its form, has nothing to do with surrealism, but is always formed in a way of reality or in something that can become reality.

38. If, for example, utopian things and works etc. are conceived, designed or produced, they always have features that correspond to reality or can become reality.

Billy:

Human beings who think surrealistically etc., how is their ratio to reality to be judged?

Ptaah:

39. The human beings who think surrealistically and create things are normal human beings, but there is a conscious deficiency in their ability to imagine in terms of a healthy imagination and reality.

40. These are out of touch with reality, although this state can be temporary or also permanent and can take on schizophrenic forms.

Billy:

So surrealists are actually normal human beings in terms of their understanding and reasoning, but the human being's consciousness is temporarily or permanently "freaked out" in relation to ideas, which is pathological if it lasts. But what about the dreams that occur in a surreal way, as is said? For my part, I have never had surrealistic dreams.

Ptaah:

41. The more reality and truth-connected the human being is, the more realistically he dreams and thinks, too, whereby fantastic and utopian appearances can also be woven in, but never surrealistic images.

Billy:

Does this mean that the human being whose consciousness, mind and reason function correctly cannot have surrealistic dreams?

Ptaah:

42. That is correct.

43. Surrealism is based on a dysfunction of consciousness, mind and reason, and in a permanent state of consciousness, mind and reason there is usually a pathological form of alienation from reality up to schizophrenia.

70. Sure, but how old do you think the Earth's age is?

...

Billy:

... Our scientific experts are the clever ones who walk our Earth with their wisdom. They indicate the age of the Earth with at most approximately 5 billion (5,000,000,000) years. Since my great journey {see Contact Report 31} with you and Ptaah however, I have somewhat changed my opinion. You have let me see the most different stars and planets, heard the most different stages of development and that one has to calculate their basic age differently, namely from the formation of primordial matter, which the earthly scientists do not do however. If I now look at them all together and compare them with the Earth, then I surpass our scientists in their assumption of time by far. Just recently I thought about it and added it all up, and then I came across the number 640. So according to my calculation the Earth would have to be about 640 billion (640,000,000,000) years old, calculated from the first formation of primordial matter, from which the SOL-system and finally the Earth developed, which exists as a fixed planet for about 6.4 billion (6,400,000,000) years and since then has been classified as the actual course of evolution in every respect.

(The age of Earth is calculated from the origin of the first primeval matter production, from which the Earth then developed over 646 billion (646,000,000,000) years, whereby the existence of the solid planetary body is given as a seething, glowing and viscous mass with about 46 billion years. The shape of the fortress of the planet, however, when the first mountains began to form in their origin, is said to have formed about 6 billion (6,000,000,000) years ago, while the first flora-based life originated about 4.8 billion (4,800,000,000) years ago. – Billy)

93. Our very precise calculations have shown that the Earth has a basic age of 646 billion (646,000,000,000) years since the first formation of primeval matter, so you have only miscalculated in a six.

94. The statement that the Earth is a solid planet at the age of about 4.8 billion (4,800,000,000) years is correct, although this planetary solidification was preceded by many millions of years of actual development.

Semjase:

77. The exact age of the Earth's existence is 646 billion (646,000,000,000) years, calculated from the time when the first gas atoms were formed, merged and later collected.

...

83. In ignorance of the real events surrounding planetary formation, the earthly scientists calculate all the relevant concerns in false values, consequently they achieve endless false results; and they do not want to be instructed.

84. For centuries they have tried to calculate and prove all things according to their very faulty mathematics, but they rarely achieve truthful results, even in relation to the real distances to the stars.

85. Nevertheless, they claim that their calculations correspond to the truth, even if they often have to correct them after centuries, which is very difficult for them because they do not want to admit their mistakes to the masses.

86. They are and remain simply the incorrigible know-it-alls.

...

Semjase:

99. The person asking these questions is obviously caught up in earthly astronomy data and the like and consequently cannot confront the truth.

100. Obviously he does not know the speed changes in the orbit around the central sun of the constellation times, which also includes the Earth and the whole system, so he probably calculates the orbit with only 25,729 instead of 25,860 Earth years.

101. The fact that he still refers to scientific principles in this is probably a little too much, for how can one presume such things if one has based one's knowledge only on assumptions that do not even come close to the truth.

102. The fact that the miscalculations concerning the vernal equinox, as this is called here, make up only a fraction of a second of arc and consequently only two Earth years for the total cycle, is directly an incentive to laugh.

103. Here the human being of the Earth does not even reckon with their time and has interspersed it with serious miscalculations, and there they want to indulge in things of which they know and understand even less than their own existence as a material life-form.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_055

Billy:

Well, you said that Earth was an evolutionary planet. In what way is it that?

Semjase:

55. As you know, any form of life is subject to, or is incumbent on, constant change, a change from an evolutive point of view.

56. As now the Earth itself embodies a form of life, it is subject to the same law of evolution, along with all its enlivened forms.

57. The natural evolutive path of all life-forms is universally uniform, and so is also any evolution on the Earth or with the Earth itself, which is also assigned to a waking or slumbering period like any other life-form.

58. But it is now the case that the Earth, as a living and life-form-carrying planet, is not able to slumber in its entire mass, because this would destroy all forms of life.

59. Therefore, it lies in slumber only partially, that is by area.

60. This happens, because it, the Earth, together with extraterrestrial influences, causes temperature and climate changes all over the planet or in large areas, which are then covered with very dense ice masses.

61. These then initiate the actual transformation, for through such a glaciation of large areas, all forms of life and the earthly regions have to adapt to the new conditions, so that they are slowly transformed into other external forms.

62. Animal, plant and human beings and also the planet itself go through a process of transformation that causes them to evolve more highly, for evolution can never be changed into retrogressive forms, but always only forward, which means that a transformation is only ever to occur towards a higher level, except when a decline occurs by destruction, etc.

63. If, therefore, the Earth evolves normally, then only forward and higher, which means that, along with it, also the life-forms develop higher in all their most diverse forms.

64. Through such a global evolution, plants, animals, and human beings change into new and higher forms.

65. This means that e.g. a beautiful flower transforms into a more beautiful one and is refined, due to the evolutionary influences of the Earth itself, whose evolution itself takes place through the small and large glacial periods.

Billy:

... But tell me, do you know how old the SOL system is?

Semjase:

...

97. The Earth is a middle-aged planet with 646 billion years since its first primeval matter agglomeration of ultra-fine gas.

98. Other planets are a little older and are slowly disintegrating, while Jupiter and Saturn only develop into planets if they ever do, before the whole system disappears again.

99. The age of the sun amounts to 810 billion and 73 million years, whereby this information regarding the age is based again on the first origin of the ur-gas, which formed at that time in the constantly changing and the becoming and passing as well as the again forming of the aligned universal material-belt.

Billy:

It is about the fact which you, Ptaah, explained to me on the Great Journey {see Contact Report 31}, that an atomic furnace bubbles inside of our Earth, so to speak. I also noted that for myself because it was not given in writing according to our contact. But now, I am not quite sure anymore about what you said in regards to whether or not our earthly atomic reactor is responsible, among the rest, for the Earth's magnetic field. However, you explained that our Earth's atomic furnace will still function for a few million years but is already in a stage of 'annealing out' [hardening off due to cooling down].

Ptaah:

200. The centre, i.e. the most internal core of the Earth, consists of an atomic fusion entity, as you express with your words.

201. Nevertheless, this core is decreasing in its activity and, consequently, will expire in a few million years.

202. And actually, this atomic-fusion core is involved authoritatively in the maintenance of the geomagnetism which will break down when the core stops its activity, i.e. expires, breaks down, and cools off.

203. This means then that the cosmic radiation will strike uninhibitedly on the planet and radioactively contaminate it and, therefore, make it uninhabitable.

Billy:

Interesting – and does the Destroyer also have a self-rotation like, for example, the Earth?

Quetzal:

117. Like on every planet in the Universe, the Earth's atmosphere is permeated by a variety of weaker and stronger electric fields, which also differ in their swinging waves.

118. The higher into the atmosphere these penetrate, the richer in occurrence these electric force fields become, which very often move along for many hundreds or thousands of kilometres.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_165

Billy:

Good, then I would also like to mention that you have explained to me once that already millions of years ago, four or five of these, Venus had brought the transformation point behind itself, through which magma-lava outlets have formed the ground's crust, and this was then strengthened. Now, after this process, as you have explained, only the surface transformation will take place, which, on the one hand, will result from the collection of space debris, like dust, acids and other chemical compounds, shooting stars, meteorites, and many other substances and elements, etc., but on the other hand, the remaining part will also take place out of the planet itself and from its surface, through underground volcanic upheavals and corrosion phenomena, etc. Through this – so I remember, as you said to me – the whole surface of the planet will continue to grow and, on the other hand, compress inward, through which, again through renewed transformations and corrosion, an outer coat layer will slowly but surely arise, which itself will begin to develop many kinds of amino acids once the right state is reached, after which the first life of flora will then find its beginning, which will then soon be followed by the higher floral state of life and then the first fauna-like life. But this will still take a few hundred thousand years or, in the longest case, a few million years, as you have said. If I still remember correctly, you have explained that the Earth also had to go through this development and that the outer layer of the Earth's crust at that time, as it is now currently given on Venus, already lay at a depth of many kilometres. Consequently, it can be assumed that if the present upper crust of Venus is dropped to about 5,000 to 10,000 metres of depth and is increased with new material, then the first life begins to be created, right?

30. The Earth scientists are still mistaken in very many things, so also in astronomy.

31. This will already prove itself again in a short time, when once again, the Earth scientists gain new insights in reference to new and revolutionary discoveries in space, so also in reference to the Sun and all SOL planets, but also in reference to the reality of the Earth's orbit around the Sun, which, in part, runs a little differently than what the scientists accept up to now.

32. Hence, they will recognise and have to admit that also in reference to the four seasons, the revolution of the Earth around the Sun behaves a little differently than what has been taught.

33. This will be a shocking realisation, as well as the realisation and finding that will be made in about 15 years, that the determined distances to the stars and galaxies, etc. are not correct.

Billy:

They are, indeed, used to the fact that they have to admit their crap again in each case – even if this is often very difficult for them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_217

Billy:

... recently, we talked about the primeval times of the Earth, and the issue arose, which Semjase also once talked about, that at least once on the Earth, there had been a global glaciation, ie a total global ice age, which dates back about 600 million years. At the same time, the entire equatorial belt should have also been covered by many meters of thick ice and by enormous glaciers. This, along with the great ice ages and the small ice ages that repeatedly moved across the planet since ages ago and will also continue to do so in the future. Through the total glaciation of global expansion, the entire Earth became a giant ball of ice, ie an actual ice planet. In addition, I ask you, Since you are also a geologist and an expert in terms of the ice ages and so on, how the Earth was able to turn into an ice planet at all and how the enormous masses of ice were able to melt and then disappear again. At the earliest times, the planet was, nevertheless, a giant glowing ball, before it solidified and formed actual land masses, on which then, in the end, mountains raised themselves through inner Earth movements and processes, etc.

Quetzal:

52. It corresponds to the truth that at early times on the Earth, the ice regions and glaciers had advanced into the tropical zones and also forced the equatorial regions and even the entire planet under a mantle of ice that was many meters thick. ...

63. Now, so that the Earth could free itself again from its enormous mantle of ice, the elementary, bubbling, inner life of the planet itself was decisive, namely the tremendous natural power of volcanism, through which the tremendous heat was generated, which eventually brought the ice crust of the Earth back to melting. ...

66. But in addition to the lava and the heat, the volcanoes also eject huge amounts of the finest dust particles, i.e. ash particles and so on and so forth, along with enormous masses of carbon dioxide, and these very factors are the ones that ensure that the heat of the sunlight is trapped in the atmosphere.

67. But primarily, it is carbon dioxide that is decisive for this heat effect, for throughout the entire global ice age, which lasted on Earth for 12.47 million years, this gathered together in unimaginable mass in the atmosphere, heating it to about 57 degrees, which entailed that a tremendous global greenhouse effect arose, through which the enormous masses of ice slowly began to melt, by what means the global freezing dissolved up to the small areas at the North Pole and the South Pole as well as in isolated mountain areas, etc.

68. This was also the case on the ground, which took place about 600 million years ago.

69. Of course, immense layers of clouds originated from the slow evaporation of the masses of ice, which surrounded the entire Earth as a closed cloud cover and which, in turn, led to a renewed and even much more extreme climate change.

70. Then, after many millions of years, it began to rain for the first time on Earth, and indeed, in such immense masses that everything was set under water.

71. This tremendous time of rain, during which the waters fell like a flood from the clouds to the ground, lasted for 142 years without interruption, and of course, new evaporations of the falling-down water masses took place again and again, by what means the cloud formations were continuously fed, while the powerful volcanoes naturally remained active and constantly ejected new carbon dioxide into the atmosphere.

72. The flood-like, falling-down water masses combined in the atmosphere with this carbon dioxide, forming acid rain, from which then, over the course of time, natural lime developed on the Earth.

73. This was the development of the Earth in relation to the total global freezing, which then also firstly formed the actual origin for the original emergence of the first micro-life forms of a single-celled kind, from which, over the course of millions of years and centuries, life forms of the water, land, and air evolved up to the higher kinds, after which then, the Earth-human emerged from the whole thing and evolved over many depths and heights to the current state.

74. Until the global ice age around 600 million years ago, only thermal life forms, i.e. thermal bacteria, existed on the Earth in the scorching heat of the magma and lava, and these life forms were partially expelled from the hot springs of aboveground geysers as well as from small or larger black funnels or chimneys rising high up at the bottom of the sea, and to be sure, along with the other primitive forms, from which, over the course of time, new unicellular life forms could evolve, which settled in the sands of the shores of the seas and other bodies of water and evolved under or in the sand to multicellular life forms.

75. But at the same time, comets as well as meteors and asteroids as well as interstellar clouds of microbes played a very important role, once these came into the immediate vicinity of the Earth and fell down upon this, thereby bringing their microbes, etc. to the planet, which combined in part with the Earth's already-developed life forms of a similar kind and thereby created new life, or else life forms that were independently brought from space emerged from these.

76. But in relation to the insemination of the Earth with respect to fauna and flora, it must be clearly said that what primarily relates to this did not proceed from the planet itself but resulted through the inclusions from outer space, and to be sure, through comets, meteors, asteroids, dust particles, and even through the clouds of chemical elements drifting through free space as well as clouds of microbes, through which all the bacteria, fungi, lichens, mosses, viruses, and protozoa of various genera and species were brought to the Earth.

77. The Earth-human first emerged much later out of new amino acid connections, etc., which resulted from the decayed substances of plants and animals.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_826

Billy:

But to say something against it is like water being carried into the Rhine, no matter whether it is earthly water or whether it was already there at the beginning of the formation of the Earth – as it really was – because it was brought here by gas and dust and further by asteroids from outer space during the formation of the Earth, before the Earth then continued to develop itself.

Even now – if I deviate from what I have actually been talking about – the earthlings are still asking themselves how the water came to the Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_829

Billy:

... the planet itself, which on the one hand is much older than 4.5 billion (4,500,000,000) years, which science assumes because it can only determine the age of those things it finds in the Earth's crust, but not what constitutes the actual inner life of the planet itself.

This is billions of years earlier than the Earth's crust, in which only millions of years old things are stored, but nothing of the origin, which goes back to several billion years earlier than is claimed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_846

Billy:

Now, the age of the waters on the Earth, however, is – this is probably still the same question that has been asked by human beings since ancient times – what apparently does not want to be understood, has been produced by this planet itself to a large extent, as is the case with practically every planet. Furthermore, I have learned from Sfath that the waters were also brought to Earth from SOL space by comets, asteroids, meteors, as well as 'ice clouds' – of which our astronomers etc. still know nothing. ...

...

It should be said, however, that the first waters developed independently and completely naturally from the planet itself, as a result of the gluten and heat of the emerging world body. Heat and warmth led to the evaporation of the developing heat gases, which entered the empty space of the developing world body in gaseous form and formed the very first atmosphere, i.e. a gas atmosphere. Further geological processes took place over a long period of time with regard to new evolutionary and beneficial changes, so that everything continued to change and an atmosphere and hydrogen developed over billions of years, as did plants and thus also oxygen, which combined with hydrogen, and further also life, which could move independently, etc., as I learned from Sfath.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_865

Billy:

As far as I know, the actual Earth's crust, mantle or crust is the layer of the Earth that lies directly beneath the surface. The Earth's crust is the outer, solid layer of the Earth, but it extends down to a depth of about 30 km, but up to 70 km depending on the case. This is actually normally the separating layer between the Earth's crust – which is about 20 km or 30 km to 70 km deep – and the Earth's mantle, after which the so-called mantle begins. Below this is the solid to viscoplastic mantle down to a depth of about 3,000 km, followed by the liquid core.

The Earth itself rotates, but its stability is somewhat disturbed by the overexploitation of the planet by the Earthlings. The Earth is actually made up of 14 main Earth plates, as Sfath said, so 1. The North American Plate. 2. the South American Plate. 3. the Pacific Plate. 4. the Nazca Plate. 5. the Eurasian Plate. 6. the African Plate. 7. the Indo-Australian Plate. 8. the Philippine Plate. 9. the Cocos Plate 10. the Antarctic Plate 11. the Caribbean Plate 12. the Iranian Plate 13. the Arabian plate 14. the Arctic Plate. There are also various smaller ones, but they are not of great importance.

It is still to be explained that the earth's crust resp. the uppermost mantle is called lithosphere, because this resp. this consists of several large and many small fragments, which are actually called continental plates or lithospheric plates or tectonic plates.

The Earth's core consists of the metals iron and nickel, which look like an icicle structure, as I could see together with Sfath, whereas the Earth's core itself consists of an outer core more than 2000 kilometres thick.

Due to their conditions, the Earth's layers have different states of aggregation, solid and liquid, depending on their position.

But the Earth also stores enormous quantities of water, especially in the mantle, which are bound up in rocks such as ringwoodite or brucite. According to Sfath, these are such huge quantities of water as all the oceans on the Earth's surface have together, although it should also be said that the oceanic crust is only about 8 to 22 km thick.

It is also to be said that the upper mantle of the Earth is actually made up of rock, which consists mainly of minerals called olivine and pyroxene or peridotite or something like that, these substances consisting of the elements magnesium, oxygen and silicon, then also sulphur and other light elements.

Under the rock layer of the earth's crust, precisely in the earth's mantle, there are already high temperatures, which Sfath measured of over a thousand degrees Celsius, whereby there was also a very high pressure, which together causes the rock to melt and become viscous, namely magma, which expands and pushes upwards. Warm matter, Sfath further explained, has a lower density than colder matter, consequently it rises and moves upwards. Therefore, he explained, this is also the cause of the movement in the Earth's mantle – that is, the area from below the Earth's crust – which continues to the Earth's core. The Earth was formed much earlier than science claims, which puts it at about 4.54 billion years ago, further claiming that it took about 150 million years or so for the liquid rock on the surface to solidify and form the Earth's first crust. Sfath, however, said that the Earth as a real planet had already been formed from 7.5 billion years ago.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_868

Billy:

... At the time, he also told me that the Earth was getting many tonnes heavier every day, because 24 hours a day, huge amounts of 'stardust' drifting from the SOL system space were falling onto the Earth. This 'stardust', which is constantly drifting through real space, is actually full of tiny life-forms and, as he explained, these are said to have ensured that certain life-forms settled on Earth ages ago – as is also still the case. This, while elsewhere the Earth will also lose an enormous number of tonnes in weight, especially in the future, namely through the exploitation of the Earth's resources, such as metals of various kinds, sulphur, rocks, petroleum in huge quantities for diesel oil and petrol, natural gases and rare earths, and so on. In addition to this, Sfath explained to me that the natural process of the Earth alone influences the mass of the Earth, namely that through the fault of human beings the climate is changing adversely – which we have also seen and experienced together in the future and is now actually the case – and as a result global warming is increasing to such an extent that the energy of the Earth as a whole is increasing. However, the Earth's mass is nevertheless decreasing, because the Earth's core – which, as I saw together with Sfath – consists of large cone formations, which I would describe as 'icicles', but which, as Sfath was able to measure and explain, emit radioactive radiation. The whole thing, he said, was like a nuclear reactor, so to speak, which consumes a large amount of atomic energy. He also explained that light substances were also emitted and escaped from the Earth, like molecules or something, but whether I am using the correct term, I do not remember, but I do remember that he was talking about gases like helium and hydrogen, which did not remain in the atmosphere but escaped into space outside the Earth.

... It is true that the 'continents' – if I may call the giant areas of Earth that existed at that time, which actually almost belonged together – looked completely different and also had completely different shapes than is the case today after millions of years. This, as well as the fact that there was a giant continent between the countries of that time, which are now India, Australia, Africa and South America – but which sank into the sea in the course of time – from which the early human beings travelled by primitive 'water swings' to these narrow islands as far as the South America that exists today, as I have seen for myself with Sfath. But all this changed again and again ...

Semjase:

7. Certainly.

8. Tomorrow, during the midday hours, the inevitable will be fulfilled.

Billy:

And now you go back to the kidneys. I understand. It hits me again and again, even though I am actually far from the events. And when I consider that the main part of the people of the Earth bears the guilt for these things, I could explode in anger. If I remember correctly, then it will crash again tomorrow so hard that roughly half a hundred thousand human beings will die within just 30 seconds.

161. After the presidential election in America, the next world-changing event will be that in Italy, the next major earthquake after Al Asnam will occur, to which 4,000 Earth-humans will fall victim.

162. This quake will occur in the areas of the southwest, south, and southeast, as well as east of the Vesuvius volcano, causing immense damage to the buildings.

163. The first major quake, having great destructive power and causing thousands of deaths, will result towards the end of the month of November of this year, after which then, over long periods of time, new tremblings of the Earth will drive the populations into fear ...

164. In Al Asnam, the number of deaths will, indeed, be a thousand times higher than what will happen in Italy, but a greater danger awaits this in the boot country.

165. The severe quake around Vesuvius will only be the beginning of a great number of similar disasters in Italy, but it should also be the starting point for further coming eruptions of the volcano, which will create more destruction in the future.

...

177. This is to be said of the coming quakes in Italy, which find their beginning at the end of November of this year and which will not end for a long time.

Earthquakes (general)

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Earthquake>

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_863

Billy:

... But corruption is also a given with regard to many companies and corporations involved in exploiting the planet's resources. So we – I mean Sfath and I – have also seen the consequences of this, that in many cases there are corrupt machinations behind the exploitation of the planet, whereby the planetary order is also out of control. Because of these exploitations, unusual shifts of the earth's plates already occurred more than 6 decades ago. These began to shift unusually, which led to the severe earthquake in Morocco at the end of February 1960 and claimed many thousands of victims. And in this respect, it must be said, it was never fathomed how many victims there actually were, namely very many more than was 'estimated', as exact clarifications by Asket revealed. I saw this with her at the time when I asked her if she could take me there where we looked at the whole thing. And what happened then will happen again in the next few days, claiming thousands of human lives again, this time in parts of the Atlas Mountains. The quake is something that is connected with the machinations of the Earthlings, and is partly unnaturally generated – which is of course denied by the seismologists etc., because they want to know everything better. This, like the climate resp. the climate change, was created by the irresponsible Earth-humans' machinations. And this because the mass of the unstoppably growing overpopulation needed more and more products, whose raw materials for the production of these products were snatched from the Earth, which then also poisoned the atmosphere through their exhaust fumes CO2 and other pollutants, waste and rubbish etc. and finally thereby produced the change resp. the destructive change of the climate. As a result, the climate began to go crazy, and since then huge storms have been sweeping through all countries, causing gigantic destruction, but also costing many human lives, as is currently happening not only in the north and south of Europe, but also in America, South America, Canada and Africa. If I remember correctly, Libya will also be hit by such a storm in the near future and thousands of human lives will be lost. However – I do not remember exactly what it will be – the sea will play a nasty role in it, as well as something that will be damaged.

Now, the constant and unconscionable as well as irresponsible huge exploitations of the Earth's resources, the greedy and excessive exploitation of the planet for monetary gain by companies and corporations that bring about these machinations through the greed of overpopulation, have all brought bad consequences for the climate and the Earth, and they will bring much worse – I know this from Sfath, who was also able to prove the whole thing to me and let me see many things, also the very great danger in the middle of the 2030s, when the whole Earth will be threatened. I know this because he let me see what will happen then, as well as what will ultimately be the evil consequence of this, if the Earth's petroleum, iron and coal, gases and metals of various kinds etc. continue to be robbed from the Earth. In addition, I know that a much greater negative effect is being exerted on the entire Earth and, of course, on the Earth's plates than the geologists and other scientists suspect and claim. Obviously, they know nothing at all about how damaging, dangerous and destructive the whole exploitation of the earth's resources is for the planet itself and creates an imbalance on it, as this also affects the earth's plates, which normally rub against each other or push over each other, whereby slight earth tremors up to very severe earthquakes can be the result. Something that also happens naturally and is normal for the planet. However, as a result of the immense exploitation of the earth's resources, the entire relationship of the natural planetary relationships is out of kilter, resulting in natural occurrences that can only be attributed to the ignorance and guilt of human beings. This means, of course, that not only the planet, but also all its ecosystems, and thus of course nature with all its fauna and flora, as well as the atmosphere and the climate, are affected and badly affected.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_865

Billy:

... I remember that he {Sfath} said that earthquakes actually only occur at depths of up to about 750 or 800 kilometres. Furthermore, earth tremors – always assuming that I remember Sfath's explanations correctly – would usually be 'normal' earthquakes at depths of up to about 75 km, and he called these shallow earthquakes or something like that. Those that occur at depths of about 75-320 km were called medium-deep earthquakes, after which he called them deep earthquakes from a depth of about 320 km. Earthquakes, however, do not occur evenly on Earth, because the geographical distribution of earthquake areas is such that more occur in certain areas than elsewhere, which is also connected with the planetary self-rotation, as well as with the respective different composition of the continental plates. In particular, the strength resp. the hardness of the material of the continental plates that push over each other with great violence – although there are also smaller plates, as Sfath said – plays an important role, as well as their formation.

The shaking during strong quakes can have quite catastrophic consequences, depending on the fracture process of the earth plates colliding and rubbing against each other. If we look at the dependence of the type and size of the fracture process resp. the friction between the earth's plates when they push against each other, by which I mean the processes of earth plate displacements, then I find the process quite interesting. Earthquakes are actually caused by fractures and shifts in the Earth resp. in its subsoil, which then cause the tremors. This process can last from a few seconds to several minutes, so the earthquake tremors can be shorter or longer, as can the intervals between one earthquake and the next. Earthquakes can even be felt in the sea, or so-called seaquakes, as I have also experienced several on ships, when they came roaring up through the ship from deep below and caused tremors.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_069

Billy:

10. But maybe you can reveal the secret of Easter Island to me?

11. In particular, it is about the colossal heads, which are still a mystery to Earth-humans today.

12. Nobody knows how they came into being and who created them.

13. May you say something about them?

Semjase:

9. The Earth-human is misguided if he/she wants to make the concerns of Easter Island an isolated concern.

10. The events of earlier times on this island are in direct connection with the country, which you still call Tiahuanaco today, as it was called already at earliest time, in spite of past repeated changes.

11. Easter Island and Tiahuanaco are more than 5,000 kilometres apart, and yet they are directly related to each other
12. However, the history of the connection goes back to very early times and ended only 2,548 years ago, calculated back from today [1976 = 572 before Jmmanuel].
13. As I once explained to you, the last decisive settlement of the Earth by extraterrestrial intelligences took place about 13,500 Earth years ago.
14. As you know, several of the immigrant horde became renegades, including a man in the rank of a half-Ischwish called Viracocoha, who was already very old and extremely power-hungry.
15. His name is still handed down on the Earth today, but with a small change, because for a long time now he has only been called Viracocha and also as Jschwisch, although he was only in half the rank of such a person.
16. Under his patronage and his cruel leadership, the highlands of Tiahuanaco at an altitude of about 4,000 metres were conquered, as was the Delta Island, which you call Easter Island.
17. After this conquest Viracocoha settled with a special bodyguard of cherubim on the small island Mot, which is situated in front of Easter Island and which you call Motunui or similar to my knowledge today.
18. At that time it was called Mot because the cherubim were animal-human life forms, in this case they were all birdlike.
19. Mot means bird in our original language, so the island was called the Mot island, or also the island of the bird people, as it is still called today.
20. So Viracocoha or Viracocha resided there.
21. He and his followers, escaped Lyrans like many others, who came to the Earth, were of gigantic physique, by earthly measure about eleven meters tall.
22. They were the ones who taught the dwarfish, normal-growing inhabitants of Tiahuanaco and Easter Island – who were procreations between earthlings and previously immigrated intelligences from the vastness of the universe – in many things, providing them with their own highly developed technology and teaching them how to operate the devices and machines.
23. Thus they also taught the natives of Tiahuanaco and Easter Island the work of stonemasonry, and they let themselves be celebrated as gods.
24. With the help of the giants and their machines and other equipment, the natives worked many meters large head formations out of the lava stone, placed these, also with the help of machines, randomly around the island.
25. Similar events took place in the areas you call Pisco, Nazca and Sacsayhuaman, because the same giants had settled there.
26. Thus many statues and other structures were created, whereby also the shape of the spaceships on Easter Island were reproduced from rocks of the lava walls, which have survived to this day, namely oval-shaped stones, because the spaceships had this shape.
27. After several centuries, the exact time is also veiled to us, the giants were attacked by a sudden epidemic that was unknown to them and cost the lives of many of them.
28. Finding no cure for the epidemic, they fled Earth in their spaceships, set off into space and have since disappeared.
29. Despite the most eager investigations of our scientists, no trace of them has been found to this day.
30. There is therefore the possibility that, despite their flight from Earth, they were attacked and killed by the mysterious plague in their space ships, while their ships shot aimlessly through space, were attracted by some star and smashed to pieces.
31. Our probability calculations very much favour this.
32. Especially on Easter Island, the fleeing giants left behind a desperate people who were suddenly deprived of all technology because their giant gods had taken everything with them.

33. So also several hundred unfinished head statues remained in the lava walls of the volcano craters, in order to never be completed.
34. In complete desperation, the islanders tried to retrieve their escaped gods by trying to complete the unfinished stone heads with primitive stone fist wedges, which of course failed miserably and was abandoned after a few years.
35. Despite much research, we could not find out why the islanders believed that by completing the stone heads they could bring back the giant gods.
36. This is an unsolvable riddle for us.
37. Since the completion of the stone heads failed miserably, the call became loud after some years that the putting on of bright red hats would calm the escaped giants and bring them back.
38. But how and why this call came about is also a mystery to us.
39. In any case, some crane-like machines and other primitive aids were used to build scaffolds and platforms on the many gigantic heads that already existed, after which large hats were poured onto the heads from a mixture of red earth, sand and small stones.
40. Some dozens of such hats, whose original form is also a mystery to us, were made in a small volcanic crater, which after their completion were rolled to the heads and lifted up by the crane-like machines.
41. According to our probability calculations, these hats must have been imitations of helmet-like structures of the giants, which we will probably not be able to prove.
42. In general, many concerns about these giants and their activities on Earth at that time are mysterious to us, and we cannot find a solution for it.
43. We only know that the giants left their last sign of life somewhere in a distant solar system of the constellation known to you as Andromeda, where exactly we do not know because there, somewhere on an inhabited world, they brought the knowledge of the existence of the Earth, after which from there thousands of years later a larger expedition started and reached the Earth.
44. They were members of a human race of an average size of 180 cm who brought a message from the giants of Tiahuanaco and lived there for 20 years and 7 months.
45. This was, calculated back from today, very exactly 2,568 years ago, we could clearly see that.
46. During the nearly 21 years of stay of the Andromedans, unknown to us, they established a quite high culture, built electrical energy centres, whose wiring they laid under the ground, protected by half-pipe channels created by them, over which your scientists still today break their heads, because they are not able to fathom their precision manufacture and do not grasp the purpose.
47. Like the giants, the Andromedans, who were unable to adapt properly to the Earth's climate and atmosphere, were struck by the same mysterious plague after about twenty years, causing them to flee in panic.
48. They, too, have since disappeared and probably all have perished.
49. This, dear friend, is in broad outline the story around Easter Island, Tiahuanaco and some other regions.
50. Unfortunately I do not know more about it.

...

53. The stone formations clearly show very sharp, narrow-lipped and pinched mouth parts, unusually low forehead shapes as well as extremely deep eyes.

...

Billy:

22. Okay, but these giants, were they only in the places you mentioned, or were they, or others, in other places on the Earth?

Semjase:

56. This race stayed exclusively in the areas I mentioned.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_230

Billy:

On Friday, 10 December 1976 Semjase explained to me all sorts of things about the Easter Island and its inhabitants, as well as about the stone head colossuses. Thereby she also spoke about machines that originated from extraterrestrials. With them the colossal heads were made, transported and erected. Unfortunately, she did not describe these machines in more detail, but it would be important for us to know what kind of machines they were. She also spoke of cranes and other devices that the extraterrestrials made available to the islanders. Somehow, I find that it was irresponsible of the extraterrestrials to put their technology into the hands of such underdeveloped human beings of Earth....

Quetzal:

72. This open engagement with Earth-humans who were still so primitive is also incomprehensible to us, so we can only surmise the assumption that the far-travelled people must have been refugees who settled with the islanders in order to have a place of refuge with them that was not anticipated there by persecutors.

73. This assumption is also based on the fact that the foreigners did not make their actual high technology available to the islanders, as you call them, because the machines Semjase reported on were primitive constructions made of palm wood.

74. At that time the Easter Island was densely forested with palm trees, which were cut down in masses until extinction.

75. The palm wood was used for the construction of primitive machines, which Semjase told you about.

76. Hence the heads sculptured, i.e. chiselled out of lava rock, were for transportation hoisted onto machines made of palm wood and transported with them.

77. When the head colossi created by stonemasons were finished, round tree trunks were shoved under the figures, which were made with lianas etc. to a trunk dragging sledge.

78. However, these triangularly manufactured trunk dragging sledges did not rest on the ground, but on further palm wood trunks, which were likewise triangular and arranged in a long row up to the destination.

79. In this way, the head colossi could be transported over long distances as if on rails.

80. And so that the head figures, weighing many tons, could glide properly on the debarked palm wood trunks, they were both smeared with greasy things and continuously wetted with water.

81. The power of movement of the trunk dragging sledges was a large number of human beings, who pushed these dragging sledges with wooden poles jerkily, while others pulled the whole thing forward on long ropes made of lianas etc.

82. In order to then place the heavy structures on prefabricated platforms, ramps were built from lava stone on which the head giants were shoved, after which the trunk dragging carriage with the stone colossus resting on it was lifted centimetre by centimetre by human power and continuously supported underneath again with lava stones.

83. In addition, from behind first small and then ever larger palm wood poles were shoved under the dragging sledge and thereby everything was prevented from falling back.

84. In addition, further ropes were attached to the uppermost part of the stone head, which extended to the front and were pulled by human beings, whereby overall a crane procedure resulted.

85. These were the machines Semjase reported on.

Billy:

... And regarding Easter Island, we misunderstood everything, because we were assuming that the aliens had made their own machines available to the islanders. ...

Quetzal:

88. The foreigners actually only revealed instructions and cognitions regarding how the still very primitive Earth-humans could build their own devices and primitive machines for their use by the simplest means and develop a special technique.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

... This, like e.g. also the heads on the Easter Islands, which were transported and erected there with the help of Earth-foreigners, as also happened in other places, where it is seriously claimed that not Earth-foreigners, but the Earth-foreigners themselves transported the enormous weights of tons rolling on tree trunks and then also lifted up the monoliths weighing many tons with tree trunks and other wood and multiple man-power, etc. Sfath took me to such places many times and let me see everything as it was tremendously impressive and real, and quite different from what our 'wise men' of research and science claim. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_829

Billy:

So, I think I may now speak openly and say that beings from the depths of the space of this universe visited the Earth before there were Earthlings.

Since then, however, their descendants have come here again and again, creating many things for the human beings of the Earth in the last 390,000 years or so, which were often only achieved with hovering techniques.

Especially what concerned the moving, setting up and stacking of building elements weighing tons – such as 10, 20, 30, 50 tons or even heavier elements – was done by technology that made it possible to levitate the materials.

In very few cases, something was also moved telekinetically, but this was a real rarity.

The processing of the heavy elements was usually done by machine, if one may say so to what was just used.

The machining was done such that the elements were so accurate to the hundredth or even thousandth of a millimetre that everything fitted together in such a manner that practically not even a hair could be pushed in between. This is precisely something that the 'clever' earthlings of today, who deal with these things of the past in big words and 'knowing', cannot understand how everything really came about in this respect.

Their wild fantasies of how it was and how it all came about are truly hilariously daft.

Well, when the earthlings at a much later time – as a result of traditions, etc. – worked, hewed and chiselled stones, that was primitive again.

But the fact is that the earthlings at that time did not have heavy machinery with which they could have done everything, and especially not with human power, as many archaeologists etc. imaginatively spout about and think up the most impossible constructions with which the human beings of earlier civilisations are supposed to have made the impossible possible and managed it.

Also, with guidance and assistance, entire cities were built all over the Earth, some of which, however, sank in the seas or in large lakes in later times as a result of natural phenomena, were overgrown by primeval forests or others were covered by sand drifts.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_832

Billy:

Now, also the thousands of languages of Earth-humans, as well as the gods and their worship, and the religions and faiths arising from them, as well as the technologies by which many things were erected in ancient times which would have been impossible by human beings' powers, were therefore not created by Earth-humans alone, but by the knowledge and the energy and the capabilities which were from outside the Earth.

Ptaah:

24. But you should mention that we Plejaren and our very distant ancestors, who first came to Earth already 25 million years ago, were in no manner involved in these developments, just as we also never had anything to do with the foreigners, so they still today and never in the future will be able to contact us or fathom our presence.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_836

Billy:

Therefore he/she {“the earthling, the human being”} also does not know that actually the all-embracing being depends on swinging waves, as also on sounds resulting from them. The sun, as the authoritative celestial body of the system, orders the distance of planets away from it in its system area by means of swinging waves and sounds. Something that is obviously not yet known to the 'great' science of astronomy, because at least I have never heard of it. But it is the case, as I learned from Sfath and was able to sense and hear through his apparatus, that every system satellite actually orbits around the sun with a very specific swinging wave resp. vibration. This swinging wave also corresponds to a very specific wavelength as well as an impulse, which in turn produces a special sound. I could perceive resp. feel and hear all this through Sfath's equipment. And such swinging waves and sounds were also known and useful to the far-away travellers, who also used them in early times on Earth and produced monumental works with them. They were even able to move the heaviest things through the air with it, which I mentioned years ago when I mentioned something about the building of pyramids in Egypt. At that time I simply used the term 'telekinesis' to explain it, because it is possible through the powers of thought, which it actually was, but in this respect it was used to handle everything in the manner that certain swinging waves were used in connection with sounds. So basically I said at that time what is really true, but I did not explain that it was not a matter of mental teleportation in the actual sense, in order to 'transport' the heavy cuboid blocks for the building of the pyramids, but precisely through a teleportation that was based on swinging waves and sounds, in other words in a natural manner. If natural energy and power were used at that time to lift and levitate, then it was done in a different manner than through the actual application of thought power. And this was actually used at that time and even earlier for 'transport' by those who had travelled far and wide, also for the precise production of the huge cuboid blocks, which today could not be moved even with huge machines and could not be produced so skilfully with all modern tools.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_849

Quetzal:

... Our ancestors were never involved in bringing any religions to Earth, just as no buildings etc. were created by them, as the earlier foreigners did on the other hand and elevated themselves above Earth's humanity.

Electric Cars

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Electric_car

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_873

Billy:

... Electric cars produce just as much particulate matter as modern petrol engines and diesel engines. For decades, the authorities have been tightening emissions regulations practically all over the world, which has now led to heavy electric cars being manufactured and put on the road. And this has happened and continues to happen with an unparalleled degree of deceitfulness on the part of the authorities and science. The fact that everything is being tightened up for passenger cars and lorries is unjustified because electric cars emit practically as much dirt into the air as petrol and diesel vehicles, which not only pollutes the atmosphere with CO₂, but also with particulate matter, which is harmful to human beings, animals, creatures and all life-forms in general, and therefore also to all fauna and flora. Harmful because particulate matter – which is also caused by the spreading of manure in the open air, with the escape of manure ammonia and the combination with CO₂ from petrol diesel engines, which escapes into the air and thus impregnates it – causes serious illnesses through inhalation, with fatal consequences, not to mention respiratory problems in the form of respiratory congestion with long-term consequences, as well as cancers that cost many lives. Particulate matter corresponds to so-called PM 10 particles, which have a diameter of less than 10 thousandths of a millimetre, and PM 2.5 particles, which have a diameter of less than 2.5 thousandths of a millimetre and which enter the lungs of human beings, animals and fauna in general through breathing, just as all plants resp. all flora absorb particulate matter. And how harmful this is for the individual life-forms varies according to their resistance, but in any case it can be harmful or even fatal. Human beings in particular, however, breathe in this particulate matter, and it is unavoidable, because the air pollution caused by electric vehicles is even higher, and the effective truth – which is vehemently denied and disputed by all those governments, scientists, manufacturers and salespeople who can 'earn' a profit in some wise by lying, deceiving and misleading the people.

There was once talk of hybrid drives for electric vehicles, whereby a hybrid drive, when in operation, also has an electric motor with a battery and an internal combustion engine. The main distinction here is between a full hybrid and a plug-in hybrid. Full hybrids are built in such a manner that they charge the electric motor while driving, while plug-in hybrids also have a charging cable.

Logically, electric vehicles do not emit any exhaust fumes, which means they also do not produce particulate matter, but particulate matter is not only a waste product of combustion engines, as it is also produced elsewhere, namely through tyre wear and the use of brakes. However, particulate matter is also produced by the roads themselves, which are a very significant source and cause much more particulate matter than the vehicles themselves. The amount of particulate matter produced by a car depends on its weight, so the driving style of the car must also be taken into account, as well as the type of tyres and brakes. But the surface of the road is also very important, as is the amount of dust on it, because this is stirred up when driving and spreads in the air, is inhaled by human beings and causes illness and suffering. So in this respect alone, electric cars are no better, which also makes it absolutely clear that electric cars do not solve the problem of particulate matter as a pathogen, nor do they prevent its particles from entering the bloodstream when inhaled.

Although very little particulate matter is produced when braking, this is because a so-called recuperation brake is usually used. When this is activated, the engine stops driving the wheels, which means that the vehicle practically decelerates itself while travelling. Consequently, the motor acts as a generator and creates electricity from the kinetic resp. moving energy of the still moving wheels, which in turn charges the battery.

However, because electric vehicles are much heavier than those with combustion engines and also have greater torque, their tyres are a major source of particulate matter when accelerating. Electric vehicles with small batteries produce slightly less particulate matter than large vehicles, which is clear. Large cars with large batteries and a long range, on the other hand, produce more particulate matter than comparable cars with combustion engines due to their high weight and enormous acceleration.

The smaller the particles of particulate matter are, the more harmful they are to the health of human beings who breathe them in, as the organism is unable to excrete them via the respiratory tract. As they are respirable, they can spread to the lymphatic system and into the bloodstream and trigger cardiovascular problems, as well as lung cancer, diabetes, respiratory distress and other life-threatening respiratory diseases.

Electronic Voice Phenomenon (EVP)

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Electronic_voice_phenomenon

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_007

Semjase:

218. Most cases of electronic voice phenomena can be traced back most definitely to the radio you are familiar with, whereby so-called amateur radio enthusiasts often allow themselves their jokes.

219. But on the other hand, many of these contacts occur by means of communication of space travellers.

220. However, the thoughts of human beings also play an important role and often impose themselves as audible voices – and namely not only on tapes but openly audibly.

221. Often such a questioner of tape voices unconsciously imitates a voice that somehow appeals to him in his thoughts and in so doing transmits exactly the answer to the tape that one wants to have or hear.

Billy:

But how is that possible?

Semjase:

222. If I had to explain that to you, it would be extremely complicated and lengthy.

223. I can tell you, however, that every receiver is also a transmitter and can catch highest swinging waves of thought and pass them on to a receiver.

Billy:

So then electronic tape voices would not at all be phenomena of another dimension or world of spirits?

Semjase:

224. That isn't entirely correct because just as there are genuine mediums who are able to enter into connection with other dimensions, there are also genuine electronic tape voice phenomena that really come from overall consciousness-blocks of various fine-fluidal worlds.

225. However, there are just as few of these as genuine mediums.

226. Unfortunately, there is a lot of deception and charlatantry in this area as well, which is attributable to the desire to show off and so forth of the human beings.

227. The electronic voice phenomena known on Earth are, as a rule, only based on retrievals from the storage-banks (Akashic records) and are valueless and meaningless, while the genuine recordings are kept secret.

Billy:

Whereby the so-called supernatural of course does not exist in any way, because everything and everything is always naturally explainable and also naturally given. The supernatural exists only in the ignorance and the incomprehension of man, because he has no knowledge about all those things which he cannot understand and cannot explain himself. Truthfully everything so-called supernatural is absolutely natural and thus also classified according to the corresponding laws of spirit or matter, which are able to give an explanation for everything and everyone, whereby something supernatural becomes a fact of non-existence. Everything that can be grasped and perceived, everything that can be seen and heard and everything that can be felt, recognized, experienced and experienced, etc., is always real, real and natural in every case, regardless of whether it takes place on a spiritual or material level or on a medium level between spirit and matter, which is so often called the level of the supernatural or the supernatural by parapsychologists and esoterics who do not understand it.

Elementary Beings

https://en.anthro.wiki/Elementary_being

Billy:

36. Do you know anything about elemental beings, about witches, as well as an organisation in Findhorn {Findhorn Foundation} that deals extensively with elemental beings and biological horticulture – resulting from –, deals with?

...

37. Well, I know about the existence of witches, the elementary beings.

38. As far as I know, they do not connect with us very coarse-material terrestrial humans in linguistic or telepathic-communicative form.

39. One can probably see these beings on good occasions, but this presupposes a complete equalisedness in conscious form of human beings.

40. Now my question, which is also a question of Elsi and Margreth, who were in Findhorn this year and looked into the matter there:

41. What is being done there, and how real is everything there?

42. Are those people there actually directly or indirectly connected with elementary beings and are they able to obtain information from them about the biological-elementary cultivation of plants, etc.?

Quetzal:

50. What do you think about it?

Billy:

43. I do not know, but according to my knowledge such contacts should not lie in the realm of the possible, because to my knowledge all elementary forms of being are in much higher vibration ranges, so also in all telepathic and acoustic-communicative ones, and are not able to penetrate into our lower lying ranges.

Quetzal:

51. With your explanation you have given yourself the truthful answer.

52. What exists in Findhorn, as well as in branches spread from there in different countries, is founded on purely delusional aspects.

53. The existence of the elementary beings cannot be denied, for their existence is proven and of vital necessity, especially for the world of flora and fauna, but it is completely impossible for the terrestrial human being to be in contact with them acoustically or telepathically or in any other manner, but also not the elementary forms with the terrestrial human being.

54. The persons operating in Findhorn, who identify themselves or try to identify themselves with alleged contacts with elementary beings, are quite simply delusional in nature and live in the state of an acute and chronic imagination, which has sometimes even assumed very strong delusional forms, in connection with a rather peculiar belief in hierarchy, which is connected with suggestive meditation and also corresponding prayers, etc.

55. Very precisely examined in an analytical manner, this enterprise is a further outgrowth of a dangerous cult religion without actual value, which furthermore ended in a stagnation of consciousness, even if the appearance is different.

Billy:

44. But tell me:

45. Why do they have such a horrendous success with their cultivation methods, which are allegedly attributed to elementary beings by them?

Quetzal:

56. This is mainly due to the fact that cult followers of this form usually develop a considerable instinct for seemingly fruitless, but in reality exceptionally valuable and fertile planting ground, on ...

Billy:

46. You mean very fertile soil that seems fruitless and perhaps even barren to the outside world?

Quetzal:

57. That is the meaning of my words.

58. On this soil all plant forms thrive excellently.

59. Furthermore, the fanatical or purely religious attitude of those concerned plays an important role, because these vibrations, in turn, influence the plants and drive them to grow, after which they must grow very well.

Billy:

47. Then at least this attitude is not bad for people.

Quetzal:

60. The attitude itself not, but the erroneous faith and the resulting false machinations.

Billy:

48. Well, then another question:

49. Margreth once told me a story about Australia, in connection with elemental beings and a clover stick, the ...

Quetzal:

61. You once told me about it, but I could not clarify these things.

62. If, however, the representation corresponds to the facts, then no elementary beings were involved in the event, but only Margreth's thought world, which influenced the plant through her wishful swinging waves and thus allowed it to grow and prosper in the manner that corresponded with her wishes.

Billy:

50. I find your explanation logical.

Billy:

... A long time ago, I once asked you for the total number of all elements in the universe. At that time, you told me that you would not be allowed to give any information about that, unless the exact number would be found out by the human beings of the Earth themselves. Now, again to the question about the number of elements and whether there is a star in the universe, where all these elements are found together?

Semjase:

57. There is no such star, because that would be contrary to the laws of Creation.

Billy:

Ah, good. Is it right that the total number of elements is 280?

Semjase:

58. How did you come across this result?

Billy:

It was not me, my child, but Guido. For my part, I have only calculated that this number must, indeed, correspond to the correctness because it has been found that this number, multiplied in a sevenfold form with the original height of the Giza Pyramid, results in the current speed of light to the tenths place exactly.

Semjase:

59. You are simply unbelievable.

60. The number of the elements is just as correct as also your calculation with the sevenfold multiplying of the original pyramid height.

61. The end result actually yields the exact number of the present light constant.

Billy:

How Guido actually came across the number 280, that I do not know exactly. He only wrote me a calculation formula. It is important there, however, that the base number 280 is right, with which I could calculate further and do some checks. So I simply applied the pyramid height number to this 280 and then multiplied the result in a unique sevenfold form, from which then the result of the speed of light arose.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_134

Billy:

... The other question is: do you know what really happened in the Big Bang? I mean about whether or not all building blocks already existed in the tiny energy flea from which the original explosion of the Universe, i.e. the Creation, arose? Or is it possible that all elements formed only after the Big Bang? How many elements, i.e. basic building blocks, were concentrated and where? ...

Ptaah:

...

175. There are 280 raw materials, or basic elements, and these were already contained in the tiny original core from which the big bang developed.

176. The elements did not form only after the explosion but were already existent before in the tiny core which we call Energy-Fetchen.

177. To repeat:

178. As you understand absolutely correctly, the basic building blocks of original material consisting of 280 elements, which were the basis for all later matter and today's Universe, were included in the Energy-Fetchen, which was the original core of all that exists in today's Universe and all its dimensions.

179. Of course, all of the fine material elements were also equally included in the original core, i.e. the Energy-Fetchen.

180. The original generation of the Universe resulted from an idea of the original Creation which created the original core, just a flea-sized product full of energy that was created out of a consciousness form by itself and that accumulated its energy and evolved in strength.

181. In the balance of the accumulation of energy and strength, there originated all 280 basic elements and, with these, the Energy-Fetchen, in which an immense pressure and a temperature of millions of degrees developed, causing the original explosion of the Universe – the Big Bang, as this process is called by you.

Billy:

... But I persistently kept silent that Sfath had told me this; he also said that he was aware of 243, but that not all of them were universal ... Sfath told me that he knew more elements than he told me, but that I should remember that and not just take what the Earth scientists told me as the truth.

...

... What is therefore perhaps important to say is that earthly science has actually confirmed that around 120 elements have been found or discovered to date, which means that it has at least been proven that there are not only the elements Earth, water, fire and air, but many more. But I can't say which ones they are. Of course, I also don't know the names of those mentioned by Sfath.

...

... I have learnt that Earthlings already know about 120 elements, but I think it is probably better to keep quiet, because talking about them could only cause trouble. I can do that now in our conversation, but I am sure something will come out of it, like it is all fantasy and lies anyway. Besides, firstly, the 243 elements mentioned by Sfath are not known to earthly scientists, and

... Through such machinations, large amounts of taxpayers' money are squandered senselessly instead of using the money to care for the poor and underprivileged in their own country and also to do everything possible to protect the vital nature with all its ecosystems and the increasingly impaired fauna and flora. However, this is completely neglected by the leaders of the responsible state officials, because, as we have come to realise, these 'leaders' are only loud-mouthed and lack expertise in what is really very urgently needed to preserve vital nature and its fauna and flora. Not even their so-called experts are educated and experienced enough to recognise what needs to be done effectively. They do not realise what is urgently needed for nature and its flora and fauna, but instead they are doing the opposite by mismanaging the landscapes, forests, waters, mountains and regions, with the result that everything is having an overall detrimental effect on the naturalness of all ecosystems and therefore also on all life. And as we have seen, which is frightening to judge, this is the result of the delusion of know-it-all behaviour and power-grabbing by the representatives of all administrative offices, etc., which prevents the correct thing from being done to preserve nature and its fauna and flora. It also results, as we have seen, that these officials have no real knowledge or experience of natural life and therefore counteract it with false orders and commands, which is the right thing to do. As a result, human beings who responsibly and with true knowledge regarding life, the need for the correct flourishing and existence of nature and its fauna and flora do the right thing, consequently they can flourish and live, are hounded with false impositions in the form of orders, commands, laws and punishments, etc., and thus prevented from doing what is necessary.

Euthenasia

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Euthanasia>

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Assisted_suicide

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_031

Semjase:

639. Besides this natural and evolutionary irreparability, however, there is another form of a similar kind.

640. This form, however, renders a life-form immobile.

641. This form can be caused by various dangerous factors, whereby lack of oxygen is the most frequent cause, if we assume earthly living conditions.

642. Since Earth-humans, like ourselves, require oxygen and the various gases that permeate it, it leads to irreparability with complete inhibition of movement if such life-forms are deprived of oxygen for some time.

643. The absence of oxygen and the gases it contains causes a paralysis of certain sectors of the brain which contain the instinct of self-preservation.

644. The brain is thus paralysed in certain sectors and rendered non-functional.

645. Thinking stops and the body, the limbs and organs etc. react only involuntarily and thus reflexively.

646. The life-form still lives in this state, but it is capable neither of thought nor of movement.

647. Life only takes place organically-functionally, like a mechanism.

648. If food is given to the body, it is digested, but the brain is no longer able to utilise or realise it.

Billy:

Girl, that is cruel. – That is saying that such a human being is dead alive.

Semjase:

649. Sure, that is very accurately expressed even by you, because such damaged life-forms are in a sense actually living dead.

Billy:

Now I understand a great deal more. This is outrageous, and I really wonder whether euthanasia would not be appropriate in such cases. I have often thought a lot about this, but I have never really been clear about whether assisted suicide should be used in such cases. I simply think that in such cases a life-form really has a right to euthanasia, because if the consciousness is no longer functional and simply languishes in darkness, then life has become useless and meaningless. The consciousness is no longer able to fulfil its task and is sunk into darkness and uselessness. I think that in such cases euthanasia is actually absolutely justified. What I do not find correct, however, is that euthanasia is also carried out or should be carried out where the consciousness of the life-form is still intact. Euthanasia is often demanded only because the life-form is old or has to endure great pain to a certain extent, or simply because certain human beings seem useless and superfluous or are afraid of illness, of any negative effects and of the uncertain end. In such cases I think that euthanasia is unjustified and should never be carried out. I find it appropriate and justified only where the consciousness and subconsciousness are no longer functioning and where there has also been a sinking of consciousness into darkness. This would be the case, as you say, in the case of an absolute and irreparable irreparability. For my part, however, I have not yet become clear whether this is really the case. But if this is an assumption, then euthanasia is unjustified. Where do you and yours stand on this?

Semjase:

650. You speak from the mind of all of us.

651. Your thoughts are also ours.

652. Only recently father spoke of the factor humanism, and also in this case his words are confirmed.

653. Earth-humans are very unhumane and unreasonable.

654. We are informed that euthanasia is forbidden by law in your country and that you are involved in various legal proceedings.

655. Euthanasia, however, is a natural law of true humanity, and by nature it is applied daily, and always where this law must be fulfilled.

656. But this law also applies to Earth-humans, and therefore they do not commit a crime when they apply euthanasia according to the law of nature.

657. But it is only justified where the facts you have mentioned apply and an irreparable irreparability appears.

658. Euthanasia, however, must never be permitted and is contrary to the laws of the Creation and nature where it is carried out only for reasons of tiredness of life, pain, sorrow and worry, feeling abandoned, old age and as a result of many other things of the same direction.

Billy:

That is a clear answer, which also tells me that irreparability therefore really means being dead alive. But then how is it with you and other highly evolved life-forms in the universe, do you or others also bring euthanasia into use?

Semjase:

659. Certainly, it is applied everywhere and in those cases where there is no possibility of any change for the better.

660. But these possibilities are much greater in relation to the earthly ones.

Billy:

Are you saying that you can cure irreparability?

Semjase:

661. In certain cases, yes!

Asket {3rd February 1953}:

12. Through our incessant explorations we again found this world, as well as also our original homeland, and the very distant descendants of those who, from the earliest time, were the responsible ones who were relevant to the human life of this world, because a portion of the humans of the Earth were not born here.

13. Many are descendants of those who came out of the expanse of outer space, and indeed from that space that you name Lyra and Vega with the Eye of God, the Ring Nebula.

14. In those territories lie, namely, the real and ultimate original homeland of the later terrestrial human races.

15. Certainly, today, the actual direct descendants of the terrestrial forefathers no longer populate the territory and spaces and systems around the Ring Nebula and the Vega and Lyra heavenly bodies in a spacetime shifted configuration, rather they live today on space and time shifted world bodies far on the other side of the system that you name the Seven Heavenly Bodies "Seven Sisters", respectively, the Pleiades, approximately four hundred light-years distant.

16. They are the distant descendents of your [ie. Earth-humans] and our actual original forefathers.

Asket {4th February 1953}:

33. The might of the BAFATH beings, the aforementioned malevolent intelligences in the pyramid at Giza, coming from the distant Ring Nebula region and descendants of the ancestors of Earth's humanity, is very great, and everywhere they know how to exert their influence.

Semjase:

39. A human being is capable of living for several hundred or even thousands of years when it has attained a certain spiritual and consciousness-based relative state of perfection and a correspondingly high and healthy mode of life.

40. But after this stage of about 40 to 60 million years, the spirit no longer needs a purely material body, and it becomes a half-spirit body.

41. It then lives only half-materially for another 60 to 80 million years and in such high spheres that one can no longer get in contact with it from the purely material-human vantage point, unless there is a very high level of consciousness-based and spiritual evolution.

42. After 60 to 80 million years, then, the half-spirit i.e. half-material form transforms into the first pure-spirit-form and enters the level of Arahath Athersata.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_007

Billy:

My next question deals with the earthly human races. We have here yellow, red, white, brown, and black human beings; how does that come? Why is there this colour differentiation?

Semjase:

109. This actually belongs in the history of Earth humanity, which I wanted to continue to tell you.

...

111. On Earth there are not only the five colour races mentioned by you, it's just that the others are completely unknown to you.

112. In part, they live in places where no human being has been able to find them yet, partly...

Billy:

Do you mean that they might perhaps live underground, as for example the claim goes that this would be the case in Mexico or that they live under domes in inaccessible mountains or inside of hills, about which also mythological things are told?

Semjase:

113. Certainly, and here and there these races also step into the world of the Sun and mingle with the inhabitants of the surface.

114. Particularly in countries with many different races they do not attract attention and can move around unencumbered, especially if they veil their faces in the way customary in the country.

115. It gets already more difficult, if the colour of their face is very noticeable, so for example bluish, who ...

Billy:

... live in the Indian area, yes?

...

Semjase:

118. But further, I wanted to say that some differently coloured races already became extinct a long time ago.

119. But in the same way they are all the product of the celestial sons, i.e. they were begotten of them, just like the Earth races still existing today.

120. The celestial sons or starfarers, as we want to call our forebears, were at home on many different planets of stars, in a different space-time configuration or far away from the SOL-system, whereby the planets were fundamentally different in climatic terms, hence they also produced other races which were able to adapt to the climate from the ur-beginning.

121. Due to the climate conditions, also a corresponding skin colour developed, of which there are innumerable in the universe.

122. Their body sizes were also different because, depending on the gravity of the planet in question, they ranged from only 50 centimetres tall up to several metres.

123. There were and are even beings, which you call gigantic ones, giants or titans, and such beings too once endowed the Earth with life.

124. They too produced offspring here, but they were gradually exterminated because they were usually very malicious and exercised tyranny.

125. The different colour races of today are, thus, descendants of our variously coloured forebears, who came from different planets of foreign stars.

Billy:

So, then today's human beings on the Earth were not actually created on the Earth alone, and they neither are descended from the apes?

Semjase:

126. Do you actually believe in this ape-human being theory?

Billy:

I am not stupid after all. My intellect tells me something different than the crazy brain of a Darwin, who has brought this horror tale to the world and fraudulently underpinned it with falsified bones of apes, which to this day has been concealed and kept secret by the responsible persons.

Semjase:

...

129. Well, you are right with your view that the human beings of the Earth are not descendants of the apes.

130. They were partially begotten by our forebears, who also mixed themselves with Earth beings, who were simply called "Eves" at that time.

131. A designation that means nothing other than ...

Billy:

... the bearing women or the one giving birth.

Semjase:

132. Sure, but once again, you beat me to it.

...

135. But the Earth beings at that time were of the most diverse forms and kinds.

136. Some of them were completely wild creatures of human-like forms, some of which had been marooned on the Earth in earlier millennia by our forebears, that is, their descendants.

137. These descendants of the marooned were abused by foreign spacefarers and these fertilised also by genetic manipulation different animal species and produced new life forms by genetic engineering.

138. One of these, by the way, is the ape being still known today, which represents a human-animal mutation, namely the Pan paniscus (bonobo = pygmy chimpanzee).

139. Thus, the ape being is descended from the human being – not vice versa.

140. Other ape beings resulted from natural evolution in the hominid line.

141. Your researchers and scientists have already found many in-between mutations between humans and ape beings, but usually only as skeletons or partial skeletons.
142. These in-between mutations, part human, part ape being, are known to the human beings under names such as Africanus, Peking Man, and Neanderthal and so on.
143. Four different species of them have survived over all past millennia, and their descendants still live today, although no longer in large hordes, but only isolated or in very small groups.
144. They are so wild and shy that human beings will hardly ever see them.
145. The human beings have coined special names for them:
146. Yeti and so forth.
147. The Eves were besides Earth-created hominid living creatures nothing more than very wild descendants of those marooned thousands of years ago, from whom at that time any tools were taken away.
148. They were like wild animals that lived in large hordes.
149. When our forebears finally settled on the Earth, they broke a strict law and inflicted Gewalt on these beings.
150. This means that they cast their spell on the female beings, who despite their wildness were somehow beautiful, and mated with them.
151. From this the first higher developed forebears of today's human beings emerged.
152. They were called Adam in the old language of the forebears, which means human being of Earth.
153. For the first of them, this designation then remained as his name, and you still use it today.
154. But since our forebears were mixed races of different colours and sizes, they of course also produced different colours and races of different sizes completely according to their characteristics.
155. The smallest ones were 50 cm tall, while the largest and most vicious ones reached some twelve metres.
156. Their appearance was also varying, and some type of them were only remotely reminiscent to human forms.
157. They were left to die out or were killed if they were too vicious.
158. In many cases, they hid themselves in far remote areas and survived for thousands of years, as their average age was about 1,500 years.
159. But little by little, they also became victims of the time or of the human beings.
160. The last of the vicious ones, whose life was ended with Gewaltsamkeit, died a little more than 230,000 years ago.
161. Today, according to our knowledge, only seven such beings of the old human life forms still live on the Earth; where they remain so well hidden that they will certainly never be found and will one day die a peaceful death, and that without descendants, because they have become too old and passive for propagation.
162. More common than these gigantic ones, titanic, and cyclops, as you call them, were the simple giants.
163. They often served great and power-greedy rulers.
164. They were called "Goliaths" and were especially used for purposes of war.

Billy:

... How did the first life arise?

Semjase:

202. Your scientists are mostly aware of that.

Billy:

So, it wasn't just a matter of a living creature being there, but everything developed from a so-called ur-atmosphere and the amino acids resulting from it?

Semjase:

203. Sure.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_009

Semjase:

120. At our fifth contact I finished the history of humankind at the time when 50,000 years ago according to earthly calendar our homeworlds found freedom and peace.

121. Before that time, 70,000 human beings fled under the leadership of the scientist Pelegon.

122. With spaceships, which they had seized, they fled through the space out of another configuration of space and time into the one of the Milky Way of the DERN universe and settled on the Earth.

123. Under Pelegon's leadership, there were 200 sub-leaders; scientists who were each responsible for a specific field of knowledge.

124. Pelegon was unanimously recognised and respected by them and all others as king of essence of wisdom (JHWH/God).

125. In the course of the millennia they built large cities and inhabited all continents of the Earth.

126. Unfortunately, this only went well for barely 10,000 years before lust for might regained the upper hand and a deadly war raged over the world.

127. Everything without residue was destroyed, and only a few thousand human beings were able to survive, while others fled again into the outer space and into the old space-time configuration and settled on distant worlds.

128. For the next 7,000 years the Earth was no longer flown to, during which time those who stayed behind became completely wild and degenerated.

129. After that the descendants of those who had settled on distant worlds returned.

130. Again they were led by an JHWH.

131. Under such a kind of JHWH command, the distant descendants later built Atlantis and Mu.

132. Two huge cities on two different continents.

133. For thousands of years, they lived in complete friendship and in peace, until some scientists again succumbed to the greed for might and wanted to seize the rule.

134. However, having become tired of the constant wars, the peoples rose against them, hence they seized spacecrafts and fled into the outer space; according to earthly calendar about 15,000 years ago.

135. For two millennia they and their descendants lived in a neighbouring solar system.

136. Two millennia during which they had become very evil and were only able to uphold a certain regulation under the strictest discipline.

137. Through mutations and researches they achieved a very long life span, which amounted to more than three thousand years.

138. Obsessed with imperiousness, they left their world about 13,500 Earth-years ago and came back to the Earth.

139. Their supreme leader was the scientist ARUS, who was also called "The Barbarian."

140. As already JHWH Pelegon nearly 190,000 years ago, he also had 200 leaders or subleaders, who were each responsible for a specific field of knowledge.

141. They settled in two parts in the far north and in today's America (Florida), whereby they constantly forged ahead to Atlantis and Mu, in order to invade them with war.

142. And only a few millennia after their renewed requisitioning of the Earth, they succeeded in completely destroying Mu and Atlantis.

143. Few survivors went into servitude, while great scientists were able to flee and returned to the original homeworlds in the Pleiades.

144. But thousands of years before that point in time, the new intruders spread across the Earth, and JHWH ARUS ruled with a firm and bloody hand.

145. But also his subleaders usurped all kinds of things and made themselves more and more independent.
146. Within only three decades, they acted largely at their own discretion, even though they feared the punishments of the JHWH ARUS.
147. They pushed very far away from them the codex of preserving their own race pure under all circumstances and not allowing it to fall prey to mutations.
148. Forbidden and secretly, they went out and captured earth-created life-forms; but so also turned wild or mutated beings, which were very distant descendants of former human beings from the outer space.
149. The female creatures, beautiful in their wildness, were tamed and copulated with or fertilised with genetical manipulation by the leaders who called themselves celestial sons.
150. Case by case depending on their own races, they thus created mutated creatures; completely new life-forms that were of dwarfish stature, very gigantic or similar to animal forms.
151. Semjasa, the supreme leader of all subleaders, copulated with an EVA; a female creature who, according to his understanding, was still preserved as the most human-like and also quite beautiful one.
152. The descendant of this act was of male gender and a human being in good form.
153. Semjasa called him Adam, which is tantamount to HUMAN BEING OF EARTH.
154. Another copulation of the same kind brought forth a female creature, and in later years Semjasa determined that these two Adams had to mate together.
155. In the meantime, however, many other creatures of the same kind were conceived, who banded together into large groups and tribes.
156. From them today's humankind developed, which was already at its ur-beginning according to its races distributed to the most different continents.

Billy:

... Could it not be that at very early times our Earth once also served extraterrestrial beings as such a planet of banishment?

Semjase:

55. Sure, your assumption is correct.

56. In primeval times, variously fallible life-forms were banished to your Earth from various worlds in the universe, including our race.

57. But these early times can no longer be grasped by us either, and we have no precise data about them.

Ptaah:

699. Every life-form must follow the path of its own evolution, even if it leads in some manner to self-destruction.

Billy:

That sounds a bit crude and perhaps even barbaric. But it makes sense to me, because it is a law that is also anchored in nature. What degenerates negatively will be destroyed by itself if the law is not followed, because it cannot endanger the good life by doing so.

...

Semjase:

621. The human life-form IS a creation of the Creation.

622. So it is not descended from animals such as apes, as is so maliciously claimed among you on Earth.

623. The evolution of the human life-form is very long when the physical development of form is considered.

624. It was created out of first primitive life, but with the destiny of becoming human, and already enlivened by creational powers in the sense of becoming human.

625. Thus it was already determined in the first time of the Creation that the procreated form had to become human and ultimately human beings.

626. Thus this life-form is a fundamentally distinct species, from the very beginning.

627. Therefore it was also possible that on Earth at very early times the wild or feral human life-forms could be bred back to the actual human life-form by the appearance of new space travellers, and their intermingling with them.

628. So human life-forms that go feral no longer evolve, but a degeneration takes place, which could be called a devolution, as you said.

629. But this never goes so far as to cause the life-form to lose what is actually human, for at a certain point the degeneration ceases, because the subconscious instinct of self-preservation inhibits further retrogression.

630. This point is reached where all conscious knowledge and ability is paralysed and only material self-preservation prevails.

It is nice to see the home system again, isn't it? Somehow I feel at home on Earth – even though it often seems very foreign to me.

5. Every life-form is subject to the change of progressive evolution, subsequently it collects cognitions and truth.

6. Negative and positive powers become transformed in the balance and therewith, thus, in the power of life and constancy.

7. The path of evolution is very long and burdensome and it is marked by many kinds of external influences.

8. In particular, the influences of the same kind of life-forms exert powers over a single life-form, which this life-form is only able to control through living through greater spaces of time and teachings, from which understanding and recognition result.

9. This course of evolution belongs to the higher and highest life-forms just as it does also to the lower and lowest forms.

10. This is a creational law of evolution, which possesses its validity for all times and it is never subject to any kind of alterations.

Billy:

... what really is the case with this? By that, I mean, whether the Earth-human is actually so disproportionate and ugly, when he is compared to other life-forms in the Universe.

Ptaah:

39. The Earth-human is a descendant of a human form from the depths of the Universe that is very highly developed in every manner.

40. Accordingly, he/she is also highly developed in his/her proportional form.

41. In this connection, he/she is on an equal footing with our own race, which is already approximately 30 million years further developed.

42. Even life-forms that are still further developed have no better or more beautiful proportions, and even among them, there are those whom the Earth-human would describe as ugly.

43. The proportional beauty of the Earth-human was already recognised in ancient Greece, which is why the human beings surpassing this standard of beauty were called ADONIS [good-looking ones].

44. At that time, the Earth-human was somewhat wild, so the real beauty was only recognised in a few, while those, through whom it was recognised, were called the BEAUTIFUL ONES, if I use the current Earth-human terms for it.

45. At the present time, however, since the Earth-human has discarded his/her greatest wildness and consciously cares for their appearance, their given beauty comes to validity in its entire appearance, so today, in this regard, the majority of Earth humanity can be spoken of as Adonis forms.

46. This refers to the Earth-human's physiognomic, shape-related and proportional appearance.

47. The Earth-human is one of the most well-proportioned and best-looking human life-forms in the Universe, who is only somewhat surpassed by his actual ancestors, who have reached the best possible perfection in proportional regard.

48. The difference, however, is no longer very great because the material form is subject to limits and cannot be extended.

...

Ptaah:

66. At the earliest times, when the human being of the Earth was also produced by his/her indirect ancestors, his/her average age was reckoned at 1,007 years of life, for he/she, trained and informed by his/her progenitors, possessed an enormous level of knowledge and abilities.

67. Unexpectedly quickly, however, they fell to the religions with their erroneous teachings and were thereby deprived of the true knowledge and the truth.

68. They also necessarily began to work against all natural laws, became alienated to them, and lived in a recommendation-breaking and law-breaking manner.

69. Everything together served for the loss of the high average life span, which fell lower and lower over the course of thousands of years and levelled off at a twentieth of its earlier time, and indeed, especially because many different factors over many thousands of years negatively affected the life and also altered the genes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_041

Semjase:

99. When two life-forms live together in an alliance, differences of opinion inevitably arise.

100. However, these do not have to ausarten into quarrels, as is so often the case with the Earth-human beings.

101. So without exception there are also differences of opinion in our marriages.

102. And it would be very abnormal if it were not so.

...

104. Also with us, like everywhere else, all life-forms are varied in their evolution, so never two exactly alike poles are found together.

105. If it were different, it would mean a flattening and abolition of evolution.

106. Thus, two differently directed poles must always come together if evolution is to come about.

107. This means however, that these two different poles constantly rub against each other, so that two different opinions collide, and therefore differences of opinion must arise for the purpose of evolution.

108. This is an irrevocable law of the evolution, to which we and all other life-forms in all universes are assigned.

Billy:

Have you ever heard of the theory that the monkey could descend from humans? It was told to me a few days ago. I know the old crazy Darwinian theory, that humans are descended from monkeys - what idiocy -, but that the opposite theory is also applied, I do not find that so absurd in the relationship, namely that certain monkey-like creatures, which I would like to call ape-man, such as a certain type of snow man, which I have seen, are actually descended from humans in the form that they have degenerated to the extremely possible state. But I do not want to address the actual monkeys and so-called apes like Orangutang, which means forest man, the different gorilla species, the chimpanzees and the bonobos.

Semjase:

112. Your question is illogical.

113. On the one hand, you are aware that the human life-form corresponds to a special creation-act of the Creation and consequently is not derived from any other form of life, nor is it able to return to other forms of life through any natural or unnatural metamorphic processes.

Billy:

I did not say that you certainly misunderstood me. I was talking about ape people, not apes.

Semjase:

114. Sorry, it's my fault.

115. Of course, it is what you say.

116. The monkey-forms however are no human-relative life forms in the sense of a real relationship.

117. They are probably very human-like in their interests, but they are a pure fauna life form, whose earliest origin leads back to the semi-flora world.

118. They are indeed the most highly developed animal forms of this kind on the Earth, at least in the present time.

Billy:

You mean that other animal forms will develop to such a high level?

Semjase:

119. Sure, because that is evolutionary according to the development of the planet itself.

120. But this will take more than a million years.

Billy:

A meaningless matter when I consider that I have been walking the Earth here and there as a so-called normal person for millions of years. And it is even less important when I consider that billions of years ago I was still wafting around somewhere on a primeval world as an amino acid element, first to become a human archetype through a million years and then slowly, slowly to become a body-like human being, who one day was born an absolute idiot and took millions of years to really become normal. What else is a million-year-old? I really like to wait and then at that time I will entertain myself as a new personality with these animal intelligence beasts.

Semjase:

121. You are funny, but you could not be so wrong with what you said as a joke.

Billy:

You actually believe...? This is crazy.

Billy:

43. But how is it that Earth-humans are so small today despite their giant ancestors?

Semjase:

72. It is primarily the mixing factors with the Earth-originating human forms that are to blame for this, the crossbreeding genuses, as well as all the influences of the Earth itself, which is only able to carry smaller human beings.

73. Through these influences of the Earth all of our own ancestors also changed in their size, because they were also giants in former times.

74. In the course of the millennia, however, since they lived on Earth and became accustomed to it, they were subject to the alterational influences, so they became noticeably smaller in shape, thus we, as late direct descendants of them, show the same average size as their terrestrial humans.

75. There are exceptions, however, also with us, as you know, but also with you, whereby whole nations are affected by it.

76. This is in addition to those breeds that have kept their original size since primeval times as dwarf or giant breeds.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_070

Semjase:

26. Our early ancestors had mastered space travel for more than 22 million years, carried out expeditions and exploratory flights reaching far into space and came to Earth for the first time.

27. However, this [the Earth] was still deep in the late primordial development and was therefore left to time for the further development.

28. Nonetheless, Earth was often revisited to release criminal elements [humans] that were detrimental on the home worlds.

29. Only a few millennia, however, did this last, and then, for reasons unknown to us, they relinquished the Earth and left this world alone for many millions of years, during which life of all kinds, already developed on Earth, could continue to develop in a natural sense, except that at later times the abandoned life-forms mixed with human-like life-forms already on Earth, which happened for the first time a few million years ago.

Billy:

... Guido and I were talking about the prehistoric human beings, respectively the Stone Age humans, and there, the question arose as to when these had actually come so far that they banded together in larger groups and when these or their descendants built the first smaller and larger settlements, smaller or larger kraals [a rural village, typically consisting of huts surrounded by a stockade] or hamlets, etc. In addition, we also came to speak of the first real, ur-ur-prehistoric men, if one can actually designate the most distant, ur-ur-forefathers of the Earth-humans as such. Here, the question, then, is how large they actually were and whether they were already walking upright. ...

Quetzal:

38. The first human forms, which can already be very well designated in their origin as human beings, emerged around 49 million years ago.

39. Nevertheless, their appearance was not human but rather in the form that the Earth-human knows of the early hominid, due to his conceptions, because the first human forms still had nothing comparable with these.

40. In fact, these beings were only about 80 centimetres large, and they partially moved half-upright on their legs, and their excessively long arms partially clambered around in the trees.

41. The development of these beings lasted for a very long time, with the most diverse species following from it, which developed into actually recognisable humans in their first species – even the early hominids, as the Earth-human imagines them in their early stages – around 8.5 million years ago, while other species of the same genus appeared 4.5 and 6.5 million years ago.

42. There were precursors to these species, but already 12.6 and 16.7 million years ago.

43. From the more distant descendants of all these human forms, who appeared in various places on the Earth, such as in Africa, Australia, Japan, China, America, South America and in Europe, etc., as you now call these areas, there were already early accumulations of dwellings – settlements, as you say – in which whole kinships gathered together.

44. Such sites are known to us on Earth, and they exhibit an age of 736,000 and of 811,000, 970,000 and 1,200,000 years.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_217

Billy:

... recently, we talked about the primeval times of the Earth, and the issue arose, which Semjase also once talked about, that at least once on the Earth, there had been a global glaciation, ie a total global ice age, which dates back about 600 million years. At the same time, the entire equatorial belt should have also been covered by many meters of thick ice and by enormous glaciers. This, along with the great ice ages and the small ice ages that repeatedly moved across the planet since ages ago and will also continue to do so in the future. Through the total glaciation of global expansion, the entire Earth became a giant ball of ice, ie an actual ice planet. In addition, I ask you, Since you are also a geologist and an expert in terms of the ice ages and so on, how the Earth was able to turn into an ice planet at all and how the enormous masses of ice were able to melt and then disappear again. At the earliest times, the planet was, nevertheless, a giant glowing ball, before it solidified and formed actual land masses, on which then, in the end, mountains raised themselves through inner Earth movements and processes, etc.

Quetzal:

52. It corresponds to the truth that at early times on the Earth, the ice regions and glaciers had advanced into the tropical zones and also forced the equatorial regions and even the entire planet under a mantle of ice that was many meters thick. ...

63. Now, so that the Earth could free itself again from its enormous mantle of ice, the elementary, bubbling, inner life of the planet itself was decisive, namely the tremendous natural power of volcanism, through which the tremendous heat was generated, which eventually brought the ice crust of the Earth back to melting. ...

66. But in addition to the lava and the heat, the volcanoes also eject huge amounts of the finest dust particles, i.e. ash particles and so on and so forth, along with enormous masses of carbon dioxide, and these very factors are the ones that ensure that the heat of the sunlight is trapped in the atmosphere.

67. But primarily, it is carbon dioxide that is decisive for this heat effect, for throughout the entire global ice age, which lasted on Earth for 12.47 million years, this gathered together in unimaginable mass in the atmosphere, heating it to about 57 degrees, which entailed that a tremendous global greenhouse effect arose, through which the enormous masses of ice slowly began to melt, by what means the global freezing dissolved up to the small areas at the North Pole and the South Pole as well as in isolated mountain areas, etc.

68. This was also the case on the ground, which took place about 600 million years ago.

69. Of course, immense layers of clouds originated from the slow evaporation of the masses of ice, which surrounded the entire Earth as a closed cloud cover and which, in turn, led to a renewed and even much more extreme climate change.

70. Then, after many millions of years, it began to rain for the first time on Earth, and indeed, in such immense masses that everything was set under water.

71. This tremendous time of rain, during which the waters fell like a flood from the clouds to the ground, lasted for 142 years without interruption, and of course, new evaporations of the falling-down water masses took place again and again, by what means the cloud formations were continuously fed, while the powerful volcanoes naturally remained active and constantly ejected new carbon dioxide into the atmosphere.

72. The flood-like, falling-down water masses combined in the atmosphere with this carbon dioxide, forming acid rain, from which then, over the course of time, natural lime developed on the Earth.

73. This was the development of the Earth in relation to the total global freezing, which then also firstly formed the actual origin for the original emergence of the first micro-life forms of a single-celled kind, from which, over the course of millions of years and centuries, life forms of the water, land, and air evolved up to the higher kinds, after which then, the Earth-human emerged from the whole thing and evolved over many depths and heights to the current state.

74. Until the global ice age around 600 million years ago, only thermal life forms, i.e. thermal bacteria, existed on the Earth in the scorching heat of the magma and lava, and these life forms were partially expelled from the hot springs of aboveground geysers as well as from small or larger black funnels or chimneys rising high up at the bottom of the sea, and to be sure, along with the other primitive forms, from which, over the course of time, new unicellular life forms could evolve, which settled in the sands of the shores of the seas and other bodies of water and evolved under or in the sand to multicellular life forms.

75. But at the same time, comets as well as meteors and asteroids as well as interstellar clouds of microbes played a very important role, once these came into the immediate vicinity of the Earth and fell down upon this, thereby bringing their microbes, etc. to the planet, which combined in part with the Earth's already-developed life forms of a similar kind and thereby created new life, or else life forms that were independently brought from space emerged from these.

76. But in relation to the insemination of the Earth with respect to fauna and flora, it must be clearly said that what primarily relates to this did not proceed from the planet itself but resulted through the inclusions from outer space, and to be sure, through comets, meteors, asteroids, dust particles, and even through the clouds of chemical elements drifting through free space as well as clouds of microbes, through which all the bacteria, fungi, lichens, mosses, viruses, and protozoa of various genera and species were brought to the Earth.

77. The Earth-human first emerged much later out of new amino acid connections, etc., which resulted from the decayed substances of plants and animals.

78. The earliest human forms in this regard, which emerged from the planet itself, are to be backdated to 8 to 12 million years, but the actual hominid forms first appeared between six and eight million years ago, from whose lines various human forms then developed over the course of time, but these were not of permanence and, thus, passed again.

79. Then, from the same original line, still other and similar human life forms formed, so with the related human life forms, namely the simian beings, which still exist on the Earth today in various species.

80. The human beings who walked the Earth at earlier times, such as over 20 or 120 or even more than 230 million years ago, were in nowise the so-called Earth-made or Earth-created ones but rather extraterrestrials who came from the depths of space and who stayed here for a certain time or only visited the planet for a short time for expeditions or for major excursions.

81. At that time, the areas of origin and home worlds of these travelers from afar were to be found in your galaxy, so the Milky Way, but also in foreign galaxies.

Billy:

So once more: from your words, it again follows clearly and plainly that humans are not descended from the ape line but rather apes from the human line.

Quetzal:

82. That is correct because the Darwinian Theory of Evolution, that the evolutionary line of Earth-humans traces back to apes, is fundamentally wrong, for in truth, the evolutionary line of apes traces back to human beings.

83. Darwin was a deceiver in relation to the Human-Ape Evolutionary Line Theory because he secretly worked on ape bones and ape skeletons with a filing utensil, in order to adapt them into his claim and false theory and to present it to those scientists at that time who occupied themselves with the evolution of animals and humans.

84. At first, they were completely impressed by Darwin's 'evidence' and spread Darwin's false claims and deceitful machinations across the globe as correct and as a true sensation.

85. And once they discovered Charles R. Darwin's fraud, it was already too late to correct everything again, consequently, everything took its course, and the fraudulently created evidence entered into the scientific annals as authenticity, thus, it also spread among the people, and the erroneous teaching was born that the human being is descended from the ape, which is the exact opposite of what corresponds to the truth and correctness, that the ape is descended from the line of the human being.

Billy:

... But there are, among many other very interesting things, also the 'black things/ chimneys' [a.k.a. 'black smokers'], of which Quetzal had once spoken, and he said that they are the essential origin of the later forms of life on the Earth, in water, air and land, along with inclusions from outer space through comets, meteors and asteroids.

In these 'black things/chimneys' from which pitch black swathes – which are impregnated with sulphur and various materials – rise up, emerged early branches of bacteria which, as they rose out of the chimneys, were released and began the evolutionary work of life.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_222

Billy:

... As it follows from your explanations, life on Earth originated in the water, whereby it then developed in the shore sand of the waters. This is in complete contrast to the claims of the earthly scientists, whose explanations purport that life had developed from the so-called primordial soup. If I still remember correctly – completely in accordance with your information – life is to have originated in the fresh waters of the Earth. Seas, however, are very salty – at least here on Earth – whereby the highly sensitive genetic material and outer covers of the first organisms would have probably been destroyed because saltwater is extremely aggressive, and the life forms that emerged first were still highly susceptible to such influences. So I ask myself, what type of water was given then, in which life could evolve, before it could also find its way in saltwater at a later time?

Quetzal:

59. The saltwater of primeval times was actually very aggressive in the primordial seas and contained values that were twice and three times as high as those of the current salt concentrations in the earthly seas.

60. Thus, life also did not originate in these salty primordial seas which were also partly strong in potassium but rather in smaller and larger land waters, in small and large ponds, as well as in small or larger lakes, which consisted of fresh water that arose from torrential rains.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_224

Billy:

... As a rule, comets and meteors are carriers of microorganisms that, if they 'inseminate' planets and moons, immensely multiply in conditions that are favourable for them and gradually change themselves and mutate or, in the course of their secretions, create new substances and new forms, which form new life in unions, etc. with other forms, from which higher life develops over the course of hundreds of thousands and millions of years, if the necessary conditions are given on the planets and moons, so particularly climate, temperature, and food. Thus, there is life that is only in the light and other life that can only live in total darkness, while others can only exist in intense heat or cold. Others can only exist in water, in gases, in soft or hard matter, while others can only live in external spheres, etc. And as it happens universe-wide with the 'insemination' of the planets and moons by comets, wandering planets, and meteors, as well as by clouds of microorganisms, which drift through space, so it has also happened on our Earth. First through this was it possible that life could develop from the planet itself. So if it is said that the Earth created life from itself, then this is to be understood in the sense that first, it became 'inseminated' by microorganisms from outer space, precisely through comets, wandering planets, meteors, and clouds of microorganisms, etc., which then multiplied on our planet when conditions that were life-favorable for them were created by this. Primarily included in these favorable conditions was volcanism, in which thermal microorganisms romped about, from whose effects, however, also climatic and atmospheric forms and layers, etc. developed, and after this developed lichens and mosses and later higher plants and after that the animal forms, and at last, human beings were able to develop. Mainland life emerged here in the sandy shore layers of the seas and other waters, but this earthly original form of life first developed in the primeval waters, which still would have been undrinkable and deadly for humans and for actual animals. This process of the origin of life on Earth is likewise given throughout the whole Universe, so thus, there are micro-organic as well as low and higher and even high life-forms elsewhere on other worlds – and with these also humans, as your existence probably proves sufficiently, and indeed, even against all the nonsensical assertions of know-it-alls and other lunatics, who believe that higher life or any life at all would only exist on our Earth.

Quetzal:

5. I have nothing else to say to that, for your remarks correspond to the reality.

6. It would just be important to explain the actual, original source of all life and all matter when it falls into your knowledge.

7. It can, indeed, be assumed that you will also have this conversation transmitted later and will publish it for the instruction of the Earth-humans.

Billy:

I will, yes. Of course, I also know how life and matter actually originated, I just have to reach for the explanation in the spiritual teaching [aka Creation energy teaching], which reveals what the four original substances – fire, air, water, and matter – originated from. In the first part of Genesis, sentences 123 to 131, the following is to be read: “The idea of the Creation was in becoming and being born, and the coagulation of the becoming-visible space was seethed through by milky flakes, which grew as spiritual and material life into the Creation and the Universe. Life had become existent; the root remained, the light remained, the flakes remained, but the Creation was one with everything in its division.” From sentences 159 to 163, it is further explained as follows: “Having recognised itself in its consciousness, the Creation grasped the worth of its coming forth idea. Through the power of its thoughts, it created further; it created bodies and forms in multiplicity and variety, through which it animated the Universe in diversity.” And if I should now explain this in an interpretive way, which goes beyond the spiritual teaching [Creation energy teaching] into physics and which should be understandable, then I must do this as follows: The Creation flakes, or rather the flakes that were created by the Creation and that formed in the empty space of the Universe, were hydrogen formations, in which all the building blocks or 280 elements of life as well as all matter and gases, etc., which were already created by the Creation, were existent. These hydrogen formations or hydrogen flakes combined themselves over the course of time into larger masses and condensed themselves to such an extent that incredibly high temperatures arose within their interior and detonated the mass. These were, if I may say so, the first original supernovae or original supernovas of the growing Material Universe Belt. Even today, and throughout the entire future of the existence of the Universe, the same still takes place; it is just that the form of the flakes has changed, because today, these are huge solar structures that explode out of themselves and eject from themselves all elements in the Universe, through which life and the entire existence of all that exists is guaranteed in a constant growth and decay as well as new emergence. Through the enormous explosions of the solar structures, which are often many times the size and mass of our Sun, the building blocks of life, all necessary elements, are released and distributed throughout the Universe. From this, new compounds, gases, neutrinos and so on and so forth are created, which, in turn, form into structures, into galaxies, from which ultimately suns, planets, nebulae, and comets, etc. develop again, and through this, new life also develops again on suitable structures and planets, but this happens more in the outer regions of the galaxies, like, for example, in our spiral galaxy, in which we exist with our solar system in the outer regions of a spiral arm, and to be sure, in the so-called Orion spiral arm.

Billy:

Do you also have any knowledge about when the first illnesses appeared on Earth, by which humans or pre-humans were attacked?

Ptaah:

58. I can give very precise information about that because according to our research, there were health illnesses and diseases on Earth approximately 4.5 million years ago.

Billy:

There were already Earth-created humans?

Ptaah:

59. There were only early forms of humans – upright-walking, hominid tree dwellers and ground inhabitants.

Billy:

But still, clearly human life-forms?

Ptaah:

60. Certainly, but these beings were not yet filled with reason and understanding in the way that the actual first human was, who even disposed of cognitive reason and a recognizable consciousness.

61. These beings arose on the Earth at different times, so no single measure of time can be specified.

62. The one namely developed authoritative and human-forming reason more than 3.7 million years ago, while others only became reason-bearing 2.5 million years ago, and others only 1.5 million years ago.

Billy:

I have a knot in the hose somewhere: In the past, one told me, nevertheless, that humans had already been created on the Earth 6 to 12 million years ago. How does it happen that you speak of lower figures?

Ptaah:

63. There must be a misunderstanding because the first human life-forms emerged on the Earth 6 to 12 million years ago, which then developed over time into the human life-form, Homo sapiens.

64. On the other hand, 5 to 6 million years ago, beings from other planets were also on the Earth occasionally, who also lived here for some time but later left the Earth again.

65. Perhaps these beings are meant in your recollection, whose reason had already been given?

Billy:

Perhaps, I no longer remember this exactly. There was also once talk of human life-forms that were created 6 to 8 million years ago, as well as those created 8 to 12 billion years ago.

Ptaah:

66. I understand.

67. You mix up the facts a bit, my friend.

68. These human life-forms that were created 8 to 12 billion years ago were not Earth-humans but rather people who stepped into appearance, respectively were created, from beyond our galaxy, but whose distant descendants came to the Earth.

Billy:

On Earth, besides dinosaur traces, there are also human footprints that are millions of years old. These are both impressions that are still of normal size today, as it were, and those that are gigantic and thus originate from giants or giants, etc., and are much older in origin than the oldest traces of hominids found or their bone finds, which can only be traced back to about 4.5 million years, although earthborn humanoids lived nine to twelve million years ago. However, there are also ancient impressions and human footprints in small and large form next to dinosaur traces or elsewhere, which are between 65 and 140 million years old. How do you explain this when the first primeval human, hominid life-forms on earth lived at the earliest nine to twelve million years ago? I really mean prehistoric man.

Ptaah:

94. This is neither a secret nor a riddle, because all footprints of people of all sizes, from the dwarf-like beings to the giants, etc., are not traces of terrestrial human life-forms.

95. The impressions truthfully come from humans of planets not from Sol who visited Earth many millions of years ago or came here to live here.

96. Many of them also died here, whereby petrified traces, footprints and bones can still be found in many places on earth today and bear witness to this fact.

97. Earth-humans only existed nine to twelve million years ago.

Billy:

Well – new finds of hominids, you told me a long time ago, are found in autumn 2,000 in East Africa, in Abyssinia or Ethiopia or something like that. According to your words, the bones will then be estimated at about 5 to 6.5 million years. With the hominids I mean of course only bones of these. But now the scientists still claim that the last member of the primeval hominids is the Lucy find, which proves that the Darwinian lie theory corresponds to the truth, namely that man is descended from apes. This, although it is known in initiated circles – which is stubbornly concealed – that Darwin, in order to prove his lie theory, filed and assembled monkey bones.

Ptaah:

98. This actually corresponds to Darwin's work at that time.

99. And of course, the scientific claim of today is erroneous and completely false that the findings of the remains of the hominid life-form Lucy represent the link between ape and man, because in truth, man did not descend from the ape, but the ape had the hominid-human life-form as its origin.

100. This hominid-human life-form was an upright walker from early on and thus a life-form that walked on its two legs on the ground, but nevertheless also lived on trees for safety reasons, for which the feet and toes as well as the hands and fingers were shaped and formed accordingly.

101. One could call these beings land-tree-humans.

{Note: This Contact Report contains a detailed history related to the extraterrestrial humans who had a role in the history of humans on Earth, which is not reproduced here; please click on the Contact Report link to view that lengthy section.}

Billy:

... And here in the SOL-system, far away from Sirius and the planets and intelligences there, the genetically manipulated ones have been eking out their existence ever since, their descendants are testifying and are unstoppably evolving now as terrestrial humans, who will soon be able to open themselves, in order to penetrate into the vastness of the universe, where they originally came from, quite contrary to the inadequate assertions of Earth scientists that Earth man of today's form is a very own product of Earth and even according to Charles Darwin's stupidly primitive false teaching comes from the monkey. Although purely earth-created human beings live on Earth, on the one hand they have their own evolutionary lineage independent of apes, while on the other hand apes are descended from the first or early human beings. ...

... It will still take a number of years before Earth humanity will find proof that its former ancestors from primordial times came from foreign solar and planetary systems to the SOL system and settled on Mars before they emigrated to Earth. It is also likely that the first evidence will then be found that the ancestors of the earliest times, the genetically manipulated and their descendants, were refugees and exiled, who originally came from the Sirius regions. ...

... Earthman was actually a single race in Henok's primeval times, out of which further races formed through climatic changes, atmospheric changes and secretions, resulting in new lines. These then intermingled with each other, creating new breeds again. Thus, in the course of time, both the skin colors of humans and their external appearance changed, always in adaptation to the new environment and the new living conditions, etc. Of course, this also resulted in genetic changes, apart from genetic manipulation. These, however, were not such that the origin and basic connection of the fact that all human beings on earth originated from a single ancestral tribe would no longer be apparent. When, about 190,000 years ago, the people of the Lyra regions, etc., settled on Earth with the former immigrants and the former humans of the world, it would be impossible to see the origin and the basic connection between them. Their descendants joined again immediately; and when the peoples separated again in bigger thrusts and the most different areas of earth were repopulated, new changes occurred in the skin color as well as in the external appearance and in the genes, whereby nevertheless also this time the original trunk was preserved, whereby still today it can be proven genetically that the terrestrial humans originated from a single primeval race. ...

Billy:

... And what do you think about cloning in general – is this to be prevented for the length of the future or not, respectively does it belong to the evolutionary path of mankind or not?

Ptaah:

21. With regard to cloning itself, it must be said, just as in genetic science or genetic manipulation, that everything is inevitable in the long run, because even the cloning of humans, animals and plants belongs absolutely to the evolutionary process of man and cannot be prevented.

22. Everything is only a question of time before this process openly begins, as is the case with genetic manipulation.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_360

Billy:

... And now that all monkey creatures carry within them some traditional factors of human character, since these creatures are descended from the original line of humans, it is not surprising that they are capable of killing, both in terms of their own genus and species, as well as in terms of other life forms. In this respect, monkeys are very strikingly similar to humans, which is not surprising, since these creatures originate from the human line. The fact that humans on the whole no longer behaves in the same way as the apes and that he no longer kills in the same way as these, but has just become more human – with exceptions – is solely due to his conscious thinking, the development and use of his conscience and morality, and the perception of general responsibility. Excluded from this are only those human creatures that are still degenerate at the bottom of their character, that kill and torture without hesitation, etc., regardless of whether they are ordinary citizens or military personnel. And in this respect, I think that the rabbit is in the pepper: namely, since ape creatures have more or less human factors in their behaviour and are incapable of distinguishing between good and evil and between negative and positive, just as they have no trained conscience and know no conscious responsibility and evolution, they act only instinctively, uncontrollably and impulsively, etc. So they act in the same way as people did before they cultivated, before they evolved and before they became aware of their conscience and responsibility. After all, apes and humans originally came from a primordial lineage from which the first primates emerged. While most ape creatures remained in their primacy, a few forms changed into actual hominids, from which the first earthly humans emerged. Therefore, a very strong distinction must be made between primates and hominids, because primates are and remain wild, instinct-driven, impulsive ape creatures, which are not capable of thought and feeling control, have no conscious conscience and have no conscious responsibility. This is in complete contrast to humans, about half of whom have already evolved to such an extent that they are able to successfully resist all forms of degeneration. The other half still allows primate migration here and there, whereby a larger number is always ready to live out any kind of degeneration, including murder and other killing. That is how I see and understand everything.

Ptaah:

24. What you say corresponds to reality.

25. By paraphrasing this, you have also explained the fact that ape beings are not animals, but pure primates.

26. Primates, however, are very different from animals, which do not contain any human factors.

Billy:

Sfath, Semjase and Quetzal already said that. Monkeys are pure primates and should not be compared to animals or humans.

Ptaah:

27. That is correct.

28. The term primate was taken from the old Lyran term 'primaton', which means 'first being'.

29. Also the term 'human', which means 'man', originates from the old-Lyrian language and was integrated into the earthly languages.

30. It is completely wrongly handed down that the terms should originate from early or late Latin etc., because the true origin lies thousands of years ago, namely with the old Lyrian emigrants who left their home worlds for war reasons and settled on earth for some time, only to emigrate again later.

31. So when the late Latin explanation for primates is described as 'a member of an order of mammals or master animals comprising humans, apes and prosimians', then this corresponds to an unforgivable falseness and falsification in terms of including humans.

32. First of all, man is not a primate being that has only an instinctive consciousness and not a consciously evolutionary consciousness, so that he cannot be called a primate being, and secondly, the term 'human' clearly states that he is a human being with a conscious consciousness, so that conscious evolution is also given to him.

33. And what still has to be explained in principle:

34. In the origins of the development of primate beings, their form of consciousness was such that their consciousness was oriented towards a conscious evolutionary consciousness as well as towards a form of instinct consciousness and impulse consciousness.

35. Early on, however, a strong evolutionary separation took place, whereby only a single species retained its three forms of consciousness and made them evolutively into a single consciousness group, from which the species 'human' or human being emerged.

36. In contrast to this, the conscious evolutionary consciousness of all other primate beings degenerated, so that they fell into instinct consciousness alone and were no longer capable of conscious evolution, as has remained the case with the 'human being' or human being.

37. Thus, the ape beings are distant, degenerated descendants of the 'first beings', whose evolutionary line was determined by the conscious evolutionary consciousness to become a 'human being' and thus ultimately a human being.

38. Through their degeneration of the forms of consciousness, however, the primates remained such and thus became the so-called monkeys, who only have an instinctive consciousness, which is, however, in a certain way capable of learning instinctively and impulsively, as is also the case with many other beings who have an instinctive consciousness.

39. And finally, it must be explained that on all worlds in the universe that bear higher and higher life, the evolutionary course to man or the incarnation through evolution is the same, and consequently primate beings or first beings arise everywhere, from which on the one hand the genus man develops through further evolution, while the remaining first beings fall victim to a degeneration of the form of consciousness and thus remain primates or become ape beings, as they are called by the terrestrial human being.

... Darwin did indeed make the claim that in the animal kingdom, male life-forms are polygamous and female life-forms are monogamous. Your father, Sfath, already taught me in 1949 that this assertion was as misleading as that man was descended from apes, and Darwin, in order to substantiate this assertion, fraudulently filed down ape bones. As Sfath said, in all fauna, all female forms are as polygamous as the male forms. ...

Ptaah:

49. The direct ancestors of the yellow races, as the races of China and Japan are called with you on Earth, came to Earth 25,994 years ago – counted from today on – and settled in the areas of today's China and Japan.
50. Their very distant ancestors were at very early times or millions of years – like the white, red and brown races – partly refugees from the Sirius areas, which were shifted to the Dern space-time structure.
51. The yellow races first settled in distant regions beyond the sun or central sun, where they founded large races in the Nisan system on a planet called KUDRA and created a huge overpopulation.
52. As a result – in addition to the fact that the planet was slowly becoming uninhabitable – a great emigration took place about 2.4 million years ago, with large masses migrating and settling in the Lyra systems on this side of the central sun, on a neighbouring planet of Lasan.
53. Their planet was called NISSAN.
54. These systems and planets in the Lyra regions were also offset to our space-time structure by fractions of a second or seconds, whereas the Nisan system and its planets – thus also Kudra – beyond the galaxy belonged to the Dern space-time structure.
55. Now it must still be said that about 2.4 million years ago, when the emigrants separated from Kudra and moved to the Lyra regions, a certain part also came to Earth and settled already in the areas of today's China and Japan, where also already earth-born human beings existed.
56. The early emigrants from the Kudra peoples who settled on Earth were left to their fate without any technical achievements, because the transport ship that should have brought the technical materials never arrived on Earth, but remained lost.
57. Thus the immigrants were also deprived of the technology that would have enabled them to contact the emigrants in the Lyra systems.
58. This resulted in them being 'forgotten'.
59. 25,994 years ago, Nissan was once again overpopulated, and larger groups of emigrants were formed to investigate other emigrants in the past.
60. So they also came across the Earth and the areas of today's China and Japan, which resulted in migrations to these areas on the Earth and the resettlement of today's China and Japan, including the merging with the very distant descendants of the former emigrants and with the earth-born.

Ur-line of Primates – Becoming of Human and ApeBilly:

Originally the ape creatures and the human being descended from a single Ur-line, which formed as a physically wavering form, i.e. as a constitution, i.e. as a primary state and was animated by an impulse-energy-spirit-form, as the plants have. This impulse-energy-spirit-form is, i.e. was firstly given as an Ur-line of the primates arising from it, because in these physically wavering Wesen, i.e. in these initial-Wesen, which was neither animal, other creature nor human, but rather just a kind of slimy, wavering, plant-like mass, still no instinct-based or conscious consciousness-based evolving spirit-form could incarnate, i.e. bear into. It was only when this kind of Wesen was far- and highly enough developed to a primate, so that it possessed an actual brain, it became capable of receiving an Ur-combination of a conscious evolution-consciousness and an instinct-consciousness in the now-developed brain. This combination of evolution-consciousness and instinct-consciousness was related to – evolvingly resulting from the Ur-form of the impulse-consciousness – a hybrid-spirit-form, out of which two new spirit forms and thus two new lines and developments emerged, namely a hominid one, out of which through the overall-consciousness-block a conscious consciousness originated and thus the conscious evolution-capable consciousness of the human being, nevertheless retaining to a certain extent the forms of the instinct-consciousness and the impulse-consciousness. With regard to the other spirit form this formed itself as a pure instinct-spirit-form with an unconscious and therefore not consciously evolution-capable instinct-consciousness, precisely that of the apes, in which a part of the impulse-consciousness was also retained. And when it is now taught: "... originally the apes and the human beings indeed descended from one Ur-line, out of which emerged the primates ... In the origins of the development of the primates-Wesen these were, in their form of consciousness, formed as such that their consciousness was directed both to a conscious evolution-consciousness as well as a form of instinct-consciousness and an impulse-consciousness. ... Early on, however, a strong evolutionary separation took place, though which only one kind retained its three consciousness-forms and made these evolutively into a single consciousness-compound, from which the species 'human', i.e. human being originated." ... "And finally, there is still to explain, that on all the worlds in the universe which bear higher and high life, the evolutionary course to the human being, i.e. the becoming human through the evolution is in the same wise, consequently everywhere primate-Wesen, i.e. initial-Wesen originate, from which on the one hand the human species develops in a further evolution, while the remaining initial-Wesen fell into a degeneration of the form of consciousness and thus remained primates, i.e. become apes, as they are called by human beings of Earth.", then that is to be understood as follows: The spirit-form of the human being after the developmental change from an Ur-line is in a state of the primate-Wesen and so in its initial body-related origin, a form which can develop itself both positively as also negatively, if that is said as an allegory with regard to the unconscious instinct-consciousness of the ape creatures, of the animals and the other creatures in the sense of the negative as well as in the sense of the positive with regard to the conscious and consciously evolutive consciousness of the human being. Fundamentally, it is given with the first-becoming of each spirit-form, that it comes forth out of an evolutive developmental change of an unconscious impulse-consciousness, i.e. from an impulse-spirit-form that is capable to developmentally change to the higher and develops itself in the hybrid-stage only to the actual conscious human or unconscious animalistic spirit-form, just as that is the allegory for the material life forms which in the first stages during the conception, i.e. procreation and becoming, show a neutral form and develop themselves only through the further development to the positive, i.e. male as well as to the negative, i.e. female.

Billy:

... I have here yet another question, because someone has asked me for an answer in the bulletin regarding on what Charles Darwin, in 1859, has constructed his theory of evolution, that the human being would be descended from apes. I learned from your father, Sfath, that Darwin falsified an ape skeleton in order to prove his theory, whereby however his assertion, being that the human descended from apes, did not even grow out of his own rubbish. In reality, as Sfath explained, Charles Darwin was linked with Tibetan Buddhists, who told him of the Tibetan legend, according to which all human beings would descend from eight different branches of apes. Can I convey my answer in this way?'

Ptaah:

49. Of course, because what my father explained to you corresponds to the truth.

50. Darwin was a human who craved renown and did everything illicitly and dishonestly to greatly build up his image.

51. The Darwinian teaching of evolution in regard to the Earth-humans, that they originally arose from the apes, is truly not based on his own thought processes or from his own research, rather on a Tibetan legend that all humans descended from eight different branches of apes.

52. Darwin put the legend to use, whereby he suitably filed certain bones of an ape skeleton in order to substantiate and provide a line of evidence for his deceit and presented the whole thing to the scientific body of the day.

Billy:

Darwin, as founder of the so-called modern theory of evolution, actually did study medicine and then later theology, whereby he came into contact with Buddhists from Tibet. Indeed, he was generally dealt with as a naturalist, but that role started as he took part in the world voyage of the survey ship 'Beagle', which was underway on the world's seas from 1831 until 1836. From 1842, as I have read, he began to work on his comprehensive travel experiences, and systematically collected his extensive material together in regard to the origin of the species. Geological observations, as well as those of fauna as it pertains to geography, caused him to doubt the rightness of the traditional teaching of the inalterability of the species. From that also arose his main work, 'The Origin of the Species through Natural Selection', which constituted a turning point in the history of biology in 1859. With the Theory of Selection, which led to Darwinism, respectively to the Darwinian teachings of descent, he explained the purposive adaptation of forms of life to the environment. That he thereby also tried to underpin his teachings through the fraud of his adaptation of ape bones, and that he presented the Tibetan legend – that all humans are arisen from eight branches of apes – as reality, then led to the erroneous teaching that the human descended from apes, whereby this has endured until today and even the scientists grant their belief to this deception. In 1871 he then published two volumes entitled, 'The Descent of Man'. Darwin was born on February 12th, 1809 in The Mount at Shrewsbury in England, and he died on April 19th, 1882 in Down House, which corresponds to today's London-Bromley. Are these statements true so far?

Ptaah:

53. All of it corresponds to the rightness.

54. Yes, those are the actual facts.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_453

Billy:

... You once told me that life on Earth did not originate in water but in the sands of the shores, so life on Earth evolved or emerged in that way, but it was first brought here from outer space. With regard to thermobacteria etc., this had already happened millions of years ago, when the Earth was still a ball of embers, but the last 500 million years in particular had been the most decisive with regard to all kinds of great and largest life-forms that developed on the Earth. And after that, the last 70 million years in particular were of great importance, during which many comets and meteors and large amounts of space dust, ice and water fell to Earth, bringing with them much bacterial life and amino acids, from which more and more diverse life developed. This is clear to me as far as it goes, but I'm interested in what the actual origin of this life was – it would have to have been the chemistry and physical processes of the universe, I think?

Ptaah:

33. Your assumption is correct.

34. The origin and existence of all life owes this to the basic laws of universal chemistry and physics, from which left-turning amino acids developed fundamentally for the emergence of life itself, which formed and also continue to form the main factor of the biological emergence of life as a whole in universal breadth.

35. From this it also emerges that every form of life is planetary chemically-physically conditioned, consequently this is also different from planet to planet and has innumerable forms universe-wide and is not necessarily human-like, as you know and as you were able to see for yourself together with us on your Great Journey {see Contact Report 31} through large parts of the universe on the most diverse worlds.

Billy:

Yes, I never forget that, all the different life-forms, which also included various intelligent ones that were not human-like. I would like to say, however, that despite the very great strangeness, they cannot be called monsters, just as they cannot be called human-like life-forms. Some have also developed higher and higher cultures and techniques, which may seem futuristic and fantastic to earthlings, but nevertheless corresponds to the truth. Many of the alien life-forms, however, were of the animal kind, and you let me look at a great many bacterial forms under a device that I would like to call a microscope for the sake of simplicity, because it had such a function, but has no resemblance to the devices we know. It was interesting for me to be able to determine that human life is extremely thinly spread throughout the universe and that most life-bearing worlds carry life-forms that look completely futuristic to earthlings. And I remember you explaining that human life-forms found their widespread expansion in the universe on various occasions only because they created the technical means to be able to emigrate to other worlds through space travel...? I also still hear your words today when you said that life-forms existed on practically all planets, comets, meteors and celestial bodies as well as in the nebulae and gases in the universe, even if, as a rule, they were only bacterial life-forms, except on planets? And as you have let me see, such life-forms also exist on the moons of our SOL satellites, as well as on these themselves.

Billy:

... Charles Robert Darwin, the British, actually studied medicine and then theology, and only later became a natural scientist. It is said that he suffered from an unknown disease for many years of his life. Do you know anything about it? I was asked about it, but I could not give any information about it.

Ptaah:

43. Yes, I can tell you something about that, because my father Sfath – he was not in contact with Darwin – made a close observation with regard to Darwin and recorded everything in an extensive work which I studied.

44. From my father's records it is clear that Darwin suffered from anxiety psychosis and was a severe hypochondriac who imagined many ailments, but suffered from a serious infectious disease in addition to that, which caused him great distress.

45. He became infected with the disease germs in Latin America through so-called Benschuka bugs.

46. The bite of these blood-sucking bugs causes an infection, which leads to the so-called Tschagas disease, which first develops in the stomach and heart.

47. The disease itself is not contagious and still exists today, although it can be transmitted by blood transfusions, which is a cause for concern today, because blood donations contaminated by Tschagas disease are spreading more and more in Latin America and are moving northwards, so it is already slowly spreading in the USA.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_467

Billy:

... Yes, all life developed from a single-celled primeval slime, also humans. However, as I know from Sfath, there were different forms of primeval slime, from which in turn different animal life developed, such as amphibians, water life forms and various species of dinosaurs. From a separate primeval slime form, however, the first small creatures developed, which were mammals, from which all mammals developed, so also primates and humans. These all have a uniform type of mating, but also uniform hearing organs, of course, depending on the life-form, simply shaped differently according to it, but in principle in the same application and mode of action. As your father, Sfath, explained to me in my youth, the first small forms of life that developed from the primeval slime, from which humans also emerged on Earth, lived more than 250 million years ago and also at the time when the first dinosaurs existed. These small life-forms were about 10-12 centimetres in size, about the size of a mouse, but they changed and grew a few centimetres larger. Their lifetime was just one year, but with time their age increased, the bigger they became. The transformation over millions of years led to different life-forms, but only to mammals, and finally to many species of primates and to forms from which humans emerged and from which also the different apes and those creatures that have not been found yet, like the YETI, which is called 'Mahali-Dama' by the locals and 'Mande Barung' elsewhere. Also 'Big Foot' and 'Sansquasch' etc. belong to it. Now, to cut a long story short: What is the name of the little animal that is the origin of all mammals, primates and humans? ...

Ptaah:

67. Our name of the small creature is 'Berani', but the little animal is now also known to earthly palaeontologists through findings of fossilized bones, and they call it 'Adelo Basilius' (Adelobasileus cromptoni).

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_469

Billy:

... But tell me, how many species of life-forms do you know, which have developed so far in their intelligence that they can think consciously and also carry out conscious actions and also create technical achievements etc. as well as build up their own cultures and which are classified in a revolution of consciousness? ...

Ptaah:

97. We know of 14 different species of life forms, as they correspond to your question and which I can tell you. ...

98. Then I would like to give you information, whereby I name the individual life-forms according to how it makes sense to Earth-humans and how they also understand it.

99. Thus I will begin with us actual humanoids, whereby I must explain that all life form species, which I have to call, show human or human-like forms in shape, as well as forms mixed with their other species, whereby the only human-like beings are not actual humanoids, but just different and embodying two different species.

100. All of them, however, are capable of a conscious development of consciousness, have their own cultures and languages as well as techniques, whereby some of the ones we know are also masters of space travel and belong to our Federation.

101. All of them, at least those who belong to our Federation, are peaceful beings and have no warlike or violent ambitions:

102. 1) Humanoids are human beings in the form in which we Plejaren and the Earth-humans as well as many of us are allies of our Federation, to which, however, other life-forms also belong, which cannot be called humanoids in our sense, because they are of a completely different kind, but nevertheless consciously capable of evolution and have developed their own cultures and techniques as well as languages, as I already explained.

103. 2) Amphiboids are, in terms of form, life-forms of mixed human and aquatic animal nature, which can live both in water and on land, as well as in a climate that is heavily water-filled. Asina {image 1, image 2}, for example, and her people are among them.

104. 3) Reptiloids are life-forms of mixed human and reptilian form, their bodies being covered with scales.

105. 4) Insectoids are life-forms of mixed human and insect-like form, their skin showing chitin-like characteristics.

106. 5) Sauroids are life-forms of mixed human and sauropod-like form with a skin similar to elephant skin.

107. 6) Primatoids are life-forms of mixed human and primate-like form with a hairy body, but in a stronger form than the terrestrial humanoid or Earth-humans.

108. 7) Condidoids are in form of life-forms actual humanoids, but with the ability to move by levitation.

109. 8) Teropoids are life-forms with human and birdlike body, with long neck, face and beak-like mouth.
110. 9) Hydroids are life-forms with human and fish-like bodies, whose actual life-element is water, which they can also leave for a longer period of time.
111. 10) Thermoids are in shape humanoid life-forms with a human-like body, whose own life-element is hot areas with very high temperature.
112. 11) Frigoroids are in form humanoid life-forms with human bodies, whose life-elements are very cold areas with very low temperatures below zero.
113. 12) Aërioids are in form humanoid life-forms with human body, whereby they are poison gas breathers and their life-element are various gas atmospheres.
114. 13) Acoroids are in form humanoid life-forms with a human body, but their skin is covered by a fine layer of acid, like e.g. the trilans.
115. 14) Floroids are life-forms with human-like and diverse plant bodies.
116. 15) Centauroids are life-forms with partly human and partly equine bodies.
117. 16) Faunoids are life-forms with partly human and partly various unguulate bodies.
118. 17) Cheruboids are in shape and weight very light human life-forms, equipped with feathered wings through which they can fly.
119. 18) Seraphoids are life-forms very light in shape and weight, partly human and partly animal, equipped with feathered wings through which they can fly.
120. These are the people we know of various genera and species resp. races of human and human-animal-like life-forms, which I name in the above mentioned way, so that Earth-humans can also get an idea of them.
121. Our names are of course of a different kind, but they correspond to the value of the names mentioned.
122. Basically, however, it is to be said that all the life-forms mentioned which are the same as human beings are also beings who in their whole or in part resemble our human forms, to which they have changed over millions of years.
123. Apart from this, however, their appearance in terms of the appearance of their skin and its excrescences is different from that of us who call ourselves pure humanoids.
124. But since several of the life-forms I have mentioned are probably humanoid in appearance, but different in the outer appearance of their skin and its outgrowths, we call them peregrinhumanoids, as has been explained to you earlier.
125. This term means as much as foreign humanoids.
126. All mentioned life-forms are therefore in their essence humanoids, which also have a humanoid spirit-form and are part of a conscious evolution of consciousness.
127. The origin of the peregrinhumanoids is not the same as with us pure humanoids, but their development into peregrinhumanoids has taken place in a similar way as with the pure humanoids.
128. Their primeval forms were very small and only gradually developed into larger life-forms, which in turn were subject to multiple changes until they became the beings they are today.
129. Such a course of evolutionary form has also taken place in relation to us purely humanoids, because our course of evolution has also brought about various changes, until finally the purely humanoid human being was created. ...

Billy:

Then another question regarding Neanderthals, of whom more and more bones have been found in recent years and decades. Yes, it is generally said that they disappeared on Earth when the so-called modern human beings, Homo sapiens, appeared. So far, however, it is completely unknown why the Neanderthals disappeared from the scene. It is also not known whether they at least partially mixed with modern human beings. Do you know anything about that?

Ptaah:

135. It was indeed the case that in the most various locations the modern human beings interbred with Neanderthals and begot offspring.

136. This however was not the rule, but occurred rather sparsely.

137. As a rule, the modern human beings hunted the Neanderthals and killed them, to use them as food, because the early homo sapiens were cannibals, and as such they by and by wiped out the Neanderthals.

138. Partly, the modern human beings held Neanderthals as captives, which they killed and ate in case of need for food.

139. Such captives were also used, on certain occasions, to perform sexual acts with the homo sapiens, and indeed with both sexes. As a result, also certain female Neanderthals and homo sapiens bore hybrids as offspring, which, however, was not often the case.

Billy:

... Yes, now on the 12th of February we will celebrate the memory of Charles Robert Darwin, who was born on the 12th of February 1809, and who, as the founder of the modern theory of evolution, made a worldwide fuss about it. Although he initially studied medicine, he later studied theology, which then contradicted his theory of evolution, which was of correctness in principle, yes. Yes, in order to prove his theory, he committed a falsification and deception by filing down monkey bones, but his theory of evolution was indeed not only a theory, but a teaching that was and is true. Thus he explained that human beings and animals were not created by a god in one day, but that they came into being and developed over millions of years through a natural process of development and natural selection, which is also true.

Nevertheless, there are still very many people who, in their religiosity or in their sectarianism, still reject the theory of evolution and in their delusion of faith cling to the fairy tale that human beings and animals were created in a single day by a God-Creator. ...

Billy:

... Scientists generally claim that the human being has its origin in Africa. But your father Sfath told me something else, namely that the real origin is in the north of Africa. He also took me to a place in Germany, whose name I have forgotten, where he dug up a fossil and explained to me the pre-human fossils respectively the pre-human characteristics and also said that it was the actual forerunner of the human being, which had started to develop 48 million years ago. Sfath showed me on the fossil that the creature already had five fingers respectively thumbs and fingers and also five toes and a set of teeth, which were very similar to those of the human being of today. Through his apparatus, Sfath was also able to make the creature holographically visible to me, so that I could see it in its full size of about 60 cm and in its real form. I think that what Sfath said is more likely to be true than the claims of the earthly scientists.

Ptaah:

10. What my father explained is correct.

11. The real origin of development of Earth-humans was not in the south of the Earth, but in the north of Africa.

12. This development began 48 million years ago, when the early beings split up into precursors of the human being and apes.

13. Just as the ape creatures lived on trees at that time and still do so today, so did the early beings from which human beings ultimately evolved live on trees at that time and until a few million years ago.

14. And the very well preserved fossil that my father uncovered in an open-cast mine in the so-called Messel Pit in Hesse is around 47 million years old.

15. It has been in our possession ever since, and it is clear from it that the primordial beginning of the formation of the early life-form, from which Earth-humans ultimately emerged, was not in the African south, but in the north of Africa.

16. What my father has explained to you is correct, which is also proven by our research, even before his statement, which took us back to the time when the division of the early beings 48 million years ago into a form of human and an ape-like line took place.

Billy:

Sfath said that due to climate, land and continental changes the early beings spread from the North of Africa far over the Earth, also to the African South, East and West, where the first different primeval human species developed about 8-12 million years ago.

Ptaah:

17. This occurred in the north of Africa, where today are Egypt, Malta and Sicily, because that is where the area of today's Messel pit in Germany was located at that time.

18. This was the actual origin of the early beings from which the primeval human form as mammals developed.

Billy:

Unfortunately, no fossils have yet been found in this respect, I mean in relation to life-forms that would already be human or at least human-like. However, it is likely that there are such fossils that just need to be found.

Ptaah:

19. That is undeniable.

Billy:

... Then I have a question that refers to the Neanderthals or rather to their extinction. Again, and again there are reports about it on television and in newspapers and magazines, whereby the scientists however to this day still do not know the real reason for their extinction. There are the most diverse gray theories about this, including one that says that the Neanderthals were exterminated by Homo sapiens, the emerging human being at the time, as you yourself once said. But is that really true down to the last detail? ...

Additionally, I now want to ask you whether that which you have explained is comprehensive in relation to the extinction of the Neanderthals, or whether there were yet other factors which played a role. You did indeed once say later that the extinction of these early human beings led back not only to the then emergence of modern human beings, even though they exterminated different groups of Neanderthals. By the way, today the term Neanderthal is also written with a "th", thus, Neanderthals. I also don't know why. But if you could now explain to me across the board some more about these early human beings and their environment etc., as well as whether there were perhaps other reasons for their extinction besides the ones you have mentioned to me. Because for our scientists it is still not clear what the real reason for the extinction had been, so their minds are divided. Maybe you are able to bring a little more clarity to the matter?

Ptaah:

72. That which I have said to you with my explanation in the 469th contact conversation corresponds very well to the rightness.

73. But if you are raising the whole thing in such a way as to ask whether thereby everything has been comprehensively explained down to the last detail, then it must be said that this is not the case.

74. In fact, the modern human beings who emerged then, exterminated entire groups and tribes of Neanderthals, but for their final extinction there were also given anatomical as well as natural climate-changing influences, which I have hitherto never mentioned and which ultimately ended the existence of these early human beings.

75. Apart from the fact that the modern human beings came to Europe from Western Asia, who often ate human flesh and were anatomically much more developed than the Neanderthals, whom they hunted down, killed and used them as food, there are, as I said, other important factors that led to the extinction of these early human beings.

76. But if I am now supposed to mention other important factors, then I will gladly do so, and in doing so I will draw on our records, which we possess and which I am familiar with.

77. Thereby, I will not proceed chronologically, however, rather simply as I remember the facts at the moment.

78. So the first thing to say is that which I explained - regarding modern human beings' cannibalism and in relation to the sexual acts between them and the Neanderthals - in fact, corresponds to the reality of that time.

79. Although, against all adversity at the time, the Neanderthals held their own for a little more than 250,000 years, but, in the development of their body and metabolism, they were adjusted to the then prevailing very cold climate.

80. That finally led to their last doom because, because when in a short time extremely strong climatic changes occurred, the effect for the Neanderthals was an extremely disadvantageous impact on their food supply, consequently many began to suffer from hunger.

81. Over time this led not only to degenerative effects, but also often to the death.

82. In spite of their savagery, they were sociable beings and held tightly together, whereby they lived, however, only in small groups, and their total number always remained small.

83. When diseases arose among them, they concerned themselves collectively with the sick and nursed them.

84. Their diet consisted primarily of meat, which they captured by corresponding hunts for all kinds of small and large animals, whereby they then shared the meat among themselves in a remarkably communal way.

85. However, they also nourished themselves with berries, fruits and plants, but the meat always remained the staple food, which was of great necessity for especially their entire constitution.

86. Fundamentally, however, they were bad at metabolizing food, on which I will be speaking again.

87. Physically, they were very strong, and also all their internal and external constitution was extremely robust and adjusted in such a way to withstand very cold temperatures, which was particularly important because they indeed lived during a very cold time.

88. They were also clever and had their own - if still primitive - language.

89. They led their existence in productive hunting areas in the then forests in which they also lived and knew safe shelters, in whose protection they also had their accommodations.

90. However, all this changed unusually quickly, as around 45,000 years ago the climate began to change drastically, in addition to the fact that the modern human beings made their appearance and hunted them down, kept them prisoners, engaged in sexual relations with them, but also killed and ate them when food was in short supply.

91. The emerging climate change gradually also altered the forests and landscapes, consequently, gigantic open expanses emerged in which the Neanderthals could not hold their own, and, as a consequence of their clumsiness, also could not hunt.

92. Their specialty was the forests, where they could stalk the game to be hunted and kill it with primitive, heavy spears equipped with stone points that had been beaten into shape.

93. These heavy killing instruments and the ponderousness and clumsiness of the Neanderthals made it impossible for them to hold their own in the vastness of open plains.

94. Moreover, they could not stalk the wildlife on open land because it fled quickly if it sighted or caught the scent of the human beings.

95. So the Neanderthals hid in the forests, which had now become lighter, but where they also had more and more difficulties in terms of hunting, because they no longer had any cover due to the lightening of the forest areas when stalking the animals.

96. Furthermore, it was the case that the Neanderthals could not sufficiently utilize the nutrients from meat, plants, berries and fruits and could not efficiently convert them into energy, consequently they had to constantly eat large quantities.

97. The cells and their energies and powers of the early human beings were of a completely different nature than those of the much lighter and more flexibly built modern human beings.

98. With the Neanderthals, the entire metabolism was laid out to the production of heat, which was absolutely necessary as a consequence of the then prevailing cold.

99. This was completely different from the modern human beings who had emerged and were downright puny compared to the Neanderthals and displayed totally different characteristics to the heavily-built, early human beings.

100. And since the Neanderthals increasingly lacked food, it naturally led to many dying of hunger, while others were hunted and captured by the cannibalistic modern human beings to use them as welcome sex objects or, in an emergency, as food.

101. Since through the sexual acts between the Neanderthals and the modern human beings offspring were also conceived, it turned out that the offspring increasingly had the characteristics of modern human beings, hence this is another factor of what led to the extinction and extermination of the pure neanderthals.

102. And since the evolution never stands still, it turned out that the modern human beings also evolved further, up to the present Homo sapiens sapiens, whereby the heritage of the Neanderthals has been preserved in the genome of many terrestrial human beings to this day.

103. Although the Neanderthals became extinct almost 30,000 years ago, however, their genetic heritage remains intact until today and will also be passed on from generation to generation in the future.

104. Regarding the descendants of Neanderthals directly, as well as those where modern humans were involved, it has nevertheless to be explained that also in this respect factors of extinction played a role.

105. Compared to the modern human beings, the Neanderthals featured larger skulls, which made the birth very difficult, because the birth canal often could not be dilated far enough, which is why many female beings died during births or through severe life-threatening infections.

106. Births among the Neanderthals were therefore particularly complicated and difficult and often fatal, which was also the reason why these early human beings did not proliferate extensively and only appeared in small groups.

107. Alongside the genetic material of the Neanderthals, however, also traces of the genetic material of other close relatives have found their way into today's Earth-humans living in Europe.

108. Although there are no longer any pure Neanderthals among the approximately 8 thousand million Earth-humans today, their heritage is still to a greater or lesser extent contained in the genome of many Earth-humans.

109. And it is a fact, as you say, that there are many theories among earthly scientists regarding the Neanderthals, who today no longer exist in pure form for already some 30,000 years.

110. But since their heritage is still present in small parts, namely up to seven percent, in the genome of many Earth-humans today, one really has to ask whether the Neanderthals have actually become extinct, because if certain Earth-humans of the present time are looked at, then one could actually assume that the Neanderthals are not yet extinct.

111. This fact alone, of the Neanderthal heritage in the genome of many modern Earth-humans, proves that these early human beings had sexual relationships with the modern human beings, from which descendants have emerged who have continued to reproduce and pass on their heritage over many generations - until the present time.

Ptaah:

16. First, the number of 144,000 people corresponds to a very early norm of a 'emigration power' created by Nokodemion, which was usually led by 228 commanders – although there were seldom small exceptions – who, together with the emigration power, were under the command of an emigration swiss.

17. Such emigration powers were volunteers who idealistically agreed to spend the rest of their lives with early humans on other worlds – as well as on Earth – in order to teach them many helpful things about life management and development.

18. For the first time, such an emigration force was sent out millions of years ago, followed by several more in four galaxies over all times, and thus also into the SOL system and finally to Earth.

19. The last one to Earth was sent according to earthly time calculation about 13,500 years ago, where the Nokodemion people emigrants on the one hand were to have an instructive effect on Earth-humans, which they partly did, but on the other hand caused for the most part many calamities, especially with regard to rising up as deities and bringing religions into being.

20. And they did so when they were smuggled into all earthly peoples and great tribal communities, whereby delusional beliefs in God developed among all peoples, tribes and groups etc. throughout the world, even among wild indigenous tribes.

21. This led to the emergence of religions and sects, which expanded more and more and have survived to the present day and into the third millennium, respectively, and will continue to do so for a very long time to come.

22. All those of these extraterrestrial immigrants who remained on Earth also died there, and since then their spiritual forms have also reincarnated and will continue to reincarnate on Earth, precisely in ever new personalities of newly born Earth-humans.

23. So the 144,000 emigrants and their superiors and leaders were integrated worldwide as instructors into all existing earthly peoples and large tribes as well as various groups in which they had to act as instructors. ...

31. ... our annals refer to a number of eight different emigration powers of 144,000 persons each and 228 superiors each, who came to Earth in the course of more than two million years from the Nokodemion descendant peoples.

32. And here is a total number of 1,151,828 people who were involved.

33. Of these persons, 575,914 remained on Earth, died there and are born again with their old reincarnating spirit-forms as new personalities. ...

Billy:

Can I understand it, but how did it happen that 144,000 each agreed to give up their highly developed culture and live on Earth with early humans like Homo erectus?

Ptaah:

35. On the one hand they were pronounced idealists who were willing to provide development aid, so to speak, as is similarly the case on Earth, where such aid is provided for third world countries, etc. On the other hand, they were also very active in the field of development aid.

Billy:

Then it kind of rubbed off on Earth-humans.

Ptaah:

36. One can say so, but on the other hand there were also genetically manipulated refugees from the Sirius regions among the immigrants from the Nokodemion-post-driving peoples, as well as the mistakes and the mistakes. Criminals of the home planets who preferred – instead of being sent into exile, which was extremely drastically and strictly handled – to emigrate with such emigration powers and to be freely instructive to early humans in the manufacture of various products, such as tools and hunting weapons, clothing and food containers, etc.

37. Primitive art, music and all kinds of knowledge were also taught to early man by these immigrants, as well as knowledge concerning the heavenly bodies, medicine concerning medicinal plants, etc., and the use of fire, etc.

Billy:

And how and where were the distributions of these immigrant persons made among the early earthly human beings?

Ptaah:

38. Small immigrant groups were formed, which were integrated into earthly early human groups all over the world, while others joined early humans as loners or lived as their own small groups, which then also mixed with the early humans over time.

39. In these forms it was possible that mergers with the immigrants and the early humans could come about, which was however not always simple, but often connected with fights, which also claimed deaths on both sides.

40. But in the end everything regulated itself in one way or another, so that the teachings could also take place and bear fruit.

Billy:

So the whole thing was not easy, but therefore the actual creators of all progressive inventions of the early humans were to be led back to the immigrants of the Nokodemion descendants peoples. And this was the only reason why the humanity of today, which emerged from the early humans, could develop so drastically fast and as far as is the case today, with regard to electronics, inventions, craftsmanship, art, medicine, music and technology, etc. and so on. In principle it would not have been possible without the direct immigrants from the Nokodemion peoples and without their distant descendants and all their teachings, as well as also without your apparatus-impulse hypnotic influence of the descendants of the extraterrestrial immigrants that earthly mankind could develop so rapidly and to a large extent up to the today's conditions.

Ptaah:

41. During the first millions of years and millennia this was indeed the case, of course only in primitive developments of various things, for everything always had to be adapted to the corresponding state of consciousness of Earth humanity.

42. This is because it was only possible to avoid an overdevelopment in every respect, because such an overdevelopment could not have been coped with by the Earth-humans in terms of understanding and reason.

43. The early extraterrestrial immigrants naturally had to withhold their knowledge as well as their abilities and possibilities in every imaginable form and to downgrade themselves in this respect in order not to overtax the early earthly humans – who became known as 'Homo erectus' through research in modern times – and also later the more highly developed earthly humans with 'excessive abilities', on the one hand, and on the other hand in order to adapt to them in every necessary way.

44. However, the early Earth-humans were very instructive – as are to some extent the Earth-humans of today, but unfortunately not with regard to the 'teaching of truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of life' – and quickly learned the simple things, followed by a relatively fast development and continued to do so.

45. As a result, they also created advances, inventions, knowledge and developments, which have continued to behave in this way in all the long periods of time since then and have carried us into the future, even to the point of 'Homo sapiens', and also into the present time of 'Homo sapiens sapiens'.

46. So, in later times, the Earth-humans who developed from it came from the 'Homo erectus', whereby however also various intermediate kinds developed from it, namely in the today's Asia-areas as well as in Africa, whereby a very important basic origin was given in Europe, namely in the today's Germany, where a basic life-form developed, from which in the end a human life-form developed, which developed then, however, in the southern hemisphere completely.

47. In the first beginnings early humans were 'used' as sexual partners by the first Nokodemion descendants – immigrants of peoples – so one has to say -, whereby over a large number of generations several new human species arose, which are called 'Nefotwesen' or 'Mischwesen' in our annals.

48. From these a new human species emerged, which is also known to earthly scientists as 'Denisova Man' and which was an important factor in the further development of mankind on Earth, together with the Neanderthals and so on.

Billy:

Well, then the question: the emigration troops have paired with the early Earthlings. Did modern people ultimately emerge from this? At that time, I think, there was only Homo erectus. But then came the 'Denisova people', who our scientists already know, as you say.

Ptaah:

49. This is not quite true, because the scientists are still in the process of clarifying and speculating and do not have any real knowledge in this respect.

50. All they've got is some small fossils to speculate on.

Billy:

You mean that they make hypotheses or simply assumptions and assumptions, because they have no actual proof of what, where and from what kind of people the fossils originate?

Ptaah:

51. Yes, it is.

Billy:

Homo erectus was probably a clever fellow when I rhymed everything you said. Can you say something about that?

Ptaah:

52. 'Homo erectus' means 'the upright walking man'.

53. Basically he was the 'first true Earth man' who was a direct ancestor of the Neanderthals and thus also the primeval ancestor of the actual Earth human of today.

54. Homo erectus was - contrary to the false assertions of earthly researchers and scientists - about 2.7 million years ago the successor of those first human beings who emerged from the first hominid primate-like beings, but who were not primates from the ground up, but first hominid beings, only that these looked wild and primate-like in their outward appearance, but had no reason whatever with primates.

55. According to our research, the first of these species existed on Earth around 12 million years ago.

56. Homo erectus emerged 2.7 million years ago from natural earthly hominid development, and it was also effectively the most successful hominid Earth ever produced.

57. The first emigrating power and extraterrestrial visitors, who had already immigrated to Earth at that time, mixed early with the Homo erectus, who were still very wild, but nevertheless peaceful, pure Earth creatures.

58. From this a small new species developed from the genus 'Homo erectus', which was then also of very long existence, increased further and from which also still another new species developed.

59. Most of the extraterrestrial visitors, however, left Earth and did not return.

60. After that, about a million years ago and also afterwards, four more emigration powers came to Earth, of which a small number remained, while the majority left again.

61. Then, 389,000 years ago, the 144,000 more immigrants of the distant descendants of the Nokodemion descendants, who also mixed worldwide – like all other immigrants – with pure terrestrial human beings, came, as you mentioned, 144,000 more immigrants.

62. From all these and in mixture with other hominid forms of development Earth-man Homo sapiens sapiens, living today, emerged in the end since primeval times, actually as a very far developed Homo erectus, who is to be called the actual direct primeval ancestor of earth-man.

63. Furthermore, it is a fact that, with respect to Homo erectus, this was not a 'hairy early man monstrosity' that simply ran wildly swinging a club around and knocked down anything that got in his way.

64. The Homo erectus did not just growl and make any dull noises either, because in fact it was already able to articulate itself understandably.

65. So the early ancestor of the terrestrial man was different in this respect from the false views of terrestrial researchers.

66. Homo erectus already had a lot of abilities very early on through the teachings of the extraterrestrial visitors, eg with regard to the production and use of fire.

67. He was also not simply a cave dweller, even if there were such exceptions, because he effectively built huts for his own use, made hunting weapons and tools, partly cooked his food and built boats for water, etc., all through the teachings of the extraterrestrial immigrants.

68. And these abilities, along with many others, which Homo erectus had learned through the immigrants, he also passed on to his descendants, whereby these values have been preserved up to the present time in the terrestrial human being and have, moreover, been extraordinarily extended in terms of development.

69. Already at the first time of its existence Homo erectus was very adaptable and comparatively peaceful, which has been preserved to this day in those terrestrial humans who are not affected by the hereditary gene manipulation of the X chromosome caused by the Sirians. ...

Billy:

Thank you, then we will finally have clarity in this respect as to how everything has happened. This also refutes the weak-headed assertion of those lunatics who swear that humanity on Earth was created by extraterrestrials, such as the Raelian sect and other sects spread this nonsense.

Ptaah:

74. Extraterrestrials have in very early and also in more recent times only interfered in the development of the ancient terrestrial early human beings, which is why they have played certain determining roles in this respect and have also brought calamity to the Earth.

75. This, too, in the wise of their mating and mixing with the terrestrial early humans beings and so bringing the Sirian genetic manipulation to the Earth.

76. The latter has then spread on a large scale among the earthly humankind by way of heredity and has through aggression, disharmony, jealousy, wars, murders, manslaughter, unpeace and unfreedom, etc., brought a great deal of calamity and has preserved it up to the present time.

77. But so this did not happen as a result of a creation of Earth-humans by extraterrestrials and alleged Elohim etc.

78. By extraterrestrial immigrants, who mated and mixed with the early herd people, on the one hand only the Sirian gene manipulation and other gene transfers caused by race were spread worldwide by inheritance, and on the other hand already early the generally all-encompassing and at that time possible primitive development was promoted in various relations.

79. Only in these forms did the extraterrestrial immigrants of all times make reference to the terrestrial human beings, but never in such a way that terrestrial humanity was created by them, extraterrestrials.

80. So the effective truth is that humanity on Earth has emerged as its own creation from the development of life forms on Earth itself, although certain genetic factors of extraterrestrial immigrants have remained in it from the early days of early earthly humans and also from later times, as well as Sirian gene manipulation in large parts.

Billy:

And that you Plejaren, through your teachings, try to do something against the misconduct and the mischief of the old extraterrestrial immigrants, just by teaching and informing, you consider this simply as your obligation, because the old immigrants belonged to the Nokodemion descendant peoples, just like you Plejaren. That's the point, isn't it?

Ptaah:

81. That's so, yes.

Reader Questions

(Questions by Achim Wolf and the FIGU-Süddeutsche Studiengruppe of 14th May 2016)

1. Question:

Did the primordial cell (LUCA) already contain the determination of incarnation (page 245 'Lehrschrift')? The whole purpose of life is to be able to make a contribution to the evolution of creation, which, however, is only possible for the human form of life.

Thus the countless species of plants and animals are to be understood as interdependent stations on the branches and branches of the 'evolution tree'. The design of the individual life-forms should be understood as the result of an adaptation to the constantly changing environmental conditions (on a physical, biological and sociological level) on the developing planet Earth. In the last consequence in the evolution chain Flora (with an impulse consciousness) an additional evolution consciousness developed finally according to regulations a life-form. With his abilities for understanding and reason, which define this form of life as a human being, it has asserted itself as the dominant Earthly form of life.

If Earth's environmental conditions for the evolutionary chain had been different, could a life-form in water, for example, have developed an evolutionary consciousness and thus become a (non-humanoid) human being?

Answer {Billy}:

Each primordial cell corresponds to a second generation, which is derived from a first generation, which the Plejaren call the primordial cell, but which is not capable of creating effective life, as it is to be understood as such. Only the second generation, i.e. the primordial cell, which today is called LUCA by Earthly biological science, is capable and able to develop life, as it is understood in the biological sense, according to Plejaren explanations. The very first primordial cell was formed before the later originated and life-giving primordial cell or LUCA, whereby this primordial cell consisted of the first precursors of microorganisms formed from amino acids, which according to Plejaren explanation were only the first underdeveloped, but not yet life-giving primordial microorganism forms. However, these early forms of pre-microorganisms developed further and formed into primordial cells, which expanded and multiplied in self-replication, from which the effective first microorganism life according to human understanding emerged. All beginnings in this way, however, were absolutely neutral form, consequently no programming etc. was present in the primordial cell, through which certain life-forms, such as humans, animals, getaways etc., would have emerged. Such programmes only emerged in the course of many billions of years, when the first higher forms of life in the sense of self-sufficient, independent and multifarious genera and species already existed and a fauna and diverse flora had emerged. The fauna and thus all these individuals, creatures, beings, creatures and organisms developed inexorably and changed over the course of millions of years as did the vegetation, which formed a cover of vegetation and caused vegetation that many living beings could feed on. All these fauna and flora were classified and developed since the beginning of all life natural evolution processes and changed over millions of years into various other forms, genera and species. From one of these primeval life-forms a development took place up to the human being and to human-like forms (see following list human species) with conscious further development of consciousness. From one of these early forms of life, from which the early or prehistoric man finally emerged through further evolutionary changes and developments during the last 47 million years, a fossil from the Tertiary, Eocene period was found in the Messel mine near Darmstadt. It was the fossil of a creature called IDA by palaeontologists and described as a small 'semi-monkey'. In the 1940s, however, Sfath declared that it was not a monkey creature, but an archetype of very early human development, which could then be described with a clear conscience as a very early archetypal form, namely as 'homo ascensus primitivus', so to speak, which I take the liberty of describing as 'primitive ascension man' or 'primitive climbing man'. Sfath explained that at the time of the existence of the IDA being, it was the time at which this creature developed in the earliest sequence in such a way that in the course of millions of years it had to develop into the human species. At the same time there were other and similar and partly related living beings besides this IDA being, which are called semi-monkeys by earthly palaeontological scientists (palaeontology = 'teaching of the old being'). Also these different types and types developed themselves further, consequently from it on the one hand the type of the actual big and small monkey-beings and all their types resulted, like also the so-called 'apes', the chimpanzees, Bonobos, gorillas and orang-utans, who stand however neither in any connection with the human being nor its early origin.

Thus the genus primates resp. humans came out – contrary to all false scientific claims – already started with Darwin – from an absolutely own development process of a very own life-form line, which furthermore in no way led back to any semi-monkey or monkey lines. In this regard, however, since Darwin, a slander of origin is unfortunately practiced with regard to humans, which will continue far into the future ...

The Plejaren, like the universal primordial prophet Nokodemion in his storage banks, explain that the genus man alone is to be named and regarded as primate (lat. primus; the first one who stands in the first place and is something of precedence), and that this is applicable to him alone, while every kind of monkey being are 'real monkeys' who are in no way 'related' to man, neither from the ground up nor today. In the whole universe man takes an absolute primate position among all living beings and has in no way anything in common with 'master animals' etc., as e.g. the so-called 'apes' are called and in Latin erroneously called 'hominidae'.

According to Nokodemion and the Plejaren, the human species corresponds from the ground up to an absolutely unique development, which originated about 50 million years ago from a primordial animal form and from which biological human development developed. This is in contrast to other similar primitive animal forms, from which all ape creatures have developed, while from the human lineage different races have developed, as these were called in the 469th contact conversation of the 11th of August, 2008 in relation to 18 races by the Plejaren in the following manner:

- 1) Humanoids are human beings in the form in which we Plejaren and Earthlings are, as well as many of our allies in our Federation, but which also include other forms of life that cannot be called humanoids in our sense, because they are of a completely different kind, but nevertheless consciously capable of evolution and have developed their own cultures, techniques and languages, as I have already explained.
- 2) Amphiboids are in the form of life-forms of mixed human and water-animal-like nature, which can live both in the water and on land, as well as in a climate that is strongly water-impregnated. Asina {image 1, image 2}, for example, and her people are part of it.
- 3) Reptiloids are forms of mixed human and reptilian forms of life in which their body is covered with scales.
- 4) Insectoids are forms of mixed human and insect-like life-forms in shape, their skin showing chitin-like peculiarities.

- 5) Sauroides are life-forms of mixed human and sauropode-like form with a skin that resembles the elephant skin at shape.
- 6) Primatoids are life-forms of mixed human and primate-similar form with hairy body at shape, however in stronger kind than the terrestrial humanoid resp. terrestrial human being.
- 7) Condicoids are humanoids in form of life-forms, but with the ability to move through levitation.
- 8) Teropoids are at shape life-forms with human and bird-good body, with long neck, face and beak-similar mouth.
- 9) Hydroids are forms of life with human and fishlike bodies, whose actual life element is water, but which they can also leave for a longer time.
- 10) Thermoids are humanoid life-forms with human-like bodies, whose own life element are hot regions with very high temperatures.
- 11) Frigoroids are humanoid life-forms with human body at shape, whose life-element is very cold areas with very low minus-temperatures.
- 12) Aërioids are humanoid life-forms with human body in shape, whereby they are poison-gas-breathers and their life-element diverse gas-atmospheres.
- 13) Acoroids are humanoid forms of life with a human body, but their skin is covered by a fine layer of acid, such as the Trilans.
- 14) Floroids are in shape life-forms with human-like and diverse vegetable bodies.
- 15) Kentauroides are life-forms with partly human and partly horse-like body.
- 16) Faunoids are life-forms with partly human and partly diverse hoofed moderate bodies.
- 17) Cheruboids are very light human life-forms at shape and weight, provided with feathered wings, through which they can fly.
- 18) Seraphoids are very easy life-forms at shape and weight with partly human and partly diverse animal body, provided with feathered wings, through which they can fly.

3. Question:

Are all terrestrial-biological life-forms actually the result of a single, common cell type – a primordial cell – which in science is called LUCA (Last Universal Common Ancestor)?

Answer {Billy}:

This is only true to the extent that a single primordial cell was created first, which, however, enabled itself to multiply itself. ...

In professional circles, the original cell is now called LUCA, which in English means 'Last Universal Common Ancestor' and translated means 'last common ancestor'. This biological term LUCA= the shining was not yet known to me in 1945. Why, however, in the childish English language 'last' or 'last' is said, although LUCA was the very first ancestor out of which man finally developed, this is not comprehensible, but understandable, if one considers how primitive this language – among others – is compared to German and Swiss German. I will answer the question with a short explanation, which leads back to a conversation with Sfath and myself, which we brought together in 1945...

Eduard:

What would interest me would be something concerning how the emergence of life in the first origin has actually emerged from a scientific, chemical, biological and physical point of view. ...

Sfath:

4. All very first primeval living beings or primeval microorganisms of every animate planet as well as asteroids, comets, moon and meteors etc. and logically also all larger, large and gigantic life-forms of every genus and species resulting from the basic primeval microorganisms originated from a first common primeval cell, which had developed from a preceding single primeval microcell in the form of an amino acid originated primeval microorganism.
5. This contained all central molecules of life, which are also maintained at all times, whereby the chemical reactions and the genetic code are the same in all kinds of life-forms.
6. However, how life came about in principle corresponds to a central question, which can only be answered by the fact that everything in its origin resulted from pure natural-biological-chemical processes.
7. Plausible answers to this question, which is important for people on Earth with regard to their conception of themselves and their world view, have been sought in recent centuries by the natural sciences in particular and have solved this mystery in its origin.
8. However, no well-known findings concerning the origin of life have been gained to date, and consequently no plausible explanation has yet been provided for this.
9. What has brought explanations, on the other hand, refers to the theory of the evolution of biological tribal history from lower to higher forms of life, as Charles Darwin, in his simple, elegant and x-hundred times confirmed theory of evolution, is known to have brought.
10. The reality explains, however, that today's diversity of living beings on Earth has developed in its origin through primordial microorganisms, which came to Earth through impacts of asteroids and comets and meteorites, as well as through gases and dust clouds drifting through space, which also reached the planet. ...
15. So all life developed from a first primordial cell that multiplied itself.
16. The offspring then developed further through repetitive small evolutionary processes of change, in which those forms survived that best adapted to their environment and food and were able to live and reproduce.
17. Even today, however, it is not yet known or clear to Earth's scientists that a primordial cell created all life in its very first origin and that this originated from a single cell that multiplied infinitely. ...
20. How this primordial cell was created corresponded to a purely chemical pre-biological development process.
21. It was only through the development and existence of acidic substances that compounds arose, from which the first primordial primordial microorganisms developed, which were transformed into primordial microorganisms through further combining and further training chemical-porbiological processes, from which a first micro-primordial cell was formed, with the property of a first form of self-replication.

22. But before the people of Earth can now discuss the origin of life – which they have been trying to do for centuries and even since antiquity, but have not yet been able to form a rhyme for it – they must learn to define what has to be understood as 'life' at all.
23. Living matter, e.g. trees, bacteria, animals or humans, differs from abiotic matter, e.g. minerals, water and air, in that it can replicate itself.
24. This requires, firstly, an information storage system or genome and, secondly, a metabolism, a biological-chemical upset or metabolism.
25. This means that this minimal unit of life with which it exchanges substances is separated from its surroundings, which in all forms of life is done by a biomembrane that serves as a separating layer between different areas within a living cell or between the interior of a cell and the outer space of the cell.
26. This is where amino acids come into play, because without amino acids there would be no life, because they are the basis of all life, not only on Earth, but in the whole universe and in all its many dimensions.
27. The many prebiotic chemical reactions in the uranfog have led to universe-wide biological life.
28. How the amino acids first came into being is fundamentally based on the fact that gases and substances such as ammonia, methane, water, hydrogen and other tiny molecules were formed in the universe's nebula and above all on universe objects or planets.
29. In the interaction of atoms, electricity resp. electric flashes and a substance, which we call 'formality' as well as 'form solution', the first proto-amino acid resp. a precursor form of amino acids was formed.
30. The 'formality' or 'form solution' is not only continuously formed under the influence of electric fields, but it is this substance which also favours and causes the formation of more complex organic molecules.
31. And this substance is present everywhere in the universe, so also outside Earth, which means that amino acids are of absolutely natural origin and are not created by humans.
32. From this, the development process continued and will continue endlessly, because electric fields adhere to the surface of minerals for all times of the existence of the universe, which are an important component in amino acid formation and which can continue to act endlessly.
33. Amino acids were and are the absolute primordial cause and decisive for the beginning of life, because they formed the important building blocks, proteins, which are indispensable for life.
34. Proteins are therefore also the essential components of all cells, in all forms of life, including protozoa, animals, plants and humans.

Billy:

Thank you very much for the transmission of the conversation between Sfath and me, but I still have a question, namely, what is the substance called 'formality' or 'form solution' by your father Sfath in the actual sense and whether our Earthly scientists also know it? Unfortunately at that time Sfath did not explain to me what is actually meant by this substance and whether it is also discovered on Earth by the scientists.

Ptaah:

95. It is actually known, and has been known for quite some time, because the 'formality' or 'form solution' is a composition of the so-called 'formamides', as they are called by an Earthly technical term, but it concerns a certain group of 'formamides'. ...

Billy:

... "In the 1940s, however, Sfath declared that it was not a monkey creature, but an archetype of very early human development, which could then be described with a clear conscience as a very early prehuman, namely as 'homo ascensus primitivus', as it were, which I take the liberty of translating into German as 'primitive ascension man' or 'primitive climbing man'. What do you think, I think how I express what your father Sfath said in a Germanizing way?

Ptaah:

109. In my opinion, it applies to how you translated my father's statement into German.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_673

Ptaah:

21. The records of my father are based on precise clarifications, observations and findings of the events of that time and later, and on clear facts, and they state and prove unequivocally that Charles Darwin tried to prove 'his' theory of evolution by unfair machinations, which, moreover, in their origin did not lead back to himself, but to a natural scientist named Alfred Russel Wallace, who sent Darwin a corresponding essay, the contents of which he used to his advantage.

22. Wallace was on an expedition to the Southeast Asian archipelago at the time when Darwin was making a name for himself with the theory of evolution, when he sent Darwin an essay relating to his evolutionary research for study and evaluation.

23. Darwin, however, used the content of his essay for himself and his theory of evolution, without mentioning that the whole thing was based on the guiding principles of Alfred Russel Wallace.

24. There was written evidence of this, but Darwin maliciously altered or destroyed it, or later misinterpreted it by reckless historians.

25. But that doesn't matter to the Darwinists themselves in the face of evidence, but they use even more fraudulent methods to hold on to their 'Darwin truth'.

26. And the fact that Darwin fraudulently mounted a filed-up monkey jaw bone on a human skull corresponds to an irrefutable fact that can be proven, because at least this fake Darwin product was preserved until the middle of the 20th century, before it was recognized as fraud, under the name 'Piltdown Man'.

27. This is a human skull, into which Darwin had inserted monkey bones that had been filed into shape.

28. This human skull, forged by Darwin with his monkey bones cut to size and only about 6 centuries old, was to prove as a missing piece of Charles Darwin's theory that mankind should descend from monkey creatures.

29. However, this skull was not the only forgery, because there were also various other bone elements that Darwin changed.

30. The 'finding' of the Piltdown skull was also based on a scam put into circulation by a man named Charles Dawson, which is why the skull was also called 'Dawson's Skull' and 'Dawson's Man of Dawn'.

31. Allegedly – so he justified his deception – he 'found' the alleged remains of the early man or Piltdown man in a gravel pit near the village Piltdown near Uckfield in the southeast of England, according to which the term Piltdown man originated.

32. Truthfully, however, Dawson did not find the skull, but buried it there himself – along with other pieces of bone worked by Darwin – that were all manipulated bones from Darwin's estate, which he had acquired for a higher price from William Erasmus Darwin, Charles Darwin's first-born son.

33. He knew about his father's forgeries, so after his death he wanted to get rid of all of Darwin's forgeries of 'fossils' to protect his father's reputation so that he could not be accused of fraud.

34. Basically, it was a completely confused, illogical and confused thinking and acting of William Erasmus Darwin, because he suffered from pathological states of fear, which were based on the fact that an uncovering and becoming public of the deception could come about.

35. Instead of simply destroying or burying all of his father's fake bone pieces and the prepared skull with a filed monkey jaw, which would have corresponded to a logical action, he acted completely illogically in his confusion of fear and left everything for a fee to Charles Dawson, who was about 25 years younger than him and with whom he was acquainted.

36. The deal between Darwin's son and Dawson was wisely kept secret, including the clause that Dawson would never talk about the true origin of the skull and bones.

37. Dawson kept to this and never revealed the secret of the true origin of the skull and the bone parts, but distinguished himself as the 'finder' of them.

38. This alleged Piltdown man's skull was then, when Dawson made it public, presented for many years as significant proof of Charles Darwin's theory of evolution, after which skull investigations in 1953 proved that the whole thing was a fraud and not a primordial fossil, but a fake assembled from human and monkey bones.

39. Charles Dawson was mistakenly blamed for this fake – and is still blamed to some extent today – as were various other men, such as a palaeontologist named Arthur Smith Woodward, who worked with Dawson but knew nothing of his fraudulent machinations and the acquisition of Charles Darwin's fake skull and bones.

40. The writer Arthur Conan Doyle was also suspected of being the fraud and counterfeiter, but all these accusations were not true, for the only truth is that the whole fraud was attributed to Charles Darwin.

41. But this fact is vehemently doubted and denied by inexperienced Darwinists, whereupon the Darwinian deception will continue to exist and Darwinism will also be maintained because a faith that once developed can hardly, no longer at all or only with great difficulty be dissolved and corrected by the real reality and effective truth.

Billy:

It is easier to believe than to think for oneself, to perceive reality in its actuality and to recognize effective truth in it, to consider it and to comprehend it through understanding and reason. And earthlings, who do not understand this and who are also weak of intelligence and autocratic and defame their fellow human beings in this way, there are unfortunately enormously many, and especially those who can do this through public media are extremely mean. There is also a certain kind of scientist, by which I mean those heroes who claim that life originated only a few hundred million or about 1-2 billion years ago, because they have not yet been able to prove by fossil finds that life on Earth existed much earlier. Your father Sfath already taught me in the early 1940s that minuscule life already existed more than 5 billion years ago on our planet, which is also much older. With his super magnifying devices he also showed me super tiny fossils, which he explained he found on earth and which were about 5 billion years old. Contrary to his explanations that Earth is little more than 5 billion and 600 million years old, Earthly scientists claim that our planet is only 4.5 billion years old, which is why I always call this time when I write something about Earth, but which is not correct and sometimes makes me feel remorse. Many earthlings simply want to be big and make claims, assumptions or lies because they want to be more valid than their fellow human beings, or because they are blasé or crazy about size, to which, as I said, a certain kind of scientist belongs. Sfath also said that every time a celestial body comes into being, tiny living beings or microbes are already present from the ground up. Depending on the genus, they could survive even in extreme heat and cold for thousands, even millions and even billions of years, as they have been floating undamaged through space since primeval times, but have emerged from planets and other bodies of space that carried water and other liquids. Apparently the scientists do not know this, however, because according to various earthling scientific assertions, life on earth did not come into being until long after it was created. ...

Ptaah:

126. At the primordial beginning of life, every life-form consisted of a single cell, because each began its life as such.

127. It was only through cell division that they became multicellular forms, and it was through cell division that the many special cells were produced from which the various bodies, creatures and organisms developed.

128. The cell is the smallest basic unit of a living being.

129. All life-forms, from the smallest to the largest, are made of cells.

130. Cells are capable of making a copy of themselves, and some cells can even produce cell types that are different from themselves.

131. Cells are therefore small and tiny, but there are also different forms and types that perform very different functions and can also move and crawl, even swim.

132. Amino acids are the basis of all life on Earth.

133. For the first time, these were created by relatively tiny organic molecules, which are actually compounds consisting mainly of carbon and hydrogen and which also contain the amino group NH₂ in addition to an acid group.

134. Amino acids are omnipresent in the living free nature, whereby there are over 300 different amino acids in total.

135. 20 of these amino acids are of special importance because they are proteinogenic amino acids respectively amino acids in the narrow sense.

136. Amino acids are the actual building blocks that are linked together in a predetermined order by chemical bonds in living organisms, thus creating larger molecules, namely peptides and proteins.

137. The peptides and proteins differ in their chain length, the latter being shorter.

138. The order of the linked amino acids forms the blueprint for a body, with these molecules providing the genetic material in the form of DNA and RNA.

139. The ligaments, enzymes, skin and hair, as well as the organic bone material and the muscles and tendons, as well as many other components of the body are made up of proteins, which are made up of the 20 proteinogenic amino acids.

140. Basically, they are among the most important organic compounds of all.

141. In primeval times, the origin of life was electricity and the substance 'didaraun'.

142. Electricity was created by electric lightning, which formed amino acids in a primeval soup of methane, ammonia, water, hydrogen and other small molecules.

143. Amino acids were created on the young Earth by lightning in the primeval soup of the Earth and set everything in motion in a decisive way, whereby the amino acids were decisive for the beginning of life because they served as building blocks for proteins.

144. Proteins, in turn, are the essential components of all cells, starting with unicellular organisms, plants, amphibians, animals, insects, reptiles, mammals, birds, aquatic life and human beings.

145. In the very first origin, five molecules in the primeval soup were the decisive factors, namely H₂O, i.e. water, ammonia respectively NH₃, methane CH₄ as well as carbon monoxide molecules respectively CO and nitrogen molecules N₂.

146. This mixture of molecules was excited by the electric lightning charges, which was the important factor in the formation of the first amino acids.

147. The original lightning and its generated electric fields were an extremely important component in the formation of amino acids, whereby these electric fields were also deposited on the surface of minerals, which has continued to happen since then and is still happening today, so that they will also occur on the surface of minerals in the future.

148. In addition, many other prebiotic chemical reactions took place, which led to biological life, whereby 'Didaraun' played the central role in the influence of electric fields and an extremely important role, because it was only this that promoted and enabled the formation of more complex organic molecules.

149. The 'Didaraun' was therefore not only important on Earth for the development of single cell structures and for the formation of amino acids, but everywhere on the worlds on which multicellular and material living beings developed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_683

Billy:

... The other day there was a programme on television concerning what we talked about some time ago, namely the actual origin of the emergence of the first cell-like life. You used the term 'didaraun' as the actual origin. In that programme – I do not know what the title was, because I did not see the beginning of it – they also talked about an origin of the formation of cells or something, and they used the term 'formamide'.

Ptaah:

12. This television programme was recorded by Enjana, following which I am familiar with it and I can also confirm that the term 'formamide' used is identical to the term 'didaraun' that we use in our language for the whole thing.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_711

Ptaah:

19. But first I want to tell you what you asked me a long time ago, namely what the Sanura Lake and the dwarf creatures were all about.

20. As you said, I was able to find records about it in my father Sfath's annals, which also revealed facts that were completely foreign to me and very interesting

21. According to his annals, he explored the Earth at many times in the past, and nearly 40,000 years ago he also came across Lake Sanura, where at that time the elevated terrain above the present centre was inhabited by small-bodied human beings who averaged 115 centimetres in height and were the most distant descendants of the first terrestrial hominids.

22. In addition to these small human beings – some of whose most distant descendants are still to be found in Africa as pygmies, as well as in Asia – my father Sfath also researched their origins, which took him to many other areas of the Earth, where he came across other various smaller groups of small human beings in Europe, Africa, South and North America, in Australia and Asia.

23. These were all different, however, and ranged up to 160 centimetres in height, were differently pigmented and also had anatomical differences.

24. Interested, he continued his research into the past of Earth history and Earth-humans and traced the developmental processes of hominids back to the early times of 17 million years.

25. He then went back many more millions of years into the past and, around 45 million years ago in the area that is now Germany, came across first life forms that developed into a form in early times, from which the hominid evolution emerged around 17 million years ago, and from which, in the course of further millions of years, small-bodied human beings ultimately developed.

26. He discovered these life forms at the place where he was also together with you, in order to teachingly instruct you, where the actual original origin of the visible human life-form began, in the area that you know as the 'Messel Pit' near Darmstadt.

27. This first development of the life form, which led to the creation of the first hominid species, was found there for the very first time by my father Sfath, from which, over many millions of years, the effective first human being emerged from the descendants that developed from it in what is now known as North Africa, as well as in areas that are now called Europe, South Africa, South and North America, Asia and Australia.

28. So he established that all the small human beings he researched arose at approximately the same time all over the Earth and that they were the first and oldest human beings on Earth – completely contrary to the false research results of today's earthly-scientific anthropology, whose alleged 'knowledge' is based only on incorrect and hypothetical or made-up assertions.

29. Thus it has been recognised by research in the past that the very first effective human beings on the Earth were small ones who emerged naturally in various areas from the planet and its nature, fauna and flora itself.

30. So the origin of the Earth humanity was correctly found in Africa, as Earth anthropology teaches correctly, but not in the wise it was thought, because early Earth human history did not begin at the time calculated according to the earliest remains of the genus Homo in Africa, but millions of years much earlier.

31. According to the research of my father Sfath, all findings on Earth concerning the earliest hominids correspond only to bones of human beings who evolved from the first genus Homo and thus from the first generation of the human species. As a result, the 'dwarfs' – as you always call them, and because of which you have erected various artificial dwarf figures in the centre – who were effectively the very first earth-created human beings, gave rise to the taller normal-bodied beings who populate the world today in vast excess.

32. However, it must also be clearly explained that the hominid development of the human species did not take place uniformly, but in manifold temporal and spatial gradations, when the process of the actual becoming and the evolutionary adaptation of the Earth human phenotypic anatomy in relation to the small stature of the first life-form of Earth-humans began about 17 million years ago.

33. These were, however, human beings of normal height and therefore not comparable with the short stature or short stature of the short stature known on Earth today.

34. This short stature is the result of various symptoms of different basic diseases, which impair the growth of the body and the development of the limbs, whereby it is misconceivedly assumed by innocent Earth-humans that these short-statured human beings are cognitively handicapped.

35. This, however, corresponds to an unparalleled error and misjudgement, for these human beings, impaired by dwarfism, are as a rule absolutely normal and equal to the so-called normal human beings with regard to the development of consciousness, intellect, reason and intelligence, and thus also to all cognitive and physical abilities, and thus also with regard to reproduction, consequently they are in no way inferior to the normal human beings in these respects.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_713

Ptaah:

23. And this multiple mischief has already developed before primeval times, when in a natural way the life-forms quarrelled and fought over their food and mating, as has remained completely natural up to the present day in the world of free nature with the majority of many living beings.

24. Only a few species of life-forms, as a result of their innate somewhat higher capacity for development, have arrived at modes of behaviour by which they have deviated in a slight way from this law of nature and have become more peaceful, less envious of food and less averse to quarrelling and fighting.

25. The early life-forms, which in course of time ultimately evolved into the human form, were at early times quarrelling, fighting and violent among themselves in regard to food and mating, in order to secure for themselves all that they needed.

26. As the development of the human beings as a life-form progressed, evolution also brought about the first important factors in the development of reason, whereby the fighting and struggling for food and mating could be carried out more and more successfully and efficiently.

27. This is what happened with the early life-forms that developed into Earth-humans and will also be maintained by the present and all future generations of Earth-humans.

28. Consequently, they will – as at all times before – also act today, tomorrow and in the future as the laws of nature dictate, according to which they will also in the future always fight and struggle for their food and mating, if this becomes necessary for their self-preservation through any events, situations and occurrences, etc.

29. But since they possess intellect, reason and intelligence, they apply these values in unvalues to their benefit, according to all their early experiences, which are created in their inner character being and are also latently present today and tomorrow as malignant degenerations.

30. The consequence is – and will always be, if Earth-humans do not make an effort on their own initiative to combat all these degenerations lurking in their inner character being and to dissolve them – that all degenerations and all evils of all kinds unworthy of human beings will go on endlessly into the future with coercion and malignant violence.

31. And the most important reason for this is given by every delusion of every form, because every belief – be it in the form of a delusion of God, a philosophy, ideology or world view, which corresponds to a delusion of religion – is alien to every reality and truth.

32. Consequently, every faith is not fundamentally grounded in the absolute certainty and irrefutability of factuality, truthfulness and its real authenticity.

33. The living beings of that time – which were still wild beings and not to be equated with ape-beings, as Charles Darwin tried to prove as Earth human ancestors through his fraudulent machinations by working on ape bones with a file – in the course of time fell into all conceivable degenerations, up to killing and murdering. ...

Billy:

... We have already talked several times about why and where and in which of the different ages in the past your father Sfath brought me, which you read about in his annals and then asked me for details as a result of your interest. Therefore, we also spoke about the fact that I should mention something about it in one of our open conversations, precisely what Sfath taught me about, so that facts concerning it would also be recorded and kept for later times. The reason for this is that if one day the earthling scientists were to find important fossils and other proofs that everything was completely different from what they have all tried to prove for centuries with absolutely false hypotheses as 'past history'. One day, new and effectively doubtless research findings will also reveal Darwin's deception and prove that human beings on Earth are not descended from apes. ...

... Then I will only mention a little of what I have to say about the teachings of Sfath, beginning with the fact that Earth-humans did not originate in the South, but in the North of Africa, which was already openly mentioned in one of our conversations. This is also contrary to all so-called scientific anthropological claims or the science of human beings and their development, which also includes philosophical, biological, cultural and forensic anthropology. Also that the human beings who allegedly originated somewhere in the interior of Africa – who in truth originated in an area near the Atlantic west coast in South Africa, somewhat later than the appearance of those first human beings who originated in North Africa – migrated from there to the East, which today is called the Orient or the Orient, as well as to the North or the Occident, as well as to Asia etc., all this corresponds to a fairy tale, as does Darwin's fraud. His fraud, which he committed by filing monkey bones to prove that the human beings of the Earth descended from monkeys – which was unfortunately accepted and believed due to the stupidity of the scientists of the time – is still being defended today by countless ignorant people. This is in contrast to the fact that the Earth human being actually emerged from a creature that had nothing whatsoever to do with apes, as Sfath showed me in the 1940s at the Messel Pit as a fossilised fossil, from which the Earth human being then also developed in North Africa. However, we never openly talked about the fact that a human form also developed in Europe from the same species of life-form that I saw as a fossil in the Messel Pit. We never talked about this openly, just as I never talked about the fact that the small life-form that I saw as a fossil was distributed worldwide in several species, and that human beings also developed from these species in various places on different continents, although they all differed anatomically in certain respects. All of them were quite small at first and only grew into larger upright beings or human forms in the course of a long time, which then also spread in many countries in a sparse manner and partly also mixed with Earth-foreigners, as a result of which they also took over their genes. In particular, this resulted in such contacts and connections with Earth-foreigners, which also gave rise to the 'modern humans', who were, however, quite barbaric and cannibalistic and consequently did not always treat other human beings as their equals. Consequently, they also killed them as enemies, just as they imprisoned and slaughtered others – such as the Neanderthals in Europe and Eurasia – as living food stores when they needed them for food. These 'modern human beings' arrived in Central Europe around 185,000 years ago, not the 45,000 to 50,000 years ago that our earth scientists claim. So they settled in Europe earlier, even if no fossil finds have been discovered for this so far and also no evidence that they had kept Neanderthals partly as prisoners in relation to 'emergency food' during their first appearance in Europe, although they then later lived together somewhat 'peacefully' with the dying Neanderthals throughout the region for several millennia.

... We have spoken before, which I will repeat here reading ... {basic repetition of Contact Report 714 statements}

... One day, new and effectively doubtless research findings will also reveal Darwin's deception and prove that human beings on Earth are not descended from apes. ...

... Then I will now mention only a little of what I have to say with regard to Sfath's teachings, beginning with the fact that Earth-humans did not originate in the South, but in the North of Africa, which has already been openly mentioned in one of our conversations. This is also contrary to all so-called scientific anthropological claims or the science of human beings and their development, which also includes philosophical, biological, cultural and forensic anthropology.

Also that the first human beings are said to have emerged somewhere inland in southern Africa corresponds to a silly assumption and assertion, because in truth the first human beings appeared in Africa in an area near the Atlantic west coast of South Africa, and at a somewhat later time than the appearance of those first human beings who emerged in North Africa in the area that today includes the Sahara and Egypt.

The scientific assertions are fundamentally wrong that the early human beings who emerged in Africa from the evolution of mankind migrated from there to the East, which today is called the Orient or the Orient, as well as to the North or the West, the Occident, as well as to Asia, etc. These assertions also correspond to a scientific theory. These assertions are just as much a science fairy tale as Darwin's deception that human beings descended from apes. His fraud, which he committed by filing monkey bones to prove that the human beings of the Earth descended from monkeys, was unfortunately accepted and believed due to the stupidity of the scientists of the time. And so it is also still today, since unasked by the stupid and those who want to know better, his deception continues to be believed as truth and is championed by countless ignorant people. This, however, while the human beings of the Earth effectively emerged from a being whose actual origin began as a bacterium. And this was indeed the case, for the human being evolved from a bacterium into a human being, whereby the early evolution of becoming a human being and its coming to life on Earth is astonishingly old. As I learned from your father Sfath in the 1940s, contrary to the claims of earthly scientists or planetologists, the Earth was not formed about 4.5 billion years ago, but already 5.5 billion years ago. So, from a geological point of view, the alleged 'findings' of planetology regarding the formation of the Earth are wrong, because with about 5.5 billion years of planetology knowledge, the Earth is about one billion years older than is claimed. The fact is that the developing planet Earth was first an extremely hostile world body, did not yet have a solidified crust and did not yet have water. In addition, this early Earth was hit by frequent meteorite impacts, which caused its mass to increase continuously, after which, however, when planetary cooling occurred, everything changed for the better about 4.5 billion years ago. Comets, asteroids and meteorites transported water onto the slowly cooling surface of the planet, stimulating new processes, which in the course of time developed into a planet-wide water production. Sfath taught me – but I will only explain this in brief – that the Earth began with its own water creation and created most of the water itself, namely when the first plants emerged from nature around 4.5 billion years ago, which developed, multiplied and stored cell sap in themselves by absorbing the sparse water in the Earth's soil, which was first brought to Earth by meteorites, asteroids, stardust and comets from outer space. These waters were initially only sparse, but it was sufficient for the first biological life to develop in the interaction of all the necessary bacterial factors, namely in the form of moulds, from which mosses and, in the course of time, also higher plants developed. The term 'higher plants', briefly explained, is to be understood as everything that fundamentally comprises the first genera, such as trees, shrubs, perennials, flowering herbs, ferns, flowers and their subspecies and relatives. Mosses and green algae, I remember from Sfath's teachings, are actually much more closely related to and associated with the 'higher plants' than the immense diversity of the other 'lower' plant world.

Now, according to Sfath's teachings, the waters – which have just been brought to Earth from outer space by meteorites, asteroids, stardust and comets – first penetrated the Earth and were stored in it. On the one hand, small bodies of water were formed, and on the other hand, the small amounts of water that seeped into the earth also created a slight moisture. This, however, was sufficient for the bacteria, some of which had been brought from the space of the world with the water and some of which had also developed in the earthly soil, to come together in the course of a very long time and lead to the development of the first biological life, first slime forms, then moulds, then mosses and then the first 'lower plants' and then the 'higher plants'. These were then followed by the first insects and later the actual first fauna life-forms that could move in water, in the soil, on the ground, as well as in the air, which were also followed after a very long time by the human beings. ...

... If everything is considered in detail that happened at the earliest times, then the following is to be said about the beginning of the emergence of the flora on Earth: A new process of development took place out of it, and this by the fact that everything developed exactly according to the creative-naturally predetermined laws. And when the time had come for the environmental conditions to stabilise for the first time through liquid water and for everything to occur, it did not take long for the first life to develop in places of soil and water in the form of primitive single-celled bacteria, whereby Sfath called this process early organic biogeochemistry, if I still remember it correctly. From this, over the course of billions and millions of years, life evolved on Earth from all primordial beginnings and thus from its first emergence until today, as the entire complex ecosystems exist.

But as far as Darwin's deception is concerned, it is to be said that the origin of human beings had nothing whatsoever to do with apes, for first the bacterium, from which the human being form finally developed over millions of years, lived as a fish-like aquatic creature, before it developed into a land creature and then into further land life forms, as Sfath showed me in the 1940s at the Messel Pit as a fossilised fossil, from which Earth-humans also ultimately emerged, which first developed in North Africa. But we have never openly talked about the fact that a human form also developed in Europe from the same species of life-form that I saw as a fossil in the Messel Pit. In fact, human forms developed not only in North Africa, Europe and South Africa, but also in North America, Central America and in several places in South America, as well as in Australia, New Zealand and in various places in Asia, the Near East and the Orient, as well as in the areas that are now called China and Russia, etc. A large part of these human forms developed in Europe. A large part of these human beings, however, died out again in the course of time, as a result of which their early existence was never known, which, however, according to your predictions, Ptaah, is to change to some extent in the coming times, because small fossil finds are to be made for these facts one day. So far we have only talked about this among ourselves and not officially, just as I have also talked about the small life-form that I saw as a fossil in the Messel Pit, which was distributed worldwide in several species, and that human beings also developed from these species on various continents in various places, although they all differed anatomically in certain respects. All of them were quite small at first and only grew into larger upright beings or human forms in the course of a long time, which then also spread in many countries in a sparse manner and partly also mixed with Earth-foreigners, as a result of which they also took over their genes. In particular, this resulted in such contacts and connections with Earth-foreigners, which also gave rise to the 'modern humans', who were, however, quite barbaric and cannibalistic and consequently did not always treat other human beings as their equals. Consequently, they also killed them as enemies, just as they imprisoned and slaughtered others – such as the Neanderthals in Europe and Eurasia – as living food stores when they needed them for food. These 'Modern Human Beings' arrived in Central Europe around 185,000 years ago and not just 45,000 to 50,000 years ago, as our earth scientists claim. So they settled in Europe earlier, even though no fossil finds or evidence of this have been discovered so far. Also that they had partly kept Neanderthals as prisoners in relation to 'emergency food', this is unknown to earthly researchers and scientists, as well as that they then lived together in only small groups during their first appearance in Europe, whereby they then later, however, for some time in their regions still lived together somewhat 'peacefully' with the Neanderthals who had died out, but who were not only to be found in Europe, but far and wide, and whose genes have been preserved in a few percentages in human beings up to the present day.

Ptaah:

26. Our extensive and detailed annals, which we have also kept since the founding of the 'United States of America', cover completely all the armed conflicts from the beginning and all the warlike, intelligence and terrorist activities of the USA in every respect.

27. The original settlement by Europeans took place as early as 1430, when the indigenous peoples, the North American Indians, were still alone on the continent, who were then fought for centuries by European immigrants and their descendants and finally almost exterminated.

28. And this was already the case at that time, when between 1430 and 1500 there were about 72 million human beings living on the North American part of the continent, who repeatedly feuded with each other as a result of territorial claims.

29. The indigenous people were descended from their ancestors, the first human beings, whom you also call primitive human beings.

30. These had emerged naturally from this continent itself and therefore did not come from somewhere else, as the Earth anthropologists etc. assume and claim, because so far they have no idea and no proof that the original ancestors of the original inhabitants of this continent emerged from the planet in a natural evolutionary way, almost at the same time as all other Earth-humans who emerged on all continents.

31. So the original inhabitants of North America did not come 10,000 or 12,000 years ago etc. from the present continent of Asia via a land connection where the Bering Strait is today.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_721

Ptaah:

62. And the fact that we also brought this teaching to Earth at an early time was due to the fact that our ancestors discovered a natural dimensional gate 22 million years ago by chance, which is located here in the DERN universe about 120 light-years beyond the Pleiades stars known to you.

63. The dimensional gateway was discovered because a moon from our ANKAR universe that had drifted from an exploded planet entered the DERN universe through this dimensional gateway, which our ancestors investigated and then found to be Earth's satellite.

64. One consequence of this was that over the course of millions of years small groups of Plejaren repeatedly migrated to Earth and also died here.

65. Later, when the first human life-forms also developed on Earth around 12 million years ago in various areas that are now Europe, Africa, Asia, North and South America, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, China and Russia as well as various islands, several small groups of our Plejaren ancestors had also already settled in some areas on the planet, but they all died out in the course of the next millions of years.

66. About 6 million years ago, when the distant descendants of the first human beings moved in a few specimens all over the Earth and had developed more highly over the next 3 million years, more Plejaren emigrants came to Earth, some of whom joined forces with the original earthly humans and mated with them.

Nokodemion worked out fundamental conventions or rules of social behaviour for all life-forms capable of consciousness, understanding and reason – which also includes the human being, Homo sapiens, and all rational beings in general. ...

These norms created by Nokodemion regarding morality, ethics, ethos and human rights etc. were also brought to Earth about 22 million years ago, where, however, in the course of time and millions of years, they were no longer maintained and therefore also not transferred to the earthly original human beings when they emerged almost simultaneously several times on all continents throughout the Earth about 12 million years ago. – This is contrary to all the false palaeontological claims of earthly researchers that human beings only emerged as dry-nosed primates 2-4 million years ago in the south of Africa, and so on.

In primeval times the waters of the seas rose up to 80 metres higher above the land masses of the Earth, which was usually mostly free of ice and only rarely covered with ice during a certain early, progressive, temporary and decisive stage. At that time, there were completely different temperatures, different climatic conditions and equally different vegetative conditions on Earth, as well as different animal, beast and insect, amphibian and bird life-forms, right up to the gigantic dinosaurs that inhabited the Earth world.

Billy:

... I have already mentioned that the development of the really great diversity of species on Earth began significantly 77.2 million years ago, when an atmospheric fire caused a climate change that lasted 30.4 million years. During this time, all life continued unstoppably, consequently all life-forms of all genera and species also developed in a completely natural way. Then, as I said, 46.8 million years ago, through another natural event, the actual very great process of transformation began with regard to all existing life-forms of all kinds. From this also the first being emerged from many transformations, which for the first time had developed 5 toes on each foot and 5 fingers on each hand, which also walked alternately on all four limbs or only on the two hind legs, and from which then 12 million years ago the human being emerged. I am of course absolutely aware that the entire earthly palaeontological science will deny everything that the human beings of the Earth ultimately developed from this being, consequently it is also claimed that another living being developed from it. But I do not care, because I rely on what Sfath explained when he took me to the Messel Pit, showed me the fossil and explained that he had personally checked everything to the last detail and therefore knew without a doubt that the human beings of Earth had emerged from these beings.

115. Viruses are not actually living organisms as such, but they are infectious cell-less organic structures that exist everywhere in all universes with a number known to us of around 2.7 million different species and generally have the ability to replicate and evolve, with many also acting as hosts amongst themselves.

116. Viruses are not self-sufficient living beings, but purely independent and autonomous structural forms, yet in primeval times they were the actual factors for the beginning of all life-formation, whereby an innumerable mass changed through their evolution into life-first forms, from which the first lower life-forms developed over eons of time, which as a result of their evolutionary ability grew into ever higher forms.

117. This also included the many types of bacteria, which, as effective living beings, required a different basis than the viruses from whose transformation they emerged, for as life-forms they required, for example, oxygen, sulfur and other chemical substances, or light, etc.

... But now I would like to bury this subject and talk about what Darwin announced, namely that all life originated only from one single cell or microorganism and developed into all that exists. However, Sfath taught me – namely also by letting me see and learn the whole of the truth by means of his research technique, on a world developing its first basic life – that not only one single organism of a genus or species is the origin of the enormous diversity of all life on a planet. Also on Earth, the million-fold life did not develop from one single tiny cell, but, as Sfath taught me and also proved to me, first the most diverse virion particles, as they are actually called while they are still outside a cell, came into existence in masses. Only then, as Sfath taught, when a virion particle can infect a host cell, should it be called 'vire' or 'virus'. ...

Ptaah:

83. Viruses were the true primordial origin of all life, which also makes it clear that the approximately 2.8 million viruses known to us Plejaren on Earth have not only negative, dangerous and life-destroying impacts, but also positive, benign and life-creating as well as life-sustaining ones.

Billy:

To lift the big ones to heaven and send the small ones to hell. The whole thing is handled according to the principle: "Let the big ones go, hang the little ones." This is also the case in so-called science, because those who know better than the learned scientists are disregarded and ridiculed. For example, it is still claimed today that the Earth was colonised from Africa because some types migrated early in Africa and went to the Far East, from where the world was then colonised and the dark-skinned Africans changed their skin colour and anatomical appearance. The fact that everything was completely different 45 million years ago, that the first life-forms changed or evolved and were able to spread to all continents, from which human beings finally emerged, is not accepted because the 'knowers', the 'scientists', are of a different opinion and defend their hypotheses. And that human beings did not originate as apes or from beings of ape-like origin – despite Darwin's fraudulent claims and machinations – is also not accepted, just as it is not accepted that in Europe, in the Messel Pit in Germany, for example, the life-form can be found as an ancient relic from which human beings originated. The Messel Pit is a disused oil shale pit to the south-east of the district of the same name, which is located in Hesse, in the district of Darmstadt-Dieburg. The pit is well known due to the excellent quality of the fossils recovered there, which have been stored there since the Eocene, including the fossils that gave rise to human beings, which were still about 50-60 centimetres tall at the time of the Eocene, carried a tail and already had 5 fingers and 5 toes. This 'animal' of that time was spread all over the Earth and in the course of time, through its transformation/evolution, gave rise to human beings in different forms, depending on its particular anatomical-appearance, different species and colour. The islands and land plains and even the continents of that time were connected with 'land bridges', so it was also possible for the life-forms to 'migrate' and leave their ancestral places and settle elsewhere. The fact that in the process human beings also emerged that were more than 3 metres tall, even small ones that only measured 80 or 90 centimetres in height, is something of which those 'in the know', the 'scientists', have no idea, preferring to rely on finds and fantasise their hypotheses about them, which only relate to the time that allows them to fathom the period of time when the dear critters lived, in terms of age, by means of the radiocarbon method of age determination.

... Furthermore, when the actual ancestors of the first human beings developed 12 million years ago – contrary to the confused assertions of earthly science and the falsifications of Darwin that the human being of the Earth only developed 3 million years ago – then millions of years later a descendant or a rebirth of the Nokodemion found it necessary – when he saw all the misery that had arisen as a result of the religious and other beliefs of the Earthlings – to take care of the well-being of the Earthlings. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_788

Billy:

... Well, actually Sfath also explained to me that life probably originated on Earth in such a way that it developed on the shores of primordial waters, but in its original form it came from outer space. The primordial substance for this, Sfath explained, exists practically universe-wide in everything that moves in so-called world space. Comets and asteroids etc. transport everything back and forth, drop it onto a planet and thus make life possible, just as planets themselves do this from within themselves. As Sfath explained, in the whole space of the world there is the primordial life, which consists of gases and electricity and various substances, etc., consequently life can develop from it everywhere if the corresponding cycles arise which are necessary. In this way, microbes and bacteria etc. grow up over time, from which higher living beings develop over long periods of time. So in the beginning it is gases of various kinds, as well as electricity and climatic conditions and atmospheres and so on, that mix and create chemical compounds, from which eventually molecules develop, which themselves divide and multiply over time, from which bacteria develop over time, and from which in turn higher living things develop over development and time.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_790

Billy:

... The thing is, in the 1940s, when we were in Germany at the Messel Pit, Sfath explained to me that the human beings of Earth were never of chimpanzee origin, as Charles Darwin conjectured and also asserted to Sfath, though he did not officially state his conjectural theory, namely that human beings were descended from apes – even though this is generally so asserted. I must say something more specific about this, namely what I learned from Sfath, which is something different from what is generally told. Admittedly, I will therefore also be attacked without limits in this matter by Darwin theory fanatics, but especially by scientists who have sworn by the results of molecular biology and who represent their theory in this respect that they interpret them correctly – although they draw false conclusions from the technically correct results. But that is the way it is, and it will – as usual – also remain that way for centuries, until one day in the distant future the truth comes to light, when the progress of technology will allow us to effectively solve the mysteries of the past by making a return trip to their past reality possible. Until then, however, the Darwinian theory of evolution will be preserved and misinterpreted, especially because scientists see the results of molecular biology in the wrong way and unfortunately falsely interpret them accordingly. And it will take a very, very long time before the truth of reality will come to light – if ever.

According to Sfath – he knew Darwin personally – the human being of the Earth developed from a completely different lineage, namely from a being that lived about 47 million years ago and appeared – if I may say so – on all the continents of that time, but differed in its peculiarity of appearance and in its skin colour as well as in certain organs. It was an animal that had a long tail but already had 5 toes and 5 fingers. In the course of its evolution, the creature lost the tail, which regressed, which took millions of years, but in the course of time or evolution, the creature then developed into a tailless creature, from which the prehistoric man emerged. This was already explained to me by Sfath in the 1940s, but it was also discussed with Ptaah in the 727th Contact conversation and the following recording was included in the contact report, which I will add here again because it shows the being in its skeletal form. One must point out here the difference that the term 'theory' has in science and in everyday language. In science, a 'theory' means a representation of some aspect of reality. The more closely the theory corresponds to reality, the better the predictions of that very theory will be. In everyday language, we use the term 'theory' rather disparagingly for something still immature that does not have much to do with reality. In science, theories that have often grown over decades allow us to make far-reaching statements about the nature of our world. What I want to say, however, relates to what Sfath found in the Messel Pit in Germany and is estimated to be about 45 million years old. An identical fossil was also found by our researchers, of which this photo was taken: <https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/w/images/e/e4/CR790-Image1.jpg>

Also, according to Sfath, the human beings of the Earth emerged from the natural evolution of living beings on the planet not only in Africa, nor did they migrate northwards on the Earth, as earthly science claims, but human beings evolved on the various continents almost simultaneously, if we may call the periods of about 800,000 years 'almost simultaneously'. There were clearly so-called primaeval human beings of various sizes, namely giants who reached almost 4.50 metres, then the smallest who were not even a full 60 centimetres tall, while in between all sizes occurred. They all descended from creatures that existed in various similar forms about 45 million years ago, but which had been evolving worldwide for about 90 million years alongside the large ape creatures, and thus alongside what the Earthling called 'apes'. Of these beings, the first species developed in the region of today's North Africa – where Egypt is today – for the first time as the original human being, after which the other first species developed where Russia and Asia are today, but also everywhere on Earth in many original countries. The first of these human beings appeared a little more than 16 million years ago, as Sfath explained, that is, about 13 to 14 million years earlier than earthly science estimates today and old skeletons have been found. And these primitive human beings were, according to our sense, human eaters [cannibals] who maintained themselves as such until a few tens of thousands of years ago, whereby they then also invented bloodthirsty gods and then offered them human sacrifices, and so on. But for thousands of years, they still ate their own kind, killing them in trades, sacrifices and also in acts of hostility, which has been preserved to this day in individual cases, when the ancient manner of devouring human beings is still able to breakthrough. I myself have seen and experienced that this is the case when, on the one hand, I travelled the world with Sfath and was also with correct man-eaters who killed and ate their enemies. On the other hand, I have seen and experienced that today's so-called 'civilised' people 'slaughtered' and ate their weakest in times of need, just as others in their need used the starving or those otherwise doomed to death as food. But even today it still happens now and then that human beings are killed and eaten when the old desire for it breaks through.

Charles Darwin is also said to have manipulated old chimpanzee bones to prove his theory of evolution, Sfath said at the time. Unfortunately, I do not know what he did and to what extent, but I do know from Sfath's explanation that another forger later appeared, a certain Charles Dawson, who about 30 years after Darwin's death found the so-called 'Piltdown Man', the alleged 'early man' or his supposed fossil skull, which he in fact forged, as Darwin did with at least one of his finds, as Sfath explained.

In terms of evolutionary biology, the human being of the Earth is actually not a late bloomer among living beings, as is generally said by anthropologists, because they appeared at the latest about 90 million years ago and then about 47 million years ago as a precursor of the beings that eventually developed into human beings, but which had 5 fingers and 5 toes very early in their development. As precursors of the human beings, the 'apes' and the actual ape beings, they developed the 'grasping tools' or the hands with five fingers quite early. Of course, at that time the creatures were not given a human form, but an animal form, which in the course of millions of years developed into the human being, the earthling, which then developed into a human-like form for the first time 12 to 15 million years ago. So there can be no question of the human being having evolved 'late' when the overall evolution of all living beings on the planet Earth is taken into account. If my intellect and my reason reach so far that I see and understand the 'very late' correctly, as the anthropologists conceive it, then the emergence of Earth human beings is not to be considered 'very late', if one takes into account that the emergence of the first living beings is to be dated approx. 3.8 to 4 billion years ago. These living beings were still tiny at that time and first had to develop over long periods of time into what we call animal forms, creatures, feathered creatures, other living creatures and the like, which changed again in the course of time, so that the old life-forms passed away, changed and new forms arose. And this has been the case since the beginning of life on Earth, as it is today and will also be in the future. Also, since time immemorial, many have become extinct because living conditions changed, or they were wiped out by human beings as a result of their thoughtlessness, self-importance and irresponsibility.

From a systematic point of view, the human being is a living being that has a spinal column that makes him/her more mobile in many ways, much more mobile than the vertebrates and vertebrate animals in general, which, according to their genus or species, are far inferior to the spinal column bearing human beings and are incapable of handling, doing and carrying out the same things as they are able to do because of their spinal system. This, although the ape beings have fundamentally more limbs than the human being, they are beings who have nothing to do with the human being, not even if certain ape species come close to the human being with their genetic make-up.

Furthermore, it is given to the human being that, apart from their spinal column, they are capable of the conscious evolutionary development of the bodily movements – in contrast to the most diverse animals and creatures, which, as spinal column-bearing living beings, are hardly, or only to the smallest extent, capable of this in comparison to the human beings –, they also have a conscious awareness, which enables them to develop logic, understanding and reason, which allows them to act according to these high values. This includes, first and foremost, conscious thought and action, and thus also the invention, construction and use of all that they are able to produce in logic, understanding and reason.

The human being as a living being capable of conscious logic, likewise conscious understanding and conscious reason, does not in any way belong to the class of spine-bearing mammals, nor to the order of the so-called apes, as they are wrongly called, such as the chimpanzee, dwarf chimpanzee bonobo, gibbon, gorilla and orangutan. These are not at all 'related' to human beings, the 'Homo sapiens', since their primordial origin, as the false doctrine of Charles Darwin claimed and today's followers are also 'convinced' of this Darwin theory, even though there is a high degree of hereditary equality. Thus, already 47 million years ago, the first forms of the human ancestors and those of the genus and species chimpanzee, gorilla and orangutan were fundamentally different.

Altogether, the ape creatures are grouped into about 350 species and given the designation apes or primates as mammalian creatures. Subsequently, however, large and small 'apes' are named, whereby the small ones belong to the family of gibbons living in Southeast Asia and the large ones to the orangutans. In Africa, on the other hand, live the large so-called 'apes', the gorillas and the chimpanzees, although these have nothing to do with humans or Homo sapiens, i.e. they are neither relatives nor cousins of the human beings.

The most striking feature of the human beings and the so-called 'apes' is that they have no tail and are usually larger and heavier than actual human beings, and also hold themselves upright as actual ape beings. The thorax of the human beings, as well as of the so-called 'apes' – which are, so to speak, an intermediate evolution between the human beings and the apes and consequently a separate and special species – is also much broader than that of the real apes. Another and very important feature is also to be noted in the 'apes', namely that their brains are much more complex and larger in relation to their bodies than in effective ape creatures. This requires a much longer developmental period, which means that pregnancy and the time until adulthood is much longer, as Sfath already explained to Charles Darwin, who, however, did not want to be taught, and accordingly even today – at least in this respect – anthropology is based on false assumptions.

The original form of living beings, from which humans, 'apes' and all primates finally developed over many millions of years through natural evolution, goes back in its beginning to about 90 million years ago, i.e. that they already lived and developed at the time of the dinosaurs. In the course of evolution, however, more and more genera of living beings and their species also developed, with many dying out again, while others split up and again into new species.

Darwin was not in a position in his time to provide evidence for his theories in the way that today's molecular biology techniques largely can, some of which provide indisputable and unequivocal evidence, such as that the genus 'chimpanzee' shares around 98% of DNA and almost all genes in common with human beings. This of course tempts – even scientists – to assume that there is some connection between human beings and chimpanzees. However, from this, I mean from the 98% of the DNA and the genes, it is not possible to deduce that human beings are descended from chimpanzees and have the same or a similar evolutionary line. This is by no means the case, nor is the scientific theory that the early ancestors of the human beings and the chimpanzee could 'perhaps be cousins'. Think of 'cousinship', for this, contrary to 'perhaps cousins', really has to do with a reality. In reality, it is not possible to deduce that humans and the 'apes' really had common ancestors, from which chimpanzees and human beings then evolved. The family tree of the hominids is clear to independently thinking human beings even before the invention of molecular biology technology, due to DNA homologies for real evidence that human beings are not descended from chimpanzees and are in no way 'cousin-like'. Real natural science alone has had incontrovertible evidence in logic, reason and rationality since time immemorial of human evolution that is different and different in behaviour from that of the chimpanzees. This is contrary to the palaeontological discoveries which, in the course of the 20th century, have repeatedly brought to light fossils that are assumed to be descended from common ancestors of human beings and chimpanzees. And since these all come from East Africa, it is erroneously assumed that this proves Darwin's thesis that the cradle of mankind lies in Africa. A theory, however, that does not point to reality, but is far from it, because the human being emerged 'almost simultaneously' on the various continents of the Earth within 800,000 years. Moreover, the so-called 'apes' – to which the chimpanzees also belong – were living beings from the beginning, forming their own intermediate form between the apes and human beings.

Since the publication of Darwin's 'Origin of Species' in 1859, concerns have been raised again and again against the theory of evolution, although science always claims the opposite and wants to know everything better. Of course, there are always abstruse theses that go against the reality of real evolution and cause considerable confusion, especially among so-called experts, but the truth of evolution actually looks different from what Darwin's theory of the evolution of human beings, ape beings as well as the 'intermediate genus' of the so-called 'apes' claims and still holds unjustified today. While the molecular evidence technology of today is far advanced, it cannot really see into the past and just what actually occurred at that time.

In his 1859 work 'Origin of Species' Darwin actually left the question of the origin of human beings unanswered, indeed he almost excluded it, but his theory left no doubt about what he really thought. He was well aware that his theory of evolution would provoke a dispute in the world that would last for centuries, namely his thesis – which he wisely kept in the background – that human beings descended from apes, as he also claimed to Spath. We humans share millions of years of evolution with the apes and 'human beings', but the ape creatures and the 'apes' are not ancestors of us humans.

Of course, evolution takes place over immensely long periods of time, which cannot be traced in all details today, but in human phylogeny there is no ancestry between the human beings, the apes and the ape-like creatures or the 'apes'. This is also evident from a large number of fossil species, which clearly prove this, if correct research and neutral judgement were carried out, and thus not simply the Darwinian theory of evolution taken as a model again and again.

Unfortunately, however, no further research is carried out, but – as usual – a theory is held on to once it has emerged – which often takes centuries – until solid evidence finally proves the opposite or even the reality and its truth. So it is the same with a theory as with a religious or other belief: people believe in a 'dear God', 'God the Father' and 'God the Creator', in 'Jesus Christ' as the 'Son of God', in 'Allah' or in 'Shiva' etc. until one day it is proven that it was all just a crazy fantasy and a belief in fantasy, but not the truth.

The truth can easily be proved and understood with regard to the human being, the apes and 'human beings' also in the coming time by means of fossil finds of prehistoric humans, because the more such finds are made, the clearer will one day be the realisation for the natural development of the human being as a being who had nothing to do with ancestors who were apes and 'human beings'. There is no doubt that the theory of evolution is only one theory, and that of a single human being, namely that of Charles Darwin. This, however, aims at a disdain for the human species that will remain until, after a long time – which may be centuries – the theory is finally replaced by the realisation of the truth.

It is true that theory has expanded our understanding of the cosmos like hardly any other scientific insight before it, for theory is and always will be an incentive to seek and find the truth after all. Theory was and is always the work of one or more human beings, but theories can and will lead to the truth through new findings – often only after generations – but one day they will be revised and made accessible to the truth, or they will come true and promote progress, i.e. evolution or progress. Scientists, physicists and simple human beings will work on the further development and improvement of all things, so that predictions and theories that are made will decades or centuries later prove to be wrong or correct with the latest equipment and methods, so that theories can be recognised as falsehoods and thus the truth can be recognised, or other theories can be proved as fact.

The same applies to Charles Darwin's theory of evolution, whose scientific achievements and theories are in no way to be diminished, for he drew on ideas and theories of his time, and from these he finally developed his theory of evolution through his very own ideas, which the biologist Jean-Baptiste de Lamarck had devised, whose basic idea of heredity was, however, wrong, but Darwin recognised the correct mechanism of evolution by fathoming the interplay of mutation and selection. According to his insight, every living being has therefore developed its own strategies and adapted to the environment, through which it has been able to assert itself in its habitat and continues to do so into the future. Thus, some creatures evolved through their strength, others through their instinctive prudence, others through their enormous resilience or through their extraordinary reproductive capacity. This affected and still affects not only free-moving life-forms, but also plant-bound life-forms, i.e. plants that are successfully represented in large numbers, even globally, and that reproduce only by impulse, instinct or seed, because they do not possess an actual brain, as is the case with many free-moving life-forms.

Billy:

If I say this about Russia, then I know from Sfath that the land area was already loosely inhabited by early humans in prehistoric times and thus much earlier than the Palaeolithic. This, however, is still unknown to archaeologists and palaeontologists, etc., just as there are many other things they do not know or calculate at the wrong times and also fantasise a lot of things together that do not correspond to reality. I can often only shake my head at this, because everything that is claimed is really quite different from what I have seen, experienced and witnessed together with Sfath on our ...

Then many millennia later, so after the primeval times, when more and more human-like beings appeared, who never emigrated from Africa to the north, but effectively also arose in the north of the planet Earth through natural development, as everywhere in the world in a time of little more than 800,000 years, the actual early Earth-humans arose, who slaughtered each other and used each other as food when foreigners met. This was their way of thinking and doing, just as the most diverse races with special characteristics, skin colours, sizes and looks etc. arose worldwide, which moreover from the very beginning never had anything to do with apes or ape-like beings and also never showed any 'kinship' with such, but were an independent life-form – contrary to Charles Darwin's deception. They were indeed primitive humans, and their entire habitus, their physical and physiognomic condition, their countenance – which is actually called the correct countenance – was still completely different from that of today's human beings. Also the actual shape of the head was still symmetrically quite different from that of today's human beings. Everything about these early human beings was disproportionate, the whole body with arms, hands and legs, as well as the head and its shape.

Sfath went on to explain that millennia later, many of the human beings who would become inhabitants of the land – now called Russia – would be foreign immigrants from the various northern regions and from the south, mainly from the countries now called Norway and Sweden, Greece and Turkey. These immigrants, he said, will settle in the country and become indigenous, who will then be called Russians and the country Russia region or simply Russia. So that was the normal course of development of the inhabitants of this vast country. Then, when the Neolithic period moved into this land, among other things, the so-called Bug-Dniester culture emerged, which was then followed – if I remember Sfath's explanations correctly – by the Sredny-Stod culture. Then, as the transition to the Copper Age and the early Bronze Age followed, the region of the Kurgan culture emerged, which I still remember to some extent. What all came about then, and how Russia actually came into being, can certainly be read up on in history, if anyone is interested, because this is certainly described and states how and when it actually became the vast Russian area, to which Ukraine also belonged in the end.

... It was and is a lie what was told and is still told today that the early earth-born human beings would have started fires with a so-called 'flint'. In truth, they first took resin-rich tree branches and lit them on fires created by lightning. They carefully guarded these tree-branch torches and carried them around with them, but they also tended fires in the caves they inhabited, for it was not the case that lightning struck all the time and started fires. To help these human beings – real Neanderthals – Sfath took great pains to teach them how to make fire with 'flint'. But the whole thing was very tedious, because first the correct stones had to be found, flint stones or so Sfath called them. With one stone, a heap of material had to be cut off from another, so that when the stone was cut off again, one of the sparks would eventually fall into the heap of cut-off fine material, which was then placed in a clump of dry grass and blown on, causing it to smoke and then burn. But the whole thing was really very tedious, because some fine material had to be knocked off one of the stones with another stone with up to 200 or 300 blows. This also always produced sparks, but in the end a spark settled in the pile that had been created, which was then taken and used to ignite a thin tuft of grass by blowing on it. It was really a very laborious method of making fire, besides, I remember Sfath saying that only a few rocks could be used, such as pyrite or marcasite, but only tiny particles were knocked off.

Billy:

I also think of the fact that it is still claimed today that the human beings of the Earth were born in Africa, after which they spread from there across the Earth, precisely because they 'emigrated' and settled in the world.

Anthropologists etc. are still trying to prove that in early times human beings spread out over the vastness of the Earth with fins and ships – but this is only partially true – although they began to develop worldwide in the same genus, but in different species, around 12 million years ago, when there were still many fixed land connections between islands and large fixed areas.

Since then, everything has changed enormously, and many of the islands and mainlands of that time have disappeared, while new ones have formed and are now inhabited by many earthlings and large mainlands are called continents.

Imaginatively, however, the majority of researchers who dig around in the earth's soil and generally in everything old etc. invent nothing but fantasy stories of how it is supposed to have been, and without really having any idea of how it really was.

The believing earthlings then take everything at face value and believe the bare fanciful suppositions, just as they also believe all religious nonsense, and then they claim everything as truth, although little or nothing of what they have been told or supposedly handed down from time immemorial as 'truth' corresponds to the truth.

Billy:

Back then, when the dinosaurs existed, it was largely natural events that led to the disappearance of the great living creatures.

At that time, by the way – even if it is vehemently denied by the 'great' scientists and mad know-it-alls and insulted as wild fantasy – there were also human beings who, however, were not born here on Earth, but who actually existed, as I once saw on a journey back into the past with Sfath.

...

... Aha – so you are researching what all went on in your father's day.

Ptaah:

37. Yes. – Through that I also found a fossilised excrement of a human being there, which is called 'coprolite' on Earth.

38. When I examined it closely, I was astonished to find that the excrement was 74 million years old.

39. You have travelled together very far back in time, much further than only 25 million years ago.

Billy:

Yes, that was very interesting for me, because that is how I learned a lot of things that had already happened at very early times, when no Earthlings had yet been created on Earth through evolution.

And it is to be said that in those early times many things, indeed many things, were quite different from what the 'all-knowing ones' of today claim, precisely those who concern themselves with the past.

...

So, I think I may now speak openly and say that beings from the depths of the space of this universe visited the Earth before there were Earthlings.

Since then, however, their descendants have come here again and again...

...

Whether the people who travelled far and wide were always persons of the same people, and also whether it was later their descendants who came here and who ..., I do not know.

But it is to be assumed that the various groups were somehow connected.

What is clear to me, however, is that some of the long-distance travellers rose up as 'gods' who were then worshipped by the earthlings and to whom human sacrifices were also made.

Some of them were real giants of different sizes, but there were also human beings of normal sizes, and then also dwarfs of normal size, thus not microsomic human beings. [microsomia refers to humans with abnormally small bodies]

And there were also long-skulled and tall-skulled people – which was then imitated by the earthlings by integrating the skulls of infants.

Sfath explained that most of these long-distance travellers had mixed with the earthlings all over the world, so that it would also be the case in the distant future that tall stature, long-skulledness and tall-skulledness would be preserved and that earthlings of this kind would be born again and again if they traced back to the lineages of the mixing at that time.

Unfortunately, such beings from the vastness of the material belt also brought various bacteria and viruses to Earth, which since then have been spreading worldwide from time to time and even causing health havoc.

Ptaah:

44. Otherwise, however, yesterday I came across, while reading the annals, that I may mention more than before that with regard to those who are simply called foreigners by us, I may openly say that my father Sfath and you observed them already in early times.

45. In this respect especially their ancestors on Earth, how they have wrought and in some cases allowed themselves to be worshipped as 'gods'.

46. But they were of the same character as Earth-humans, good or evil, and thus beings who were friendly or unfriendly, helpful or exploitative, peaceful, aggressive, open, devious and even warlike.

47. All these 'deities', as Sfath, my father, writes in his annals, were of various shapes and sizes, but human beings who ...

Billy:

... yes, I know that.

There were all kinds of shapes, but I did not see any like Asina, for example, reptile-like, as I call them.

...

But at that time there were also giants that were 3 metres and even taller, some up to 4 metres or so.

...

But despite their size, the giants were somehow able to mate with earthling women, so that even today the most distant offspring are still born, now as actual earthlings who are 2 metres or 2.30 metres tall or more.

Even small human beings, who are only 80 cm, 1 or 1.20 metres tall, etc., and thus are not dwarfed as a result of growth disorders, visited Sfath and I, and also remote descendants still exist in small groups in some places today, which I do not want to name openly, however.

...

Ptaah:

54. This, as well as the coming into existence of the Earth-humans, which is different from what is wrongly taught on the Earth, is the actual origin of the coming into existence, as well as the origin of various races which are not of Earth origin.

Billy:

That Darwin's theory of evolution is wrong and a result of fraud is something I mentioned early on, but that it was a decisive extraterrestrial influence that really brought about the rapid early development of Earth-humans is something I have actually only said and written about privately, just ...

...

Now, also the thousands of languages of Earth-humans, as well as the gods and their worship, and the religions and faiths arising from them, as well as the technologies by which many things were erected in ancient times which would have been impossible by human beings' powers, were therefore not created by Earth-humans alone, but by the knowledge and the energy and the capabilities which were from outside the Earth.

The intelligentum of the earthling also developed as rapidly as it did, not simply out of nothing, but also through other forces which were not simply of earthly origin of development.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_835

Billy:

But what do you want when earthly scientists are so lowly intelligent as to claim things that even a complete idiot must realise the imbecility of. This, how it is asserted that human beings originated in South Africa and migrated to the North, to Asia, etc., etc. And Earth's humanity believes this nonsense and does not ask how it came about that suddenly white-skinned, yellow-skinned and red-skinned as well as slit-eyed and otherwise completely different types of human beings arose from it. Even the climate, the vegetation and the influences of the living conditions of millions of years were not able to bring about such transformations.

Billy:

... It is also done by archaeology, as, for example, the finding in Latoli in East Africa is concealed, which can prove that a footprint of a modern human being was found, which belonged to a modern human being who already lived 3.7 million years ago. Also an upper arm bone of a modern human being was found in Kanapoi/Kenya, which proves that this species of modern human being lived much earlier than the palaeontologists admit, because they simply stick to the lying story of Darwin. Many of the earthlings are simply mendacious, live on lies and deceit, and earn a lot of money with it and gain reputation illegally, as also unjust people of politics, science and profiteering as well as the 'normal' citizens. Thus, palaeontology also largely conceals the fact that in the disused Messel pit in what is now Hesse near Darmstadt-Dieburg in Germany, where oil shale used to be extracted in open-cast mines, a fossil find was made of a prehistoric creature that lived 45 million years ago and from which a species of prehistoric man developed over the next 5 million years. At that time, this primordial being was already spread all over the world, so after about 5 million years, in the course of time of about 500,000-700,000 years on the giant continents, a genus of primordial humans developed in many cases, which, however, died out again, whereby descendants, however, mixed with new genera. However, these were not the only ones, because after them, various other beings evolved over millions of years, from which genera of human beings developed, which, however, never had anything to do with actual ape beings, as Darwin told those who believed in this and in his filed fossils – and still stupidly believe in this deception today and think that Darwin was right with his fibs. Apart from the fact that aliens from other planets came here early on and managed to do many things that were not possible for the earthlings. These were not Darwinites, who falsified his assumptions, theories and frauds by filing fossil finds, nor were they Neanderthals. This name can actually be traced back to the hymn writer Joachim Neumann, who wandered through the Düssel valley and wrote his works under the pseudonym Neander, which is why the valley inhabitants simply called their valley Neandertal, just as the human fossils, etc. that were found there were also called Neanderthal. This name quickly stuck and was then also used for other finds elsewhere. However, some used this to make themselves 'great' and famous, but how publicity-hungry and bad, evil and misanthropic some 'great' human beings really are, I experienced together with Sfath with Darwin, who is so highly praised and lifted to heaven. He falsified bones, filed them into shape and claimed that human beings had evolved from apes into human beings. What he said I never forget, and because I did not know Darwin's language, I had to wear the little translator that Sfath had given me so that I could understand Darwin's speeches, as was also the case with others whose language I did not understand. Asket and your daughter Semjase also gave me similar devices so that I could understand what was being said. But what Darwin said, that went deep into my memory at that time, because he explained to Sfath and me his view concerning the human beings of the Earth. I remember that very well, what he said in a completely misanthropic and anti-human way, which I cannot repeat verbatim, but in spirit. So I try to put what he said into words as follows: The weak, namely those who are handicapped in spirit as well as in body and thus incapable of life – as he actually called such human beings – would quickly be eliminated among the savages and among the wild animals, consequently only those would remain alive who were natural-ordinary and would show a state of vigorous health. The 'civilised' human beings, however, he said – by which he presumably meant mainly himself – were doing everything possible to stop and cheat natural selection. By this he meant the life-impaired and life-incapable, who should be stopped and eradicated from the ground up instead of being bred. He said that 'civilised' human beings were interfering with the natural processes of the natural eradication of life, and that doctors were already being trained who would do anything to keep the unfit and unworthy of life alive, which would be practised more and more intensively in the future. In the coming time, more and more places and houses would be built for the sick and the feeble-minded, for the crippled, the poor and the law-breakers, whereby the breeding of everything unfit for life and life-burdened would become inevitable. Thus it will come about that everything unworthy of life will be able to reproduce, which in the future will be of great harm to the race of human beings. In principle, human beings must act in the same way as animals, namely in such a way that what is life-impaired and life-incapable must be eradicated, so that such things cannot reproduce, whereby similar things cannot spread.

...

Ptaah:

You, along with Asket, have also found rudimentary stone tools that are more than 5 million years old, which you ...

They are lying anyway, because they have found things that are older than they have announced. This is simply concealed so as not to portray as incompetent, or likewise, those who have previously found something and claimed that their assumptions correspond to the truth. But unfortunately it is the case that the earthlings are lied to and deceived through their teeth and important information is concealed from them so that the beams crack.

... several hundred million years ago the Sahara Desert had been a huge sea and that the first living creatures on Earth had also developed there, namely on the shores and waters, as had also happened elsewhere on Earth. Moreover, the first giant creatures were not dinosaurs, but land-water creatures that lived both in the water and on the land, as is still the case today with hippos. The wild creatures of today were very small compared to those that lived in former times – as I actually saw with my own eyes – and the largest ones of that time that I could also see were, if I remember correctly, over 26 metres long, as Sfath said. Only many millions of years later came the dinosaurs, the sauropods, which were even bigger, in length as well as in height and thickness, and completely different from the creatures hundreds of millions of years before, which were long and slender. Sfath measured some of the sauropods, although I no longer know the size, but they were huge. But what I saw and experienced back then, I have never forgotten. Then, about 55 million years ago or so, the giant sea disappeared, dried up and became a desert, the one we call the Sahara today. There also followed a very long ice age, as well as a time when large jungles overgrew everything, as well as life-forms developed, from which the first human beings developed in the course of millions of years through evolution, as was the case, for example, in the Messel Pit in Germany, where Sfath and I found those skeletons of beings that were about 45 million years old and from which, as Sfath explained, the very first beings emerged about 10 or 12 million years ago, which I will call primeval humans. Then, in the course of millions of years later, the animals and the creatures and other living beings changed into pure water dwellers, whereby their legs also atrophied and fins were formed in various genera and species. Very distant descendants of these giants and colossi live today as whales in all the Earth's oceans, just as their earliest ancestors were also widespread throughout the Earth. And that everything really was different from today – even the continents and islands – I saw just as well as that the surfaces of the Earth really did change and change, and just as nations arose and disappeared again.

Now, the age of the waters on the Earth, however, is – this is probably still the same question that has been asked by human beings since ancient times – what apparently does not want to be understood, has been produced by this planet itself to a large extent, as is the case with practically every planet. Furthermore, I have learned from Sfath that the waters were also brought to Earth from SOL space by comets, asteroids, meteors, as well as 'ice clouds' – of which our astronomers etc. still know nothing. ...

...

It should be said, however, that the first waters developed independently and completely naturally from the planet itself, as a result of the gluten and heat of the emerging world body. Heat and warmth led to the evaporation of the developing heat gases, which entered the empty space of the developing world body in gaseous form and formed the very first atmosphere, i.e. a gas atmosphere. Further geological processes took place over a long period of time with regard to new evolutionary and beneficial changes, so that everything continued to change and an atmosphere and hydrogen developed over billions of years, as did plants and thus also oxygen, which combined with hydrogen, and further also life, which could move independently, etc., as I learned from Sfath.

...

Even almost 4 kilometres into the depths of the Earth, I have detected life together with Sfath. This is still untouched by the earthling, but the question is, for how much longer?

Here on Earth the genus human being exists only once, while the genera of natural beings are millions of them, and are divided into species that develop in certain wise through mutations from the genera. Overall, the genera of life-forms are actually called races, while the species that are actually mutations and in this respect emerge from the genera are called half-castes or crossbreeds, because they have different parents from different races that can mate with each other. This is precisely when this is naturally possible, because otherwise this would not be feasible, because genera are normally separated from each other throughout in such a way that sexual union for the production of offspring is not possible if this were not conceivable as a result of a natural anomaly.

Billy:

... Oceans and all the waters of Earth are so full of living creatures that Earthlings cannot imagine. All life on Earth has arisen resp. emerged from the seas and other bodies of water, but the 'seeds' for it came from outer space, namely from asteroids etc. that crashed onto Earth in primeval times. As a result, life first developed in the water, which then spread to the land, both on the surface and also underground and in interstitial spaces, i.e. in caves etc., and in many millions of different ways, from the smallest to the largest of all genera and species. Genera resp. the genus is, which should also be explained, the basic species resp. the basic population resp. the first substance resp. the first member resp. the main form or basic form of a being, a thing, a thing or an idea etc.. Forms evolving and changing from the genus and deviating from the basic form or the first member or the first substance no longer correspond to the original genus, i.e. no longer to the first member etc., but to a sub-form of the genus, i.e. a sub-genus, which is however called ART. Compared to the pure genus from which the ART has emerged, the ART usually has an externally altered visible form, meaning that its appearance differs somewhat or even strongly from the genus. The ART also exhibits a slightly or strongly altered behaviour compared to the genus from which it emerged – naturally or through conscious breeding – depending on how the ART is formed or shaped. The species has a recognisable structure and/or a certain structure of something, but this can be passed on to the deviating species, e.g. in human beings the skin colour, language, artistic ability, musical urge, talents and abilities, external appearance, as well as the ability to represent something, etc. ...

...

Billy:

... there was a programme on television again and the 'reverent, venerable, clever' scientists and such still claim that the human being first 'appeared' on Earth in Africa, because they do not want to revise their false assumption under any circumstances and admit that this is not tenable and that the Earthling came into being, so to speak, simultaneously – if we may speak of a period of several thousand years – distributed all over the Earth. In other words, in or on all the continents that existed at that time and made the Earth look completely different from what it is today, and how this ... will be the case when ... The supposedly 'knowledgeable' simply do not want to deviate from erroneous assertions that correspond to nothing more than assumptions and do not want to turn to the truth, because they are afraid that 'a jewel will fall out of their crown'. But it has been said since time immemorial: "The world wants to be deceived", especially by the so-called 'scientists' of antiquity research in every field, who have been passing on their fanciful assumptions as 'fact' to humanity since time immemorial, who simply believe the lies, deceptions, assumptions and false claims and cannot verify them.

{Billy:}

Asket's clothing also seemed strangely familiar to me and it was completely different from Sfath's somewhat cumbersome clothing which was reminiscent of a diving suit.

The way Asket was dressed had to nearly awaken the impression of a very modern angel: she wore a floor-length, very heavily pleated dress, of a peculiarly whitish-silver colour, belted at the hip.

Long brunette hair fell over her shoulders and her face was very beautiful – at least I perceived it so.

...

We set gently down on the ground only a few metres from the gigantic construction, and only a few metres from a small Bedouin camp where various humans, dressed like Arabs, were already busy with the breaking of their camp at this early morning hour.

They took no notice at all of the landing of the ship, and, naturally, I was astounded because of that.

It seemed simply absurd to me that the people could not see us.

Yet I then accustomed myself very quickly to that and found it very interesting that our invisibility really let nothing be recognised.

...

Asket had, until then, not spoken another word, yet now suddenly her "voice" sounded in me, and then I felt her arm.

I was not able to see her, because everything was indeed still invisible, as were Asket and I. But now she explained to me that she was attaching a small device to my belt, so we would also continue to remain invisible after we left the ship.

I felt how she busied herself with my belt and, quite suddenly, I saw Asket kneeling next to me. Shocked, I spun around and stared across at the Bedouins, because now they would indeed have to see us.

But then I heard Asket's "voice" in me again which explained that only we could see each other, while we were invisible to all other eyes.

...

We left the ship, which I could likewise now see, and which stood so majestically next to the Sphinx and, according to Asket's statements, could be seen by nobody.

That must indeed have simply been a mistake of hers, because I still was not able to comprehend, that – because of the small device hanging on my belt – everything was actually only visible just for the two of us.

[https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_%E2%80%93_Part_1_Asket {3rd February 1953}](https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_%E2%80%93_Part_1_Asket_{3rd February 1953}):

8. The reason for our coming into this, your DERN universe, lies in earlier times, that are calculated in several centuries, and, indeed, in the urge to explore, and in a fulfilment of an obligation of our race, who, from the earliest times, came from your DERN universe.

...

10. Since then we again explored the expanses of your universe and, several centuries ago, discovered this solar system and, therewith, this world, whose inhabitants show a very old connection with the Pleiadians, as you name them for certain reasons, and in which we also are involved – also in the form of that which pertains to a mission.

11. To be precise, the centuries, by your time reckoning, line up together to thirty-three, during which we were again able to travel and explore your universe.

12. Through our incessant explorations we again found this world, as well as also our original homeland, and the very distant descendants of those who, from the earliest time, were the responsible ones who were relevant to the human life of this world, because a portion of the humans of the Earth were not born here.

13. Many are descendents of those who came out of the expanse of outer space, and indeed from that space that you name Lyra and Vega with the Eye of God, the Ring Nebula.

14. In those territories lie, namely, the real and ultimate original homeland of the later terrestrial human races.

15. Certainly, today, the actual direct descendents of the terrestrial forefathers no longer populate the territory and spaces and systems around the Ring Nebula and the Vega and Lyra heavenly bodies in a spacetime shifted configuration, rather they live today on space and time shifted world bodies far on the other side of the system that you name the Seven Heavenly Bodies "Seven Sisters", respectively, the Pleiades, approximately four hundred light-years distant.

16. They are the distant descendents of your [ie. Earth-humans] and our actual original forefathers.

17. Yet, in something less than twenty Earth years, calculated from today, you should be given clarification about all these things from the direct descendents of your forefathers themselves, when you are sufficiently matured to cope with the new explanations and knowledge.

...

Asket:

70. Less than 1,130 Earth years ago, three races capable of space travel, from far galaxies of this universe, dispatched their expedition ships, and advanced to the Earth.

71. They explored this world with small scout craft, and also made contact with priestly Earth-humans, secretly and unrecognised, in order not to spread terror and angst.

72. They heard and learned from the Earth-humans the insanity of their ideologies and religions and suddenly they believed themselves to be disadvantaged and falsely led in their own philosophy of Creation and in their own evolution of consciousness and spirit.

73. As a life-form still very spiritually underdeveloped and underdeveloped in consciousness, the Earth-humans were able to throw these foreign life-forms into doubt, and to sow discord among them.

74. Yet, was that any wonder then, if it is considered that very highly developed life-forms from foreign galaxies visit the Earth, and here suddenly are instructed that they, as a race which has developed very far, are to have been disadvantaged by Creation, because, allegedly, Creation personally made Itself known to a still very underdeveloped race, and they themselves, as a much higher life-form, were passed over.

75. Where was the blame to be found here, that Creation created its only begotten son, and transferred him to Earth to a poor, underdeveloped people, and did not create this only begotten son for the much higher developed life-forms?

76. Thus this insane information was spread on three distant worlds, and announced to the races, which had, for thousands of years, lived in peace, love and in complete harmony among themselves, and with all forms of life.

77. The insanity of the terrestrial religions was taken up by scientists, and further expeditions were sent to Earth in order to work for years to investigate all required religious facts.

78. After the return of these expeditions, it was concluded, after exact clarifications, that all peoples would be instructed according to the terrestrial Christian religion, and indeed, in all matters.

79. This was a fatal error, because, within only eleven years, this peaceful humankind from a distant planet, having previously lived only by the creational laws, changed itself into the faith-based, Christian image of the Earth-human.

80. At first, fights and discord originated only in the narrowest circles, then, however, everything expanded very quickly, and it came to public unrest.

81. Already the life-forms soon murdered each other, until everything degenerated into a malicious worldwide war.

82. Finally encroachments into the two other worlds resulted, one of which was then destroyed.

83. Different space-faring races became attentive to that, and finally intervened, and forcefully terminated the deadly discord, which had already slowly carried itself into the entire solar system.

84. The terrestrial religions, brought there through the expeditions, and the destruction-releasing Christianity, were strictly forbidden to any life-forms.

85. All existing religious material was destroyed and the old way of life again became the highest law.

86. Any advance, and any further visit to the Earth was forbidden, and a decree was even issued that, if, unexpectedly, a ship should stray onto Earth, and no further possibilities of progress could be found, the entire crew, together with their ship, must totally eliminate itself.

...

Asket:

97. The Earth human has become capable of destroying his world in an atomic explosion, which would bring very dangerous consequences for the entire system.

...

106. The entire inner solar system could be destroyed through an atomic destruction of this Earth, and fragments of it or the planets could be driven out into space as very dangerous projectiles.

107. Thereby, again, entire further planetary systems could be destroyed and disrupted, which could lead to an unprecedented catastrophe in the SOL-system.

...

114. Through a destruction of the Earth, and so forth, the structure of space-time could not be torn, but the entire solar system could fall into a deadly ruin.

115. In and of itself this danger is really not small, because, as the Earth finds itself in a very exposed spot, this gruesome event could actually become reality if the destructive power is great enough, and is of atomic origin.

116. Therefore, it is our main task to prevent this possible event through clarifying impulses, and also to supervise, together with other forms of life from other worlds in this Earth's universe, so that the already evoked mischief of the Earth scientists is contained and averted through unnoticeable influencing impulses.

117. That is a part of our mission – the most difficult that was ever to be recorded in the history of this solar system.

118. We are caused to intervene, using logically enforced non-violence, in the machinations of politics and religions, and to teach, and positively influence, leading personalities without them being conscious of it, and to flatten, in a positive manner, their intrigues and politics, and so forth.

119. Yet also thereby it would be unfortunately unavoidable that various leading powers of various countries of the Earth would be annihilated, deposed, or even murdered by their subordinate organizations or adversaries.

120. The list of the politically leading men who would be killed through the hand of murder would be very long in the coming time, yet we may not change that.

121. It is not our fault that all that would come out that way, because the Earth human alone bears that guilt.

122. We want no death and no murder: we want peace in this and all other universes.

123. Unfortunately, this requires that we must influence leading powers of the Earth to peace, using impulses, whereby, however, they would create deadly enemies, whereby, unfortunately, many good humans will die, which we really cannot, however, prevent.

124. Unfortunately, we only have time until autumn of the year 1974 to prevent the destruction of the Earth, subsequently, our time is very tightly measured.

125. Were our mission to fail, then this system-wide catastrophe will probably occur.

126. But we have very good outlooks for the success of our mission, which is why we have prepared you {Billy} for our target day since your birth.

127. If we have fulfilled our mission to prevent the gruesome catastrophe, then your mission comes about shortly after that, in the year 1975, about which you will be yet further prepared until then.

...

Asket:

176. Consider, with these things, that we have not come to interfere in the religious and political matters of Earth or to lead the Earth-humans in these things.

...

178. We have also not come in order to establish contact with Earth humanity, and to greatly help them in their evolution.

179. We are only here in order to fulfil our mission and the prevention of the catastrophe and to prepare you for your difficult assignment as prophet.

180. For further things, like help with evolution, and so forth, other forms of life from your own universe are responsible, who will initially call themselves Pleiadians.

181. Already for millennia, they supervise the Earth and keep those space-faring races in check who wish evil for you Earth-humans and want to gain control over Earth humanity with the employment of religion and all the related deceptions, hallucinations, and trickery with which they buoy up the Earth-humans with false promises.

{Billy:}

Asket's explanations and remarks took a very long time, and many things were also mentioned and explained afterwards, about which I must continue to maintain strictest silence. Even if I wanted to change this, I could not do so, because firstly I made a promise, and secondly everything was secured by a security block, so I would not be able to talk about it, even willingly. I do not know the nature of the security block, and it is only known to me that I would not be able to speak if I wanted to do so without permission. I also know this much about it, that the security block, which Asket has created through a device that seems a little strange to me, is connected with my sense of duty and other things in my consciousness. That is all I really know about it.

...

It was already broad daylight when I woke up again and saw that Asket had 'conjured up' drinkable and edible things from somewhere. We sat down comfortably at a table-like structure that had been pulled out of a ship's wall and feasted on a hearty breakfast. What I ate and drank I could not define, but it was very good, even if everything was completely foreign to me. The potion was slightly yellowish-white and a little thick and was probably some kind of juice from a fruit I did not know. The food also seemed to be made of fruits, and also of some kind of vegetables. The taste of everything was very foreign to me, even though everything once again seemed somehow familiar. Everything was excellent, however, and it tasted delicious to me. Before breakfast, Asket brought a large container of cool, clear water from somewhere, which she carried out of the ship and placed on the ground not far away. Like little children, we then splashed around with the delicious water and cleaned ourselves with it. It was a very fun morning toilet.

Asket:

114. Our technology is developed so far that, with it, even after centuries, we can still entirely and faithfully reproduce the reality of once-obtained impressions and spoken words, and so forth, in every detail and word.

...

116. With all of it, it is only important that I listen to every spoken word and can also register your thoughts, feelings and perceptions, whereby it is all stored in my subconscious.

117. Therefore, tomorrow, when we undertake the trips into the past and partly also into the future, it will be important that I am always near to you so I can register everything in my subconscious.

118. A further important factor is that in the various epochs and in the most varied lands of the past and future, the most varied languages also predominate, of which you naturally have no command, because, in this life, you have never learnt them.

119. But this signifies no difficulties for you now, because we have small technical devices at our disposal which transform any language or other kind of communicative sound into a desired form.

120. Accordingly, we call them transformers or translators.

121. They are very small in size and can be fastened to the belt.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_%E2%80%93_Part_4

Asket:

11. I am neither an angel nor do I come on a mission from God.

12. These stories about us are deliberate misdirections by evil elements who want to conjure up malevolent things in a religious form.

...

Asket:

44. Here, Eduard, take this device and fasten it onto your belt.

Eduard:

35. What is that?

Asket:

45. A language-converter.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_%E2%80%93_Part_5

Asket:

4. This continent {America} was also inhabited by humans of extraterrestrial origin - from spacefarers and their descendents - around 2,500,000 years ago, by your time reckoning.

5. But, as usual on this world, they got in each others' hair and annihilated themselves.

6. They invented atom bombs and exploded them in a blitzkrieg.

...

9. Even today, after many, many millennia, you still name many regions of this continent the same as they were named in much earlier times.

10. These designations were handed down up to the current time, if also often in strongly altered form.

11. But they still exist as testimony to that unreasonable and barbaric time.

12. Those who wish to see hard evidence can find it at any time and view it and think about it.

13. There are sites of former cities which stood there many, many thousands of years ago and have been melted by atomic hells into glass-like masses.

14. The best preserved testimonies have become curiosities in your time because the Earth human does not know their genesis.

15. But very well known in this regard are names like "Death Valley", which, however, also still has a relationship to other events in the present day.

16. The "Valley of Fire" near the city of Las Vegas is another witness to the past and the timeless, atomic insanity of humans who populated the Earth again and again.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_%E2%80%93_Part_6

Asket:

10. It is alright. But now look at these articles of clothing from my homeland. You should put these on now and cover them with these cloaks.

11. I recently brought these six cloaks with me out of the year 32 in the foreknowledge that I would need them.

...

{Billy:}

(... In the floor-length, silvery-white, shimmering and richly-pleated, billowing dresses, we looked like angels, almost exactly as they were portrayed in the religious picture books which I had leafed through at various times. ...)

...

{Billy:}

(... From somewhere, Asket had acquired an entire little sack of ancient coins which she made shiny again with some sort of radiation. ...)

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_001

Semjase:

12. On the other hand, however, many dare to associate us with the human religion, with which we have nothing to do and also never want anything to do.

...

19. The Earth-human calls us "extraterrestrials" or "star people" or whatever he/she likes.

20. He/she imputes supernaturality to us and does not know us in the least.
21. In reality, we are human beings just like the Earth-humans, except that our knowledge and our essence of wisdom are far superior to theirs, so also from a technological point of view.
- ...
30. Other solar systems, however, harbour a variety of lives, not just human ones.
31. The forms of life are diverse – human as well as animal.
32. Also, many animal or even plant life forms have developed to highly advanced level of life.
33. So there are species who have attained great knowledge and have freed themselves from their spheres of life, who travel outer space and also come to your Earth every now and then.
34. Many of them, however, are unpleasant contemporaries and live in a certain barbarism, which is often almost as bad as that of the Earth-human.
35. One must watch out for them because they often combat and destroy everything that gets in their way.
36. Already often they have destroyed entire planets or forced their inhabitants into barbaric slavery.
37. This is one of our tasks:
38. To warn the Earth-human about these creatures.
39. Let the human beings know this, because more and more the time approaches, when a clash with these degenerate human creatures becomes unavoidable.
40. Another task is aimed at the sects and religions and the underdevelopment of human consciousness associated with these.
- ...
52. But as already mentioned, beamship deceivers and charlatans are also heading in the same direction:
53. Quite clearly they put out the lie to the world, that we or our brothers and sisters from other parts of the outer space would come here by order of God (by which they mean the Creation) as angels or the like, in order to bring the Earth-humans the long-desired peace and the truth of religion and the protection and commands of God.
54. This is nothing more than a well thought out lie of sectarians and deceivers or charlatans.
55. Because we have never acted by such orders, and we will also never do so.
- ...
58. Bring this truth to the light of the world and make it known to the human beings.
59. This is another part of our task.
60. If this doesn't happen, then humankind will slowly destroy itself and fall into complete darkness of consciousness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_002

Semjase:

14. But I do not want to praise or flatter you, as we too have long gone beyond those things.

...

Semjase:

24. It is not the manner or the desire of us simply to penetrate into the thoughts of others when this is really not important.

25. Moreover, we all have no right to penetrate into the personal secrets of others.

26. If one penetrates into the thoughts of others, then there is always the danger that one will learn more from it than was originally intended.

...

Billy:

What about so-called UFO contactees claiming that their friends from the stars would only communicate telepathically between themselves?

Semjase:

28. Certainly there are such creatures, who only communicate telepathically.
29. However, their communication was telepathic from the very beginning, or else they quite simply let their spoken language wither away.
30. To our knowledge, however, Earth's space has never been approached by beings whose means of communication were purely telepathic.

...

34. All the wannabe contactees allude to our being on a mission for God and the Christian religion – a malicious lie that is devoid of any truth.

...

Semjase:

40. Already often, beings from foreign races have come to your Earth and have undertaken their expeditions here.
41. They collected various things that could be of service to their investigations.
42. And it will also happen again and again that such beings will come here and pursue their studies.
43. They come from the most diverse worlds and systems.
44. They are often still new in the field of travel in outer space and, therefore, carry out expeditions to expand their knowledge and cognisance.
45. Thereby it can happen that they unintentionally come into contact with the Earth-humans, only to in such a case never come back again.
46. They do not crave power and the like, as they are glad that they finally have serenity and order in their own worlds.
47. With them, it can also happen that every now and then they take some Earth-humans, bring them into their beamships, and examine them very closely with their apparatuses and determine their anatomy most exactly.
48. However, they let these human beings go again without exception, as they do not want to harm them.
49. They are often more humane beings than the Earth-human.
50. But unfortunately, rather barbaric beings also travel outer space and come to Earth every now and then.
51. Many among them are power-hungry and evil.
52. With them, it can happen that they kidnap and abduct Earth-humans (also other planetary human beings of other systems) and bring them to their home planets.
53. There, these poor creatures then lead lives as exhibition and experiment objects.
54. The Earth-human and all other inhabitants of other worlds must beware of these creatures, for in their maliciousness, they often use the worst form of Gewalt.
55. Feelings and other human traits and impulsations are often foreign to them, so a life means nothing of value to them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_003

Billy:

Since our last meeting I have occupied myself intensively and much with the so-called UFO literature. In doing so, I came across the suggestion that you human beings from the stars, if I may put it that way, are always described as supernatural, supernatural beautiful and as protectors of humanity on Earth, almost as all-knowing and as teachers, etc., and that you should therefore live practically in spiritual and conscious perfection. But my intellect and my impression convey something completely different to me in this respect, and I cannot get over the fact that all this can only be lies. Lies that probably originate from sick brains or from brains that are not free and brand fantasy pictures as reality, because the originators of thoughts cannot cope with real reality and therefore escape into a fantastic pseudo-world. The reality seems to be too hard for them, so they flee into fantasies, because they hope for help in these.

...

Semjase:

...

11. If deceivers label and describe us as you said just now, it is nothing more than an infamous lie, originating from the brains of consciously poor human beings who imagine a better life in their fantasy, and because they themselves cannot achieve it, at least not yet in this life, they simply attribute it to us and make us out to be something perfect.

12. But we, too, are still far away from this stage and must continually develop ourselves further.

13. We are not the so-called above-human or superhuman beings, as the Earth-humans like to call us in their unknowledge and in their imaginations.

14. We are also no teachers, missionaries or pioneers.

15. We only have the dutiful task of preserving the developing as well as already existing human life throughout the cosmic space.

16. This means that we strive to keep order and watch over certain life.

17. Here and there we approach the inhabitants of different worlds, if our directives allow us to do so, choose individuals from among them and provide them with explanations; this however only then when a race develops higher and slowly becomes thinking.

18. We then slowly prepare them for the need to become familiar with the thought of not being the only thinking beings in the universe.

19. Here and there we also help on a telepathic basis to let certain cognitions germinate and to make technical inventions which are necessary at that time.

Billy:

Why then do you not appear en masse and show yourselves to the general public? And why don't you get in touch with the most diverse governments?

Semjase:

20. Without exception, all governments on Earth are staffed by human beings who have the characteristic of addiction to might and profit.

21. Under the guise of peace and friendship they would only want to seize our beamships to be able to exercise absolute Gewalt-rule over the Earth with them.

22. But they would also try to conquer the outer space because they know no bounds.

23. However, they are not even able to on the Earth create peace and friendship between the countries – not even among the human beings in their own country.

24. How, then, should they be able to have such means of might at their disposal, such as are our beamships and their multifaceted facilities represent it!

25. There is no interest in showing ourselves to the general public.

26. Their consciousness is still short and small and confined in religious enslavement.

27. On the one hand, the Earth-humans would worship us as gods in their short-reflection, as they did already in earlier times; and on the other hand, there would be many among them who as criminals and greedy for might ones would seize our beamships.

28. But there are also those who are not to be forgotten, and there are countless millions of them, who would fall into complete hysteria and fall ill in consciousness.

29. For these reasons it is advisable for the time being to maintain contact only with individual Earth-humans and to via them slowly let the knowledge of our existence and tasks become known and to prepare them for what is to come.

30. We are no wardens or guardians of the Earth-humans; we only feel obliged to them because our originators were their ancestors, before they fled from the Earth as a result of self-inflicted catastrophes of some might-greedy ones and escaped to the Pleiades ...

...

Billy:

But I would still be interested in one thing, Semjase: It has often been written that the human beings from the stars would become very old, millions of years even. What's up with that?

Semjase:

37. Do you believe these claims?

Billy:

No, because it sounds too unlikely. I can only believe it when I look at it in the way that a human being of about seventy thousand million years of age is no longer a human being, but some kind of spiritual embodiment.

Semjase:

38. You are right about that, too.

39. A human being is capable of living for several hundred or even thousands of years when it has attained a certain spiritual and consciousness-based relative state of perfection and a correspondingly high and healthy mode of life.

...

Billy:

You are surely aware that our dear little women on Earth keep their age a secret, and that they smear their lips, face, finger- and toenails with powder and colours. What do you think about that?

Semjase:

...

46. Personally I find make-up disgusting, but also all forms of painting the body as well as fingernails and toenails.

Billy:

I think so too. But how is it with all of you, do you also live in this delusion?

Semjase:

47. Definitely not.

...

Semjase:

50. You do not know, however, that the average lifetime with us is very high and amounts to several hundreds of years, that is, about 1,000 years.

51. So I am still very young and only 330 years old, which corresponds approximately to your 33 years by your understanding.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_004

Semjase:

12. Just like the Earth-human, we also have to learn a language.

13. Except that this is much easier for us and causes us less effort.

14. We are in possession of all Earth languages that are presently spoken or were ever spoken at an earlier time.

15. This means that we have accurate records of them in the most diverse forms.

16. Language training courses, as you would call them, were compiled from them.

17. This work is done by linguists and machines, similar to those you call computers.

18. Then other machines of a similar kind serve to transmit and enter the language into us.

19. This means that we get connected to such a machine or apparatus, through which we then receive the desired language transmission.

20. This occurs through a hypnosis-like state induced by the machine.

21. As a result, the language terms and senses are implanted and registered.

22. This process takes 21 days.

23. After that we need another 9-10 days, in order to speak the language correctly.

24. This means that we then have to practice speaking and pronouncing in the right way with the help of the apparatuses and the linguists.

25. To learn a language we need 30 to 31 days in this manner.

...

66. We have a different language than the Earth-humans ...

...

Semjase:

89. Even then, however, there is still the great danger that the barbaric Earth-human will use her/his technical knowledge and ability and her/his technical achievements maliciously and might-greedily to satisfy his desires for might.

90. This has happened and continues to happen time and again with other beings of other worlds, not only with the Earth-human.

...

92. In the outer space itself, dangers of various sizes lurk, and also other inhabitants of worlds are not simply left helpless in the face of an attack of another race.

93. There could follow deadly defeats and complete enslavement for the Earth-human, which would be equivalent to a falling back into primeval times.

94. But it could also be that the planet Earth becomes completely destroyed because the technical prerequisites for this are already created in the outer space with very many humane and inhumane races up to the last relative perfection.

95. If the Earth-human wants to carry her/his barbaric imperiousness and greed for might out into the outer space, then s/he must reckon with her/his complete destruction, and no other planetary beings will rush to help her/him.

96. But the Earth human being must also prepare to defend herself/himself against malicious intruders, which s/he can only accomplish, however, through a complete unification of all the peoples of your planet.

97. The dangers from the outer space are great and are lurking in all corners of the galaxies.

98. Mostly, these are inhumane, might-greedy beings who know no feelings or only inferior ones or those very badly out of the control of the good human nature.

99. Others, however, know how to defend themselves, and they inevitably always do this radically.

...

104. Other world races do not let themselves be senselessly warred or driven into exile, servitude and exploitation, as is customary among the peoples of the Earth.

105. They will defend themselves by Gewalt, and still for a long time they will be vastly superior to all the technological possibilities of the Earth-humans.

106. Where this is not the case, however, they are often under the protection of further and higher developed intelligences, whose techniques reach the final relative perfection.

...

109. The Earth-human must become familiar with the thought that her/his ancestors had brought the whole humankind and the Earth itself to the brink of ruin and had to partially evacuate the planet in a wild escape.

110. But it should also serve her/him as a warning that greed for might and barbarism are deadly attributes.

111. That this is the case has also been experienced by a second race in your solar system.

112. In their boundless hatred and in their uncontrollable greed for might, they destroyed themselves right down to the last, and hardly any being survived the fight.

113. They annihilated and destroyed their own planet in a tremendous explosion, and nothing remained of it but many thousands of asteroids that still orbit your sun today – as a memorial to the deadly irrationality of human beings.

114. Remnants of the once splendidly blooming planet Malona, which its inhabitants destroyed in their barbaric greed for might and irrationality.

{Note: The following excerpts explain how some ancient Plejaren ancestors found their way to Earth; see also Contact Report 9:120-170, Contact Report 70:S23-181, and Contact Report 121:B79-90.}

Semjase:

44. Only the knowledge and ability of our ancestors, who had settled on the Earth and had begotten their descendants here, prevented the terrible end.

...

67. Deep in the unknown space, in a space-time shifted solar system of the Milky Way, a solitary star floated far away from the normal orbits of the satellites orbiting the Sun.

...

81. After the thousands of years, it {The Destroyer (comet)} then rushed suddenly and unexpectedly into the closest sphere of influence of the sun and its planets.

...

84. Now already illuminated by the reflecting rays of the sun, it approached the orbit of the outermost planet at tremendous speed.

...

88. Still only a few hundred units away from the next worlds, it evoked hellish storms in these, which destroyed large areas that had been cultivated by the human beings peacefully emerging there.

89. With trembling for their arduously gained goods and their already hard lives, they suddenly found themselves exposed to the immense and uncompassionate forces of the universe.

90. Helpless, doomed to be handed over from life to death, they stared out into the sky, to the gigantic wandering planet which raced towards them as a cosmic mortal projectile.

...

92. On the night of the third day after the incursion of the Destroyer into the planetary pathways, the middle of the night may just have passed, the drifter from outer space entered the elliptical orbit of the sixth planet.

...

96. Full of horror and consternation over the immense forces of nature, the human beings fled into the vast plains that covered the planet in great numbers.

...

98. Two thirds of the humankind that inhabited the planet was killed and destroyed in the unleashed hell of nature.

...

101. Forced by cosmic determinations, the survivors had to find a new beginning – devoid of any culture – set back to a primordial time of the development.

...

140. The humankind of the distant solar system, two thirds of which were destroyed at that time, found a new beginning which was hard and full of privation.

141. Nevertheless, in less than 9 centuries the human beings built up a new civilisation and culture; created and driven out of the hardship arising from cosmic forces.

142. The people succeeded in preventing further cosmic catastrophes and annihilations.

143. Through arduous research, work and voluntary commitment to the very last one, they created plans for their new culture and for a far-reaching technology.

144. Dwellings were built that could withstand the Gewalt of nature, and generation after generation brought together their knowledge and skills.

145. Their spirit and their consciousness and their knowledge refined themselves rapidly, and soon the succeeding generations had reached a technology which, without any imagination, defied all possibilities.

146. And there came the time when the descendants flew out into the unending expanses of the universe in round, plate-like flying ships with beam drives.

147. Other solar systems and planets were flown to and expeditioned.

148. New worlds and possibilities opened up in order to transplant the peoples of the home planet, which had meanwhile become too small for the new humankind.

149. The scientists with their spacecrafts and abundantly provided means of all kinds and fantastic application possibilities used the dimension gate known to them, to (in another space-time configuration of the DERN universe) reach the Milky Way area and explored the space for ever newer things.

150. They found many new habitable worlds and solar systems, which they often made subservient to themselves using their beam weapons in short one-sided fights, in order to conquer them for the settlement of their race.

151. However, apart from their horrendous material and gene-based technology they also perfected their consciousness and their spirit, so that nothing which they wanted to experience remained foreign to them any more.

152. The use of their powers of consciousness became implicitness to them, and so they gradually raised themselves to rulers vis-à-vis their peoples.

153. They called themselves kings of wisdom with the word JHWH, which is on the Earth translated as God.

154. Far superior spiritually, and in terms of knowledge as well as consciousness to the normal people, they soon dominated it in evil dictatorial form.

155. Yet after centuries, having grown tired of the godlike scientists, the people rose against them initially in silent revolution.

156. Oppressed, however, by the spiritual and consciousness-based powers and by the tremendous knowledge of the gods, the people had to submit to their rulers.

157. But the will for freedom made them secretly prepare for the fight.

158. It glowed like a smouldering ember for four centuries, to flare up in the given moment as untameable wild conflagration.

159. According to the earthly calculation of time, it was about 230,000 years ago when the liberation war broke out.

160. Evil fightings covered many planets and much was destroyed.

161. A scientist named Asael used the opportunity to make himself self-reliant and flee.

162. Secretly he managed to bring a large fleet of spaceships into his possession, to man them and to flee under heavy acts of fighting.

163. With 183 wide-bodies and almost 250 reconnaissance ships with a total of 360,000 human beings on board, he fled from his home system.

164. For years they were restlessly roaming through the expanses of the space before one day they found a solar system that offered them opportunities to live, far away from their home system.

165. It took three hundred of years after they seized the planet because they created a new humankind.

166. Afterwards they settled on two more planets of their new home system, to then again traverse the outer space while exploring.

167. In doing so they came across the system of the earthly Sun.

168. They settled here on three different planets, namely on the Earth, on Malona and on Mars, and began with the building of a new culture.

169. But the planets were still rather inhospitable and often hostile.

170. So they left the planets again and paid them visits only now and then.

171. When, then, on the second planet, the Earth, first intelligent life started moving, they came back and lived there.

172. But in accordance with the human being's reflecting, power struggles broke out again, and they left the Earth.

173. From the new home planet, however, the development of the Earth was constantly monitored and expedited year after year.

174. From time to time, it was tried again and again to settle the planet.

175. Also, beings were deported to the Earth and these were simply left to their fate without any technology and help.

176. They became stunted, wild, and bestial.

177. Then finally the time came, when the major step was finally ventured.

178. A certain culture was built up on the Earth, which lasted for several millennia.

179. But again, greed for power broke out, and everything was destroyed.

180. So the Earth fell again into its old existence.

181. Then it took again several millennia, before a new attempt was made, this time however no more in the sense of an actual expedition:

182. On the home planet once again differences of opinion arose, because the scientists again elevated themselves to gods and subjugated the peoples to servitude.

183. From this it resulted that a group of scientists and other human beings who thought differently banded together and seized various spaceships.

184. Almost 70,000 human beings fled and settled on the Earth.

185. Their highest leader Pelegon was freely recognised by all as JHWH (God) and led a tight regiment.

186. He had nearly two hundred subleaders, each of whom was responsible for a special field of knowledge.

187. They were, so to speak, sub-gods, or also called guardians.

188. On the home planets, however, war broke out and much was destroyed again.

189. But the human beings finally achieved the freedom and the peace.

190. That has remained so ever since and will also never change again.

191. According to the earthly time calculation, that was around 50,000 years ago.

{Note: See also Contact Report 711:47-106.}

192. Only on the Earth itself things were not always so peaceful, and many mistakes were made.

193. And by one of these mistakes the primal human races of the earth were procreated, whose descendants still live today and are about to commit the same mistakes as did our ancestors.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_006

Semjase: (laughing again)

44. I also like to laugh.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_007

Semjase: (bursting out in loud laughter)

...

Billy:

My next question deals with the earthly human races. We have here yellow, red, white, brown, and black human beings; how does that come? Why is there this colour differentiation?

Semjase:

109. This actually belongs in the history of Earth humanity, which I wanted to continue to tell you.

...

118. But further, I wanted to say that some differently coloured races already became extinct a long time ago.

119. But in the same way they are all the product of the celestial sons, i.e. they were begotten of them, just like the Earth races still existing today.

120. The celestial sons or starfarers, as we want to call our forebears, were at home on many different planets of stars, in a different space-time configuration or far away from the SOL-system, whereby the planets were fundamentally different in climatic terms, hence they also produced other races which were able to adapt to the climate from the ur-beginning.

121. Due to the climate conditions, also a corresponding skin colour developed, of which there are innumerable in the universe.

122. Their body sizes were also different because, depending on the gravity of the planet in question, they ranged from only 50 centimetres tall up to several metres.

123. There were and are even beings, which you call gigantic ones, giants or titans, and such beings too once endowed the Earth with life.

124. They too produced offspring here, but they were gradually exterminated because they were usually very malicious and exercised tyranny.

125. The different colour races of today are, thus, descendants of our variously coloured forebears, who came from different planets of foreign stars.

...

Semjase:

129. Well, you are right with your view that the human beings of the Earth are not descendants of the apes.

130. They were partially begotten by our forebears, who also mixed themselves with Earth beings, who were simply called "Eves" at that time.

...

135. But the Earth beings at that time were of the most diverse forms and kinds.

136. Some of them were completely wild creatures of human-like forms, some of which had been marooned on the Earth in earlier millennia by our forebears, that is, their descendants.

137. These descendants of the marooned were abused by foreign spacefarers ...

...

147. The Eves were besides Earth-created hominid living creatures nothing more than very wild descendants of those marooned thousands of years ago, from whom at that time any tools were taken away.

...

154. But since our forebears were mixed races of different colours and sizes, they of course also produced different colours and races of different sizes completely according to their characteristics.

155. The smallest ones were 50 cm tall, while the largest and most vicious ones reached some twelve metres.

156. Their appearance was also varying, and some type of them were only remotely reminiscent to human forms.

157. They were left to die out or were killed if they were too vicious.

158. In many cases, they hid themselves in far remote areas and survived for thousands of years, as their average age was about 1,500 years.

159. But little by little, they also became victims of the time or of the human beings.

160. The last of the vicious ones, whose life was ended with Gewaltsamkeit, died a little more than 230,000 years ago.

161. Today, according to our knowledge, only seven such beings of the old human life-forms still live on the Earth; where they remain so well hidden that they will certainly never be found and will one day die a peaceful death, and that without descendants, because they have become too old and passive for propagation.

...

Billy:

... So far, you have never told me where you actually always stay, when you are not carrying on conversations with me. ...

Semjase:

...

233. We have our bases on the Earth, as well as on many other planets, where we stay continuously.

234. We also have such a base in this country, Switzerland.

235. It is located high up in the mountains near ...

236. There I have my main whereabouts, when I am on the Earth.

237. However, we also have some other important stations that are distributed all over the world.

238. But they are all built so securely that it would be impossible to find them if one does not know them exactly.

239. Moreover, I am very often on the move and have to fulfil my tasks on a wide variety of worlds.

240. I also often go to visit my home, as you tend to say, and so I also often spend time on the Pleiades, as we call them for the time being.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_008

Semjase:

27. Just ask; but be conscious of the fact that I am not allowed to reveal any secrets that would still be detrimental to the development of the consciousness of the human being of Earth.

...

Billy:

You mean the Aquarian age?

Semjase:

161. Sure, that's the era I'm talking about.

162. It will bring developmental change events for the human beings of Earth; very good ones, but also very bad ones.

163. Particularly grave are in this regard the religious influences, because this intellectual-spiritual-consciousness-based era brings forth very many new and evil types of religions and sects, wherethrough the human being is supposed to be even more struck in their delusion, whereby also sectarian mass suicides and murders are to be feared.

164. But we want to try to prevent this, because otherwise the same thing will happen that happened to our ancestors, namely that the sect rulers and scientists will as time goes by also elevate themselves to JHWHs and bring about the same catastrophe over creatures and solar systems as it was also characteristic of our forebears and many other races.

...

Billy:

... But now once again a question regarding the age. ...

...

... how is this, then, with you?

Semjase:

177. The laws are of equal value throughout the universe.

178. When we have a higher life expectancy than the human being of Earth, then this is conditioned by life.

179. But at the same time research and evolution also play a role that is not insignificant.

...

Semjase:

234. But we do not want and also are not allowed to exercise any coercion to convince the Earth-humans of the truth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_009

Semjase:

2. Already for decades various human beings of Earth and entire groups have been pressing us partly consciously, partly unconsciously into spheres into which we do not fit in any form; spheres in which we do not want to be at home either.

3. Often only for the sake of the desire to show off and for the sake of pure profit are we ranked higher than we are in reality.

4. But we are all only human beings, like all human creatures.

5. According to your terms, we may well live in a state of superior technology and of great spiritual and consciousness-based progress, but not in a boastfulness and overwhelmingness, which the majority of the human beings on Earth impute to us.

6. We are neither the guardians of the Earth-humans nor any god-sent angels or the like.

7. Various ego-addicted persons and groups led into the unreal by them claim that we were the guardians of the Earth and its human beings, and that we would direct their destinies.

8. However, this does not correspond to the truth, because we are only carrying out a self-obligated task, which in no way has anything to do with a surveillance and a directing of the actual destinies of the Earth-humans.

9. It is therefore wrong to portray us as over-earthly ambassadors and guardians.

10. If we were ambassadors and guardians in the sense as it is claimed about us, then we would land out in plain view and direct the destinies of the human beings of Earth in full recognisability.

11. We are not what is imputed on us; even though we are spiritually and consciousness-based about 25 million years farther progressed and technically almost 3½ millennia ahead of the Earth-humans.

12. But it is in the sense of all those Earth-humans who are themselves caught in a religious belief to make us become something godly.

...

{Note: The following excerpts explain how some ancient Plejaren ancestors found their way to Earth; see also Contact Report 5:S67-193, Contact Report 70:S23-181, and Contact Report 121:B79-90.}

Semjase:

120. At our fifth contact I finished the history of humankind at the time when 50,000 years ago according to earthly calendar our homeworlds found freedom and peace.

121. Before that time, 70,000 human beings fled under the leadership of the scientist Pelegon.

122. With spaceships, which they had seized, they fled through the space out of another configuration of space and time into the one of the Milky Way of the DERN universe and settled on the Earth.

123. Under Pelegon's leadership, there were 200 sub-leaders; scientists who were each responsible for a specific field of knowledge.

124. Pelegon was unanimously recognised and respected by them and all others as king of essence of wisdom (JHWH/God).

125. In the course of the millennia they built large cities and inhabited all continents of the Earth.

126. Unfortunately, this only went well for barely 10,000 years before lust for might regained the upper hand and a deadly war raged over the world.

127. Everything without residue was destroyed, and only a few thousand human beings were able to survive, while others fled again into the outer space and into the old space-time configuration and settled on distant worlds.

128. For the next 7,000 years the Earth was no longer flown to, during which time those who stayed behind became completely wild and degenerated.

129. After that the descendants of those who had settled on distant worlds returned.

130. Again they were led by an JHWH.

131. Under such a kind of JHWH command, the distant descendants later built Atlantis and Mu.

132. Two huge cities on two different continents.

133. For thousands of years, they lived in complete friendship and in peace, until some scientists again succumbed to the greed for might and wanted to seize the rule.

134. However, having become tired of the constant wars, the peoples rose against them, hence they seized spacecrafts and fled into the outer space; according to earthly calendar about 15,000 years ago.

135. For two millennia they and their descendants lived in a neighbouring solar system.

136. Two millennia during which they had become very evil and were only able to uphold a certain regulation under the strictest discipline.

137. Through mutations and researches they achieved a very long life span, which amounted to more than three thousand years.

138. Obsessed with imperiousness, they left their world about 13,500 Earth-years ago and came back to the Earth.

139. Their supreme leader was the scientist ARUS, who was also called "The Barbarian."

140. As already JHWH Pelegon nearly 190,000 years ago, he also had 200 leaders or subleaders, who were each responsible for a specific field of knowledge.

141. They settled in two parts in the far north and in today's America (Florida), whereby they constantly forged ahead to Atlantis and Mu, in order to invade them with war.

142. And only a few millennia after their renewed requisitioning of the Earth, they succeeded in completely destroying Mu and Atlantis.

143. Few survivors went into servitude, while great scientists were able to flee and returned to the original homeworlds in the Pleiades.

144. But thousands of years before that point in time, the new intruders spread across the Earth, and JHWH ARUS ruled with a firm and bloody hand.

145. But also his subleaders usurped all kinds of things and made themselves more and more independent.

146. Within only three decades, they acted largely at their own discretion, even though they feared the punishments of the JHWH ARUS.

147. They pushed very far away from them the codex of preserving their own race pure under all circumstances and not allowing it to fall prey to mutations.

148. Forbidden and secretly, they went out and captured earth-created life-forms; but so also turned wild or mutated beings, which were very distant descendants of former human beings from the outer space.

149. The female creatures, beautiful in their wildness, were tamed and copulated with or fertilised with genetical manipulation by the leaders who called themselves celestial sons.

150. Case by case depending on their own races, they thus created mutated creatures; completely new life-forms that were of dwarfish stature, very gigantic or similar to animal forms.

151. Semjasa, the supreme leader of all subleaders, copulated with an EVA; a female creature who, according to his understanding, was still preserved as the most human-like and also quite beautiful one.

152. The descendant of this act was of male gender and a human being in good form.

153. Semjasa called him Adam, which is tantamount to HUMAN BEING OF EARTH.

154. Another copulation of the same kind brought forth a female creature, and in later years Semjasa determined that these two Adams had to mate together.

155. In the meantime, however, many other creatures of the same kind were conceived, who banded together into large groups and tribes.

156. From them today's humankind developed, which was already at its ur-beginning according to its races distributed to the most different continents.

157. JHWH ARUS was very infuriated by this action, and where he could get hold of the fallible ones, he ordered his incorrectly acting subleaders to be captured and killed or banished.

158. In the course of time, however, he changed his mentality, and he recognised a new might that he could exercise over the newly created human beings of Earth.

159. Through newly appointed guardian angels and subleaders he cast a spell over three humankinds.

160. These were the forebears of those whom you now call Indians, then the inhabitants who had settled around the Black Sea, and thirdly those who roamed in the south below the Mediterranean Sea as gypsies and were therefore called hebreons.

161. Through his guardian angels JHWH ARUS let these humankinds be subjugated and a spell be cast on them.

162. As supreme ruler over them, he let himself be worshiped and prayed to by them.

163. In his megalomania, he let himself in relation to them be celebrated as Creator and Creation, and his subleaders as creational helpers.

164. He enacted harsh and strict laws, which without exception demanded the blood of a culprit.

165. His son, Jehav, who took over his reign after 3,400 years, was only very little better, for he too, as proclaimed JHWH, demanded nothing but blood and death among the three enslaved humankinds.

166. It was only the later "descendants of the gods" who became more humane and developed in the sense of the spiritual evolution.

167. When this was finally the case, they decided, in accordance with their change of mentality and consciousness, to leave the development of the Earth-humans to their natural courses and to withdraw themselves to their original home.

168. So the last of them left the Earth 1,943 years ago and returned as peaceful creatures to our Pleiades, where their own humankind had in the meantime become very highly developed.

169. Today they live united as particularly long-lived with the normally aging, who on average reach 1,000 years of age, and so today we are one single people in peace and freedom.

Semjase:

14. As a result, I have to admit that I succumbed to some errors that brought me to wrong conclusions.

15. You, however, with your feelings, have drawn the right conclusions and laid the perspectives correctly.

16. Obviously you are superior to me in such things because you are able to start from purely earthly aspects.

17. However, I do not want to exclude that you can arrive at wrong decisions, through this form, just as I did with mine.

18. In the end we are human beings, albeit from different worlds and from different consciousness-based and spiritual stages, but still fundamentally similar forms of life, who have to go the way of their evolution.

19. So this does not exclude that I also make errors, which I ask your friends and acquaintances to understand.

20. My life-form is indeed higher developed in all things of the physical and swinging-wave-based manner than your peoples, but yet we are also not standing at the degree of that absolute full development which would exclude errors.

21. This, one should always consider.

22. We are really not those Wesen of absolute full development, as they are so gladly exploited by pseudo-contact-persons for religious benefit, because these supposed Wesen of absolute full development are either cheating and power-grabbing creatures, who want to bring the human beings of Earth under their harsh rule, which actually happens in a few cases, or they are quite simply pseudo-Wesen, who exist only in the imagination of the pseudo-contact-persons.

23. As my life form is just as imperfect as yours, it must be absolutely understood that I am also subject to errors.

24. Nevertheless, if I slip up in such things, then I name them openly and stand by them, for it would make no sense and be of no benefit if I were to cover them up or deny them.

25. This would only redound to my own disadvantage.

...

Semjase:

126. But now once again is the time for us to say goodbye, but I will call you again myself in a short time, for there are still other important things to make clear.

Billy:

But then call me directly to China or Chihuahua, for those places are more along the way than this place here in the middle of nowhere, where I had to take my moped for miles.

Semjase:

127. Can it also be the South Pole or the North Pole?

{Note: sarcasm.}

Semjase:

40. But I would also like to give him {Hans Jacob} the feeling of my gratitude, because he acknowledges that also our way of life needs further development and we therefore make mistakes, which he accepts in the form that he does not become reproachful; in other words and in other sense that he excuses my actions, which were faulty.

Semjase:

6. Not for nothing did I direct the steps towards eliminating plant life-forms.

7. Such things are subject to certain laws of our race that allow such eliminations only in emergencies.

...

Billy:

Oh, so you got a fish, huh?

Semjase:

113. That seems to be your modern language again?

Billy:

Right, and it means you laughed at a man and wants to get married?

Semjase:(laughing out loud)

114. No, I feel much better without a man, at least now.

115. I may have something planned for later.

...

Billy:

The dear Earthlings make their stupid jokes about moon and Mars and other space people.

They draw them as scale reinforced monsters with fixed skull antennas, feelers, five breasts and many other idiocies. They call these things humor.

...

Billy:

... do not you read newspapers and magazines, etc.?

Semjase:

121. Sure, because I move here and there among the terrestrial human beings, shielded from the Earthly human vibrations, and get hold of something readable from time to time, but I have never found such things in it.

Billy:

If, of course, you only read Micky Mouse, Fix and Foxi and Supermann booklets, then you might not be in the right place.

Semjase: (laughing)

122. I actually know them, and I think they're funny.

123. However, other readables are mostly only newspapers, etc.

44. We do not want to create a global truth organization or in a short time flood your world inhabitants with the truth, because such an enterprise would not be useful for our cause.

45. Only small groups are useful when their members are fully and totally truthful.

46. Through them, the truth will slowly be spread and will encompass humanity over generations and centuries.

Semjase:

18. On the other hand, I approached you several times with the suggestion to get you crystals which you could sell.

...

Billy:

... and what if checks reveal any radiation that is not of earthly origin?

Semjase:

24. ... our technology enables the extraction of such radiations from all material forms, if they do not contain changeable life.

25. Thus I have also removed all radiation phenomena in the minerals and crystals given to you, so that when they were introduced into earthly space, they constitutionally absorbed the radiation inherent in the Earth in a few moments, so that no difference can be discerned in comparison with similar earthly crystals and minerals.

...

Billy:

... how can you free them from their radiation? What is the process and how does it all work?

Semjase:

36. Our apparatuses extract the radiation from the things and release it converted into good form again, so that it can be absorbed again by the planets concerned.

37. The whole process is a regeneration process of natural order.

38. The apparatus could therefore be called a neutraliser according to your terms.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_022

Billy:

... But can you explain to me once why your mental transmissions always appear so stereotypical in me at a later point in time and that there are no repetitions of any words or sentences? These later transmissions of our conversations are so completely different than when we are in intellectual exchange with each other. I often have a lot of trouble writing your reports because you just keep dictating and never repeat a word. Your report submissions come into my consciousness just as we did the conversation. This often leads to the fact that I have to omit words or entire phrases when writing in order to be able to follow dictation in writing at all. This is not always the case, but it is often the case that I write wrong words.

...

Billy:

... sometimes in your transmissions it seems to me as if your thoughts are a mechanical sequence, as if they were coming out of a machine. I always have to think of a tape that reproduces exactly what it has recorded. Therefore, I have come to the conclusion that you do not carry out your transmissions personally, but have them transmitted by a machine or something similar. The reason for this could be that you suffer from the same evil as we human beings on Earth, namely that you also cannot remember word for word what has been spoken between us or elsewhere. But since the subconscious potencies never forget anything and you can tap into them with certainty, you will do this with a machine or something, which then radiates everything to me. These are my basic considerations. Of course I can be wrong in all things, but the degree of probability of these considerations seems to me to be the greatest. These considerations would also be compatible with the fact that not a single word is repeated in your transmissions and that I therefore often have great difficulty in writing down the sentences and words coming in at normal speaking speed quickly enough.

...

Billy:

... So I thought about the inner workings of the machine and came across the fact that it is only necessary to have a censorship-free ...

Semjase:

32. Wait, you cannot explain that, at least not to the humans of your world.

...

36. I will therefore have to consult with the others and judge everything with them; but I suppose that our High Council will have to make its decision on this, because if we have to eliminate certain things completely, then we have ...

Billy:

Wait, wait, Semjase – are you saying that you want to extinguish something in me? ...

Semjase:

37. ... you would not feel anything and would not be affected in any way later in life.

38. It is only a matter of removing the knowledge about a certain system of elements that you have become aware of through your reflections etc.

...

40. Our possibilities in this respect are so very precise and of absolute security that you would neither be able to do anything about it nor feel the slightest bit.

Billy:

But I would know that something is simply no longer present in me, yes?

Semjase:

41. Sure, because it only removes a certain factor, but not your memories.

...

Billy:

What's this total damn elimination supposed to be?

Semjase:

45. It springs from the knowledge and knowledge of a highly developed science of our breed.

46. The ability and effects of such total eliminations are absolutely certain and their precision does not allow for the slightest substance of uncertainty or vagueness.

...

Billy:

... But first I have to know the timetable for a total elimination. How much time would such a total elimination take, from order to completion?

Semjase:

...

75. If we put our equipment into operation, which is always on standby for such total eliminations, and adjust it to the life form in question, then this takes less than 3 minutes, whereby the distances play no role whatsoever.

Billy:

And how much time do you need, if I would give the order on mental basis via your person?

Semjase:

76. I still do not see clearly, but we would need another minute to transmit your error.

Billy:

Well, that would be less than four minutes in total, if I understood correctly, yes?

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_023

Semjase:

25. These laws about marriage and coitus etc., as they were preserved in the Talmud Jmmanuel, are of human origin and created for the purpose of giving order to the earthly forms of life and also to maintain them.

...

Billy:

... But what about yourselves, do you also have human legislation?

Semjase:

28. Where thinking life-forms live, such laws and recommendations are given everywhere.

29. Depending on the state of the conscious and spiritual development of the human being's leaders, however, these laws have been taken from the natural laws and shaped in a responsible form into human-natural laws.

30. So they are laws and recommendations of natural logic and in no way full of illogical and even dumb-primitive as they are created and applied in your world.

Billy:

... Actually, you have already answered my next question with your answer regarding the existence of your laws, which aims at whether you also know forms of criminality and other degenerations etc., to which you have to apply laws and recommendations. Laws and recommendations etc. are only necessary where they must maintain order. But where order has become a matter of course and no degenerations occur, human laws and recommendations are also superfluous. The logical conclusion to be drawn from this is that you, too, are not beyond the state of degenerations and that, consequently, order has not yet become a matter of course. However, I can explain this in such a way that it is connected with the eternal becoming and developing, according to the creative law of becoming and development: As a result of the ongoing creation of new spirits, different levels of age and development of the various levels of the mind appear. Thus it must logically become a natural process that life-forms are also born in your race that are still below your actual normal mental potency and therefore have to develop further. Since development causes mistakes in every respect, however, these inferior forms of mind or life-forms must follow the natural path of development and thus make mistakes. But since mistakes can be disorderly and even fatal, laws and recommendations must be applied in order to maintain this order. That is how I imagine it, because it seems logical to me.

Semjase:

...

32. It is absurd how, unfortunately, charlatans always fraudulently claim that we are superhumans and that we no longer need any laws or recommendations.

33. Only where the creative order has become a matter of course do such laws and recommendations fall by.

34. However, this is only the case in very high spiritual spheres.

35. So that means in purely spiritual spheres, where all material things belong to the past.

36. Material forms of life, however, i.e. material-body-dependent forms of all kinds, are still afflicted with too many errors for them to simply ignore a law and commandment adapted to their state.

Billy:

That is plausible, but how do you then handle this law and commandment with you? If I have understood correctly, have you created a uniform punishment for certain offences, etc., which is pronounced as a temporary or lifelong banishment?

Semjase:

37. Sure, you got it right:

38. If the punishment is still applied very primitively everywhere in you, then this is no longer the case with us.

39. Our legislation corresponds to our conscious intellectual level and is therefore truly humane, which cannot be said of your legislation.

40. Serious offences are no longer punished with us by total elimination and damage of the material body etc., as this is still barbaric custom and custom with you.

41. Our Unity Adherence finds its application in a banishment for time or for life.

42. The fallible life-forms are banished in this respect to other worlds, which serve exclusively only this purpose.

43. Moreover, only same-sex life-forms are banished to such a world, i.e. only male or only female life-forms.

44. This prevents reproduction and no offspring can be conceived.

45. The exiled are on their own on their worlds and have to take care of themselves through their own work.

46. Any mechanical or apparatus aids, etc., are made available to them, but they are deprived of permission to make such aids themselves if they could be used for escape.

47. In order to emphasise this provision, regular checks are carried out on these worlds and any secretly manufactured products of this kind are eliminated.

48. In addition, any personal physical contact with any other forms of life outside the places of performance will be completely eliminated.

49. On some of our worlds, fallible life-forms are banished also on large islands in large seas, if the fallibility rate of the respective worlds is only very small.

50. However, the whole handling and execution is the same as for worlds specially selected for this purpose.

51. This form of punishment ensures the greatest possible security for the order to be observed, and on the other hand the mistakes are not a burden on the masses.

52. Besides, however, this form of punishment is very humane and expedient, because during the life-long or temporal exile, the misguided are not inhibited in their development.

53. Besides, crime and the like is practically non-existent in our country.

...

Billy:

... Could it not be that at very early times our Earth once also served extraterrestrial beings as such a planet of banishment?

Semjase:

55. Sure, your assumption is correct.

56. In primeval times, variously fallible life-forms were banished to your Earth from various worlds in the universe, including our race.

57. But these early times can no longer be grasped by us either, and we have no precise data about them.

Billy:

... But how is it now with you with the so-called marriage, mate there also male and female as with us? Or is the procreation of offspring perhaps carried out in a different way than in our country – are you perhaps breeding your little children in test tubes or in breeding farms?

Semjase: (laughs resounding)

58. This is typical human nonsense of earthly origin; a product of pathological imagination:

59. Creation has endowed each individual form of life with very specific values, so that it can reproduce in a very natural way.

60. The law of unity is of equal value in the whole universe, namely that two values of different and thus female and male sex, each uniform in itself, together form and result in a large unit or a hyper-unit, thus also in the form of the reproduction of any material life-forms.

...

Billy:

... But what about marriage and the procreation of offspring?

Semjase:

93. Fundamentally, our laws and recommendations in this regard are still partially preserved in many of your ancient writings, for they were transmitted to you by our distant ancestors:

94. With our race, often only marriages of non-monogamous shape are done, after most exact clarification of all facts concerning togetherness.

95. Of course, mistakes in these things cannot be excluded, but they will be eliminated or corrected if necessary.

96. The progeny is determined by the highest rate in the sense that a certain number of births in a certain period must be kept in order to preserve the breed and not cause overpopulation.

97. It is naturally the duty of each individual life form to procreate offspring for the conservation of the species and to exercise control over them.

98. Forms of life that are united in a marriage, i.e. woman and man, remain classified in this union for the duration of their lives.

99. Divorces, as you know them, are inadequate and allowed only in those blatant cases in which the laws and recommendations of the marriage covenant are grossly violated, with the guilty then falling into banishment.

100. These are however occurrences, which belong to the absolute rarity with our races.

101. The handling of the laws and recommendations for the individual things of marriage and sexual intercourse etc. I do not have to mention here specifically, because you can read Talmud Jmmanuel from this book.

102. Our laws have been the same for thousands of years and are consistent with Jmmanuel's interpretations of the Talmud.

103. A change has only occurred in the form of a tightening, because this was humanized and changed according to our time and our development.

104. The uniform punishment in these things forms the temporal or lifelong banishment.

Billy:

If I remember correctly, Rashid in the Talmud called these things in chapter 12 "About marriage and coitus". So you mean that these laws are still valid today as they were at Jmmanuel's time 2000 years ago and that you yourselves have adapted the penalty for your races simply to your time and your conscious and spiritual state in the form that you simply pronounce a life-long or temporal banishment as a measure of punishment?

Semjase:

105. Sure, I am sure.

...

Billy:

... What happens when a person of your race falls in love with a person of another, spiritually and consciously underdeveloped race?

Semjase: (laughing)

108. Exactly the same as yourselves:

109. People love each other with all their feelings, just as I love you.

...

Billy:

... But you have not yet fully answered my question, because in it was also hidden the how, what and why of a conjugal union or nonunion.

Semjase:

...

122. If, however, a person of our race falls in love with a race that is different from the rest of the world and is mentally and consciously inferior to us in the sense that the two want to unite, then this possibility will be clarified according to our laws.

123. If the facts show that the necessary conditions of all kinds are fulfilled, the marriage may take place.

124. It really doesn't matter whether the otherworldly way of life lives under our own spiritual and conscious state or not, because in cases of underdevelopment it is developed by our scientists according to our conscious state.

Billy:

I think that is very fair, but are such incidents common occurrences?

Semjase:

125. No, they're actually quite rare.

Billy:

But now one more question, Semjase: How great in number is your humanity?

Semjase:

126. I can only answer this question by telling you that we are united in a covenant that extends far into the cosmos.

127. This covenant includes various solar systems and planets in wide space, and the total number of life-forms of human norms invigorating them amounts to 127 billion units.

128. But of course there are countless other intelligent life-forms of non-human norms, in addition to humane human forms, which are unknown to us or with which we are simply not connected.

...

Billy:

... But can you at least say something about the habitability of our neighboring planets?

Semjase:

131. I can only explain so much that different planets were inhabited by our races in earlier times and are still important as bases for us today in minimal masses.

...

Semjase:

139. Certainly, there are several different life-forms active in your solar system from the vastness of the universe, but they are not located here.

140. Like us, they have their bases, but their breeds live very, very far out in space on their own worlds.

...

Billy:

... Familiarity sometimes simply awakens feelings that are unreal.

Semjase:

171. Sure, and we too are subject to these things.

172. It has often seemed to me, according to my feelings, that you are a human being of our race.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_024

Semjase:

43. Unfortunately it is often very difficult to find our way in your human beings of the Earth because through the uncontrollability of your feelings we are often misled and then have to correct ourselves.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_025

Semjase:

53. With regard to the illogical questions concerning financial aid, etc., I would like to make an explanation for the questioners here, because every human being on Earth should bear in mind, firstly, that we do not have any corresponding things to do with goods and means of payment, etc., as they are customary and common on the Earth.

54. Even if we wanted to, we could not serve you with financial means, which you call money, because we do not have such goods etc.

...

57. But when we are here and want to help humanity on the Earth in its consciousness-based, and other, development, then this means a self-imposed obligation that we do not let ourselves be made to do things at the order of the Earth-humans.

58. Our task corresponds to a free-willed undertaking.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_026

Billy:

... For a long time, I have suspected that there are other extraterrestrials in our world besides you, but with very different desires and hopes. These beings may be wholly alien to your race, at least some of them, but others must be of your own race.

...

... I could imagine that not all extraterrestrials, who are mischievous in our affairs, have the finest intentions and cultivate them, but I do not know why you let them. But it might be so ...

Semjase:

34. Because every form of life is justified in its existence and can think and act according to its own forms at its own discretion.

35. We must not exert violent influences, if this is not vital, so we can only act on the path of instruction and emergency attacks, as determined by the directives.

...

Billy:

... So I start from the assumption that certain forms of life which are strange to you are trying to wander around from the vastness of the universe on our Earth and in the space of the world and to influence other forms of life in various forms. On the other hand, I also suspect that one or more groups of descendants of your old race have not yet returned to you, and that they are still living according to the forms of a deity. Since they still have to live according to the old forms, it can practically only be that they influence many life forms and also the Earth-humans according to this and appear as emissaries of a god. ...

Semjase:

...

41. With your speculations you are very right, because there are other forms of life in the earthly space than just ours.

42. There are also still some splinter groups of our own former races here, but also on other worlds where they still live according to their old forms.

43. They constantly try to influence the life forms, especially the Earth-humans, according to their forms.

44. Already the ancestors had appeared as gods, and they still do.

45. They are anxious not to release the Earth-humans in particular from this form and to continue to make them dependent on themselves through stoic references to religious heresies, etc. and to cast them under their spell.

46. For a long time they have been trying again to break into your world in order to subdue humanity on the Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_028

Quetzal:

20. Even if we ourselves have not yet reached perfection and are forced to make mistakes, we have nevertheless evolved to such an extent that we are superior to the human beings of the Earth in many forms.

21. That is why we only adopt determinations that are anchored and justified in absolute logic.

22. So when we enact determinations, we know very well what we are doing and what purposes they serve.

...

26. We only enact determinations where they are necessary and should be followed.

...

33. In all technological stages of development, we are 3,500 years ahead of the Earth-human according to earthly time calculation, while the development of consciousness has progressed about 25 million years further, which should be taken into account by all.

34. Therefore, if an Earth-human, who is behind us in this period of development, is of the opinion that his/her illogical ignorance exceeds our logical knowledge, then this corresponds to a selfish megalomania, as you like to call it.

...

65. ... we too often make unrecognised mistakes.

...

74. In no way do we try to exercise dictatorial measures or to impose our will or our knowledge on Earth-humans.

75. We have only taken on the self-imposed task of transmitting the Teaching of the Truth and some other things.

76. Whoever wants to accept and acknowledge this teaching can do so according to his/her own decision, and whoever wants to reject it rejects it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_029

Semjase:

35. At the present time we are the most highly developed life forms that travel this Earth from outside your world and are also stationed here.
36. Although there are other life forms that penetrate your Earth space, fly in and partly also have their stations here, we correspond to the highest level of evolution of all.
37. The second most developed form of life after us lies little more than 1840 years of total evolution behind us.
38. Of all present extraterrestrial life forms, which currently live in the earthly space, we are therefore a little more than 1840 Earth years ahead in the total evolutionary standing.
39. When we therefore communicate explanations and interpretations, then these correspond to the highest level of knowledge and wisdom and the highest known truth, which must not first lead to truth in a confrontation through any explanations and interpretations of much more deeply developed life-forms.
40. What we therefore convey to you is the finally known truth up to and including our spiritual level.

Semjase:

20. You will also have the opportunity to take a few pictures of star systems and galaxies, etc. and also to see from a distance the original homeland of the human races.
21. Today it offers a strange picture, whose origin is based on a violent destruction of a very large star.
22. The destruction was triggered a very long time ago by a barbaric and power-hungry JHWH, which ended in the destruction of himself.
23. According to his senses and predictions, however, the destruction developed exactly in the form of the desired image, which was to serve the life-forms of the universe as a memorial to his power.
24. The predicted form was a gigantic image of an eye now looking through the universe as an evil memorial to human insanity and human greed for power, but otherwise millions in the entire universe, but of natural origin.
25. True to its eye-like appearance, the structure has been named JHWHMATA in connection with the producer since its creation.
26. This name means translated into your language: 'eye of God' or 'God's eye'.
27. According to your astronomical data and designations you will find the 'eye of God' in the constellation of Lyra, and you name it the Ring Nebula or M57.

Semjase:

19. The camera is a product of your technology, and it was acquired by one of us.

Billy:

You surprise me; you must have gone into our villages or cities then.

Semjase:

20. Is that so strange?

Billy:

I always see you in your suits, and with these clothes neither you nor any of yours could step into the eyes of the dear Earth-humans.

Semjase:

21. Sure, but we also have clothes of your type.
22. We need these because we move amongst you here and there, naturally shielded from swinging waves, so that we won't be harmed by the swinging waves of the Earth-humans.
23. However, we can only do this for a short period each time.

...

26. We don't have identity papers of your kind, because we don't need such things in that form.

27. Should it happen however, that we get asked for such documents, then we are able to adjust this by influencing thoughts.

28. This adjusting takes place through the power of our thoughts, by which a mock appearance is created for the concerned questioner and information from actual persons of your world is simulated for him/her.

29. An eventual police officer, etc., would thereby get the impression that he/she had some documents in hand, etc., and that he/she was verifying them.

Billy:

That is deceit, Semjase.

Semjase:

30. No, it deals only with the creation of a hallucination, if you want to call it that.

...

Billy:

... One of the highest mountains, as far as I know, is Chimborazo in Ecuador.

Semjase:

132. Surely, and by calling it, you have named the highest mountain on Earth.

...

135. This mountain is indeed surrounded by many myths and legends and in earlier times has played a very important role in the activities of extraterrestrial intelligences.

...

Semjase:

147. This he has done... but please don't call him {Ptaah} "dear God" because this always evokes in us painful memories of the very early times of our history.

148. We have indeed maintained the designation of "JHWH", but it has acquired a completely new meaning for us.

...

152. There certainly are still many subtle differences which can be perceived between ordinary persons and JHWH's or other advanced life-forms, but everything is still fundamentally aligned towards there occurring no more differences in appearance, so that each life-form is equal in value to any other.

...

Ptaah:

15. But now I have a question: do you speak any other language besides the one we are using now?

Billy:

Yes, some English and Greek, naturally also Swiss German and some Baawi.

Ptaah:

16. The old Greek form of the language?

Billy:

No, the new Greek.

Ptaah:

17. That is very good because I have also mastered that language.

18. We will be able to speak in this language then, and I won't need to use my translator device.

Billy:

???

Semjase:

169. Of course you cannot know this; my father doesn't speak a word of German.

170. What he has spoken until now was our own language.

171. But you see the small device on his belt there.

172. That is a language transformer, a language converter or translator, as you would call it.

173. With this language device we can transform one language into another and make it understandable to both.

174. But we like very much to speak in other languages, and gladly bypass these technical means when there is an opportunity.

...

{Billy:}

(From somewhere, an android appears, bringing the camera. Very cleverly it builds it into a frame and adjusts it to fit. Suddenly the thing speaks to me, and once more I am utterly astounded, though I cannot understand a word. Semjase quickly enlightens me.)

Semjase:

200. It wishes you good luck.

Billy:

But that cannot be – this thing cannot think and act independently. That would be crazy.

Semjase:

201. But nevertheless it does.

...

203. Its whole body is half-organic and its brain biochemical-organic.

...

Semjase:

220. We have completely different characters ourselves.

...

221. Sure. Look, you can see the characters of our alphabet in these letterings here.

...

Billy:

Now I have it, Semjase, but I still lack the umlauts, etc. Are there also any such pronunciation keys of this kind?

Semjase:

223. In our language these do not exist.

...

{Billy:}

(I make the interesting observation that Semjase's face is suddenly seized with a slight red, obviously in reaction to the words just spoken. Secretly I am delighted by this, for now I know for certain that she is influenced by feelings, even though she has always been cleverly able to hide them. Apparently one only had to touch the right place, to make her lose control over her feelings.)

...

Billy:

... But now I have one more question about your script. How old is it actually, and where does it come from?

Semjase:

240. That is very easy to explain, because these characters that we use today are only 11,000 years old; we took them over at that time from our ancestors who lived on the Earth.

241. Our old characters were very complicated, while these now are very simple.

242. It was developed by several of our scientists who were on the Earth at the time, who used constellations as seen from Earth as templates.

243. They connected certain constellations with lines, and obtained the characters's shapes as a result.

244. Our script consists of small circles and lines, being that the circles represent stars and the lines just connect them.

Billy:

That's interesting, and your explanation is enough for me. I am only surprised by the fact that this script is no longer known on Earth.

Semjase:

245. It has simply fallen into oblivion, after it was adopted by your Earth-human ancestors and was used during a few centuries, during which however, it was modified in many ways.

246. Only a few of the Earth-human alphabets today have characters which trace back to ours, before they were modified and made unrecognisable.

Billy:

That's amazing, so the writing was not developed and put into use by the Earth-humans themselves?

Semjase:

247. If you speak of the Earthbound forefathers of your human races and not of the sons of heaven, then you are correct.

248. Because the script was first brought to Earth by the sons of heaven, that is, by those who were actually responsible for the original arising of today's Earth-humans.

...

Semjase:

254. And since I am already speaking of this, I want to ask you something before we jump into null-time, the timeless, or in the eternity, as you call it, for seven minutes, which will happen in a few minutes.

255. The perceptions there are completely different from the ones that are normal in material life.

256. For that reason it is also not possible for us to empfinde and receive your thoughts and feelings, because we are still in the process of consciousness-related and spiritual evolution.

257. Therefore, neither I nor my father, nor any of us, will be able to reproduce for you later your feelings and thoughts so that you may write them down yourself.

258. If nevertheless you wish to do this, there is a technology-based possibility.

Billy:

Of course I am interested in remembering all my feelings and thoughts, but am I not able to do this myself?

Semjase:

259. Yes, of course.

260. But you know that your remembering ability is not so highly developed that you can repeat longer memories word for word.

261. That is also not the case with us, which is why we need technical means to reproduce words from symbols and impulses, which then can also be transmitted to you telepathically and which you are able to write down in your own words then, that you form from the impulses and symbols.

262. For this reason the words that are written are not exactly and literally the ones that were spoken, but they still represent the exact meaning of what was said, which you according to the impulses and symbols dress in your own words.

...

264. The cabins which you can see there, beside the screens, are equipped with all necessary means to capture Empfindungen, feelings and thoughts.

265. The collected impulses are automatically stored in a special computer and may later be reproduced by it according to convenience.

266. The adjustable and fully adaptable helmet that you see there, is fitted with very fine probes and also encompasses a special sensor network in the form of a fine mesh, which intercepts all types of energies and converts them into impulses, which are then forwarded to the computer, where they are registered.

267. The captured energy from the thoughts, feeling, Empfindungen, etc., is grounded in very high values and can only be held by this equipment.

268. The energies of Empfindungs, feelings and thoughts exist in this form of transmission, only in the realm of hyper-frequencies.

269. To be able to register your thoughts, feelings and Empfindungs, it's just necessary that you sit yourself in the chair and lay your head under the helmet cap, which will then adapt itself automatically to it.

...

{Billy:}

(Following Semjase's instructions, I promptly sit down in the extremely comfortable chair inside one of the three cabins. As soon as I am seated, a peculiar helmet moves over my head and settles down silently. It is so large, that it encompasses my whole head, only leaving my face open, so that I can see out from it and watch everything. But the helmet does not touch my head; rather lying equally close all around and staying about 1½ cm away from my skull, as I can feel when I place a forefinger between the helmet and my head. ...)

...

{Billy:}

(Man, what are you doing, Asket? What... ah... you give me a kiss on the cheek. Girl, what's with that? I always thought that this would be a thing that is only done on Earth.)

...

Asket:

7. But I see that a change has occurred; I am sorry.

Billy:

You mean my arm?

Asket:

8. Yes.

...

12. I could have a device made for you, which would completely replace your arm.

13. A semi-organic apparatus.

...

Asket:

16. I had not really thought... I allowed myself to be guided by my compassion alone.

...

Nera:

19. With us both sexes are acknowledged as both equally valuable and entitled.

...

Asket:

31. We too are only plain human creatures, in which feelings move.

...

Asket:

40. For my own interest, I have occupied myself with photography ...

...

{Billy:}

(Asket, Nera and Semjase stand together, and I take more photos now. Unlike Semjase, Asket and Nera don't wear space suits, but normal clothes, which are actually quite different from those I know of Earth women's clothing. But they all are very well dressed with them.)

...

Asket:

56. You let feelings germinate in me thereby, which are not of a joyful nature and which arouse impulses of a rebuking kind.

...

Asket:

136. It should finally be noted that by earthly standards we are very advanced life-forms, and we can no longer move among such low understanding-based levels as the Earth-humans find themselves in.

137. This doesn't represent presumption from us, but rather a law of the Creation.

138. Like it is with us, it is with all life-forms, also the Earth-human beings.

...

Asket:

150. Besides us, there are still several other extraterrestrial intelligences moving in the terrestrial space, who, however, stand in a much lower stage of evolution than our own, and who are developed ahead of the Earth-humans by only a few centuries, and by only around 1243 years of further development at most.

151. These life-forms are therefore able to come into contact with the average and somewhat more intelligent Earth-humans and to communicate with them, which however happens only very rarely, if ever.

152. Since these intelligences have not yet gone very far ahead of the Earth-humanity in terms of development, they very often conduct themselves as rulers and can even let themselves be misled and influenced by the Earth religions, which is why many higher developed life-forms in the Universe must intervene in a regulatory manner, to prevent severe consequences.

153. Because where religions are widespread, always after a very short time chaos, enslavement, exploitation and consciousness enslavement rule, whereby all consciousness-based progress comes into question.

154. Some Earth-humans have taken possession of parts of contact report transcripts, describing real, much earlier contacts with such extraterrestrial intelligences, and created new, imaginative stories, and formed religions and sects from them.

155. Thus they stepped, or would have stepped, into the public and mendaciously claimed, or would have claimed, that they had or would have had contacts with extraterrestrial life-forms.

156. Other Earth-humans allegedly or in reality, received various inspiration-type messages from such low levels, resp. from meagerly developed in consciousness terrestrial or extraterrestrial humans, adulterated these, or produced them unconsciously, or consciously and untruthfully.

157. This also resulted in malicious fantasies that purely spiritual life-forms would have gotten into contact with Earth-humans and would still be doing so.

158. But this truly is not so, because purely spiritual forms only establish contact with life-forms which are very highly developed in spirit and in consciousness, as only these are able to receive their vibrations and can bring about the necessary understanding.

159. So, if other claims are made by Earth-humans, then these do not correspond to the truth, but rather to consciously or unconsciously deceitful fantasies.

160. The fact is that very highly developed life-forms, or even pure spirit-forms, were since always never able to establish contact with Earth-humans, unless they met an extraordinarily high spiritual and consciousness-related state, which led likewise to an extraordinarily high level, as it was the case with several true prophets.

161. In each cosmic age a world brings forth only very few of such highly developed in spirit and consciousness-based life-forms, if the average form is still on a very low level of evolution, as it is the case with the Earth-humans.

162. On the other hand, these highly developed life-forms of such worlds, the prophets, also appear only at certain times, when they are necessary.

163. And on the Earth, this is the first time that such a case has occurred since nearly 2000 years.

...

Billy:

... I thought you said that the device for photography was useless – I mean the one from Semjase. What about the one you want to make in collaboration? Do you think I will be able to take better pictures with it later and that I won't always conflict with the grid frame?

Asket:

214. I think the device will be good.

215. But what do you mean by conflicting with the grid frame?

Billy:

You know, the Semjase device is a bit complicated to photograph and a bit small. When I take a photo, I am always bothered by the small grid frame and the screen housing, and I always have that darn thing in the picture. I always have the half-oval shape of the frame appearing in the picture.

...

Billy:

Nevertheless. – But won't you interfere with me again and spoil the pictures, like you did with the group shots?

Semjase:

389. Surely not, because I allow you to take photographs.

Asket:

217. What are these things – what is it about these group shots?

Semjase:

390. I am not comfortable talking about it.

Asket:

218. Have you lost control of yourself and committed an illogical act?

Semjase:

391. Yes – I am really displeased – and embarrassed.

Asket:

219. I see, that's why you do not want to talk about it – and I suppose you have also deliberately kept quiet about it?

Semjase:

392. Sure.

Billy:

So, so, you have been keeping something from me, Semjase?

Semjase:

393. I actually did because I was embarrassed in front of you.

Billy:

Oh, look at that. So you can do that too? That is good news, because it makes you even more human and lovable in my eyes. But come on now, what cramp did you offer in the group shots?

Semjase:

394. I really do not want to talk about it.

Asket:

220. This is not correct, Semjase.

Billy:

I also think so. – Look, you really don't have to be ashamed in front of us. Every human being might make mistakes. I am sure it also happens to your High Council. Or are you vain and feel your feminine vanity offended by revealing your cramp secret?

Semjase:

395. Vanity is really foreign to me, I am simply ashamed.

Billy:

Please, you do not have to – you really do not, believe me.

Semjase:

396. You are not going to laugh at me?

Billy:

My very great word of honour.

...

Semjase:

398. Good – I ... I acted completely confused and lost all control over myself.

...

403. I told you it is incomprehensible to me.

404. I have really lost control of my actions.

405. It is incomprehensible to me and also extremely embarrassing.

Billy:

Do not get excited about it, girl. You have obviously just lost your head and suddenly started thinking with your feet. That can happen to anyone. ...

...

Asket:

231. That was really very illogically acted by you.

232. But the reason might be found in the fact that you had to face a completely unusual illogic, which you were not able to cope with.

233. This led to a short circuit, so to speak, in your otherwise logical manner of thinking, which set off a veritable chain reaction of illogical actions, which could only be ended by running through their sequence of actions to the end.

Semjase:

418. Sure, it must be so, but I do not understand why I could act so irrationally.

Billy:

That is very simple: a human being who thinks only logically can no longer imagine illogic at all. But if such an illogic approaches him/her, they are no longer able to overcome it with their logic and fall into a confusion. This confusion, however, triggers illogical conclusions that lead to such actions. These in turn have to die down before rational logic is able to break through again.

...

Asket:

241. It – was a wonderful pleasure for me to see you again. –

242. Farewell ...

Billy:

Asket – what is it with you, girl? You – girl, you are crying. What is it?

...

Semjase:

428. She is very sad, because you are a very good and dear friend to her.

...

Billy:

... Recently it was explained to me that in various governments of our Earth extraterrestrial intelligences are carrying on their activities and are even permanently employed there. What is this all about, can we believe these statements?

Ptaah:

365. You call such things fairy tales.

Billy:

So this means that there are no 'star people' working in our Earth governments?

Ptaah:

366. That's what it says. –

367. If these statements were true, then peace would have come to Earth a long time ago and Earthly humanity would have been taught the truth by the governments.

368. But since we extraterrestrial life-forms, according to our directives, have no right to interfere forcibly in earthly affairs, we must confine ourselves to the form of selecting predetermined Earth-humans for this purpose, in order to be able to transmit our knowledge through them.

...

Billy:

But it is said that these extraterrestrials would secretly and undetected participate in or with government agencies.

Ptaah:

373. This is also not so, which your logic itself can confirm.

374. If it were really so, then within only a few days no authority, no government and no military power would hunt down our ships, because we actually have all possibilities to nip such things in the bud.

375. If we were to be active in any governmental bodies, there would be peace on Earth.

376. So all the claims are nothing more than lies, I mean, when such things are claimed by us or by any other extraterrestrials.

377. Such lies are often due to religious machinations of some sectarian elements and of unscrupulous fantasists, liars, swindlers and frauds.

...

Ptaah:

403. In truth, there are probably also malignant intelligences from outer space that haunt your Earth or stray there, but there are not so many of them that they would be of great significance.

404. Most observations of 'flying discs' with human predations are of terrestrial origin.

405. Earth-humans should be aware of this when they encounter any 'flying discs' whose occupants are well aware of the fact that very many human beings believe these objects to be of extraterrestrial origin.

406. This knowledge is also very often exploited by them by imagining some gullible Earth-humans as extraterrestrial intelligences.

407. Aware of their religious power, they also do not shy away from pretending to be angels and God's messengers and appearing as 'saviours' of Earth-humans, whereby they then proclaim the deceived gullible to be contactors and assign them mysterious missions which are supposedly for the benefit of Earth-humans, but which in reality only serve their own profit and the benefit of their own country's espionage.

408. The most popular places of origin these malevolent deceptive elements and occupants of earthly 'flying discs' name are Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Uranus.

409. But also the nearest neighbouring systems of your solar system have to serve for this, as well as the Pleiades in the coming time, when you will have become world-famous through your contacts with us.

410. In the process, my daughter Semjase and my person will also be falsely accused of being contact beings with Earth-humans who are fraudulent in this respect, as well as alleged Pleiades beings who do not exist.

...

Ptaah:

424. This system is from your homeworld 1.73 billion (1,730,000,000) light-years away, and despite this great distance, the cause of the destruction is to be found on Earth.

425. The inhabitants of the NESAR system, the NESARENER, were a technically and consciously very highly developed people and they formed a uniform race of humanoid form.

426. For a period of 17,000 years they lived in complete peace with each other and with the races of the other systems known to them in their galaxy.

427. Their evolution in consciousness and technology was very high, but unfortunately only in the knowledge of the use of their powers of consciousness.

428. They did not possess a spiritual goal in and of itself, and they also had no knowledge of the Creation.

429. All their spiritual knowledge rested solely in the partial recognition and observance of the laws of nature.

430. According to these they acted correctly, but were unable to attain any spiritual goal.

431. By omitting the most important factor of Creation, they remained one-sided and exposed to the danger of being led into confusion by unreal consciousness.

432. This danger was very great and it grew constantly because the Nesarenes moved very far away from their galaxy in terms of research and came into contact with intelligences which were completely foreign to them and which imparted to them very foreign forms of thought and teachings as well as philosophies.

433. As long as these were still compatible with the laws of nature, everything went well.

434. But then it happened that three expedition ships of the Nesarenes strayed into the SOL system through a false leap in hyperspace and found human life-forms on Earth.

435. That was exactly 1,067 years ago in Earth time. {908 A.D.}

436. Very similar to Earth-humans, they mingled with them and lived together with them for about 50 years, unrecognised and very interested in all Earthly things.

437. In particular, their attention fell on the religions dominating the Earth-humans.

438. With their highly developed technical possibilities, they collected everything attainable concerning the religions known to them, stored them in their apparatus and allowed themselves to be very strongly influenced by them.

439. Since their consciousness was only oriented towards natural law, but not also towards the Creation, they very quickly found a false sense in the various earthly religions, but they became just as unaware of the false as Earth-humans.

440. They now saw another goal and eagerly endeavoured to strive towards it.

441. The religious influence thus gained by the Earth-humans appeared to them to be of unusually great significance and importance.

442. So they set out to find their home galaxy again, which they actually succeeded in doing after 4 long years of wandering about, to the chagrin of their whole and truly great home system and its inhabitants.

443. The religions learned on Earth were spread and taught on all inhabited worlds, while a small armada of Great Spacers was sent to Earth to collect further data of the religions prevailing there.

444. During five years, research was carried out in secret on Earth and everything to do with the religions was registered.

445. Then the expedition returned to the home galaxy.

446. Once there, the expedition members discovered that various changes had taken place in the meantime.

447. Houses of worship had been built on all worlds and the human beings had become discontented.

448. Despite these findings, the new data was evaluated and disseminated, and within another fifty years the entire great system was under the influence of various earthly religions.

449. Human beings could no longer understand each other and anyone of a different faith was accused of unreal teachings.

450. Soon these insults led to evil accusations, to quarrels and then to hatred.

451. Families among themselves divided into different religious groups and beliefs, and then soon the first blood flowed.

452. The family members began to fight and kill each other, and soon it was family against family.

453. This spread to housing estates and whole residential areas, and suddenly it was everyone against everyone.

454. What you call a civil war ensued after another seven years.

455. The high councils were completely powerless against this, because organisations such as the military, which could have brought order, were unknown in the whole NESAR system.

456. In sudden realisation of the madness of the religions, brought in from Earth, the rulers banned them.

457. But it was already too late.

458. The civil wars had already escalated into world wars, and soon the first worlds were destroyed.

459. After another three years, a vicious system-wide war of annihilation was underway, with the centres, the suns, being destroyed.

460. Collapsing in on themselves, they tore into all the planetary systems with irresistible Gewalt.

461. A gigantic mass arose, which took over everything that still existed.

462. Eventually, the planets and stars were pulled into a whole heap and joined the huge mass.

463. This is how the enormous structure you see there came into being.

464. A destroyed solar and planetary system of enormous proportions; caused by religious madness – brought in as a deadly form from Earth.

...

Ptaah:

465. Here we are again much further away from Earth than before.

466. The distance to your home system is now 1,960 million light-years.

467. This is the galaxy ASAP, and over there you see the world DESOM.

468. It is a world inhabited by human forms, according to your time and values, living approximately in the Middle Ages.

469. They live in larger villages similar to those you have in the oriental world.

470. A second race from this world doesn't live in permanent houses.

471. It is nomadic and builds huts out of plants and bushes.

...

{Billy:}

(Semjase is busy with various of her apparatuses and also speaks into a device in a melodic language that is incomprehensible and completely foreign to me. ...)

...

Billy:

Aha – but what language were you speaking earlier? I have never heard anything like that before and it is absolutely alien to me!

Semjase:

...

485. It is a sign language that can be spoken.

Billy:

I don't understand that. But a sign language can only be drawn or painted or written by certain movements and so on.

Semjase:

486. That is not so, because sign languages can actually also be spoken.

487. To explain this to you in more detail would take a lot of time.

...

Billy:

... Besides, I am not tired, hungry or thirsty. So what is really being tinkered with?

Ptaah:

673. Semjase did give you some of our fruits and also some vegetables to eat.

Billy:

Of course, but that was a long time ago.

Semjase:

497. The vegetables and fruits of this kind are very nutritious and thirst quenching compared to your produce.

498. They can satisfy your hunger and thirst for up to 90 hours.

Billy:

I accept this explanation, and it also seems to me to be as you say. But something is still wrong. Why am I not tired?

Ptaah:

674. This is also very easy to explain:

675. You breathe the same air here in the Raumer as we do.

676. But this corresponds to the conditions on our home world and is much healthier and more invigorating than on Earth.

677. The oxygen content is several values higher than on Earth, and there are also some differences in the composition of the other elements.

678. But everything is as breathable for you as it is for ourselves.

679. The different composition of our air, however, guarantees us a longer wakefulness and a much shorter need for sleep than is the case on Earth.

680. That is the reason why you are not tired.

...

Ptaah:

681. You are taking your fun a bit far, my child.

Billy:

Aha, so Semjase is just teasing me? ...

...

Semjase:

506. I was just teasing you a little bit.

Billy:

Do you mean loosely along the lines of "love likes to tease"?

Semjase:

507. If you think of it in terms of friendship, then yes.

...

Billy:

I am interested to know if there are worlds and life-forms in the universe that are roughly equivalent to earthly norms.

Ptaah:

684. Parallels can be found everywhere.

685. For example, there are also worlds that are very similar to Earth and on which there are also human life-forms with almost the same development as Earth-humans.

686. One such world is found in the galaxy ARATOM, in the system NEB, and the world is called KARTAG.

...

687. KARTAG is 8 billion (8,000,000,000) light-years from Earth, and the human beings living on this world are at war with each other.

688. Their time is the time of nuclear use, and they are currently waging nuclear war.

Billy:

And this is not being prevented by you?

Ptaah:

689. It is not in our concerns to interfere there, because the system is under the control of a highly evolved life-form that is trying to prevent disaster there.

690. The Kartagian life-forms, however, are at an important turning point in their evolution and at the end of their nuclear age.

691. They are still destroying each other with nuclear bombs, but this will not last much longer.

692. Foresight says that in less than ten days their war will be over and they will join the decrees of the controlling intelligences.

Billy:

So they are a little more evolved than Earth-humans?

Ptaah:

693. That is so.

694. They take the final steps to pass through the barrier of unreason.

...

697. Interventions may only be made when discernible catastrophes of galactic or intergalactic magnitude loom.

...

Ptaah:

769. What you see there is now KARTAG.

770. Now go with Semjase, she will show you the world up close.

{Billy:}

(On KARTAG with Semjase.)

Billy:

I thought you told me that the inhabitants of this world here were somewhat more advanced than Earth-humans. I don't see any planes or anything. If they are throwing nukes at each other, they must have some, right?

Semjase:

536. You are wrong.

537. Their flying apparatuses do not meet the standards of terrestrial aircraft, because they are already beamship-like.

538. They also do not drop their death projectiles from their flying apparatus, but shoot them up into space with rockets and then steer them back down towards the enemy.

539. The rockets are similar to those used on Earth to shoot up satellites.

540. Only their technology and propulsion forces are fundamentally different from those on the Earth.

541. But now see the city ahead and look here on the screen.

...

Semjase:

575. We want to take you to the galaxy BEBERAS, to the world NEBER in the system KRAS.

Billy:

Where is that and what's interesting there?

Semjase:

576. It is 9,380 million light-years from Earth.

577. This galaxy was in very early times a favourite destination of many races who became proficient in space travel.

578. There are many planets there, which you on Earth call primordial worlds and which are inhabited by many animal forms.

579. Often these animals are very gigantic and of unusually large growth.

580. They exceed all normal standards of like animals on other primordial worlds in the universe.

581. And this very fact attracted very many space races to these worlds.

582. Even today this is so.

...

Billy:

Do human beings also live there?

Semjase:

598. Sure.

599. But they are not life-forms brought forth by these worlds.

600. On primordial worlds there are no human life-forms yet, because these usually only come into being at much later times.

601. We are not aware of any primeval world that is inhabited by dinosaurs and human life-forms at the same time.

Billy:

I didn't know that. But as you say, human beings still live there on NEBER. Is this an exception to the rule?

Semjase:

602. No, because those life-forms were transplanted there ...

...

605. The human beings on NEBER no longer correspond to the actual evolved life-forms of this species, for they are feral and degenerate.

606. In the course of several millennia they have evolved into wild beings, as was also once the case on Earth.

607. On the world NEBER the reason is that two different human races from two different galaxies had established research bases on the planet and lived there during many years and explored this world.

608. As on Earth, they built pyramids and were thus protected by solid walls from the hostile and rampant environment.

609. However, due to a cosmic catastrophe, one day the homeworld of one race was destroyed, and so the human beings living on NEBER could not go back.

610. The homeworld of the second race fell to an unknown deadly epidemic, and all life-forms were destroyed by it.

611. So the human beings of the second race stationed on NEBER also found no way back and decided to stay on the planet.

612. In the tropical-humid climate, all their technological devices were slowly destroyed and rotted away over time.

...

615. The human beings had to watch this decay bitterly and could only hope that another space race would soon appear and save them.

616. But this was not so, and it was not until nearly 3,000 years later highly developed life-forms appeared again on NEBER.

617. During this long wait, the space travellers stationed there died.

618. Their descendants, however, slowly became savage and primitive and slowly adapted consciously and physically to the savage and barbaric world.

619. They reverted to savage primitive humans, whose descendants still live on NEBER today.

...

Billy:

... But then how is it with you and other highly evolved life-forms in the universe, do you or others also bring euthanasia into use?

Semjase:

659. Certainly, it is applied everywhere and in those cases where there is no possibility of any change for the better.

660. But these possibilities are much greater in relation to the earthly ones.

Billy:

Are you saying that you can cure irreparability?

Semjase:

661. In certain cases, yes!

...

Billy:

... have you worked out these possibilities of a cure yourselves?

Semjase:

663. Only partially, because as is usual in the universe, we have received help in this regard from higher evolved life-forms.

...

Billy:

... I was talking to Semjase earlier regarding help etc. between different life-forms in the universe. Can you tell me more about that? Specifically, I would be interested in the cooperation between different life-forms for once.

Ptaah:

772. Are you thinking of cultural cooperation between the different life-forms?

Billy:

Yes, but also in every other relationship. And what about cooperation between the life-forms of this universe and other universes?

...

Ptaah:

789. Our worlds are not divided into different states as on Earth.

790. Each world has a unified people and a unified world government, as you call it in earthly terms.

791. On every world the government acts as a force of order and execution, and these are all subject to the High Council in voluntary form.

792. This High Council forms the actual leadership of all our worlds, that is, the central government, so to speak.

793. This, however, is not located on our homeworld, but on a very special planet.

794. This is the central star of government for our races.

795. The High Council that lives on this planet is made up of semi-spiritual semi-material life-forms.

796. So these are human life-forms of quite enormous knowledge and wisdom, who are in the stage of transition to the first pure spirit-form, the level of Arahat Athersata.

797. This means that they have already progressed so far in their evolution that they have got rid of the pure material body and are already half spiritual and therefore also only half material.

798. They are also the only life-forms that can still be called half-human and are able to make contact with the first high pure spirit-forms, which is absolutely impossible for pure material life-forms.

799. Not even we ourselves are able to make contact with these or even higher pure spirit-forms, consequently this can be done even less by Earth-humans.

800. So also our High Council had to contact the Arahat Athersata plane at our request in order to initiate its transmissions to you.

801. Hence you see that an Earth human being can never communicate with high spirit-forms in a purely spiritual or consciousness sense, let alone that an Earth human being could communicate with them or even with high spirit-planes.

802. As an example of this, take your own person and ourselves:

803. You as we are very high in spiritual values above the values of all Earth-humans.

804. But also we are not able to connect or communicate with Arahat Athersata's level.

805. Through the mediations of the High Council we, like I, are able to receive the transmissions from these high planes, but that is all we can do.

806. Like you, we are also not yet able to ask any questions or give any answers to these high planes.

807. And just like you, we are also a receiving system without any transmission capability.

808. The swinging waves of the spiritual planes are simply far too high for us to be able to generate them within ourselves.

809. This is really only reserved for life-forms that already exist in semi-spiritual form themselves.

...

818. Our peoples, then, are all subject to the central government formed by the semi-material, semi-spiritual High Council.

819. The planetary governments, then, are only executive organs of the High Council's order.

820. The form of government of the High Council rests in the creational and natural laws and recommendations, and is therefore not a form of government known to you.

821. Purely creative and natural laws are applied to all events and all order, according to which every single life-form is also consciously directed.

822. Thus every single decision of the High Council is ordered in accordance with the thought-form of each individual life-form.

823. This, however, implies that each individual life-form has approximately the same state of evolution in spiritual and consciousness terms, although minor deviations cannot be excluded.

824. Our teachers of spiritual evolution, however, strive with all the means at their disposal for the constant development of the consciousness and spirit of each individual life-form, whereby all our peoples live in approximately equal swinging waves.

825. So much for our own peoples.

826. Throughout the universe space travel is practised by innumerable different life-forms, by humanoid but not always very humane races.

827. On the whole, however, the like or like-minded always come together and enter into alliances with each other.

828. The values of these alliances are geared to mutual help in every respect, so also to the relations of all things evolutionary.

829. This is a wonderful cooperation in all aspects of life, which even reaches into other universes, such as the DAL universe, in which you have now also been.

830. All alliances, whether universal, inter-universal, galactic or inter-galactic, are oriented towards peace, towards progress in all material aspects of life and towards evolution of the spirit.

831. In all this, however, struggle is not excluded, for battle-seeking or inhumane life-forms appear again and again, and, according to their forms, exercise violence.

832. These must of course be countered.

833. This leads now and then to fighting and to the destruction of life-forms and materials, etc.

834. As alliances exist between different life-forms, therefore, law and order services are established to monitor the entire inhabited space.

835. These services of order are carried out with Great Spacers such as mine.

836. These are actually Great Spacer-stations, which are equipped with all conceivable technological possibilities, in order to drive away possibly appearing enemies or, if necessary, to destroy all their material, so that they are bound to their planets.

837. With these Great Spacers, a service of order is thus maintained which extends over many systems of galaxies.

838. Fundamentally, all highly evolved life-forms are concerned to devote themselves in a peaceful frame of mind only to the spiritual evolution and to the advancement of the technology, of the consciousness and of the knowledge, etc.

839. But since this universe, like many other universes, is animated by very many kinds of life-forms, it cannot fail that struggle is also a part of life.

840. But wherever it is possible, no life-killing eliminations of life-forms and also no eliminations of materials, etc., take place, for every life-form requires its evolution, and fundamentally this always proceeds in the same manner in its very many stages.

841. As low as Earth-humans and many other life-forms in the innumerable universes are today in their spiritual development etc., so low were our very early ancestors, from whom Earth-humans are actually also descended.

...

845. Apart from us, there are various other life-forms of extraterrestrial origin that make contact with Earth-humans now and then and thus only extremely rarely and often only in an emergency.

846. In earlier times this happened much more often, which also had its reasons.

847. This was due to the fact that in earlier times, by which I mean several millennia, very many Earth-humans still knew of the existence of the Celestial Sons.

848. They were in regular contact with them and also traded with them.

849. However, through the intervention of various malevolent elements, both terrestrial and extraterrestrial, these contacts slackened and gradually the knowledge of the existence of extraterrestrial intelligences was lost.

850. Secretly, however, malignant intelligences of masses addicted to world domination created their station on Earth and on a neighbouring planet and upgraded the cultic religions.

851. This was all done in secret and with the use of many evil means.

852. Apart from these machinations, however, there existed undertakings of other and not evil intelligences, which endeavoured to bring about the real evolution of Earth-humans, because these were, after all, descended from them.

853. But since they could not officially appear because of the constant danger from the malignant life-forms, they had to do so secretly.

854. Besides, after so many millennia, Earth-humans could not be expected to suddenly appear officially again with beamships and spaceships, for the knowledge of them had been lost to them.

855. A sudden open reappearance would have caused worldwide panic.

856. Then the SOL system moved into the Age of Pisces and this offered all interested extraterrestrials a new opportunity to intervene in earthly events without the human beings being able to notice it.

857. The cultic religions built up by the malignant intelligences offered the best conditions for this.

858. Since it was no longer possible to approach Earth-humans with logic and truth, the most subtle truths were smuggled into cultic-religious stories and spread all over the Earth.

859. This offered the possibility of paving the way for the truth and spreading it via cultic religion.

860. Even before the Age of Pisces, therefore, prophets were also chosen to work in this sense and to do justice to the creational truth.

861. Then, at the beginning of the Piscean Age, the Prophet Jmmanuel was chosen, who then spread the teaching truthfully and unwritten in understandable words of the time.

862. Later, however, it was again maliciously falsified, as had been the teaching of the prophets of old.

863. With Jmmanuel's work, however, a time had finally come again when extraterrestrial intelligences could once more increasingly make contact with Earth-humans.

864. However, the inveterate cultic religions chose the beamships and spaceships as celestial vehicles for religious purposes, so that once again there was nothing left but to let the truth seep through very slowly through the religions.

865. Thus extraterrestrials practically aided and abetted the malignant earthly cult religions in order to be able to serve the truth, for they had no other possibility.

866. Earth-humans had already reached the point where, if extraterrestrials had officially appeared, they would have engaged in acts of war against them, but this had to be avoided at all costs.

867. There would have been the possibility of influencing consciousness, but as you know, this is forbidden by important directives, because no life-form may be illogically interfered with by force, if it concerns any matters of development.

868. So these factors meant that landings with beamships and spaceships could only be carried out secretly.

869. But contacts with Earth-humans had to remain just as secret.

...

876. Then came the first labour pains of the Aquarian Age, and suddenly Earth-humans began to listen within.

877. But he/she also began to think and to investigate, and suddenly he/she realised that logic was to be found only in truth.

878. He/she realised that in seeing and hearing there was a lot of deception and only rarely the truth.

879. Thus in a very short time he/she developed their faculties of reasoning and searched inquiringly for logic and truth through conscious learning and thought work.

880. This, however, is a marked characteristic of the Aquarian age, and to this, to this characteristic, all wisdom-knowing intelligences adhere.

881. And this, among other things, is also one of the main reasons why extraterrestrial life-forms only reveal themselves to certain individual Earth-humans, upon whom they impose certain tasks which they can carry out according to their knowledge and their concepts, if at all.

882. Until now, these tasks had to be woven into religious phrases in order to make them accessible to Earth-humans.

883. But now these times are over and the truth must be spread as the truth really is.

884. If, however, Earth-humans again bring contact reports of alleged extraterrestrials in religious form, then they are guilty of lying, and they lead back to their own delusions and unreal machinations as well as to the world-dominion-addicted, malignant intelligences or to earthly religious machinations and delusions in this respect of some misguided Earth-humans. 885. The present time of the Aquarian era demands the thinking of the human beings of Earth and the evolution of consciousness and spirit.

886. These factors, however, cannot be attained by seeing and hearing with the physical organs concerned, but only by reason and understanding.

887. Therefore, if we were to make an official appearance with our beamships and spaceships, the effect of thinking and researching would be annihilated, for a life-form, such as the Earth human in his/her present stage of evolution, still thinks and researches in spite of everything in the form that everything is real to him/her that he/she can see with their eyes and hear with their ears or that they can touch.

...

Ptaah:

982. We do not claim to know everything or even to be omniscient, but we are accurately oriented about all those matters that are connected with Earth, its life-forms and extraterrestrial intelligences.

983. Our technology is the highest and most advanced of all life-forms that visit the Earth.

984. This technology is therefore also what guarantees us the best possible control, so that nothing can actually escape us that is connected with Earth-humans and extraterrestrial intelligences, at least in those earthly areas that we are currently monitoring.

985. If, therefore, I explained to you that only three life-forms of terrestrial origin have been flown out into space by beamships in this century, this corresponds to absolute reality, for it is precisely for such occurrences that the best precautions have been taken on all sides in order to be able to control them with the utmost precision.

986. It is therefore absolutely impossible that an Earth life-form, an Earth human being, should be allowed to experience a flight into space through us without our being oriented about it.

987. And when I speak of us, I am thinking not only of our own race, but of all extraterrestrial life-forms that move in earthly space.

988. They are indeed different and some of them even have a quite low level of development.

989. Admittedly, we are not in direct contact with all of them, because certain factors do not allow us to do so.

990. But we have contact with several of them and partly work together.

991. However, they are mostly all known to us, but so are their technical and consciousness-based possibilities.

992. This allows us to include them with extreme precision in our controls, so that with absolute certainty nothing of their doing can escape us.

993. We are always precisely oriented about every undertaking, and it is impossible that our devices and apparatus would not register something.

994. Of course, from time to time there are strangers with whom we do not come into contact and whose origin we also cannot clarify.

995. However, these are rare cases.

...

Ptaah:

1003. In addition to these evil life-forms, there are also extraterrestrials who abduct Earth-humans from time to time, which Semjase has also told you about.

1004. However, these cases are relatively so rare that they are hardly worth mentioning, although the abductees usually never return to the Earth.

1005. But here again there are exceptions that are extremely rare and hardly worth mentioning.

1006. Most of the time, the abductors are time and space aberrations who only arrive to the Earth through their ignorance, through technical damage or through irrationality.

1007. On the other hand, however, there are also some inhumane races to whom Earth, when they discover it, means a welcome expedition planet where they rob life-forms of various kinds, but this is just as rare that it should not really be mentioned.

...

Ptaah:

1017. ... our weapons are in any case always intended only for defence, but never for attack.

...

1019. Neither we nor any other life-form in this or any other universe can afford to have no or unsuitable weapons.

1020. Every single life-form race in the universe has weapons of all kinds, just as you do on Earth.

1021. Even outside Earth there is not only peace, for the most diverse and innumerable worlds in the universe are inhabited by the most varied life-forms of humanoid and sometimes non-humanoid form.

1022. Many of them have not yet entered the state of equilibrium and use their weapons to attack other life-forms.

1023. However, these cannot and must not simply allow themselves to be exterminated and slaughtered, but must fight back.

1024. This is a law of the Creation, which is extremely recognisable in the laws of nature.

1025. If the Earth human being observes the events of nature with just a little interest, he/she will recognise that the first instinct inherent in every individual life-form is the instinct of self-preservation, just as it is determined by the laws of nature.

...

Billy:

... But now I am interested in how far away from the Earth or the SOL-system the closest inhabited system is located. And do those world's inhabitants also know our Earth?

Ptaah:

1036. The next inhabited system is located about 5 light-years away from the Earth, but in a different space-time structure.

1037. Different worlds over there are inhabited by human life-forms, who barely differ from you.

1038. Regarding their development they are several years ahead of the humans of the Earth, in consciousness-based as well as technological terms.

1039. The difference between the humans of the Earth and those life-forms, which is, however, just one of several over there, amounts to 217 years.

1040. They are already capable of space flights in primitive form and also visit Earth quite often.

1041. Because their cosmic flight capabilities however are still very limited, they depend on assistance stations.

1042. Mid-way between their world and the Earth they have thus established such a space station, which you can see over there far out in space.

1043. They need this station, as they are not yet able, to catapult their space ships across large distances.

1044. Also their space flight is still associated with great physical pains, that's why they send themselves to sleep with narcotics during longer travels through space.

1045. Besides other races from those worlds this race comes to Earth very often through an old dimension-gate.

1046. That's because their home world, which is no bigger than the Earth, is with a very high number of humans suffering from overpopulation and needing enormous quantities of food.

1047. Thus the humans from planet AKART come very often to the Earth, to collect plants, vegetables, fruits and cereals etc., in order to feed their 23 thousand million population with it.

1048. However, they collect relatively little usable food, as they know that your world also suffers from a strong overpopulation and has a lack of usable food.

1049. So they usually content themselves with taking fruit-, grain-, vegetables- and plant-seedlings and seeds along with them, for cultivating them on AKART and letting them flourish.

1050. Actual ready for use food they collect on other worlds, which they visit often or even regularly.

1051. In and of itself these life-forms are of a quite peaceful nature, because they have had to endure and suffer a lot during the last centuries.

1052. Today they live under a dictatorship, as you would call it, by which they are doing pretty well.

1053. Their big problem is nevertheless the tremendous overpopulation, which they can only solve by making uninhabited worlds their own, that they can afterwards populate.

1054. Their gyroscopic technology is however not yet allowing this, so some time will pass, before them being able to emigrate their masses of folk.

Billy:

That is already a lot, but are other life-forms from that system also coming to the Earth, and why are they not helping this overpopulated race?

Ptaah:

1055. The others also come from time to time through the old dimensions-gate to the Earth, but this happens actually rather rarely.

1056. The reason for them not helping the overpopulated race is that this life-form has not yet progressed far enough in its development, in order to provide them with bigger technological and other assistance and opportunities.

1057. These humans are also still too addicted to the material and worldly for granting them greater power.

...

Billy:

... How do you see your appearance on Earth, when will you officially land and show yourselves to the human beings?

Ptaah:

1108. From our side this is not planned for a long time, but also not from many others.

1109. On the contrary, it will be the case that almost all extraterrestrials will withdraw from your planet again when certain circumstances arise.

1110. This will be when a race, as yet unknown to you, sets out from space to visit Earth.

1111. Our probability calculations have shown that this will have to happen well after the turn of the millennium, unless aberrant factors arise between now and then, thereby calling this foreseen enterprise into question.

1112. However, if these negative factors do not occur, Earth-humans will have their first official encounter with life-forms of other worlds at this coming time after the millennium change.

1113. The appearance of these space travellers is not yet certain, however, for there are still many factors that must first come to pass on the Earth.

1114. Misled by the unreasonableness of Earth-humans and by the lies of alleged contactees, these alien life-forms will first spread great terror on Earth.

1115. But there will be no danger from these human life-forms, for they will be peaceful and harmless and they will teach Earth-humans peace.

1116. Their culture and their spiritual and consciousness-based level will be very superior to the Earth-humans and so they will also not simply land unexpectedly on Earth.

1117. First they will announce their coming through open contacts and prepare the Earth-humans for it, before they really appear and land with one of their strange ships, which will be occupied by 8 to 12 life-forms.

1118. The time to come will show whether all can be thus fulfilled, if Earth-humans and their doings necessarily change for the better by then, otherwise all will fail or be postponed to a later time.

Billy:

That is very interesting, but where will they end up, if at all?

Ptaah:

1119. It will not indeed be America with certainty, but it is possible.

Billy:

Always this America, why only?

Ptaah:

1120. It is because the best technological conditions of communication to space are offered there.

1121. The population of this country, in connection with the awareness about extraterrestrial life-forms, etc. and about their existence, is also the most prepared by the film industry to be able to survive an official appearance without too much panic, even if the coming of the extraterrestrials is usually portrayed extremely negatively and often creates fear and terror.

Billy:

That is plausible. But surely there are other possibilities besides America, right?

Ptaah:

1122. I am sure there are, but I am just explaining what our probability calculations have shown so far.

Billy:

That will be very good when this official landing finally happens.

Ptaah:

1123. It will even be of revolutionary importance if this landing can really be carried out, but this is really only dependent on the negative factors which may come into play under certain circumstances, which unfortunately is still to be expected so far.

1124. So, however, it is not yet certain whether the events will take place in this manner, because I do not take this information from a view of the future, but from our vague calculations of probability.

Billy:

So it's still open then.

Ptaah:

1125. That is indeed so, yes, because everything is still extremely uncertain.

Billy:

But can you explain to me where these life-forms come from?

Ptaah:

1126. I am not authorised to give information about that in an official form.

1127. It is in connection with the Earth human development, when the mentioned life-forms land on Earth.

...

Ptaah:

1149. It must therefore be clear to rational Earth-humans that we only serve the truth and do not indulge in lies.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_033

Semjase:

73. The events in Bermuda and the Bermuda Triangle are traced back to completely natural things.

...

77. For about two decades these events, which so far remain inexplicable for the terrestrial human beings, were additionally exploited in other forms by certain religiously dependent and unclearly working groups of Ufologists, who attributed the events to extraterrestrials

78. For them, these events were a found meal to feed credulous individuals with untrue and dishonest statements by inventing fantastically dark, satanic extraterrestrial powers, which are supposed to be responsible for the events in the Bermuda Triangle.

79. What could be more obvious in terms of religion than this measure because, like the unreal religions themselves, ufology had to have the form of a Satan in order to keep its believers in check.

80. Since Ufology was built on a religious basis and only functions in this form, it inevitably had to create two powers in this respect, namely good and bad, black and white, divine and satanic.

...

86. The events in the Bermuda Triangle thus correspond to a purely speculative form, if they are associated with extraterrestrial intelligences.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_034

Semjase:

29. We must never violate the personal sphere of a life form and thereby act against its own will.

...

Billy:

Well, Semjase, then I would like to raise some other problems in this context: Do you know anyone by the name of Seph? Whether it is a man or a woman I unfortunately do not know.

Semjase:

32. A very strange name – but – no – it is unknown to me; why do you ask?

Billy:

That is just as strange, Semjase, as the thing with Gloria Lee. The same person claims in the same letter to Mr. Jacob that he was connected to an alien life form about ten years ago.

Whether this was in purely telepathic form or in material form, I unfortunately do not know.

Anyway, this person, if his/her statements are correct, must have experienced certain things via this life form, which obviously refer to us. At least Mr Jacob said so, because in the letter there is talk of you and of me, so to speak, and that in 1975 I should appear here in Switzerland as a contact person. So this is what he was told about by this extraterrestrial life form about ten years ago. What do you say to this now?

...

Semjase:

39. He is a man at the age of 41 with the name Alois Rickenbach.

...

49. I told you that we must not disclose the secret of the personality of a life form unless they wish to disclose the secret themselves.

...

54. It is now 14 years since this man, who wrote the letter to Mr Jacob, was connected in a primary telepathic and personal manner with a life form called SEPH.

55. It was a life form from Alpha Centauri, who at that time expeditioned the Earth for 11 months.

56. In this context Seph and the man met unexpectedly and made friends, as you call it.

57. In the course of the 11 months Seph enlightened the man about different things and facts and also explained to him the coming of you and me, because Seph was well informed about this time-viewing.

58. But we do not know each other and have never seen or spoken to one another.

59. Seph also learned many things through the man and came to the conviction that the Earth-humans had to be told various facts.

60. Thus he instructed the man to make known certain facts concerning extraterrestrial life, etc. to his fellow humans.

61. And since Seph knew many events of the future, he also knew about your and my existence and explained it to him with the wish to spread this knowledge.

62. But the man was afraid of this step and explained to Seph that he was not up to the task.

63. Disappointed Seph withdrew and left the Earth again, and so the contact with the man came to an end.

...

Billy:

Then you could somehow influence him so that he at least contacts us again.

Semjase:

66. I am not allowed to do that, because that would mean a forced intervention on his own freedom of decision making.

Billy:

Then not. But how is it possible that you were able to find out all these things in such a short time?

Semjase:

67. This is only possible through our analysers, which I am not allowed to describe to you officially.

...

Semjase:

131. Certainly, there exist two small stations deep in the sea in the Bermuda-triangle, which are also inhabited for three years by extraterrestrial intelligences from our federation.

132. However, those are actually very distant descendants of the former inhabitants of the continent.

133. But they are of absolutely peaceful nature and do not endanger any earthly life forms.

134. Their spaceflight-capable flying devices are also able to navigate in water and can dive to great depths.

135. That is necessary, because their stations are located deep in the sea.

136. Very often they can also be observed in those areas, while they surface from the water and vanish in the atmosphere.

137. However, they have factually nothing to do with the events of the Bermuda-triangle, which is unfortunately claimed regarding them.

...

Billy:

Do you have a better memory?

Semjase:

208. It is probably much superior to yours, but my power in this regard is not unlimited either.

209. For this reason I am not able to transmit our conversations, etc. from my memory to you, but I am dependent on the apparatuses which make the knowledge word for word recognisable again from my subconsciousness and transmit it to you in thought form.

210. No material form of life has an unlimited power of memory.

211. This is only attained in purely spiritual forms when the spirit can get rid of the material body, no longer needs it and is closer to the creative BEING than to life.

...

Semjase:

235. Hahahaha – I find that a funny phrase {“steal god’s time”}.

Billy:

Then at least you have something to smile about.

Semjase:

...

237. Hahaha – but that is really funny.

238. I will learn this phrase if you will allow me.

Billy:

After all, it's not my doing and it's a human common good, so to speak. You are also a human being and so you also belong to this bunch.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_036

Ptaah:

2. As I have just learned, a misunderstanding has crept in between my daughter and you, which please do not pay any further attention to.

3. This is of no further importance and it clearly shows you that we are not immune to errors either.

...

Ptaah:

111. We have voluntarily assigned ourselves to this task, to which we are incumbent, here on the Earth, endeavouring to transmit very much worth knowing to the Earth-humans and also bringing, together with you, a valuable teaching as well as knowledge and wisdom.

112. This, too, is warmth and love, and these correspond to much more than we are actually creationally-based obliged to.

...

Semjase:

113. Look here; this apparatus, it's an area analyser.

114. If I turn it on now – like this – what do you see now?

Billy:

Man, man – that's Mr Jacob as he lives and breathes.

Semjase:

115. Sure, you can see he's very busy.

116. But now look here on this scale, here the thought swinging waves are recorded.

Billy:

This is a real wire mess ...

Semjase:

117. ... but from which we can recognise all values.

118. Look, this figure here, for example, springs from Mr Jacob's subconscious.

119. If I enlarge it now – so – what do you see now?

Billy:

Girls, these are real pictures.

Semjase:

120. Sure, and what do you see on it?

Billy:

That – wait, that – yes – that is a day. How can I know, I am going crazy. How do I know this is a day? – Man, girl, this is the next Wednesday and this – this is a time.

...

If I decipher it correctly, then the time to be seen is Wednesday, the 22nd of October 1975, exactly 11:03 hrs. Is that right?

Semjase: (laughing)

127. Sure, what next?

Billy:

Hans Jacob reaches for the phone and sets a number. – Man, he's on the phone with me ..., he wants to come to me around 2 o'clock in the afternoon. However, this time varies somewhat.

Semjase:

128. You decipher and recognise the facts very accurately, because exactly your findings are transmitted by the analyser.

129. Mr Jacob does not yet know anything about these coming events, for he has not yet become aware of them.

130. But his subconscious already knows what is to come and is now working in this direction.

131. And as you can see, we are able to record these facts through our analysers and read them.

132. That's the way we oversee and monitor and so get very accurate data about all the things that matter to us.

133. In the same way, I have also learned that our statements regarding your influence on certain events in your own group are questioned.

134. So I did not look to the future, but only used our analysers for these things and monitored the subconscious of different persons in your group.

...

Billy:

Fantastic. – With these things here, nothing is hidden from you at all.

Semjase:

137. That would actually be the case if we used them without interruption.

138. But since this is not the case and we still have a lot to learn, we use these devices only for overseeing and monitoring purposes.

139. Everything else that is necessary is worked out in the normal way that is also given to you, namely in the way of the thought work that corresponds to the normal course of evolution.

140. But since this way requires that mistakes are made in order to gain knowledge, we are also subject to wrong decisions, wrong actions and misjudgments and mistakes etc., just like the terrestrial human being.

Billy:

That makes sense to me. But may I see something else on the analyser, because ...

Semjase:

141. Sure.

142. You can simply hold your hand on this surface here, then this globe will rotate here until it reaches the desired place, until it is recorded under this needle here.

143. If you then put your hand on this plate here, you can call up any desired life-form on this map enlargement, according to your thoughts, which are transmitted through this receiver here into the apparatus.

144. So you know exactly where this life-form is at the moment.

145. If you then touch this button here, then the life-form you want appears in this screen and next to it the analyses that you now know and are even able to decipher.

...

Semjase:

165. Maybe sometimes I let myself be guided suddenly by my feelings in certain things?

166. That must be the case, because I have made various factors of your own {Billy's} myself.

167. But somehow I feel quite comfortable with it, and now I know that emotions don't always have to be switched off and are very valuable for certain decisions.

168. Perhaps my people have put too much emphasis on controlling their emotions and thereby expropriated themselves of something.

Semjase:

9. For quite some time so far unknown to us intelligences have been visiting the Earth.

10. It was not until 1961 that we became aware of them, when they seized two Earth-humans for study purposes, brought them into their spaceship and subjected them to a physical-chemical analysis. {Note: see Betty & Barney Hill.}

...

12. This is not just one method, but a variety of them, by which mixtures of substances can be separated at will quantitatively and qualitatively, whereafter the chemical compounds can be determined quantitatively and qualitatively in their structure and composition according to their characteristics.

13. Very refined and ingenious methods, combined with an equally ingenious technology, allow these analyses to also be carried out with living life-forms, without them being harmed in any manner.

14. To our knowledge, this is still unknown on the Earth, but widely used and widespread among certain space-travelling races.

15. However, they use this method only in connection with telenotics, that is hypnosis, whereby the test or examination objects have no conscious recognition of such tests or examinations.

16. That means that they lack all memory for this time period, by which I refer to the time of the examination or test.

17. The recollection is only establishing itself deep in the subconscious, which is why it can also only be released from there.

18. That, however, is not feasible through the consciousness, but only through a strong hypnotic counter-block, which we call a refractive block.

...

36. Our examinations in the year 1961 revealed that there was nothing to fear from these space traveling intelligences.

37. They are humanoid in form and in fact only did research.

38. Their forms are absolutely human, though their body dimensions are somewhat different from ours.

39. Their size varies between 126 and 163 cm.

...

40. They originate from the planetary and star system ZETA RETICULI, as I already explained to you.

...

42. Their spacecrafts are similar to our beamships and are extremely well equipped and very suitable for space travel.
43. The atmosphere of their home world is very similar to the earthly atmosphere, so that they can breathe it without great difficulties.
44. However, they are provided with close-fitting filter suits, which offer them protection in a number of respects.
45. To the human beings of Earth I would say that they are similar to the suits given to the fantasy figures Batman and Superman in the comics, except that in this case the face and the whole head are completely wrapped in the suit, whereby the area around the eyes is secured by viewing and protective 'glasses' built into and integrated into the suit.
46. No doubt you are familiar with the fantasy films of French production about a criminal named FANTOMAS.
47. If you look at this fantasy figure and replace its eye area with dark protective lenses, you have a pretty good representation of the Zeta Reticuli intelligences in their suits.

Billy:

Yes, I know that figure from television, but how do you have cognisance of it?

Semjase:

48. Occasionally I have fun watching such programmes, which after all you broadcast through your television equipment.

...

56. They are peaceful humanoids.

...

62. Of course, they differ from us only in their anatomy as well as in their size and skin color.

...

Billy:

... with which life-forms do you have contact?

Semjase:

72. With forms from your time level, thus from your present-day dimension, because these life-forms are not yet capable of the change of dimensions in the manner we are.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_038

Quetzal:

64. ... indeed we also are often subject to mistakes ...

...

Semjase:

144. A real vision describes a certain form of a guided vision.

145. It is a form of vision that is dominated by many intelligences, including the Giza intelligences.

146. By these arbitrarily provokable and steerable visions, different extraterrestrials – and also we – influence life forms, in order to obtain certain impressions for them in this way, which are instructive to them and which they are to make accessible by spreading also to others, in order to also purposefully affect the surroundings.

147. These steerable visions are so massively realistic that the influenced life form becomes convinced that it has experienced the vision as reality.

148. That's exactly why we call it realvision, because it seems so real.

149. Every experience experienced through this real vision lasts as long as it would take in reality.

150. Such real visions do not only last seconds or minutes, but they last as long, in time, as the real experiences would take.

Billy:

That's fantastic. This means that a human being can have an experience that is in reality not an experience at all, but arises only from a fictitious vision, but that he/she is not able to distinguish this vision from reality and thus regards the illusory experience as the truth of an experience.

Semjase:

151. Certainly, that's the exact description.

...

Billy:

... But now you said that these real visions last exactly as long as the real experience takes in time. So a lot of time could flow by and many hours could pass?

Semjase:

163. Sure, even days, weeks or months.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_039

Semjase:

55. You Earth-humans still have certain characteristics that are no longer peculiar to our race.

Billy:

What characteristics do you mean with that?

Semjase:

56. You call it sense of adventure.

...

Semjase:

92. Sorry, I needlessly excited myself.

93. I felt as though you had not considered the facts regarding the speed.

...

Semjase:

101. I will probably never understand your kind, but you Earth-humans are all a bit strange in this manner.

Billy:

You mean because of the sense of adventure and such?

Semjase:

102. Sure, it is something completely foreign to me.

...

Semjase:

107. Maybe I do actually let myself be guided too much by reason in certain things, without considering, at the same time, the intellectual concerns in a proper measure.

...

109. It may well be because of our high level of development that we have a different nature in such concerns.

110. With certainty, our somewhat finer dimension also exerts a certain influence on it.

111. Some time, I will have to talk with my people about it because I think that a different forming in these things would be of use for us.

...

Billy:

... I know from Asket and you that 91% of the extraterrestrials visiting the Earth are purely human-like, human life forms, albeit with some deviations from our appearance. Through Asket, I have also seen various such intelligences outside of and far away from the Earth – such that were rather gigantic in stature and reached more than 4.5 metres, while the smallest dwarfs and short ones were 40 cm tall. But they were all really recognisable human forms. Some looked like Yetis, others like Cyclopes, miniature Goliaths, etc. Two forms, which I have also never seen on the Earth, were completely different, however. Both were more animal-like than human-like.

These were, thus, two forms that belong to the remaining 9% and are, nevertheless, nonhuman-like human beings. ...

...

Billy:

Well, then I have another question: can you tell me how many extraterrestrials of a good form had contact with Earth-humans since ages ago?

Semjase:

...

243. Very many extraterrestrial intelligences came to the Earth from the entire expanse of the Milky Way for thousands of years.

244. For several centuries, however, there have only been very few, and only a few of these tried to pursue communications with the Earth-humans or even come into closer contact with these.

245. Mainly, the only ones who did so were those who were interested in showing new and better or simply future ways to the human beings of Earth.

246. On the whole, these intelligences were very distant descendants of your indirect ancestors, and only in very rare cases were these different forms of life, but they were still, to a large degree, of a human-like, human form.

247. I can say the exact answer to your question, but with the fact that of all the extraterrestrial visitors to the Earth, only 0.57% of those entered into contact with Earth-humans.

248. Excluded from these are those who traveled from afar, from the depths of the Universe, who became resident on the Earth in ages past and who entered into the earthly history of humankind.

...

Semjase:

260. Mount Shasta is an old volcanic mountain with a partially still unexplored area in America, or more precisely, in northern California.

261. The mountain is very rocky and extremely difficult to climb.

262. In the interior of the mountain itself is a small city, which is inhabited by descendants of extraterrestrials and which, here and there, also receives a visit from their space brothers from outer space.

263. It is a very majestic race, peaceful and good, but which anxiously strives not to be discovered by Earth-humans.

264. The entrance to their very deeply underground city is well camouflaged under the eastern mountain peak, and it is impossible for Earth-humans to find it.

265. But if Earth-humans are ever found in their proximity, then they are made imperceptibly unable to move or distracted by the beam weapons that most of the city dwellers carry on themselves for security reasons.

266. Their golden spaceships of a spherical form – for they master spaceflight – can sometimes be seen when they do not protect these from view.

267. Human beings of this race are very well-proportioned in their appearance.

268. Their hair is mostly natural blond, long, and curly, which is very fit for their graceful, Hyperborean nature.

269. Sometimes, despite their shyness of Earth-humans, they go into their villages to conduct unrecognised bartering with them, after which they depart and flee in a great hurry, however, if Earth-humans come too close to them.

270. But Mount Shasta is not the only place where this race lives, for already at very early times, they divided themselves into three smaller peoples, with the other two living unrecognised and deep underground on the Aleutian Islands and in Alaska.

271. The whole population amounts to just about 700 human beings.

Billy:

That is fantastically interesting, and now, a few things dawn on me. But you have just said something about their appearance, from which I could infer that with this race living underground, it concerns very distant descendants of the real Hyperboreans.

Semjase:

272. You infer correctly.

Billy:

Man, that is incredible! Then these would, indeed, be the descendants or distant descendants of those who, 180,000 or 190,000 years ago, carried out the actual decolonisation in the form that can be regarded, then, as the early history of the current human race, at least for the white race. Among them, then, must have also been the JHWH who gave Henoah great wisdom. Methusalem went to this one in a later incarnation of Henoah, and Noah was later commissioned by this one's guardian angels to build that ark, with which he actually landed, then, on Ararat.

...

Semjase:

328. In that dimension, the world is already suspended in the distant future, but the inhabitants on the Earth of that time very rarely penetrate from that.

...

Ptaah:

10. The world there {Note: one of three worlds existing in a dimension which was previously accessible through a naturally occurring "dimension gate" (which no longer exists) in the "Bermuda Triangle"} is about 870 years ahead of your time; thus, the human beings are also accordingly developed in their technology and have their own beamships, with which they arrive at your Earth every now and then.

...

Ptaah:

39. The Earth-human is a descendant of a human form from the depths of the Universe that is very highly developed in every manner.

40. Accordingly, he/she is also highly developed in his/her proportional form.

41. In this connection, he/she is on an equal footing with our own race, which is already approximately 30 million years further developed.

...

Ptaah:

112. It is strange, but I feel aching emotions in me for you {Billy}.

...

Semjase:

345. It – it is very painful to me.

...

Ptaah:

116. I am very sorry; I was wrong with my comments.

...

Semjase:

346. I am very sorry.

...

Ptaah:

125. My own comments were very inconsiderate.

...

Ptaah:

155. You make me seriously agitated.

...

{Billy:}

(... Soon, we glide out of the airlock into free space and rush on to the moon of the third world.
... where the human beings of the future have already built their stations and live there. ...)

...

Semjase:

355. The human beings of this dimension and time have, indeed, become much more peaceful than those on your world in your time, but they are still barbaric and quite aggressive, so they would force us to land, which would be very unpleasant for us.

...

Billy:

Beamships? Girl, then these elves already master space travel!

Semjase:

358. Sure, they also have about 500 years more development behind themselves than the Earth-humans of your time, which I already said.

Ptaah:

7. It makes me feel pain inside.

...

9. I could not find peace, and I tried.

...

21. I feel embedded in what you call happiness.

...

37. I feel great joy in me.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_041

Billy:

The first question concerns your offspring. How do you do that if you want offspring?

...

Billy:

Wait a minute, Semjase, you have to bear in mind that human beings are very misguided about these things. This is especially due to sectarians who work especially on UFOs and stamp the extraterrestrials as sent by god and angels, thereby glorifying them. In their boundless fantasy, they then ascribe to them a spiritual almost perfection or total perfection, through which they are to bypass the normal path of procreation and procreate the offspring in a 'spiritual way'. This idiocy rests on the one hand in the religious assertion that Jmmanuel was conceived in a spiritual way by the 'dear God', on the other hand it rests in the fact that the normal and natural act of procreation is an unclean and even animal concern, for which the explanation is again to be found in the assertion of the spiritual procreation of Jmmanuel.

...

Semjase:

21. We procreate our descendants in the same natural way as is that of terrestrial humans and all other material forms of life in all universes.

...

23. Man and woman, male and female, mate to commit a sexual intercourse.

24. This form of procreation is a completely natural process in all material universes, which is also normally carried out everywhere in this manner.

25. A man sleeps with a woman, mates with her and fertilises her, so a procreation takes place.

26. In a normal form this is done by bringing the bodies together, which means that man and woman snuggle up to each other, unite in love, and the man inserts his procreative organ into the woman's entrance opening, which takes in the semen that begets, is fertilised, and thereby develops new life.

27. Any other natural form of procreation does not exist, apart from exceptions where, in certain circumstances, a different, unnatural form of procreation takes place, but this is a very rare occurrence.

28. This also applies to artificial insemination, which is usually only used in extreme cases to preserve the species.

29. On the whole, however, the procreation of the offspring is oriented towards the normal sexual intercourse, for only this form corresponds to naturalness and the creational laws and recommendations.

...

Billy:

... But then how can a woman have offspring if her spouse is not fertile?

Semjase:

33. Our people and also many other races in the universe have two possibilities in such cases:

34. The first possibility is to fertilise the man concerned.

35. But this possibility also exists with a woman.

36. However, where a man cannot be made fertile, there is the possibility of mating with another fertile man.

Billy:

Does that mean that the woman then sleeps with another man? That would give us earthlings a big stink, because here somewhat different views prevail. What kind of man is that? And what about dear jealousy and adultery? Don't the husbands and wives go crazy?

Semjase:

37. You think correctly, the woman will be mated to by a strange man.

38. But he himself must be attached to a woman, that is married, as it is called with you.

39. This is a law of order.

40. According to the laws of order, this form of mating does not constitute adultery because it is an act in the sense of Creation.

41. Jealousy cannot therefore already appear because these people are aware of the laws of Creation and therefore also obey them.

42. It is also important that all partners reach a decision on such a mating in complete and mutual agreement.

Billy:

I find that a quite ingenious solution, but can any man be consulted for such an act of procreation?

Semjase:

43. No, it is not like that:

44. The man to be chosen for this act must have already conceived the limit of his own offspring.

45. Furthermore, his overall evolution has to correspond to a certain high level.

Billy:

This means, therefore, that not everyone should simply be responsible for this task. Many men would want such a job with us, because sexual satisfaction and degeneration is unfortunately still very important for us.

Semjase:

46. I am aware of that.

47. With our race and also with many others however, these forms of thinking have long been forgotten.

48. Today this is a very honourable and good task ...

Billy:

... which probably offers very pleasant aspects, if I imagine it like that.

Semjase:

49. Sure, that is also actually the case.

...

Billy:

Sure, because you just told me that you find sexual activity pleasant.

...

Are you ashamed of that?

...

Semjase:

54. The only reason I did not want to talk about it was because I did not think it was important.

55. I am not ashamed to talk about it.

Billy:

But this is important for earthworms, because many believe that extraterrestrials are different in every respect. So it would be good if you would report a bit.

Semjase:

56. If that is so ... good:

57. These factors are probably described in brief outlines, because they are the same for all human life-forms bound to a body.

58. When man and woman sleep together, their thoughts move in quite imaginative paths, which trigger emotions in various forms, whereby physical and mental stimulus zones are set in motion and fill the body as well as the thoughts and feelings with pleasure.

59. These stimuli are very pleasant to call and fulfil the life-form with all sorts of desires and disinhibitions, which every life-form needs and thus loosens up in its outermost form.

60. This is the case with any kind of human life-form, including ours.

...

Semjase:

66. It has been a little over two centuries since I was married.

67. The marriage with my husband, however, was still childless, because we only wanted to have offspring when he would have returned from a multi-year expedition to a newly discovered galaxy.

68. So he went on an expedition with seven crew members and two small ships.

69. Only one, however, returned after eleven years.

70. But the ship with my husband suffered inexplicable damage and fell into a sun.

71. So I lost my husband, to whom I had only been married for seven years.

...

...

Billy:

... I would be very interested in how a birth is actually going on with you?

Semjase:

74. After conception, the woman carries the child, which has only just to develop, for nine months in her body.

75. Then the birth takes place in the same manner as this is also known to the Earth-humans.

Billy:

This means that there are no differences in this case. The women have pain and contractions during childbirth etc. like us?

Semjase:

76. Sure, there is no difference, at least if you ignore the fact that Earth-humans often contain their pain at birth because they are already very effeminate.

Billy:

Then the women will let the pain of childbirth endure all over them?

Semjase:

77. Of course, this is the natural birth, which also influences the mother giving birth and the offspring and accordingly influences the manner of thinking in a positive and progressive wise.

Billy:

Does that mean a woman should give birth without painkillers?

Semjase:

78. Sure, because only this form is natural and brings great benefits for mother and child.

...

Billy:

I get it, there are consciousness-based and physical benefits anyway, if I understand correctly?

...

Billy:

... how many years have you matured physically and consciously?

Semjase:

81. If you think of the fertility, then the answer is 12 years, because with this age every human form is capable of producing offspring.

82. Up to the age of 70, however, marital abstinence is usually practised in order to make very strong efforts in intellectual and consciousness-based as well as in activity and training-based matters, in order to be able to educate oneself.

83. This is also the minimum age, usually, that marriage is considered.

84. The pure body-maturity is completed at 18½ years.

...

86. Consciousness-based maturity is also attained at 18 years of age, while the period of education-based activities, etc. is completed at around 70 years of age, which does not mean, however, that learning and evolution are stopped as a result.

87. It is not the case with us, as it is unfortunately the case on the Earth, that a person rarely acquires further knowledge after his/her regular schooling time, because with us the further training in material and consciousness-based form continues during the entire further life span.

Billy:

Well, how is love now with you, I mean especially between man and woman?

Semjase:

...

90. But a true love between man and woman is a very special Creation-energy sensation through which man and woman come together.

91. In contrast to the mostly only emotional love, as it still prevails among terrestrial humans, our love is of a fine-spiritual-based nature and very pure, profound and therefore lifelong lasting.

...

95. But between man and woman, and in general between the human beings of our race, there is always only open and honest fine-spiritual-based love, which is only restricted in a controlling manner in certain cases when the situation requires it.

Billy:

I see, that is very clear. So you are really highly developed human beings and not robots and also in regard to true love you are ahead of humankind on the Earth by enormous developmental periods. But how do you educate your children?

Semjase:

96. This is the task of the parents; on the other hand, however, there is control by the High Council, according to whose rules training and order, etc., also find their correctness through the Creation-energy teaching.

97. In this form marriages are also entered into, which is why we do not know divorces, as is unfortunately so often the case with you on the Earth.

Billy:

Do you not have marital quarrels then? I mean disputes and disagreements?

Semjase:

98. Do you think of us as super life-forms?

Billy:

Certainly not, I ask only because this would be interesting for the earthworms of my level and also otherwise to know.

Semjase:

99. When two life-forms live together in an alliance, differences of opinion inevitably arise.

100. However, these do not have to ausarten into quarrels, as is so often the case with the Earth-human beings.

101. So without exception there are also differences of opinion in our marriages.

102. And it would be very abnormal if it were not so.

...

104. Also with us, like everywhere else, all life-forms are varied in their evolution, so never two exactly alike poles are found together.

105. If it were different, it would mean a flattening and abolition of evolution.

106. Thus, two differently directed poles must always come together if evolution is to come about.

107. This means however, that these two different poles constantly rub against each other, so that two different opinions collide, and therefore differences of opinion must arise for the purpose of evolution.

108. This is an irrevocable law of the evolution, to which we and all other life-forms in all universes are assigned.

...

Billy:

You also know everything.

Semjase:

123. Remember, I am still learning.

...

Semjase:

130. I am having fun with you ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_042

Semjase:

1. I was very worried about you and therefore still call you at this hour.

2. It was very hard for me to wait until you had finished your work.

...

Billy:

... What happens to you with the deceased, i.e. with the lifeless bodies? Do you somehow shrink them into coffins and transport them to the next sun, or do you bury them as you would us, because they are simply buried one meter eighty deep into the earth, in cemeteries, or do you somehow cremate them, or do you just totally eliminate them?

Semjase:

...

46. Earth burial is just as familiar and customary to us as it is on the Earth.
47. For this purpose we have special storage facilities away from the inhabited areas.
48. From ancient times we have also maintained cremation for very, very rare cases, however, when such a cremation is desired.
49. Apart from burial in the ground, however, the total elimination of the dead bodies is not usual.
50. Burials are nevertheless things of individual requests, so one or the other form of burial can be used.

...

Billy:

... But what is it like now, should one rather let oneself be roasted or better prefer the earth burial or maybe even a total elimination?

...

Semjase:

56. But to your question it has to be said, that the burial of the deceased is the natural form, because it has been like this since the ur-beginning.
57. But everything speaks against a total elimination, etc. because the loss of certain fluidal powers which will persist for some time in the lifeless body, etc. must not be ignored, which of course become volatile through combustion or total elimination.

...

Billy:

... My next question concerns the transplantation of body parts or organs. We have been transplanting body parts from the dead to living bodies, i.e. to living people, such as hearts, kidneys and eyes, etc. for years. What is your opinion about this; should one do this or not?

Semjase:

63. This is the type of development of the still primitive science which, with a few exceptions, always has very little success.
64. For example, our scientists also work with transplantation of eyes and other organs, however, these are then transferred to them from the cultivated, living material of the particular life-forms.
65. Therein they have achieved complete successes.
66. However, eyes, limbs and organs of all kinds are cultivated and transplanted by our scientists because the natural human eye, limbs and organs and the whole cell tissue, etc. cannot be replaced by any technology.
67. So body organs as well as limbs are not removed from the living or dead in order to be transferred to the living.

...

Billy:

What do you do then when someone needs a new limb or organ?

Semjase:

75. We have the possibility of a complete regeneration.
76. Where this possibility no longer exists, however, we replace what is necessary with organs grown artificially from the cell tissue of the person concerned, which survive the lifetime of the body with complete certainty.
77. This possibility is also applied to lost limbs, etc.

Billy:

This means: No transplantation in the sense that is now possible on the Earth.

Semjase:

78. Certainly ...

...

Billy:

... Do you live on your Pleiades also in houses, as we have them?

Semjase:

81. The question is illogical; certainly, we also live in houses, only, we name these buildings differently.

...

83. No, we do not live in the same structures, because our construction forms are all round, in flat round form with extensions, such as my jet ship, or they are spherical round.

84. Mass housing opportunities as you know them, are not given with us, because all the...

...

Billy:

By this I mean apartment blocks and skyscrapers, etc., in which people live as if in herds, like in silos, crammed together quite densely if possible, so that they even step on each other's ears standing up.

Semjase:

87. No, these forms of housing are not what we have, because all forms of life are entitled to open freedom, which also applies to living in homes.

88. Each family has its own home, which is built communally and needs no compensation, as this is usual with you.

...

Billy:

You mean mortgage or rent?

Semjase:

90. Of course, such things are a thing of the past, because we have had no means of payment for a very long time.

91. Thus, even the communally established homes do not require any remuneration.

92. These homes are however not arranged in the same way as yours are, where they are built on top of each other.

93. They are all rather single in a large country square of 100 x 100 metres, formed as a garden or meadow or park, etc. with many flowers, shrubs and trees and many other plants as well as vegetables, etc.

94. Only the structures of the villages and cities are of a different kind and also built for a larger number of people.

95. In this respect, however, no comparison can be made with the Earth.

Billy:

Man oh man, that requires an immense amount of land.

Semjase:

96. Sure, but with us all inhabited worlds are made arable to the last possibility.

97. Every usable area is cultivated and fertilised.

98. Only areas that could not be cultivated were occupied with larger and several types of buildings at the same time, with buildings that you would call factories, with surveillance systems and beamship ports, etc.

Billy:

And who works in the factories?

Semjase:

99. Robots and androids under the leadership and control of a few men and women, but who perform only technical surveillance and control tasks.

Billy:

What does the rest of Pleiadian humanity do? Are they twiddling their thumbs and lying on their ears?

Semjase:

...

101. All have their tasks, on the planet itself as well as on other worlds.

...

Billy:

Good; how many people live in such a splendid home, which almost seems like a paradise, if I can imagine it so?

Semjase:

103. There are never more than five persons, two parents and a maximum of three children, because three offspring is the limit, which is why we do not suffer from an overpopulation problem like the Earth-humans.

...

106. No, with us the Geranisa [mother-in-law] abstains from all interference in the interests of their married children.

...

Billy:

... But now to something else: Do you also know music, literature and art and do you have appropriate schools?

Semjase:

109. Sure, these things are common to all human life forms in the universe.

110. We also have appropriate schools for these things, but they can only be attended by really talented people who will later work in these things for the benefit of all.

111. The interested parties are judged according to the presence of talent and admitted to the schools, so only real talents are admitted.

112. There are therefore no such things as are customary on Earth, namely that performers appear in public who make ear-hurting sounds.

...

Billy:

... how does your music sound, and what kind of instruments do you have?

Semjase:

115. I cannot describe the music to you, because it would sound completely strange to you.

116. Likewise, the instruments would be alien to you.

...

Billy:

Where do you get the money from when you walk around our Earth shielded from vibrations and buy something somewhere?

Semjase:

122. For these purposes we look on Earth for precious metals and gemstones with our search devices, which we mine in very small quantities with our devices and sell to buyers, who compensate us with earthly money as an exchange value, which we then exchange into the required currencies as required.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_043

Semjase:

138. Sit down here now, I want you to.

...

139. So, now hold your head against this – yes, that is right.

140. Now close your eyes for a moment – that's it, that was good.

141. How do you feel?

Billy:

You're driving me crazy, what are you doing? This weird swarm of Mayflies has disappeared from my skull, as well as the stupid poking and hammering. I feel much better.

...

... What did you do?

Semjase:

146. The explanations would go too far; in short, I just improved your strength a little.

Billy:

Aha, some kind of power boost.

Semjase:

147. Sure, I have infused you with a very tiny unit of primal cosmic energy.

Billy:

Aha, I understand that, although this process is a mystery to me.

Semjase:

148. You shouldn't bother about that, because the process is purely technical, combined with bio-physical forms.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_044

Semjase:

1. It is warmer and more comfortable in here.

2. Outside is so very cold.

Billy:

Aha, another quality I do not know about you yet. So far I always thought that only I would freeze here.

Semjase:

3. All life-forms suffer from too much cold, when this is not exactly a life necessary moment for them.

...

Billy:

... Is your mother actually still alive?

Semjase:

101. But of course.

102. She lives together with father in his spaceship.

...

104. My mother is indeed a very wonderful woman.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_045

Semjase:

4. Can you get me ...?

...

6. Is this money enough here?

Billy:

That is D-Mark; where did you get these organised again? That should do it.

Semjase:

7. Quetzal gave me these bills.

Billy:

Oh, so he is the money collector.

Semjase:

8. Sure, he is in charge of these matters.

...

Semjase:

51. Ore mining or other mineral mining on a planet or on a star is only carried out by us in an extreme emergency, because this process is tantamount to the destruction of the star or the planet.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_049

Semjase:

27. For my part, I will bring a healing device and let both your ribs heal.

...

Billy:

... Mr. Bertschinger and Mr. Schutzbach are waiting for me at the pistol range.

Semjase:

37. Sure, but I will influence them and tell them that you were brought home by me.

Billy:

How are you going to do that?

Semjase:

38. I am talking about clues to them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_050

Semjase:

29. Then you are really getting me agitated.

Billy:

I do not want to, although I would like to know what you look like with an angry face. It still has to look lovely and nice. Can you be angry at all, do you even know that in this form as we know it?

Semjase:

30. Sure, we are not above these things either.

31. However, we are able to control ourselves much better and, accordingly, it takes longer before we lose control.

...

Semjase:

34. Now take off your outer clothing.

35. – Here, this device will regenerate your broken ribs.

36. All you have to do is sit here between these two poles.

37. The rib bones will be completely regenerated after the process.

38. Nothing will indicate that they were broken anymore.

...

40. Now stay in this position for a few minutes.

41. – – – The whole thing is very inflamed, especially the periosteum.

42. Unfortunately, I cannot eliminate the inflammation with this device.

43. It would probably need about two months to flatten out.

44. I will make sure it heals next time with a special apparatus.

...

Semjase:

93. But it must be a joke, because if this alleged event were actually a real event, it would be a complete natural-law-based adversity, which should be known to us without any doubt, because our geological forces register and analyse everything without the possibility of an exception.

...

Semjase:

108. On our part we have very little accumulation of waste.

109. However, the resulting material is converted into usable soil and other substances in robot-operated conversion plants.

110. This requires a very advanced technology, of which the humans on Earth are not yet capable of.

111. In relation to this however, the Earth-humans have a similar form of the transformation of waste into soil and other substances.

112. However, this Earth technology functions on a completely different bases than ours.

...

Billy:

... Do you drink and smoke?

Semjase:

...

119. No, we're not familiar with smoking.

120. Drinking according to earthly terms is also unknown to us, although we also have drinks that are similar to alcoholic beverages.

...

Billy:

... Have you found out anything about the strange three-dots, through which I was bombarded by very negative rays in my workspace?

Semjase:

122. For this we need a special device, which is already made by one of our technicians.

123. We were unable to analyse anything with our previous equipment.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_051

Billy:

Now I finally see you angry for once. ...

...

Semjase:

111. It is not easy for me, because I am really angry.

...

113. But the human beings of the Earth are often able to make my self-control collapse with their illogicality and unreasonableness.

...

116. I did not think it was possible to ever lose control of myself.

Billy:

You are only human, though much further up than us earthworms.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_052

Billy:

... But would it be possible for you now to give me two or three pieces of your food, you know, I am thinking of little tablets or whatever. ...

Semjase:

...

99. The next time I would have to bring it with me, the best would be something similar to what is on Earth, something that can also be produced here.

Billy:

Thank you, as you think, maybe it is better so, because if it is something strange, then there might be difficulties. You know what people are like.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_053

Semjase:

134. Slowly I find my way in the Earth-human manner of conceptualising and thinking.

135. I also have to learn these things first, and we are not immune to mistakes ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_054

Billy:

... In Asket's picture it was found that she has much longer earlobes, which have also grown much further forward than is the case with us earthworms. What is the reason for this?

Semjase:

14. I understand; it is a purely anatomical difference.

Billy:

Does it not have any connection with higher intelligence, etc.?

Semjase:

15. No ...

...

Billy:

... So the meaning of the speech is simply that it is a pure race characteristic, a pure anatomical difference without any intelligence evaluation meaning.

Semjase:

20. Certainly.

...

Billy:

... But tell me, do you all have blue eyes?

Semjase:

24. Our eye colours are as diverse as they are on the Earth.

Billy:

But yours are a pretty nice blue, they are a really enjoyable sight.

Semjase:

25. You love to compliment, thank you.

26. This is my natural eye colour, but we women also like to colour our eyes.

...

Semjase:

44. We call my homeworld on our Pleiades ERRA and it belongs to the solar system TAYGET along with nine other worlds.

...

Billy:

... how long have you been stationed on the Earth and how long has the station been in Switzerland?

Semjase:

47. I have been entrusted with tasks on the Earth for 72 years.

48. But my fixed time is only four Earth years.

49. Our station in this country was built just over three hundred years ago.

...

Billy:

... Would you rather tell me how many other alien races are actually still stationed on the Earth?

Semjase:

54. There are seven more of them.

Billy:

Do you have all the stations here and are you in contact with them?

Semjase:

55. Certainly, they all have stations on Earth, as well as we all have connections and collaborations with them, because they all belong to our federation's realm.

56. Thus I am just talking about our people.

Billy:

Are the Giza intelligences included in these seven races?

Semjase:

57. They are not.

...

Billy:

... But may you explain to me how your communication works over great distances? I mean, what technological form do you use?

Semjase:

63. I can explain a few things to you, but it is not too much:

64. Our one technical communication possibility you would call radio, but with the possibility of no delay in transmission.

65. Also the transmission does not take place through the normal space, but in use of the hyperspace, through which we pass our signals, disassembled, with faster-than-light particles, which spread over the whole hyperspace in fractions of minus seconds due to their million-fold speed of light and thus form again at the same moment at the target.

Billy:

What you are explaining to me is a mystery, because I do not know anything about these things. However, I have probably understood a few things, e.g. the disassembling of the signals. Could it be a distortion taking place in some distortion device?

Semjase:

66. No, the disassembling is a universal expansion of the signals and impulses in relation to the speed, with just the signals and impulses charged faster-than-light particles, which you call Tachyons.

...

{Billy:}

(Semjase deals with a device and then obviously talks to Quetzal in her mother tongue, which I unfortunately do not understand).

Semjase:

88. Quetzal will endeavour to find the person with his area analyser and will also carry out the evaluation immediately.

89. We should be expecting his result in about 20 minutes.

...

Billy:

You said you called your home planet ERRA. How many human beings live there?

Semjase:

94. 500 million.

95. Approximately.

Billy:

Fine, you will not have mass pile-ups because of overpopulation. But now, in connection with this question, I would be interested to know how many planets are inhabited in the TAYGET system. You were talking about your home planet and nine more.

Semjase:

96. Sure, in addition to my homeworld, there are three other planets that are habitable and inhabited.

97. All others are already subject to die off or are only beginning to form.

...

Billy:

... But something else, you know we do astrology on Earth, right?

Semjase:

100. Of course, it is a science that can be traced back to our ancestors and which we still cultivate today.

101. With you however, it has lost most of its actual values and truths.

Billy:

I am aware of that. But how does astrology work for you?

Semjase:

102. In the same forms as on Earth, of course but with different planets and different overall perspectives.

Billy:

Unfortunately, I do not know too much about these things. But what about your birthday, if you convert it to our time, when were you born?

Semjase:

103. To answer that question, I need to explain some important facts:

104. For example, when I talk about TAYGET or ALKYON, I am always referring to the whole system, not the sun or a planet itself.

105. So I am from Tayget, that is from the SYSTEM Tayget, but born on the planet ERRA.

106. This, my homeworld, is very similar to the Earth in all things, which is why it was chosen by our ancestors as a new homeworld at the earliest times, after they had left the Earth.

107. Thus all data of the planet corresponds approximately to those of Earth, with only small differences.

108. The orbit around the sun is 365 ¼ days according to earthly time calculation, while one day according to your time is 23 hours, 59 minutes and 14 seconds.

109. This results in almost exactly the same orbit and time of day as Earth has.

110. In contrast, other planets show differences, like also in the SOL-System or at all other systems in the Universe in general.

111. All our time units are named differently with us than with you, but with only small differences they coincide with the earthly time units.

112. So an ODUR is equivalent to a few fractions of a second of your hour, and even a MUSAL corresponds pretty much to an earthly day.

113. Our year we have divided into 13 ASAR, which means 13 months, with a compensation period of 23 years.

114. So you can see that we are only slightly different from your calculations.

115. Our 13 months can be divided also into your 12 months by the conversion, after which I would be born then according to your question after earthly calculation on the 7th of February.

Billy:

So you would be an Aquarius, too, according to our astrological data. That is almost crazy, it is just aquarians everywhere.

Semjase:

116. You are not wrong, for according to our calculations the day of my birth would fall into the sign of Aquarius.

117. These constellations have been known on Earth since ancient times by our common ancestors, and the same images have also been passed down to us.

118. Seen from our Plejades, however, their positions are very shifted and so, seen for us, they result in a different arrangement and a different picture.

119. Our astrology however, is naturally based on different constellations and values in our space structure than is the case on the Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_055

Semjase:

4. The work ahead is very difficult and usually takes 3 to 4 weeks.

5. Since we do not have this time available, however, we must limit ourselves to only 7 hours.

6. Unfortunately, I can only connect you to our apparatuses for a few factors, so you have to master most of what you are learning with your own power.

...

Semjase:

20. I love children very much.

...

Billy:

... But what can you tell us about siblings?

Semjase:

23. There's still a brother and a sister.

...

24. Sure, my brother is called YUKATAN (the quick one) and my sister PLEIJA (the one who honours the laws of sevenness).

Billy:

That is interesting. Is your sister black-haired?

Semjase:

...

26. Sure, but how do you know that?

...

Billy:

Well then, another thing, it is also a question from a child: How old is your father {Ptaah}?

Semjase:

38. 759 years.

Billy:

Is that after our time, or after yours?

Semjase:

39. It is calculated according to your time.

...

Semjase:

233. By the way, it was unreasonable of you to take her {Amata Stetter} to the glade, you know that I am not allowed to talk to her and that I cannot do it for my own sake.

234. On the other hand, consider the Earth-human vibrations that are dangerous for us.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_057

Billy:

... Unfortunately, the last time I asked a question I forgot to ask Koni. He wanted to know if the doctors on your home planet also know the diseases that we have on the Earth. He probably means whether these evils are also rampant on your homeworld or simply present. He also specifically asks about the so-called cancer. He also wants to know if you have or know other pathological evils or if you have simply defeated the diseases?

Semjase:

36. Our scientists have already defeated many so-called diseases centuries or even millennia ago, but even today, illnesses of a diseased nature, transmitted from earlier times, still prevail on other planets.

37. But they are no longer deadly or physically destructive in any form.

38. In the main, they are evils of a minor nature, such as colds, etc., which can also result in pneumonia and the like, but which we are usually able to bring under control very quickly if they do not degenerate.

39. This is also the case with other evils.

40. We are only human life-forms like the inhabitants of the Earth, so we are also susceptible to certain things of a diseased nature, but are usually able to control and heal them very quickly before they really break out.

41. There are also certain evils with us which are unknown on the Earth, but to which our science has also become master.

42. In the case of the cancer, etc. you mentioned, which is embodied in a parasitic, malfunctioning life, it has to be said that fortunately we have long since banished and conquered these diseases.

43. This, however, was only possible when our humanity and our scientists abandoned certain negating and negative attitudes and actions, etc. and began to think and act in new forms.

Billy:

So that means you cannot tell us how we can fight these nasty diseases?

Semjase:

44. With this you unfortunately speak the truth, because the Earth-human must acquire the necessary knowledge himself/herself in this regard, because they grow in themselves through it and will understand many things only through it and learn the right manner of acting.

...

50. We do not have the right to influence and advance a human evolution more than is possible according to all creational-natural laws and recommendations and according to the respective level of evolution of a life form.

...

Billy:

... How many humans of your race currently live on the Earth?

Semjase:

75. Overall there are 114.

Billy:

This is a quick one. What do you call your sun Tayget in your own language?

Semjase:

76. Similar to yours, namely TAGET.

Billy:

Aha, and what is the diameter of your home planet ERRA in your Pleiades system?

Semjase:

77. It is very much like Earth's, as I explained earlier.

Billy:

All right, then a question that you have already answered sufficiently and which must therefore seem illogical to you: Have some of you incarnated on the Earth?

Semjase:

78. You know that this is impossible because none of us died on the Earth, so you ask very illogically.

...

Billy:

The next question relates to the troposphere of Erra: What gases and substances does it consist of?

Semjase:

80. It is almost identical to the Earth.

81. The tropospheres of our worlds usually contain between 75 and 70% nitrogen, 25 to 29% oxygen and 1% trace gases such as carbon dioxide, argon, etc.

82. Erra itself has a higher oxygen content with 32.4%.

83. Traces of argon and other gases are found at only 0.3% and nitrogen 67.3%.

84. However this refers only to the planet Erra, as I have explained.

Billy:

That's good, but you are obviously talking about the atmosphere, although the question is related to the troposphere.

Semjase:

85. It is one and the same thing, because usually you call the troposphere the lowest layer of the atmosphere for simplicity's sake simply the atmosphere, which however, viewed from bottom to top, is composed of the troposphere, stratosphere, mesosphere and thermosphere.

...

Billy:

... But how great is the surface gravity of Erra?

...

Semjase:

...

89. The surface gravity is 1.00003 according to the Earth's basic measure, ie slightly more than the surface gravity of the Earth.

90. The density is 5.521, the axis inclination 22.99 degrees and the equator diameter 12.749 km, whereby the escape velocity of 11.19 kilometers per second is to be mentioned.

...

Billy:

... But can you now tell me how many years your race has already mastered space travel, by which I mean your ancestors up to the most ancient generations?

Semjase:

94. It has already been 27 million years since our first ancestors built the first space-worthy flying vehicles.

95. It was about six thousand years before the great catastrophe when the Destroyer breached into the home systems.

...

Billy:

... You said you were 114 people in total here on the Earth. Is this number constant?

Semjase:

113. No, it varies from month to month.

114. Often we are less than 50, then again more than 300.

Billy:

Well, that depends on your duties, right?

Semjase:

115. Sure, but also with the transport of our food and other necessary things.

...

Billy:

... The question now is whether you also know something in this form, whether you swallow any medication or the like in order to keep the offspring rate within limits, which does not work with us despite the pill.

Semjase:

...

146. No, we do not need these things, because in observance of the natural laws and recommendations, we align with their order and abide by the periodic rules.

Billy:

So does this mean that you only make sexual love when this coincides with the female infertility period?

Semjase:

147. This is not quite so, because human life-forms remain human life-forms as long as they are bound to physical bodies.

148. Sexual needs also come to light outside the infertility period of a woman, so that the needs must also be met outside this period.

149. However, in order not to produce offspring, there are many natural aids which we always observe and apply, but this does not rule out the possibility that exceptions may come to light and offspring may be produced unintentionally.

150. However, every woman of our race has the technological means to detect an unwanted pregnancy within three days.

151. If this is the case, then natural preparations trigger early menstruation, whereby the fertilized egg is rejected before it is able to develop.

152. Therefore no abortion procedure, according to an earthly sense, takes place because no spirit-bearing life is destroyed by it.

153. As you know, only at the beginning of the heart's activity and therefore, three weeks after procreation, does the spirit become established in a life-form of a human being, so that through this process of a prematurely triggered early menstruation only the substantial basic substances are ejected and no life is destroyed.

...

Billy:

... But if I have understood you correctly, then you only use purely natural remedies for contraception, such as the one that you simply jump off the train in Oerlikon and do not drive right through to Zurich, right?

Semjase:

156. I find it admirable how you can describe and paraphrase these concerns.

157. Yes, it is one of our natural remedies.

Billy:

Well, I do not want to ask what the other means are, because surely they are very diverse?

Semjase:

158. Sure, but the harmony between man and woman is necessary in all events, otherwise it would be unpleasant for one or the other partner.

...

Billy:

... But now a question that concerns us all: You know how we earthworms grapple with so-called professions. So our question now just refers to what you have actually learned as a profession?

Semjase:

164. I understand, even if we do not interpret our activities in your form.

165. But when I have to talk about a profession, it gets a bit complicated, because I have learned several of them according to earthly human concepts.

166. My tasks are closely connected with my learned knowledge, which relates to spiritual education, coordination, technology, archeology research through time travel into the past, earthly religion, politics and economics, earthly history of humankind and various other things, for which I am taught and trained in every single value.

167. It is not the same with us as with you, because you learn only one or two professions or fields of knowledge, because with us we usually master 12 to 30 and more fields of knowledge.

...

Semjase:

196. Our earliest ancestors also moved through the air with extremely primitive combustion motor devices, but today it seems to us to be very adventurous, barbaric and outrageous.

...

Quetzal:

12. This phenomenon is a teleprojection on our part, for the purpose of triggering memory.

13. The beings wrapped in white clothes embody our ancestors from a period of approximately 70,000 years ago, who came to Earth at that time, but who did not live in fixed houses, but in their free-floating beamships, which they had stationed mainly over forests.

...

17. The man dressed in the wonderful robe with the adorning stars was the YHWH of this emigration group, whose most distant descendants still live somewhere on the earth as their own smallest group of former extraterrestrials, but whom we have not yet been able to find by any means imaginable.

18. In the meantime we could only find out with certainty that Amata, from her old personalities, must today be a very distant descendant of the brother of the former YHWH, which means that this group of extraterrestrials, who as mentioned were a part of our ancestors, must have mixed with terrestrial people here on Earth and forgot their actual origin.

19. And to find out how these connections extend now and how, and where today's descendants of these ancestors live is one of our tasks, and that is why we also are making an effort for Amata.

...

22. Our ancestors and us in former times were called sons of heaven by the earth-humans.

...

41. The white figures Amata had seen on the opposite balconies are teleprojections of the old venerable ones of long gone times.

42. These are the beings who begat and ruled the white earthly human races.

43. But there are also their descendants among them who in peaceful form pushed forward and determined, up to a certain value, the later earthly development of humankind.

44. So they are the true ancestors of the white earthly human race, while the people in grey working clothes (the folk, as Amata calls them) represent earthly mankind in all its colours and races of today, standing next to a large platform.

...

50. The venerables, dressed in white mentioned above, are and were the origin of all human life existing on the Earth today in their known form.

51. Everything was determined and directed and partly pre-programmed by them, but this never elevates them to hierarchical forces or powers, because such values do not exist.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_058

Billy:

... The first refers again to the pill. You once told me that you were going to put some contraceptives in your food to keep the birth rate under control. The last time you made contact, however, you said completely different things.

Semjase:

3. Then you asked the questions very imprecisely:

4. It is true that we add natural herbal contraceptives to our food.

5. However, this only refers to the fact that this form of contraception is used when there is an excess birth rate, i.e. when overpopulation problems occur.

6. This method is usually used when a race has reached the point where it recognises that a planet can only carry and feed a certain number of human life-forms without artificial intervention.

7. So this is related to the evolution of mind and consciousness.

8. Otherwise, however, it is also the case that all human life-forms in our worlds can voluntarily obtain the foods containing contraceptives in order to be able to regulate the number of births.

9. Not everyone does, however, because human beings prefer to use other methods of contraception, although the active ingredients are not harmful in any way, which unfortunately cannot always be said of your contraceptives.

10. In general the ingesting of these foods interspersed with active substances does not therefore occur, so everything can be taken purely voluntarily.

11. A general mandatory taking of birth control has to be reintroduced in order to bring about a normal birth rate adapted to the respective world.

...

Quetzal:

8. Explain to him {Billy's colleague Köbi} that even we cannot avoid doing our daily work, albeit not to the extent that is customary with you.

9. On our home worlds all people work their daily workload, but so do we, who have our tasks here on the Earth, although our hours of employment are much higher than our home worlds and your working hours.

10. Our hours of occupation are usually 16 of the earthly hours per day, often even more.

...

Quetzal:

13. You should also go now and bring Amata here.

...

15. Here, take this. Let her chew it and eat it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_060

Billy:

... But now another question: The next sun system seen from us belongs to the Centauri group. To my knowledge is the first Proxima-Centauri, then Alpha-Centauri and Beta-Centauri, which by us though, is being called something else, namely the BARNARD star or similar, which is at a distance of a little bit more than 6 light-years away from us. Now, are you informed about whether any humans live in those sun systems who come to Earth?

Semjase:

124. Certainly, I myself know, there, in other space-time-structures, several dear friends in all three systems, although only in the Barnard system, meaning Beta-Centauri, can it be discovered from Earth that small planets are circling around the Sun there.

125. But why do you ask?

Billy:

It is kind of a weird story – Do you perhaps know a certain Athar and Kohun?

Semjase:

126. These are two dear friends of mine from the region of Proxima-Centauri: but, from where have you got their names?

127. You seem to be informed about certain things from which I, so far up to now, have not given you any knowledge about.

Billy:

Perhaps, but nevertheless tell me: Since when have these dear Athar and the Kohun been operating on Earth – and, do they stay in contact with any humans on the Earth?

Semjase:

128. They come here often.

129. They probably maintain contact, but not however in a very extensive form.

130. They had the last important contact more than 50 years ago with a man from Germany, who also had permission to portray them very accurately.

...

Semjase:

136. I knew nothing about all this.

Billy:

There you see, even you are not all-knowing.

Semjase:

137. That, I have also never claimed.

Billy:

Okay, I'm just playing with you. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_061

Semjase:

143. Are these really pictures of my ship?

Billy:

Certainly. I and Mr Moosbrugger have also captured crazy apparitions, although we have only seen your ship.

Semjase:

144. It is puzzling to me.

145. May I register the images?

Billy:

What do you mean with that?

Semjase:

146. I will transfer the image forms to a device, after which we can then try to make an analysis.

...

Billy:

... Some schoolchildren want to give you a kitten. Will you take this?

Semjase:

167. It is an extraordinary pleasure to hear this offer, but we are not allowed to do such things.

Billy:

Too bad, do you not keep pets and such?

Semjase:

168. Sure, we also have pets, even cats and dogs, which have been brought from the Earth to our Plejaren worlds in former times, but which we do not keep in the living rooms, as you unhygienically and health-harmingly do.

169. We must not, however, acquire terrestrial animals because they contain certain germs which no longer appear in our animals and which can also be transferred back to the animals through human life-forms.

170. This is a safety regulation, why we are not allowed to keep earthly animals.

Billy:

I understand that, because we too have such provisions between our countries. But you would have the possibility of a complete disinfection etc., would you not?

Semjase:

171. Sure, but it is our peoples and our understanding that determine whether we need an animal from another world.

172. But such decisions only take place when it is a requirement for one of our worlds.

...

Billy:

... Tell me, what kind of administration do you have on your Plejares? I mean a government administration.

Semjase:

175. I told you that before:

176. There is no administration here, only the High Council.

177. Its form is to give high advice, but never an order or an enactment in commanding form.

...

Billy:

... What do you usually wear for shoes; but not always these boot things like you and the others, right?

Semjase:

178. Our footwear is similar to yours, but it does not consist of animal skins, but of materials that we artificially produce.

179. So is the clothing, it is very similar to the one you will be using in about 70 years.

Billy:

So for us something like utopian or futuristic.

Semjase:

180. Not exactly, but purposeful, perhaps still somewhat strange for the terrestrial human being today.

...

Semjase:

185. Menara takes over my task here on Earth for the time being, until the turn of the year.

186. During this time Quetzal, I and the rest leave our station and Earth to return to our homeworlds.

187. According to earthly terms, we take what you call a vacation.

...

Billy:

... But now I would be surprised: You have such beautiful black eyes, which fit perfectly to your dark skin. Here on Earth, in Africa, we have a human race which we call the Hottentots and which has quite significant European influences. Asket once explained to me in former times that this mixture of races had developed with actual negroes and whites or something similar. Is that correct?

Menara:

9. Our race actually originated in very early times on this Earth, because our ancestors mixed with earthlings and produced the so-called tribes of the Huns, who later joined together with negro tribes in the African region for a very short time.

10. From it new races developed, so among other things over a very long period lead to the Hottentot.

11. Some of these tribes reconnected with our later ancestors and begat with them our race existing today.

...

Billy:

... By the way, can you tell me what you call your mother tongue?

Semjase:

221. Do you think of our language today, or of our original language?

Billy:

The one which you speak today.

Semjase:

222. This is what we call SARAT.

Billy:

A little weird. Is this Saratian a standard language?

Semjase:

223. On our world yes, but not on all other worlds, for as with you different languages prevail.

224. But it is the case that all human life-forms united with us speak a unified language, which you could call an inter-cosmos language.

...

225. This language leads beyond our galaxy and we call it the KOSAN language.

Billy:

Very nice; how is that with you, Menara, you certainly have a special language of your own, don't you? What do you call it?

Menara:

12. JENAN.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_062

Semjase:

32. Please tell him {Herbert Runkel} that he does not need to thank us, because everything is given by us in honest love.

...

Billy:

34. Can you tell me how many years Menara, or her people, are ahead of our overall technological evolution?

...

Semjase:

...

49. – They are 3,150 years.

50. 350 years less than with us.

Billy:

36. How is that possible?

Semjase:

51. When Menara's people left the Earth, they had the same level as our people.

52. But through Asket's civilisation, our people were raised 350 years higher, while the other peoples are still in the stage of being taught quickly, because they were given this opportunity only a few years later.

...

Billy:

69. ... What do you do with any items that get lost – and that you cannot get back for any reason? You know, I mean, what do you do when you just cannot get it back, maybe because it is in another person's possession?

Semjase:

92. Your question is not crazy, but very reasonable.

93. But why do you ask?

Billy:

71. It's because I have heard that some objects simply disappeared or burned or somehow dissolved when they were found by terrestrial people and when the objects belonged to some kind of alien intelligence.

Semjase:

94. The reason for this lies in a total elimination of these objects.

95. We and many other intelligences are able to totally eliminate lost things in various forms or simply burn them to ashes.

96. This happens by very far-reaching impulse transmitters, which are set into operation by a destruction mechanism built into each device.

97. However, these destruction mechanisms are usually only built into devices and objects that we take with us to foreign and still lowly-developed worlds, for safety reasons, so that the relevant still low-standing life-forms of a planet do not get a hold of possibilities for advancement which would be dangerous for them.

98. These devices or objects equipped with such destruction mechanisms are usually made of plastic, for example this small device here.

Billy:

72. What is this white thing?

Semjase:

99. It is a selective warner.

Billy:

72. What is this white thing?

Semjase:

100. It is a warning device that indicates to me with a fine singing tone that if, for example, someone is approaching us now, and whose brain wave patterns are not recorded in the device, by which I thus mean, that it registers them.

Billy:

74. Aha, and if you lose that, you might be in a lot of trouble, huh?

Semjase:

101. Certainly not, because we always carry a second device with us, you see, this one on the belt here.

Billy:

75. Okay, you got me.

76. But can you perhaps demonstrate to me how you can destroy such a thing?

Semjase:

102. For the purpose of your education, sure.

103. Look, I just throw it here on the ground; and now just step back a little.

104. – So, yes.

105. Now look at this belt device:

106. If you now touch these two touch surfaces here, the warning device will set itself on fire and turn into a mushy and brown-black plastic mass.

107. Look at the device lying there and operate the two touch surfaces.

{Billy:}

(I allow myself to operate it.)

Billy:

77. Fabulous, this thing really does smoke.

78. Does it really burn to ashes?

Semjase:

108. Sure, if you let it burn long enough.

Billy:

79. Can I have the leftovers?

80. You know, I want them analysed.

Semjase:

109. Sure, but then you should extinguish the mass, otherwise nothing remains.

110. But do not touch it until 1½ hours have passed, because until then certain radiations caused by the fire are escaping.

Billy:

81. Well, do you not think that our scientists can analyse important things out of the stuff?

Semjase:

111. This possibility is very small, because this type of plastic, which no longer reveals its original composition, is probably common on the Earth in a similar form.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_063

Billy:

11. How would it be, however, if you were to lend me your radiation gun sometime?

...

14. You know, it would be huge fun if you could see in the movie that I had one of those things in my hands, pointing at a small tree, and without seeing anything, the tree just falls over.

Semjase:

15. For unknowing ones, it should certainly be exciting.

16. I will really think about it; it might actually be a lot of fun.

...

Billy:

17. I recently met a seemingly nice person, a Carlo Disch from Ticino.

...

21. He also prepared a report for me according to which he is said to have had contact with a certain Eloa of Cassiopeia in 1960, as he also writes here in this report.

...

Semjase:

17. Very few Cassiopeia planets carry human life-forms and I know very few friends there.

18. An Eloa, however, is unknown to me on those worlds, but rather a similar name, namely Elhoa.

19. But perhaps it is a misunderstanding of Carlo Disch, in that he misheard the name.

...

Billy:

55. I just find it quite squalid that especially these two poor jerks {Michael Arends and Mario Bertossi} have to drag you into the dirt and claim that you want to capture and subjugate the Earth.

Semjase:

53. This assertion must testify to the truly boundless stupidity and primitiveness of these two men, for if we had ever had such actions in our minds, we would have realised such plans long ago, when earthlings had no defensive weapons.

54. On the other hand, even today's still very primitive weapons would not frighten us, thus there would be no obstacles to overcome.

55. So why should we wait into the distant future if we wanted to conquer the Earth?

56. Only very ill and still quite stupidly primitive brains are therefore able to hatch such nonsense, but not a brain that is already subject to intellectually based rationality.

57. And those who believe such irrational, lying and dirty lies are not much better off either.

...

Semjase:

74. Every human being on the Earth, on the other hand, must always do this himself/herself for the fulfilment of their duty, out of their own determination and therefore independently of us.

75. Never must anything in any form be dependent on us, which is why this is another reason why, as a rule, we only make ourselves visible to a few humans beings on Earth, but this only happens when they have become aware of our existence.

76. As little as you are ever allowed to act as a teacher, as little may we show ourselves, because only in this manner is it, and will it be, guaranteed that the Earth-humans will become independent, start to think and act in their own form, in the right form, and acquire the true knowledge and freedom within and without.

77. But if we were to show ourselves and if you were to act as a teacher, the human beings of the Earth would once again fall into belief and remain stuck in their evolution.

78. In that manner nothing would be achieved and the Earth-human would not become free and independent.

79. So the only way is that he/she is only given the basic rules of the laws and recommendations with their explanations, which he/she must, however, compile in their own thought work towards the truth and towards the knowledge.

80. Any delivery of evidence, other than those which we have given you for evaluation, would therefore be completely out of place, for if a form of life depends only on so-called evidence of a matter, then this means nothing more than a new belief.

81. Knowledge, truth and wisdom, however, cannot be acquired through such proofs, but only through one's own work of thought and through the attainment of inner clarity, through an inner creation of proof in truth.

...

Semjase:

85. His {Sfath's} ship was a gift from a Sirian people.

Billy:

74. You mean from people of Sirius?

Semjase:

86. Sure, from one of the two inhabited planets of Sirius, but in a different space-time continuum.

Billy:

75. Ah, that is what I have wanted to ask you for a long time, if there are inhabited worlds somewhere.

Semjase:

87. Sure, those two, each belonging to two separate solar systems.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_064

Semjase:

48. ... the Earth-human today is not yet capable of dedicating himself/herself to our concerns regarding us and our ship's existence in honest, open and real form.

49. These so-called ufologists, who were meant to spread the truth and pave the way for the coming of extraterrestrial intelligences, have degraded themselves to primitive semi-scientific sects and spread their unintelligent and dirty nonsense of self-created theories and lies, thereby distancing the Earth-humans further and further from the truth on a global level instead of leading them towards the truth.

50. This fact shows that the Earth-human does not yet have enough real and truly knowing powers to prepare for the coming of extraterrestrial intelligences by a purposeful elucidation.

...

Semjase:

84. Regarding his {Carlo Disch's} statement that he had had contact with an Elhoa at the beginning of the sixties {1962}, I was only able to find out that at that time there were actually two Cassiopeian ships with several crew members on the Earth for about 4 months, which had also made impulse telepathic contact with two Earth-humans.

85. However, all recordings were not transmitted on the home planet, but recorded in the storage devices of the ships for reasons inexplicable to us.

86. Unfortunately, however, our research has now revealed that one of the ships was destroyed during the return flight to the home star in 1962 with the entire crew, whereby all records were also destroyed.

87. The reasons of the destruction are shrouded in darkness and could not be clarified, because it took place in hyperspace, which was determined at that time by coordinate impulses.

88. The second ship started from the Earth about 7 years ago, because the crew was expeditionarily busy until then.

89. They had, however, no knowledge about the records of the destroyed ship, so also they could convey nothing of reference to this to the homeworld.

90. Unfortunately this ship did not reach home either, because some influences threw the ship into a foreign dimension when it wanted to break hyperspace.

91. This resulted in the fact that all control devices of the home base, which were coupling remotely with the devices of the ship, suddenly did not pick up any impulses any more when the breakthrough should have taken place, which indicates with compelling clarity that the ship was thrown into a foreign dimension.

92. What is known about the two ships is that the destroyed aircraft was commanded by a male leader named Elhoa, while the missing ship was under the command of a certain Anhar.

...

Billy:

40. Recently Menara came and visited me quite unexpectedly when I was strolling around in the woods outside.

41. She lent me her radiation gun, with which I shaved away some small trees in a matter of seconds by heat rays.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_065

Semjase:

24. Meanwhile it was possible for me to take care of the concerns of Elhoa and Carlo Disch.

25. In connection with a station on Proxima Centaury it turned out that all Elhoa's records are stored there.

26. The records say that Elhoa was in brief contact with two earthlings.

27. A Carlo Disch, however, was not one of them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_066

Semjase:

19. I am so happy.

...

Billy:

...

20. Where do you want to put this fuzzy bear {present from Herbert Runkel}?

21. Ah, do you not have any things of this kind yourself?

Semjase:

23. He shall remain here in the ship as a constant reminder of the solidarity and the certainty that we also have love and good friends on the Earth.

Billy:

22. Okay, and what about my second question?

Semjase:

24. Oh yes, no, we do not have things like that.

...

Billy:

37. ... the question whether you also have a certain symbol for Erra and that you draw it?

Semjase:

45. Sure, we have a symbol for Erra, like for all the other planets and the stars.

...

48. Sure – now look here –, – so –, you see –, – – so, this is the symbol for Erra.

...

Billy:

41. But tell me, I find this sign quite strange, it has so much in common with those symbol signs we have for our planets and the sun.

42. How is that possible?

43. And above all, what does this sign mean?

Semjase:

50. I already explained to you that your planetary and celestial symbols trace back to our ancestors, who made them according to the vibration and radiation values of the individual planets and the relevant celestial bodies.

51. In other words, this means that the signs were made according to the individual celestial and planetary state of evolution, so that each individual sign records the state of evolution or the level of evolution of the respective celestial body and planet.

52. This is also true for Erra, my home planet, whose signs are composed of various ancient symbols of our ancestors, i.e. the same signs that were used for the stars, the galaxy central sun and your sun, as well as for the planets of the SOL-system, and are now common again with you, except for the symbol of the galactic central sun.

53. The lying form of our symbol now represents the middle between above and below, the balanced.

{Note: A further explanation by Martin Sorge of the symbol for planet Erra can be found in Contact Report 66. See also Planet Symbols.}

...

Semjase:

114. The generating of jealous possession thinking depends exclusively on the form of the level of consciousness and on the emotions; it is universally uniform and thus not earthbound, whereby I would like to emphasise, however, that on Erra these lower levels of consciousness no longer exist and jealousy is no longer known to our people, or, as I better can explain, no longer pertains, because in earlier times our peoples also had to go through these stages.

...

Billy:

106. ... how do you think about marriage?

107. Is there then a right to the partner?

...

Semjase:

...

124. If two people join together to form a marriage bond, this does not mean a taking possession of the partner, but simply that they join together in a bond.

125. So there are no rights of ownership, but only love, understanding and joy in the pleasure of the other.

126. Each partner remains completely free in his or her own actions and in allowing the laws and recommendations to be fulfilled, while in purely conjugal actions and letting things be, as in decisions etc., one acts in mutual agreement with all interests.

127. In the fulfilment of the laws and recommendations in an evolutive sense, and in every respect concerning this, mutual clarifications and agreements are necessary, which is given by certain rules of order.

...

Semjase:

129. I, like my people, are human beings like your Earth-humans.

130. We also have feelings and fine-spiritual perceptions such as love, friendship, sympathies and antipathies, just as they are also characteristic of you Earth-humans.

131. In certain respects, however, they are much finer than with you, more sensitive and more profound.

132. Over the past centuries, this has led us to exercise too much control over them and to learn to encapsulate our feelings.

133. We assumed that we had to do this to protect ourselves from those more advanced.

134. This is because in the course of the evolution all fine-spiritual perceptions and feelings refine and therefore require more intensive control in the higher realms.

135. This intensification expands in the same measure as the entire concomitant material development and proves everything worthy that can be grasped.

136. Thus also the love and the desire to be together with others of equal evolution becomes more and more pronounced, but also the less developed are considered equally, because simply the desire for them inexorably occurs.

137. So these feelings are not replaced by knowledge and intellectual activity, but result from them.

138. These feelings can only be created and brought to bear through knowledge and the activity of the intellect.

139. Therefore, it is also not the case that certain tasks cause a change in the feeling realm, because since these are highly developed and controlled, they cannot be classified as changes other than those of further evolution.

140. However, this is different with the Earth-human, whose development in these areas is still rather low and why he/she can be influenced by fields of activity, after which, e.g., with a prison guard, aggressive changes of feeling appear.

141. We made the mistake of controlling our feelings too much, which meant that we made analyses according to pure probability values.

142. This was wrong, which we realised very soon after your acquaintance, you, who often lets yourself be guided only by your feelings.

143. This showed that it was wrong to encapsulate our feelings from more profoundly developed intelligences through an all too tight control, which is why this damage was repaired in the course of the last year.

144. It was already clear from this that the blocking of the feelings expanded and began to have an effect in one's own ranks.

145. So we found our way back, through you, in time and were able to correct the evil in a few months, before an evolutionary blockade of feelings would have certainly appeared, as is the case with other peoples.

Billy:

116. You mean with those who belong to your cosmic federation?

Semjase:

146. No, that is not the case.

147. These phenomena do not exist among our peoples and races.

148. The people of Erra are the most developed in the federation and are therefore the most advanced in these matters.

149. A comprehensive council decision has averted the evil, whereby attention will be paid in the future also to the fact that still more lower developed peoples and races do not make the same mistake.

150. I therefore speak of alien races and peoples, alien to us, in the vast universe.

Billy:

117. Aha, and what about the question here about passion, etc.?

Semjase:

151. Depending on the state of evolution of the consciousness, these concerns also change, because as a rule passions, sobriety and coolness are based on the consciousness-based level of evolution, since they are special character traits of a certain development.

152. So also among our peoples and races there are enormous differences in this respect, as it is also the case on the Earth.

153. In this respect the Errans are also ever fundamentally different among themselves, because passions and similar phenomena only diminish with the dissolution of the physical body, only that exactly these become more and more refined depending on the higher development of the consciousness-realm, as long as it is still present, however, as well as the physical body still exists.

154. With us, however, the passions are no longer to be found in the form in which they are still deeply and wildly anchored in you Earth-humans.

Billy:

118. That is to be understood.

119. We are still the barbarians after all.

120. But after your statement I would now like to conclude that on average you Errans are still quite the same in your emotions as we barbarians, even if everything is refined and sensitised in you, right?

Semjase:

155. Certainly.

...

158. What is correct is that through the discussion and explanation of these things more understanding is created for the fact that we Errans are human beings like their terrestrial counterparts.

...

Semjase:

227. Furthermore, I have to inform you that recently more and more extraterrestrial intelligences are sending robot- and android manned ships to the Earth in order to be expeditionally active here.

228. This has been the case for many years now, but this activity is currently being greatly increased, and Earth-humans are often used as experimental and test objects.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_069

Semjase:

13. As I once explained to you, the last decisive settlement of the Earth by extraterrestrial intelligences took place about 13,500 Earth years ago. {Note: See Easter Island Maori.}

...

Billy:

91. I should not have asked you about it, you seem to be sombre now.

Semjase:

124. Your question once again made it very clear to me how little we know despite our enormous knowledge.

...

Billy:

145. Wednesday morning you sent me out at 00:23 hrs to look at something that had gone down at a certain place.

146. Three of us found a track in the snow in a clearing in the woods, which obviously had to come from a ship.

147. The snow had melted within a radius of about 3.50 metres, with four points outside the circle pointing to landing supports or something similar.

148. To our astonishment we also found a lot of small footprints, not more than 23 cm long, leading from the ship's tracks to a small pond, back to the ship's tracks, and then to another water pond, where the same small footprints then also led into the forest and back again to the ship's tracks.

149. The craziest thing, however, was that we found two such footprints in the middle of the snow, about 100 metres away from the ship's track, without another trail leading there.

150. It just seemed as if someone had flown through the air and only stepped into the snow quickly for two steps.

...

Semjase:

...

165. These visitors are very small people, only 110 cm tall {3.6 feet}.

166. They inhabit a small planetary world in a galaxy that was previously unknown to us.

167. They came to Earth by an involuntary time shift, by a faulty manipulation of their still insufficient space technology.

168. Equipped as an expedition ship, it is commanded by scientists, one of whom went out of the ship to fetch plants, ice and water from the water points you mentioned to analyse them, while another went into the forest to collect material there as well.

169. Meanwhile, a third one, moving with a hovering device, secured the surroundings to be safe from unforeseen surprises.

170. Due to an accident, however, he once hovered too close above the ground, leaving the two footprints you had found.

Billy:

153. Oh, that is how it is.

154. But – where are these dwarves now?

155. Can they even go back to their homeland?

156. You said that they came here because of a time difference, just because of an unwanted one.

157. That does mean that they have been thrown out of their own time, right?

Semjase:

171. Sure.

172. But they will find their homeland again, because father brings them back to their time and to their homeworld through a leap in time.

173. But this still offers some difficulties, because we still have no information about their home galaxy, which is why we first have to work out the coordinates.

...

Billy:

159. Then good luck.

160. But tell me, why and at what time did these dwarves land in that forest?

Semjase:

175. They landed there because a small impulse transmitter of ours is installed very close to that place, which serves as orientation for our telemeter ships.

176. They registered these impulses and subsequently descended there.

{Note: The following excerpts explain how some ancient Plejaren ancestors found their way to Earth; see also Contact Report 5:S67-193, Contact Report 9:S120-170, and Contact Report 121:B79-90.}

Billy:

23. But now the other thing, where we are also interested in the history of the Aryans, if you know anything about it?

...

24. Start where the earliest ancestors were still in their original home.

...

Semjase:

...

22. At the beginning of our contacts I have already mentioned in detail the history of the destruction and reconstruction of the original home worlds, the...

Billy:

26. Excuse me, you mean the destruction of worlds, etc. by the Destroyer?

27. Where was that actually?

Semjase:

23. Sure, that is what I am talking about.

24. The later original home worlds were planets in the constellation known to you as Lyra and near Vega, in a different space-time structure, which is shifted from yours by a fraction of a second.

25. Few of the worlds there are still inhabited today by different races, all belonging to our wide alliance.

26. Our early ancestors had mastered space travel for more than 22 million years, carried out expeditions and exploratory flights reaching far into space and came to Earth for the first time.

27. However, this [the Earth] was still deep in the late primordial development and was therefore left to time for the further development.
28. Nonetheless, Earth was often revisited to release criminal elements [humans] that were detrimental on the home worlds.
29. Only a few millennia, however, did this last, and then, for reasons unknown to us, they relinquished the Earth and left this world alone for many millions of years, during which life of all kinds, already developed on Earth, could continue to develop in a natural sense, except that at later times the abandoned life-forms mixed with human-like life-forms already on Earth, which happened for the first time a few million years ago.
30. Millions of years went by, as the primeval races spread far into space, also developed themselves in a consciousness-based manner and acquired great powers.
31. But not yet mastering control of these, they were used to doing evil things and became evil for many worlds.
32. During the primeval catastrophes caused by the Destroyer, two thirds of humankind were destroyed on the very early original home worlds in another level of the universe.
33. Through hardship and privation, however, they soon found a new beginning, so they were able to build a new civilisation and culture in less than nine centuries.
34. By working and researching together they created a very great technology, which reached further than anything they had ever seen before.
35. At the same time, they also developed their consciousness, the powers of which they were not yet able to control.
36. So the time came when they built themselves flying ships, with which they could also leave their space-time structure and could rush through the free and wide space of the levels of the universe.
37. These were flying apparatuses of disk-like form and with beam-drives.
38. With these devices they flew out into the vastness of the universe, to other solar systems and planets, which they had expeditions to and colonised, either peacefully or through murderous wars.
39. Often with evil violence, they created new life possibilities and new living space for themselves, because they needed it, due to the proliferation of the human beings of their peoples.
40. It was especially the scientists who searched space for ever new worlds and solar systems, and it was no problem for them, because their ships were equipped with all technological possibilities, which made them absolute rulers.
41. Their weapons were of immense power and prowess, so battles with whole peoples of foreign worlds were only very short and one-sided, in favour of the conquerors.
42. In particular, the scientists recognised, in the course of time, the unlimited possibilities of their consciousness-based powers, so they pushed and expanded them by immense accumulations of knowledge until they became a matter of course for them and they swung themselves even higher up, whereby they soon became absolutely dominant over their peoples.
43. According to their great knowledge, they were called Jschwisch (JHWH), which is synonymous with the name God, which is familiar to you and which means King of Wisdom.
44. The Jschwish, far superior to all people in terms of knowledge and ability, subjugated all life-forms, cast a spell over them and ruled them in a dictatorial form.
45. For several centuries, exactly after 864 years of today's terrestrial era, the people rose up in a revolution that at first smouldered underground, but this led to the Jschwishs taking violent measures and trying to nip everything in the bud, which did not succeed completely.
46. The domineers killed innumerable human beings or simply eliminated them completely with their terrible weapons, so that not a single speck of dust remained.
47. This, however, increased the anger of the people, and underground they were secretly preparing for battle.

48. Preparations took four long centuries in secret form to break out in one sudden blow into a far-reaching and open war of liberation, which spread and dragged on over many other dimensioned worlds of the Lyra and Vega systems.

49. More than sixty per cent of all things of cultural value were destroyed and completely demolished.

50. Some races were completely wiped out, while others were only able to survive with extreme hardship.

51. Three worlds of the Lyra systems were simply completely eliminated and dissolved into energy by a novel process that is now also under development on the Earth in its very beginnings.

52. Earth-humans already call this insane weapon according to its deadly value, namely Over-Kill.

53. Still as a fantasy product of a perfect technology this weapon of total elimination, which is in research and construction by scientists, has already found entrance into various books and films describing this cruellest of all weapons in futuristic novels to save Earth-humans from the last madness.

54. According to the terrestrial calendar, the event of the outbreak of the war of liberation in the Lyra and Vega systems dates back some 230,000 years.

55. The commander-in-chief of the terrorising forces was an Jschiwisch called ASAEL, who, after realising the hopelessness of the struggle, escaped the vengeful and victorious peoples by a quick escape into the space-time structure of this level of the universe.

56. Secretly, he managed to seize a powerful fleet of 183 large ships and 250 space reconnaissance ships, with a total crew of 360,000 human beings, and to escape under the most severe combat actions.

57. They quickly left the home systems, only to wander through the again shifted space-time structures for many restless years, before one day they found a large star system, which offered them the necessary possibilities for life, far away from their original home systems.

58. The new star system encompassed 3,000 light-years and 254 partly still young and therefore blue shining suns, which partly, however, already had their own planetary systems with only a few habitable planets.

59. The whole star system was named after the leader of the escape fleet, namely according to your word value Asael's system.

60. After taking possession of this young star system, where various planets had been made habitable by the titanic fugitives over the course of three hundred years and a new humanity had been created, they set out again in larger groups to explore space and develop new habitats.

61. Of the three worlds made habitable, various expedition ships were equipped, after which the Titan fugitives flew out into the vastness of space to reach and take possession of their predetermined destination after 17 years.

62. These were stars and planets in their dimension beyond those stars known to you as Hesperides, which have their own worlds circling around them and were only weakly inhabited by human life-forms, which were subjugated by the conquerors.

63. During two centuries a new culture was created on these differently dimensioned Hesperide worlds and inhabited by emigrants from the Asael system.

64. Another seventy years later, Asael walked the path of all transience – he died.

65. He was succeeded by his daughter Plejara, an Jschiwisch [=female 'Queen of knowledge'/goddess], and consequently the home system, the Asael system, was also renamed the Plejara system, because for the human beings of that time, who were Titans, symbolisation was still very much in force, as it still is today with the human beings of the Earth, which corresponds to a perverse illogicity.

66. Under the supreme command of the new leader, Plejara, further expeditions were prepared to expedite a very distant and lonely solar system, located in this, your space-time-plane, which according to all calculations must have come into possession of a section of a planet from the original earliest home systems, after the Destroyer had destroyed the earliest original home worlds many millions of years ago.

67. According to the calculations, however, the Destroyer itself must also have taken the same orbit, thus it had been changed in its orbit by the sun of the distant system and had been introduced into the system in a recurring orbit.

68. These calculations were like a hint for the Titans, which is why they set off for the distant system, not knowing that their ancestors had already flown to this system and abandoned undesirable elements on a world millions of years before, namely on the Earth, your home world.

69. So the expedition ships set off again and after many years reached the SOL-system, where they forced three different planets under their rule and began to build a new culture.

70. However, these planets, Earth, Malona and Mars, were still extremely inhospitable and hostile to life, so the majority of the expedition fleet left the worlds again after a few years, leaving only a few behind, who slowly faded away and joined the animal-looking feral descendants of those earlier abandoned ones millions of years ago, as well as the pure Earth-born ones.

71. The scientists of the Plejara system, like their earliest ancestors, left the Earth to its natural development, making expeditions and monitoring visits only here and there, and then leaving the human beings who had become completely wild and were now left there to their hard fate.

72. This lasted many thousands of years.

73. Then, when the idolism had been abolished in the Plejara systems and the leader Plejara had died, a new intelligence developed on the Earth through the descendants of the feral abandoned ones, which led to the fact that the Plejara system inhabitants, who were constantly observing the Earth, came forward with new expeditions to Earth and once again built up a culture in the same manner as they built up a culture on the fourth planet, namely on the world of Malona.

74. Still very barbarically inclined, however, power struggles broke out again among the new settlers after less than 300 years, which led to the fact that the Earth had to be vacated by an order under force from the home systems.

75. Malona, on the other hand, remained inhabited because the population there remained peaceful.

76. But this only lasted for barely forty years, and then the greed for power among the two different peoples also took hold there, and before any orders could be made from the home systems, the Malonians destroyed each other and destroyed the whole planet.

77. Since then the debris of the once beautiful planet between Mars and Jupiter has been orbiting the SOL, the system's sun, as a long-lasting memorial to human madness. 78. From the home worlds, the development of the Earth has been constantly monitored and expeditions have been sent to it year after year.

78. From the home worlds, the development of the Earth has been constantly monitored and expeditions have been sent to it year after year.

79. Again and again attempts were also made to repopulate this very beautiful world, but these failed miserably time and again over the course of more than 800 years.

80. All kinds of life-forms were deported to Earth, also those you would call prisoners, to simply abandon them there and leave them to their fate.

81. Robbed of all technology, it was inevitable that they would wither and become overgrown, mixed again with the overgrown descendants of earlier elements and with Earth-humans and became bestial.

82. But then the time finally came when the great enterprise was finally taken up:

83. With several hundred large and small spaceships the Earth was once again approached and seized.

84. A great culture was built up, which lasted for 600 years before the greed for power among the highly ambitious scientists increased again and led to new terrible acts of war, whereby once again everything was destroyed to the last.

85. The Earth reverted to its old existence, where life-forms continued to exist, but quickly became wild.

86. For 400 years the Earth was completely unnoticed and left to its own devices before it was approached again.

87. This time, however, it was no longer an attempt at an expedition, but once again an escape:

88. On the home worlds in the Plejaras' star systems, power struggles broke out once again between the ascending scientists and the peoples, who were enslaved by their terrible weapons and other means.

{Note: Sentences 89-138 have additional explanations given in Contact 703 by Ptaah.}

89. But, while on all three homeworlds the vicious battles of annihilation raged, a large group of dissident scientists came together under the leadership of a certain Pelegon, who already had the status of an Ischwish.

1. This was the titan 'Pelegon the Imperious', who was a power leader of the Hamud dynasty, which ruled over all the Plejaren peoples of all the Plejaren planets until before the creation of peace some 52,000 years ago.

90. Under his leadership, 70,000 human beings were gathered, including many scientists who seized various spaceships and fled the Plejara planets.

91. According to the coordinates of old records, the refugees entered this space-time structure and the SOL-system, and thus once again arrived on Earth, where the Titans once again settled.

92. According to earthly time calculation this was about 190,000 years ago (about 194,770 years).

2. The unpeaceful warlike times triggered by 'Pelegon the Commanding' and continued by all his successors for some 39,000 years meant that peace and tranquillity did not arrive until some 150,000 years ago, but they did not last long.

3. Millennia later, some 6,000 years after the establishment of peace, tranquillity and freedom, however, a scientist and distant descendant of 'Pelegon the Commanding' named 'Pelegon the Militant' again set out, in imitation, to likewise rise in rebellious fashion as the leader of a 70,000-strong fighting force in thrall to him.

4. (These fighting units were a 70,000-strong fighting force out of 7 since time immemorial, permanently mobile for security operations and combat actions, each under the command of a Hamud dynasty leader appointed for the purpose.)

5. 'Pelegon the Commanding' was a great-great-great-great-ancestor of 'Pelegon the Militant', who some 40,000 years later, i.e. some 150,000 years ago, equally brought a 70,000-strong fighting unit under his command and fled to the DERN universe.

6. This occurred while his son 'Pelegon the Martial' was seizing power on the home planets at the same time.

7. 'Pelegon the Martial' was a scientist and surrounded by many followers and also leader of another 70,000-strong Hamud dynasty fighting force with which he plunged worlds into warfare again, as was then continued by all his numerous successors.

8. These periods of strife then continued for more than 100,000 years.

9. When 'Pelegon the Militant', the father of 'Pelegon the Martial', seized several capital ships with the help of his combat unit and fled, the dimensional gate had already existed at that time for about 30 million years, which he used and transported with his combat unit to various inhabited solar resp. planetary systems in the DERN universe and finally also reached Earth.

10. Here, however, in the course of time, feuds and campaigns of conquest broke out among a part of the fighters, as well as acts of war were carried out, after which it was finally decided by a part of the prudent ones that no longer a longer stay on the planet should be allowed for the fighters.

11. So, following the death of 'Pelegon the Martial', who was killed in hostilities, a general forced departure from Earth of the unruly and quarrelsome outcasts took place, with the destruction of everything that indicated their former existence.

12. But the outcasts fled to distant systems where they resettled, while those who remained on Earth fell under the command and Hamud leadership of 'Pelegon the Patriarchal'.

93. On the home planets the vicious war was fought to the bitter end and the scientists were put in their place.

94. The form of government was abolished and placed in the hands of spiritual leaders who proclaimed anew the long forgotten spiritual teaching and taught the peoples.

95. These recognised the value of the teaching, took it to their own hands and henceforth lived according to it, after which they found final peace some 50,000 years ago and henceforth lived according to the law and recommendation of absolute creational determination, which has been preserved until today and will never change again.

13. The times of strife and war ended only about 52,000 years ago, when the unrest and battles were finally fought out for the last time, ended and all the troublemakers and war-mongers were finally put in their place and then final peace, freedom and tranquillity were created.

14. So the unrest and warfare which, after the short period of peace lasting only about 6,000 years 150,000 years ago, lasted again for more than 100,000 years, after which, about 52,000 years ago, the peace, freedom and tranquillity which has lasted until today and will certainly last in the future was actually created.

15. However, during the 100,000 years of unrest and warfare, many events also followed, which were triggered by the refugees under 'Pelegon the Militant' on Earth, where they had found their way.

16. After the death of 'Pelegon the Militant', other Hamud leaders took over his legacy, after which the early refugees and their successors went in and out of Earth from 150,000 years ago until 52,000 years ago, and were also temporarily resident on Earth.

96. In the course of the next 8,000 years the Plejaren peoples, as they were referred to from then on, developed to a very high spiritual and consciousness-based level, consequently they allied themselves with all kinds of foreign, and their own peoples, in near and far systems and lived now only in the harmonious evolution.

97. Thus they developed together into a great alliance, in the course of which they carried out new expeditions and, 51,951 years ago, found in the galaxy of Andromeda a half-spirit world inhabited by half-spirit beings, an already extremely highly developed life-form, which existed and exists only half-materially, but therefore already half-spiritually.

98. In best agreement with these life-forms, everything was resolved that they should in future guide the destinies of their peoples and their great covenant with their gigantic knowledge and wisdom, which was joyfully welcomed by all peoples.

99. Consequently, in agreement with the spiritual leaders, who were human life-forms and spiritual teachers, it was decided that all destinies of the future should be guided by these half-spiritual forms which had become best friends.

100. The form of guidance should be that of a council from a higher spiritual level, which is why this guidance and advice was referred to as the 'High Council', which has survived to this day and will never change again.

101. Since then all folks of all races connected to us have been under the guidance of the 'High Council', which never gives any orders, but only a "high council", which is optional for each individual form of life to follow and which as a rule is also followed without exception.

102. Those who fled to the Earth knew nothing of the end of the wars for the time being.

17. These refugees were Titans and the most distant descendants of the 70,000 refugees of 'Pelegon the Imperious', who brought them from the Plejaren planets to the DERN universe and the SOL-system to Earth more than 190,000 years ago.

103. In the joy of their newly won freedom, they gladly submitted to the tight regime of Pelegon, who had chosen two hundred scientists as sub-leaders and deployed them according to their fields of knowledge.

18. 'Pelegon the Patriarchal' was the first successor leader to carry on the legacy of 'Pelegon the Commanding', who was then followed by various other Hamud leaders.

104. Under their leadership emerged large cities with other inhabited areas and a very high culture developed on all the continents of the Earth, which had resulted from continental shifts over about three hundred million years.

105. For about 10,000 years harmony and peace reigned, but then again an Jschwisch called Jesus came out, who murdered Pelegon's successor and seized power over all the, by then, united different folks and races.

106. Twenty years later however, the folk rose up against Jesus, and a terrible and worldwide war broke out again over the Earth by those who had travelled farther.

107. Many hundreds of thousands fled with large and small ships into free space, set down and settled in another space-time structure in Beta-Centaurus, which you know in your space-time structure as the Barnard star.

19. This was not in the DERN universe space-time structure, but in the one where the Plejaren planets also exist.

108. A few million humans remained on the Earth, where everything that had been built by the extraterrestrial humans had been completely destroyed and totally eliminated.

109. Those left behind, deprived of all technical and other cultural possibilities by the complete total destruction, gradually fell into a wicked lethargy, atrophied and became wild beings in a nasty barbarism.

20. All knowledge of their original origins and highly developed technology was lost, and their former high development of consciousness atrophied almost completely, with the result that in the course of time the two and a half million feral Titans largely exterminated themselves and became cannibals.

110. For 700 years the Earth was simply avoided, before the descendants of the fugitives set out again to populate the beautiful blue world again.

21. These new arrivals, or the distant descendants of those who had left the Earth earlier, were on the one hand not Titans, but human beings of smaller dimensions, but they too were not exactly of a peaceful nature, but nevertheless no longer as warlike as their ancestors.

111. This was 133,000 Earth years ago, according to your current chronology.

112. The returnees were led by an Jschwisch with the name Atlant, married to an Jschrish named Karyatide.

113. in the latest episode, under the leadership of Atlant, the continent of Atlantis, which had been headed for again and again, and used for millennia, was expanded and made habitable, while under the command of his wife Karyatide, Lesser Atlantis came into existence, as at the same time her cousin Muras built the gigantic city of Mu, which, like Atlantis, also found its origin in very early times.

114. The reason for the construction of these cities so far apart was, that the humans had become cleverer through all the wars, and hoped for peace as a result of the great distance between the cities, if everyone stayed in their domains.

115. So it went well for many long years – a whole 1,800 years, to be precise.

116. Then, however, again some scientists exalted themselves, whipped up by lust for might, and tried to snatch up control for themselves.

22. After the death of Atlant, his wife Karyatide and Muras, various other leaders took over.

117. This time however, they had not reckoned on the people's memory of war, which had been passed down over the ages.

23. The lore was only maintained by those who returned, but not by those who remained on Earth, who were deprived of all achievements and values by a complete destruction of all technical, cultural and other things, whereby they finally gradually withered away and became savage beings who fell into barbarism and eventually died out.

118. So before the scientists could strike, the folk rose up against them.

119. Through an accomplice, the scientists obtained possession of spaceships and fled into the space-time-shifted regions of Beta-Centauri.

120. This was 115,000 Earth years ago.

121. After 2,000 years, during which the malicious refugees again created a high technological standard and produced many descendants, they returned filled with hate to the Earth, after they had increased their hate immeasurably against the extraterrestrial inhabitants of the Earth, and were only able to preserve order within their own ranks with terrible punishments.

122. Spurred on through their inhuman hate, they, through research and the knowledge obtained from it, drove up their life expectancy to more than a thousand years.

123. Their single wish was, however, to gain control over the Earth, for which reason every individual was taught wicked intrigues and was instructed in the craft of war.

124. After 2,000 years, this hate-drenched people was so far along that it could venture an attack on the Earth, therefore it manned its ships and came newly to the Earth, and indeed under the leadership of the Jschwisch Arus, the barbarian.

125. This happened 113,000 years ago.

126. Arus was extremely bestial and barbarous in his disposition, and his power was feared.

127. Like Pelegon, already thousands of years before, Arus also had 200 high-level scientists with him, who he made sub-leaders.

128. In a lightning action they fell upon the Earth, robbing, murdering, and taking possession of the land.

129. Primarily, they conquered the distant land in the northern regions, where the climate was moderate and very good.

130. These were those regions, which are traditionally known to you as Hyperborea, and which were far in the north, before an upset of the Earth shifted its axis, so that the then regions exist today where you name Florida.

131. Coming from the north, Arus's son, Arus the Second, set out and fell upon those lands which today you call India, Pakistan and Persia, and so forth, whereby they struck the earliest forefathers of the Sumerians, who, peace loving, fled and set down far in the south; folk of dark coloured skin, but by your terms, not Negroid, but like Europeans and of tall growth, risen from a race of former Sirian refugees, who had likewise settled on the Earth 133,000 years ago, as did the refugees from the Plejaren-System.

132. Named after Arus the Second, the India of today was at that time called Arien, which, however, split off from Hyperborea after a few centuries, after 210 years, to be exact, and joined with the inhabitants of Mu and Agharta, while from Hyperborea, Arus the First constantly troubled Mu and Greater Atlantis by wicked war activities, in order to become their ruler.

133. During around half a millennia, or said very precisely, during 502 years, those war machinations continued, until Arus the First, who in the meanwhile had become old and weak, succeeded in infiltrating wicked elements of his hater humans into the leading controlling ranks of Atlantis and Mu, who secretly stirred up violence and hate for so long, as also did their descendants over several centuries, until, through boundless intrigues, Mu and Atlantis were able to be completely destroyed some centuries later, while the only few survivors were beaten into servitude.

134. However, great scientists, in knowledge of the coming things and conscious of their powerlessness, set off in spaceships and fled towards the early home worlds in the Plejaren systems, where they were affably received.

24. Only small peoples remained on Earth, whose ancestors had long since mixed with early Earth-humans who had emerged from Earth's development and created their own cultures.

135. I indeed do not need to speak yet again about the destruction of Atlantis and Mu because you will find that as a separate chronicle in the explanations given to you.

136. So it only remains for me to report that Arus the Eleventh, as a very distant descendent of Arus the First, was murdered in his old age many thousands of years later, and around a hundred-thousand years after the destruction of Mu and Atlantis, by his third-born son Jehavon, after which this one took over command of the hater-people, in order to rule these and three Earthly peoples and the Hyperboreans himself.

137. The one Earth folk consisted of the very distant descendants of the Armus folks who had lived where the region of Armenia is today.

138. These were descendants of the Jschwisch Armus, who settled there with his race 133,000 years ago, after he had emigrated from the Plejaren systems.

25. These descendants were already genetically aligned with Earth-humans in such a way that their primordial origin was no longer ascertainable, consequently their original origin from the Plejaren planets 133,000 years ago and their development in terms of hereditary traits and characteristics as well as dependent elements could no longer be proven.

139. The second Earth folk which fell under Jehavon's control were the descendants of the Aryans, who meanwhile had mingled themselves with the still very under-developed, pure Earthly and lethargic, native population, after the Sumerians were expelled.

140. The third Earth-humans were not really such a people in themselves, because they were a very widely disseminated alliance of gypsies, which was interspersed with Jehavon's spies and saboteurs, who, in unity with the gypsies, brought about dissention everywhere, greedily drawing everything to themselves and were always constantly eager to murder, burn and rob, for which reason one named them the Hebrons by the original language of our forefathers, therefore Hebraon and later then Hebrons.

141. These names correspond to gypsy, scum and outcast in the sense of the original language, which therefore has not been transferred to your present languages, because the sense of your present term for gypsy still only means the wanderers, the itinerant, and the unsettled ones.

142. Thereby it should be clarified that the present gypsy people have not the least in common with the Hebraon of that time, who proclaimed themselves the first born and the chosen ones, just as much as do their distant descendants, who today still dare to assert this.

143. In truth, the Hebraons were the real scum and outcasts of Earth humanity, because through them fights and quarrels within the whole world were constantly stirred up and yet further spread, which has been maintained until the present day.

144. Earth will only finally be at peace, then, when this power-hungry and bloodthirsty Hebraon alliance, which has declared themselves as a people, and which has split into various sects addicted to world control, and so forth, has been fully dissolved.

145. Jehavon ruled until about 3,660 Earth years ago, until he was likewise treacherously murdered by his only son Jehav, who then snatched up rule for himself, after 340 years of his father's reign.

146. Jehav ruled wickedly, and always screamed for blood and revenge, until 3,320 years ago in your chronology, during which time he sired three sons, who were named Arussem, Ptaah and Salam.

147. Megalomaniacal like his father Jehavon, he let himself be proclaimed as creator, and celebrated as such, and like his father, he caused terrible devastation among the three human races, and he demanded blood and death.

148. As addicted to power as his father Jehav, was also his firstborn son Arussem, who constantly wanted to take over his father's power.

149. Thus he also finally murdered his father Jehav, and wanted to snatch up the power for himself.

150. But he failed profoundly, because his younger brother Ptaah and his youngest brother Salam positioned themselves against him, in order to expel and ban him into exile, because, having become disgusted by the constant wars, power struggles and bloodshed, Ptaah and Salam already made an effort themselves for many decades to lead humane forms of life.

151. Therefore, already for a long time, they assembled around themselves many like-minded ones, with whose help they gained control of Arussem and his 72,000 followers, and expelled them.

152. But Arussem secretly returned to the Earth, and settled down with his army, in the land of Egypt, in the old cubical constructions which had existed there unused for more than 70,000 years.

153. Deep in the interior of the Earth and deep below the pyramids, they established themselves securely, whereby they converted the rooms and buildings deep below the present pyramids of Giza, as a centre for their wicked purposes, from where they and their descendants since then tried to realise their tyrannical plans, but as of now without noteworthy success, although their way of obtaining the goal of deceit, lying and intrigues was through false teachings and the leading astray of the uncorrupted Earth-humans through religious teachings of madness and cults, and many kinds of other evil machinations.

154. Due to their expulsion they, however, forfeited very much, because all possibilities for technological and otherwise scientific further development was prevented for them, as also however was all their research, and so forth, which thereby led to the quite rapid reduction in their life expectancy, and today still only amounts to an average of 94 years, which in relation to today's people converts to practically only about 20 years higher than the average in European regions.

155. This means for the renegades, called the "Giza Intelligences" by us, that they are slowly dying out, and today are still only fewer than 2,100 in number.

156. Due to complete isolation from outer space, these remaining ones will also be no more, in fewer than three decades, because they are all already old and no longer capable of procreation.

157. But in spite of that they still maliciously hold firm to their tyrannical plans, and they do not see themselves as beaten.

158. Arussem ruled until about 3,010 years before your time reckoning began [3,010 BCE] until a powerful forced departure was secured for him by a mutineer by the name of Henn, who was called Jehovah in the tongue of the Hebraons, and likewise also gradually within his own ranks, whereas the appellation "The Cruel One" was added.

159. In the year 2,080 BCE already old and weak, he was displaced, and his nephew Kamagol the First, took over the evil command of the Giza Intelligences, in order to expand the headquarters below the surface of the pyramid of Giza to a murderous centre of power, which allowed no possibility at all of being destroyed anymore.

160. Like no ruler before, Kamagol the First forced all Earthly religions under his control and created terrible cults which demanded human blood, which were able to be partially maintained until the present.

161. All efforts from outside were in vain, as his position of power could not be broken.

162. But also Kamagol the 1st was only a human, so one day he met his own fate from out of his own ranks, in the form of his own son, Kamagol the 2nd, who overthrew him and deprived him of power, and let him die miserably in a deep dungeon.

163. Kamagol the Second was in many things even more malicious than his father, which he soon revealed, after taking over power, through the introduction of monstrous mass murdering of Earth-born terrestrial human beings, who he slapped under his religious power through many kinds of means.

164. As one of the last really extremely long-lived, Kamagol the Second attained a great age and died a natural death just a few days ago, which we were able to ascertain just 2 days ago.

165. He departed this world on the 27th of December 1976, therefore around 10 days ago.

166. The still remaining Giza Intelligences, already old and weak in many cases, but still filled with hate and tyrannical plans, do not give up.

167. But indeed their days are numbered, so in three decades at the latest they will be no more.

168. With the heaven's sons, the Hyperboreans and the emigrants from the Plejaren system, Ptaah and Salam, the sons of the murdered Jehav, led the further rule by common agreement.

169. They governed well and created peace, and only occasionally mixed in the affairs of the Earth-born Earth-humans.

170. After his 93rd year of government Ptaah was stricken by a malicious and unknown disease, from which he succumbed a few days later, consequently his brother Salam continued to lead the government alone, until, weak from his great age, he handed over command to his son Plejos, 2,040 Earth years ago, after he had taken up connections to the home worlds already centuries before and had placed himself and his people under the home form of government, namely, that of the spiritual teachers.

171. His son Plejos was, like his father, a very wise and a kind governor, and as of 1,999 years ago of earthly chronology, the home worlds, after an interruption of around 240 years, newly positioned themselves under the guidance of the 'High Council', he too arranged himself and his people therein.

172. Respecting and following the advice of the 'High Council', he prepared for the long-yearned-for return to the home worlds, which took place 1,994 years ago, by your chronology, after Jmmanuel, at Plejos's direction, begat by the spiritual leader Gabriel, was educated as a prophet and had become right for his mission.

173. Still to mention is that among the very distant descendants of Arus, who had subjugated the lands in the north, there existed elements in great number, who, until in the time of Jehav, preserved themselves as the Arusists.

174. These, a group of 160,000 humans, were named the Great Aryans, because they still advocated the ideas of Arus the First.

175. They even released themselves from the powerful control of Jehav and wandered, plundering, through the land, from north-west to the east, where they penetrated into that land where in earlier times Arus the Second had settled with his people and expelled the Sumerians, where, in the meantime, however, the then Aryans mixed themselves with the low native population and forgot their actual origin.

176. Also, in the meantime, the descendants of the Sumerians returned to their old homeland, so also they settled there again.

177. But then came the Great Aryans, who moved between the Caspian Sea and Ararat, and took possession of the clay-brick towns of the mixed folks, which had reached a good level of prosperity as a result of the earlier invading Aryans and the returning descendants of the Sumerians.

178. Their work consisted mainly of trade and agriculture, which was well mastered by the Sumerian descendants.

179. So, the appearance of the human beings and all their buildings was very orderly, and a strict discipline ruled, indeed even a certain submissiveness towards the highly developed Sumerian descendants, who were superior to the native people in consciousness-based development and worldliness.

180. And exactly this world was attacked and forced into bondage and transformed and pressed into a new state structure by the Aryans, who, deprived of all technology, had been wandering for long years, coming from the far north.

181. Deprived of all technology by Jehav's myrmidons, the Aryans settled down in the distant lands, but in time became stunted and mixed with the natives, so, soon all knowledge and ability of a higher level and of their origin disappeared into the darkness of forgetfulness.

...

Billy:

31. Ha, good.

32. But now two more questions, or three, regarding our and your Pleiades:

33. So this name comes from an Jschrish.

34. Was it simply retained later on Earth, or was this group of stars referred to differently here?

Semjase:

185. The name was retained, but lost itself in the confusion of languages that appeared on Earth, and then, over time, returned to its original value, mainly due to mythologies.

Billy:

35. These are probably the ancient Greek as well, right?

Semjase:

186. Sure, but there are also others, as you mention through the main one.

Billy:

36. Well, then I would like to know what form of time calculation you use, at least on Erra; do you also calculate in years like we do?

Semjase:

87. Of course, because they are originally from our ancestors, so they are also given on the Earth.

Billy:

37. Aha, and since when do you calculate?

38. I mean, since when or when did your time calculation begin?

Semjase:

188. Since the beginning of peace on our home systems, so about 50,000 years ago.

Billy:

39. Aha, can you give me the exact date?

Semjase:

189. Sure.

190. Today we count the year 51,711, because there was once a break, but it was not due to war but of reconstructive importance.

Billy:

40. Good, and now the question of how Erra got its name and when?

Semjase:

191. This is very simple:

192. The Pleiades stars of your space-time plane are much younger than the Earth, but not so [with] our stars and planets, which were named only by numerical values until the time when the 'High Council' took control.

193. Since then, however, at the request of the 'High Council', our homeworlds have been called by melodious names, e.g. also Erra, while the celestial systems are called Pleiadian or, in our case, Plejaren.

Billy:

41. If I think correctly, this should have happened 51,951 years ago, right?

Semjase:

194. Sure, you think correctly.

195. But I would also like to explain to you that at this point in time the new era was also introduced, so we have two of them:

196. The year 51,711, which reminds us of the final peacetime, and the year 51,951, which reveals the spiritual alignment with the 'High Council'.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_074

Billy:

12. It is damn easy for you to talk, girl, because you do not have these idiotic worries about money, because you do not know such material means anymore.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_075

Semjase:

3. Over there in the area, where I usually go, is unfortunately not possible today, because some of our friends are exploring everything over there.

4. We do not want to disturb them in the process.

5. However, they have been quite careless in the last few days, because they have already been observed twice in their space suits, which they have to wear because they are not oxygen breathers in our sense.

6. But your carnival costume wearing customs have protected them from the attention of the observers, because they were probably of the opinion that they were carnival connoisseurs.

Billy:

That is interesting. What exactly do they do there, and where do they come from?

Semjase:

7. They belong to the other groups working with us here on the Earth; they are also connected to our federation and investigate radiation phenomena and underground earth shifts that have come about as a result of various inner terrestrial factors and that will influence the future of that region.

...

Billy:

... Do they belong to you and how big are they?

Semjase:

11. Their size is 115 cm, and of course they belong to us, but they live on a smaller neighbouring planet of Erra.

...

Billy:

... Ah, look, Bernadette sleeps in Jacobus' car. ...

Semjase:

28. She does not sleep, she just doses.

Billy:

How do you know that?

Semjase:

29. Look here, this device, these symbols say that.

...

Billy:

... One noticed that Engelbert's cat went crazy. ...

Semjase:

...

33. But because of the cat:

34. Animals are very sensitive and feel us also when in invisible state.

...

Semjase:

41. In order to help you, I analysed Martin Johannes Sorge a little more closely with the technological aids provided by Quetzal.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_077

Ptaah:

9. In certain respects, we are bound by limitations that do not allow us to penetrate deeper into the thought spheres of a life-form ...

...

11. Especially in these matters we ourselves do not have the necessary knowledge, because many forms of human life on Earth are still foreign or incomprehensible to us, primarily the mental forms.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_078

Alena:

4. I come from the planet SATER, which is about $\frac{1}{3}$ smaller than your home planet.

5. Seen from Earth, Sater is situated in the constellation of Lyra, 157.3 million kilometres away from the Sun MEL.

6. However, the planets are not recognisable from the Earth with its still very underdeveloped technology, because they are in another space-time-level.

...

Billy:

... How tall are you, anyway? Certainly, no more than 1.5 metres.

Alena:

9. 148 cm {4 feet 10.27 inches} according to your measurements.

...

Menara:

4. The promise made by me regarding the beam pistol is to be kept today.

...

13. But now see this weapon here.

14. This is similar to the one with which you once irradiated the young trees and the fir trees.

{Note: See Contact Reports 63 and 64.}

15. This one, however, is much older than that one.

16. Here, the direction finder shows you the target very accurately through this magnifying scope so that you can hit a single needle of a fir tree very accurately over a distance of several kilometres, which you can then test on a tree over there on the hill.

17. The tubular sight scope brings the target as close to you as if it were directly in front of the weapon.

18. In contrast to that, this is a very outdated operating apparatus, which is similar to that of your explosive firearms.

19. To send out the radiation you must pull back with your index finger just as it was the case with my weapon.

20. These two transparent containers on the top here, contain two different elements which are fundamentally necessary for the creation of the type of radiation.

21. Used together, they create a form of laser beam still unknown to you, which emits a very strong destructive swinging wave, which, however only destroys a few artificial forms of matter, such as your film material, so you must not use the weapon when taking photographs.

22. If the front and rear element containers are coupled by a pressure on this point, then a combustion radiation builds up, which within fractions of a second and up to a distance of 37.2 km dissolves everything into nothing, without leaving any traces of ash.
23. Only the things surrounding the target char and remain behind.
24. If the front container alone is activated by further pressure on this point, then only a tranquillising effect occurs, which is used exclusively for self-defence purposes, while the combustion radiation usually serves only for work purposes or total elimination purposes, but in extreme cases if necessary, can also be used, for example, to damage an enemy vehicle or flying object so that it becomes unable to manoeuvre and thus ineffective.
25. This also applies to weapons, etc.
26. For a very long time now, about six hundred years, these forms of weapons are no longer used, because our technology has developed much better ones in the meantime.
27. The latest weapon of this type has been reduced to a third of this size, and the function of the activation of the radiation trigger mechanism has fundamentally changed.
28. Thus, the operation of the newest weapons is individually adapted to its carrier, whereby a weapon can exclusively be used only by the owner.
29. The activation of the trigger is now only carried out on a purely mental basis, which is why the brain wave pattern is programmed into the memory of the trigger mechanism of the weapon. i.e. that of the owner.
30. If the weapon is to become the property of another owner for any reason, it must be newly programmed.

...

31. I designate the bearers of such weapons as the owner, because this is according to your sense and because the weapon is individually tailored to the carrier.

...

Menara:

69. Then, I have finished my mission for this time, on the other hand we have to leave, because as my device transmits to me, thoughts are directed here, after which someone will arrive here in the next 2 minutes.

70. We must therefore go and also remove the protective cover that radiates around the Centre.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_079

Semjase:

5. Through all the time that we are now in contact with each other, I have taken such an interest in all your and others concerns that a very strong connection has developed out of it, out of which I would have acted differently in certain things than I was promised.

6. You can see from this that I and my people, too, are only pure human life-forms, which under certain conditions have difficulty in following certain things.

7. It was precisely in this case that I could not determine with certainty beforehand whether I would fit in with the given rules and act according to the given advice of the High Council, because the attachment to you and your group had become too pronounced in me, which is why I found it more responsible to remove myself from the immediate area of your presence, in order to not undertake any actions for your benefit, either unthinkingly or guided by connecting feelings and other impulses, which I should not do for your own good and progress.

8. As you know, I should not and must not interfere directly in your evolutionary work for the sake of your self-development of these things.

...

10. So as not to interfere carelessly and out of a willingness to help in your concerns to be dealt with by yourselves, I removed myself from your surroundings and reach.

...

Semjase:

52. Through this apparatus I will fathom what ailment has befallen you.

Billy:

...

36. I only poisoned myself with a little sausage, which all of us know.

...

Semjase:

...

54. Now sit here.

...

59. Your poisoning is not of an easy nature, but already quite serious.

60. As the apparatus here shows, your blood has already been poisoned, and certain cells of the brain have also been affected, which makes your suddenly pessimistic mood explainable.

Billy:

44. I say, that is quite normal for meat poisoning.

Semjase:

61. It is not that natural, because as I see here, it is not a common poisoning, but a far more serious infection from meat parasites.

...

63. Give me your arm.

...

Billy:

46. What kind of thing is that?

Semjase:

65. A parasite neutraliser, as Earth-humans would say.

66. This apparatus automatically neutralises all pathogenic or life-threatening parasites in the physical areas of a human life-form as soon as this colourless surface comes into contact with the surface of the skin, as it does right now.

67. The time of neutralisation is less than 6 seconds for an entire human body, whereby the neutraliser automatically adjusts in a fraction of a second to the physical condition and constitution of the human life-form concerned.

68. In the end, the apparatus neutralises all damage caused by the parasites, or they are neutralised if they are of any material or any other substantial or gaseous nature, which has just happened to you, so you are not poisoned.

Billy:

47. That is great, I actually feel squeaky good again.

...

Semjase:

89. First of all, I would like to express my deep thanks and praise for all the commitment and efforts of the honest and diligent group members who made the creation of your Centre possible.

...

92. Sure, it was very difficult for me and all others to understand all your actions and thoughts and also all the appearing impulses, etc., but we realised that the beginning of the whole could not be different and that it corresponds to the usual rules of earthly behaviour.

93. It was not easy for all of us to recognise this, because these kinds of manner of thinking and acting were foreign to us in every respect and therefore incomprehensible, which is why we all first had to accustom ourselves to these matters in order to be able to understand you in this respect.

94. Since we now understand this aspect of your earthly modes of life, however, we are in a position to recognise and appreciate it accordingly, which is why I express my gratitude to all of you by expressing my joy.

...

Semjase:

193. ... we too have very hard days of work and very often have to do our duties for several days without sleep, especially when, through the unreasonableness of individuals in your group, things are done which we have the duty to balance out.

...

Semjase:

201. You should also try to make him understand that his expressions and speech become more moderate about me and my girlfriends, etc., because his speech and thoughts about physical love and connectedness are often so impure and even primitive that the feeling of shame is not spared to me, although we only know such feelings from earlier lore.

...

203. That an Earth human can think and speak so impurely in this regard is an abomination to me.

204. It is so impure and unclean that one should fundamentally not talk about it.

...

Billy:

...

128. That damn jerk, I will have to read him the riot act again when the time comes.

129. I will give him a... girl, please, do not do that...

Semjase:

206. ... I have lost control, sorry.

Billy:

130. You should not apologise and you need even less to cry.

Semjase:

207. It hurts me very much that Jacobus does not care about the true things and values.

Billy:

131. Little child, girl, come on, do not be sad now, this lousy jerk may one day understand.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_080

Semjase:

7. I was just hovering above the top of the tree when I registered such strong pain impulses from you that I was frightened and depressed the ship's steering mechanism in a reflex movement, with the result that I destroyed and flattened the entire top of the tree with the lower part of the ship.

...

Semjase:

60. What is certain so far is that the Giza intelligences have joined forces with a group of fleeing and malignant intelligences from space {see next entry} who are involved in the concerns of the Giza intelligences and are helpful to them.

61. Their outer forms correspond to your observation that they have oversized eyes and some other special things about them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_081

Quetzal:

7. It is a work by the Giza-intelligences in collaboration with the refugees from the Pegasus area.

8. They were located by and brought to the attention of the group in Brazil about 6 weeks ago, after which a connection was established between them.

9. The merger with the Giza-intelligences was then only a matter of time.

...

13. So they took advantage of the knowledge of the Pegasus refugees and of their equipment.

14. A swinging-wave vibrator, working on a microwave basis, thereby came to them very conveniently, in order to cause damage to the actual value of the developing Sohar-Centre {meditation center at the Semjase Silver Star Center} and to possibly destroy it.

15. A Pegasus refugee, whom you have observed, investigated the data of the value, after which on August 30th around the fourth hour of the morning the Pegasus ship was directed to the Centre to bring the swinging-wave vibrator into action.

16. The swinging-wave bundle was placed behind the wall, which had already collapsed earlier due to a water ingress.

17. The strong swinging-waves released caused a very high vibrational wave, which within a few seconds pulled the nearly 150 centimetres thick concrete wall from its anchorage, lifted it a little and hurled it forward, which is why it had fallen so far forward.

...

19. The microwave swinging-wave vibrators work with such a strong potency that in a few fractions of a second they are deadly to any form of life in such a manner that it acts like a lightning-fast ageing process, which even an ignorant person could immediately detect.

...

Semjase:

1. ... he {Ptaah} will get hold of the Pegasus refugees in the next few days and bring them back to their home planet, where they will be handed over to those responsible and put out of action, as you would say.

...

Billy:

26. But tell me, Quetzal, how does the crazy vibration swinging-wave work?

Quetzal:

24. It is a swinging-wave vibrator, not a vibration-swinging wave.

25. Unfortunately, I am not allowed to explain officially how it is constructed, but you can be assured that the Earth scientists are already developing these apparatuses in their early days.

26. These, however, are completely different in operation from those of the Pegasus refugees.

27. They are transformed up (step up) by a precisely tuned thought swinging wave, after which they then generate the necessary energy.

28. The Giza-intelligences are not able to do this, because they are not able to generate these thought impulses, thus they were dependent on the Pegasus refugees.

...

Ptaah:

51. Cutback on the concerns around us and our ships, etc. to a large extent and dedicate yourself only to the fundamentally important facts of the evolution of the spirit or the teaching of the spirit [Creation-Energy teaching].

...

Billy:

62. It almost seems to me as if you are very depressed and therefore speak angrily.

...

63. Calm down, Ptaah, for you know that the time will be long before the Earth-humans finally learn to understand and grasp.

...

Ptaah:

68. Excuse my surge of emotions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_084

Semjase:

6. I had very difficult trouble to become mistress of the forces that suddenly invaded me, because they hit me with such an improbable force that I lost my senses [was unconscious] for several minutes.

7. Only the fact that Pleija, whom I had attained for the experiment and who monitored everything with technical equipment, switched on the apparatus when my senselessness occurred and hurled the invading forces back, saving me from losing this life.

...

12. Even when I made another attempt to clarify the matter, this time on a purely technical basis, it was doomed to total failure.

13. So there were two other technical attempts.

14. The analysers functioned until the locating beams collided with the enormous concentrative energy.

15. Then everything went very quickly:

16. The locating beams were actually consumed in fractions of a second, just as if they had served as food for the force penetrating them.

17. Then suddenly this tremendous force was in the middle of the analyser's central apparatus and was eating its way into the actual heart, namely into the sensor area.

18. The sensors were torn apart from the inside with bursting noises, which also destroyed the entire apparatus.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_086

Ptaah:

31. You sadden me very much, my friend, because ...

...

Semjase:

37. You grieve me very much, for this means the non-fulfilment and destruction of all of our tasks.

...

Billy:

62. Don't cry, girl, please.

Ptaah:

35. You should understand that it hurts her very deeply.

...

Billy:

66. But please, girl, stop crying now.

...

Ptaah:

42. You think I might be angry?

Billy:

73. Not exactly, no, but you seem very upset.

Ptaah:

43. Certainly, that is so.

44. I am very saddened ...

...

46. You act truly only according to the best understanding of the concerns, which is why I cannot arouse anger against you.

...

48. Go in peace and be assured of my reverent friendship.

...

Semjase:

41. – – – It is just that everything is so very ... sad.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_087

Semjase:

6. I lowered my ship to the clearing and overlooked the grazing deer because it was a bit hidden between the bushes.

7. So it got into the protective shield of the ship and was killed within fractions of a second, which is very painful for me.

...

9. I am really very sorry.

...

14. I am so sorry about the animal.

15. I was just too careless.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_088

Semjase:

62. As you know, Asket and her people are still far ahead of our stage of evolution in many respects.

63. Concerned for you and for all our tasks, father {Ptaah} asked Asket whether you might be granted mechanical or electronic protection by her or her people if, contrary to expectations, Mr Glanzmann's subconscious would find your position.

64. Asket was unable to procure what was desired, but father handed over formulas and plans to build a disintegrator for the total elimination of strictly religious fluidal powers.

{Note: See Contact Report 85:P27-39.}

65. Quetzal created the small apparatus in less than two days, which is now already installed and working in the small telemeter disk floating above your centre.

66. Should something be done against you in this direction, then you may be unconcerned, because all powers would be totally eliminated before they even came within your reach.

...

Semjase:

84. I do not understand – I must have misspoken when I said the name Jacobus.

...

85. That is very unfortunate; I got confused if it is what you say.

86. I was talking about Adolf at the time, but not about Jacobus.

...

88. I ask that Jacobus please be lenient, because we are also subject to mistakes and sometimes become subject to errors and mix-ups.

...

Semjase:

122. According to the latest analyses, a demonstration with our beamships must, unfortunately, be excluded for the time being.

123. This is due to the fact that in particular group outsiders, but also some group members, believe themselves to be privileged in matters of demonstration.

124. Also, the erroneous opinion has arisen from the mission leaving and betraying members that we must make not only our ships but also ourselves noticeable or visible as proof of our existence.

125. We cannot meet these unreasonable wishes in any form, because they run counter to the meaning of all our tasks.

126. We have no reason to show ourselves to Earth-humans in any of the desired forms; nor will we do so under any circumstances.

127. Through our actions, by demonstrating our ships to various group members and non-group members, the belief has arisen that we must continue to do this and even do it in increased measure, on the one hand as an obligation and on the other hand as thanks and proof of existence on our part.

128. And as explained, some believe they have a privilege, but this cannot be the case at all.

129. These confusing wishes and demands force us not to announce any official demonstration in the future, or even to hold one.

130. Only strictly in the area of the honest internal group are still some few exceptions to be made, here and there.

131. By the way, neither us and our ships, and our existence, are of importance at all but only the task we all have to fulfil.

132. We cannot allow that by the mentioned wishes and demands new idolisations and idealisations arise, which would inevitably lead to a new religion, as this has already happened many times.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_089

Semjase:

21. I am also very sorry, but we have to accept the individual decisions of any life-form's as such and must not coercively change them.

...

29. Our cause is good and has no iota of anything negative in it.

30. We all work only in the knowledge of what is truly good, because in loyalty to the laws and recommendations of the Creation we cannot do anything else.

...

Billy:

59. Tell me rather, this is also a question from Guido, where the first humans in the universe originated?

Semjase:

91. That is unfortunately unknown to us.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_090

Billy:

23. I was only there a few moments when a sound was heard, as if an unshielded beamship was approaching.

24. Observing everything attentively all around and in the sky, I could not recognise anything, however, because the darkness was simply too strong.

25. Only in front, where our court light illuminated everything, there I was able to see everything clearly out of the darkness.

26. And as I looked over to the pole with the tape recorder switched on again after some time and then looked down into the meadow, suddenly and as if out of nowhere a figure stood there, exactly on the strip between light and darkness, where on the one hand the light was sharply separated from the court lamp and on the other hand the darkness.

27. The figure had not run there, but was actually there all of a sudden.

28. Quietly I stood up and scurried quietly across the street and over to the pole with the tape recorder, where I fully recognised the figure and saw that I had not been mistaken at the roadside over there, where the head of the figure had appeared to me like a grimace.

29. Now I clearly saw that the being had a human body, and if I was not mistaken, it had to be a female body.

30. According to Earth-human terms, this was in stark contrast to the voice that this being had, because it sounded quite deep, which means nothing, because I know very well that other beings can also have other voices in the forms as is the case with us on Earth.

31. Then I also saw a hand of this being, which [in comparison] to my fingers seemed quite oversized, namely about twice as long as mine on my hand.

32. But then the head first, oh my goodness, that was unique.

33. I was not terrified because I had already seen some badly mutilated human faces, but I was somehow fascinated by the sight, which is why I really looked at it first, before I reached for my cannon, tore it out of the holster, tightened the handle and wanted to unlock it, which was, unfortunately, a mistake of mine, because when I raised the cannon, the strange being disappeared just as suddenly and without a trace as it had come.

...

39. Somehow I feel as if this being, who was perhaps 160 cm tall, can communicate telepathically and probably wanted to get in touch with me in this way as well, which it did not succeed in due to my blockade.

...

41. Since then I have always had the certain feeling that this being will come again and that with a quite peaceful intention.

42. This is also evident from its voice, which was recorded by the tape recorder on the street pole.

43. I tried to decipher the sounds and came to the conclusion that it was always the same words that the being spoke.

44. It sounded like MURG, MURG to me.

45. For two full days I 're-looked' at it and strangely enough, I always came to the same conclusion that this word 'Murg', if I filtered it out correctly, means nothing but PEACE.

46. Since then it always sounds to me as if this being had asked me if I was also peaceable with him/her.

47. What I have to say is this:

48. The head of the being had the shape of a human head, but the appearance was quite monster-like, namely a cross between a fish and a frog, with a quite big mouth and a kind of herringbone over the skull, which was as shiny as everything else of this head, which I would like to call somehow beautiful, because even if it looked monster-like in the twilight, it was very well-formed and very natural.

49. Somehow the being seemed to me to have risen from a fable, namely like an amphibian.

...

Semjase:

36. I know these kinds of beings, they are human life-forms that used to live in water and on land, amphibians, as you rightly say, but I do not know that such life forms that live very, very far away from this system are supposed to be here.

...

39. You have not succumbed to deception, and I am somehow familiar with the very cumbersome language of the being.

...

41. If I can take the tape recorder with me, I will go back to the station and call father if necessary, because he knows some of those cumbersome languages that amphibians speak when they cannot communicate telepathically, because telepathy is their actual means of communication.

...

46. Father knew immediately, because the sounds originate from a guttural language known to him of a human life-form race equally known to him, which is at home in the area of a system on a planet known to you as DENEK, at a distance of about 2000 light-years from the SOL system.

...

48. The sounds Claire and you heard are very awkward because they are very crude to these CYGNERS, as they are called.

49. Normally they communicate only telepathically, because their guttural language is very difficult for them, which they only use for communication when they have to communicate with other forms of life that are not capable of telepathy.

...

52. What further astonished father was that you also correctly analysed the meaning and concept of the word, because MURG actually means PEACE, according to which it is really easy to judge that you apparently also met the correctness with it, which says that the being observed by you came in peaceful intention.

...

55. First inspections in the last 70 minutes have now revealed that last Monday during the night time one of our large surveillance discs in the area of Southern Europe registered a foreign flying ship, but did not transmit this to the station, because it had not stored this data due to a disturbance field, which registered itself as of natural origin in our surveillance devices, and thus also had not transmitted it to our station.

56. Checking this disk now revealed that its equipment had not been shut down for seconds by a natural Earth interference field in any wise, but that an artificial interference field from some flying ship had caused this brief damage, controlled by some intelligence.

57. What remained unobserved during the disturbance of our surveillance equipment was an image recorder that automatically recorded the foreign flying machine in the moving image, after which we now know that this cylindrical ship, about 12 meters in diameter, is somewhere on the Earth – where, unfortunately, we do not yet know.

58. Apparently it is equipped with some kind of protective shield, which made our analysers ineffective and we could not determine the location.

...

Semjase:

103. Well, it is actually something new, a new transmission apparatus that Quetzal constructed.

104. He wants today's report to be transmitted with this new apparatus, which can be switched to different speeds.

105. Our two-hour conversation, if everything is correct, would be transmitted within only about 30 minutes, whereby you would write as fast and implement all picture forms in as short a time as only a computer device can work.

106. This new apparatus would surpass the old one by far.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_091

Semjase:

7. However, we were able to ascertain with certainty that their ship {see previous entry} has not yet left the earthly space, so it is still somewhere camouflaged and shielded in a hiding place.

8. Father tried to find out on their home star who and why they came to the Earth, but he was told that the current whereabouts of four ships of the Cygner were unknown, so no information could be given in this regard.

9. That it could only be one of these four ships was clear, because exact coordinate messages were recorded from all other units and none were even close to the SOL-system or in the SOL-system.

10. According to the Cygner, the four ships with unknown whereabouts are older expedition ships, which unfortunately only have very limited means of remote communication on a technological basis.

11. This means that the Cygner here on Earth cannot communicate with their home planet, precisely because their means of remote communication cannot bridge the distance of 2,000 light-years.

12. The maximum range of their devices is unfortunately less than 1,400 light-years.

Billy:

8. But then they would be able to make a mental-telepathic connection.

Semjase:

13. Unfortunately this is not possible for them, because the Cygner only master the primary telepathy, not the spirit-telepathy.

Billy:

9. Oh so, then they are planet bound with this telepathy form.

10. But there is one thing that does not make sense to me about the whole thing:

11. Why don't the twits get in touch with you?

12. Why are they trying to come to me or to come into contact with me of all things?

Semjase:

14. There is a very precise explanation for this:

15. The Cygner represent a human race whose senses are highly sensitised to swinging-waves from outside their own bodies, but only in planetary or ship-internal regions.

16. Thus they are able to receive and analyse swinging-waves of all life forms.

17. And here lies the answer to your question:

18. The Cygner have a form of government on their homeworlds, which your Earth-humans designate as herd instinct, but which is nevertheless led by the strongest of the herd.

19. So this order is a resemblance of a herd order in animals, the strongest of which exercises the position of the leading animal.

20. Since the Cygner had held this form of government since time immemorial, they changed it in the course of the last millennia only to the extent that they replaced the strongest of their kind with the most knowledgeable in spiritual matters, who thus was also the one who emits the highest swinging-waves, which is synonymous with the most powerful swinging-waves.

21. Thus, it is only natural that on foreign worlds, when they visit such worlds intentionally or unintentionally, the Cygner search for their kind and their form of government also for the highest spirit-knowledge-based swinging-waves of this world and, if necessary, turn to it when they need it.

22. And through your spiritual-teaching [a.k.a. Creation-energy] based learning and your knowledge you are the person on the Earth who gives off this highest swinging-wave from himself.

23. This again means for the Cygner that, for them, you are that form of life on this world, in respect of that mentioned, above which no other form of life stands.

24. This alone can be the reason why they try to connect with you.

...

Billy:

15. Nevertheless, there are some things that do not make sense to me, for example, why these twits do not turn to you or to the other groups, because all of you have decidedly several times higher swinging-waves than me.

Semjase:

26. Your thoughts are very logical, but you forget that we have to leave our swinging-waves in our station, or in our ships, to be absorbed by them, in order not to influence the Earth-human beings through them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_092

Semjase:

32. But now I have to explain to you that in the future you should only devote yourself to your work.

33. But that you can do this again, as always, it is necessary that I take you with me to my ship for a few minutes to regenerate your nerves and also some other things in you.

...

34. It will not take long; come now.

Billy:

16. We were gone about twenty minutes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_093

Billy:

27. How did it actually end with the Cygner girl who you fetched last Saturday, November 26th, after my calling?

Semjase:

98. Everyone is with us at the station, including her ship, whose intergalactic propulsion was destroyed by an explosion.

99. The Cygners have a very ancient technology, which was passed to them less than 4000 years ago, for which we do not have the necessary knowledge.

100. For this reason, it will take a long time before we have repaired the ship, after which it will be returned to the homeworld.

Billy:

28. But spare parts could be brought in from the home planet.

Semjase:

101. Unfortunately this is not possible, because for this outdated technology the necessary knowledge is missing there, too, and furthermore the Cygners are technologically absolutely untalented, which is why they are not able to repair their technological devices, etc. themselves.

...

103. They were underway for four long years, more than two years of which they drove in free fall through space, after the explosion of the propulsion unit.

Billy:

31. By free fall, you mean they were drifting through space without a drive, right?

Semjase:

104. Certainly.

...

106. They spent the time in artificial deep sleep and therefore needed no food.

Billy:

34. I understand – maybe they were still lying in water tanks and were woken up by a robot after a long bath.

Semjase:

107. Sure, but how do you know?

Billy:

35. I have seen such scenes in utopian movies before.

36. Are you twisting my arm?

Semjase:

108. That is no joke.

...

Billy:

40. Man oh man, then the fantasies of the utopian writers are not even far-fetched.

...

Semjase:

113. I will ask Asina.

Billy:

44. That's how the little child introduced herself to me.

Semjase:

114. Sure, Asina is a very kind being.

...

Billy:

46. I did not know that they had similar customs to us in certain relationships.

...

Billy:

48. Then the little girl pressed her cold fish-frog beak to your cheek?

49. It seemed to me like a kiss.

Semjase:

117. Sure, and it should also be a kiss, because that is the Cygner's regular greeting form.

Billy:

...

52. But tell me, why did they not use their radios or something when their ship's propulsion exploded?

Semjase:

118. Because the remote communication devices were also destroyed.

...

124. I will also talk to her, and surely she will agree for a picture.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_095

Billy:

31. I still saw her {Semjase} bounce up and hit her head against the wall in the fall, then she had disappeared because apparently, she had pressed the trigger button of the transmitter when falling.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_096

Billy:

15. It just did not make sense to me that Quetzal came here from Erra just to ask me about the incidents that happened with Semjase.

...

17. Instead, however, he took the trouble to make a seven-hour trip here, to fritter away almost an hour with me and then take on another seven-hour flight to Erra.

...

Billy:

35. By the way, what are you always fiddling about with your funny belt device?

...

38. What are you fiddling with at your funny device again?

39. What does that thing represent?

Isados:

18. This device is a translator.

19. I need it because I do not understand your language.

...

Billy:

42. So I sent my spiritual consciousness to Erra and found a rather strange building there, which somehow magically attracted me.

43. So I penetrated into a room that seemed to me like a supermodern operating theatre.

44. There were various containers, which seemed to me like glass shrines, but equipped with all kinds of possible and impossible devices and apparatuses.

45. All but one container were empty.

46. In the occupied one, Semjase lay completely undressed and obviously deep-frozen – dead.

47. Her head lay in a horseshoe-shaped, opaque apparatus, which is why I was only able to see her face exactly.

...

Isados:

36. It is the truth that Semjase was dead when you found her.
37. Her brain was so badly injured that there was no hope of being able to sustain her life.
38. Our scientists were also unable to help her, which is why her physical existence was slowly being marked by death.
39. She was therefore placed in a deep coma in the container you found her in only a few minutes before her life was finally extinguished.
40. Through the intravenous supply of various substances, her body was put into a rigid and deep-frozen state in a few fractions of a second, which immediately extinguished her physical life, but only for a predetermined period of time during which her spiritual form did not escape from her, for in this state of resurrection possibility, the latter clings in a stagnant form to the organic locality assigned to her, namely in the brain area.
41. Only after the resuscitation of the body does it automatically put aside its stagnation and push itself back to activity.
42. While Semjase was prepared for a later resuscitation, her father Ptaah tried to help her in the DAL universe with Asket, whom you should know.
43. But this help was not able to be given by the people in the other universe either, which is why Asket sought help from a human life-form race in her universe that was 4,000 years more advanced, which she actually found and received there.
44. From there several scientists came to Erra and took Semjase.
45. In a lengthy process, the destroyed brain parts of Semjase were removed, the frozen brain acids were inserted into artificially generated new plasmaprotonal brain parts and directly reconnected to the brain, after which a rapid healing process allowed the artificial and natural plasmas to grow together and the skull could be closed again, which was then regenerated by a rapid process.
46. This made everything the same as before and nothing ever again indicates that these events clouded many things.
47. Semjase will have no memory of it, not even of the 42-hour duration, since she was dead.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_097

Quetzal:

12. Even though the Sonaer were able to save her brain through their very advanced science, the entire process of transforming the artificial protoplasma-form of the brain parts takes several years, during which Semjase must not suffer any overexertion. {See previous entry.}

...

13. ... the artificial plasma form of the new brain parts has to be transformed into physical plasma, which takes several years, namely three to four years.

...

Billy:

15. You said that these Sonaer helped Semjase.

16. Can you tell me more about them?

...

Quetzal:

...

23. Only this much I know about them is that they are a human race of the DAL universe, whose average age of 1,360 Earth years is far superior to our life expectancy.

24. Their body size is 175 centimetres {5' 9"} according to earthly measure, whereby their skull form is much higher and longer than ours, as I could determine.

25. The length of the head is about 25% more than that of us and you.

26. Their race is called Sona in a language unknown to me, and their overall development in technical and medical terms corresponds to 4,000 years more than ours.

...

Billy:

19. But tell me, why do you say that they are 4,000 years ahead of you?

20. Isados said that this was true for Asket's people.

Quetzal:

28. That is of correctness, but we have now reached the same level with the help of the TIMARS.

29. Sorry, I misspoke with 4,000 years in relation to the Sonaer.

Billy:

21. Who is that again?

Quetzal:

30. These are the people, from whom Asket originates.

Billy:

...

24. Do you know what these Timars call our universe?

Quetzal:

...

32. They call it DERN universe.

Billy:

25. And what do you call it?

Quetzal:

33. Our universe is also called DERN universe.

Billy:

26. That is how we talk about the DERN universe in the future.

...

36. But now again a question regarding the Sonaer, who are so highly developed:

37. What is their technology?

Quetzal:

36. It already corresponds to forms that we ourselves cannot yet understand.

37. They are far superior to us in the control of space and time, but also in all other things.

Billy:

38. How, for example, do they master time and space to reach Erra, and how do they master the passage through the barriers of the universe?

Quetzal:

38. They no longer need space-travelling flying apparatuses for this, because their technology is already anchored and deeply embedded in the transmitter area.

...

Billy:

53. Semjase once tried to explain to me weeks ago why you do not just associate with us Earth-humans, especially in physical form.

54. Somehow it sounded from her words that a danger is connected with it for you?

Quetzal:

...

50. The reason that we cannot connect with you human beings of the Earth in physical form is this:

51. The levels of swinging waves between the human being on the Earth and us are so fundamentally different and pronounced in the forms of the negative and the positive as well as the balanced that this can lead to serious consequences if they touch each other.

52. As a rule, these human swinging waves reach up to 90 meters, which is why it must be ensured that this distance is not broached, i.e. that terrestrial humans do not reach us under this distance mark.

53. Our swinging waves are very highly sensitive, and we ourselves react equally highly sensitively to oscillations that penetrate our oscillation range.

54. In contrast to the terrestrial humans, we are very high in our consciousness-based overall development, 20-35 million years ahead of the terrestrial humans, which is why our entire swinging wave system has refined.

55. If the swinging waves of the much less sensitive human being on the Earth were to strike us now, precisely because earthly human, and thus also quite unbalanced and negative swinging waves, would penetrate into the area of our swinging waves, then this would amount to a very strong swinging wave structural agitation, which in reality also embodies it, which would have the consequence that the strong external influence would lead to an instantaneous uncontrollability of all reactions, thoughts and actions in us, which would at the same time trigger uncontrolled feelings of fear.

56. This means that when the swinging waves of an Earth-human meet us, who unfortunately still emits very negative swinging waves today, we would be affected in many respects in momentary speed and start to act uncontrollably, which was also the case with Semjase when she fell in the Centre and suffered the severe injury.

57. As a rule, when we go among terrestrial people, which is very rarely the case, we use a device that protects us from terrestrial human swinging waves.

58. But this was never necessary for you, because you are free of these swinging waves through all your knowledge and equalisedness, according to which it comes very close to ours.

59. In the Center now a certain protective ring, a small protective screen, was established, which keeps away such swinging waves of the terrestrial humans.

60. This protective shield, however, is only of limited strength, so only directly for the Centre itself, but in the lower space still weak radiation from outside can enter if someone goes directly to the entrance or to the outer wall.

61. Now, when Jacobus was at the outer door, his swinging wave penetrated to Semjase and produced in it the fear and uncontrollability I described earlier, which drove her to an uncontrolled action.

62. The consequences of this are known to you.

63. These swinging wave structure agitations, which are dangerous for us, together with our strict directives, are the main reason why we are not allowed to engage in physical contact with terrestrial humans.

64. Even with our telepathic or even only inspirational-impulse-based contacts we have to exercise extreme caution, because thrown back impulse-based swinging waves also have similar effects.

Billy:

55. Then you are quite susceptible.

Quetzal:

65. You are speaking a true word, but our sensitivity in this regard is not only based on our evolution, because our homeland is also a very important factor in this, because it itself is highly sensitised, which does not remain untainted to us human life forms.

Billy:

56. I do not quite understand that, Quetzal, but I have been trying to fathom it for a long time.

57. Semjase once made a rather strange remark to me.

58. This led me to speculate, which is why I assume that you live on your Pleiades in a differently dimensioned form.

59. By this I mean that you are probably up there in our universe and in our time, as Semjase once explained to me, but that you are dimensionally shifted, namely in a parallel system of our Pleiades.

...

Quetzal:

74. But this does not change anything, because we are just as compact and present in this dimension of ours as we are in that of our Pleiades systems, because we are descended from this dimension and also from your dimension.

75. Why we live in a parallel dimension on Erra and in our Pleiades systems, in general, is due to the fact that the Pleiades systems are not habitable for us in this dimension, your dimension, and could not be made habitable by our ancestors either, because the system for habitation is still much too young for us in this dimension.

Billy:

66. Your explanation is plausible, but what is the nature of the Pleiades system in the other dimension?

67. Is it as solid as our Earth?

Quetzal:

76. It is a parallel dimension, that is what I said, therefore matter is also of the same strength as the Earth's matter.

77. The dimensions are simply different in their structure, but not in time and space.

...

Quetzal:

87. Nevertheless, I would like to hear from you who you call 'Cannibal'.

Billy:

80. Gladly – yes, just grin –, I call my wife that, because I find that this designation for her from my side ...

Quetzal:

88. Hahaha, that, haha that is really humorous, besides ...

Billy:

81. Just grin, you monster, and make fun of it until I pull your ears out.

Quetzal:

89. It is really funny how you show your affection, only that is why I am amused.

...

Quetzal:

96. Slowly I understand better why Semjase has changed so much since she is in contact with you.

97. Her humour, which she had never known before in its present form, seems to come from you.

...

99. ... I know from Semjase that she is very comfortable with your jokes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_098

Billy:

6. First, I want to give you my best regards from my Cannibal. {see previous entry}

7. She agrees that you should call her what I do.

...

Quetzal:

8. She delights me very much with it and she should be sure of my thanks.

9. It is very strange to me that I feel joy in such matters, because so far such things were strange to me, but I feel quite exhilarated by this joy.

...

Billy:

...

12. But I see, my son, that you are versatile and that you still react naturally.

13. This might also be the reason why you react to certain things, including feeling-based ones, of us Earth-humans in such a form that you feel joy in them.

Quetzal:

11. My inner life is probably not hidden from you?

Billy:

14. You were born too late for that.

Quetzal:

12. I ...?

13. What are you trying to express?

14. It is un... ah, ... hahaha, now I understand.

...

16. I understand, hahaha ... I am some centuries older than you, and yet I was born too late for you.

17. That ..., hahahaha, that is really good, I understand you very well now.

...

Billy:

60. Do you not kiss your sweet ones, your girls, and vice versa?

61. Or is that only left to us Earth-humans?

Quetzal:

...

80. But yes, we also have these feeling-based stirrings.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_099

Billy:

33. You really cannot do a short cut just because everything is not going as you envisioned it would.

34. Remember that we cursed earth moles are as ignorant and barbaric as the last monkeys from the jungle.

35. Consider, for once, that the truth has not been fed to us off of spoons and that your fair ancestors were involved in this damned mess.

36. Just remember that you cannot turn an Earth-human into a pig and then give him/her only one short chance to develop into a human being again.

37. Remember, damn it, that your ancestors stole and ruined all our knowledge, raised themselves up before us as gods and God creations, and that they were the ones who rejoiced in our ruination and exploited us through it, absolutely knowing that we had to turn into the most miserable mess in the entire universe.

38. It is therefore damn unfair, if for once, you take a close look at everything from our side, if you just want to leave us lying in the dirt.

39. We are barbarians, unknowing, poor and damned pigs, yes, but we became that through your ancestors, my son, consider that.

40. And if you already know that, and you know that damn well, because otherwise you would not have come to us to help us and to bring back to us what your heroic, damned ancestors have ruined for us, why do you not feel obliged to help us to the very end, even if we are still quite stupid and primitive in our cursed ignorance, because all our knowledge has been stolen or ruined.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_100

Quetzal:

9. But take into positive consideration the fact that our task is extremely difficult and that we must acquire new knowledge continuously and mostly by making mistakes, just as you have to make in order to gain knowledge.

10. This is not meant as an excuse, but only a request that you try to understand us and that we still have a lot to learn, especially here on the Earth, in connection with you Earth-humans and with your, still in many parts, hidden forms of thinking, feelings and emotions.

...

23. We can only ask all of you to understand us, because we are only human beings like you, and we too are far from making any mistakes in the evolution.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_101

Billy:

31. That is not good, but can you at least send the squirts [the energy clearing dwarfes] into our den and into her old room to remove her vibrations?

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_102

Billy:

8. Here on Earth, it is customary to celebrate a birthday.

9. Do you do that also?

Quetzal:

15. We always remember the time of our birth.

16. But we do not celebrate, for such action is based on a primitive pagan cult.

Menara:

3. This is also the case here, as Quetzal explains.

Billy:

10. Aha, good.

11. I do not mean at the celebration that we celebrate a festivity, at least not in our circles.

12. We just have a little party where we sit together, eat and drink something and talk.

Quetzal:

17. Then I have misunderstood you.

18. In a similar form, we also remember the day of our birth, when we reach the age of 1,000 years, otherwise not.

Billy:

13. Nice, in other circles the Earth-humans really party, at least among all those humans who are real party types.

Quetzal:

19. This does not occur with us.

...

Quetzal:

60. In and of itself we expected your actions in the knowledge of your complete clarity and reverence in such matters, but nevertheless, we were surprised at the purity and reverence with which you yourself handled everything, whereby not a single unclear or impure thought was in you, as Menara determined through her thought analyser.

61. Know in this regard, dear friend, that even I could not have done this, because I am not capable of it, not even in spite of my higher state of evolution.

62. Truthfully, I would have acted the same as you, but my thoughts would have played and separated impure thoughts, for I too am only a human being and devoted to these things like any form of life.

63. But you are much further in this respect than I am, which is why I would envy you if I were capable of these feelings.

...

Billy:

109. Are you familiar with jokes?

110. Do you know a joke?

Quetzal:

109. No.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_103

Quetzal:

9. I understand that and it saddens me a lot.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_104

Quetzal:

34. ... he often causes me and also Semjase and Ptaah serious worries ...

35. ... has been causing us a great deal of worry for some time, and especially at present.

...

47. It is not acceptable for reproaches to be made against us in relation to our tone and conduct when we are right.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_106

Quetzal:

21. This is also the reason why various group members increasingly sought mistakes in our actions and thinking, accusing us of incorrectness and flawedness, because in their short-sighted manner of thinking and in their inadequate manner of acting they are not yet able to understand and grasp the more evolved paths of our state of development.

22. They are still too entangled and bound in their earthly forms of thinking and acting to be able to become acquainted with the higher forms of our evolution without making constant comparisons with the absolutely inadequate states of evolution of the earthly forms.

...

26. From this point on it is no longer very long until we are either worshipped as gods or covered with hatred and rejected.

...

{Note: The following conversation refers to a photograph that has been enhanced by painted-in effects that appeared in the September 1977 issue of GEO: Das neue Bild der Erde / Ein Magazin vom Stern, Verlag Gruner + Jahr AG & Co. [Hamburg, Germany], pages 36-56, "Countdown für San Francisco" Ein Bericht von Georg Gerster, pages 36-37 photo by Max Scheler, design by Ludek Pesek.}

Quetzal:

46. I did not know that this picture, which was inspirationally given to this man, had already been published.

47. Here, there must have been a slip-up, because not until the autumn of this year should it reach the public.

Billy:

43. Well, this is likely bad luck for me, and quite lousy, because now again I have to go through the same performance, like at the time with the photograph of the universe door.

{Note: This refers to a photograph taken by Billy of the "gateway" between the DERN Universe and the DAL Universe (see Contact 31) and a painting by Rick Guidice titled "Interior view looking out through large windows", painted for NASA's Ames Research Center in Mountain View, California, USA. It appeared in the February 1976 issue of Smithsonian magazine (ISSN 0037-7333, volume 6, number 11, pages 62-69: "Colonies in space may turn out to be nice places to live" by Ron Chernow) and in an appendix (titled Space Colony Illustrations – Cylindrical Colonies) to the 1977 U.S. government publication titled Space Settlements: A Design Study (NASA SP-413), which can be viewed here. For further information regarding this subject see also a skeptic's review here.}

44. However, who did actually transmit this impression to that painter?

Quetzal:

48. These were those of the Baawi-Intelligences, who work together with us here on Earth, and who are responsible for many inspirational transmissions.

49. But there must have been a mistake suffered by them in respect to the publication of the picture, because in connection with certain coming events, the picture was not to reach terrestrial publication until the autumn of this year.

50. On my part, I thought, when you had asked me for this journey that this just very well would connect to your photographs.

...

Quetzal:

83. We will program our monitoring and control device above the centre to record all thoughts and conversations, so that we are always well informed.

84. If it turns out that thoughts and talk of this kind are not revoked in valuable time, then this would mean the final breaking off of the remaining contact possibility, but also the task of our mission, which we chose out of a free sense of duty.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_107

Semjase:

3. Ple, you should not mention that name.

Plejja:

6. Forgive me, but this exact likeness tempted me to it and made me careless.

Billy:

Alright, children, do not argue about it. But tell me, is "Ple" something like a pet name?

Semjase:

4. Sure.

...

Semjase:

40. Sure, certain events of a rather unpleasant nature have afflicted you very much, and because of this, I feel much sorrow for you.

...

Billy:

... But girl, now tell me something else: you are very susceptible to our swinging waves, but nevertheless, you told me once that you would move among us Earth-humans every now and then. How does that make sense now? If you go crazy when you come into our vicinity, then how can it be that you yourselves still move among us?

Semjase:

115. That is very easy to explain:

116. If we move among you Earth-humans, then we use, as I have already explained to you before, a very small device to neutralise the swinging waves of the Earth-humans.

117. These devices, however, are very low-performance and only hold energy for barely 32 minutes.

118. Thus, it is not possible for us to use these devices for longer periods of time.

119. We still are not so far along that our devices could fully guard or protect us.

Billy:

But Asket already had such devices, which provided full and complete protection for many weeks and months. Why do you not make the same?

Semjase:

120. Their devices are designed completely differently and are absolutely unsuitable for our vibrations.

121. Asket also cannot help us with this, and thus, our scientists are dependent on developing their own devices that are coordinated to us, which are also based on an entirely different technology than the one that Asket had with herself.

Billy:

Then nothing can be done there. But about how long will it still take, before you have fully developed such devices?

Semjase:

122. It is a very lengthy process and can, therefore, take a very long time.

123. Unfortunately, not only do purely technological processes have to be observed and evaluated with everything but also psychological and consciousness-related ones, which makes everything even much more difficult.

124. If everything was only of a purely technological matter, then it would be of insignificance.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_108

Ptaah:

44. That which we have prepared for hundreds and thousands of years in strict and constant effort, and which seemed irrevocable to us, has been ruined and destroyed by some irrational, selfish, inconsistent, treacherous, and intellectually impoverished Earth-humans, as well as by internal and best-informed group members, whereby we are forced to look for a new way if we want to do justice to our task.

45. How much irrationality, treachery, slander, tyranny, selfishness, lying, deception, intellectual poverty and rational poverty must still also truly be concealed in those fallible Earth-humans, who are already moving in somewhat higher consciousness-related courses.

46. This is a very deplorable factor, which has only fully come to our awareness now, however, and which we also, unfortunately, had not included in our calculations.

...

Ptaah:

52. There is just one thing that I do not understand in his {Quetzal's} explanations, namely that he speaks of a Cannibal.

Billy:

35. That is quite simple, my son:

36. Quetzal and I have our pleasure in calling my wife by this name.

Ptaah:

53. ? ? ?

54. – Ha ha ha ha ... you and... ha ha ha ha, that, ... that is just like the two of you.

55. Ha ha ha ha ... that is really amusing, despite the deep seriousness of the situation.

56. Ha ha ha ... you are good, really.

57. Cannibal, ha ha ha, that really sounds very good; may I also?

58. ... will you ask your wife if I may also call her that in my old age?

59. It also gives me pleasure – Cannibal.

60. Ha ha ha ha ... the name really has something in it ...

Billy:

37. Calm down, my son, I will ask already.

38. Surely she will be in agreement with it.

39. We also have another barbarian, in addition to my Cannibal.

Ptaah:

61. Ah, ha ha ha ... and who should that be?

Billy:

40. Maria, the ruler of the herd boss Engelbert.

Ptaah:

62. Ah??

Quetzal:

18. Ha ha ha ha ha ... ha ha ha ha ha ...

Ptaah:

63. Why are you laughing?

Quetzal:

19. I find your cluelessness so amusing.

Ptaah:

64. It is probably time for us to go, for apparently, can we no longer find reasonable forms of conversation.

...

Billy:

41. You spoilsport – but apparently, you do, nevertheless, understand a joke, my son.

Ptaah:

66. We also have a sense of humour and understanding for that, even if yours is often strange.

67. But now, till we meet again, my friend, although I could be several times your father rather than your son.

Billy:

42. Ptaah, you are as good as gold.

...

45. Bye to you both, you humorous guys.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_109

Billy:

5. But tell me, girl, the apple there beside the viewing screen, have you stolen that from somewhere?

Semjase:

5. No, it belongs to my provisions.

Billy:

6. Where did you get it, then?

7. Did you buy it somewhere?

Semjase:

6. No, not that either.

7. It comes from the greenhouses of my father.

Billy:

8. You mean that it is from Ptaah's giant box, that it grew there and was harvested?

Semjase:

8. Definitely.

Billy:

9. Aha, then you also have such fruits, as we know them here on the Earth.

Semjase:

9. Sure, but they were not originally native fruits of Erra.

10. The apple is from a tree, which comes from a progeny of earthly trees.

Billy:

10. Oh, I see, so you have fruit trees that were taken from the Earth, which you simply continue to cultivate, and you also let these bloom and bear fruit in your Great Spacer.

11. So what kinds of trees do you have, then?

Semjase:

11. We possess trees, shrubs, and plants of every kind, as they also exist on the Earth.

12. There are even various kinds in our greenhouses, which have already been extinct on the Earth for a very long time.

13. But we have preserved them and have made them useful to us.

14. Thus, we have all fruits, as they are also known on the Earth with you, and even several more, which you only know through your researchers of antiquity, etc.

Billy:

12. That is fantastic.

13. And – how do these fruits taste today with you?

14. Do they still have the same taste, as we know it?

Semjase:

15. You think now of this apple.

16. Sure, the taste has remained the same; it is, perhaps, even somewhat more intense than with your apples of this sort, and certainly much better in its juice.

17. But all the other fruit trees from the Earth also bear fruit with the tastes or flavours known to you; it's just that these, as I have already explained, have become somewhat more intense since our robots and androids maintaining the trees work on these very attentively and also have great concern for them, as this happens with all plants cultivated by them.

...

(Billy took the large apple and brought it home with him, where he handed it over to Guido Moosbrugger, who then inserted the apple into a glass of alcohol and made it durable in this manner. The apple still exists today and is still in the same glass under the care of Guido.)

...

Ptaah:

119. Also, the individual assessments, which are still to be explained to you by Quetzal after my last remarks, are to be treated in such a manner that they do not become known to the entire internal group or to the public after the report transmissions.

120. These assessments solely apply to the group members concerned, who are to be named in particular.

Billy:

99. Okay, I can arrange that, but it will cost me a great deal of effort if I have to separate everything and arrange it in a list.

Quetzal:

11. I will not transmit the transmissions to you in the usual form but will program our transmission apparatuses in such a way that you can receive the transmissions at will, whereby you are only bound to time to the extent that you should be finished with your work by 3 o'clock in the morning on Sunday, the 11th of June.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_110

Semjase:

10. We have become tired of constantly having to deal with these kinds of unfruitful and destructive matters ...

...

19. Please do not interrupt me.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_111

Semjase:

9. Quetzal brought you into our ship with the porter {teleportation device}, examined you very closely, and diagnosed you here via the apparatuses.

10. There are, therefore, no doubts about its findings.

11. It was also the one who connected you to this regeneration device, in order to eliminate the most dangerous illness effects.

12. That is why you feel much better now.

13. Your moisture discharge, which you call sweat and which you noticed, is also because of this treatment referred to you, and it will still continue to persist for approximately one hour.

...

Semjase:

23. Just bring forth your mockery with us; we have honestly earned it.

24. But on the other hand, you should take into consideration that we are not super humans or super people and also have to learn constantly, which we can often only do through committed mistakes.

25. On the other hand, however, the Earth-humans still pose great and partially very severe problems for us in their whole manner of thinking and acting, whereby we can be misled over and over again, and through this, we also inevitably make wrong decisions and have false views.

Billy:

18. I am not reproaching you all, girl.

19. Sometimes, one is just led to express oneself in mockery.

Quetzal:

24. That is of correctness; that is also often the case with us.

...

Quetzal:

28. Once I have set you down, keep moving and do not just stand still at the place; otherwise, you will fall asleep on the spot.

29. I had to numb your nerves, so now, it is as though they are sleeping, and they are very slow to react.

Billy:

36. Oh, and how long will this condition last, then?

Quetzal:

30. Around 12 to 14 days, for only through this will the nerves regenerate in a short time.

Billy:

37. So, how did you make this numbing?

Quetzal:

31. Through electromagnetic influences.

Billy:

38. So to speak, a bombardment?

Quetzal:

32. That is approximately of correctness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_112

Billy:

... How is it with you: Do you actually also dance? I mean, like with us, men and women together, etc.?

Semjase:

7. Such rhythmic movements are well-known to us, and the Earth-humans have also taken this over from our ancestors.

8. These rhythmic movements are, to my knowledge, known among all human forms in the Universe, only in very different forms.

9. But the rule is that male life-forms among us do not indulge in such rhythmic movements together with female life-forms but only alone or among their peers.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_114

Quetzal:

11. That is, unfortunately, of correctness, and concerning this, I would still like to say the following, which depresses me:

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_115

Billy:

... Many women of the Earth are just not so far along as you all, who give your husbands faith when they tell you all something.

Semjase:

222. We do not know such untruths anymore.

...

Billy:

... how does it actually stand with you all on Erra, with regard to marriage? You, Quetzal, are you actually married, and if so, how many children do you have? And you, Ptaah, your wife, is she your only one?

Ptaah:

25. The law of love has overall universal validity, only that it very often becomes changed by the most diverse human races according to their own human and illogical negative values; thus, they often create a monogamous marriage, which is literally restricted to only one woman and one man for such a marriage and such a family; thus, the truthfulness of monogamy – as you have so aptly disassembled for me once – no longer applies.

...

28. Well then, I was married to three women, which corresponds to the minimum value of a We-Form-Partnership of universal expanse.

29. Nevertheless, out of the three, the only one living is the mother of my deceased son and my two daughters, for the other two have left me by means of death – the one already more than 300 years ago and the other one more than 360 years ago.

Billy:

Aha, and how many years old is your still remaining wife?

Ptaah:

30. 630 years.

Billy:

... But what about further descendants? Do you have even more?

Ptaah:

31. No, my current wife only bore me three children.

Billy:

Well, thanks for your information. So what about you, Quetzal?

Semjase:

362. He is pampered by four very beautiful women and has 6 children with them.

Billy:

You smile so suspiciously, girl; you seem to be really happy about it?

Semjase:

363. Sure, his wives are my best friends, and they always wish that I shall become the fifth in their alliance.

Billy:

And, Quetzal, what do you say to that?

Quetzal:

40. Semjase and I are of another opinion than my wives.

Billy:

And why, if one may ask?

Semjase:

364. I would not like to marry again.

365. On the one hand, because the loss of a human being by death gives me very much grief, and on the other hand, because I have found a very important task in my activities, which can hardly be reconciled with a marriage.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_116

Quetzal:

1. It is very unfortunate that the device is not functioning in the manner that we hoped for.
2. Indeed, it is fully functional, but for reasons that are incomprehensible to me, it brings you no relief.

Billy:

According to what criteria have you manufactured it, then?

Quetzal:

3. According to the exact analytical recordings of our apparatuses over your body.

...

Quetzal:

...

5. Therefore, do not be anxious, for under all circumstances, I will make the device functional for you, even if I myself can no longer bring it to use with you together.

...

7. But in any case, it will be so, that you will be connected to this device in each case by a robotic apparatus, which will come to you and also ask you to wait at a certain place for this.

...

{Note: Please see the full Contact Report for the context of this entry. See also Contact Report 117:P138-140 entry below.}

Quetzal:

76. We would first have to let these things be clarified by the High Council, but it would certainly look like this: that for this task, a young married couple would be determined or else a virgin, who would be inseminated as such and would also bear a child still as a virgin.

Billy:

Do you mean that even with the young married couple, the woman would still have to be a virgin, or am I mistaken there? And at the same time, are you also thinking of an artificial procreation?

Quetzal:

77. That is of correctness, and evidently, you understand very well what I am getting at with my explanation.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_117

Quetzal:

10. I know; you have finally laid out The Law of Love and the clarification of Life and Death.

...

Ptaah:

95. I would like to ask that you make a copy of each work available to me.

96. My daughter Pleija would also like a copy of each.

Billy:

You can have that; indeed, Quetzal also wants one of each.

Semjase:

25. You also should not forget me.

Billy:

But I will always give you a copy of everything anyway.

Semjase:

26. Sure, but these will always be assigned to our archive.

27. But I would still like to have a copy of each of these works for myself alone.

Billy:

Okay, I will gladly do that. But tell me, Ptaah, how will you read my books, then? You only speak Greek, and we always have to use this translator together. How will you find your way in the books, then?

Ptaah:

97. I will have them be translated for me into my native language.

98. In all other respects, I have decided that next year, I will endeavour myself around the German language, if it should be decided in the month of March that we can continue to attend to our task and still fulfil this.

Billy:

Man, I think that is great, but look here, I received these photos a few months ago from abroad, with the note that the pictures were made in a private museum of a man who had stolen some scrolls in an ancient grave somewhere in Egypt. I have also received the film of these pictures. What do you think of it, Ptaah?

Ptaah:

(He looks closely at the photos and then puts them in a device, which looks like a screen, and then speaks some words that are unintelligible to me into the same device.)

99. In a few minutes, we will have an analysis that tells us whether the image prints are genuine and whether the photographed material is old or new and, thus, whether it concerns a forgery or not.

100. The writing on the prints really should be known to you, my friend.

Billy:

It is, indeed, known to me, as Sfath and Asket have striven to teach me this language. This concerns the old Lyran language, which is extremely similar to our German language in very many values, so, for example, in the sentence structure and in many other things, like, for example, in sentence progression.

Ptaah:

101. You still understand the language?

102. Do you also still understand how to speak it?

Billy:

With the speaking, it lacks quite enormously, but with the deciphering, it goes to some extent, although I had quite nasty difficulties with it at the beginning.

Ptaah:

103. Then you should practice the language again, for it is still current in certain planetary areas.

104. Maybe you can use it sometime.

Billy:

You are good, I already messed around with it for several months until I only had the alphabet together again and was able to decipher the writing, which has, indeed, no longer been current for around eight thousand years and has probably also been completely forgotten by the human beings of the Earth.

...

Ptaah:

110. One moment, my friend, we are getting the analysis.

111. Yes, look here, the prints are genuine and show a photographed material that is 8,000 years old.

112. It concerns a paper-like material that has all the properties of paper but is far more stable and was used by the old descendants of the Lyrans who ultimately came to the Earth.

113. This means that the man with whom you have spoken must, therefore, actually be in possession of 8,000-year-old original documents.

\[Note: See the full Contact Report for the image and its translation. This appears to be the same document described by Wendelle Stevens here \(from 30:16-33:25\), and shown on pages 15-18 of Message From The Pleiades: The Contact Notes of Eduard Billy Meier 4, although the document described by Stevens in the video and the book has a different backstory origin. The scrap of text indicates the line of succession of prophets from Henok to Billy; see also this chart.)

...

{Note: For the following entry, please refer to Contact Report 116:Q76-77 entry above.}

Billy:

... But tell me, how should such an artificial insemination take place according to your idea?

Ptaah:

138. Two possibilities would be possible.

139. The first would, indeed, be quite impractical and even disagreeable to us, namely that an artificially induced fertilization would be carried out, for which we would have to put the appropriate virgin in a hypno-psychic state, through which she would release a self-fertilization.

140. The second possibility would be that earthly physicians would, through a natural expenditure, carry out a transfer of sperm from a suitable man and manoeuvre this sperm in the normal way of transfer into the body of the virgin obligating herself to this.

...

Billy:

What I would still like to say: the last times, Quetzal has given the report transmissions to me slower than usual because I have a new typewriter, with which I am not yet so fast. Would it be possible that you, too, transmit this and the next reports to me a little more slowly, so that I keep up with the typing? Everything is, indeed, still so incredibly fast.

Semjase:

38. Sure, but Quetzal has now developed a control gear device, with which it is now possible to type faster.

...

Semjase:

51. Look here, this measuring instrument behind your back – you have not even noticed it – it indicates here your physical and psychical power reserves.

52. And as you see here, these are very close to the minus value.

53. This display here, however, which I, Quetzal, and father have already had our eyes on for a good while and attentively observe, shows us how you generate new powers out of your consciousness-realm and constantly drive these values up again from your psyche and physical body.

54. As you yourself see, the display here steadily rises to higher values, and within just a short hour, you will already have more than a third of your power reserves again.

55. In two hours, there will already be two thirds, and in three hours, your power reserves will be completely normal again, even though they were below the minus value when you came here.

56. Similarly, you will also still further increase your powers afterwards and will enrich the normal, constant powers of the physical body and the psyche again.

57. But similarly, Quetzal has also done this, which we could also determine with him with this measuring apparatus.

58. But how you bring this to pass, both of you, that is puzzling to us because normally, human beings not of your type often require many months and even years to regenerate these powers fully, while human beings of our sensitivity still require even more time when it comes to such decays of powers.

59. You both are really very puzzling to us, and from this, it arises that our sciences have a new object of research, which was previously unknown to them.

Billy:

Aha, then in the future, Quetzal will probably play experimental rabbit?

Quetzal:

16. It will be necessary for me to be submitted to tests and analyses, etc.

17. That will be unavoidable because the whole thing represents a phenomenon, whose deciphering can be of great importance for many life-forms because perhaps they can acquire, through an exact investigation and solution of the things, the same ability that the two of us possess and that was previously unknown among us.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_119

Ptaah:

2. Every contact attempt has been unsuccessful so far, unfortunately.

3. It seems to be absolutely the case that they do not perceive us at all.

Billy:

But, you could, nevertheless, simply fly up to these unknown flying objects.

Ptaah:

4. That cannot be done, unfortunately, because the objects depart immediately, as soon as a flying device that is foreign to them approaches them.

Billy:

I find that crazy. After all, you should have certain possibilities with your highly developed technology.

Quetzal:

1. Even our possibilities are limited.

2. You are only looking at everything from the perspective of an earthly standpoint, whereby you overestimate our technology, at least in this case.

Billy:

That is possible, and I see, therefore, that even for you, limits are set in certain matters of technology.

Quetzal:

3. That is of correctness.

...

Quetzal:

4. But now, I would like to give you my best wishes for the start of your forty-second year of life.

5. We have only come here today for this reason.

...

Semjase:

6. Under no circumstances did I want to fail to greet you today and to give you my dearest wishes.

Ptaah:

5. I have also come here with the same wishes for you.

Billy:

You are making me rather embarrassed, but I am very happy and thank you very much. But on the other hand, I must already say that you behave rather peculiarly, namely just like earthlings. After all, such birthday wishes are otherwise not your style.

Quetzal:

6. That is of correctness, but especially Semjase has pushed very much to offer you wishes in this form because through this, we can draw you near to how much we are already connected with earthly things, in reference to certain common interests of the Earth-humans.

...

Billy:

... Look here; here is an entire stack of descriptive sheets. I have them fully written with cosmic and mathematical calculations regarding various things. In the main, this was all about calculating the expansion rate of the Creation and, thus, also of the universe. With this, I wanted to work out the distance of the diameter of the universe and thereby came across the following results, if I may present these?

...

Semjase:

13. But of course, because I know you very well and know so very exactly that you really would never approach us with such questions if you were not sure of your case.

Ptaah:

10. But now, in this case, this might be an exaggeration, my child.

Quetzal:

11. That is also my view.

12. It would be a pointless endeavor to listen to these questions ...

Semjase:

14. That is very intolerant of you both.

15. On the other hand, you should, nevertheless, know our friend better.

16. At least give him a chance, because he has very much more than just earned this through all his surely very great efforts with his calculations, even if these are faulty, which I do not presume, however, and could not understand.

Ptaah:

11. In this light, your argumentation is of correctness – then it should be so.

12. Bring forth your questions, my friend.

Billy:

And you, Quetzal – do you also agree with it?

Quetzal:

13. If Ptaah gives consent, then I will argue nothing against it, even though everything in this regard seems senseless to me.

...

{Note: Please see the full Contact Report for the context of this entry.}

Billy:

That is possible; it is not going particularly well for me. At the same time, I just think that everything has no great meaning anymore. Somehow, I feel this.

Semjase:

31. I know, because everything is only a postponement, which is why I myself very often feel sad.

...

Billy:

... Can you tell me how much oxygen a full-grown tree actually supplies and how many young trees are needed to replace a full-grown tree in its oxygen production?

Semjase:

56. This question falls into the area of one of my professions, and therefore, I can answer it for you:

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_120

{Note: Please see the full Contact Report for the context of this entry.}

Quetzal:

56. In our last visit, Semjase was so very happy about the fact that everything was back to being almost as it was at an earlier time, and now I have to rummage around in these foul things again.

57. How sorry I am about all this, and it disgusts me already.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_121

{Note: This entry is related to Contact Report 96:136-47.}

Menara:

8. But on this day, she personally carried out a very important analysis for the first time, in whose course and result she got so worked up that her artificial brain mass that was still in transition produced dangerous changes, through which she fell into a deep coma.

9. The only possibility left for us was to bring her immediately to Asket's people in the DAL Universe, where she is now being brought back to good health by the same scientists who treated Semjase before.

10. In the meantime, it is already very good with her again, but now, it is being tried to transform the artificial brain convolutions in a very short time through certain procedures and innovations, after which such incidents should not appear anymore.

11. The attempts for this plan are still ongoing, but these should be completed and finished in the course of next week, after which then the actual transformation treatment will be carried out, which should take about 2 months.

...

Menara:

79. Understand that I feel very deep love for you and that you are like a brother to me, as this also occurs with Semjase and Pleija as well as Quetzal and Ptaah.

...

Billy:

What are the recordings stored on?

Menara:

92. They are very small electronic storage disks the size of a normal female thumbnail.

...

Menara:

...

94. There would only be the possibility that one of the elements would be defective, by which means recordings would be missing.

...

{Billy:}

(Menara speaks with someone by means of a kind of video device – with a man unknown to me.)

...

Menara:

...

98. Yes, you were right with your assumption that something was lost, but it was not a storage element but rather a microscopically small connecting piece between two tiny storage cells, by which means the recordings were not played.

...

101. Somehow, I must have damaged the element during a manipulation.

...

Menara:

114. Look here; these are her {Elsi's} words, if you can decipher the symbols, and these characters here are the recordings of her true thinking and the unconscious.

...

Menara:

164. After that, I have to exchange a corresponding element in the control device, which will be programmed according to the data to be submitted to me.

165. This element will then be coupled with an automatic control mechanism, which is programmed on the thought impulses of the individual group members and also on the group member candidates and which automatically sets a corresponding circuit in function for the elimination of all values in the central piece if an unjustified and illogical absence from an exercise or registration occurs, but this also applies to a storage.

166. This apparatus works in such a manner that it is able, in its half-organic operation, to determine genuine illness symptoms, evasions, and untrue information absolutely logically and independently, in order then, accordingly, to set a corresponding circuit into function, which regulates the broad storage or the elimination of all data and powers.

167. So in the future, if anyone stays away from the Sohar Centre {see the last entry here, a meditation area at the Semjase Silver Star Center} without a logical reason, so therefore, not as a result of truthful illness, non-availability for some compelling reason, nausea, or self-unintentional delay, then the individual's entire storage will be eliminated for that person, according to which the further use of the Sohar Centre by the same becomes completely unnecessary because he or she will no longer be able to achieve successes therein, for which the control disk is also programmed.

168. But this also means that all the forces of an incarnation storage would likewise be eliminated in such a case, whereby these then also fall out.

...

174. What is not functioning properly yet, with regard to the Sohar Centre, is that it now also finally has to be understood by the responsible persons that they have to turn off their thoughts during the introduction of persons into the Sohar Centre, which is not done, unfortunately.

175. Quetzal has, indeed, invented and installed a suitable safeguard, which absorbs such power, but there is still constantly the risk that through the thoughts of the one introducing, some unpleasant incidents or damage will appear.

...

{Note: The following excerpt refers to a detailed history of the Plejaren civilization and their expeditions to Earth and the Solar system given in Contact Report 5:S67-193, Contact Report 9:S120-170, and Contact Report 70:S23-181.}

Billy:

... Then I have a somewhat complicated question: through various calculations, I have, another time, encountered the fact that something cannot be right with the dimensions of our present, from this to the Centaurus groups as well as to Lyra and Vega and even to the Pleiades.

According to my calculations, these suns and planets addressed – of which there was already often talk between Semjase, Quetzal and me as well as between Ptaah and me – would really have to be in other dimensions, as it was said to me repeatedly. This would, therefore, actually mean that their Lyra and Vega human beings, and still some others, are just as non-existent in our present dimension as also the Pleiadians and the Centaurus human beings. And if my calculations are right, then you all would have to live just a fraction of a second in the future to our space-time configuration, which for us, however, results in a difference of several thousand years, with regard to technological development. But how this is connected, that is a riddle to me, and it could even be very difficult to understand. But Ptaah once spoke of the fact that on that or on a planet of the Centaurus groups, a people lives in overpopulation, which comprises about 120 billion (120,000,000,000), so these, then, would have to live in the future, as seen by us. On the other hand, I also calculated that at that time – around twenty-two million years ago, when the events took place in the Lyra and Vega area, which eventually led to the visits to our Earth – at that time, through some skillful manipulations, the Lyra and Vega refugees fell into the past and so penetrated into our space-time level. With certainty, this was no so-called chance but rather a full calculation. This arose from my contemplation of the fact that the technology of your ancestors was already so widely developed at that time that these would have tracked and found the refugees with certainty. But since that was not the case, the refugees must have retreated into areas that fell outside of the control of the pursuers. But concerning this, there are only two possibilities, so namely the past or the future. But as I know the things now, the refugees were not able to venture into the future, so only the past remained open to them, to where they then actually also retreated. And because the past comprises millions of years and even billions of years in a life-potential form, the pursuit was given up, but this, in turn, means that the technology of your ancestors was not yet developed so far that they would have been able to carry out detections in the areas of the past or the future. ...

Menara:

43. On the other hand, in our overall form of leadership of the peoples, politics is foreign to us, so we will also never get involved on the Earth and with the earthly governments in such a form and connection.

44. Politics are only operated by human life-forms who are still very foreign to the truth and who look at, consider, and handle all things in childish aspects.

45. We, however, have long been beyond such forms and will never get involved in them anymore, neither in one form nor another.

...

48. We conduct no negotiations at all with any earthly governments because we are those who want to help without any compensation and without any demands of the human beings of Earth for our profit.

49. We are solely willing to offer assistance within a reasonable and responsible framework, without the human being of Earth owing us a wage because of that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_123

Semjase:

48. The objects observed and photographed by you come from the Andromeda areas, and these are fine-material flying objects – similar to the bio-organic flying objects that you know.

49. In this case, however, it is such that these flying objects are fine-material and not bio-organic and that these, depending on preference and need, are generated by powers of consciousness from a very highly developed, human dwarf race, whose size amounts to approximately 70 cm, whereby I speak of body height.

50. This race, which is even unknown to us, is fine-dimensioned and stands in the advice of the High Council ...

...

53. Anyhow, the High Council became informed and enlightened by these Nabulianians – so they are, in fact, called ...

...

Semjase:

67. Also, Quetzal will continue to endeavour himself around your health and will try to develop his apparatus and the accompanying device appropriate for it, so he can then, perhaps, install this in the control disk, which also remains, of course.

68. From there, you would then be under the constant impulse effect of the device, so then, no direct connection to your body would be necessary anymore.

...

Billy:

You are very brainy in terms of psychology, girl. During your remarks, I considered everything thoroughly and came to the same result as you.

Semjase:

173. Thank you, but I am also well-versed in psychology, for this is one of my special areas of expertise.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_124

Semjase:

6. I took everything from our recordings, which are continuously made by the monitoring apparatus, as you know, and concerning your person, everything in the vicinity of 20 kilometres from your Centre is recorded.

...

16. The apparatus does not record lifeless data but only living or self-moving.

...

Semjase:

76. We have to do so because, despite everything, we are not sufficiently familiar with your earthly conditions, so that we could make such decisions alone and by ourselves.

77. The fact that we grasp these things and concerns far too little and are not sufficiently familiar with these, this has proven itself to us throughout the entire time of the last years since you and I took up contact.

...

79. During the last days, we had to teach ourselves about the fact that we grasp and grasped the earthly concerns far too little and that you {Billy} have truly always acted correctly.

80. This also applies to all personnel of the human beings and, thus, to all group members, whom you, despite all our better analysis capabilities, were able to and are able to judge better and handle better than is possible for us.

81. Surely, this late admission is not easy for us, but it must be done anyway, because it corresponds to the truth.

...

Billy:

... I, for my part, find that your analyses of persons are very much better than my own determinations.

Semjase:

86. Sure, in this respect, we can rely on our apparatuses utterly and completely.

...

Semjase:

131. Next time, it will be an earlier coming back, for now, each month, in spite of our departure, we will always be about three weeks on Earth, where we inhabit our stations that we left and keep them in good condition.

...

133. We continue to use them and hope that we can take them over again in full function at a later point in time.

...

138. Up to that point in time {"two to three years at the earliest"}, however, if this actually comes from the changes for the better in your group and in the individual group members, all our earthly stations remain free from a continuous occupation by us or by all those working together with us.

Billy:

Does that mean that also the Baavis and all others have abandoned the Earth stations?

Semjase:

139. Sure, but they have not abandoned these but have only left them, like we did, and they have also arranged a shuttle service, by which means they can keep their stations in operation, but also in a highly limited form.

140. Neither they nor we can abandon everything, because too much depends on it all.

141. The main task, however, was, in every respect, our mission and the majority fulfilment of this by you and your group.

142. Since the group has failed, however, owing to the various members, we had to put this mission aside, at least for the time being, and with the hope that we can still fulfil this, nevertheless, if the individual group members finally become reasonable and insert themselves into everything, as is necessary.

Billy:

And if not?

Semjase:

143. Then we must break off all relations, drop our mission definitively, and leave the earthly humanity, without further pardon and without our well-intended guidance and instruction, to its fate, which the earthly human being has set and chosen themselves.

Billy:

That would mean that the Earth-human would have to rely only on his/her very own evolution, without outside help.

Semjase:

144. Sure, and for this, each individual group member of the free community of interests {FIGU} bears the responsibility – in this case or another.

145. And it is truly so, that a few human beings of Earth bear the full responsibility for all of the upcoming events on this planet and for the entire spiritual development of the earthly human life-form.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_125

Semjase:

47. Also, for quite some time, she {Billy's wife} has no longer endeavoured truthfully and in honesty around the determinative concerns, which is why she has disappointed me very bitterly.

48. Her in particular, I had locked very deeply into my friendly feelings, and now she of all has saddened and disappointed me very bitterly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_126

Semjase:

4. Since our last visit, we have dealt extensively and thoroughly with all incidents and events that have taken place since the 7th of April, 1977.

5. Like never before, this time, we endeavoured ourselves around everything and analysed everything, where we even assured ourselves the assistance of other human races, who have studied the Earth and its inhabitants experimentally and analytically.

...

...

44. Every {FIGU} group member, who is registered as such by our apparatus, is incorporated into a companion beam, which is of unlimited range and records all psychic processes and feelings, but really only these forms.

...

47. Quetzal already installed this additional device in the month of January, 1979, and the reason for it was so that we can overlook and assess everything and everyone better and can also inform you of certain occurrences, which are of importance for you to know, even if you always remain silent about them with your group members.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_127

Billy:

... Here – this is another letter from the core group. You are to read it and to tell me whether that which is contained in it is right and good.

...

Semjase:

...

80. Do you know the contents?

Billy:

No. I have only brought the stuff for reading and have given it to you, because I promised that.

Semjase:

81. You also should not read the contents for the time being.

82. Will you assure me this?

Billy:

Of course, if you want?

Semjase:

...

85. You would not be in agreement with the contents, even though they are extremely correct and absolutely purposeful and relevantly right.

Billy:

Ah, then I had better read it yet.

Semjase:

86. You have already pledged your word to me.

Billy:

Oh damn it. I was probably a bit too hasty. Nice, laudable things must, indeed, be written there. You have properly pulled a fast one on me. Just wait, I will get you back for this. One day you will also run into my ladle again, you devil. Just wait.

Semjase:

87. This pleases me.

88. This really pleases me; finally, I also got you once.

...

Billy:

You already speak like an Earth-twit, but nevertheless, your malicious pleasure certainly will not last long.

Semjase:

90. Hahaha, but still, I am pleased.

91. You have really fallen into my trap.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_128

Billy:

Well, I would gladly like to know if you also write fairy tales at home for the children, as is so common on the Earth?

Semjase:

230. Sure, but these fairy tales, in the sense of content and development, differ entirely from those that the human beings of Earth offer to their children.

231. Moreover, they are also intended for the adults.

232. Our fairy tales contain only very few unrealities but rather very many more actual facts that should be instructive for all human beings.

...

235. ... I also very happily read fairy tales and can then dream about them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_129

Billy:

You do not look very happy, girl.

...

Semjase:

2. I am just still always depressed by all the connections with regard to Vreni and her unfair business, about which I would not like to speak, however.

...

5. ... I am very depressed about all these indelicate and improper happenings.

...

11. ... until now, I have never gotten into such a situation, where due to surges of emotion, I fell into rage and got tangled up inside myself.

Billy:

I also make no reproach to you from that, and moreover, you prove to me through your bad situation, in which you are now stuck, that even you are actually just a completely normal human being. ...

...

Semjase:

54. Till we meet again, and very, very dear thanks for letting me rid myself of my worries and oppressions and distresses with you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_130

Semjase:

36. Sit down here.

...

Billy:

What is that on the screen?

...

I mean the display screen.

Semjase:

40. That is the schematic of your feeling centres, which I have stored here.

...

78. By this button here, I relieved you somewhat unexpectedly of your consciousness for 16 minutes.

79. With the press of this button, I projected the stored feeling centres schematic into you, namely through this tiny triangle here, even before you sat down.

...

Billy:

You mean that there under the display screen?

Semjase:

81. Sure.

...

90. The projecting in of the feeling centres schematic was carried out in a radiation-based and swinging-wave-based manner.

91. This means that the schematic penetrated into you through radiations, in order to expand circularly in swinging waves in the feeling centre in a sort of miniature explosion.

92. This caused you such a bad and great pain in your chest that was pervaded by an icy cold, due to the sudden warmth owing to the re-functioning of the feeling centres in such a sudden form, that you thereby lost consciousness.

93. The process for this only lasted less than a second.

94. During your consciousness-related absence, I used the swinging wave shock to put your entire emotional life – which is also stored with me here and which you, in your terms, would probably call a psychogram – into your feeling centres by means of several trillion data impulses of swinging waves.

95. Through this, your completely immobilised emotional life was newly activated and began to work again in the old manner.

...

Billy:

... Why did you no longer come for so long? I called you many times, but I did not receive a response.

Semjase:

104. We were all absent.

105. We had to leave unexpectedly, and there was not enough time to inform you about it.

106. We did not arrive back here until a few hours ago.

Billy:

That is almost what I thought myself. Thus, you probably do not know what all has happened with us in the meantime?

Semjase:

107. No, and I would be grateful to you if you could later tell and explain everything to me.

Billy:

Oh, it was not so much, and you can get the most important things much more quickly and in greater detail from the monitoring disc, I mean from the recording device.

Semjase:

108. I cannot do that, unfortunately, because during our departure, we failed to insert larger recording elements, which is why now only a single month is recorded.

Billy:

And when was this element at the end of its power?

Semjase:

109. At the end of the month of March.

{Note: This contact occurred on 31st May 1980.}

...

Semjase:

173. We have our heavy burden with the Earth-humans, because we still cannot understand them properly and cannot analyse them precisely.

...

175. Despite our greatest efforts, we must now recognise, ourselves, that again and again, we make wrong analyses in reference to the evaluation of the human being of Earth or their concerns.

176. This is simply because the human being of this world very often harbours and maintains something else in their mind than what is truly in their subconscious or in their will.

177. The human being of Earth is extremely bewildering and inconsistent in these matters, which is why we will hold ourselves back from these things in the future.

...

Billy:

... So I would then be underway on a tramp voyage, so to speak, as I have done previously. Only, then I was without my own vehicle and, therefore, slept in strange vehicles or even in forests, meadows, in roadside ditches, cemeteries, on low roofs or under bridges, etc.

Semjase:

...

198. Something that we ourselves do not know at all in such forms.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_131

Billy:

... But how is it in this respect on the Pleiades, do you still have large and open areas?

Semjase:

20. Sure, because firstly, we keep our population at the number of the natural state, and secondly, every inhabitant of our worlds is careful to ensure that kilometre-wide areas remain free of any buildings.

21. We love the freedom and the vastness of the land, which is why everything is arranged in such a manner that a crowding never results.

22. Thus, the large settlements, the cities, are limited to a minimum number, as is also the case with the villages.

23. All the individual residential buildings, however, in which families live with no more than five persons, comprise a square of 100 × 100 metres outside the cities and villages.

Billy:

You mean that five people at most – and so, therefore, a family – live in such a square parcel of land and that also their house stands on this piece of land.

Semjase:

24. Sure.

25. About one-third of our population lives in such a manner, while the other two-thirds of our population are concentrated in the few cities and villages, but they are fitted with very large wooded or low planted parklands underground and above ground.

26. Also, every small or large residential building – in which more or less families live, like with you in the multi-family dwellings – is equipped with a 100 × 100-metre large park garden, which is jointly used, however, by all inhabitants of the city dwelling or village dwelling concerned.

Billy:

I find that fantastic. So thus, each high-rise building or apartment building has its own park?

Semjase:

27. Sure.

...

Billy:

And, how is the weather on Erra? Do you have anything better thereof?

Semjase:

29. With us, there is no severe weather and there are no natural disasters, such as are common in the current time on Earth.

...

Billy:

But you explained to me once that you would not be involved there {America} because another group of your federation is working there and because you want to have nothing more to do with America?

...

Semjase:

98. We only want to have nothing more to do with the American government and those involved in this.

...

Semjase:

129. ... we managed to teach some peoples of worlds foreign to Earth within a few decades for the better, even though these were behind the overall evolution of the terrestrial human beings in their level of knowledge and in their doings and actions as well as in their overall development by several millennia.

130. Two of these peoples have even overtaken the state of the overall evolution of the human beings of Earth in the meantime by several decades, even though at the time of our intervention, they lived in the deepest 'spiritual' darkness, which was also an evil product of our ur-ur-ancestors, about which I would not like to speak now, however.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_134

Ptaah:

20. Oh, now I understand. He is an Aquarius-born, and theoretically, you also have that character such that, depending on your sentence structure, you can express different things at the same time, so in this case, the wish also included that the wish fulfilment is impossible due to my superfluous explanation.

Semjase:

22. Certainly.

Billy:

That is so, and we cannot help it that we think so complicatedly.

Ptaah:

21. Think complicatedly?

22. I would rather say that it is very rational and logical thinking. It's just that the non-Aquarius born often have trouble correctly understanding you and the sense of your words.

Billy:

Do you want to say with this that this also gives you difficulties?

Semjase:

23. Certainly, there are also still misunderstandings with us, as is the case with the Earth-humans.

...

Ptaah:

52. H) The order of the garden will occur in the future according to Quetzal's precise information, as well as the garden's production.

53. Quetzal's exercises, in addition to his technical, medical, and various craft occupations, also includes being a cultural creator and cultural examiner, so he is very well-versed in these matters.

...

57. One of Quetzal's friends, Isoban, has dealt thoroughly with earthly civil engineering and is highly trained in it.

...

75. O) For the gardening operation that is to begin, I almost forgot to mention, Quetzal wants to leave you some seed potatoes from one of our potato varieties.

...

{Note: Please see the full Contact Report for the context of this entry.}

Semjase:

25. Provided that the persons involved always agree and that the words addressed to us are serious, as we understand them to be, and also that they do not deceive us because we are not fully able to create precise clarifications relating to this because our directives do not allow us to penetrate into the internal thoughts, etc. of the people. Thus, we can only fathom the superficial matters, but we cannot recognise lies and deception.

26. So we do not know if everything is sincere.

...

Ptaah:

191. I must admit to you, my daughter and you understand a great deal regarding the psychological treatment of people.

192. Already, the specific psychological actions have already come about from your conspiracy idea {see Contact Report 123:S123-174}, which is a peculiarity of your thinking.

193. Such behaviours are not given to us, which is why I am very surprised that my daughter has also come to this idea and implemented this with you.

Semjase:

35. You should not be surprised about this, father, because I had an excellent teacher in our dear friend.

36. He has shown me in past years, in purely private conversations again and again, the behaviour patterns of the Earth-humans and has taught me how they should be treated.

37. And because one of my fields is psychology, I got used to working during all of those years in a psychological form, which I learned from Billy.

...

42. It is an honour for me, together with our friend, to be called a sly dog.

...

Ptaah:

198. But now, quit your joking.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_135

Quetzal:

2. Menara waits for me a few hundred metres away with a herd of cows.

3. We also have our ship in the vicinity there.

Billy:

Oh, I see, then you are probably the reason why the cattle are so restless up there on the southeastern slope of the forest.

Quetzal:

4. That may very well be, because Menara is with the cows, which she is fond of and with which she is gladly occupied.

Billy:

... Your silvery rain cloak is not very good either, despite this rainy darkness.

...

Billy:

Quetzal, did you not pull off your silvery shining cloak?

...

Billy:

... And can anything happen to you from the swinging waves of the Earthlings at this distance? According to my knowledge, you can come within 90 or 100 metres of the Earth-humans without protective equipment and not expose yourselves to any type of swinging wave danger.

Semjase:

51. The last part of your assessment is correct ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_136

Semjase:

170. Already in the beginning time, when the papacy and the Vatican were founded and brought to life in Rome, the most negative place existing in Italy was unconsciously selected for the residence of the Pope, the city of Rome, where the Vatican resided, from which, for almost two thousand years, murder, enslavement, exploitation, deception, and every possible crime spread across the earthly world, and even other worlds in the Universe and in distant, foreign galaxies did not remain spared from these vile, murderous, religious, and deadly deeds because innocent extraterrestrial visitors on Earth were confronted with the madness of the religious cult of the Vatican and, therefore, Catholicism, and succumbed to this delusional faith, and after their return to their homeworlds, their people living there were also infected by the acquired delusional faith until religious wars broke out, and that is why entire planets and even enormous solar systems have been destroyed.

...

Semjase:

459. Toward the latter part of 1983 or spring of 1984, we are planning to introduce an effective peace meditation to benefit Earth, its inhabitants, and events that will occur there. Included in this effort will be everyone on Erra and many members from our federation, who total will comprise more than 3.5 billion (3,500,000,000) humans.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_137

Semjase:

24. If we had put one of our androids in your position, then he would have destroyed himself if all of this illogicalness had arisen.

Billy:

You have strange jokes in stock.

Semjase:

25. No, because my words correspond to the truth.

26. We actually expected too much from you; a test has proven this.

27. Quetzal came up with the idea.

...

28. He wanted to know to what extent a half-organic apparatus could bear the illogicalness that has crept into the group.

...

32. Quetzal programmed an android with all records of negating and negative forms of all group members.

33. The results were awful.

...

34. These stored illogical modes of acting and thinking led to the fact that the android became crazy in all of its actions and speeches.

...

36. Our androids are programmed based on absolute logic in thinking and acting, and these abilities surpass even our own respective abilities and potential.

37. Now, during the transfer of data, Quetzal also paid close attention to the fact that your own data of your work and all your efforts toward the instruction of the group members and all their interests became programmed into the second android. Thus, the exact situation arose in the two androids, which included everything that happened between you and the group members since the beginning. On the one hand, the overall view of the group members was placed into the first android, and on the other hand, your data was placed into the second android.

38. Expecting something terrible to happen, Quetzal placed both androids in an old beamship in the vicinity of the planet Pluto, where he then activated them and they began to live.

39. Then, on our view screens, we could watch the terrible sight.

40. Already after a few minutes, the android programmed with your data began to become visibly ill, while our recording devices registered an action of complete helplessness.

41. Soon, completely apathetically, it wanted to destroy itself, but then suddenly, in the very next moment, it senselessly and angrily raised its voice.

42. Meanwhile, the second android spoke absolutely crazy words without thinking and manipulated all of the ship's apparatuses without sense or purpose.

43. Despite the visible internal difficulty of the android programmed with your data, it tried, again and again, to bring the other android, stored with the illogical data, to its senses, which it apparently managed to do quite often.

44. But truthly, this was only apparent, for as our recording devices clearly determined, the attempts of reconciliation and reason only worked so far that the logic of the words of the android representing you released reassuring impulses, while the second android did not at all have in mind to make the logical explanations its own.

45. The investigations of the registry devices unambiguously proved that the negatively programmed android had developed a blatant form of self-addiction, egoism, and individualism, as well as a lust for power and, despite the superficial acknowledgment of the logical explanations offered to it, etc., was unwilling to actually adopt them.

46. Truthly, as the recording devices unambiguously showed, it only wanted its own will to count and to enforce it, which finally went so far that your android rapidly deteriorated and suddenly became crazy.

47. As we could see from our devices, his artificial organic brain mass slowly began to cook and to steam.

48. Then, there was an explosion, and his head was torn up beyond all recognition.

49. Meanwhile, the other android, who only cared about this briefly, continued to act completely illogically and, moreover, spoke very confused and crazy things.

50. Then the moment came when he wildly and senselessly hit the ship's equipment and created an inferno, when he accidentally touched the automatic self-destruct mechanism of the ship, and it was destroyed in an immense explosion.

...

51. For us, it was proof that we had expected inhuman traits from you.

52. What an android cannot take, a human life form cannot take either.

53. Only through Quetzal's test could we grasp the full scope of what had caved in on you over all the years.

Semjase:

18. In the next few hours, Quetzal will set a programmed pulse emitter to function on you, which will immediately inform me if you should call me, no matter where I ever am.

...

21. ... for we, although in ignorance of many things, have also failed, so we must charge ourselves with guilty actions.

{Note: Please see the full Contact Report for the context of this entry.}

...

25. Millions of humans on Erra, on the other hand, would be very happy if they could at least greet you on the viewing screens, by whose communication possibilities they could convey their greetings and wishes to you directly.

26. You are well-known to all of them.

27. They know your face and your wonderful stories, which we allowed to be spread on our world.

...

33. Therefore, ... and I love you very much, which you should know.

...

35. I will, therefore, explain to Quetzal that he should not set his pulse emitter to function for anything but your health ...

...

56. Come ... this with love.

57. It will remind you of me when you can think more clearly again and then call me.

Semjase:

20. We never had the intention, and we never gave such praise to you, to portray you as a super-human, etc.

21. All such activity is also far from our way of thinking and our ethics and also from our overall knowledge of the harmfulness of praise-speaking.

...

Billy:

... Here, these are two photos that I have received from Wendelle Stevens. As you can see, it concerns two model heads. Can you tell me whether any human life-forms are known to you that look like these pictured heads?

Semjase:

44. Are you of the assumption that these head replicas have true backgrounds?

...

Billy:

Well then: Here, I consider this green head absolute nonsense. {Note: The pictured model head relates to the book UFO Contact From Planet Iarga.} During the Great Journey {see Contact Report 31}, I had the opportunity to see your recordings of human life-forms, which you kindly demonstrated to me with your viewing devices. But I cannot remember a single human life-form that looked like this or substantially similar. Moreover, there were, as you explained at that time, about 30 million different races, which you let me see visually.

Semjase:

46. With that, you are quite right.

47. No human life-form exists in the universal space within reach of us that bears even a slight resemblance to this imaginary product pictured here.

...

Semjase:

82. For about forty days, there has been another station on Earth, created by human life forms, similar to us, of extraterrestrial intelligences from the planet HASTER in the GARON system of the JENAM galaxy.

83. This galaxy is located 483 million light-years away from the Earth, and 413 different human races live on the habitable planets there throughout the entire galaxy, which is, relatively seen, very little for an entire galaxy.

84. Just a few years ago, we entered into connection with the highly sophisticated inhabitants of the planet Haster, who have progressed so far in their overall development as it will be for the Earth-humans in approximately 1,120 years.

85. With ethically and very highly distinct lifestyles, the inhabitants of Haster are very peaceful and loving, and besides this, they live in the same time-level as the SOL system, thus, in the present level, as this would be said or called by you.

86. Because the Haster inhabitants are now interested in life forms in the remote vastness of the Universe which is still inaccessible to them but cannot yet reach these areas with their technology, we have extended our connections with them in such a way that we brought an expeditionary command of the Haster inhabitants here in the Great Spacer.

87. We also helped them build their station, which was created in the depths of the North Sea and from where they will expand their expeditionary work across the whole world.

88. Since their mental, physical, and consciousness-related development has not yet progressed as far as ours, we can only maintain physical contact with them using our swinging wave-neutralising devices, as we must also do so with the Earth-humans when it is necessary now and then.

89. However, this now means that the Haster inhabitants can freely move among the Earth-humans because their swinging waves turn out to be bearable with those of the Earth-humans, but only briefly.

90. The Haster inhabitants cannot remain in the direct range of the swinging waves of the Earth-humans for more than 17 hours; otherwise, they begin to lose control of themselves.

91. But since they have this 17-hour possibility, they have decided that they will seek contact with one or several Earth-humans for their study purposes and also for the instruction of the Earth-humans, but certainly with no more than three people, who must remain silent about it for their lifetimes, which is why especially upright people are to be selected for these contacts, who can be completely trusted.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_142

Semjase:

9. The few human races in the area of the Cassiopeia constellation in another space-time configuration are well-known to us, but they have no resemblance to the life-forms mentioned in this letter.

10. Also, their flying apparatus do not correspond in any manner to the kind described here, and besides, their technology is not so far and highly developed that they could, with their own flying apparatuses, reach the Earth.

11. The technology of one of the two races is presently developed so far that they prepare just the first flight attempts to outer space, and they stand just a little bit behind Earth's technological development.

12. The second race, which is on another planet behind the Cassiopeia constellation, only has flying apparatuses that master their own planetary space somewhat certainly.

13. Among these facts is the further complication that both of these races of human life-forms exist in a different time plane in relation to the Earth, like I said, so separated from the time plane that is known to the Earth human being and in which they live.

14. So when the human beings of the Cassiopeia constellation one day master space travel, they still will not be able, for a long time, to penetrate into the time plane in which the Earth-humans live their existence.

Billy:

And in our time plane known to us, no human life-forms exist, who would be capable of space flight in Cassiopeia, i.e. in that area?

Semjase:

15. Sure, there are human beings there, but these are not yet advanced in space flight or are not yet so far advanced that they could carry out journeys through universal space.

16. Like on the Earth, secret stations of foreign-planet human races exist there on their planet, which do not, however, practice direct contact with the planet's inhabitants.

...

Billy:

... How many of all solar systems have planets that are actually inhabited by humans, which are visible from the Earth and which are known to us? If one believed all alleged contact reports of Earth-humans with extraterrestrials, practically all solar systems would be inhabited.

Semjase:

...

18. Truly, there are only very few solar systems inhabited by human life-forms that are known to the Earth-humans, and on the other hand, a lot of suns have no planetary systems.

19. To these facts, there is still to add that many of the space-traveling races that come to the Earth are not resident in the time plane known to the Earth-humans.

Billy:

Ah, we already spoke very often about space-traveling human races that do not belong to you and which come, nevertheless, to the Earth. In which time plane do they all belong?

Semjase:

20. It is different for each.

21. To mention all of them would be difficult and time-consuming.

Billy:

Then let's say, for example, the humans of the area of Alpha Centauri, then Reticuli, or whatever it is, then...

Semjase:

22. The first ones live a tiny fraction of a second shifted from the Earth-time plane, so therefore, they cannot be reached by Earth inhabitants before they master time-travel.

23. The second human race you mentioned also does not live in the same time plane as the Earth-humans.

...

Semjase:

120. It is nice to be in your workroom once again, and this time, I brought my protective device.

Billy:

That was also wise, when I think of the accident at that time.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_144

Semjase:

22. These conflicts within him {"H.", possibly Hans Schutzbach} finally led him to the case because through his steady insistence of getting in touch with me, I allowed myself to be led to approach him in my ship so close that he came into my personal swinging wave field.

23. Thus, he suddenly became aware of the true love and peace, which seemed like a paradise to him.

24. But disaster immediately fell upon him when I went away again and he fell out of my swinging wave field.

25. It seemed like the end of the world to him, which made him deal with suicidal intentions, from which I was able to prevent him only with great difficulty.

26. For this reason, I tried to influence him to the better through my own swinging-waves, but this was clearly wrong because he only responded to any attempt to help him on my part by starting to pity himself more and more, and at last, a dangerous hatred built up inside of him against everything that has to do with calm, peace, and love, as well as with truth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_146

Billy:

... The coming world events and the continual fulfilment of the prophecies ever depress me to such an extent that I often become damn furious when I think about the fact that the Earth-humans simply cannot be taught and run unreasonably in their misery. I often heave because of a burning rage and a roaring misery. Is there not a possibility to suppress these outbursts? I myself find no possibility for this.

Quetzal:

61. That does not just happen with you but also with us.

62. Like us, you are too connected with everything and you love the Earth-humans too much to be able to be indifferent to what is coming.

63. We all know that you have to bear an almost inhuman burden through your knowledge and through some very cruel knowledge of the future, but unfortunately, in fulfilling your mission, neither you nor we can remain spared from this.

64. Like us, you also have to live with the knowledge that the prophecies will fulfil themselves and that they are nearly unchangeable, for only very few human beings can be instructed by the truth.

...

Billy:

Why so solemn, my son?

Quetzal:

77. I feel your pain.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_148

Quetzal:

32. This is also the reason why our own keeping of animals on Erra is uniformly handled in such a manner that dogs and cats may only live in the wild or in special and very large enclosures, to which the human beings have no direct access.

33. Already very early on, our scientists of the past recognised what pathogens these animals carry on themselves, which are dangerous for human beings, which is why they arranged appropriate measures for their keeping.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_150

Quetzal:

40. Not only did we have to remove all of our available forces from the Earth, but also from many other worlds, including Erra.

41. We need all available forces because the population of a whole system, which includes 16 inhabited planets and three suns, has prepared itself for a space traversal in warlike form because their system is doomed.

42. The targets of these still war-accustomed humans are the habitable planets of the most diverse constellations, whereby also the SOL-System is included, and thus the Earth.

43. These rather inhumane human life-forms are willing to kill the inhabitants of the planets they have chosen in order to gain their own living space.

44. On the one hand, our forces now prevent these life-forms from realising their plans by breaking out into space, but on the other hand, further of our forces systematically resettle the populations of the various endangered planets in uninhabited but easily habitable areas, while another part of our forces looks for new habitable and suitable planets on which the rest of these human beings can be settled and relocated.

Billy:

Incredible, but cannot the Lyrians and Vegans also help you with that?

Quetzal:

45. We have also included many forces of theirs for this task; another part of them will take over on the Earth at the end of this month, as I explained to you earlier.

Billy:

I know you spoke of the fact that Menara's father, brother and sister will come here, along with 35 others.

Quetzal:

46. That is of correctness, but these 38 human beings only represent the first wave that will take over our own station and our tasks.

47. Ours and both of those two other stations, America and Asia, will be fully staffed with our allies.

Billy:

So with Vegans and Lyrians – and, are they all differently coloured?

Quetzal:

48. You say that they are chocolate brown.

...

Billy:

... Is there really no way to use nuclear energy without causing great danger to human beings, animals, plants, etc.?

Quetzal:

80. This possibility exists, and we are also using it.

...

Quetzal:

545. The Destroyer was partially interfered with in its natural orbit by very early ancestors of ours, vindictively, causing damage to the SOL-system that is not of natural cosmic origin.

Billy:

But you did not say anything about that in all your explanations – Semjase did not talk about it either.

Quetzal:

546. We do not know the exact circumstances of that time, which is why we cannot give any further details or explanations about that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_151

{Note: Please see the full Contact Report for the context of this entry.}

Billy:

But then, I have a question: How do you handle such cases on Erra?

Quetzal:

28. We know of no such problems because every human being on our world abides by the unwritten laws and recommendations.

Billy:

And how do they look, or in other words, what do they state when two humans are good for each other, as they say?

Quetzal:

29. They state that two humans who come together and suppose that they can develop deeper feelings for each other, have to determine during the time of three years, whether these feelings are actually existent or not.

30. After this time, they are examined by authoritative experts of the matter, after which then, in the case of a mutual, logical consistency of feelings, love, etc., the two can be joined together in marriage.

31. The period of three years is divided in such a manner that every 7 days, the two see each other once for several hours – depending on time availability – personally and alone, and spend this time at their sole discretion, but it is absolutely excluded that they spend this time sleeping together or even having sexual relations.

32. Such activity is only acceptable when the examination gives the assurance that they will seal the bond of marriage ...

33. If two such people perform an activity that always or occasionally brings them together during the weekly seven days, then nothing is to be objected against it, but at the same time, a personal togetherness is not allowed.

34. The reason for this lies therein that each of the two should always have time during six days to thoroughly process and consider all of the undergone insights and experiences on the seventh day.

35. Then, in addition to this, after two years, there comes a 12-month separation period, during which the two may not see each other.

36. Typically they work on different planets during this time, in order to maintain sufficient distance and to have time to think.

37. Then, only after this, there follows the aforementioned examination.

38. Other harmless physical contacts, as well as communicative forms, are, of course, allowed at any time.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_153

Quetzal:

95. Our linguistic computers speak very fluently and even correctly emphasise when they are stored and programmed with human voices.

...

Billy:

... the group members should be given the opportunity to be able to direct all personal questions and other questions of interest to them to a special computer, which will then answer their questions for them using the best of logic. For this purpose, a special and soundproof room must be provided, in which only the individual group member, undisturbed and isolated from listeners, can direct his/her questions to the computer located inside there, which is coupled with a repository of knowledge that also holds all personal data of all group members of the past and future within it. Then, this computer responds with my voice, while giving the exact answers on a logical basis. Is this right?

Quetzal:

...

100. The computer will not be in this room because it is a device designed by me, which is to be installed in the telemeter disc located high above the Centre.

101. In the aforementioned room, there will only be earthly apparatuses and equipment, which will transmit the voices of the group members to the computer and which, in turn, will also let the voice of the computer in space become audible.

...

102. This apparatus may not be positioned in the room because it is not an earthly device.

103. It is also necessary that this apparatus hovers very high above the Earth because it will not have certain data stored in it, which must then be retrieved from the central computer in the station.

Billy:

Aha, now I understand. Now, it interests me only whether a meditative process will be necessary for a question?

Quetzal:

104. No, because the question has to occur acoustically and through a microphone.

105. But for this, it is also necessary that the psyche is very balanced; otherwise, the computer will not release an answer to the questions directed to it.

106. Thus, this necessary balance must be present in the human beings, so that questions are accepted and answered.

...

Billy:

And how do the females among you hold up, now, with the creation of the balance, if you even have such question-and-answer computers at all?

Quetzal:

111. Those actually are there with us, and they are used very often.

112. Our people are all balanced to such an extent that no one must first create the balance.

113. But still, many females use the aforementioned method of application because it not only increases mental balance but still has many other advantages.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_154

Quetzal:

5. Of course, that is of correctness; I have overlooked that. — — —

...

12. I am a little confused – of course, that is of correctness.

...

Billy:

You are illogical. Think of Gabriel. {Note: See Jmmanuel.}

Quetzal:

42. That ... You know my earlier personal origin?

Billy:

But of course, and also no one had to tell me this. I have known this since that time, when I first saw you.

...

I had no reason to talk about it, you former half-Earthling. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_155

Billy:

And you do not think that it is necessary, for you and for everyone, that for all those involved, you yourselves clarify the things and obtain the information?

Quetzal:

15. You know that we are not allowed to do that because it would be an intrusion into the personality.

...

18. We cannot verify the data because we are not entitled to do that.

...

Billy:

... Semjase once told me that I may not take a photo of her because she moves every now and then on the Earth among the human beings and may not be recognized. But that can't be the whole reason because this explanation seems somewhat flimsy to me.

Quetzal:

...

122. Yes, there is another reason, and it is based on the fact that a lot of damage and harm can be caused by photos if human beings with evil thoughts concentrate negatively upon others and upon photographically depicted human beings.

123. Negatively oriented Earth-humans could affect us so heavily and viciously and inflict a lot of harm and evil upon us if they could steal photographic images of us.

124. This is the second and most important reason why we may not let ourselves be photographically depicted.

125. With Asket and Nera, we could allow it only because both of them live in the DAL Universe and cannot be affected from the Earth in their lives in the aforementioned way because no forces of any kind can penetrate through the barriers of the Universe.

26. Graphical representations, however, are harmless.

Billy:

Lately, you are constantly in a hurry, and on the other hand, it keeps accumulating that you visit me in my office or at home. I am, indeed, very pleased about this, but I think it is a bit dangerous for you.

Quetzal:

3. Not at all, my friend, because if you have closed all the entrances all around, then I am very safe here, for my device here completely protects me from all swinging waves.

Billy:

And how long does it offer you this protection?

Quetzal:

4. This device is, indeed, complicated, but it has an absolute operational security effect that lasts for several hours.

Billy:

How many hours?

Quetzal:

5. There is absolute security for 4 hours.

...

Billy:

Your bucket there, your protective device, it is not as bulky as the one that you recently had with you. Is this a new development again?

{Note: An observation which may be completely unrelated: regarding Quetzal's protective device, described by Billy as a "bucket" on at least three occasions (see Contact Reports 157, 164, and 165), I am reminded of the "handbag" symbols seen in ancient archaeological images throughout the world.}

Quetzal:

73. That is of correctness; today, I have this device here in operation for the first time.

Billy:

Then you are just counting on the fact that it functions?

Quetzal:

74. I can rely on it like you do with the dematerialisation shafts of our ships ...

...

Quetzal:

79. Until we meet again, my friend; I am suddenly freezing.

Quetzal:

9. The descriptive phrases of the Earth-humans are very different from ours, as I already explained to you {Elektra}.

10. So if certain things become explained, then the descriptive phrases consist of other forms than the ones known to us.

...

12. We also had our own troubles with this at the beginning of our contacts.

...

Billy:

Nettles, or stinging nettles, are herbs with tiny stiff hairs on the leaves. Upon contact, the tips of these dagger-like or needle-like fine hairs break off, burrow into the skin, and empty their toxic sap under the skin. This, then, causes swelling and an itch-like burning. The nettle is a herb that has an affinity with the so-called China grass, and the nettle also finds use as a medicinal herb.

Elektra:

25. Yes, this herb is known to me; we call it URTIK, which, transferred into your language, means:

26. That which stings and burns.

...

Quetzal:

65. The names transmitted to you are exclusively those which have been in use among our peoples for ages and which are still commonly used among our peoples today in a modified form.

66. These names are first names, according to an earthly sense, and each one has a certain meaning.

67. The rule is that for a person who exercises some specific activity, this activity is then added as an explanation to the name.

68. For example: if someone had worn TRJJDON as a name and had pulled ships along the channels, then this human being was named "TRJJDON, who pulls the ships" or "Trjjdon, the ship-puller."

69. That's how the determinations of the names have arisen.

Billy:

There are, however, still quite certain emphases of letters.

Quetzal:

70. That is of correctness and very important, for only the emphasis of certain syllables results in the correct pronunciation of the name.

...

Billy:

I have also noticed that various names are still common on the Earth today, sometimes in well-preserved or partially preserved form.

Quetzal:

72. That corresponds to the actual occurrences.

73. Many of the names are still common on the Earth today, some in exact, some in modified forms.

74. Thus, on the one hand, the names were received in their entire value, whereby usually only the emphasis changed, but on the other hand, names were changed by newly-developed languages or simply by arbitrary willfulness.

75. When these names were introduced on the Earth, these were given in eight different languages, which were, nevertheless, all of Lyran origin.

76. From this, new languages developed on the Earth over the course of millennia, from which then, primarily, the oldest languages known on Earth arose, but these strongly flowed through from the original languages introduced.

77. The best-known languages that arose from it are Sumerian, Aramaic, Hebrew, Minoan, Celtic, etc.

78. From the Celtic, for example, there arose many other languages, from which, ultimately, today's German language, the Flemish, and also other languages arose.

79. From the Minoans, Ancient Greek arose and so on and so forth.

80. And in all these languages, of course, the anciently introduced names were common, which have been received or modified in the course of time.

81. What is still most commonly available today in names is found in those areas of languages that run in the Minoan direction and which have been incorporated into the later Ancient Greek, by which means they have been preserved to a large part up to this day, though often modified.

82. Then, to all this, there still came names that were invented by the Earth-humans themselves, whereby any objects, actions, and work areas, etc. were used for the formation of names.

83. But there were also names that came from the so-called original languages, which means that even then, names arose for human beings on the Earth when the human beings of the Earth first learned to speak.

84. As a rule, these were very simple terms, from which, in the course of time, additional terms arose, which then ultimately led to a language.

85. But this was only so in a few cases, because the main part of the introduction of language on the Earth happened when the first cosmonauts resided on this world, who mixed themselves with the earthly human life-forms, who still were not strong in their own language.

86. Nevertheless, this goes back a few million years.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_161

Quetzal:

11. I also have a few things to share with you, in addition, I can perform my investigation on you only in the form that my apparatuses transmit all of the information into the station, after which I can then retrieve it there and work it out.

12. Only then can I give you more detailed information about that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_162

Quetzal:

30. And since I am already speaking of the children, I must make a declaratory and shameful statement regarding the daughter Melanie.

31. This child is clearly overworked and overburdened by Ingrid to work, which leaves her too little free time for self-activity and for the play instinct that is still very pronounced at this age of a child.

32. Even our children, who are already very much developed at this age, cannot and may not be kept busy by us in such a senseless way, and certainly not a child of the Earth-humans and of the present time.

...

37. I, too, have had to learn a great deal on Earth concerning the work that is done here, whereby I enjoyed not least the best apprenticeship with you, who are very skilled and knowledgeable in an unbelievable number of areas of work, whereby you surpass even the best of our peoples, who have mastered about 50 different professions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_163

Quetzal:

39. I enjoy coffee every now and then.

40. It is a refreshing hot drink.

...

41. I refrain from tobacco products because they bring me no pleasure.

42. But I have already been enjoying coffee since I have been on the Earth.

43. In moderate quantities, it is absolutely harmless.

44. But I only drink it naturally and without sweeteners.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_164

Quetzal:

4. Moreover, I have equipped my screening device with a new invention of mine, which I can program in each case for those on watch duty, according to which I, by the apparatus, automatically become invisible to the watch participants, together with my device, if they look in my direction.

Billy:

Now something dawns on me: some time ago, Engelbert told me that as he was coming from the garage, he saw a large figure in front of the barn, which suddenly disappeared.

Quetzal:

5. That may be possible because I tested the device first, and it happened that at first, the sensors adapted themselves a bit sluggishly to the viewing swinging waves, whereby they performed the necessary manipulation just 1½ seconds too late.

6. Hence, it might be possible that Engelbert could observe me for a very short time.

...

Quetzal:

11. Nevertheless, these strangers, who are sometimes well-known to me, do not disturb me because I am also protected against them.

12. They also cannot see me.

Billy:

Then I understand nothing more at all. Tell me at last, where are the difficulties to be found?

Quetzal:

13. The difficulties are to be found in the swinging waves.

14. My device only works properly, in reference to the shielding of swinging waves and their neutralisation, if the group members of the watch, etc., are not approaching me in a range closer than 70 centimetres.

15. But with a few group members, this distance is even further – so around 6 metres, namely with Dorit, Thomas, and Margaret, while with Elsa, even a distance of more than 7 metres is given, which is not surprising, however, because her sense [mindset] towards me is no less filled with strange hostility than it is towards you.

...

17. All that, however, causes no difficulties for me, for I have constructed my device in such a manner that upon approaches of individual group members and according to their swinging wave ranges that are dangerous for me, I am automatically removed from the danger zone by the device as soon as the persons concerned come closer to me than the safety threshold of 38 centimetres beyond the distance of the swinging wave measurement that is dangerous for me.

18. The mechanical possibilities for such manipulations, however, lie in an area with a maximum of 9 metres, so I can, therefore, protect myself in this manner up to this distance.

19. If I would now find myself somewhere, where I have no exact overview – thus, I cannot see a threat early on when someone approaches me, having swinging waves that are dangerous for me and that are beyond the 9-metre distance, then it could be fatal for me.

20. If I stand or sit somewhere and someone approaches me, whose danger limit for me is beyond the 9 metres mentioned, then everything would lead to a bad end.

Billy:

But you still have the alarm device that warns you about it, when someone is within 500 metres.

Quetzal:

21. The stronger energies of my device make the function of this warning device impossible.

Billy:

But then, why does your bucket function with strangers when they are standing on the promontory or on the new path, etc.?

{Note: An observation which may be completely unrelated: regarding Quetzal's protective device, described by Billy as a "bucket" on at least three occasions (see Contact Reports 157, 164, and 165), I am reminded of the "handbag" symbols seen in ancient archaeological images throughout the world.}

Quetzal:

22. From a 14-metre radius from my person, an apparatus in my flying apparatus takes over the monitoring.

23. If a corresponding warning arises, then this is transmitted to my carrying device, through which this enters into function without any time delay.

24. But now, if someone moves in the circle between 9 and 14 metres around me and is dangerous for me in their swinging waves, in this 9 to 14-metre circle, then there is no protection but only mortal danger.

Billy:

But why do you leave this 4 or 5-metre circle open? You could, nevertheless, also protect yourself for this distance, right?

Quetzal:

25. Unfortunately no.

26. For the time being, the possibility with a carrying device is still fully exhausted at 9 metres, in reference to its function.

27. But after this distance, there must be a neutral ring of at least 4 metres, so that the energies and surveillance equipment of my aircraft can operate and work.

28. If this safety belt did not exist, then the energies of my carrying device and those of the ship would collide with each other or overflow into one another, through which a destruction of the equipment would come about.

Billy:

So no advantage without disadvantage.

Quetzal:

29. That is of correctness.

30. We also have these problems.

Billy:

But I do not yet understand, who among us is a danger for you? You said yourself that the extreme danger of a little over 7 metres lies with our people.

Quetzal:

31. I told you, however, that someone else is present, who is to be reckoned as outside of the group members.

Billy:

I do not understand that.

Quetzal:

32. W.

Billy:

W.?

Quetzal:

33. That is of correctness, and he is a constant and ever increasing danger for me.

34. In the extreme case, he may only come 13 metres and 71 centimetres close to me.

35. Closer than this mark, I run a great risk.

Billy:

That is puzzling to me.

Quetzal:

36. His sense toward us is not good; it is even strangely hostile and interspersed with thoughts that exhibit doubts regarding our actual existence.

...

Billy:

Yes, but something else just came to me: somehow, it seems to be illogical to me concerning W., that you cannot shield yourself against him. I think that beyond the 14-metre limit, your apparatuses in the spaceship react, through which you will be taken out of danger?

Quetzal:

70. Unfortunately, that is impossible because in regards to W., I must store him programmatically in my apparatuses and devices, according to which he does not fall within the range of the warning of strangers.

71. But if I would store him as a stranger, then he would be removed from the closeness warning.

72. Unfortunately, these devices cannot be constructed differently, at least not for the time being.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_165

Quetzal:

18. Like with us, such meetings {group discussions} also take place on the Earth every day in all possible areas, and these meetings, as a rule, last much longer than yours {FIGU group meetings}.

...

Quetzal:

34. It is not right that Ingrid only exercises a role of an idle woman, while Elizabeth and her husband or her child Melanie must perform her works.

35. With us, who are much further developed in these matters, such machinations cannot and may not appear.

...

Quetzal:

54. I give her no reproach, but we talked about these things at the very beginning, also of the fact that Semjase became injured by such carelessness and neglect of duty.

55. The same could have now happened to me here, if I did not have my protective device with me, because the distance to the sitting area of the house from here is very short.

...

57. If we have our devices in operation, then there is likely no danger for us, but something can fail once with these devices and then it happens.

58. Unfortunately, our respective devices still are not developed so far that we can rely on them in every respect and with absolute certainty; other than this device here, which still needs some improvements and developments, everything is still far too unwieldy and difficult to transport.

Billy:

It is, indeed, a sizable bucket.

Quetzal:

59. That is of correctness, and that is why I am trying hard to bring the device to handier forms.

{Note: An observation which may be completely unrelated: regarding Quetzal's protective device, described by Billy as a "bucket" on at least three occasions (see Contact Reports 157, 164, and 165), I am reminded of the "handbag" symbols seen in ancient archaeological images throughout the world.}

Billy:

Thank you – aha – interesting, but one cannot really see everything by one's eyes. Even from here, in free space, the planets are too small.

Quetzal:

8. Here, we are even further away from the planets than if you were to observe them from the Earth.

9. You can see them better if you observe them through this magnification device.

10. Here...

Billy:

Fantastic! This is probably a completely new device?

Quetzal:

11. Yes, and it reflects the image recordings three-dimensionally.

Billy:

I can see that; this is the most perfect 3-D image that I have ever seen with you.

Quetzal:

12. Here, do you see now?

Billy:

That is really incredible; the entire alignment has moved out of space and into the foreground. Now, I can fully recognise every single planet.

Quetzal:

13. If you glide one finger away and over this scale, then you can enlarge or shrink the image, depending on how you please.

14. On this opposite contact line, however, with a simple touch of the finger, you can separate out any square as a cutout, which you can then also enlarge again with the scale, by what means it is possible for you to separate out individual planets and observe them individually.

Billy:

And can one enlarge the image of the planet onto the whole image area?

Quetzal:

15. Certainly – test the device.

Billy:

I will. – Wait – man –, ah, here, now. Man – that is clever. Aha, now I have the Earth; I will get it now. Fantastic, it is bigger than on the biggest television screen of our house televisions ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_167

Quetzal:

35. You also know that, for reasons of neutrality and non-influence, we work independently and without the exchange of data; therefore, we also maintain no exchange of information with our own sister stations.

36. All contacts are only of a purely personal nature, and no data, etc. is ever exchanged among one another.

37. All data of ours and also that of other groups working with us are separately and directly sent to a central office on Erra, where they are evaluated by coordination, and then, the appropriate decisions are made.

38. We strictly adhere to this so that we can carry on our work correctly and without influence.

39. This is a fact that the Earth-humans can hardly understand, which brings us a lot of advantages, however.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_169

Quetzal:

78. Talking is purely a communicative device, a means for understanding, so this should only be used for this purpose.

Billy:

Yes, Sfath even said this, explaining that language serves only for communication, and the communication contains only everything that is of a harmonious nature, which is why there are human races that only communicate with each other in song/musical form.

Quetzal:

79. That is of correctness.

80. Language is actually harmonious in itself, and so, such a thing should also be expressed.

81. In your ranks, you should at least consider being active at times in this form, namely with singing.

...

84. ... even we and still more highly developed humans cannot help but be harmoniously active in this form, by which means also our feelings and thoughts, etc. become more peaceful, calmer, and also more affectionate.

Billy:

This, I can vividly imagine, especially since I have previously heard you singing rather often – together with several others, as well as alone.

...

Quetzal:

95. It is simply inconceivable that some earthly women, during the early months of pregnancy, behave so inhumanely and even take advantage of their condition in order to neglect their duties and pass themselves off as being sick.

Billy:

How do your wives behave in relation to this?

Quetzal:

96. Such deplorable things are unknown to us because our female partners behave quite right psychologically, in reference to a pregnancy.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_172

Quetzal:

5. The efforts of the larger number of group members entitle us to act in this form and allow for relaxation, even if there are still some assumptions which aim at the fact that we are always forgiving and would once again relent.

6. That, however, is an evil error on the part of those who think so, for we hold fast to our decrees and do not deviate a thread's breadth from them; not even when we now allow justified relaxations.

...

Quetzal:

30. You {Billy} act effectively and impartially, without regard to losses – even in your own family, about which I must admit that I would have difficulties in your place because it is still the case with us that in such matters, we are tempted to make certain fine distinctions when it concerns our closest family members, or when it concerns friends who must be censured or be reprimanded by any measure.

31. We overcome these selfish emotions very well, but they often cause us difficulties.

32. But unlike us, you are entirely free of such selfish preferences in such concerns, while we have not yet gotten over such.

...

46. And last but not least, we also discovered the shocking fact that exists within you, that you are absolutely neutral towards even your closest and immediate family members and friends, etc., and that you show them complete equality, a fact which knows no difference from those people who are classified into an external circle according to our discretion.

47. Concerning this, we made the surprising discovery that you are far superior to us in this respect and that you are beyond showing selfish preferences to those who belong to your direct family circle and circle of friends.

48. This is a fact that embarrasses us, my friend, because we are just on the verge of solving this problem of brotherly love and universal love, in which there only prevails a relevant form of absolute equality.

49. Your earthly mission obviously allows you to find ways in your mind to obtain absolute, egalitarian brotherly love and universal love, which still remains closed to us, so I ask you, please, to speak with me about this at an appropriate time and by order of our spiritual leaders on Erra, and about other very important things, through which you can be helpful to us if you would agree to this?

...

Billy:

I am moved – you really mean this seriously?

Quetzal:

54. That is of correctness because at least with respect to the aforementioned, we and our intellectual leaders need your teachings and instructions.

Billy:

By your 'intellectual leaders', you probably mean 'spiritual leaders', right?

Quetzal:

55. That is of correctness.

56. These are very wise men and women on our home planet, who teach and lead our people as leaders, as well as publicise the advice of the High Council.

...

Quetzal:

...

60. Thus, you also have to consider that your spirit-form is at least as old as ours and also that there are only a few leaders of our home planet who are alive with spirit-forms that are a little older than yours.

61. Nevertheless, the difference is so small that it cannot come into play.

62. Furthermore, you also have to consider that their and your spirit-forms were created far away from the Earth, in the same remote space, and began to learn and to grasp together and that your spirit-form is absolutely equal and even superior in certain respects, as has been proven at other times and once again.

...

64. And precisely because of your identification with the Earth forms and with all of the very many wants and negative concerns on the planet Earth, you have found means and ways of evolution that have hitherto remained foreign to us and that have also been unappreciated by us on our new homeworld, which is dominated by the purest peace.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_173

Quetzal:

8. We all feel at home in the Center {Semjase Silver Star Center}, which is why we very often spend all of our leisure time there – all of us who are from Erra as well as all those whose homeworlds are different from ours but who, nevertheless, fulfil their duties here on the Earth and cooperate with us.

9. And for this reason, I would ask you to make it clear to your group members that from now on, they must be prepared every now and then to meet humans at night, in or around the Center, who are foreign to the Earth, and in this context, there is also the possibility that light phenomena, etc. will appear if materialisations of our allies occur and so on.

10. But there is nothing to be afraid of or to fear, for as you know, all our allies are also peaceful people, who inflict no harm on anyone or on any life form.

11. The most that could happen would be a shock-induced defensive reaction, if any group member would deliberately commit a frightening action, either for fun or out of malice, etc.

12. In the case of an encounter with one of our allies, who can endure the Earth-human swinging waves and, therefore, do not need to be protected by invisibility, etc., it is to be declared to the group members that in such a case, they should not make any attempt to communicate but simply step aside in order to let the respective visitor pass, who will usually take no further notice of the presence of the respective group members.

13. We and our allies come to the Center in order to relax and also for the purpose of our homeworld, which means for all of us that no entertainment or work should be associated with it.

14. Moreover, a conversation would be impossible in many cases because many of us and our allies do not master any earthly languages but only understand these through the use of translators, which may not be in operation as a result of a certain purpose-driven order from our home centre that is connected to such a visit.

15. Thus, every difficulty can be avoided if on the part of the group members, no attempts of contact are made, neither through any attempts of communication nor through any attempts of physical contact.

16. This must be made completely clear to the group members because such attempts could be misinterpreted, by which means there could be a defensive reaction which, under certain circumstances, would produce rather unpleasant consequences for that particular group member, if he/she would be struck by a paralysis swinging wave or by the force of a stun gun, such things finding their use among our various allies during a fright-reaction.

17. So it is fitting that neither attempts of address nor attempts of physical contact take place if there is an encounter, whether the outer appearance of the respective visitor appears to be so very human, according to Earth's sense, or whether it appears to be completely foreign to the Earth.

Billy:

I think that this should be understandable to the group members when I explain it to them. But in addition, I would like to ask you something: When you say that ALL of you and your allies come here and that they view our Center as a true home, then this would have to amount to 2,500 human beings, and secondly, they would then be here very often, right? Is that not a little too much traffic?

Quetzal:

18. It may be that every night, they will be visiting among you because in truth, the entire number of visitors to the Center amounts to 2,862 life-forms.

19. But in general, it will be such that they move cautiously, so as not to meet the group members directly.

20. Nevertheless, chance encounters, etc. can hardly be avoided.

21. In addition, you must be very certain that there is order around the edifices and on the paths and roads and that no materials of any kind stand about or are lying around, as has often been the case and which has already repeatedly led to small accidents – even with us.

Billy:

That is a right amount of human beings, man oh man. And if you speak of all, then that means that actually everyone comes, thus the small elves, just as also the largest ones, the middle-grade ones, the luminous ones, the ones with luminous eyes, and all others.

Quetzal:

22. That is of correctness.

23. The largest of our allies, Andron, is 5 metres and 26 centimetres tall {17' 3"} according to earthly measures, and then there is Danel under him, who is 2 metres and 48 centimetres tall {8' 2"}.

24. The smallest ones are around 70 centimetres tall {2' 4"}, and then there are those whose eyes illuminate very brightly and whose eyes are on the upper forehead of the skull.

Billy:

I know, but then there are those whose entire bodies fluoresce, or those whose bodies illuminate radiantly, along with those who always practice gymnastics on elevated places, such as on rooftops and trees, etc.

Quetzal:

25. That is of correctness, but in addition to these, there are still other variously-formed life-forms, but they are all of human genus and species.

Billy:

Yes, of course, such as one, of whom someone might think that a rubber ball rolls across the ground.

Quetzal:

26. That is of correctness; this is also under them.

...

Quetzal:

109. The work and interest as well as the employment of the male {FIGU} group members often appear to me as if they were inmates of an old folks home, in which there live only old, soft, and pitiful people who are oversensitive to pain and who have no initiative.

110. They always give me the impression that they belong to a disinterested club in an old folks home, filled with soft, decrepit, and querulous old men who have no initiative.

111. This is a fact that is incomprehensible to me and that is extremely deplorable because I have the opportunity to compare these group members to our old and grey ones, with whom such incidents are inconceivable.

112. Even our oldest aged ones yield much more initiative and true employment in all concerns and in manual labour than what is the case with these young and energetic group members.

113. The least of all, those of our old men still accomplish at least twice as much as these young and strong group members, who feel ill and miserable if they are touched by a gentle gust of wind and stay away from any work and commitment, so that they can secretly rejoice eodem tempore (= in the same instant) about the fact that they can keep themselves away from every work and commitment by a trick.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_176

Quetzal:

40. The three days on Erra will be strenuous for you, and you will hardly find any sleep during this time.

...

Billy:

You can give me your 'special food' and your 'special drinks', which expel sleepiness.

Quetzal:

42. Those will be necessary either way, nevertheless, it is appropriate that you find plenty of sleep.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_179

Quetzal:

98. That would also make us very joyful and happy.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_180

Quetzal:

2. There is no explanation needed from you because I followed the course of things, although I could not be helpful, of which I am ashamed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_182

Quetzal:

20. Moreover, she herself lives in the unreal delusion that she is capable of thinking and acting more rationally and more logically than we, who are millions of years ahead of your development.

...

23. We probably have our faults, even in her case, but not in terms of decisions and not in terms of wrong assessments of the truth.

24. Our fault always only lay in the fact that we were never able to understand and failed to recognise that the Earth-human thinks untruthfully in his/her superficial thinking, while other more profound thoughts are present.

...

Quetzal:

93. Since time immemorial, we have had some difficulties with regard to our neutrality towards all group members.

94. This in the sense that it has often been rather difficult for us to behave neutrally toward these Earth-humans.

95. Even we are only human, and even if everything was always just a one-sided affair, we feel just as humans do, so every single group member has grown into our feelings, which often made it rather difficult for us to make our decisions.

96. When defects arose in many of the group members, just because we were connected to our emotions, we often had great difficulties with regard to maintaining objective unity toward the fallible ones because we always wanted to be supportive of them.

99. Nevertheless, from our side, the same loving thoughts and feelings of sensitivity also prevail toward these group members, which often gave us difficulties with our decisions, as I have already explained.

100. At the beginning of our contacts, things were different because we were too focused on pure logic and, thus, strongly neglected our feelings, but as a result of your teaching, we had to recognise that without these feelings, everything was different, incorrect, and too strict.

101. In accordance with your instruction, all of our people changed their relevant actions and conduct, and since that time, a lot has changed to our advantage.

...

Quetzal:

119. ... those instructive powers, who own the true logic and who are more advanced by millions of years in knowledge, recognition, ability, and in wisdom and love, and in the fulfilment of the creational laws and recommendations.

120. ... we already lead our lives in pure logic.

...

Quetzal:

154. On the other hand, we also have our ordinal rules, regulations, and arrangements, which we have to follow in solidarity and according to our best ability, fortune, and knowledge, without which we would have never reached the state of our current life, knowledge, love, insight, progress, and so on.

155. Only with us, there was a time when the way of life and the future was decided by the entire people and by our former leaders at that time, such that from the moment of the decision, every life-form actually strove, consciously and to the utmost, to follow and keep the given guidelines, ordinances, and regulations, etc., even though there were still many at that time who were of the same mistaken view as the group members of today.

156. As a result, fewer than 620 humans had to be held accountable and abandoned for wrongdoing, even though our population at the time was more than 238 million.

...

Quetzal:

167. But for a long time, we have been depressed and feel an ache inside ourselves, that all of these efforts are neither respected nor recognised, which you have undertaken for years for all group members, and that they are even ignored and then thanked by the fact that there continues to be violations of all kinds and that all real success and progress are prevented.

...

Billy:

... Yet I think that what you can do with your people on Erra, that should also be good and inexpensive for the Earth-humans. Just the fact that you do a lot of regular duty work on Erra between the sixth and eighth hour of the morning and after that, you can leave and do what you want, I have found that to be very fine and reasonable ...

...

Quetzal:

254. Many humans have certain phrases, and so do I.

Billy:

Sure, that is correct, but too much already gets boring.

Quetzal:

255. It must also be fun.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_184

Taljda:

13. The flying apparatus is a spaceship from the planet Druan, whose human life-forms we therefore call the Druan.

14. They are a very widely-developed and extremely peaceful human race that can bring some innovations to our own technology.

15. The planet Druan lies in the NOL system, which belongs to a galaxy whose size is about 1.7 times larger than ours, and this galaxy is located 3.10 million light-years away from the SOL system.

...

20. The Druans are on an expedition here on Earth, for at least 5 to 6 months, but in accordance with our experience, it could more likely last for years.

...

28. Thus, there is the possibility that a responsible person from the personnel of the Druan ship, perhaps even several, will enter into contact with you.

29. In any case, they are interested in such contact, after we came to an agreement with them and discussed with them in detail, whereby we also explained to them our common mission on Earth.

...

Billy:

And – what can they want, then, from me? As an Earthling, I cannot really offer them anything.

Taljda:

30. You are too modest.

31. Think once of the leading teaching persons on Erra.

32. The Druans are also human beings like us.

(Florena's Note – 8th January 2004: The Plejaren and the Druans established intensive contact with each other. In the course of two years, negotiations took place over an admission of the Druans into the Plejaren Federation, which found its fulfilment with the integration of the Druans in February, 1985. At the same time, they agreed on the integration of the Druans into the spirit teachings, as this is taught by the Plejaren, because the spirit teaching [now referred to as the Creation energy teaching] of the Druans are in conformity with the teaching of the Plejaren, as they are also taught by Billy on the Earth. On the 11th of May, 1985, Quetzal, accompanied by a Druan named Zeltan [= the thoughtful], appeared to Billy and explained to him that the spirit teaching, which Billy prepares for the Plejaren spirit leadership, would also be passed on to the Druans in the future for learning purposes. The Contact with Zeltan [= the thoughtful] remained unique, however. Since that time, the Druans have been working with Billy's teachings.)

...

Billy:

... But tell me, you always speak as though you yourself would see it as the Plejaren do. How does this happen, since you come, nevertheless, from the Vega and Lyra systems?

Taljda:

...

37. The Plejaren, as you call them, thus our mutual friends, originally came from our systems, assuming that we take as a reference point that period when their ancestors left our systems.

38. Unlike the Earth-humans, the direct contact between the emigrants and those who remained on the homeworlds has been maintained and preserved up to the present day, even though much has changed in the wise of life and in the overall development of both poles, different forms of technology developed and differences more or less also appeared in the overall evolution.

39. But the preserved connection was and is and will remain such that we see ourselves as a single people, even though we have our home worlds many light-years apart.

...

Billy:

... I estimate that you are about the same age as Semjase. Is that right?

Taljda:

41. In terms of age, I am somewhat younger because since my birth, 314 years have passed.

...

Billy:

... My question should be whether your average age of your life expectancy is also around a thousand years, as this is the case with the Plejaren.

Taljda:

43. In this regard, the average age with us is set a little lower, namely at 987 years.

...

Billy:

Good – are you married? Do you have children?

Taljda:

45. No, neither of them.

...

Taljda:

58. Human life, in our and thus, also in the earthly sense, because the Earth-humans found a physical union with our ancestors, has an average age between 964 and 1,089 years, whereby other alien races and our human life-forms exhibit much lower or much higher life expectancies.

59. But in our and in the Earth-humans's case, an average age of around a thousand years must be noted because all our races stand in physical and old-customary solidarity, equipped with the corresponding genetic make-up of the corresponding high life expectancy.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_189

Quetzal:

3. So I had no other choice but to go to the corner of the house in front of Eva's bedroom in order to call you audibly from there.

4. At the same time, it was not any different than that my voice was also heard by your wife, but this certainly should not be of a bad value.

5. For my part, no one could see me because I was not visible to Earth-human eyes due to my protective equipment.

...

7. Things do not look very good because the already evaluated analyses of some group members have triggered horrors in the new contact personnel {persons from the DAL Universe}, and terrors still arise within them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_191

Semjase:

45. Sure, I can do this favour for you, thus, I direct my words to all Earth-humans in this way:

46. The origin of the beginning of sorrow and all evils on the Earth is described in the OM writing by the prophet Henoch, in which he speaks of Semjasa and his followers who, at that time, went with him among the Earth-humans and caused disaster.

47. Semjasa and some others originated from a planet in the LYRA system, but others were natives of other worlds that are listed as NAKAR planets in the old registers and which belonged to a remote system with the name USOL and which were completely destroyed by acts of war shortly after the flight away.

48. The planet in the LYRA system was named NAGAL, and the other worlds: DEJMA, SENAS and TRJBOL.

49. Semjasa was the supreme leader of all, and Asasel was first secretly and then openly his adversary.

50. Through the incidents, as they are described in the Book of Henoch, they brought all evils to the Earth in their beginning, whereby the first two nuclear wars were released on Earth, as Semjasa and Asasel mutually annihilated themselves and their people.

51. After their rebirth, they were taken away by their former brothers and sisters on Earth, so in the course of time, they converted to the truth again and committed themselves to work on the Earth in the future, according to the strictest performance of duty, for so long until all damage and all errors were removed again, which they had caused in their incomprehensibility at the beginning of their time on Earth.

52. Throughout many lives, they slowly prepared for this task, which they then took over for the first time approximately fourteen thousand years ago, so at least some of them, while the rest of them were not yet ready.

53. But in order to be able to change everything, it was also necessary that everyone would change themselves into the thinking of the Earth-humans and, thus, forget their entire past, which has fully happened in the meantime.

54. A memory of this would not have been useful because as a result of any knowledge of the spectacular past, one might be inclined to take measures that would provoke renewed catastrophes.

55. Therefore, the advantage of the memory that they all possessed slowly had to sink into ignorance.

56. Many of today's Earth-humans, in the early days of the beginning of evils on the Earth, belonged to the group of Semjasa, who was their supreme leader, as was already explained.

57. The fact of today's group members and of those who were culpable at that time, in reference to the same spirit-form, is:

Billy:

Thanks, it was easier like that. But it is still to be said now that in this life, some of our group members belong to the group for the first time, but in former times, others were already here, in firmer or very loose forms, as other personalities.

Semjase:

78. That is correct, and it should also be taken into account that there are others living on the Earth at this time who belong to this original group, but who have departed from your group or have not yet joined you.

...

Data about Semjase – Florena (22nd January 2004):

With the date of the 28th of January 1986, the planned 11-year period for the ongoing contacts with Semjase had expired. But this only means that no other contact reports between Billy and Semjase will be published for the group and for the general public and that no other questions can be placed by these to the Plejaren, etc., while the contacts between the Plejaren and Billy would continue to exist, nevertheless, and it was not planned to conclude these. Thus, many more contacts between Billy and Ptaah, Quetzal, Taljda, Menara as well as Pleija, etc. have taken place since then, but the contact reports have not been officially published up to the new millennium.

Semjase spent the time from February of 1965 to June of 1973 with Asket's people in the DAL Universe, without any contact with our universe. After her return to Erra from the DAL Universe in June of 1973, she came to the Earth in July of 1973 and resumed her task, which she had already taken up here earlier.

After that, the first contact with Billy took place on the 28th of January, 1975.

Out of all earthly languages, Semjase only mastered the German language and also learned no others during her stay on Earth up to November of 1984.

Her field of work was restricted to the European territory, and she had no authority to interfere with any concerns or to take up contacts in the areas of the two other existing Plejaren groups working on the Earth, so in Asia and America.

On the 15th of December 1977, Semjase had a life-threatening accident at the Centre, after which she was taken to Erra for medical treatment and for recovery and then came back to the Earth again on the 20th of May 1978 in the 107th Contact. She had ongoing contacts with Billy until the 144th Contact on the 26th of March 1981.

From the end of March of 1981, Semjase was absent from the Earth until January of 1984 as a result of other tasks.

3rd February 1984, 191st Contact: Last contact of Semjase with Billy.

In early November of 1984, Semjase suffered a brain collapse as an after-effect of the accident on the 15th of December 1977. She was immediately taken to Asket's people in the DAL Universe, where she became healthy again through the assistance of her and her friends (Sona/Sonaer).

The complete regeneration of the brain and all consciousness powers, abilities, and memories, etc., which were lost as a result of the collapse, will likely take up a period of 70 years, as Ptaah explained, and during that time, Semjase remains in the DAL Universe.

...

Out of all 3 Plejaren groups (Europe, Asia, America) on Earth, only one person was named Semjase, namely the Semjase of the European group, who took up contact with Billy. Apart from Billy, she never had contacts with other Earth-humans on all continents (except a chance encounter in the Persian desert in the vicinity of Zahedan with a young German woman named Elsa Schröder, which only lasted for a few minutes {in January 1975, see Contact Report 31:S104-112}), and this will remain so in the future.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_193

Quetzal:

15. But only now could I do this, after our group there said good-bye and took off two days ago in a definitive form, as this has also happened with the group in Asia.

16. Thus, our group {European group} is now responsible for the entire world.

...

27. The first step relating to this has already been done in that we withdrew our liaison groups in the USA and in Asia because it is not right that visionaries and swindlers use us for profit purposes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_194

Quetzal:

16. 6) Even if we must cancel our official contacts, as it was planned, we will continue to linger on the Earth and will maintain contact with you, but we will otherwise remain only as observers and not in an active and intervening form.

17. This, at least until the year 2029, after which, presumably, we will then finally remove ourselves and will turn our attention to other tasks that are foreign to the Earth, with the assurance that we permanently withdraw ourselves into our time dimension and never again return to this space-time configuration.

...

32. Only in the distant future will we, perhaps, return in secret to fulfil our remaining tasks, as is planned.

33. However, this will be when the Earth-human has already long dominated spaceflight and has completed contact, in an official form, with other human forms in the Universe.

34. However, these human forms will be of a different form than we are, which is why they can physically associate with the Earth-humans.

Billy:

Then contacts with other non-earthly humans are still coming in the distant time?

Quetzal:

35. That is of correctness, and it is to be expected that intelligences of non-Lyran origin will appear again, and as our calculations show, there should be those among them whose original, ancient forefathers already visited the Earth, if not always in a loving kind and wise.

Billy:

Probably those who showed themselves off as angry gods and other rulers?

Quetzal:

36. That is of correctness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_196

Quetzal:

4. I really do not know where I should stand anymore because I always commit a blunder with the Earth-humans when it concerns the assessment of things that are of such form.

Billy:

You should once come to terms with it and thoroughly deal with the fact that the human beings of the Earth are no saints and, above all, neither is he. With the Earthlings, it is such that lies are invented for all possible purposes, so apparent facts also become generated, which can be quite devilishly deceptive because they are only apparent facts or lying facts.

Quetzal:

5. You already told me that on many occasions, but I simply cannot come to terms with it because the fact that the humans lie is unusual and foreign to me.

Billy:

Of course, but still, it is just so on the Earth. The Earthlings are not Plejaren, to whom lying is a foreign word. For this reason, you should not always take everything so devilishly seriously and at face value, if you ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_200

Billy:

You explain that just like a doctor.

Quetzal:

15. Like Ptaah, I have also learned this specialty.

...

20. All of us, who keep in touch with you, have learned the German language very extensively.

...

27. That is correct because Sfath was also one of my teachers, and of course, he spoke with me regarding your person and task.

28. He also presented your works to me, which he recorded constantly.

29. And when I had studied these works, I decided to be assigned to your mission and the connection with you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_211

Billy:

Yesterday, we talked about the fact that the aid agencies, which operate their craft here on Earth, are actually profit-gangster organizations because they only provide their so-called assistance for a fee, whereby they put aside a large portion of the cash donations for their own machinations, such as for compensation, etc. What do you think of this – and do you also have aid agencies for people in need of assistance?

Quetzal:

1. Such aid agencies do exist with us, however, not in relation to our own people, but rather in the context of the assistance that we provide for other peoples who belong to our federation, respectively who are cared for by our federation, because they still live in lower levels of development and are not yet in a position to bring themselves to a state of their own assistance.

Billy:

Interesting, but this does not contradict your directives, which state that you may not interfere in the affairs of foreign worlds and peoples, who are not yet developed far enough to be able to master spaceflight?

Quetzal:

2. Concerning the peoples, to whom we can provide assistance, on the one hand, it concerns those who are arranged into our federation for the purpose of protection, and on the other hand, the fact applies that they know very much about spaceflight technology and, thus, also about the existence of other civilizations on other planets, and they also stand in connection with these; however, they are not yet in a position to manage their own affairs in such a way that they would not have to suffer any need.

Billy:

Aha, now I understand. But how do you handle the matters around these aid agencies? Are profits also made there, and are relief goods, etc. set aside as compensation for giving assistance, as this is the case with the earthly aid agencies? By the way, I find this to be extremely infamous because I am of the view that assistance should never be handled in any way that involves repayment and profit. In my opinion, an aid agency should consist of people who should not provide assistance in order to be repaid but who should provide it voluntarily in their leisure time and, thus, without compensation.

Quetzal:

3. That is also of correctness.

4. What exists on the Earth in the so-called aid agencies must honestly be described as profiteering and as deceiving the donors of the relief goods because – especially with respect to the monetary contributions, respectively the cash donations – a large percentage is set aside for the machinations and the compensations of those members of the organization, who do not provide their assistance voluntarily but only for a respectable compensation.

5. All such activity is absolutely unacceptable with us because all our helpers of all aid agencies, which operate both privately as well as for the whole population, work free of charge and use their leisure time for this.

...

Billy:

... Sometimes, I must confess that I am ashamed when I see how women let themselves be degraded or be humiliated by men, when I see how men treat women like dirt – they beat, prostitute, exploit, and rob them of their personal opinion and freedom – and when I see how the female gender must suffer almost entirely under the rule of the male world, unable to have equal rights and often being treated like a rag that has all the filth of the world in itself.

...

With you, this is fortunately not so, as it is the case here on the Earth. Anyhow, that is what Semjase taught me. But what about with other peoples, I mean with other peoples of your federation, etc.?

Quetzal:

21. In our entire federation, there exist laws that prevent such, as it is common on the Earth.

22. Nevertheless, there are foreign civilisations and peoples on foreign worlds, who are not allied with us and who exhibit similar conditions of the mentioned form, as these are usual on Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_213

Quetzal:

170. Our laws clearly stipulate that if such an act was committed in a drunken state, then it would equal a serious felony, which would also accordingly have to be punished very harshly.

...

Billy:

Aha, and I thought that you only had weak alcoholic drinks and no more people who get drunk.

Quetzal:

...

179. We have very weak alcoholic drinks, but the alcohol content is so low that it can only be measured as a small fraction of a percent of alcohol content.

180. Therefore, it is not possible that a person could get drunk on alcohol, not even if they could drink several litres of such a drink.

181. Nevertheless, we still have an old-conventional legislation that governs alcoholism, as well as intoxication by alcohol and acts of every kind that are committed in this state, so when one is killed or a crime is otherwise committed or when any harm, accident, or misfortune is caused.

182. But this legislation is already more than 5,600 years old and has never had to be put to use since that time when our alcoholic drinks were reduced in their percentages in such a manner as I explained to you.

183. Moreover, the people of our world have learned and have adjusted themselves to get by without alcoholic drinks, for these are not necessary for a normal and healthy lifestyle.

184. Of course, wine, for example, can have a health-promoting effect, if this is enjoyed with measure and a goal, as this is also the case with other substances, but on our part, we have so aligned our food toward the highest possible health values that we have no longer needed alcoholic drinks for more than 5,600 years, which also eliminated the dangers of evil caused by drunkenness.

Billy:

Oh, I see. I have actually misunderstood something there. But could I expect that you, and maybe even Ptaah, would drink a glass of wine with me, if I were to find you one?

Quetzal:

185. Nothing should prevent that, if it is a rare or unique case.

...

Billy:

... Ah, I suppose that you have the freedom to decide for yourselves as to whether or not you want to drink alcohol – or is there an ordinance that forbids this, thus, a ban?

Quetzal:

187. No, that is not the case because the abstention from alcohol is founded on a voluntary basis, so we can very well drink alcohol if we want.

Billy:

And concerning this, how is it with your federation members?

Quetzal:

188. Some are inclined towards moderation in strong alcoholic drinks, but others act as we do.

189. But even those who consume alcohol in moderation do not get drunk.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_216

Billy:

We on the Earth have consulates or embassies in all countries. These have the task of representing citizens who belong to their home countries in foreign countries and also of performing other duties that result with the host country and the home country, whereby also purely political matters must be settled by these institutions, and in particular, the transmission of messages also falls to the embassies. ... Here, I ask myself, how is this with you, for you certainly also have similar institutions, through which home country citizens are represented and through which messages, etc. are transmitted, right? Also, such enterprises are probably necessary in regard to contact with your Federation and the governments as well as with those who do not belong to your alliance.

Quetzal:

76. That is quite correct.

77. We also have such institutions, of course, but on our own planets, they are not related to the same political framework as the one you know on Earth.

78. Purely planetary institutions in relation to this only have the duties of care, order, and administration, but no political aspects, etc., for our worlds are guided by the spirit leadership of a central form, whereby the institutions mentioned, then, are the actual executive bodies.

79. Of course, the same are also responsible in certain cases, which are specified very much together with the central spirit leadership, for particular aspects concerning the governments of planets of our Federation as well as with governments of worlds that are foreign to the Federation.

80. But overall, they are only representatives who exercise their duties on behalf of the central spirit leadership who, in turn, represents the people's will, which is fathomed in each case by planet-wide votes.

81. Such votes, for which you say elections among yourselves, take place in accordance with proposals, etc. from the people, but also in accordance with the ideas and proposals of the central spirit leadership or with regard to advice from the High Council.

82. In the past, when separation and discord still prevailed among our peoples, institutions of the aforementioned kind also existed, of course, whereby these were likewise exposed to attacks by discontented ones, etc., as this will also be the case on the Earth in the coming time in different countries ...

83. Thus, our very distant ancestors had the same problems with discontented ones, with fanatics, terrorists, and assassins, with regard to attacks and destruction, etc. on the aforementioned institutions, whereby also racial hatred, hatred of foreigners, and other degenerate extremism played important roles.

84. In order to protect the institutions, and indeed, also a wide variety of others that had official forms of government, a decision was put into effect, which stipulated that all governmental buildings and administrative buildings, etc. be banned from all residential areas and be transferred to uninhabited areas that were exclusively valid for the purpose of the institutions and that, of course, also found appropriate formations with water features, trees, and all sorts of bushes, flowers, and other plants.

85. Far outside of these institutional systems, so that the residents did not feel trapped and imprisoned, everything was fenced in and was equipped with security equipment, which made it absolutely impossible for an undetected penetration by water, land, or air, as well as for a penetration of an underground kind.

86. In this connection, there were also guards who closely monitored every person and every vehicle or aircraft, when allowed entry, driving, or flying into the secured area.

87. Through this, unauthorised ones were prevented from entering the premises and causing harm as well as disaster and destruction and endangering human lives.

...

Billy:

What seasons exist on Erra?

Quetzal:

193. The same as the ones on your home planet, the Earth.

Billy:

So spring, summer, autumn, and winter?

Quetzal:

194. That is of correctness.

Billy:

And the duration of the individual seasons, these also approximately coincide with ours?

Quetzal:

195. Even that is of correctness.

Billy:

... How is it, actually, with you, when teeth are damaged or are no longer available? And what about dental care and dental hygiene of a personal form?

Quetzal:

66. We maintain our teeth by sound waves ...

...

70. Our teeth as well as dental care and dental hygiene are such that the first teeth, which, to my knowledge, you call milk teeth, independently cease their functions and fall out, like with the Earth-humans.

71. The second renewable teeth are preserved in the best possible way through authoritative cleaning and through healthy and vigorous care.

72. If these become damaged for some reason, which is extremely rare, then the corresponding teeth are removed in a completely painless manner, after which they grow again independently, which traces back to a genetically engineered process that is given through heredity.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_224

Quetzal:

3. What you say is of correctness; on our part, we always only spoke of the fact that other than on the Earth, no human life-forms exist in the SOL system on other planets and on their moons, and indeed, even if we have only used the term life-forms alone.

4. But always excluded were those human life-forms that, for your understanding, we designate as SOL-system foreigners or SOL-system outsiders and who look around on SOL planets and their moons solely for expeditionary purposes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_226

Billy:

... And as we are talking about technology, the question is whether you can explain how energy is obtained from Erra's thermosphere, which, like with us, is around 2000 degrees hot, if you may explain this?

Quetzal:

78. The fact that we obtain energy from the thermosphere does not fall under secrecy.

79. Concerning the technical details, however, I may give no information officially because according to our directives, this would be an unauthorized intervention in the technological development, which would plunge the Earth-humans into a catastrophe.

80. Once it is considered that the Earth-humans repurpose practically all their valuable technological inventions and achievements in apparatuses and devices, in order to cause destruction with these, especially in terms of wars and the destruction of nature, then they would also abuse these insights.

81. If the earthly scientists would have knowledge of the utilization of the thermosphere's energy, then they would construct the thermosphere-energy technology into an all-destroying weapon, by which entire countries could be burnt to ashes within seconds.

Quetzal:

99. Well, then I would now like to drink another glass of your good wine with you, if you still have this beverage.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_231

Billy:

... Then I have a question about the Chinese, who always claim that their whole culture originated from their own people, but Sfath once told me that this is not the truth. You told me the same thing, but neither you nor Sfath went into it. Both of you have only explained that Chinese culture also contains foreign influences.

Quetzal:

260. That is of correctness.

261. More than 25,000 years ago, the actual ancestors of the Chinese were immigrants from an area beyond your galaxy, which is why the term 'beyond the sun' was used, meaning the galactic central sun in which the galactic black hole moves.

262. The real Ur-ur human beings in China lived more than two million years ago.

263. After the immigration of foreigners from beyond the Milky Way, the much later Earth-born natives who lived in the areas where today's China is, died out over time.

264. They died as a result of an incurable hereditary disease that spread as they mixed sexually with the new immigrants from 'beyond the sun'.

265. All this knowledge, however, as well as the knowledge of space technology and many other things, was lost, as was the knowledge of the original origins of the immigrants.

266. The immigrants from 'beyond the sun', i.e. the actual ur-forefathers of today's Chinese people, already took over many cultural values of the natives from the natives alone, who inhabited the ur-chinese areas and had created certain small cultures.

Ptaah:

12. But we hoped that with time everything would change for the better, so, on the one hand, in the group and on the other hand, also in world affairs, that yes, by the peace meditation operated by you, with which since then also 511 million human beings of our peoples on Erra and the 3.02 billion (3,020,000,000) human beings from the peoples of our federation, galaxy-wide, support you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_235

Billy:

... But what about an earlier statement by you that in the future a spaceship would officially land in the USA? I think that this was explained to me in September 1975, at the 34th or 35th contact.

Ptaah:

98. Yes, to my knowledge this explanation was given to you at the 35th contact meeting with my daughter Semjase on September 16, 1975.

99. In addition, I may explain to you, in the expansion of the explanation at that time, that these interests have changed thoroughly.

100. For our part, we were able to locate the group that would have come to Earth in the future and would have made official contact with the Earth-humans in America.

101. In the knowledge of the true, unpeaceful and arrogant machinations and all other evils, which prevail in America and influence the whole world negatively, we informed those, who were intended for the official establishment of contact with the terrestrial humans in America, recognised by foresight.

102. After taking note of our information, however, that group decided not to carry out this enterprise, although it had already been decided.

103. Consequently, this planned event does not take place, because America is not yet mature enough in any wise for such contacts; but this does not preclude other strangers from coming to Earth and seeking contact.

Billy:

And, were the members of this group belonging to you or your Federation?

Ptaah:

104. No, in no wise.

105. They are at home beyond the sun, in the same star region where the Japanese and Chinese originally also had their original homes.

Billy:

Interesting. And by "beyond the sun", as I found out some time ago, you do not mean our sun, SOL, but the central sun of our galaxy, our Milky Way. Is that right?

Ptaah:

106. That corresponds to the circumstances.

...

Billy:

... Although I have often declared that you live on Erra according to the laws of polygamy, the question is always raised whether you would not have any problems with that?

Ptaah:

124. The conditions in this respect are completely different from those on the Earth.

125. In contrast to the women of the Earth, our female powers know no jealousy and no egoism.

126. They are unfamiliar with quarrelsomeness and they are also aware of all the advantages that are peculiar to them in that they live in an association of several female partners and can afford mutual assistance in every respect.

127. But they are also aware of all the advantages they enjoy by having only one spouse responsible for them, whom they are devoted to in common.

128. Through polygamy, however, it is also given and guaranteed that it never appears that a man has a secret lover, as in monogamy it very often appears in the Earth human sense, which leads to quarrels and assaults and destroys marriages and families, because the women of the Earth-humans are not aware and not big enough to grant to the man the natural-creational right of polygamy allocated to him.

...

135. The conditions in this respect can be compared with ours, which can look back on a polygamy tradition of many millions of years.

136. However, we have different terms for the marriage of one man and several women.

137. For us, the term monogamy always prevails, even if the man is married to several women.

138. The man is always in complete union with a woman, so they are always one and therefore one.

139. But this refers to any case of a woman who lives in an alliance with a man who is married to several women.

140. Our law says that the marriage covenant is based on a marital relationship between a man and a woman, who marry together and form a covenant in order to form a unity of two.

Billy:

... When Nokodemion returned from the Arahath Athersata level to the material world in his time, he found conditions on the planets that were significant for his peoples that were quite devilishly similar to the political conditions that prevail on the Earth today. The countries had degenerated into monarchies and dictatorships and other unfair regimes. Many countries fought each other, murdered and enslaved, tortured and exploited. Nokodemion did not take long to establish a multi-national peace-keeping force, which was built in such a manner that each responsible country maintained an armed permanent army of a certain strength of combat-capable men, at its own expense, which was only intended to create and maintain peace in combat-capable form on all worlds. However, each army of a country was only just large enough to ward off an attacking enemy, but no revolution or war of aggression could be waged against another state. The total number of combat-capable men of all armies of a planet amounted to 3 million men, distributed on all countries involved, which were individually however trained and armed according to a uniform system. These multinational peace-combat troops were under the direct command of the multinational army command. If an unrest, revolution or fratricidal war broke out somewhere in one country, or if one country attacked another, the red button was pressed on the multinational army leadership. This meant that the command was issued immediately, that so many men of the multi-national peace-combat force appeared together at the scene of the revolutionary or belligerent events, within 24 hours and in one fell swoop, in sophisticated coordination and put an end to every revolution and every war within a few hours by force of arms in completely logical consequence of the application of the law of self-defence. ...

Taljda:

58. What you tell me is known to me; and I know that peace was actually created through this method at that time.

59. But in the course of time people softened and abolished the army of multinational form, as soon as wars broke out again over the worlds and power-hungry people rose into the governments.

60. This then lasted for tens of thousands of years before the same system was introduced again 52,000 years ago with a multi-national peace-keeping troops.

61. Then it lasted 67 years, after which there really was peace actually prevailed everywhere again, which has been maintained until today, not least because of the multi-national peace-keeping troops, which have been an integral part of our entire Federation ever since.

62. Weapons may only be manufactured for this troop and for leisure purposes, whereby, however, the hunting and killing of animals of all kinds is forbidden, as this, unfortunately, does not apply on the Earth.

63. Animals may only be shot in our Federation in self-defence or in their form that impairs the environment.

64. The so-called illegal black market or private trade with weapons of any kind known to you is not permitted, but every person has the granted right to possess and use one or more weapons in a legal form, if the weapons are registered in a central computer and checked for their respective individual characteristics and features, whereby it can be proven at any time where and when and whose weapon was used.

65. In addition, it is so important to us that any weapon can only be used by the owner, as their personal swinging wave is necessary to use the weapon at all.

...

Taljda:

116. Maybe I could help you with your questions and the rest?

Billy:

No, unfortunately not, because they are mathematical question formulas of that kind, which should reach out into higher levels and which in my opinion can only be handled by Ptaah or Quetzal. Of course, there are at least 29,000 spirit guides in your Federation who are capable of doing so, but I do not know who I could commission or ask, because I do not know them personally.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Ptaah:

359. All the peoples of our Federation are committed to respecting the laws of nature and to allowing natural climatic processes, etc., to run their course.

360. We do not influence the weather in the form that we would design it according to our personal desires.

361. We only intervene where there are threats to land, plants and human and animal life, as you explained earlier.

...

Billy:

That almost sounds like Skrill, but surely there's no connection to the dimension from which the supposed dimension changers come, those brutal and bestial Skrills that sometimes attack humans in their greed for sex!

Ptaah:

...

621. The term Skrill means 'Ausartung' [to get very badly out of the good human nature].

Billy:

Aha, then they are thus called the 'Ausgearteten'.

Ptaah:

622. This is so.

623. But we also call them dimension changers, as you already mentioned.

624. But the term Skrill means 'Ausgeartete' only for us, because truthfully the Skrills call themselves Skrill, which means dimension changer in their language.

Billy:

Without a doubt, these Skrills are human beings, even if they are completely vicious, brutal and bestial and incredibly sex-hungry, males as well as females. The horror of these differently dimensioned beings is only that they are completely ausgeartet and capable of switching from their dimension to other dimensions, whereby they then attack and rape human beings in the other dimensions. It is a good thing that this does not happen very often and that human beings of other dimensions, such as our dimension, can only clear and pave the way for these Skrills through psychological misconduct. By this, I mean that these Skrills can only penetrate into other dimensions and work there if other human beings of this dimension clear the way for them by self-destructively driving their psyche to malfunction and thus psychical collapse. I know all this from Quetzal, who also explained to me that you only know about it because some of your scientists once succeeded in connecting with these Skrills and experiencing their way of life and all the trimmings.

...

Billy:

... When Nokodemion built up his Robot Armies and his Android Armies in his time, he did so in a manner that still seems utopian to today's Earth-human, because he built a multi-duplicator for this purpose, which multiplied everything he programmed with an atomic blueprint, etc., infinitely many times in absolute unison. Thus Nokodemion actually only needed to construct one copy of each type of robot, as well as one copy of the androids, after which he could multiply them in infinite numbers using the multi-duplicator. Even the tiniest atomic detail of the final product resembled the prototype, which served only as a perfect model. In fact, such a multi-duplicator is a giant apparatus that produces clones. In other words, one could also say that it is a copier or duplicator that provides an exact copy of the original, not only the externally visible, but also the interior, down to the last and finest atomic structure. The question is whether you also have such multi-duplicators, which are based on electrons, which are based on their operation with regard to the required energies, but also with regard to the required matter for the multi-duplications to be generated. If I remember correctly, then the unexhaustible cosmic electron seas are tapped in order to transform and form the necessary matter from the electrons, from which then the templates programmed by atomic images receive their material form and are materially duplicated.

Ptaah:

896. This wonderful invention of Nokodemion has remained with us, even if today everything has been changed and renewed to such an extent, precisely in accordance with the inevitable progress that nothing points to its origin.

897. We have been producing all necessary building materials of all kinds, machines, robotic tools, androids and also medicines and food etc. in this form for thousands of years by duplicating them.

Billy:

But you also have gardens, orchards, vegetable gardens, etc., as I know.

Ptaah:

898. Certainly. –

899. What we can gain from nature in a natural wise, we work out together with nature in a natural way, but always in such a manner that neither nature nor the planet nor the fauna or flora suffer any damage.

Billy:

You really breed meat as just the product you need, so you never have to kill an animal life form.

Ptaah:

900. That is correct, but we do not only produce meat from cell tissue by breeding, but also from our multipliers.

901. Other things also belong to it.

Billy:

Why, is my name not correct?

Ptaah:

902. According to the word value, your name is completely correct.

Billy:

Well, yes. Well, I suppose you also make all the metals with the multi-duplicators, because if I remember correctly, Semjase told me in 1975 or 1976 that you were extracting the basic materials for metal production from the realms of the planets, etc., in order to convert them, which would result in lead first and then all the pure metals or alloys required. At that time I did not think about it any further, but in the meantime the idea came to me that you would get the necessary raw materials for certain metals or alloys directly through the multi-duplicators, in order to process them in cold processes in order to create special alloys from them. Perhaps, I could imagine, you get the ready-made metals and alloys directly from the multi-duplicators, which duplicate all matter in cold processes according to given atomic image patterns. Of course, a multi-duplicator could also be called a cold processor, even if the human being on the Earth may misinterpret this, because for them a processor is something else, namely a central part of a data processing system, which contains the arithmetic unit and the control unit. Do you call the apparatus a multi-cold duplicator in your own language?

Ptaah:

903. The meaning of your word roughly corresponds to our name.

904. In any case, everyone here would understand the meaning of your newly created term.

...

Ptaah:

931. For our part we have a 'community of independent worlds' or even a 'union of sovereign worlds', which we call a federation, as it is in and of itself the case on the Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_239

Billy:

... So, my friend, and now, I long for a good drink. Although I already drank a small glass tonight, I am still feel like a second one. If I may, perhaps, also offer one to you – I would be tremendously pleased. It is a peach wine with very low alcohol content, but which I can still drink without difficulties, without it affecting me somehow. What do you think, Ptaah?

Ptaah:

110. I am not entirely at ease with your offer because as you know, we only drink alcohol-like drinks, but not alcoholic drinks.

111. Therefore, I do not know whether the drink would be good for me.

Billy:

It will surely agree with you because if I can drink it, in spite of my many medicines, without it harming me somewhat, then it certainly will not harm you in any wise. The wine only has 9 percent alcohol by volume, which is as good as nothing. You just have to drink the wine slowly and in small sips and over longer periods of time. You may need twenty or thirty minutes to do it calmly.

Ptaah:

112. Since you are so sure and because I have full confidence in you, I would gladly like to do this once and drink a glass of this wine with you.

...

117. Ah, this is really very good, and it is also refreshing.

...

Ptaah:

131. This music that you are playing there, it has a lot of resemblance with our music.

Billy:

It is the 'Chorus of the Hebrew Slaves' from 'Nabucco', by Giuseppe Verdi.

Ptaah:

132. It is well-known to me, like also many other melodies that you are playing.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_241

Ptaah:

11. I would desire a sip of peach wine if I could ask for it?

Billy:

But certainly, that is not a question. Wait – here, a glass for you and one for me – now I will get the wine, which I put outside to chill, because I myself drink a glass every now and then, if I feel like it – – – Well, here I am again. If you allow me, I will pour it right away. You know, I thought to myself that you would certainly like to have some bottles of this wine, that is why I also provided a box of six that you can take with you. – How did the wine taste with Quetzal, by the way? But now cheers ...

Ptaah:

12. For the good ... hm, just refreshing. –

13. Well, when Quetzal heard from me that I had tested the wine together with you, found it to be very good and received another bottle from you as a gift, he could no longer be deterred from tasting the bottle I had brought with me to him.

Billy:

A huge tasting, a whole bottle like that, I would like to say. And did he find the wine as good as we did?

Ptaah:

14. Certainly.

15. He found it as refreshing as we did.

...

Ptaah:

18. Just take French cuisine as an example, whose composition is often absolutely inedible.

Billy:

I know that when I think of 'rice casimir', which is 'seasoned' with pineapple, or other dishes where meat dishes are mixed with berries and fruits or 'seasoned', then I feel sick.

Ptaah:

19. The nausea also rises in me when I think about it.

...

Billy:

Several years ago you were still talking about the fact that towards the end of the 20th century Earth would be visited by extraterrestrial people, who would then officially make contact with Earth-humans. Through all sorts of bad machinations of Earth-humans, however, it then emerged that this extraterrestrial visit would no longer take place and therefore no such contact would take place. Are the facts today still as they were when you told me that such a contact had no chance anymore?

Ptaah:

422. Things have changed fundamentally again in the meantime by all that has changed in the meantime in political form in many countries of Earth.

423. A lot of positive things have come about and the prospects for such a contact have increased by a great deal, so that the old plan can come true again under certain circumstances, whereby we ourselves or any other forces from our federation have no connection whatsoever to those human beings who are supposed to establish official contacts with terrestrial people and whose knowledge and ability in every respect will not yet have developed to such an extent that they understand all things that are peculiar to us in terms of knowledge.

424. They will also not yet be able to grasp our dimension in which we live and exist.

425. And with regard to the teaching of the spirit and Creation and their laws and commandments, they will also not be developed according to our state.

426. If the contact with these alien beings one day comes about in official form, but this is still questionable, then this means for us and all our allies that we then withdraw and keep away from Earth in every form, whereby we will then only maintain telepathic contacts to you.

427. If the mentioned contacts actually take place, but what is really questionable for the next decades, then Earth-humans will enter into connections and alliances with Earth strangers, into which we may interfere according to our laws in no case and under no circumstances.

428. This means that we must then withdraw into our dimension and no longer be active on Earth.

Billy:

Then it is certain that these contacts with aliens will take place?

Ptaah:

429. At present, the overall situation points to this, but the next six to eight years can again change a lot, because Earth-man is so unstable and fickle that in the long run everything always floats in the air and in the unknown.

...

Billy:

Another question concerning the events against the year 2000, when aliens are supposed to approach the terrestrial people. Is this something that has already been determined, and if so, how will it happen?

Ptaah:

434. My explanation already went to the effect that such an event will only take place if the overall situation of earthly politics and the efforts of all human beings develop in such a way that such an event can occur.

435. Even if at present everything points to the fact that what has been said could take place, it is in no way certain that what is positive on Earth and among terrestrial human beings will actually take place in such a way that the event can take place.

436. The fickleness of Earth-humans is simply so great that not much can be predicted for a nearer or later future.

437. In order to be able to give such predictions of the future in precise form, we would need the effort of looking at the future.

438. But we don't want to do these, for which you know the reasons.

439. If it can be avoided, then we refrain from this kind of exploration of the future.

Billy:

Of course. Can you tell me, however, whether human beings from otherworldly worlds will otherwise visit Earth in such a way that they will be recognized by terrestrial humans, without the aliens being harassed by authorities or the military or by any madmen, or even endangered their freedom or their lives? Is it therefore possible that even before the year 2000 alien astronauts will come to earth, with whom earthlings will perhaps be able to make secret contact, as is the case with you in a similar or identical form – I mean between you and me?

Ptaah:

440. Such occurrences could very well occur, both in this century and in the next.

441. This form of alien appearance is more possible than that of official contacts with authorities and the military.

442. Space travellers are usually extremely cautious and take certain protective measures into account if they do not make themselves known officially.

Billy:

Doesn't that contradict what you said a few minutes ago, that possibly even before the year 2000 foreigners could get in touch with earthly authorities etc.?

Ptaah:

443. No, this is not the case, because I explained clearly that this would only be the case if the overall situation on Earth would change in such a way that such an event could become possible.

444. Even though a lot of positive things are happening at the moment, this is by no means a guarantee that people on Earth will continue to do so.

445. It can very well be that everything will soon be negative again, because Earth-man is just unsteady and fickle.

446. However, this has nothing to do with the fact that non-earthly people from other worlds cannot nevertheless land on Earth in this form in a secret way and move among Earth-humans without being recognized, or that they are only recognized by a few, who, however, remain silent about it responsibly until the space travelers have left Earth again, so that they cannot be hugged by madmen, authorities and the military etc.

447. However, it will be more difficult for all those who crash or are forced to make an emergency landing due to an accident of their spacecraft, because their technology does not yet correspond to the form that such incidents would no longer occur.

448. Such crashes and emergency landings have occurred on Earth since ancient times, and will continue to occur in the future, albeit very rarely.

449. But this must always be reckoned with, especially for spacecrafts whose technology has not yet been developed in such a way that no more damage can occur.

450. The crews of such crashing spacecraft usually suffer death, while there is a high chance of survival during emergency landings.

451. The crews of such emergency landed spacecrafts, however, are usually helpless and are not able to carry out the necessary repairs on their missiles, which makes them planet-bound in the world where they crash.

452. The rule is also that they cannot survive or that they are captured in the most mild case, etc. when they crash on worlds whose inhabitants are still barbaric, such as the inhabitants of Earth.

453. Of course, there are many other barbaric humanities on foreign planets, whose inhabitants simply kill crashed space travellers or often worship them as gods and then do not let them leave again as such.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_244

Billy:

Then I would like to know which planets you are responsible for as Jschwisch.

Ptaah:

51. For Erra, for Earth and for a planet called Amateban.

...

53. The planet Amateban is in a system of our space-time structure, which we call Harkomen and which belongs to our federation.

...

56. Quetzal is responsible as Jschwisch for two planets in the Harkomen system.

...

Ptaah:

85. I assume that something similar will appear in our Federation, namely among a peoples who bear the name Demener.

86. These Demeners are still very underdeveloped and are cared for in an impulse-based manner by the powers of our Federation.

87. The human beings of this people have gotten very badly out of the good human nature to a great extent.

88. Murder, lies and fraud, etc. are part of their agenda, but also every form of inhumanity and crime.

89. As a result of these things with the Demeners, it has become common practice in the languages of certain of our federation peoples that only the word Demener is used, or Demen, when there is talk of degenerated forms of life or degeneration.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_246

Ptaah:

8. My task was to create a colony on an uninhabited planet called KATHAN in the space area IDAM, known on Earth in this space-time structure as the Spiral Nebula NGC 2997, at a distance of 45 million light-years.

9. I was also busy in the space area NOSIR, where we also founded a new colony.

10. This also happened on an uninhabited planet called NASADAN.

11. The space region NOSIR is a galaxy which is 16 million light-years away from the SOL system in this space-time structure and which is referred to as M 83 in earthly astronomy science.

Billy:

Then the spiral nebula and the galaxy are not in your space-time structure, if I have understood correctly. However, the question remains as to why you are founding colonies if you have enough space on your planet, since you do not tend towards overpopulation, as is the case on Earth.

Ptaah:

12. The colonies were founded to separate two enemy races that threatened to destroy each other on their home planets by waging endless war against each other.

13. Capable of both nuclear technology and the first space flight, they attacked each other's planets and brought them very close to the danger of destruction.

14. And since our Federation is in charge of these two planets and of the inhabitants, we decided, according to the advice of the High Council, to transplant the two contentious peoples in order to guarantee their continued existence to the other and peace-loving peoples of the two planets.

15. They also dominate the first space flight, but they do not pose any danger.

16. However, the mistakes, 124 million of one people and 106 million of the other, were transferred to the planets I mentioned in the space areas IDAM and NOSIR, where they will live from now on, without knowing the whereabouts of the other people.

17. Moreover, it is impossible for the transplanted of both peoples to fly to other planets for many hundreds of years to come, because care was taken to ensure that the next inhabited planets are more than 130 light-years away from the colonies, so that they cannot be reached by the resettled, on the one hand because their space technology is only just developed to the extent that distances of at most 430 million kilometres can be covered, while the age of the colonists is still very low with an average of 83 years.

...

Billy:

... But what about the names Semjase, Ptaah, Quetzal, Sfath and Pleija – how often do they appear in your newspapers? Are these with you common names like Hans and Heiri etc. with us?

Ptaah:

...

100. No, these names are no longer common and therefore not frequent.

101. The names you mentioned only appear once each, so for my daughters Semjase and Pleija as well as for me, Ptaah, and Quetzal.

102. The name Sfath no longer exists at all.

103. So with these names the same case is given as with the names of your children and with some children of your group members who have chosen old names from your name books for their descendants.

Billy:

Then the names only exist once in your entire Federation.

Ptaah:

104. That corresponds to the meaning of my words.

Billy:

And how is that possible?

Ptaah:

105. The names mentioned have been handed down and preserved in our family and in Quetzal's since ancient times, because they have historically important meanings.

106. This is limited to our family and Quetzal's family.

107. All other families and people of our home planet Erra have different and more modern names, while the non-Plejadic federated peoples, people and families naturally have names that have nothing to do with the Plejadic or the old lyrical ones.

...

Billy:

... My next question relates to the freezing or shock freezing of all kinds of life-forms: If, for example, a person is shock frozen for any reason, perhaps to overcome time, etc., then I assume that this person is in a kind of apparent death. This means, however, that the spiritual form does not leave the body, but remains in it until the time when the body is revived. Am I right in my assumption? To my knowledge you yourself have used such methods in the past, have you not?

Ptaah:

129. That is correct, as is your explanation.

...

Billy:

Another question: Have there been any bases or stations of aliens on Venus or Mars during the last 1000 years, or perhaps on Mercury or any other planet of the SOL system, or perhaps on the Earth Moon?

Ptaah:

151. Except on Earth and on the Earth Moon not, no.

Billy:

And, were these stations related to different extraterrestrials?

Ptaah:

152. On Earth they all came to us without exception, while on Earth's satellite there were also four (4) bases, which went to space-travelling peoples who had no connection to us, but who had very little contact with Earthlings, which in no way refers to modern times.

...

Billy:

... Still at Semjase's time, that emerges from the contact report of the 3rd of January 1981 {see Contact 141}, extraterrestrial people from the planet HASTER appeared in the terrestrial airspace, which travels in the system GARANTEE of the galaxy JENAN. It was said that these travellers at that time were interested in making contact with some earthlings. However, I heard nothing more about it and assume that this did not happen?

Ptaah:

161. Your assumption is correct.

162. We ourselves have tried to enlighten the Hasterans, after which they gave up their project and left Earth again without having achieved anything.

...

Billy:

... Do you also have a universal language in your Federation, and if so, how is it called, and how many languages are spoken in your Federation as a whole?

Ptaah:

200. We have a universal or federation language, of course.

201. However, this is not only spoken in certain circles of higher offices, as is the case with Earthly artificial languages, but it is common with everyone.

202. SAMTEE the language is called by us, and as such it is learnt from the ground up by every member of the Federation as a second mother tongue in childhood, because in addition to this, of course, the native mother tongue of the respective people still exists.

203. The total number of our federation-wide languages is 127 603.

Billy:

Well, then I would like to know what your new travel and transport options are. How does this transmitter system work, and how long will it take to get it up and running?

Ptaah:

204. Do you see this little device integrated into the chest of my clothes?

Billy:

You mean this little matchbox-sized thing?

Ptaah:

205. Yes.

Billy:

It's hard to tell that from the clothes. Without my flashlight I couldn't see it at all. It doesn't stand out at all.

Ptaah:

206. This enables me to generate a transmitter gate by thought power, through which I can simply step through, after which I am already at my destination without any loss of time, even if this is billions of light-years away.

207. More precisely, I have to concentrate my thoughts in such a way that they are picked up by the device and amplified in such a way that the resulting forces create the transmitter gate through which my transmission to the destination is made possible.

208. The system is not yet fully operational and usable, but we are constantly experimenting with it by transporting objects, etc., in this way for testing purposes.

209. The required target data are created by the personal knowledge of the destination, which is then mentally programmed by the device, whereupon the transmitter gate is created, in the form that the destination appears as a gate into which one can directly enter and is immediately at the destination.

210. If the destination is unknown to one in such a way that one knows it neither by picture information nor by a personal being there ever, then mathematical coordinates are sufficient, which one enters into the device by thought power and which must be known to one naturally.

211. If you like, I can give you a small demonstration of the possibility of such a transmitter gate.

212. However, you must promise me that you will not let yourself be carried away by your indomitable thirst for adventure and that you will simply step into the gate, because it is not yet fully developed for human transmissions and can therefore still be dangerous.

213. The danger is still that transmitted objects etc. do not reach their destination, but disappear somewhere untraceable and not retrievable between the dimensions and thus get lost.

Ptaah:

214. Can I fulfil you a wish what you want to see through the transmitter gate as a destination – maybe something you know?

Billy:

Would it be possible for you to open the gate to Quetzal's house where the fountain is at the pond?

Ptaah:

215. That doesn't mean a problem, because the place is well known to me – look!

Billy:

Fantastic – two steps, and I would be on Quetzal's terrain on Erra; ah, look, Quetzal's Ulrak passes. By the way, where did he get this little cattle from? And can't that suddenly enter the transmission gate and get lost here?

Ptaah:

216. It's an animal that lives on Erra.

217. It can't get here, because the gate is only visible from here on the one hand, but not from the other side, and on the other hand it can only be used from this side.

218. This has been designed for safety reasons to prevent unwanted life forms from passing through the gate.

219. If it were different, it would be very dangerous.

220. On the other hand, the gate can only exist as long as it is thought to exist.

...

Billy:

And – is this technique of transport then the absolute ultimate for all time, or is a further development still possible?

Ptaah:

226. The development only ends where the power of consciousness alone is sufficient to transport oneself and materials of all kinds by teleportation or telekinesis from a point of departure to a specific destination, without any technical aids being required.

227. This also means that you do not need any spacecraft etc. to move from one place to another or to transport materials from one place to another.

228. The next development, however, will be to find and use the means to move from one place to another without a transmission gate, and to do so solely by the power of thought, which is technically amplified in such a way that a teleportation can be carried out that can bridge billions of light-years as well as the technology of transmitters that is now emerging.

229. Nevertheless, even then the spacecraft will still be needed, which will also be further advanced in development.

Billy:

And everything is based on the speed of Creation, 107,000 times the speed of light. Even with the present transmitter gate this cannot be any different.

Ptaah:

230. That is not quite correct, because for the time being it is based only on 21,000 times the speed of light.

231. Besides, the speed of the spirit should never be reachable by technical means.

Billy:

The size of the gate is about 2 metres by 90 centimetres and ...

...

For a human, the gate is just good in size, but what if a larger gate is needed, such as for large goods and the like?

Ptaah:

233. The size of the transmitter gate can be customized according to your needs.

234. This is done by a simple command, mentally directed to the gate generator device.

Billy:

Fabulous. It really could not be simpler. But what happens now, if somebody takes over the transmitter gate generating device without authorization, is there perhaps a safety device, as you use it with your weapon tools, that only the owner of the device can use it, because it is tuned to his thought frequency?

Ptaah:

235. That's what you say.

236. This alone guarantees the best possible security, so that no one can use the devices for unfair and nonsensical purposes without authorisation, should they fall into unauthorised hands for any reason, if we are active on worlds whose people cannot yet be expected to use such devices.

Billy:

As is the case on Earth, for example, isn't it?

Ptaah:

237. That's right.

Billy:

Well, now you also have devices and the like, which look like a simple piece of metal or plastic etc., without these being recognizable as devices or apparatus etc., but in which there is a high-quality super-minielelectronics, which again is not recognizable as such, if you cut the metal or the plastic, because everything is poured into each other. Isn't there the possibility that through some circumstances the truth can be found out?

Ptaah:

238. This danger does not exist – not even on earth, because in order to be able to fathom this technique, Earthly scientists would have to have a knowledge and a technique that would be 7,500 years in the future for them.

Billy:

That means that over the last 18 years you have made progress approaching 4,000 years, right?

Ptaah:

239. It's 216 years more, yes.

Billy:

But this can only have happened through the friends of Asket's people, if I see the matter correctly, namely those friends who are ahead of Asket's people by about 4,000 years resp. 4,216 years in technical development.

Ptaah:

240. That is also true, but I must enlighten you about the fact that also the people of the Ischrisch Asket have attained the entire higher development of the 4,216 years.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_248

Billy:

At earlier times, I often spoke with Semjase about the Earth-humans and about people of foreign worlds. Semjase also used certain terms for the people of the Earth and for those of extraterrestrial origin, like also you and Quetzal and all others of your federation. Thus, there was always talk of humanoids and of extra-humanoids, non-humanoids, and inhumanoids, etc. In this respect, unfortunately, there are always misunderstandings, which should one day be removed from the world. Let me, therefore, explain these things in the way I have understood them. Correct me, please, if I make a mistake: Humanoids are Earth-humans. Only, these are so-called because they are just earthborn, respectively Earth-created, in accordance with the Latin word humanus, which means something like terrestrial. The Latin term was already used by the ancient Lyrans, and to be sure, in the same way as on the Earth since time immemorial. So the term comes from the ancient Lyrans, who had also named their home world, in the original sense, Earth, and in consequence of this, they had also designated themselves, using a word adaptation, as Earth-humans, as humanoids, after which then, in the course of time, the word humanoid was exchanged for the term HUMAN and, thus, for all human life-forms throughout the whole Universe, but with the difference that the differently disposed, exotic human forms – who didn't exactly resemble the Lyran humans, respectively the terrestrial humans, in their inner and outer anatomies – were called extra-humanoids, respectively foreign humans; consequently, the term humanoid was only used for the kinds of humans of a more terrestrial, respectively Lyran, nature. Nevertheless, the extra-humanoids, respectively the so-called extraterrestrials, belong to the genus OMEDAM and, thus, are humans; it's just that they are of an exotic nature. Both terms, humanoid and extra-humanoid, trace back to the value of OMEDAM, which means something like FIRST HUMAN or just simply HUMAN. So humanoids are, always and in each case, humans, no matter what exotic appearance and what anatomy they have and no matter whether they are designated in other ways than as extra-humanoids. I often mistakenly referred to these extra-humanoids, while speaking or writing, as "non-humanoids," which doesn't correspond to the truth, of course, because non-humanoids, respectively inhumanoids, are, in reality, non-human life-forms that are animalistic, respectively of a fauna-like or floral-like nature, and, therefore, have nothing to do with human life. The term NON-HUMANOID, respectively INHUMANOID, clearly means that such a life form is NON-HUMAN. In contrast, there are, for example, the peoples of Asina, extra-humanoids who deviate in their appearance and in their anatomy very exotically from the actual humanoids and look accordingly different as amphibian beings, respectively amphibian humans, and are arranged into other living conditions than those of humans, the kind to whom we and you belong. But these foreigners are called "extra-humanoids" not because of their appearance but simply because they are of an anatomically different nature than we, who simply designate ourselves as humanoids. There are, for example, many extra-humanoids that are outwardly identical or very similar to humanoids, but they have extremely notable differences in their internal anatomies. This also testifies of the fact that they are not of terrestrial creation but are simply beings of alien worlds, which is why they are, indeed, extra-humanoids; however, their anatomy also contributes to this designation because they are alien to those who are simply called humanoids, respectively humans. However, this should not mislead one to regard and judge the extra-humanoids, the foreign humans, as non-humanoids, respectively non-humans. They are still HUMANOIDs and, thus, OMEDAM HUMANS. So extra-humanoids are, in every case, always human beings; it's just that have no direct birth relationship with actual humanoids, the race of humans embodied by the Earth-humans and your people. And to address the NON-HUMANOID life-forms once again: these are life-forms that are not humanoid and, thus, are in no way of a human nature and that also have no relationship or other connections with the human species, respectively with the OMEDAM and humanoids as well as extra-humanoids. And to come to speak once again of the extra-humanoids, it must be said that these are neither better nor worse humans than the humanoids of the Earth, the Earth-humans, even though they often have very different and rather exotic natures, and indeed, in every respect. Extra-humanoids as well as extraterrestrial humanoids aren't supernatural and aren't divine and, thus, are no monsters and no terrors; rather, they are just as human as the Earth-humans, the Earth-humanoids, of whom, at least for the last 10,000 years, not exactly much that is praiseworthy can be said, when one considers that during this time on our planet, only 250 years of actual peace has prevailed, so in terms of this, as well as in reference to their manner and humaneness and compliance with the natural-creative laws and commandments, as you know, not very many positive things can be said. Concerning the reproduction of the extra-humanoids and other humanoids in the entire expanse of the Universe, it must be said that in this respect, it doesn't behave any differently with all of them than it does with the Earth-humanoids, so with the Earth-humans; therefore, sexual acts are necessary in order to witness descendants. What is different from the Earth-humans is just the manner of the physical act of reproduction, in accordance with the exoticism of the respective life form and, accordingly, its exotic reproductive organs and reproductive practices, which are often connected with rituals that are strange to the Earth-humans. Also, humanoids and extra-humanoids can mate with one another in order to witness descendants, if this is possible due to the dissimilarity between the exotic reproductive organs and if the DNA factors, etc. are compatible and allow for procreation. It is, of course, utter nonsense that procreation and births of descendants can occur in a purely spiritual form, for a material body is always tied to a physical reproduction and birth. This is a fact that punishes all those dreamers, know-it-alls, believers in angels, and other delusional believers in lies, who maintain the contrary.

Ptaah:

91. Your explanation corresponds to the facts.

...

Billy:

There, it would once again interest me as to how far this Federation actually extends, because you have told me several times that you have investigated some very far away enterprises. It would also be interesting to know whether other civilizations have the same laws and rights as those of the Pleiades.

Ptaah:

186. The duties, laws, and rights are uniform throughout the entire Federation.

187. This is one of the basic prerequisites to join our Federation.

188. The Federation is very broad and extends to a distance of 6.2 billion (6,200,000,000) light-years, where in connection with our Federation, another member federation exists according to our model.

189. In between, between the two federations, which have a sphere of influence of many millions of light-years, there are isolated systems that also belong to our federations.

...

194. Indeed, there are still other civilizations that have the same or similar directives as we have, but there are also many that know no inhibitions in this respect but rather interfere without hesitation in other cultures and wage wars, etc.

195. In relation to this, there are quite furious space-traveling peoples.

Billy:

Do you have political and diplomatic relations with such?

Ptaah:

196. That is an inevitable consequence of spaceflight.

...

Billy:

... Semjase, your daughter, had reddish-colored hair for a long time. Is that usual with you, I mean that women dye their hair? Although we have talked about these things once before, we weren't detailed enough. You explained to me that women among you do this, but it didn't arise as to whether they only do this for purely medical reasons and whether this is not actually harmful to the hair?

Ptaah:

206. Female beings among us actually colour their hair every now and then because a certain amount of vanity is not to be denied to them.

207. Nevertheless, the dyeing of the hair is not just vanity-conditioned, but is always connected with a health measure.

208. It's like this:

209. Even though prominent diseases no longer appear among us, this doesn't mean that certain sufferings still don't come to light.

210. However, these are of an insignificant form, like a runny nose.

211. There are also allergies and a few other insignificant illnesses.

212. All these illnesses are often lengthy and require prolonged treatment, like also headaches, for example, but this doesn't mean, now, that many medicines would be necessary for their treatment.

213. Per symptom, only one active agent is necessary against it, which is delivered with a long-term effect.

214. These active agents aren't ingested, injected, or administered through special requirements for deposit; rather, they are introduced in healthy, absolutely harmless carrier substances that are mixed with equally neutral and non-health-hazardous coloring means, with which the hair is then dyed.

Billy:

So then, you do know illnesses.

Ptaah:

215. These aren't actual illnesses according to your sense but rather trifles that occur in the course of life due to some circumstances that the persons concerned are exposed to, like when they come in contact with some things on strange new worlds that then cause the suffering.

216. But such sufferings are, in fact, always only trifles, which also no longer appear on our world and, thus, don't matter any more.

Billy:

Then your world is, so to speak, sterile?

Ptaah:

217. No, the humans are immune to all diseases that once existed on our planet.

218. They are also largely immune to diseases of other worlds, but various insignificant sufferings as well as accidents with insignificant consequences cannot be avoided every now and then, when these have their origin on planets that are foreign to Erra.

Billy:

Then only those people who also visit foreign worlds become sick with the insignificant sufferings?

Ptaah:

219. That is right.

220. That is also the reason why we exercise great caution with respect to health.

Billy:

Now I understand somewhat better. But how, for example, can one of you suddenly suffer from a headache, which seems like a migraine?

Ptaah:

221. That can happen through the inhaling of an atmosphere that is very well breathable for us but which contains weak components of toxic gas that attack certain parts of our nervous systems, as this was the case with my daughter Semjase, for example.

Billy:

But still, you do have your devices and apparatuses that indicate to you such toxic gases, etc.; accordingly, you can then wear protective suits.

Ptaah:

222. Certainly, that is right, but on the one hand, our measuring instruments can only detect and indicate those materials that are known to us, in order, then, to analyse them.

223. However, other substances that are unknown to us cannot be analysed immediately, if we must first explore their composition.

224. Moreover, it can happen that certain gases, etc. only arise here and there or in a locality, and indeed, in such a quick way that a counter measure is hardly possible anymore.

225. So it may just happen that every now and then, such substances are inhaled, which can then produce lasting consequences, which we then just treat in the explained manner.

...

Billy:

Aha. – In foreign worlds, these surely aren't just gases that give you a hard time healthwise, right?

Ptaah:

232. Of course not, because dust particles, pollen, viruses, bacilli, bacteria, plant juices, and various other things can infect us with diseases if we aren't immune to these.

Billy:

Aha, so yes! Then you are not just susceptible to trifles.

Ptaah:

233. As a rule, it only concerns trifles, which are then treated in the way that I explained.

Billy:

And when, apart from the rule, a worse illness makes its appearance?

Ptaah:

234. That would be a great exception, and such would be treated, of course, with the suitable medical means, whereby the healing process would then take no more than a few minutes or, at the most, a few hours.

Billy:

And, in cases of accidents with fractures, etc.?

Ptaah:

235. Our medical possibilities are capable of healing a fracture in less than 6 hours, if the break does not first have to be addressed.

236. But if this is the case, then the process takes a few hours more.

237. Concerning diseases, our immune systems are so strengthened and protected that all diseases that are known to us cannot befall us, but only those that are unknown to us and against which we have no immunity, respectively those whose originators are unknown to us and against which we can't even protect ourselves.

Billy:

And how does it stand, then, with the cold? Semjase once complained to me that you also have to struggle with it.

Ptaah:

238. It concerns an insignificant evil that befalls us, but only on the Earth; however, we are still able to become masters over this.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_249

Billy:

... Can you tell me the number of alien races that are currently flying in and out of the earth or doing their studies here or working here in any other way?

Ptaah:

14. For many years they have always been the same and in their number only three.

...

Billy:

Three alien races have been on Earth for several years, you said. Do they also have stations here, if they are constantly present?

Ptaah:

168. Only one of the three groups is still stationed on Earth for some time, while the other two groups appear only sporadically or periodically.

Billy:

And new aliens, how often do they come into contact with the earth?

Ptaah:

169. That is quite different.

170. In earlier times it happened only twice that during a period of 100 years more than two groups of non-Earthly intelligences flew into the earthly space.

171. Usually, such occurrences are only sporadic, as often as many hundreds or thousands of years pass before another alien race reaches Earth.

172. Sometimes several thousand years pass before such an event takes place again.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_250

Billy:

Prostitution – do they also exist on Erra?

Ptaah:

134. This degeneration has not existed in our country for a long time, but it is still prevalent to a low degree among various Federation peoples.

Billy:

And what about sexually transmitted diseases?

Ptaah:

135. Such diseases are no longer present in any way, not even among those Federation peoples where prostitution is still common in a limited form.

...

Billy:

Another question regarding prostitution: Why does some of your federation peoples still have prostitution?

Ptaah:

143. There are only three of them, and they are still very young in our federation.

144. They were accepted into our Federation only a few years ago, and the efforts to abolish prostitution are running in controlled final forms, so that in less than 8–10 months these peoples will also be freed from this inhumane bad habit.

...

Ptaah:

157. Since time immemorial, we have used a bat symbol as a hazard image for radioactivity.

...

{Note: the following comments relate to Billy Meier's time in India 1965, visiting the Buddhist monk Dharmawara Bellong Mahathera at the Asoka Mission in Mehrauli.}

Billy:

... Swami Dharmawara, so I know, is one of those Earth-humans who had contact with two mysterious humans, Phobol Cheng confirmed that to me again, who just appeared out of nowhere with him and disappeared again in the same way. So it was the same kind of disappearing and coming back as if you 'beamed' me into the ship or back to Earth. The appearance of these two mysterious men who visited the Swami was the same like his, therefore Asian. Can you explain something about it to me?

Ptaah:

187. Officially I can only confirm that this is true.

188. But these are not intelligences who were located beyond Earth, if that's what you think.

189. They were probably distant descendants of extraterrestrial humans, but they were earthbound, even if they mastered the ability of the craftless journey, which was handled by technical means.

190. The how, what, where and why etc. I unfortunately cannot and must not officially explain, which is why I can only explain this to you in confidence.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_251

{Note: This Contact Report contains a detailed history of the Plejaren and their emigration to our solar system, which is not reproduced here.}

Billy:

... All of them, all extraterrestrials who stayed on earth and died here, never returned to their homeworlds. Their spirit-forms slipped into the earthly realm of the afterlife and since then have reincarnated again and again in new becoming bodies of people who were born on earth ...

...

Billy:

But what might be of interest for the group and for all other people is the fact that for years it was not allowed to talk about certain things related to visits of extraterrestrial intelligences, except of those that were mentioned by you and especially by you. You told me that I was allowed to speak openly about this when you left.

Ptaah:

49. That is correct.

50. We were just talking about those who had played an important role up to that point, namely the three groups that we had discussed in one of our last conversations.

51. In addition to these, there are a few other groups of extraterrestrial origin that fly to Earth and can be observed here more often, but none of which is in contact with any Earth-humans, neither on a private nor on a military or governmental basis.

52. Some of them come to earth purely for excursions or expeditions, others have other interests, but none in the way that the hysterical Americans portray this with the impregnation of earth women by Earth alien intelligences or the impregnation of Earth alien women by men of Earth.

53. The nonsense about massacring animals etc. etc. can also be forgotten, for such things do not apply either.

54. Those who have interests other than those of an excursion or expedition will make a name for themselves on earth in the distant future; but why this will be so, we must keep quiet about it, which of course also applies to you, who are informed about these distant things of the future.

...

Billy:

Well, thank you. But why were not we allowed to talk about those aliens you just talked about all these years?

Ptaah:

57. On the one hand, this has to do with the new, distant future and with the new era of Earth, about which we are not allowed to talk openly, as I explained, and on the other hand, careless information about it would only have led to further hysteria and to lies and deception as well as to swindles and charlatanry, as was unfortunately already the case in America, Germany, England and Japan as well as in Sweden, etc.

Billy:

Yes I know. Especially America is raging in hysteria and madness.

Ptaah:

58. That is correct, but there not only the MUFON is to blame for the whole hysteria, but also the many religious sects as well as in particular the government itself, which actually conceals and keeps under lock and key much important evidence for the existence of extraterrestrial life and their appearance on Earth as well as forbids by laws the contact with extraterrestrial life-forms.

...

Ptaah:

101. The rule also proves on all our Federation worlds that hardly anything can be done against heavy earthquakes in a reasonable way, if high buildings etc. are erected, which is why only small buildings are usual everywhere and largely secured against heavy shocks.

102. Also our worlds live and are shaken by earthquakes, but we behave accordingly in the construction of the buildings and in their protection against shaking of the planets.

Billy:

You also have houses or buildings that are not composed of small pieces, such as stones or concrete slabs, etc., because your buildings are made of plastics and also of a single piece, seamlessly, as I have seen. In addition, they are on spring systems, which are made as vibrating bodies.

Ptaah:

103. That is correct, but these are only two of the methods used to prevent vibrations.

...

Ptaah:

144. In the time to come, even farther away, a lot will happen and change with regard to alien aircraft and their crews, but also with regard to earthly, mysterious and strange-looking flying machines.

145. Also contacts with extraterrestrials are to be expected, which will be however of a completely different nature than all previous lying, swindling and deceitful would-be contactees have presented them with all their religious-sectarian nonsense etc.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_257

Billy:

... Then I would have another question now, which refers to the coming and appearance of extraterrestrials who have no connection whatsoever with you and who should actually make open contact with Earth-humans. Can I find out, for example, when this time will really be? The date once mentioned to me has become obsolete because things have happened with Earth-humans and in their politics, which made the appearance of the extraterrestrials impossible.

Ptaah:

77. The time is relatively close according to our terms, but for certain reasons I will not name the more exact time, because thereby steps could be taken by the terrestrial man, which would thwart everything another time.

...

79. Then the question should only be answered in such a way that no exact dates are mentioned.

80. It must therefore suffice if I say that the time is relatively near at which people of an alien world will appear openly on this planet.

Billy:

After which you will finally withdraw, as you have always assured!

Ptaah:

81. That was always the meaning of our explanations in this regard.

Billy:

Your concepts of time are of course different from ours here on earth, so your word is a broad concept if you say that the time is already relatively near when official contact between extraterrestrials and terrestrial humans can be expected.

Ptaah:

82. Time is really not very far away anymore.

83. The only question is whether the military, secret services and governments will not change the open appearance in such a way that the public will be misled and the real facts will not be falsified and concealed again, as this was done with regard to previous occurrences of a similar kind with extraterrestrial aircraft and beings of foreign worlds.

...

Billy:

Let me ask a question about the old earthlings: Did they also do so primitively and stupidly with the appearance of extraterrestrials, as is the case with today's mankind, especially with the military, the secret services and the governments as well as the sectarians?

Ptaah:

95. No comparison can be made in the matter of military, secret services and governments.

96. Where people acted abnormally, there was actually the delusion in play by which aliens were judged either as devils or as gods.

97. In military, secret service and governmental respects, however, with few exceptions, no aggressive machinations were common on the aliens, which unfortunately has changed drastically in modern times.

Billy:

Certain people become more stupid than normal.

...

Billy:

Extraterrestrials

I am often asked whether then only the Pleadian/Plejaren come to Earth as extraterrestrials. Naturally that is not the case, because there exists yet various other extraterrestrials, who fly into terrestrial airspace and can also often be observed. They are, in part, members of the Pleadian/Plejaren federation, who cannot however be counted as foreigners who stem from planets and solar systems that have no state of affairs at all with the Pleiadian/Plejaren and their federation worlds. These foreign extraterrestrials come from the most different star systems, which as a rule, belong to our galaxy, respectively, the Milky Way, whereby however exceptions also exist, however only very few, in which the extraterrestrials stem from foreign, and millions of light-year distant, galaxies. There are, however, few like this to note, that they can only be spoken of as a rarity.

...

... Therefore the greatest caution is recommended with extraterrestrial contacts in the sky, because too much about this are lies, deception, swindle, charlatanism and speculation, etc., whereby also the truth-despising efforts and falsifications as well as disinformation machinations of the governments are implicated through the committal and establishment of unbelievable lies, slanders, falsifications and trickeries in the world to veil the truth, to contradict and to deny. The Roswell UFO crash is just one of many inglorious examples. Naturally not all terrestrial governments and military work in this slimy way, but there are many. And they get ever more difficulty from those peoples who are really interested in the UFO clarification and the events connected therewith, as they turn the heat up under the governments, the military and the secret services. The time namely presses ever more, because ever more UFO incidents take place and also pure UFO observations increase ever further. So the responsible ones use their lies, defamation and denial ever less, whereby they apply a new obscuring technique to keep secret the actual existence of extraterrestrials, as well as their visits to Earth. Their new method is to demonize everything that has to do with UFOs and extraterrestrials. That, thereby, also serves to hinder the coming about of contact with extraterrestrials and civilians, because that can no longer be controlled and because, as a rule, civilians who are not bound by a military or secret service security status do not shy away from making such experiences and events openly known. But such open information is exceedingly uncomfortable and even exceedingly dangerous for the governments as well as for the military and secret services, etc., as their power structures could become shaky. Of this it was already clear to a whole line-up of authorities as well as their military and secret services in the First World War because, over the battlefields of Europe UFOs were observed whose appearance was however kept secret. It went the same way in the Second World War, as the foo-fighters surfaced everywhere. Indeed, it was already firmly established by the military and secret services and highest government positions by the First and Second World Wars that UFOs were of extraterrestrial origin, yet the secrecy was still maintained. The facts of the extraterrestrial origins of flying devices was recognized in America through the observation of a landing of such an object, where four unusually-clothed humanoid beings disembarked, collected some plants in the vicinity, re-entered their device and flew away. The observers of these events were two members of the military who, co-incidentally, were in just that area while on vacation. Both reported the event to the nearest military facility, allowing the secret investigations and clarifications to proceed, as had already happened in other similar cases that preceded, and also subsequently occurred even more. But everything happened under the strictest nondisclosure, as the Plejadian/Plejaren have affirmed, so the public received no knowledge about these incidents whatsoever, as neither did the main body of the governments, the military and the secret services. It was always only the very highest positions and officials who were privy to the secrets. And it was also these people who even then concerned themselves with, and worked out, concealment tactics to deceive most of their subordinates and the entire population. It was to be avoided that on one hand everything would be known, and on the other hand that those not in the know and not sworn to secrecy, or even civilian personnel, could have contact with extraterrestrials. Therefore a possibility was sought to place fear in humans in relation to the extraterrestrials so that no contact would result from a possible landing or from a crash of extraterrestrial projectiles.

...

But that was not enough by far, because the longer the UFO appearances in the new age were observed, the more secretly these were dealt with, and indeed not the least on that account, because the arrival of the extraterrestrials, and the enslavement of the terrestrial humanity through the invaders was feared by the American government and their military as well as secret services. And (so) that the population should be left in ignorance about the truth of the existence of extraterrestrials, nevertheless, however (that) fear must be developed in the peoples against the extraterrestrials, out of which a far-reaching hate must be established against the invaders, and, thereby, once again a defensive rage steered by hate should result, the US presidency, as well as the leading officers of the military and the secret services, etc., came upon a psychologically sophisticated idea to work out a horror scenario in extraterrestrial matters and to start it in such a way that not only America would be seized by it, rather also great parts of the rest of the world. This scenario should be configured in such a way, that once angst and panic should first break out regarding Extraterrestrial invaders, thereafter they then spread further fear and hate far, and could spread it over the world, and indeed also then, when it would be officially recognized, that it all only dealt with fiction and therefore a poor utopian piece of work. Thereby the psychological trick would be established, that when once fear is sown then from that yet greater fear and finally also panic and hate must develop, that follows itself further, always spreading out farther. A fact that was already known then and also today, yet would be practiced again and again over the whole world in different relationships. And exactly angst and terror were necessary, according to the view of the responsible ones, to incite the population against the extraterrestrials, and to prevent them from coming into contact with them if the opportunity should present itself. Through this perfidious and fully-thought-out psychological machination of the highest government authorities as well as the military and secret services, it also should be avoided that at any time, any one of the people would gain admission to the extraterrestrials if the opportunity offered itself. The responsible ones not only had fear of a peaceful extraterrestrial official, or unofficial, landing and contact initiative, but they also feared an invasion. And because an official or unofficial extraterrestrial appearance and effect on the Earth was not compatible with the religious philosophies, since 1915, Pope Benedict XV, (1914-1922) as well as Pius XI. (1922-1939) and Pius XII. (1939-1958) would also be drawn into the entire conspiracy. Also certain Jewish dignitaries were enlisted in this, who even at that time in America had quite a bit to say and had a voice.

In the most secret of missions, it was therefore resolved to create a horror scenario which would agitate the population on one hand, who, however, should be left in ignorance of the truth of the existence of the extraterrestrials who already manoeuvred in terrestrial air space and also landed sporadically on the Earth, as it has been established from secure sources, and through that, on the other hand, that fear and hate be sown against the strangers from other worlds. The mean and slimy trick was in and of itself simple: a radio broadcast should be transmitted, that on one hand spreads angst and terror of the extraterrestrials, and on the other hand, should also strike very far, and as much as possible, worldwide circles. To this end, through American secret service agents, as well as through the responsible superiors of these positions of duty, as well as the government and military, suitable authors and works were sought, which could be exploited and used for the perfidious machination. It was US President Franklin D. Roosevelt (President, 4th March 1933 – 12th April 1945) who quite personally, however, sought out the science fiction work of Englishman Herbert George Wells, who as an author, in 1898, brought out a work under the title "War of the Worlds". In this episode American secret service agents made contact with Wells and beseeched him coercively to adapt his work to a radio play. But the man himself did not feel in a position to do this, so he suggested chartering a young American author of his acquaintance, Orson Welles, who would certainly be suitable. Under threats of death, H.G. Wells was obliged to lifelong silence, after which, then in America, the still young Orson Welles would be coerced by the secret service people to refashion H.G. Wells's work, "War of the Worlds" into a realistic-seeming horror radio play. Out of the science fiction novel Wells wrote in 1897 and published in 1898, such a work that broadcast on the radio, would release wild panic and angst as well as hate for the extraterrestrials. The work, in which extraterrestrials, formed unlike humans, and of monstrous and evil-nature, land on the Earth and cause trouble and destruction, was exactly that which had been hoped for by the responsible ones of governments, the military and the secret services. It's no wonder that as a result of panic breaking out there was quite a number of dead.

The goal of the government, the military and the secret services was achieved with the broadcast of the radio play (War of the Worlds), because from then on fear, and also a certain hate, ruled against the extraterrestrials, of the kind and form, as well as the sense, that was also always desired. And exactly that has remained that way until today and even still spreads out, because fear and hate would again always be newly stirred up, and the American secret service powers, etc., are especially proficient in doing exactly that. Were that not enough, that they – and certain also determined government and military powers – financially support and demand contra films against the extraterrestrials, no, they do not shy from simulating all kinds of horror-events, like, for example, abductions by extraterrestrials, as well as human and animal mutilations and so on and so forth. They are also not inactive in matters relating to the falsification of crop circles, and indeed in the most differing countries. Naturally, in respect of all these things there are also charlatans, deceivers and swindlers and every other sort, yet the secret service machinations are probably indeed the worst, because it is precisely through these that disinformation is established, through which the genuine and actual events in this regard are bedevilled and made laughable. Scarcely anything is known about exactly this, as everything runs so secretly as it always has, and as does the actual story of the radio play of "War of the Worlds" by Orson Welles. And the danger exists that something could not be held secret, then the responsible ones of the government and military as well as the secret services do not shy away from bringing the witnesses to silence under death threats or through an otherwise erasing, like, for example, through elimination or through a consciousness-stupefying brain wash and psycho-terror and so forth. Herbert George Wells, who died on the 13th August 1946, also knew that, as did Orson Welles who departed this life on October 10th, 1985. Neither left behind any indications about the true incidents regarding the radio play, as they correctly feared that their families, friends and acquaintances after their demise also could be vengefully persecuted by the secret service people and the responsible ones of the government and military. And that I now do not hold my tongue about that which the Plejadian/Plejaren explained to me in regard to this ... what comes of that remains to be seen... The nasty machinations of the government, military and secret service people in respect of the demonizing of extraterrestrials have increased ever more since 1938 – indeed slowly and successively, thus, however all the more incessantly and expansively, until in the eighties, essentially, the greatest machination for the bedeviling of extraterrestrials began – through a shifty structure in the fashion of the secret service, as well as miscellaneous UFO and extraterrestrial enemies. Stories came about like the ghastly human and animal mutilations, the theft of human babies and the impregnating of terrestrial women through foreign visitors out of outer space. Horror stories were also disseminated about subterranean laboratories and the inhuman experiments taking place there. Were that still not enough, because the angst of the extraterrestrials wreaked even worse blooms, like, for example, it would be asserted that women impregnated by aliens would, after some months, have the baby growing in the womb snatched out to be allowed to finally grow further in a fluid-filled incubator, etc., in order to breed up a new humanity, etc. using these hybrid children. A further horror story was that the earth humans would be abducted, in order to take their genetic material that would be necessary for the extraterrestrials' further breeding of humans, who would serve as, so to say, nourishment providers, because the evil foreigners out of the depths of outer space supposedly nourish themselves on human blood. Similarly, it would also be asserted in respect to the animal mutilations in America, whereby the related far-fetched feeble-mindedness that namely beef blood demonstrates a genetic relationship with human blood, therefore the mutilated cattle would have their blood sucked out to store in the blood banks for crisis times – naturally through the evil extraterrestrials. Yet even that is not enough, because still many other assertions, slanderings and lies, and clearly to be recognised as feeble-minded, are put about, through which the humans are led into error and would be shifted into angst and terror, as has had manifold success, and certain mass hysteria has been released by a worldwide group of certain earth humans, which also leads to feelings of hate, etc. ...

...

Billy:

Well, then a question about the alleged appearance and official landing of extraterrestrials on Earth. Some people claim that on 27.3.1997 extraterrestrials should officially land on Earth. Do you know anything about this?

Ptaah:

118. We know these erroneous assertions, which are nothing more than bare nonsense and which are connected with the 'Hale-Bopp'-comet, which is also known as Nibiru or Nubiru or Unis, on which gods live and should now return to Earth.

Billy:

You explained all this to me years ago. So everything is nothing but bullshit and nonsense what is talked about the comet and the alleged official landing of extraterrestrials on Earth. I would also have been surprised if it had not been like that. – Unfortunately, we have so many crackpots here on the Earth, and unfortunately even more misguided ones who believe all the nonsense of these crackpots. Furthermore, there are still many conscious liars, cheaters, swindlers and charlatans who take advantage of the New Age madness of the believers and make horrendous profits out of it.

Ptaah:

119. Unfortunately, that is the truth.

Billy:

It goes to the year 2000 and there it is, of course, like at every turn of the century or the last turn of the millennium: the doomsday mood, the alleged return of the dear Jesus Christ as well as the coming of extraterrestrials or even of the dear God himself. All nonsense. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_260

Billy:

... But now, here's a somewhat loosening-up question: one approached me in reference to whether I knew anything about the use of make-up by the female gender on Erra. One wanted to know specifically whether lip balming occurs, even with lipstick, as the women and girls do this here on Earth. For my part, I never saw such with your women.

Ptaah:

136. This isn't common with our female gender in the way that it is with the women on Earth.

137. In general, only a certain part uses subtle make-up from natural materials, while others don't use these things.

138. The make-up is such that it doesn't change the naturalness of the skin, so it can hardly be seen, which isn't the case, unfortunately, with the earthly female gender.

139. But that the lips are coated with colored lipsticks, as the women and girls do so on the Earth, that isn't the case with us, for we have already considered such actions as nauseating since ages ago.

...

Billy:

The certain part of female people who use make-up, is this predominant?

Ptaah:

141. Unfortunately, that isn't known to me, but as I estimate, that part should only be small and be more restricted to younger women and girls.

...

Ptaah:

185. But even when the technology {on Earth} will one day be perfected to the highest, cultivated, living test forms will still be essential, as this is also the case with our relevant medical science researches.

186. But as you correctly said, we do not use live animals but only specially cultivated organisms that have no feelings of pain as well as no psyche and no consciousness, etc.

187. This form of medical research is extremely limited, however, and is only used when we discover life forms on foreign worlds that are unknown to us in every respect and about which we, therefore, still have no medical knowledge.

188. For medical researches of all kinds, however, which concern our Plejaren as well as all Federation worlds and, thus, also all their life forms of all kinds, we no longer depend on cultivating special organisms in order to be able to pursue the necessary researches, for in this respect, our computer programs are fully sufficient.

...

Billy:

... Then another question: even the people of your worlds and your federated allies certainly aren't so perfect in terms of their organs and bodies; therefore, surely health or rather physical injuries can come to light, or am I wrong there?

Ptaah:

197. Our medical knowledge and possibilities are so developed that we no longer know diseases.

Billy:

Of course, I know that; you explained this to me sufficiently. I also don't mean that some diseases can still appear; rather, I'm coming from the perspective that, for example, there can be accidents and the like, by which health or rather physical injuries can appear.

Ptaah:

198. Now I understand. –

199. Of course – accidents cannot be avoided, for in spite of all precautions of the people, such dismal events can occur over and over again.

Billy:

Good, now we've brought it to a common denominator. My question about this is: how is a treatment or an intervention handled when, for example, a surgical intervention becomes necessary? Surgery is, indeed, a very bloody work, I think – is it also still so bloodily maintained with you?

Ptaah:

200. Of course not, because we have long outgrown this bloody barbarism.

...

204. Now, our technology relating to this is so far developed that we can avoid all bloody interventions.

205. Our apparatuses and devices, etc. are designed in such a way that open surgical interventions no longer have to be made, for all manipulations in or on the body are carried out in a pure, vibration-related manner.

206. Thus, internal or external wounds as well as broken bones and torn blood vessels can be closed, joined, and healed within seconds or a few minutes.

207. The operation of the apparatuses and devices, etc. occurs, of course, through trained doctors and other specialists, including bioorganic, electronic androids, simply said.

208. In addition, these are able to transport themselves to any location within a range of 300,000 kilometers, even there where they are needed.

209. This occurs through a teleportation by apparatus.

Billy:

You mean that they can beam themselves to any location – just like that?

Ptaah:

210. Yes, but that is nothing unusual.

Billy:

For us earthlings, it is. – Then these androids are true doctors?

Ptaah:

211. Certainly.

Billy:

With you, is anything also operated within the framework, as here on Earth with the so-called spiritual healing?

Ptaah:

212. No.

213. In addition, I must also say that what is operated under this designation by many people on Earth must be referred to as charlatanism.

214. Of course, exceptions are given, but these are based on suggestion and self-healing.

...

Billy:

... Then here again is a question about the health of the people on Erra and your other worlds. Although you have already answered this question for me once, it wasn't held in writing. Moreover, it is also answered with the fact that there are no longer diseases with you. But still, various people would like to be able to read your answer. So: on Erra or with your people in general, is there still blindness, deafness, disability, and muteness, etc.?

Ptaah:

222. No, all these evils, together with all diseases and infirmities, have no longer appeared for many millennia, which is also connected with our prenatal investigations and necessary medical measures, which are based in the creative law, that each newborn life has an absolute right to consciousness-related and physical intactness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_264

Billy:

... There are several groups of extraterrestrials who function around here on Earth, but to my knowledge you have nothing to do with them. But do they know that you are here?

Ptaah:

49. No, because we also keep ourselves secret from these few.

50. Our directives demand this – but also our security.

...

Billy:

Observations of unknown flying objects, a large number of which are certainly of extraterrestrial origin, have become very frequent in recent years. Can you give me the reason?

Ptaah:

55. The time is approaching when the first official contact with Earth-foreigners is to take place.

56. The efforts of certain Earth-foreign humans come down to this.

57. I am not allowed to explain more about this, because we are not allowed to intervene in current events that are not directly connected with our own interests.

58. Whether this encounter with Earth-humans will actually take place in the near future, however, has already become questionable again, as a result of the new political turmoil, which will also increase again in the future, whereby malicious acts of war are to be expected.

Billy:

Of course not, you have explained that to me very often.

Ptaah:

59. It must be said, however, with regard to the fact that many humans on Earth observe the sky more attentively and see the most diverse unknown flying objects and that this is due to the controversy that has been triggered worldwide as a result of your contacts with us as well as your photo evidence and your person and history.

60. Through this controversy, many humans have become aware of the existence of the Earth-foreigners, and consequently the humans are paying more attention to the heavens.

61. From the whole it follows, however, that very many Earth-humans become familiar with the thought that extraterrestrial human life exists.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_269

13th May 1996, 14:59 hrs {Note: probably a private conversation during Contact 256}

Billy:

It has been some time since you told me that now is not the time to expect official contact between extraterrestrials and terrestrials.

Ptaah:

1. The time is really not very far anymore.

2. The only question with regard to the expected contacts is whether the military, secret services and governments will not once again reshape the open appearance in such a way that the public is misled and the facts are distorted and concealed, as has been done with regard to previous incidents with extraterrestrial flying apparatuses and beings from foreign worlds.

Billy:

Apart from you Pleiadians/Plejaren and the members of your Federation, other Earth-foreigners visit our world very rarely and their flying apparatuses can be observed here and there.

Ptaah:

3. That is right, but that is not our concern, because we do not have any contacts to these strangers.

4. We have never done that before.

5. However, it is not to be denied that aliens are sometimes present in earthly area who have nothing in common with us.

Billy:

On your last visit you also told me that with regard to the so-called crop circles everything is no longer of a purely earthly human nature, but that for some time now there have also been earth-foreigner influences at play?

Ptaah:

6. That's also true, but I do not want to go into any more detail about it, because we are not allowed to interfere in things and events that are not compatible with our mission.

7. We must not disregard our directives and therefore not violate them.

Billy:

Then things have actually changed with regard to crop circle forgeries in certain things, just in the sense that now also extraterrestrial influences are involved.

Ptaah:

8. For quite some time this is actually swinging-wave-based the case.

9. However, this does not mean that the pictograms etc. are not genuine and cannot be traced back to the Earth-foreigners.

10. As always, counterfeits are being made by freeloaders who are not exposed to the swinging waves.

Billy:

And what is the connection between the pictograms which are created by the influence of extraterrestrial vibrations of forces? I think it's rather stupid that humans on Earth who are not yet highly developed make themselves felt in this way.

Ptaah:

11 So the connection does not exist by coming events within SOL-system and also not by the announcement of the appearance of earth-foreigners, whose ancestors came to Earth earlier.

...

25. The only thing that is certain for us so far is that there are certain extraterrestrial energy influences that influence humans on Earth, among others, so that they are active in making pictograms.

26. This does not mean, however, that everything concerning the so-called crop circles is allegedly of honest origin, that it is traced back to influences of earth-foreign beings.

...

Billy:

Recently I was asked whether it is just as common for you on Erra and in your Federation for humans to do plastic surgeries and the like as it is here on Earth – until now actually more for the female sex, but recently also more and more for men.

Ptaah:

59. No, such things are frowned upon by us, because all humans with us are of the opinion and conviction that one should age in honour and see and wear the signs of age on the face, hands and body and never tinker with nature's craft, as you once said – unless uncontrollable circumstances and influences cause physical deformations and devastations, which are then naturally aesthetically repaired and corrected.

Billy:

Then there is cosmetic surgery, like facelifts etc., and as is so common among the humans here on Earth, isn't there?

Ptaah:

60. No, I already said that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_272

Billy:

... And the foreigners? What kind of beamships or flying apparatus do they have, and what do they want?

Ptaah:

57. Their flying apparatuses bears a certain resemblance to ours and could therefore easily be confused by the uninitiated and ignorant.

58. What the foreigners want is easy to explain:

59. They appear once every 70 to 80 years on Earth, taking care of all sorts of things that reach into political as well as military and scientific matters, whereby their aim is to make an official appearance at the appropriate moment and to establish open contact with the Earth-humans.

Billy:

And, were there contacts to them at earlier times, resp. did these foreigners interfere in the earlier concerns of Earth-humans?

Ptaah:

60. That was to some extent the case, yes.

...

Billy:

... Then there's a question I asked you a long time ago, but you still have not answered it. Obviously you have forgotten the matter. It is that you promised to clarify when the first extraterrestrial people came to earth. ...

...

Ptaah:

92. We have found traces up to 234 million years in the past.

93. These are our latest findings and discoveries.

94. However, I have not forgotten your question about these things, but I have been silent about it so far, because we're still researching and do not have any final results yet.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_278

Billy:

Can I ask you something about viruses and bacteria, etc., how you protect yourself against them when you are on other planets? Can you tell me about it?

Florena:

52. I can do that very well.

53. On the one hand, we are protected by our clothing, which is so much worked and equipped with sensors, that it registers all kinds of pathogens known or unknown to us, etc., and destroys them with special radiation that is harmless to us.

54. This applies both to bacteria and viruses of all kinds that you have mentioned, as well as to other pathogens, which, however, may still be unknown to earthly physicians.

55. Our clothing, which we wear outside of our home planet, is equipped with an appropriate filter system, which eliminates all parasites etc., all germs and all viruses and bacteria of every form.

56. In addition, each of our flying apparatuses has a large, equally active filter and radiation device in the entry area, which is in continuous operation, so that no germs can be introduced.

57. These systems are absolutely safe.

Billy:

But then there is something I do not understand: Semjase once told me that they always have the problem of snuffing here on Earth.

Florena:

58. That was indeed the case, but this fact only referred to when they or other of our groups wrapped themselves in earthly garments and thus lost the protection explained to you.

59. As you know, Semjase and several others temporarily moved among earthlings at very short notice when there were special things to do.

60. At that time, this could only be very short because heavy equipment had to be carried to protect the consciousness and the mind.

61. However, if one of us was affected or infected by the common cold or any other illness, this was regulated and remedied by re-entering the flying apparatus and wearing the usual clothes again.

Billy:

What was it like or is it like with me? I have suffered from various diseases caused by bacteria or viruses.

Florena:

62. That may be true, but as you yourself know, your diseases have never been so dangerous for Semjase or any of us.

63. Besides, as far as I know you have already been informed about this by Semjase, special safety measures have been taken with regard to you and in function, so that you can unhindered be with us and enter our flying machines.

64. Further you also know that in relation to your earthly physics, only these can be considered for disinfection, but not your inner organs etc.

65. This possibility exists only for us, which is why only we can keep ourselves free from any germs etc..

66. Our devices and apparatuses are only tuned to our bodies and organs etc..

Billy:

What do you think of it when you transport foreign planet inhabitants in your flying machines?

Florena:

67. Special filter and radiation devices are required for this, which are tuned to the life forms concerned and which are then subjected to a holistic disinfection.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_282

Ptaah:

...

37. What was held was used for demonstration and information purposes for all our federation members.

Billy:

I am flat. By all federation members, do you really mean all humanities or just spiritual leaders? The latter would not be logical, because you speak of all members of the Federation.

Ptaah:

38. You already understand it correctly:

39. The meaning of my words refers to all members of the Federation.

Billy:

Then I am reassured when only 120 billion (120,000,000,000) humans from foreign solar systems and planets know what's going on in the centre, how the group members behave here, what they do and work, and what their interests are, etc. I am not sure what I mean. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_283

Ptaah:

foreigners

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_287

Zafenatpaneach:

25. She {Enjana} had to make observations regarding the foreigners.

26. These are now increasingly active in Swiss and German as well as French, Italian and Austrian areas.

27. Also in the Nordic countries they are increasingly noticeable for us.

Billy:

And – do you still not have any knowledge about their being here?

Zafenatpaneach:

28. Both the purpose of their being here and their origin are still unknown to us.

Billy:

And why you do not just simply make contact with them?

Zafenatpaneach:

29. The foreigners offer us too many uncertainties in many respects.

30. For this reason, we must strictly adhere to our directive of not establishing contact.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_291

{Note: see Contact Reports 90, 91, and 93 for information on Billy's first encounter with Asina.}

Asina:

3. And that I speak your language is because of this little device here on my body belt.

4. It is a language converter.

Billy:

Aha, this is what Ptaah told me about, that you Deneber have received such devices, as well as other flying apparatuses with which you can travel through space.

Ptaah:

3. That is right.

4. Furthermore, the peoples of Deneb have been members of our Federation for quite some time, which is why they have been equipped with appropriate technology.

Billy:

And, why are you here again, Asina?

Asina:

5. As usual, we are on an expedition, and since the Earth serves us well as a stopover to our next destination, we have moved into your time by a leap in time.

Billy:

Aha, I suspected something like that when I saw the lights in the sky. I assume that you jumped out of your dimension directly into our time and we became aware of you just at the moment you were materialized, and I assume that this must have happened about 200 kilometres away from our Centre, somewhere in the north and over German territory.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_292

Billy:

And, how did you find Asina after all?

Ptaah:

6. Of course by calling them via our remote communication devices, when our search equipment and analysers as well as the planetary communication attempts produced no results and remained unsuccessful.

7. Consequently, we thought that the armada must be outside the Earth, which is why we considered success through remote communication, which then produced the desired result.

Billy:

You speak of remote communication and probably mean a hyperwave or interstellar radio or something. For us here on Earth, distance communication unfortunately only means from place to place, from country to country or from continent to continent – or in the highest case to earthly space stations and manned space capsules and the like.

Ptaah:

8. I understand.

9. Of course, our remote communication devices refer to a technology that enables us to bridge millions and billions of light-years at above-light speed.

Billy:

That's how far we earthlings should be. But tell me, what is the average age of Asina's race, I mean of the Denebers? Can you tell me that?

Ptaah:

10. Of course, it's no secret; their average age is 320 earthly years.

...

Billy:

... Earth-humans have been eating genetically modified things for many thousands of years that have been genetically manipulated by extraterrestrials, such as the pear or the avocado fruit ...

...

Ptaah:

51. Anonymously I shall also send you greetings and best wishes from many people of our Federation, whereby it must be clear to you that in our Federation many more people know you than you can imagine.

52. Truly there are billions, which is especially due to all the works of spiritual doctrinal form etc. which you have made for us in all the years of our contacts and which we of course spread through our spiritual leadership and through our communication channels etc.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_296

Billy:

... Then there is a question about rituals for weddings, births and naming and about saying goodbye when people die. What do you think?

Ptaah:

104. That is different for federations, because there are allies with us who cultivate rituals according to their kind.

105. But for our part, and this refers only to us Plejaren, we have no rituals whatsoever.

106. In the case of alliances, only a short word is spoken about the alliance to be entered into, as in the case of naming, in which a few words of welcome are also spoken about birth and appearance in life and as a new community member.

107. If a person dies, then a farewell speech is given, which shows the deceased person in his deeds, thoughts and feelings as well as in his works and in his character, virtues and personality etc.

108. This also includes merits, etc.

109. In all cases, however, no rituals take place, which is also the case for honours and merits etc. during one's lifetime.

110. Everything in the aforementioned matters takes place in a simple and simple framework.

Billy:

Aha, so no Tam-Tam. And what about busts and monuments etc. in honour of people who have achieved great things?

Ptaah:

111. Such commemorative works are also created by us, but no ritual acts are performed around them.

Billy:

So simply pure works of honour and memory. This includes – as with us – gravestones and memorials?

Ptaah:

112. That corresponds to the circumstances.

Billy:

Even with memorials there are no rituals and acts of worship, I suppose?

Ptaah:

113. That's also true, yes.

Billy:

Here on earth, unfortunately, these things are handled differently – pilgrimages, worship, cultural actions, etc. It's not about commemorative visits or simple memorial and testimonial visits to such places or monuments, etc. How is that with you in this relationship?

Ptaah:

114. We also visit memorials and monuments, etc., but in any case this is done only for the sake of remembrance and honour, and, as I said, no rituals and no ritual acts and the like are performed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_297

Billy:

... How do you deal with wild animals; do you care for them in the same way as the people here on earth? So do you also go hunting – do you also have hunters for this purpose?

Ptaah:

35. Hunting is not permitted in our country and we leave the regulation of the population in the animal world to nature and its laws.

36. The free nature is left with us so big and actually free enough that all animals have their necessary free space.

37. Consequently, no animals migrate into villages and cities, as is the case on earth, because the animals no longer have sufficient living space due to the enormous overpopulation of humans. –

38. It is forbidden for us to enter wild areas in order to build recreation or dwellings there.

39. In addition, it is customary in our country – which unfortunately is not yet the case for all federates – that no game and no other animals which are kept in large parks and enclosures and which are used for dairy farming, etc., are killed in order to produce food from them, etc.

40. We produce the necessary animal proteins for our food through special duplicators, etc., by producing synthetic meat that is absolutely equivalent to real animal meat.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_304

Tanissa:

1. I am Tanissa and 182 years old.

2. My homeland is Erra, and I am Florena's closest friend and at the same time I am also associated with Zafenatpaneach.

3. I greet you.

Billy:

Splendid, that pleases me. I thought to myself that Zafenatpaneach is a sneaky feller. By this I mean that he is already courting another woman – in addition to Florena.

Florena:

2. That is his right.

3. And Tanissa and I get along very well, and we are very pleased that Zafenatpaneach has made his choice in this way.

...

Ptaah:

6. Are you in pain, my friend?

7. You move so strangely.

Billy:

Unfortunately my knees have been giving me trouble for about three weeks now. You know, my osteoarthritis. I can no longer stand or walk without much pain, so I bought a medical microwave therapy device in Germany, which should probably arrive this week, then I can treat myself or my knees.

Ptaah:

8. Sit down here and stretch your legs out.

9. ... So, yes.

10. One moment, this device diagnoses your suffering. –

11. Aha, especially the left knee is severely inflamed and suffers from a very severe lack of cartilage substance.

12. The right knee is also badly affected.

13. For a moment, this device will give you immediate relief and neutralize the inflammation.

14. ... So, how do you feel about your knees now?

Billy:

You only drove over it once with your device – well, actually, I do not feel any pain anymore. I get up and walk around a bit. Great, no more pain and everything seems to be normal again.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_311

Billy:

... Regarding the Sirians who at that time presented Sfath with their pear-shaped space ship: did that concern a people who, here on the Earth, is called "Nommo", and did those who provided the gift belong to the genetic manipulators?

Ptaah:

9. A people called "Nommo" is unknown to us, and indeed in our space-time configuration as well as in yours.

10. My father Sfath received his flying device as a gift from a Sirian people who are called Samanet.

Billy:

Did these people have something to do with the genetic manipulators?

Ptaah:

11. No, that is not the case.

12. With the Samanet people it deals with a people who live in a space-time configuration which is not identical with that in which the genetic manipulators live.

Billy:

Does it deal then with our space-time configuration?

Ptaah:

13. No, that is not the case.

Billy:

Then, in 1976 Semjase, your daughter, also did not speak of two solar systems of the planets of Sirius in our space time configuration, rather of a completely different one?

{Note: See Contact Report 63:85-88.}

Ptaah:

14. Certainly.

15. We always only speak of the constellations known to you in your space-time configuration in order to show, in terms of direction, approximately what the talk is about in regard to the space-time configuration spoken about by us.

Billy:

Aha, and how does it stand then with that in regard to inhabited systems in our space-time configuration?

Ptaah:

16. Then we also do not speak of another space-time configuration or of other dimensions.

Billy:

That's clear. Understood. – I assume that those who were genetically manipulated also have nothing to do with the Samanet?

Ptaah:

17. That corresponds to the situation.

18. The Samanet are quite normal humans who have not been genetically manipulated.

Billy:

Those who were genetically manipulated, who came into the solar system together with the refugees from the ranks of the genetic manipulators, and therefore with the sympathisers of the genetically manipulated ones, were the descendants of those who had been genetically manipulated as well as descendants of those who did the genetic manipulations, or?

Ptaah:

19. That is correct.

20. The genetically manipulated descendants were descended from the eighth generation, as were the descendants of the genetic manipulators.

Ptaah:

62. If it pleases you, then I would like to play chess with you in the joy of a chess game.

Billy:

Of course. Then let us start right away.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_321

Billy:

Among the adolescents and also among the younger adults here on Earth, unfortunately, there is very often a lack of respect for old age and for human beings in general. In disgracefulness, people of all ages are shown neither respect nor reverence. But how could that be, when you consider how war, hatred, vindictiveness, racism, xenophobia, lack of love, betrayal, torture, the death penalty, injustice, sectarianism, exploitation, fraud, crime of all kinds, greed for profit and power, as well as terror and murder and manslaughter, along with labour exploitation, rape and mistreatment of children and women of all ages and religious, social and racial backgrounds prevail.

Ptaah:

82. All these inhumanities are just as foreign on all our worlds and among all our races as they are on the worlds and among all the races of our Federation.

83. In contrast to the human beings on Earth, we cultivate reverence and dignity and respect and honour in every respect, and consequently no hatred and quarrelling, nor any of the evils and degenerations as you have called them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_323

Ptaah:

40. That slaughter according to Jewish ritual was never and at no time demanded by an Ischwisch, respectively by a god, as it is expressed by Earth-humans, because the renegades themselves who carried the title IHWH held to the law that animals of every species and kind should not be exposed to any kind of torture, rather if they are ready to be killed, that it must happen very quickly and completely painlessly.

41. This was an irrevocable law since time immemorial that was always respected and followed by the vilest renegades themselves, and also today has unconditional validity for all of our peoples in the entire federation, and is followed without exception.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_328

Billy:

... Then another question: What is your situation with the language mix, will your various languages {break in text} are they preserved or do they fall into decay like here on Earth? And is there anything of the kind that, as with us, is attempted by all means to exterminate other languages in order to make a special language the world language, as has been practiced here for decades or even more than a century by the Americans, who are primarily trying to exterminate the German language, along with all the others, and replace it with their American language?

Ptaah:

81. Something like this does not happen here and would not be allowed.

82. On Erra 16,403 alone we have different languages, which in turn have many dialects of their own, and for this it is determined by a corresponding law that all languages and dialects are preserved in their form.

83. This means that the languages and dialects must not be mixed with others either, but must be preserved in their originality, which is a conscious duty for all Errands to keep to it and not to let any violations arise.

84. Many inhabitants of Erra learn several foreign languages and dialects, much more frequently than is the case with humans on Earth.

85. For the general understanding of all people of all ethnic groups among themselves, it is the duty of every single person on Erra to learn the standard language, which we simply call Erranisch (ERRIN) as well as Plejaren (SARAT).

86. This language is used from the earliest childhood, therefore it is equal to the mother tongue and it can be said that every erranische citizen learns and cultivates two mother tongues perfectly from childhood on.

87. In addition to this we have the Intercosmic (KOSAN), a language spoken throughout our Federation and spoken by little more than a third of our total population.

...

Billy:

... But another question: Now and then the Earth-humans from our future come into our dimension and thus into our space-time continuum, as you explained to me on my Great Journey {see Contact Report 31}. Also the Skrills and bio-organic flying objects, two special species, penetrate into our dimension from a dimension affiliated to us. Does this also apply to other humans of other dimensions who do not belong to you or to the Earth from the future?

Ptaah:

139. That is the case, yes.

140. But such occurrences are very rarely observed by us.

Billy:

And what about foreigners from outside our DERN universe coming into our universe area from a foreign universe, apart from Asket's race from the DAL universe?

Ptaah:

141. Something like that is not known to us.

142. Even our very extensive monitoring and constant checks have never revealed anything that would indicate such events.

Billy:

There's no possibility?

Ptaah:

143. At least it's extremely small, because outside of our DERN-DAL twin universe we are mostly surrounded by universes that are only subtle and therefore much more highly developed than our two universes.

...

Ptaah:

159. But now, dear friend, do I once again have a request concerning a game of chess, if you are not too tired?

Billy:

Fine, of course. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_329

22. This is Melchora and this is Urlana, both in the post of erran spiritual guides.

23. Her companion is Jaspan and he is an erran spirit guide.

...

Reporter:

A nine-fold greeting of female and male voices is heard, whereby the hands are also raised to the left side of the chest for greeting and a slight bow is made, whereby I naturally follow the familiar greeting gesture.

...

Billy:

... But what about you contacting future generations from Earth? Have you contacted any, or will you do so at all? And finally, I would like to know whether they are the same future pilots who have been seen, observed, filmed and photographed in various forms all over the world for years? Is it possible to get more detailed information about this, or is the whole thing secret?

Ptaah:

58. It is not classified as a secret.

59. No, we have not made contact and will not do so, because our directives do not allow us to do so.

Billy:

But these are Earth-humans of the future, who are already quite sophisticated.

Ptaah:

60. The development of that form does not matter, because the directives also determine other conditions, such as the fact that a humans or a human race may no longer be subject to warlike actions, which is not the case with the future human beings, as you call them.

Billy:

I see. So then at least these future generations still play warriors. It's a pity, a real pity.

Enjana:

8. Since on the Earth the 66th birthday of a human is considered a special day, which is known to us, your day has also been commemorated on Erra as a result of many requests in your honour, which is why your entire life story will be openly presented for several hours via our worldwide communication system to all Erran human beings, who take a great interest in your work as well as in your life and your mission.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_345

Billy:

... What arises from the foreign universe? ...

Ptaah:

...

10. First, after a many month long search we found a planet, on which rather still wild humans lived, who were only equipped with stone axes, stone spears and stone knives.

Billy:

Thus, cave men, respectively Stone Age humans or similar, correct?

Ptaah:

11. Yes.

12. They lived partly in caves, but also partly in primitive huts, which they made out of branches, leaves and moss.

13. Across the planet, we were able to identify 46 different groupings.

14. The planet itself had large primeval forests as well as fertile land, on which many and diverse animals roamed and fed themselves on all kinds of things.

15. You can yourself imagine approximately the same appearance that Earth presented around six million years ago.

16. Weeks later, after which we further penetrated into the foreign universe, we came upon a small artificial object, which was drifting through free space.

17. When we got hold of it, we established, that it was a probe created by intelligent life-forms, which certainly had served for the exploration of a planet, but however apparently was driven from its course and was thrown out into free space.

18. So we calculated the flight path of the probe and followed it for several months, after which we then actually reached a solar system, in which about a dozen planets moved around a central star, although certainly only two of the planets were developed in such a way, that they were able to carry higher life, as we soon discovered.

19. On one of the planets, the third, which was somewhat smaller than Earth and which was about 1.51 astronomical units distant from the sun and which travelled on its 677 day long orbit about the central star and had a self-rotation of 21 hours and 37 minutes, there existed no human, but only higher animal lifeforms of primeval form, as well as also this primeval condition applied to the vegetation.

20. The second planet, somewhat greater than the Earth, had three large island continents, which existed in a large salt water ocean and were surrounded by a large number of smaller islands.

21. Their entire mass was around one third greater than the continental masses and islands of Earth together.

22. This planet was at a distance from the sun of 1.48 astronomical units and had a self-rotation of 22 hours and 52 minutes.

23. The planet carried human civilizations, in fact there were three different races, which consisted of diverse peoples, who were of white, green and blue colour, adding to a total number of around 498 million human beings.

24. Our clarifications, which we carried out unobserved and without direct contact undertakings with the occupants, resulted in astonishing things as I want to explain as follows:

25. The populations of the three continents mastered only three different languages each one with a uniform dialect, which we nowhere else have yet detected.

26. And although the three races work together in every respect, such as, medically, scientifically and technologically, etc., they do not mix with one another in the way that there would exist marriage alliances between members of different races.

27. All three races had the same culture, the same state of knowledge in all things and a medical science, which, highly developed, registered only just minor sicknesses, so in this respect they are far ahead of terrestrial medical and surgical science.

28. There was nothing to find regarding religions and cults of any kind, because all three races in no way at all recognize faith, but only a kind of universal philosophy, which is based on the fact, that all life and existence arises from a higher power, which is simply called the 'Power' by them.

29. This is quite reverently observed, respected and honoured, however it is not worshiped and not venerated.

30. The 'Power' constitutes for them all origin of life and all existence, which both comes to be, and again passes away and again comes to be, and a unity in a duality is taught, so the material and the 'Power', which lives in the material, passes away and again comes to be, while the material dissolves and changes into other material forms.

Billy:

This is practically the reincarnation of the spirit-form. The 'Power' would be then simply Creation and at the same time the spirit-form.

Ptaah:

31. So it is, just only with other terms, as well as also everything interpreted and understood by the occupants of the planet.

32. Regarding these three races still is to say, that they are absolutely peaceful, in fact, both from human to human, as well as however also among the races and their peoples themselves.

33. Wars are foreign to them just as well as hate and criminality, and purely technologically viewed, they are at the position which prevailed with Earth-humans in the year 1968.

Billy:

Astonishing. Then, these human beings are far ahead of earthlings. However, how is it then with the form of government?

Ptaah:

34. Each people decides totally on all interests, although a total representation of all three races exists, which is built in the form of an assembly of men and women, which as highest authority is to gain the required recognition of the will of the people.

Billy:

A little complicatedly expressed, my friend. If I correctly understand your words, then with these three races and their peoples so to say there exists a combined leadership, which consist of persons, respectively representatives, of all three races. This leadership personnel exists in the service of the people, respectively of all peoples and executes their decision, respectively, they are responsible for the fact, that the will of people, respectively peoples is carried out. Then it is so to say a proper democracy. And how is it with these leadership personnel, do they have then also their own power of decision?

Ptaah:

35. Your interpretation corresponds to the sense of my words.

36. The leadership personnel, which consists of three persons from all peoples have only executing and advisory powers of the respective peoples and they do not have their own possibility for decision.

37. All leadership personnel are elevated to the standing of wise persons, whose duty it also is, to work out all required necessities and present them to the people, who then decide about them.

38. The three races and all of their peoples have no other party natures at all, like this is the case with Earth-humans.

39. On the other hand they have the manner of voting in the way, as was the case since ancient times in Switzerland in the manner of rural communities, in which the majority decision applied.

40. The interests, on which must be voted, are announced first by the leadership personnel on the day of the vote, when the people assemble and have to deliver a, for or against, vote.

41. So therefore no previous consultations are able to be made, consequently each citizen of each people according to his own discretion and in accordance with his decision has to make his own choice.

Billy:

Interesting. How is it then with the military, respectively the armed forces?

Ptaah:

42. Here, pure harmony and peace exists among all three races and all of their peoples for a little more than 1,208 planetary years and also exist no armed forces and no weapons industries for military purposes.

Billy:

And so what about the police?

Ptaah:

43. There is no such organization in the way, like on Earth.

44. Security personnel are certainly existing, but these constitute an order protection and safety protection which provide for the order and safety of the population regarding natural events, by which I mean events of nature.

45. The races and their peoples themselves live in an order, which has no degenerations, like this is the case with the people on Earth.

...

Billy:

What to me is still of interest, dear friend is their technology of locomotion. Do they have also still such primitive airplanes and automobiles, etc., like we on Earth? This is certainly to be assumed, if they have the technological position, which we possessed in 1968, am I correct?

Ptaah:

47. Your assumption is not entirely correct, because certainly they have a similar technology of locomotion, but the drives are not sustained by explosion motors using benzene and diesel oil, but they are driven with synthetic substances.

48. All three races and all of their peoples do not exploit the petroleum of the world.

49. All necessary substances for all things are from plants of many kinds as well as produced synthetically.

Billy:

And the food?

Ptaah:

50. There exist large community gardens as well as joint farming holdings, like gardens and small farms, which however are also run by individual persons or small groups.

51. And before you ask:

52. There are economically useful animals kept and bred for work and for food purposes, though however any form of cruelty to animals is taboo.

53. Flesh for food of humans is solely produced through breeding and slaughtering of certain animals.

54. Fruits, vegetables and flesh of many and diverse forms as well as all other necessary food items and required products of other kinds are in abundance and plentiful, and from this follows that nowhere does famine exist.

55. All bodies of waters and forests, meadows, fields and marsh areas are healthy and completely intact.

56. Chemical products are not laid down for the purposes of protection or growth of plants, but only substances, which in turn consist of natural products.

57. Hunting for any wild game is taboo, because game flesh is likewise only produced through breeding, like this also is the case with fish flesh, etc.

Billy:

Have you also established how old the humans get to be?

Ptaah:

58. Naturally.

59. The average age of the humans of all three races is a uniform 128 years and death as a rule is due to old age.

Billy:

So they are also much ahead of the Earthlings in this respect. But what happens to the deceased human beings, I mean, how are they laid to rest – cremated or buried, etc.?

Ptaah:

60. The deceased are laid out upon a stone bed far away from residential areas in especially created for them, individual small, yet very stable stone houses, after which the entrance is closed with rocks and boulders.

61. After that, the deceased are left to decompose.

Billy:

Do you mean by this something like a vault? Is it with the bereaved then also as is usual on Earth, that they visit these tombs?

Ptaah:

62. No, this does not likewise belong to tradition as well as also not the decoration of tombs with flowers, etc.

63. Also, no inscriptions are displayed, and no ritual at all is indulged in, at the burial.

64. Among all races exists also no fear of dying and death.

65. The whole thing is considered and honoured as a natural and inevitable event.

Billy:

Aha – it happens all the time, day or night, that one of you is in my office. I always notice this when the chair is moved or the computer is turned on, when I come back into my office. The CD player is also used and all kinds of music are listened to. Maybe they even make phone calls, maybe to Erra or something? Sometimes you can also smell quite lovely scents in the office, which I suppose can be traced back to some of the lovely girls?

Ptaah:

18. We all feel very comfortable in your work room, but also in the whole area around the centre, where we often go for a walk or a stroll and enjoy it.

Billy:

And what about our people when they are out on the grounds, such as on the night watch?

Ptaah:

19. That means no more difficulties for us, neither by day nor by night.

20. Our security devices and camouflage devices have been developed in such a way that we can move around in the immediate vicinity of the group members without being noticed by them, even during the day.

21. However, we may be heard walking around if we are not wearing footwear that muffles the sound of footsteps.

22. Also, certain sensitive group members may be able to perceive our vibrations when we are sufficiently close to them.

23. However, none of us use your telephones, because we would not know who to call.

25. But we did not dare to do so, because if someone other than you were to make the connection through the apparatus, we would not know what to do.

26. But the whole thing would also be just a joke on our part.

... But look here – these chocolates were given to me by Mariann, and I promised her that we would both enjoy them together. As a chocolate tiger, I do not suppose you would say no to that, would you?

Ptaah:

11. Certainly not – please allow me – ah, but they are really very delicious.
12. Send my heartfelt and dear thanks to Mariann.
13. We will be careful with them.

Billy:

It is not necessary, Ptaah, because I can get some again.

Ptaah:

14. Nevertheless we will be thrifty.

Billy:

Well, the thing is this: Last Wednesday, it was the evening of the 30th of June, Silvano drove the old Volvo to the garage car park to park. And since I had something to talk to Silvano about, I went there, seeing various marks on the bonnet of Atlant's car, so I asked Silvano what had happened. His answer was that he knew nothing, while I went to the car to take a closer look at the supposed scratch marks. When I got closer, I first saw that they were small finger and hand prints that were on the bonnet, hands that had six fingers and a thumb, or seven fingers. Of course, it was immediately clear to me that alien visitors must have been here, some Trilans who had probably examined Atlant's car somewhat handily, because the handprints were etched into the first layer of paint, as were the papillary lines, as Silvano and I quickly discovered. The prints of the delicate hands were clear and distinct. So I was of the opinion that the whole thing must have happened just that day, around noon, because Silvano and I saw a silver disc-shaped object fly away at 11:17 hrs. Of course, we then showed the handprints to all the members who came to the centre, so also to Philia. This proved my view wrong, as she explained that she had already seen the tracks sometime over the weekend and wondered what it was all about. Since her observation, however, it had rained several times in veritable torrents, but this did not harm the etched handprints, because they remained unchanged. Of course, everyone asked me which aliens could leave such traces etc., so I explained that it could only be the small and about 110 to 120 centimetres tall and green-coloured as well as completely hairless and absolutely human Trilans, which I had been allowed to see three times so far, twice in your giant spacecraft and once here in the centre or on the front storage area. And of course they wanted to know how the chemical burn could have come about, which is why I explained that these small human beings have a light green skin that is covered with a thin film of acid, which has a slightly corrosive effect. And now, because the rascals were leaning on the bonnet and also otherwise touching Atlant's car, the handprints and the papillary lines were etched into the paint. For my part, as you know, I cannot reach out to the little ones or I will cauterise them. Nevertheless, you also know that I briefly touched the arm of one of these Trilans with my middle finger in your spacecraft, after which I felt a burning sensation like stinging nettles for about 18 hours, while my finger was reddened for almost three weeks.

... Regarding the alien artifacts that will one day be found on Mars by the earthlings. Can you tell me what these discoveries are about? ...

Ptaah:

78. The discoveries made in more distant times by terrestrials on the planet Mars are usually only artifacts that were created by human influence in various Martian rocks and are often misunderstood as human work of art.

Billy:

... Also with regard to UFOs, which are supposed to be of extraterrestrial origin, but which are in fact of earthly origin, I have learned a great deal through your help and have gained knowledge which proves that on earth everything in this respect is usually based on faith and delusion as well as on the machinations of lies, deception, charlatanism, tricks, deception and illusion, but also on imagination, deception and self-generated visions etc. Also regarding many UFOs you have proved to me that they are not of extraterrestrial, but purely earthly origin. Power states of the Earth, like especially the USA, England, Canada and Russia, have been consciously organizing deception manoeuvres since the thirties by carrying out secret test flights with new and futuristic airplanes and other flying objects. They continue to do so without informing the public, which leads to the belief that the planes and other aircraft are alien spaceships. So the governmental secrecy consciously continues to fuel the belief of the population that the UFOs are spacecraft of alien visitors or intruders, which is of course absolute nonsense, because extraterrestrial flying machines can only be observed very rarely on Earth. Thus, mankind is led by the state powers and secret services as well as by the secret research forces with regard to the UFOs by the nose. Alien visitors – if I disregard you – are so rare that they are to be looked for like a needle in a haystack. That was different when you still had fixed stations on our world, but that is long gone now, and therefore alien aircraft can only be observed very rarely. But the fact that earth people continue to claim that they have any contact with extraterrestrials or spirit forms etc., whether physical, telepathic or channelling etc., that is simply senseless swindling, delusion, schizophrenia, charlatany or even lies and deceit, because for several decades there has been no such contact whatsoever, if I disregard our permanent contact. At least this is how I have been oriented by you. But exactly this fact is denied by all kinds of believers or know-it-alls and by so-called 'experts', because everything that is lies, nonsense, deceit, fraud and charlatany is accepted by scientists, believers, know-it-alls and so-called 'experts' as real and effective reality, believed and declared in this form as truth, not only with regard to UFOs, but also with regard to telepathy, telekinesis, levitation and teleportation. But in contrast to this, all that is real and effective reality and truth and reasonable, normal and conclusive for logical thinkers, is slandered and denied as lies, deception, charlatany and swindling, and those few who have accepted telepathy, telekinesis, levitation and teleportation etc. are denied as truth. are really mastered and can be counted on one hand, are humiliated, ridiculed and trampled into the ground by sceptics, ignorant critics, know-it-alls of all kinds as well as by slander and lies. But now the real question: What can you explain about all this?

Ptaah:

...

69. ...we and our allies of our Federation have been the only strangers to the Earth for a long time, who come to this planet and maintain contact with a person of this world, and that is you alone.

70. But that has its own special reason, as you yourself know very well.

71. But it is precisely this fact that has led to you and us being slandered and attacked and insulted by lies since the beginning of our contacts.

72. The pathologically inclined troublemakers, slanderers and other malicious people in this respect are, however, so lacking in intelligence that they cannot think far enough to recognize the real reality and truth.

73. They are not able to recognize that the alleged messages of alleged extraterrestrials given by alleged contact persons are so stupid and banal that they originate from nothing but a completely illogical and usually religious-sectarian fantasy.

74. In fact, we know nothing of these alleged contact persons and their messages from alleged extraterrestrials etc. that corresponds to truth and logic.

75. It must also be said that if contacts had ever actually existed in such a way that important messages or a teaching had been transmitted, these would then have continued until the end of the lives of the contact persons concerned and not simply been broken off.

76. Such an action would be completely illogical, because if some beings set out from the vastness of the universe to a planet to bring messages and a teaching, then this is not just a trivial religious-sectarian nonsense or the like, which is then also ended after a short time.

77. If it really is true that contacts between earth people and earth strangers come about with regard to messages and a teaching, then such contacts are not simply broken off again unless there are compelling reasons for breaking them off.

78. Other individual contacts, which are unexpectedly brought about simply by chance, are based only on brief encounters, which, however, are of no significance and are not connected with any mission.

79. Real contacts between terrestrial people and terrestrial strangers, as is the case with us, lead to a lifelong connection and to a lifelong and immense work.

80. And that in our case you alone are our only contact person on earth has its own special reason, as you yourself know very well.

81. You are in fact in every respect the only person on Earth whom we can meet physically and with whom we can maintain telepathic contact without any mental damage.

82. This also means that it is impossible for us to make contact with other earth people, so we cannot make any other connections – except through you as a mediator.

83. And should it be that in the coming time other alien beings find their way to earth in such a way that they establish open contact with earthly humanity, then we will withdraw definitively into our space-time structure, because our directives are aligned in this form.

84. But I have already explained this to you on previous visits and conversations.

Billy:

Yes, I know. Also good. But, you are talking again about aliens coming to Earth. Is that going to happen in the foreseeable future? For my part, I thought that due to the extremely negative circumstances of humanity on earth, this would no longer be the case for the time being.

Ptaah:

85. Your train of thought is also correct, because we do not know anything for the foreseeable future about alien beings coming to earth to establish open contact with earthly mankind.

Billy:

But your flash-forwards?

Ptaah:

86. They only exist in this relationship until the end of the year 2004, because for us the appearance of alien beings is only then of importance when they actually visit the earth in order to get in open contact with earthly humanity.

87. But that will not be the case so very quickly.

88. Those who were originally supposed to come here will in any case no longer appear, because through secret visits and clarifications on earth they became aware of all the evil and negativity that is especially driven by those responsible for the state and their followers as well as by the earthly population.

89. They were thus deterred, and the decision was made that contacts with earthly humanity should not be made, so that the evil and negativity of earthly humanity could not spread to their humanity.

90. Thus, if it is to be that one day extraterrestrial intelligences openly contact humanity on earth, they will be other beings whose mentality, technology and science etc. we know neither their state of evolution with regard to the observance of creative laws nor their state of evolution.

91. Nor do we know anything about their social laws and regulations etc.

Billy:

Then there may come some unpleasant surprise.

Ptaah:

92. This possibility is given, but it should not be expected.

Billy:

Of course not – would be idiotic and would be completely in line with the bullshit that has been practiced in the worst form since the entertainment film industry was founded, because all films that are based on aliens assume and are designed in such a way that aliens are only evil and degenerate. Especially – how could it be otherwise – the USA is the sounding board in this respect, with the government and secret services fuelling the whole nonsense in a mean way to panic the people. In addition to this there is also the crazy law in the USA that Earth-humans can be punished in the USA, if they have any provable contacts with extraterrestrials. Especially it is punishable if regulations concerning quarantine are violated, if contact with extraterrestrial people, animals or materials etc. has taken place.

...

Billy:

... But another question I am always being asked: Even in your country, deceased bodies are burned at will. I am always asked why you do this, because the burning of the body destroys the fluid vibrations. Although I know that this is not the case, because the skeleton is preserved when the body is burned, it would be interesting to know why this is so.

Ptaah:

98. Burning is a process of cold fire that does not produce heat.

99. You can imagine it as if something is burned and dissolved with dry ice.

100. So the cold fire only dissolves the actual body, without affecting the skeleton.

101. Through the process of the cold fire burning, the mental fluid vibration of the human being settles into the skeleton and is thus preserved, whereby the following personalities can use the powers again when they are born through the rebirth of the spirit form and the total consciousness block.

Billy:

Short, concise and clear. Unfortunately not yet possible with us. – Well, then, I suppose, after this cold burning process, the skeleton is buried.

Ptaah:

102. That's correct.

103. In this regard, we have burials in graves and catacombs, as well as burials in small ossuaries far away from residential areas.

Ptaah:

3. ... I feel impelled to discuss a few things with you and also to devote myself to chess, if you are willing.

Billy:

Sure, it will be my pleasure. ...

Ptaah:

83. Our Spiritual Leadership has conducted a survey among the entire population of Erra, which includes not only the adults but also the children, with the aim of finding a suitable term for the mission that you and all your fellow comrades-in-arms are fulfilling in spite of all the adversities that are being faced.

...

88. The decision was based on a suggestion made by an eleven-year-old girl who felt that a term like 'Silent Revolution of Truth' was appropriate for you, your comrades-in-arms and your mission.

89. This suggestion was generally accepted and now finds its way into our chronicle.

...

Ptaah:

96. There is also the erroneous view that tourism in foreign countries brings profitable growth, earnings and prosperity for their people.

97. But this is not true, because poverty persists among the population in all countries, because in reality it is only a few from the population and above all big business people who earn a lot from tourism.

98. And of these big business people it is often those who come from rich industrial countries and make enormous profits with hotels and sports facilities etc. in the poor countries. –

99. In very early times, our ancestors acted in the same way, creating the same problems as you have called them and as they have existed on earth for many years, since the populations of the rich industrialized countries have large financial resources that allow them to flood foreign countries with tourists.

...

101. The whole thing should be stopped in the way that our ancestors handled it and solved all the related problems, which banned and dissolved all the travel companies and thus also stopped all the mass tourism, which caused a lot of disaster, such as when natural disasters destroyed tourist resorts and killed countless humans.

102. This was indeed the solution to all problems, from which a worldwide cooperation of all political and economic concerns developed, which led to a worldwide uniform mechanization, politics and economy as well as a uniform world government, which finally led to spiritual leadership and the advice of the High Council.

103. Since then, some 52,000 years ago, peace and harmony has reigned among all the humans of our world and throughout our Federation.

104. Of course, there were many other problems to be solved, which would go too far to mention, but when reason triumphed and the beginning was made, one problem after another was solved and resolved.

105. The whole process of reason lasted 101,036 years, but then everything was sealed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_370

Ptaah:

54. With us, the task of disaster relief and the like was placed very early on in the administration of the state, whereby the police and security forces were trained for this purpose, made responsible and remunerated through the normal state revenues.

55. Donations collected for relief operations were used down to the last cent for what they were intended for.

56. And today, as we no longer have any financial resources whatsoever, the regular law and order and security bodies are still responsible for relief operations in the event of disasters

57. Of course, we also have many volunteers who carry out valuable operations in the event of disasters, but these are managed by the competent bodies, because there must be a certain order on which any real assistance depends.

Billy:

Then there are also natural disasters in your country?

Ptaah:

58. Not on Erra itself, because there everything is kept under control and properly organized, but there are still different worlds in our widely ramified federation, on which often great natural disasters occur, where great damage is done and loss of life is to be lamented.

59. Here we provide organized help through our law and order and security forces, with the participation of volunteers who carry out their duties voluntarily and selflessly.

Billy:

So this means that when you speak of you, you are not talking about Erra, but about other worlds which belong to your Federation and which are not yet as far along in terms of mastering the forces of nature as you Errans are – is that right?

Ptaah:

60. Yes, that is the meaning of my words.

61. On Erra, we have everything so controlled, organized and legislated in relation to natural disasters that no one can be harmed if nature allows its forces to play.

62. We do not influence nature in such a way that we would completely tame it, but the influence is only in responsible forms of weather formation etc.

63. So the forces of nature can also unfold on Erra, but they are tamed in their worst forms, so that no damage is done to human property and no human lives are lost. –

... Look here, I got some good chocolate from Hanni, from Eva's mother, which I have to share with you, so if you want to help yourself, please. ...

Billy:

We received the Old Plejaren alphabet a long time ago, but the new Plejaren characters are unknown to us. Although I have seen them on various occasions in your giant spaceship, in your spaceship and in the beam ships, I do not understand them. Could you please dictate me the new Plejaren alphabet, which has completely different characters than the Old Plejaren alphabet!

Ptaah:

17. That is right, about 4,000 years ago – 4,012 years ago to be exact – the old alphabet was replaced by a new one, which is different from the old one.

18. Of course I can give you the characters.

19. If you want to copy them, you can read them here on this little device.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_382

Ptaah:

3. But first I would like to come back to what we talked about on the 13th of March 1999 in relation to the video with the statements of the group members.

...

13. This is also connected with a wish on our part, because we want to broadcast the completed work on Erra to the entire Erra population through our planet-wide information channels, because a great many requests have been received from the entire Erra population regarding the fact that they would like to get to know all group members and their experiences etc. in this way.

...

Ptaah:

26. It has also been the case for many years now that our worldwide efforts of clarification and surveillance in this regard have not produced any positive results and therefore no contacts between terrestrial human beings and extraterrestrials have been recorded.

27. These clarifications are without any doubt, because our monitoring in this regard is absolutely faultless, because our apparatuses and devices register all foreign to Earth mental vibrations of acute activities, but also of telepathic nature, therefore nothing can escape us in this respect.

28. If communications between Earth foreigners and Earth-humans had taken place in the last major period of time, then this would have been recorded by our automatic recording devices and would have become known to us.

29. This in addition to the fact that we have always made individual clarifications with regard to all persons who claimed and still claim to have had or still have contact with extraterrestrials in any way.

30. But the results concerning such contacts are consistently negative to this day, and that is absolutely clear.

31. It is no different with extraterrestrial flying objects, because also with regard to these we have built up a global surveillance network a few months ago, so that no objects can enter or leave the airspace without being registered by us.

32. Until recently this was different, because we had not yet installed the necessary equipment, consequently some foreign objects escaped our attention in recent years, but this has nothing to do with the registration of foreign mental vibrations, which we have been controlling worldwide for more than 82 years, therefore we are also informed about when and where contacts between Earth-humans and Earth foreigners have actually taken place.

33. During this time their number – you excepted – applies to only eight such contacts, but of all those who claim that they have or have had such contacts, only one is who openly admitted the truth and came forward – the American Daniel Fry.

34. All others remained silent to the public about their contacts.

35. And what else is to be said about extraterrestrial flying objects:

36. They have entered Earth's airspace very sparsely since 1984.

37. What has been observed since then of unknown flying objects were usually – with very few exceptions – secret military or official flying objects of terrestrial origin.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_386

Najdescha:

7. What you say regarding the female sex on the Earth, is known to us on Erra, but incomprehensible, for we do not use to have our faces or our body parts surgically altered in order to appear more beautiful, young or younger.

8. We find it a great honour to grow old with dignity and to bear the marks of age.

9. So even the mention of age does not cause us any problems, as I can also tell you my age of 422 years.

10. My task and activity is not an elevated one, for I am a simple woman and also work in a simple way in a monitoring plant of natural food production, together with my husband.

11. We have three children, two daughters and one son, all grown up and working with Ischwisch Ptaah in his big flying machine.

...

15. On earth, you call my family task, to my knowledge, housework or housewife, while my other task and activity is based on the supervision of food production.

16. To be more precise, I am a trained gardener and am responsible for planting and caring for and harvesting natural food.

17. In other words, it can be explained that I carry out my activity in a very large vegetable cultivation plant.

...

Billy:

... Why, Ptaah, does Najdescha speak of you as Ischwisch Ptaah? That's new to me, because I thought that it wasn't usual for you to mention the titles or something.

Najdescha:

21. I just like to call him Ischwisch Ptaah, like many others do.

Billy:

Aha, but still I don't understand?

Ptaah:

6. When someone in our country speaks in the manner of Najdescha, it is the same as when we speak to each other with my friend or dear friend.

7. So it is a matter of dignified naming, but this has nothing to do with the fact that people on earth address each other with titles, which is nonsensical.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_388

Ptaah:

7. ... I myself am a great philatelist and have owned all postage stamps of all earthly states since such stamps have existed at all.

8. So I also own all postage stamps, as well as all stamps that have ever been used privately and by transport companies etc.

Ptaah:

2. We agreed I would come a little earlier, so we still have time to play chess.

Billy:

Yes, that is what we agreed. ...

...

Ptaah:

45. Well, something else pleasant happened in the last days and nights as well, as Florena and Enjana told me, who moved around the centre on various occasions during the day.

46. They also observed that around the main building and in the trees and bushes in the house-tree-garden many songbird species feel comfortable and have built their nests, where they do their breeding business and raise their young.

47. Among them are also various species of migratory birds, which can only rarely be observed in Switzerland.

48. They have also observed roe deer, foxes, martens, badgers, dormice and a trusty hare, some of which can reach as far as the house.

49. They have also observed four squirrels, which you fed at the house and which have become quite trusting.

50. In this regard, Florena and Enjana have on several occasions observed how you fed these small animals by tapping the floor with nuts and holding a nut in your hand, where the squirrels took it away.

51. Other centre residents could do the same, as well as two children who were in the Centre.

52. Florena and Enjana have recorded these events and your bird and animal life, which we do not have on Erra and which we will show to our humans via the remote viewing systems, on devices.

53. It will be a joy and surprise to our humans to see what a little paradise the Semjase Silver Star Centre really is, not only in terms of the whole environment, but also in terms of the bird and animal life.

54. Also different lizards, beetles, butterflies and honey-suckers, also pigeon tails, but also a lot of insects and beautiful night owls, like moths etc., two owls, several bats, an eagle owl and a normal one as well as a barn owl together with different day birds of prey, like buzzards, falcons, sparrowhawks, hawks and kites, which are unknown in their earthly forms here on Erra, have captured Florena and Enjana on their devices.

...

Ptaah:

58. If you have no more questions, then we can still go outside and walk around a bit, where we can talk.

59. Afterwards we can play a game of chess together.

Ptaah:

45. Good, then I would like to have a private conversation over a game of chess.

Billy:

I am very pleased. – Here is the chess game. So let us do it ...

Taljda:

3. Your writings and books are not only read and studied by the few of us who know the German language, but also by very many other people on Erra, on Sater, Njsan, Deron and Druan.

Billy:

But surely they do not speak German, do they?

Taljda:

4. No, of course not.

5. Your and the group members' writings and books will be translated into our languages and distributed through the public information and teaching medium.

6. Thus, everything can be read and studied by everyone on our home worlds.

...

Menara:

11. In fact, your writings and books are taught, read and studied by all Federation peoples.

...

Taljda:

8. But now Ptaah has just announced himself on my device here.

9. He will be here shortly.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_402

Billy:

... Are there actually prophets on Erra and on the worlds of the Federation, and if so, how do people feel about them? We have never talked about this before, so I therefore know nothing about it. But what I do know is that on Erra there is only one direction of philosophy, and it is oriented towards the creative laws, which are taught by spiritual leadership and are learned and followed by the people at their own discretion and will. Consequently, there are no sects and no gurus like here on earth. But what about the non-Plejaren races of your Federation?

Ptaah:

43. We have actually never talked about that.

44. Yes, from time to time wise prophets appear here and throughout the Federation, giving prophetic instructions to the peoples, which are actually followed by every people.

45. Our prophets, just like the earthly prophets, show us what negative things will happen in the future as a result of the behaviour of the peoples, if the wise advice is not followed, because all our peoples have a great respect for them.

46. This, besides the fact that they are also instructive in all things of life, as well as in the creative and natural laws and commandments, as is also proper to spiritual leadership and its duty.

47. So in this respect we can speak of an equality of our and the earthly prophets.

48. Our wise prophets are held in high esteem by all nations and are respected in venerability.

...

63. And now, as far as the various numerous peoples of our Federation are concerned, it must be said that some of them are connected to the philosophy of creation and thus also to the teachings of the spirit, while others are only on the way to becoming so or still represent purely human-ideological ideas, but have nevertheless developed a very high level of evolution.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_407

Ptaah:

36. I will visit you on the 5th of January to spend an hour in chess with you and give you new predictions.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_410

Ptaah:

49. The direct ancestors of the yellow races, as the races of China and Japan are called with you on Earth, came to Earth 25,994 years ago – counted from today on – and settled in the areas of today's China and Japan.

50. Their very distant ancestors were at very early times or millions of years – like the white, red and brown races – partly refugees from the Sirius areas, which were shifted to the Dern space-time structure.

51. The yellow races first settled in distant regions beyond the sun or central sun, where they founded large races in the Nisan system on a planet called KUDRA and created a huge overpopulation.

52. As a result – in addition to the fact that the planet was slowly becoming uninhabitable – a great emigration took place about 2.4 million years ago, with large masses migrating and settling in the Lyra systems on this side of the central sun, on a neighbouring planet of Lasan.

53. Their planet was called NISSAN.

54. These systems and planets in the Lyra regions were also offset to our space-time structure by fractions of a second or seconds, whereas the Nisan system and its planets – thus also Kudra – beyond the galaxy belonged to the Dern space-time structure.

55. Now it must still be said that about 2.4 million years ago, when the emigrants separated from Kudra and moved to the Lyra regions, a certain part also came to Earth and settled already in the areas of today's China and Japan, where also already earth-born human beings existed.

56. The early emigrants from the Kudra peoples who settled on Earth were left to their fate without any technical achievements, because the transport ship that should have brought the technical materials never arrived on Earth, but remained lost.

57. Thus the immigrants were also deprived of the technology that would have enabled them to contact the emigrants in the Lyra systems.

58. This resulted in them being 'forgotten'.

59. 25,994 years ago, Nissan was once again overpopulated, and larger groups of emigrants were formed to investigate other emigrants in the past.

60. So they also came across the Earth and the areas of today's China and Japan, which resulted in migrations to these areas on the Earth and the resettlement of today's China and Japan, including the merging with the very distant descendants of the former emigrants and with the earth-born.

61. These later immigrants came to Earth by popular decree, free of any technology, to find a new beginning, which should prevent another problem of overpopulation from arising

62. Nevertheless, the peoples retained their knowledge and their sense of invention, and consequently, despite the lack of technology, they continued to make technical progress, albeit in a way that no longer corresponded to the old technical forms.

63. The tendency towards overpopulation has continued to this day.

64. It should also be mentioned that the two yellow races were never on good terms with each other, which is why they were constantly engaged in strife, which often led to armed conflicts.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_411

Billy:

... The first question is about how humans die on Erra, because you do not know any more diseases that could cause death? The second question is about the care of humans who are in need of care due to accidents etc. or in old age. We have never talked about this before, so I myself am not aware of it and would be grateful for an answer.

Ptaah:

9. In fact, our health care and health hygiene are so highly developed in every respect that we no longer know any diseases in our world.

10. Nevertheless, we must protect ourselves from germs when we come into contact with other humans from other worlds and with the conditions of other worlds.

11. We are generally only immune to all kinds of diseases that existed on our world, but not to diseases of other worlds.

12. So for us immunizing protective measures are necessary when we enter other worlds, which also applies to the Earth.

13. But this does not cause us any problems, because our medical knowledge has allowed us to protect ourselves against all germs for a very long time.

14. And that brings me to your question:

15. In fact, humans no longer die of any diseases in our country, but usually only as a result of old age or – which unfortunately can also happen – as a result of accidents.

16. Normally about 94 percent of all accident injuries can be healed by our medical science and medical practice, but unfortunately there are also those cases where no medical art of healing can help anymore.

17. If injuries require a longer period of recovery, medical professionals are available to provide all necessary care until the injuries are completely healed.

18. However, these cases are rare, because usually injuries of all kinds can be healed within minutes or hours, including fractures of the bones, as you know from your own experience.

19. If care is necessary, it is not provided in hospitals, which we have not had for a long time, but each injured person is cared for in their own home by specialists.

20. And as far as dying in old age and the state of health of the Errans is concerned, it has to be said that such signs of old age, as they are given with the terrestrial human being, are no longer true with us, consequently all humans on our world are in good physical condition up to old age and there are no complaints of old age, consequently they die in old age as a result of old age itself, because the vital functions fail.

21. Thus, except for causes of accidents, no more humans die of diseases in our world, but this only applies directly to Erra and to a few races of the Federation, while the majority of them have not yet reached our level in all relations.

22. The average age of us Errans is 1,050 years, which is also equal to the earthly years.

23. The races of our Federation, on the other hand, have average ages between 248 and 793 years.

Billy:

Aha, then the Earth-humans are still very much at a disadvantage to be accepted into your Federation, if that would be possible at all. The average age of your Federation is probably based on the fact that they have reached this high age through a corresponding evolution of consciousness, through which they have got everything under control, including technical and medical science etc., through which they have achieved a longer life span?

Ptaah:

24. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_412

Quetzal:

22. But now, my friend, I feel like competing with you in chess and having a private conversation with you.

23. And if you have some chocolate here, then ...

Billy:

Sure, just a minute – here, my son, you can feast on this.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_424

Billy:

... Another question regarding your federation: You once said that it stretches over many dimensions or space-time structures, and over 50 million light-years. May I ask you, how many different dimensions your federation consists of?

Ptaah:

...

88. And it has to be said in regard to our federation, that it is spread out over three dimensions, and that our two dimensions – ours and yours – are included.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_426

Ptaah:

1. I did not have a long time, because I listened to the music playing on the radio.
2. It was uplifting for me.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_428

Billy:

Aha, but how about the strolling on our terrain by you and your confederation members?

Ptaah:

45. That is part of each of us' pleasures, and we do not want to miss it – even if we have to exercise caution.

Billy:

Of course, but you are always welcome – the acid guys, the Trilans, too.

Ptaah:

46. They will be the ones who will probably walk most frequently on your terrain in the near term.

Billy:

Ah, then our car owners can be happy again, when the little ones delight the paint of the cars with their little fingers. But that does not anger us.

Ptaah:

47. It is their habit to fathom things tactilely with their fingers.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_436

Ptaah:

50. Can we do a chess game afterwards, because I feel like it, also I would be grateful for some chocolate if you have some here?

Billy:

It is obvious, the chess game as well as the chocolate. One moment – here my friend – with best regards from Mariann. She always provides me with it.

...

Ptaah:

55. The chocolate is good, thank Marianne for that.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_438

Billy:

... Now the question is, what percentage of water and land surface does Erra have?

Florena:

6. Of course I can answer this question, because it is part of my knowledge.

7. So I can say that Erra has a total water area of 55.7% and a total land area of 44.3% of the total planet surface.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_439

Billy:

... I would like to ask you how many continents Erra actually consists of and how high is the highest mountain? ...

Ptaah:

9. Erra consists of two big continents, one of which you have visited.

60. The highest mountain consists of a volcano that has been extinct for thousands of years and has a height of 26,403 metres.

Billy:

When I was on Erra, I did not see much of the continent. There are certainly islands in the sea, but what about volcanoes? And further: What about seaquakes, earthquakes and storms? I'm also interested in how old the planet Erra actually is? You, who are also a geologist, know that very well.

Ptaah:

61. Of course.

62. On Erra there are also various islands in the seas, which we call by different names, just like on Earth.

63. There are also active volcanoes on both very compact continents, which according to our research have remained the same for about 320 million years and have not undergone any major changes, because the tectonic movement is only moderate and does not cause major changes in the event of seaquakes and earthquakes.

64. Moreover, the planet has already calmed down so much in its activity that seaquakes and earthquakes are no longer of great importance to us, quite contrary to those that occur on earth.

65. Erra itself has an age of 7.2 billion (7,200,000,000) years in relation to the oldest solid matter.

Billy:

From Florena I know that the entire planet surface is 55.7% water surface and the total land area is 44.3%. The islands are also included in this land area, and I'm interested in what percentage of land area they have to be calculated with?

Ptaah:

66. I can answer this question as well:

67. Of the 44.3% land area, 5.7% of the total land area falls to the islands, while the two continents have 38.6% land area.

68. And before you ask that:

69. The smaller continent comprises 17.4%, of which 3.1% is mountainous, and the larger continent with 21.2% has 4.2% mountainous.

Billy:

And can you say what the continents are called?

Ptaah:

70. The big continent is called Galian, which means 'the big one', while the small continent is called Saruma or 'the fertile one'.

...

Ptaah:

124. But now, Eduard, my friend, we should finish our official conversation, so that we can talk privately and play another game of chess.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_441

Billy:

Around 22 years have now passed since you and Quetzal told me privately that you had comprehensive cognitions in regard to terrestrial UFOs and the massacre of animals and alleged abductions which were disguised as the shoddy efforts of extraterrestrials. You said thereby that, in regard to this, involved in these machinations are governments, the military, as well as industrial businesses and powerful ones of finance, which constitute a special group, to which still smaller groups are also related. At that time you promised that you would officially explain more about that when the time is ripe for that. Can one now speak publicly about that?

...

21. With the named group, it concerns a worldwide branching from governments, the military, industrial groups, secret services, paramilitary and powerful ones of finance, as you correctly said.

22. Those in the know and contributors are only certain elements of the same, who profit greatly, financially and power-politically, from their secret machinations, for which reason the entire powers of the government, military and industrial as well as finance are not involved in the situation and are also not informed in regard to this.

23. The group is not organized, as such, rather is only a loose collection, whereby their interests, however, have a common form, which, already since the 1920s, was designed to operate a continuous, ingenious, large-scale disinformation campaign regarding the question of extraterrestrial life.

24. The group, which is split into many small groups, has many kinds of technical possibilities at their disposal, which they employ for their evil and human-misleading purposes.

25. That started with technologies of electromagnetism to do with precision electronics and computer engineering, up to and including apparatuses through which brainwashing and the programming and altering of consciousness is evoked in humans.

26. They even have back-engineered beamships at their disposal, whereby, in certain contexts, even antigravity finds application.

27. It has also occurred many times that premeditated "abductions" of Earth humans by "extraterrestrials", and the massacre of animals, has been and is faked by this group.

29. Also wrong information and falsified pictures of alleged extraterrestrial flying devices is strategically circulated worldwide, whereby according to our investigations, about 98% of all false pictures, films, videos and false information is directed at moving the Earth humans to angst and terror of extraterrestrials and to engender hate and thoughts of revenge in the Earth humans.

30. Therefore, in this way, angst, terror and hate is stirred up against all life foreign to Earth.

31. Especially films for cinema and television serve this purpose, as also, however, do many books which are constructed on lies and untruths and are written partly by "experts" in psychology and psychiatry.

32. All this nonsense sells very well to the Earth humans because many on the search for the effective truth trust and believe this false information, and these films and pictures.

33. Angst, horror, terror, hate and revenge always sell well, while the truth appears too banal and therefore appears uninteresting as well as not worth knowing.

34. Only the fantastic and unreal find a place in the interests of Earth humans. 35. However, precisely that is the launching platform for the infamous machinations of the worldwide group, because, through disinformation and fear-mongering in regard to the malicious foreigners to Earth, the entire group, which reaches right around the world, derives horrendous advantages of a financial, governmental-power, military-power as well as an economic form.

35. However, precisely that is the launching platform for the infamous machinations of the worldwide group, because, through disinformation and fear-mongering in regard to the malicious foreigners to Earth, the entire group, which reaches right around the world, derives horrendous advantages of a financial, governmental-power, military-power as well as an economic form.

36. The entire war, electronics and weapons industries, and so forth, thereby gain an enormous boost.

37. Yet, in the worldwide group, secret paramilitary units also exist as smaller groups which carry out the same kind of operations which, however, are mostly controlled by the worldwide group.

38. In particular, these small groups carry out premeditated abductions which are credited ostensibly to the extraterrestrials, as well as, however, also simulated appearances of alleged extraterrestrial flying craft, which are then collectively declared to be extraterrestrial UFO appearances and are often observed, photographed and filmed by many people.

39. Thereby the illusion of an ostensible extraterrestrial abduction or observation of extraterrestrial flying devices is evoked.

40. What is further to say about that is that, in this worldwide group, with all the small groups who partly also work autonomously, there exists a proper "UFO trade" and a subculture in regard to animal massacres and abductions and so forth.

41. The entire thing is secretly financed through governments, the military, industrial groups and financially powerful ones who are interested in angst, terror and hate being stirred-up to their highest forms in regard to the alleged evil extraterrestrial foreigners, because they can thereby gain gigantic financial profit and advantage.

42. It is on this basis that, in every regard, from this group, only stories, cinema and television films and observations of UFOs will be accepted and profitably exploited, which are based on everything negative and – as is becoming proverbial with the Earth humans – on the malicious and aggressive nature of the extraterrestrials.

43. Only that which evokes angst, fear and terror as well as engenders hate and revenge is accepted by the group and exploited worldwide in order to obtain enormous profit with it.

44. Conversely, in addition to that, everything which is good and positive is vehemently slandered and is designated as a swindle, lie and deception, as is the case with you and us, since, in keeping with the interests of the group, we are not permitted to exist, and you are not permitted to be in contact with us, rather you must be a liar and a fraud.

45. So, from the group and their small groups, the Earth humans will be served up deliberately false and fear-influencing stories in regard to extraterrestrial UFOs and foreigners to Earth and their alleged horrifying machinations like, for example, painful examination contacts and animal massacres along with falsified encounters with alleged extraterrestrials.

46. Along with profit, the whole matter also serves deeply-based psychological propaganda in order to insult forms of life who are foreign to Earth and to brand them as malicious beings and to create angst, hate, revenge and hysteria because great financial means will be thereby freed up which serve research for the production of innovative and futuristic weapons of all kinds.

47. Therefore, in these Earth humans, in regard to the extraterrestrial, an enemy will be psychologically, deliberately created which does not exist and which will, in a manner, be made into a malicious being such that the Earth humans, in their angst, will be driven to freeing up horrendous sums in order to therewith manufacture weapons against the alleged malicious invaders.

48. Also, with these acts, various groups play off against each other, which, however, is part of a well-thought-out plan which is carried out and implemented by secret services, psycho-terrorists, espionage groups and treacherous disinformation agents and which is underpinned by false information regarding UFOs and alleged extraterrestrials.

49. Additionally belonging to this plan is the invention of an imaginary extraterrestrial enemy, as well as a danger emerging from this – an enemy and a danger which, naturally, will have to be fought.

50. The infamy is thereby that, first of all, everything is made ridiculous because the concerned "abductees", "examinees", "chance contactees" and UFO-observers can provide no evidence for their experiences which would withstand a real examination.

51. Then comes the second fact, which exists in the fact that angst, terror, hate and feelings of revenge is produced in the Earth humans whereby then the weapons industry can be built up and indeed especially in regard to futuristic weapons, of which the normal Earth humans have no idea, and of which they do not ever dare to dream.

52. The entirety is thereby a well-thought-out psychological network on which the progress of the entire weapons industry and the power of the military, of the federal leadership, the finance sharks and the industry businesses as well as the secret services can be built up ever further.

53. To this end angst, terror, hysteria, hate and revenge is sown in regard to all foreigners from outer space.

54. So the Earth humans become duped and financially exploited by the responsible ones of this dangerous group and their small groups and are deliberately driven to abhor and to hate the extraterrestrial foreigners.

55. Corresponding cinema and television films serve as especially suitable means for that.

56. The foreigner-angst, respectively, alien-angst, which is thereby produced surpasses all normal angst and the responsible ones of the group know that precisely, for which reason they can also thereby calculate that all necessary finances flow to them, which they require for their weapon research, their weapon manufacture, their leading of wars, and desires for power, as well as for unrealistic cinema and TV films which demonize the Earth-strangers.

57. The creation of an supposed threat from extraterrestrials as well as the alien-angst is, for them, a profitable matter which is operated under the shabby cloak of a federal, respectively, country security and of world peace.

58. For the entire machinations of the group, the meanest machinations are quite good enough which, as said, were already operating since the 1920s and to that also belong highly developed electronic weapons systems, futuristic flying discs, Earth humans who are hypnotically and surgically converted, as well as converted in their consciousness, to robots*, whereby some have an appearance like the being which is called the "Little Grey".

59. On one hand there is the dim-witted paradox that the extraterrestrial flying devices are denied and the strangers to Earth are made ridiculous or made out to be monsters by means of psychological propaganda, while, on the other hand, a financial exploitation of the peoples results through the inciting of angst, terror, hate and revenge and indeed thereby in that a simulation results in regard to a supposed threat from extraterrestrials.

60. A paradox without compare, to which the question must be put, how far are the Earth humans imbued with reason and understanding that they do not recognise this paradox.

61. The entire pre-arranged game of the group and their small groups, as already said elsewhere, also includes faked encounters with alleged extraterrestrials, whereby these are truly nothing other than normal Earth humans or those who have been transformed into "aliens".

62. In order then to affirm the improvised "encounters with those foreign to Earth" psychologists and other experts are pulled in into whom the wildest stories are hammered for so long until they believe the entire swindle and nonsense and employ "verifiable" and "genuine" analyses which are recorded and published in books and documentation as well as in cinema and TV films.

63. And since, as a rule, the supposed extraterrestrials are described as horrible villains, just according to the plan of the group and their small groups, the picture of the extraterrestrial threat is powerfully incited.

64. Thereby, not only is the slandering in regard to the real strangers to Earth always more exaggerated, as also more and more finances flow into the cash box of those who stupidly and dimwittedly earn as a result of the entire tissue of lies and slander and thereby come by the means to reach their criminal goals.

65. A certain part of the group has also fallen to a Christian sectarianism and to the supposed "End Times" in such a way that hope is directed at a malicious invasion of extraterrestrials resulting on Earth, and thereby the prophesied Armageddon will become reality in which Jesus Christ celebrates his official return and God the father will exercise his judgment.

66. Their delusion is therefore bound with a biblical end of the world, which, as they believe, rests on the terrible badness of the Earth humans.

67. And in order to accelerate this divine judgement as well as the return of Christ they do everything in order to make the way free for that.

68. The monstrous power of the worldwide group and their small groups as well as the religious fanaticism, together with the cultic maintaining of the secret of the entire underhanded, degenerated and deceptive as well as criminal and felonious machinations, lead to malignant effects which could not be worse.

69. These are the facts which I have to name in regard to your question.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_445

Billy:

... so I can raise a question about the way the Plejaren dress. What I have seen in everyday life on Erra in this regard was that women, children and men dress in an appropriate moral form. So I have not seen any of them walking around half-naked or even completely naked. But what does it look like when you take a bath? During a kitchen talk on the 21st of February the following question was put to me about this, which I could not answer, because during my short visit to Erra I did not see very much, which refers to the question: "Nudity in public: what is the acceptable limit of clothing for the Plejaren? If you can tell me in a few words the most important things relating to that question, I would be happy to.

Ptaah:

...

15. We Plejaren are always so fully clothed in public that there are no parts of the body freely visible that could be sexually provocative to the opposite sex.

16. When bathing in public, a sparse bathing costume is worn, of course, but this is kept within chaste and ethical or moral limits with regard to the nakedness of the body.

17. Therefore, it is neither customary nor permissible to wear lewd clothing in everyday life or when bathing in public waters or in facilities intended for that purpose, nor to go half-naked or completely naked.

18. Semi or fully-nakedness is only given in an intimate manner in living communities or special friendships, but never in public.

19. In the case of special friendships, it should be noted that half or full nudity is only justified if the friendship of both sexes exists in a purely platonic form without any sexual intent.

20. Morality has a very high value for us Plejaren, which is why the ethical forms are strictly maintained and cultivated in every relationship, whereby of course prostitution of any form is frowned upon and prohibited by law.

Billy:

In communities, are there any taboos or rules?

Ptaah:

21. There can be no question of that, because private life is inviolable in every respect when it takes place within the framework of legislation.

Billy:

By that I mean that a community is run in all things legal, according to a specific community law. So there must be no violations of the rights of cohabitation in any form whatsoever. It should be remembered that this applies to both same-sex and opposite-sex partnerships, right? Besides, I suppose that this legislation has nothing to do with the state laws?

Ptaah:

22. You see everything in the right way.

...

Ptaah:

28. If you feel up to it, we can talk a little more over a game of chess.

Billy:

In private. That is convenient. – Good, here is the game ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_446

Billy:

Last Sunday I watched a program on TV, which talked about electronic technology, which will be common on Earth in 2070. It was quite interesting, because it showed a lot of things that you also had in the past, before you extended everything concerning the operation and control of devices, apparatus, spacecraft, machines, holographic vision, communication and robots etc. to pure mind control. Actually, we have never officially talked about it, or at least only rarely, the reason being that it would have sounded too futuristic and fantastic. But now that the earthlings are broadcasting such information programmes on television about future electronic technology, I suppose we can talk about it too, can't we? In our core group the whole thing is not a secret, but outwardly we have not let it be known much that all your technical and electronic operations are no longer done manually, but purely with mental vibrations, so that all possible operations and circuits etc. on apparatuses, devices, weapons and all kinds of machines etc. are done purely with mental vibrations. However, no holographic control panels are used in this process, which would still have to be operated by finger touch, as was shown, for example, in the programme in question. In your case, the whole thing works through a central computer, which receives all thought-vibrations and converts them into corresponding functions, as Quetzal once explained to me when I was at his home. Although you can operate everything by hand, because everything is equipped for it, you only use it if you want to or if there is a breakdown, but breakdowns are completely impossible, because your technology is perfectly sophisticated and can independently detect and repair potential damage before it occurs.

Ptaah:

5. Our technology in this regard is actually very highly developed and seems really futuristic to Earth-humans, so it is perhaps not good that you have talked about it now anyway.

6. The reality of all our technology in every respect is much higher than what you have explained in your words, as you know.

7. The whole thing in every respect is not yet imaginable for the Earth human and therefore not comprehensible and not to be understood.

...

Billy:

... But now I would like to ask a question about your handling of weapons in connection with the population. It is a question that has interested me and others for a long time, although I have never asked about it, but what I want to do now is this: Firstly, are all your weapons designed as working tools, whereby I only mean the ones you carry with you or which are simply considered to be handguns, like handguns in our country?

Ptaah:

37. All weapons in this regard, as well as all other small and large weapons, are also designed as working tools of various kinds.

38. The type of use as a tool is, for example, the lifting and transportation of heavy weights or of objects and goods, in that anti-gravity is generated by the weapons or by the working device, which facilitates the lifting, moving and transportation of loads.

39. The devices are also used to generate heat, cold or fire, etc., if required, as well as to dig up earth, to fuse metals, glass, synthetic materials and many other materials with each other, also in such a way that, for example, metal can be fused with glass, with stone, synthetic materials and other materials.

40. There are many possibilities in this respect, as well as in the use of our weapons as working tools.

41. Of course, we also possess exclusive working devices, working robots and working apparatus of every possible kind, but which would appear futuristic to the Earth-humans if I were to describe them as such and in their function.

Billy:

I am aware of that, but I have no idea of the full extent of its possible uses. Of course, I am aware that your weapons can be used as such, with various forms of weapon energy, and that they can shoot tiny energy projectiles of great penetrating and explosive power. As I know from Menara, Semjase, Asket and Quetzal – although I myself was once allowed to do shooting exercises with such an old weapon – you only have energy-based weapons that only shoot energies and energy projectiles, but no more material projectiles. We call them ray guns.

Ptaah:

42. That is true.

43. The energies are of various kinds, as are the energy projectiles, which are much more effective than all the material projectiles of earthly weapons of any kind known to you.

Billy:

Heat rays, cold rays, rays with an anaesthetic or lethal effect, then also electromagnetical oscillations and energy projectiles etc. The weapons and the associated working tools are not operated mechanically and not manually, but only by thought vibrations, as I know.

Ptaah:

44. This also corresponds to the facts.

45. Every weapon and all the possibilities of using it for work purposes etc. can only be used through thought vibrations that are tuned to the thought patterns of the person to whom the weapon belongs.

46. Second and third persons can therefore under no circumstances use a weapon once it has been adjusted to the thought vibrations of a particular person, not even as a working tool.

Billy:

You once explained to me, that in your country weapons are also used for sporting purposes, such as marksmanship or simply for personal enjoyment. What about the possession and carrying of weapons, which are without exception designed as energy weapons? ...

... I believe that weapons should only be in the hands of humans who can be absolutely certain that they will never cause harm. This would, however, require thorough psychological tests to ensure that the person to whom a weapon is entrusted never misuses it. This would have to be done not only in the civilian, but also in the military sphere, and this would have to continue until the man of the earth in general has reached the point where he lives his life according to the creative-natural laws and commandments, as is the case with you.

Ptaah:

47. Our ancestors already had your idea, who acted within the framework you mentioned, until one day our folks were ready to cultivate their world of thoughts and feelings as well as their way of acting according to the laws of Creation, from which the state of our present way of life has resulted in a comprehensively responsible form.

48. These absurdities are completely impossible for us, because our evolution of consciousness has already reached a level several thousand years ago that is far above these inhuman primitivities.

49. Thus, weapons are not intended to kill, but only in an extreme emergency, when there is no other possibility of self-defence.

50. Possible conflicts – which, however, have not occurred among our races for thousands of years – which may arise among foreign races and in which we may become involved, we settle by force of arms only when circumstances require it, but only with stunning effects, because we consider killing to be contrary to creation in relation to the teachings of the spirit.

51. Only in the very first emergency of self-defence against a human being would the use of a deadly weapon be considered for us.
52. This order also applies with regard to the killing of animals, so that we do not know any hunting as it is practiced by terrestrial human beings.
53. Only in extreme emergencies would we kill low animals for self-preservation in order to obtain food.
54. However, our animal world is left to itself, therefore it regulates itself.
55. The fact that we let the fauna, as well as the flora, lead their natural life can only be achieved by regulation, because we keep our planetary population within the limits of the natural and therefore do not allow overpopulation to occur.
56. We cover our meat requirements by cloning or replicating living cells of animals and all kinds of creatures, which have been bred by replication for about 4,000 years, which also applies to many animals and creatures and all kinds of plant products, in addition to the fact that we also do horticulture and field cultivation for vegetables and fruits as well as herbs and spices etc.
57. We also produce many kinds of materials by replication or multiplication, as you once called this process.
58. But as far as the possession of weapons is concerned, it has to be said that every human being on our planet – as well as on various other worlds of our Federation – is free to possess a weapon without any permission, for whatever purpose.
59. Many possess weapons which are used as pure working tools, but also for the pleasure of leisure time activities regarding shooting in competition, for which only electronic targets are used.
60. And indeed, many people of our worlds possess any kind of weapons, but no mischief is done with them, just as they are not used for murder etc.
61. Such degeneracies as murder and manslaughter, jealousy, hatred, vengeance and revenge, war, terror and fanaticism of any kind have not been seen in our world for several millennia, nor have crimes, crimes and uprisings etc. in any form, because all people of our worlds live according to the spiritual teaching and thus in full awareness of the fulfilment of the creative laws and commandments.
62. In this form, our efforts are also directed towards pacifying other peoples of other planets, with whom we can contact and instruct according to our directives.

...

Billy:

... But now something else: With regard to the clothing of the Plejaren, you said the following on the 8th of March:

"We Plejaren are always so fully clothed in public that no parts of the body are freely visible which could be sexually provocative to the opposite sex. When bathing in public, of course, a sparser bathing costume is worn, but in relation to the nakedness of the body it remains within chaste and ethical or moral limits. Therefore, it is neither customary nor permissible to wear lewd clothing in everyday life or when bathing in public waters or in facilities intended for that purpose, nor to go half-naked or completely naked. Half- or full nudity is only given in an intimate way in life communities or special friendships, but never in public. In the case of special friendships, it should be noted that half or full nudity is only justified if the friendship of both sexes is in a purely platonic form without any sexual intent. Morality has a very high value for us Plejaren, which is why the ethical forms are strictly maintained and cultivated in every respect, which of course means that prostitution of any form is frowned upon and forbidden by law."

I was asked what is meant by 'sexually suggestive' in terms of the wearing of clothing. From my understanding, I explained that this meant the wearing of clothing which sexually displays sexual characteristics in a provocative way or which provocatively expresses the sexual organs. In the case of women, I think this also applies to the bosom, because I have only ever seen the female sex in your country chastely cover the bosom up to the base, unless clothing is worn that reaches completely to the base of the neck. Am I going with my explanation correctly?

Ptaah:

63. Your explanation corresponds to what is given.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_447

{Billy, Kabul, Afghanistan, 16th September 1964:}

... In this way also the traditional prophecies of the signs in the sky have become reality, because for years these have been seen and observed at all hours of the day and night and in all parts of the world, but unfortunately they are often misinterpreted and ridiculed. But the signs of the times are fireballs, explosions of rays in the atmosphere, earth-electromagnetic-atmospheric phenomena, strange clouds and misty phenomena, which appear by the hundreds like small flying objects. But there also appear jet ships or space ships from foreign planets, which are steered by foreign people, who come here in order to indirectly enter into the evolutionary process of consciousness and into the action of consciousness through a proclaimer and his teaching of the spirit as well as through the teaching of truth and through the teaching of life, to intervene in the actions and work of earthly humanity because necessity demands it, because the man of the earth with his still limited consciousness forces the basic and structural elements of nature and life to react, in order to destroy in his insanity myriad life and the climate of the earth. ...

And what is to be said further: The ray ships resp. spaceships of foreign intelligences from distant worlds are no fantasy, because they exist like you and me – they are not cloud agglomerations, balloons, lightning, flocks of birds and the like, as they are so gladly called by scientists and leading authorities, by opponents of the truth or by laymen, who do not want to make themselves ridiculous with the recognition of the existence of the so-called UFOs. These unknown extraterrestrial flying objects – if they are not, as is often the case, top-secret earthly-military aircraft and planes -, they are real, as thousands of very good photographs, films and reports prove. And there is no shortage of real contacts – even if there are very few of them worldwide and only a small handful in number – who have spoken with extraterrestrials. They all testify to the real existence of the extraterrestrials and their objects, the beam ships. They and everything else testify to the effective existence of the extraterrestrials – even if this existence is ridiculed by the terrestrial authorities and evil antagonists as not being proven or simply presented as a hallucination or even a lie. But for what reasons do the denying and denying authorities and antagonists maintain very secret UFO reconnaissance groups etc., which have the task to clarify the origin of the UFOs from space and to arm them for a possible space war or a sudden invasion from space? An idea, by the way, which corresponds to a complete nonsense, because the space men do not control our earth in order to conquer or subjugate it, if they wanted to, they could have done so long ago, because their technology reaches to the fantastic compared to the earthly one – and the earthly weapons of all armies would be nothing more than a toy for them, which they would throw away as rubble and useless junk due to unworthiness and uselessness. Moreover, their very highly developed technology goes back many centuries and millennia, so that, if it had been in their will, they could have conquered the earth when it was still in antiquity or in the dark Middle Ages when it was growing towards its present state. But why are the authorities so eager to find out the secret of UFOs and especially the unsolved mystery of the radiation propulsion, which makes the extraterrestrial aircraft or UFOs fly through the earth's atmosphere at speeds of up to 100,000 kilometers per hour and more, neutralizing the gravity? So why these secret researches under exclusion of the public, when everything is supposed to be only lies and deceit? Why that? The authorities are afraid, frightening, deadly fear, for they fear an attack from space, and for this purpose it would be urgently necessary that they themselves be in possession of ray ships and ray weapons, so that they could counter the enemy attack already in world space itself. Others, however, fear panic and rampage of the population, if they should really become aware of the existence of the extraterrestrial UFOs and their crews, because panic and rampage already rolled over the population of different countries, when UFO sensational reports, so-called 'direct reports from the place of the event' were broadcasted over the radio stations. Direct reports, however, which did not correspond to the truth and were only sensational radio plays. The number of deaths of the population running amok went into high figures.

However, the authorities, who stop practically all UFO reports – if they have real backgrounds – do not consider that the panic of the masses will be much greater one day, if the extraterrestrials should really come in masses, in order to prevent perhaps the greatest insanity of the earthly humans and to change the face of this world for the better, if the revolutionary events, which are caused by the humans of the earth in a responsible way, roll over this world. But it is questionable whether extraterrestrials ever interfere in earthly matters in this respect, because they have directives which would only allow them to intervene under certain conditions. A real contact person, as well as reconnaissance planes and simple observers of really extraterrestrial flying machines resp. UFOs are dealt with by the authorities as well as by the people and by malicious adversaries and slanderers, who insult lies and fraud and may even be imprisoned for many years in a mean way or interned in insane institutions, because as already mentioned, the authorities are unwilling to reveal the profound truth – they do not shy away from publishing denying notes and treatises in the newspapers or from having them published by bought-in laymen, critics, opponents and so-called 'experts'. For these reasons, in various countries, a real contact person – of which there are not even a handful – an observer or enlightener plays with his freedom when he takes his task seriously and tries to create enlightenment. And the few people who have or have had contact, not even a small handful, have a very difficult position, because they encounter hatred, mockery, disbelief, official intrigues and partly church-destroying statements, as well as slander and much more.

Ptaah:

43. ... we Plejaren and our confederates live in other space-time configurations ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_450

Billy:

Then a question regarding the Sirians, with whom you've been in contact for some time now after all. My question is based on the fact that Bernadette is working on the 'Nokodemion Line' into a brochure, in which a statement of mine from the year 1995 is also integrated. At that time, it was still the case that you were not able to maintain contact with the Sirians, but that has changed some time ago, as you explained to me. How was it that you were able to get in contact with the Sirians after all?

Ptaah:

58. It is not the Sirian folks with whom we have come into contact, but our contacts take place only in remote communication form with some groups of consciously higher-evolved scientists.

59. These form our liaisons with the various governments, which are occupied by scientists who are also consciously higher-evolved and who lead the peoples.

60. We do not yet maintain personal or physical contacts, because various prerequisites for this are still missing.

61. The populations of the Sirian peoples themselves are not yet so far advanced in the evolution of consciousness that they would be equal to their scientists, and it is this fact that we cannot yet maintain official contacts with the Sirian peoples.

62. Physical contacts are not yet possible with regard to scientists either, but nothing stands in the way of remote communication contacts, because the evolution of consciousness of scientists allows this, which is why we have opened these contacts.

63. In the remote-communicative way we have also appealed to the Sirians' reason, so that the old persecution mania against those genetically manipulated by their primeval ancestors was abolished, which, however, had already been handed down only in ancient annals, but had long since been forgotten by today's Sirians and was only cultivated by a small group of fanatics who, like the neo-Nazis on Earth, for example, created and practised their hatred from the old writings within themselves.

64. But we only found out about this some time ago, just when we were able to contact various Sirian scientists by remote communication, whereby we did this because we wanted to get hold of those hateful fanatics who threatened your life for so long and called themselves the Men in Black.

Billy:

But if you are now in remote communication with the Sirian scientists, then they must be really advanced in terms of consciousness development. This reminds me completely of the earlier times, when scientists were the genetic manipulators.

Ptaah:

65. Then, as now, in the Sirius regions, scientists are the rulers and the powerful ones who have the peoples under their command and give them the directions of thought.

66. But these scientists of today are so far removed from the old forms of government that they lead the peoples in a free form, so that they too can evolve consciously, although they are still far below the level of the evolution of consciousness of the scientists.

67. The old system of government by scientists has been maintained over very long periods of time and has only changed to its present form about 140 years ago, so it will take a long time until the peoples in general reach a higher level of evolution equal to their present scientists, whose earliest ancestors used their knowledge to bring their peoples under their power and to keep them in that power.

68. This is no longer the case today, and as a result of the high evolutionary development of the Sirian scientists, we have been able to establish remote communications with them, which will enable us to establish physical contact with them in the near future, but which will be limited to the scientists and not extend to the peoples.

69. So we will give development aid to scientists in every possible relationship and in every responsible way possible for us and for them, whereby the teaching of the spirit will also be a comprehensive teaching.

{Note: This Contact Report contains several charts which provide data on the age, birth date, planetary origin and other information pertaining to the extraterrestrials who have been in contact with Billy.}

Ptaah:

34. The origin and existence of all life owes this to the basic laws of universal chemistry and physics, from which left-turning amino acids developed fundamentally for the emergence of life itself, which formed and also continue to form the main factor of the biological emergence of life as a whole in universal breadth.

35. From this it also emerges that every form of life is planetary chemically-physically conditioned, consequently this is also different from planet to planet and has innumerable forms universe-wide and is not necessarily human-like, as you know and as you were able to see for yourself together with us on your Great Journey {see Contact Report 31} through large parts of the universe on the most diverse worlds.

Billy:

Yes, I never forget that, all the different life-forms, which also included various intelligent ones that were not human-like. I would like to say, however, that despite the very great strangeness, they cannot be called monsters, just as they cannot be called human-like life-forms. Some have also developed higher and higher cultures and techniques, which may seem futuristic and fantastic to earthlings, but nevertheless corresponds to the truth. Many of the alien life-forms, however, were of the animal kind, and you let me look at a great many bacterial forms under a device that I would like to call a microscope for the sake of simplicity, because it had such a function, but has no resemblance to the devices we know. It was interesting for me to be able to determine that human life is extremely thinly spread throughout the universe and that most life-bearing worlds carry life-forms that look completely futuristic to earthlings. And I remember you explaining that human life-forms found their widespread expansion in the universe on various occasions only because they created the technical means to be able to emigrate to other worlds through space travel...? I also still hear your words today when you said that life-forms existed on practically all planets, comets, meteors and celestial bodies as well as in the nebulae and gases in the universe, even if, as a rule, they were only bacterial life-forms, except on planets? And as you have let me see, such life-forms also exist on the moons of our SOL satellites, as well as on these themselves.

Xeruel:

2. We are triplet siblings and we are here on behalf of Florena and Enjana, and as you say correctly, we use language converters, because we do not know your language.

3. This here is my sister Xeruella, and she here is my sister Xaruala.

...

5. Of course – we are 122 years old, and our home world is Erra.

6. Xeruella is the first-born, I am the second-born and Xaruala is the third-born.

Billy:

It is interesting that you have three names that almost all sound the same.

Xeruella:

3. In our family we can look back on many generations that have always borne names of this kind.

Billy:

Do you mean the names themselves or just names beginning with the letter X?

Xeruella:

4. My words refer to the initial letter X, but not to the name itself.

5. According to our annals, no other name has been used in the traditional lineage of our family for more than 6,000 years whose initial letter would not have been an X.

Billy:

And what about the surname we call family names here – do they also begin with the letter X?

Ptaah once told me that also bears his surname.

Xeruel:

7. That is correct, and these surnames have always started with an X from the male side of the descendants, because the family name of the father, Xerianam, is taken over and carried on.

8. This, while female descendants change family names because when marriage alliances are formed, they are attached to the male family name of the spouse.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_457

Billy:

And in regard to the three groups that have been traveling around our world, do you have any new insights on that?

Ptaah:

33. As I mentioned before, we are no longer concerned with them.

34. They are indeed active in the whole earthly airspace and also in the outer Earth envelopes.

35. Furthermore, it seems that they have no knowledge of each other, as I explained to you before, just as they have absolutely no knowledge of our presence, although we leave it at that, because, as we could clearly see with our latest technology, which we received from the Sonaern, their technology and their behaviour as well as their evolution of consciousness is still very much in need of development, and this although they are masters of space travel and probably also of time-travel.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_463

Billy:

There are programs on television which explain that many private people, also well-known scientists, are sending messages with big antennas purposefully out into space, in order to make extraterrestrials aware of the Earth and the earthlings. What do you think about this?

Ptaah:

69. This nonsense is as familiar to me as the enterprise that was started decades ago from the US-American side with the golden, round plate that contains a lot of information about the Earth and the earthly humanity, for the purpose that human exo life-forms should become aware of the Earth and Earth-humans if they can get hold of the information.

70. The whole thing is not only nonsensical, but also dangerous, for all sorts of unpleasant things can happen both through the information plate and through the messages that are sent wildly out into the world space.

71. It is a fact that not only on earth exists an unpeaceful and warlike humanity, but also on foreign worlds.

72. And if such evil-minded life forms catch the earthly messages and are powerful in space travel, then this can have very bad consequences for the Earth and Earth humanity.

73. And that also when several or many decades or even a century or more pass until such nonsensical messages are caught and then spaceships are sent to earth to wreak havoc here, whereby even mankind could be exterminated.

74. There are life forms powerful enough for space travel in all galaxies suitable for it, whereby these are very far scattered, but have created space possibilities, as diverse as they also have the necessary technology to get to earth.

75. Time is not an issue for certain human space-capable life forms, because they reach old age, so they can easily travel to Earth for 40, 60, 100 or more years, if their technology also allows them to do so.

76. And indeed, there are dangerous contemporaries among them, as you say in each case, who can bring destruction and ruin, which they also do in their home systems.

Billy:

Not pleasing, but the firecrackers who send messages out into space can't be proven wrong, because they claim that the radio and TV shows that are broadcast constantly reach aliens and draw their attention to Earth. Consequently, the messages they send out are no more and no less in the same frame.

Ptaah:

77. This is of correctness to a certain extent, but to send out targeted messages with exact information into the space of the world is more dangerous.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_467

Ptaah:

9. You can, but today I would like to talk to you again in a very private way, where we can also enjoy a game of chess.

Ptaah:

99. Thus I will begin with us actual humanoids, whereby I must explain that all life form species, which I have to call, show human or human-like forms in shape, as well as forms mixed with their other species, whereby the only human-like beings are not actual humanoids, but just different and embodying two different species.

100. All of them, however, are capable of a conscious development of consciousness, have their own cultures and languages as well as techniques, whereby some of the ones we know are also masters of space travel and belong to our Federation.

101. All of them, at least those who belong to our Federation, are peaceful beings and have no warlike or violent ambitions:

102. 1) Humanoids are human beings in the form in which we Plejaren and the Earth-humans as well as many of us are allies of our Federation, to which, however, other life-forms also belong, which cannot be called humanoids in our sense, because they are of a completely different kind, but nevertheless consciously capable of evolution and have developed their own cultures and techniques as well as languages, as I already explained.

103. 2) Amphiboids are, in terms of form, life-forms of mixed human and aquatic animal nature, which can live both in water and on land, as well as in a climate that is heavily water-filled. Asina {image 1, image 2}, for example, and her people are among them.

{Note: see Contact Reports 90, 91, and 93 for information on Billy's first encounter with Asina.}

104. 3) Reptiloids are life-forms of mixed human and reptilian form, their bodies being covered with scales.

105. 4) Insectoids are life-forms of mixed human and insect-like form, their skin showing chitin-like characteristics.

106. 5) Sauroids are life-forms of mixed human and sauropod-like form with a skin similar to elephant skin.

107. 6) Primatoids are life-forms of mixed human and primate-like form with a hairy body, but in a stronger form than the terrestrial humanoid or Earth-humans.

108. 7) Condidoids are in form of life-forms actual humanoids, but with the ability to move by levitation.

109. 8) Teropoids are life-forms with human and birdlike body, with long neck, face and beak-like mouth.

110. 9) Hydroids are life-forms with human and fish-like bodies, whose actual life-element is water, which they can also leave for a longer period of time.

111. 10) Thermoids are in shape humanoid life-forms with a human-like body, whose own life-element is hot areas with very high temperature.

112. 11) Frigoroids are in form humanoid life-forms with human bodies, whose life-elements are very cold areas with very low temperatures below zero.

113. 12) Aërioids are in form humanoid life-forms with human body, whereby they are poison gas breathers and their life-element are various gas atmospheres.

114. 13) Acoroids are in form humanoid life-forms with a human body, but their skin is covered by a fine layer of acid, like e.g. the Trilans.

115. 14) Floroids are life-forms with human-like and diverse plant bodies.

116. 15) Centauroids are life-forms with partly human and partly equine bodies.

117. 16) Faunoids are life-forms with partly human and partly various ungulate bodies.

118. 17) Cheruboids are in shape and weight very light human life-forms, equipped with feathered wings through which they can fly.

119. 18) Seraphoids are life-forms very light in shape and weight, partly human and partly animal, equipped with feathered wings through which they can fly.

120. These are the people we know of various genera and species resp. races of human and human-animal-like life-forms, which I name in the above mentioned way, so that Earth-humans can also get an idea of them.

121. Our names are of course of a different kind, but they correspond to the value of the names mentioned.

122. Basically, however, it is to be said that all the life-forms mentioned which are the same as human beings are also beings who in their whole or in part resemble our human forms, to which they have changed over millions of years.

123. Apart from this, however, their appearance in terms of the appearance of their skin and its excrescences is different from that of us who call ourselves pure humanoids.

124. But since several of the life-forms I have mentioned are probably humanoid in appearance, but different in the outer appearance of their skin and its outgrowths, we call them peregrinhumanoids, as has been explained to you earlier.

125. This term means as much as foreign humanoids.

126. All mentioned life-forms are therefore in their essence humanoids, which also have a humanoid spirit-form and are part of a conscious evolution of consciousness.

127. The origin of the peregrinhumanoids is not the same as with us pure humanoids, but their development into peregrinhumanoids has taken place in a similar way as with the pure humanoids.

128. Their primeval forms were very small and only gradually developed into larger life-forms, which in turn were subject to multiple changes until they became the beings they are today.

129. Such a course of evolutionary form has also taken place in relation to us purely humanoids, because our course of evolution has also brought about various changes, until finally the purely humanoid human being was created.

Safarina {female extraterrestrial}:

13. I studied geology and geophysics, astronomy, the art of pragmatics and scientific cybernetics in relation to biological, technical and sociological systems.

14. I also carry out the activity of a controller for various tasks.

15. My age is not a secret, so I can tell you my age at 236 years.

...

18. I do not have a life partner, but I do have a female companion.

19. With her I have maintained a very loving alliance for 73 years.

Ptaah:

146. In a direct democracy, the parliament, the rulers and the authorities, etc., are no more and no less than mere executors of the will of the people, by which alone it is determined what shall and shall not be.

147. That is what we Plejaren and all our federates understand by an open democracy.

148. And in such one it must also not be that the supreme rulers, a parliament or other governing bodies propagandise for any things and decisions, but rather present only elaborated plans and proposals to the people in such a way that all advantages and disadvantages of the project are mentioned to them, after which the people have to weigh everything up at their own discretion and make the decision by an election without partiality.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_476

Billy:

... If something breaks, how long can you keep fixing things?

Ptaah:

11. First of all, for every achievement, no matter what kind it is, small or big, there is only one form of production respectively one brand worldwide, as you say.
12. And secondly, our production is geared to ensuring that repairs can be made to small appliances and equipment etc. in the event of damage occurring for 70 years, because components can be produced for this purpose during this period if required.
13. For large devices and large apparatus, such as our planetary and spaceworthy flying apparatus etc., a period of 350 years is specified.
14. We are careful to use as few resources of our and other planets as possible and also to take care of the environment.
15. Waste products are therefore avoided, so everything is designed so that everything can be recycled.

Billy:

One brand of product per product, I think that makes sense. Yes this is only possible because you produce everything and everything of use on a social basis and do not know of money anymore, therefore everything is produced by the people and every human being receives everything necessary of every kind, who he needs or what he simply wants.

Ptaah:

16. A fact that also contributes to the fact that there is not crime in our country, because every person can get everything he needs or wants at any time.
17. This system, however, requires that means of payment are no longer needed, so we also no longer have them.

Billy:

And what about garbage and litter and so forth? When I think of the packaging mania that exists here on Earth, which generates billions of tons of waste and billions of dollars, I am terrified.

Ptaah:

18. That is not the case here, because all goods are handed out to the population without packaging, with a few exceptions, where the packaging decays after a long time of self-decomposition and decomposes back into its natural components.
19. If it concerns materials that do not completely disintegrate back into their original components, such as things made of materials such as metal, glass, crystal and plastic etc., which we of course also produce, then these are collected completely and sent for recycling.
20. This also happens with devices and equipment etc., which can no longer be used, so we do not have any wear and tear on any materials.
21. Our entire population is careful to observe this order, so that no one produces waste, rubbish or rubbish, because otherwise it would be impossible to keep nature and the entire environment clean.

Billy:

Then you have not got any incinerators or garbage disposal plants or garbage dumps in nature.

Ptaah:

22. No, we do not have that, because such things, like money and crime, are also phenomena that only occur in cultures that are still in a state of low progress.

...

Ptaah:

75. The population of the planet Akart belonged to our federation, as well as also, the population of the worlds of Proxima-Centauri and others from there and other local regions of space around there, from which several of them have come to the Earth.
76. However, all of these worlds belong in our space-time-configuration, consequently they also possess several of our technologies, like for example, that technology with which they are able to bridge the time barrier and come into your space-time-configuration.
77. The population of Akart however no more exists since the year 2007, because in the only 32 years from 1975 to 2007 their total population had increased to 34 billion (34,000,000,000), when through their stupidity, like also is apparent with the terrestrial population, nature and the climate were completely destroyed, when, in the end, an oxygen collapse and an atmosphere collapse occurred, as you have described this.

78. As a result all life was wiped out on that planet.

Billy:

However, you still have advised and helped them, as you said at that time.

Ptaah:

79. Unfortunately, our advice was just disregarded and not followed, as well as also our help was declined.

80. Only then, when there was nothing more to give, the humans came to think things over, but then it was already too late, as a result we only could just save as many humans as possible, unfortunately only 116 million, and resettle them to other worlds.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_505

Billy:

So then: First, a question about Mount Shasta respectively about the distant descendants of extraterrestrials who lived there, which I talked about several times with your daughter Semjase, but also with you. ...

Quetzal once told me outside of an official conversation that you took all the inhabitants from Mount Shasta and on the Aleutian Islands and in Alaska.

Ptaah:

53. That is correct.

54. We have tried to get all the inhabitants of the three places to return to their peoples, with whom they have always been in contact.

55. We gave them the reasons for our own withdrawal from the Earth, which led to their withdrawal.

56. Their dwellings and all the trappings have returned them to their original earthly state, so that there is no longer anything to indicate their former presence.

57. The process in this regard was the same as in the pyramid of Giza and on Mars.

Billy:

I understand. So then you did not take them away yourselves, but they left of their own accord with those who came from their original homeland, but simply on your advice. I have misunderstood something. But can you tell me where these human beings actually belonged, respectively to which people?

Ptaah:

58. That is not a secret.

59. They were distant descendants of a lineage of the old Lyrians, to which they also returned.

Billy:

Then they are, so to speak, related to you, the Plejaren, because the Plejaren peoples came out of the old Lyrians.

Ptaah:

60. That is correct.

Billy:

Thank you. So there is now nothing in Mount Shasta, Alaska, or the Aleutian Islands that indicates their former presence?

Ptaah:

61. That is also correct.

Billy:

And may we know what you told them that they went away?

Ptaah:

62. That is not a secret.

63. The reason was that we too had abolished our stations on Earth and returned them to their natural original state, but it was important that we had included the inhabitants of all three places in our protection, which was not given after we had left.

64. So a further stay on Earth would have been too dangerous for them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_511

Billy:

... But I am now interested in whether, since my last question regarding other extraterrestrials who do not belong to you Plejaren or to your Federation, any other extraterrestrial flying apparatuses have flown into earthly space in the meantime?

Ptaah:

27. Since we completed our surveillance technology for objects entering or entering the Earth's space years ago and are therefore able to locate and register even the smallest objects, there have been no entries of unearthly flying apparatuses that do not belong to us Plejaren or to members of the Federation.

28. It is also not to be assumed that there will be any more such foreign incursions in the foreseeable future.

29. And what has happened in the last 300 years with such flights into the earthly space has found its reason in the fact, as we have clarified in the meantime, that really all extraterrestrials who came to earth found their way to earth by some unforeseen coincidence or in two cases by coordinate information.

30. The fact that the way from extraterrestrials to the SOL-system and finally to Earth led in some cases, was either due to uncontrollable coincidences or due to coordinates received etc.

31. Some also came to Earth through curiosity, aberration or by accident, after they unintentionally or intentionally entered the SOL system.

32. However, most of the entries took place because of uncontrollable coincidences and also because the Earth was discovered.

33. There were also flights into Earth from the Alpha-Centauri area when the SOL system was approached, and of course Earth was discovered and explored.

34. So it was usually a rare coincidence that extraterrestrials other than us, the Plejaren and our federated ones, came to Earth.

35. Only in two cases aliens came to Earth via the coordinates given by very distant Nokodemion descendants.

36. There were not any other strangers to the Earth other than those who came to Earth through the coordinates and uncontrollable coincidences.

37. So the visitors were not those who flew to Earth as a special destination, with two exceptions.

38. But we Plejaren and our Federation and the ancient Lyrians are excluded from this, because even our very distant ancestors knew the SOL system and the Earth, and so they visited the Earth millions of years ago.

Billy:

This is familiar to me, because they came to the SOL system because of the Moon, whose path they followed when it blasted out of their space-time structure through a dimensional gate into our space-time structure and settled on Earth. And it is also clear to me that there is not extraterrestrial-human life at every corner of space and that extraterrestrial human beings are not to be found in every corner of the universe, as the human beings on Earth are led to believe by science fiction films. There are indeed billions of solar systems in which there are also planets, but those that carry human life, which is also highly developed and capable of space travel, are very rare in our DERN universe. That is why, as you once said, your Federation is spread out over hundreds of millions of light-years in your space-time structure, because the human beings are scattered in the vast expanse of space and it is not densely populated with humans. Often there are dozens, hundreds or even thousands of light-years between human inhabited worlds, and also only a few of the human beings on these inhabited planets are capable of space technology. The same applies to our space-time structure, and consequently also to the fact that there are not masses of human beings on the planets, but only a few of them in the vastness of our own or any other galaxy. For this reason alone, it is crazy to claim that aliens from this or that constellation would come to Earth from this or that constellation, simply to make some nonsensical religious and sectarian speeches and conversations and to give divine advice etc. This apart from the absurdity of the fact that there is no evidence of such alleged contacts between aliens and the human beings of Earth, neither material nor photos and films.

Ptaah:

39. That is indeed the case.

...

Billy:

Do you know anything about whether any aliens still know the coordinates of the SOL system or even Earth, apart from those who already came here?

Ptaah:

69. We don't know, but I also have to say that all extraterrestrials who came to Earth were more or less well versed in space technology, which cannot be taken for granted.

70. The majority of unearthly human races are still not capable of space travel.

71. And others who have mastered space travel are only able to move within their own solar systems and cannot leave them.

72. Interstellar space travel is extremely rare, as is the possibility of moving through dimensional gates into another space-time continuum, as we do and can also create such gates.

73. And it must also be said that those who came to Earth from other space-time continuums could not deliberately create and fix the necessary dimensional gates, because in fact they were only able to move into this dimension of the DERN universe through momentary natural cracks in their space-time continuum.

74. Others, on the other hand, who came from the DERN dimension, only came to Earth because they could create and use space-time gates, which is also a rarity.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_513

Ptaah:

4. I still have some time left, because I have taken some time off, because I still want to enjoy chess with you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_516

Ptaah:

1. Hello, Eduard, here I am, unfortunately I am four minutes late.

2. But I like the music that comes out of your computer.

Quetzal:

1. It also suits me.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_519

Billy:

... It is now almost ten years since you said that you have come across something very interesting in relation to the investigations of the various extraterrestrials who have come to Earth in the last 300 years. But you wanted to say something more about this only when you know all about it for sure. Is it about what I asked you to clarify some 30 years ago – do you have any detailed information about it now?

Ptaah:

37. Yes, we have this information, and it is based on many years of very laborious research and clarification.

38. After 30 years of investigation and research, it has now been proven with absolute certainty that all known flights into Earth's airspace and landings on Earth by Earth-foreigners have only occurred because all those who found their way to Earth had exact or halfway exact coordinates of the Lyra and Centaurus systems and the SOL system at their disposal, which they did not evaluate until thousands of years after their receipt and recovery.

39. The interesting thing is that for all Earth-foreigners who came to Earth, these data were based on very old and millennia-old records, which were based on connections with peoples from the very extensive Nokodemion line.

40. And the fact that all these records have been analysed by a wide variety of Earth-foreigners civilisations over the last 300 years was based on very old regulations, which were designed to ensure that these records were found and analysed in more recent times and that the respective Earth-foreigners flew to the elaborated coordinates.

41. The whole purpose of all this was to enable everyone to find their way to our Federation and unite with us.

42. This was also the case for those who came from the Centaurus systems and from other areas.

43. Some of the Earth-foreigners who came to Earth, due to errors in coordination, strayed directly to Earth instead of reaching the Lyra system, others were looking for the planet Malona/Phaeton, which they did not find, but came to Earth in their search.

44. Others were looking for Mars, but found it inanimate and finally came to Earth.

45. But there were also those who suffered an accident, including the Gilgamesh spacecraft of the very early days, as well as the spacecraft that caused the Tunguska catastrophe.

46. With one exception, all Earth-foreigners who came to Earth in the last 300 years are now part of our Federation, and interestingly, all of them have proven that their early ancestors were, as I explained, connected with earlier peoples of the Nokodemion line, from whom they have received records of the coordinates of the systems mentioned.

47. They used this data to get to the Lyra and Centaurus systems and to the SOL system.

48. If they hadn't had these coordinates from the ancient records, they would also never have come to Earth.

49. So they only came here to your homeworld Earth by certain coincidences.

Billy:

Asina and her people, what about them?

{Note: see Contact Reports 90, 91, and 93 for information on Billy's first encounter with Asina.}

Ptaah:

50. They also belonged to it in the same way.

Billy:

So then everything was predetermined. When was that? ...

Ptaah:

51. The whole thing leads back to the time 389,000 years ago.

52. Even then everything was determined and directed in such a way that everything is fulfilled in modern times and especially in the modern age.

...

61. And further it is to be said that apart from us Plejaren and our Federation no other Earth-foreigners are on Earth or even penetrated or entered the Earth's airspace, therefore no Earth-humans can have contact with any Earth-foreigners.

62. And all those Earth-foreigners who came to Earth by the coincidence of the coordinates of the ancient Nokodemion peoples belong to our Federation today, and they too do not maintain contact with Earth-humans.

...

Billy:

But what if unknown flying objects are observed?

Ptaah:

65. If they are Earth-foreigners flying apparatuses, then they can only be those of us Plejaren or of our federated ones.

66. Otherwise they are exclusively earthly unknown flying apparatuses, like secret aircraft of futuristic design etc., as they are constructed in secret aircraft construction factories, mainly in Area 51 in the USA, but also in South America, Russia, China and Canada.

Billy:

Is this really all clear and real?

Ptaah:

67. Absolutely.

Billy:

This once again triggers angry cries and howls among the UFO believers, the ufologists and the alleged contactees, which in turn makes me a snail again.

Ptaah:

68. This will be so, because the deceivers, liars, swindlers and charlatans regarding alleged contacts with Earth-foreigners as well as the UFO believers in general and especially those who boast of being experts in ufology, do not want to understand that apart from us, the Plejaren and our federated ones, no other Earth-foreigners come to Earth, and also that those who came here in former times found their way to Earth only by means of old coordinate records which led back to connections with old Nokodemion peoples.

69. Only such Earth-foreigners and future Earth-followers have come to Earth, but never any others from foreign galaxies and solar systems that did not have the coordinates handed down.

70. So others did not reach Earth, as alleged contactors lie and claim.

Billy:

This apart from the Skrills and the bioorganic flying objects and the future of Earth from other dimensions, as you say. If all the many claims about contacts between the human beings of Earth and extraterrestrials were true, then Earth would be teeming with extraterrestrials.

Ptaah:

71. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_530

Billy:

... When I was on Erra, I saw huge apple plantations, with trees and apples much bigger than here on Earth. The biggest apples I saw, according to your explanations, weighed several kilos. The apples, I was taught by Quetzal and you, are used as food and medicine ...

...

... I am wondering what you do with apples from a medical point of view?

Ptaah:

66. Highly concentrated food is made from them, and because of their high concentration they are also effective in a completely natural way from a medical point of view.

67. Apart from the stalk, no waste products are produced during the production process, which means that every apple is fully utilised, including the skin, the seeds and the core.

Billy:

Similar or identical to our food supplements?

Ptaah:

68. No.

69. These are pure, highly concentrated foods that contain all the natural substances of apples, but no chemical ingredients etc., which are used as normal food in daily use.

70. Every human being on Erra eats such products every day.

Billy:

Liquid or solid?

Ptaah:

71. Both possibilities are possible, whereby the high concentration of the food corresponds absolutely only to pure fruit.

72. The same is also possible with vegetables.

Billy:

And the nutritious cubes I ate on my Great Journey {see Contact Report 31} and on Erra, are they also of a similar kind? One or two or three cubes were enough to satisfy my hunger.

Ptaah:

73. They are.

74. The high-concentrate is specially cold-dried and pressed for this purpose, so that a cube of about 2x2x2 centimetres will contain about 3 grams of apple high-concentrate, which corresponds to a raw apple weight of about 500 grams.

Billy:

This corresponds to about three large apples as we have them here on Earth. By cold-dried you mean a kind of freeze-dried, or?

Ptaah:

75. That is so, but the process is of course in line with our more advanced technology.

Billy:

But you also eat fresh and raw apples and other fruit, as I saw in your large scale room.

Ptaah:

76. Self-evident.

Billy:

We use chemical spraying for apples and also for all other fruits and vegetables, which is not the case with you, I know. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_532

Billy:

Then my next question, which does not apply to the future, with those of whom you of course do not want to have contact, but my question does apply to the unknown to you, respectively, to the unknown to you Earth-foreigners, of whom we have spoken about in our last conversation. I have indeed no contact with them and also do not want to get in touch with them, yet I think, that you nevertheless know something about them, for I can myself imagine, that you do not put aside the matter without observation and thought.

Ptaah:

49. That is correct, yet we do not concern ourselves too much with it, for the technology, on which they operate, as well as their conduct does not correspond to prerequisites, which would be important in accordance with our directives, which would allow us to enter into contact with them.

50. From their technology and their behaviour alone, we can infer their state of consciousness, which does not correspond to one that would allow us to contact them.

Billy:

Their technology must however still be well developed, for they are able to come from somewhere in space to the Earth. And with their conduct ...

Ptaah:

51. Admittedly, this is actually so, yet the aliens are, regarding their consciousness development and their fallible conduct patterns, contrary to the inviolableness and the dignity of all life in exactly the same way still are not sufficiently developed enough, as also not their technology, as a result we are not able to arrange them in accordance with our directives into the important security stages, which are predetermined by us as our directives.

52. And regarding their conduct, many matters do not correspond to a consciousness development, which would allow a contact starting and association with them in accordance with our directives.

53. There, were and are, many incidents caused by them, which are not able to be reconciled with a healthy and higher consciousness ability development as well as also not with various creative-natural predetermined laws and regulations.

54. Despite the higher developed technology, through which they are able to cope with travel through space, they are on this matter not much further developed than terrestrial scientific field skilled workers, who as a rule, all live just according to Earthhuman laws and regulations, while at the same time, they however still follow little, or in general nothing, in the exercising of the creative-natural predetermined laws and regulations.

55. Thus also the integrity of the body as well as the psyche of humans, animals and creatures, which is given by these laws and regulations, is not considered by them just as it is also the case with the Earth-humans.

Billy:

And is this the case with all three groups unknown to you?

Ptaah:

56. Yes.

57. With these three groups is however to understand here, that it concerns a matter about them of three different factions, who however all together build a unity, thus belonging together and in accordance with our observations of only one origin, however who have different areas of responsibility on the Earth.

58. Of three groups is only generally to speak, because our realizations of these Earth-foreigners is that they are clearly organized for certain tasks in three different terrestrial areas, in which they become evident and are variously working.

59. So one group moves entirely in the west continental area of Antarctica over Tierra del Fuego and all Americas with various islands up to Alaska and to the Arctic, then another group moves in entirely Europe with Africa and all islands, with Greenland, Eurasia, Arabia, Madagascar and the Arctic as well as various islands, and finally the third group moves entirely in Asia and Oceania with all islands, as also in Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand and in a part of Antarctica.

Billy:

Thus, also, here once again a misunderstanding, for we always thought, that with the three groups may have meant three different earth alien races, which would come from different worlds.

Ptaah:

60. That was actually a misunderstanding, hence, it is good that you have again brought up this matter.

Billy:

And were you able to find out, where these Earth-foreigners come from, respectively, where their origin is?

Ptaah:

61. Regarding the discovering of their origin planet, we have ourselves tried, yet I cannot give any information about it, because up till now we do not know of this and also on account of the lack of their consciousness- and technological development, do not want to enter into association with them, in order to find out.

62. There must arise, regarding this, an unwanted foreordination, which however is doubtful, because we ourselves in no way seek a contact with them, as I already explained.

63. Hence, we also do not watch their exact activities, but only take notice of them, which arises through unintentional observations, etc..

64. And as far as the number of Earth-foreigners is concerned, such were we able up to now only to observe a few of them, although all of these however were clearly registered by us.

Billy:

However you still would be able to follow the chaps secretly, in order to find their home world if they would currently leave the Earth.

Ptaah:

65. Up to now we were not able to register any excursions by them from Earth space, as a result we presume, that they are permanently stationed here.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_536

Billy:

... But you are wearing such interesting new clothes. Is this the latest fashion?

Florena:

...

26. No, the clothing does not correspond to a new fashion, it is technical.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_538

{Note: The following are excerpts from a lengthy explanation about true democracy.}

Ptaah:

22. My explanations are only intended to clarify the understanding and the state of democracy, as it applies to us Plejaren.

...

28. It is about 52,000 years ago that true democracy was established among all peoples in our Plejaren, and with it a lasting peace and extensive freedom, which has also been established since then, by prohibiting all undemocratic forms of government and their actions.

29. This also led to the final peace among all peoples, so that since then the Plejaren have lived in true peace and freedom.

30. For the peoples themselves want peace and freedom, but not war, despotism or dictatorship.

31. Wars, despotism, dictatorship and tyranny of all kinds always come from rulers, from parties, parliaments, military and secret services, etc., as well as from rulers and their supporters and followers, but never from the peoples themselves, for they are fundamentally opposed to wars, discord and unfreedom, etc.

32. The whole thing was based on the recognition that forms of government based on parliaments and parties or on despotism, dictatorship or republics etc. are contrary to any true democracy and are a fraud against the peoples because they are deceived by untenable promises, propaganda and lies etc.

33. This is how our forefathers took as their starting point what has survived to this day and confirms our true form of democracy, that when the peoples have to make their own decisions under their own responsibility, their true and uninfluenced opinions are brought to bear.

...

49. This is what we Plejaren are deeply aware of, that no form of government of any kind can ever represent the peoples, but only representations of the people as determined by the peoples.

50. This realization was used by our ancestors to build a true democracy encompassing all peoples.

51. Only a representation of the people for the people is democratic, whereas a representation is a fraud.

52. And it was only through the recognition of this fact by our forefathers that the instrument of democracy could be brought into being and all the problems which had constantly led to popular discontent, as well as to discord, lack of freedom and, in many cases, also to uprisings, revolutions and war, as well as to immense destruction, could be solved.

53. In this way, all-encompassing people's democracies were created and realised on our worlds, putting an end to all despotic and dictatorial forms of government and rulers etc., and giving all power only to the peoples and implementing it through elected leaders of the people.

54. And this has proved its worth, according to the earthly sense of mankind, for more than 52,000 years, and consequently there have never been any more uprisings, revolutions, popular discontent or small or large wars since then.

55. Thus our distant ancestors as a whole have found the final solution to all political problems on all our worlds and have shown all peoples the way out of the path of the dictatorial rulers and ruled and into a true democracy based solely on the extensive power of the people, without representatives or substitutes.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_541

Billy:

... how is it with regard to friendships and enmities with you Plejaren, as well as with regard to Gewalt and coercion? ...

Ptaah:

28. Hostilities and enmities and ausartende outcoming effects in the sense that Gewalt and coercion arise, such as is the case with the Earth-humans, do not appear, at least amongst our Plejaren people.

29. If necessary, we answer Gewalt and coercion with logical Gewalt (force), but never in the sense that life is endangered.

30. And that is the case even if an attacking Gewalt or coercion would be directed against us, because we combat such ausartende Gewalt-activities in the extreme case without life-endangering arms, through which the antagonists are incapacitated only through fine-spiritual perceptionlessness-making, i.e. through anesthetization.

31. This, however, has no longer been necessary for thousands of years.

32. However, this only applies for our own Plejaren peoples, because it's different within our diverse Federation, however and in no case is it so bad, as it is among the Earth-humans with their killing, murder and destruction.

33. Naturally, even with us Plejaren there is resentment, irritation, malice and bitterness, and so forth, because from these, no human beings nature is immune, however with us these unvirtues are kept within limits and get badly out of the control of the good human nature, in no case.

34. Without exception, such virtuelessness holds only a short time, a few days at most, after which, intellect and rationality, honour, dignity, compassion and mutual benevolence again prevail and return to normalcy.

35. However, hostileness, enmities and effects of the getting badly out of the control of the good human nature, never come to prominence.

36. This finds the reasoning herein because with us, already from early childhood, through an ample education, an ample virtuousness as well as the logical mastery of thought-feeling-based and emotional impulsations and working them out, is learned from personal discord.

37. This speaks to the fact therefore that no enemies or any other similar forms also appear, with the winning of friends, because this would contradict our ethics and logic.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_542

Billy:

... But now my next question, which I have to put forward: It concerns you, the Plejaren, and your federates: You Plejaren are also active in your Federation for the spreading of the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of Spirit, Teaching of Life', and I would like to ask how far you are trying to go in this respect and whether your Federation is also involved?

Ptaah:

49. Our Plejaren spiritual leaders and other sages are active in teaching the lessons of our Plejaren Federation to the peoples, but only as far as is desired, because we too are subject to the missionary condition of not missionizing.

50. And what we do with regard to the peoples of our Federation, their spiritual leaders and other sages also do in the same way with regard to foreign peoples of the world, if they have them under their care or if new contacts are established with them.

51. There are also human beings who call themselves proclaimers and prophets of their own accord, namely when they have knowledge of the doctrine or knowledge of future events, which is why there is also talk of prophesying and prophethood, because future things are prophesied or spoken as a warning respectively as a possibility for the future.

52. In this way the teaching spreads into all the vastness of the universe, but there must always be a precondition that the teaching is desired, which is not always the case, because as a rule, even among the peoples of other worlds, traditional beliefs are prescribed, from which the believers can only free themselves with difficulty.

53. The infamous and deceitful as well as infiltrating missionary work, by which the human beings are misled and persuaded to believe, as it is done by the earthly religions and sects, is absolutely forbidden.

54. If the human beings want to turn to teaching, this must be done in their own interest, as well as out of their own decision and of their own free will, and without infiltrating influence.

55. In small groups etc. there is always an interest in the teaching of Nokodemion, and therefore it can and may be taught in this respect, after which larger groups of other interested people are formed when they recognise the changes for the better and good of those who begin to live and act according to the teaching.

56. This is how the teaching spreads.

57. But also in this respect any kind of missionary work is excluded.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_547

Ptaah:

19. However, in 1995, when we dissolved our stations on Earth, the danger still existed.

20. According to our calculations of probability, from that time on there was the impending possibility that we Pleiar peoples could have been drawn into a war.

21. As we explained to you at that time – to which we obliged you to remain silent – an attack on Earth could have taken place, namely by a large armada of space planes of a planet-wide dictatorially led and warlike multi-ethnic state from the same space-time structure from which we Plejaren also come.

22. These peoples, who did not belong to the Plejaren Federation, were very warlike and conquest-addicted in nature, similar to Earth-humans.

23. They had been constantly fighting with their own races for more than 1,700 years, and at that time they were about to penetrate the space-time structure of the DERN universe through their space technology, on the same path that also gives us the possibility to enter this dimension, where the Milky Way galaxy and therefore also the SOL system and Earth are located.

24. With us, the Plejaren, these peoples maintained constant and contentious contacts, and often warlike actions were also threatened, because the dictatorial powers of the planetary multi-ethnic state called 'Hardem' were constantly trying to invade and conquer the Plejaren worlds.

25. As a result, we had to be on constant defensive alert to these peoples – while also keeping our secrets, which were related to many things of our technology and which we had to protect – in order to protect ourselves against these ever-present aggressors.

26. But through infamous machinations they managed to get hold of the technology regarding the possibility of breaking through into other space-time structures, so they learned to master them in the course of time and also gained knowledge regarding the DERN-space-time structure and the Milky Way as well as the SOL system and the Earth.

27. Then, however, about 95 Earth years ago, a completely different form of government was introduced and other rulers came to power, more peace-loving, but still subject to the urge for war and conquest, but to a somewhat lesser extent than the dictatorial rulers.

28. Consequently, they tried to join our Plejaren Federation, but they were denied the possibility of being admitted, with the possibility of being admitted if they would give up all their warlike conduct and make peace in every respect, which they were not prepared to do

29. In 1918, through some unpleasant events, they learned of our efforts in the SOL system and on Earth, in terms of Earth years, so that from then on they tried to come into this space-time continuum and to Earth, which we always managed to prevent.

30. Then, however, from the terrestrial year 1977 on, new technical possibilities arose for the 'Hardem', which again increased the danger that they could attack Plejaren areas and also advance into the SOL system to Earth.

31. According to our probability calculations, this could have been the case from 1995 on, which is why we Plejaren were advised to stay away from Earth at that time, in order to avoid getting involved in warlike actions with earthly-military armies and the 'Hardem', because our directives prohibit such actions on foreign worlds.

32. So if the Hardem had attacked, we should not have done anything about it.

33. This is also because otherwise there would have been serious conflicts with our Plejaren Federation in the form of a very vicious war with the 'Hardem' on their homeworld.

34. So the only option was to withdraw from Earth, but we tried – as we had done for many decades – to negotiate with the Hardem and to dissuade them from their craft of war.

35. In the end, it became generally accepted on 'Hardem' that a large group of people had an objective interest in the matter and that this led to a planet-wide overthrow of power, by which all dictatorial rulers – who had all united to form a common world dictatorship – were driven out and executed by armies accustomed to war and violence.

36. In 1996, the whole thing actually led to the new rulers coming to their senses and taking care not to allow any more power-hungry people to emulate any kind of war and also to dissuade their peoples from the art of war.

37. Through us and our allies in the federation we have been advising the 'Hardem' ever since, so that the war-loving peoples could also be pacified.

38. Through our and our Federation's efforts and the manifold assistance provided, the peoples have been taught how to live peacefully and will also continue to do so.

39. This has been going on since 1996, and fortunately the 'Hardem' are making a very serious effort to grow into a completely new way of life, which in just 16 years has led to the 'Hardem' being incorporated into our Plejaren Federation protection and thus becoming a candidate for our Plejaren Federation.

...

45. Although the 'Hardem' do not yet belong to the Plejaren Federation, they are under its protection, which ensures that they are no longer a threat.

...

Billy:

... But what interests me is this: You always speak of the 'Hardem' in a way that is also true of you Plejaren. You call yourselves Plejaren and your homeworlds also Plejaren. Is it the same with the 'Hardem', if they do not call themselves 'Hardemer' or similar, but as 'Hardem', equally also their world?

Ptaah:

47. That is indeed the case.

Ptaah:

31. Very many of our people have learned the German language and are therefore learning the textbooks and the spiritual textbooks according to your German language, which you so excellently present.

32. For all those who do not know the German language, all your written works have been and will continue to be translated into our inter cosmic language, which is spoken by all our peoples without exception.

33. The only exceptions to this are in the area of the outer federation, where this language is also very widespread.

34. The intercosmic Kosan and our erranic language Errin as well as our Plejaren language Sarat are based on our very old original language, which – as you know – is the real origin of the old German and therefore of the German language of today.

35. All our languages are therefore equated with German in every term and word, so there is no difference in this respect.

36. This means that every term and word in the German language has absolutely the same meaning and value in all our languages.

37. Consequently, there is no difference in this respect.

...

Billy:

But super smart people always think that Swiss-German is a German dialect.

Ptaah:

40. This is evidence of insufficient knowledge, because our highly educated language scholars probably know this better than better-knowing and in this respect uneducated Earth-humans.

Billy:

I am sure you are right. Unfortunately, there are many know-it-alls on Earth who put false information into the world and thereby spread misinformation.

Ptaah:

41. Such an action is not possible with us, because there is no such thing as know-it-all, because all knowledge is only accepted as truth according to the effective reality and its facts.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_560

Ptaah:

65. He {Quetzal} was particularly affected by all this because the care and maintenance of bushes and trees is one of his great passions, which he cultivates with great dedication in his three own bush and tree plantations on Erra.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_565

Ptaah:

62. But the fact that the four groups unknown to us are active worldwide, as you say, and in many ways, is an absolutely undeniable fact.

63. And what the sense and purpose of their actions are, that is just as unknown to us as whether they are of earthly, future-earthly or extraterrestrial origin.

64. We are also not interested in that, because it is not in any of our tasks to get in contact with them or to find out their origin.

Billy:

So many observations, things, and strange occurrences can be traced back not only to the former 'Ashtar Sheran' group, but also to these four groups?

Ptaah:

65. It was never mentioned, but only that many events and occurrences could be attributed to this 'Sheran group', from the hypnotic forced contacts to all kinds of unpleasant happenings and strange occurrences.

Billy:

Of course. But now it is finally clear that the four groups, unknown to you, are very active in different ways. But the question is, will you continue to ignore them and will you also continue to protect yourselves against sight and detection from them?

Ptaah:

66. Yes, that is clearly the case, because we are not interested in any contact with them.

67. And since our latest clarifications and findings, we are now also absolutely sure that these four groups have no knowledge of our real existence.

68. This, if we dispense with unclear assumptions, which are perhaps or even very likely, because your activity with regard to the dissemination of the contact conversation reports has probably not remained hidden from them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_571

Billy {in response to a question from Michael Horn}:

In my opinion, Platonic love, even if it is related to a very close friendship, is based on a pure illusion, because in the case of a very close friendship both the woman and the man have almost inevitably erotic feelings for each other in their thoughts and feelings. So this is really to be understood in the case of very close and deep friendship relationships which go far beyond normal and everyday interpersonal friendships, which cannot necessarily be measured by the same standard of eroticism as so-called everyday friendships. Even in the case of everyday, normal, open friendships which do not fall into the realm of very close and deep friendship, erotic impulses are not necessarily excluded under certain circumstances, because the human being's sexual drive is quite naturally predetermined and cannot simply be denied, even if many human beings deny this fact with regard to their own personality and therefore say the untruth about it.

...

Ptaah:

13. What you say is absolutely correct, and that I should say something in addition from our Plejaren point of view is something I would like to do with pleasure, whereby in this regard I would of course like to express our Plejaren insights, which are not only valid for us Plejaren, but universally and thus also for Earth-humans:

14. Platonic love, as it is generally understood by Earth-humans, is illusory and cannot be translated into reality, because very close and deep intersex friendships according to Platonic philosophy are problematic in every respect and not free of eroticism, and are also contrary to nature.

15. On the contrary, there is also genuine open friendship between men and women, as well as between women and women and men and men, but the same rules sometimes apply to eroticism in this respect as well as to erotic impulses.

16. In such genuine and open friendships, however, different conditions prevail than in much closer and deeper friendships, which are understood to be platonic friendships, because in genuine open friendships there is a respectful and often shy distance between the human beings, which disappears when the friendship is very close and deep.

17. In close friendships, if these are considered platonic according to Plato, eroticism is therefore inevitable and always more or less always present, even if this is only in thoughts and feelings, in dreams or daydreams and imaginations as well as wishes.

18. So there is always the lurking fact of situations where a so-called close platonic friendship suddenly turns into a sexual love, be it effective, in terms of thought and emotion, as a result of dreaming, imagining or desires and fantasies, etc.

19. In any case, however, this already corresponds to a breach of the Platonic principle, as misunderstood by Earth-humans, because they understand Platonic love to be a love of friendship without sexual acts.

20. Platonic love in the sense of Earth-humans therefore corresponds to a pure utopia.

21. The reason for this is the erotic ulterior motives, ideas and desires which are not only related to men but also to women, whereby both sexes assume romantic thoughts and feelings, which are decisive factors in the game of sexual ideas and desires etc.

22. If this is disputed, however, then it is either that a man or woman wants to present himself or herself 'more pure' and better than the truth, and is therefore lying, or the truth about his or her own erotic impulses is suppressed and not acknowledged, which is also a lie.

23. According to our ancient knowledge, which is also confirmed again and again today in all our federal areas, women and men of all ages judge independently of each other the fact that the erotic attraction itself consists in every good, pure, deep and close friendship relationship.

24. In all relationships oriented towards forms of friendship, it is also clearly evident that as a rule it is not a certain attractiveness of the human beings that is the main focus, but the relationship in terms of the love connection.

25. Women and men are equally attracted to their 'good friends' and 'girlfriends' and feel romantically and erotically desirable to each other.

26. Other relationships with fellow human beings also play a role, depending on whether they are peaceful, offensive, alienating or crisis-ridden.

27. There are also many reasons in the evolution of consciousness, as well as in true knowledge and wisdom.

28. It follows that, in practice, sexual attraction between the sexes is an undeniable fact of life, except in the case of misogyny, which tends to be based on hatred, but which may not prevent the appearance of sexual impulses which are also given room to develop, despite the hatred.

29. So it is a fact that eroticism is always present more or less as wishful thinking feelings, and sexual impulses of all kinds cannot be avoided even in the case of a close and so-called platonic and long-standing friendship.

30. This is the same with us, therefore erotic relationships can also be cultivated in an honourable way in pure close and long lasting friendships, without the need for a real marriage alliance between two human beings, be it between woman and man, man and man or woman and woman.

31. It is natural for a man to be focused on grasping a possible sexual opportunity because he is naturally reproductively oriented.

32. The women, on the other hand, are naturally conceptive beings, who are equally classified as men with regard to erotic impulses.

33. The woman is, however, somewhat more selective than the man with regard to her sex partners, which is due to evolutionary biology on the one hand and also to her greater sensitivity, although the man is less sensitive to this.

34. From the fact that the erotic impulses between the two sexes are lived out, it follows that the respective genus is preserved.

35. However, the human being, who is evolutionarily much more highly developed than any animal or creature form and who also has a conscious life of consciousness, thus acts consciously and no longer in pure form instinctively like the animals and the creatures.

36. This also enables him to cultivate erotic thoughts and feelings and to control the corresponding impulses according to his own needs and will, and also to live them out, without the need to procreate offspring.

37. So he can pursue his sexual life out of pure lust and pleasure in the matter as well as with regard to the sexual urge, which, if everything is correct, is not detrimental to him, but on the contrary gives him psycho-physical satisfaction and health.

38. If man and woman are considered in relation to polygamy, as is the case with us Plejaren and also in various ways with Earth-humans and peoples of other worlds, then a man can mate with several women for procreation, whereas a woman can normally be mated with only one man.

39. This is our justification for our polygamy in the way that a man can lead matrimonial alliances with several women, whereby we act in accordance with the creative-natural laws and commandments.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_572

Billy:

... Surrealism is therefore based on something completely imaginary, imagined, illusory, deceptive, deceptive, and on something strange and utopian, unreal, intangible and unreal. In my opinion, the whole thing has nothing to do with fantasy. What is your opinion?

Ptaah:

32. Surrealism really has nothing to do with fantasy, but with pathologically unreal and imaginative, illusory ideas, which in a certain sense show unreal forms of delusional structures.

33. The whole of surrealism thus corresponds to something unreal, confused and erroneously alien to reality, which is a sign that the human being, who is temporarily or permanently addicted to surrealism, lives in a completely abnormal world of thoughts and feelings, which he cannot reconcile with reality and thus behaves towards it in one of the many forms of outsiderhood.

34. This corresponds to a certain pathologically absurd, confused thought behaviour which cannot be reconciled with a really healthy combination of real ideas about reality.

35. With regard to the human beings who create surrealistic things, such as so-called 'works of art' etc., or who are also only temporarily addicted to surrealistic ideas, they are unstable with regard to reality, and therefore, at least in certain moments, openly break through a certain unreal and unworldly reality and unfamiliarity with the world in terms of ideas, thoughts and imagination.

Billy:

Does that also exist with you?

Ptaah:

36. No, this phenomenon is only known to us from Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_576

Billy:

On the 2nd of November, during a private conversation you told me that you had received new techniques from the Sonaern that might give you better insights into the four groups that operate around Earth.

Ptaah:

70. That is correct, but I cannot talk about it in detail, because I have to keep silence about the exact activities and processes as well as the details of the new technology – at least officially.

71. We ourselves have been reluctant for some time now, as a result of disinterest, to investigate the background and existence of the four groups.

72. In September of this year, however, something special happened which made it necessary for us to take another look at the four groupings, or at one of them in particular.

73. This prompted us to look for technical aids from Asket's friends, the Sonaern, in order to get to the bottom of the particularities we had noticed.

74. As a result, during the last month, with the means made available to us by the Sonar people, we have carried out in-depth investigations and have thus obtained important information about those particular aspects of the grouping to which we were particularly interested.

75. As a result of our investigations in this regard, we have been able to clearly establish that the grouping in our interest is not of terrestrial origin, but is in fact Earth-foreigners.

76. With the new Sonaer technology, we were also able to penetrate the materials of their round, triangular and boomerang-like flying apparatuses and use special equipment and devices to get inside their flying apparatuses, without them being able to register this.

77. In this way, we gained knowledge of the life-forms themselves inside their flying apparatus, and also of their technology, which is still inadequate compared with ours.

78. We were also able to take a look at records which provided us with a lot of interesting information, also in this respect that it has been impossible up to now for the Earth-foreigners to locate or otherwise recognise our Plejaren flying machines.

79. So we have remained unknown to these strangers to this day, which will remain so, because we continue to shield ourselves and do not wish to have contact with them, as our directives also prohibit us from doing, as a result of certain serious negative observations we have been able to make about this species.

80. Our linguists were also able to decipher the language and written language of the Earth-foreigners in less than 9 days, which also allowed us to gain extensive knowledge.

81. We were also helped in this by tiny recording devices which we were able to beam into the interior of the foreign flying apparatus, which provided us with a great deal of interesting information and which could also not be registered by the foreigners because their technology in this respect is still extremely deficient.

82. In the end we were also able to determine the origin of the Earth-foreigners, so that we now know where this group is going, or from where it came to Earth and continues to come here.

83. I am not allowed to say more about this.

...

85. We also know from our investigations and studies that these Earth-foreigners are not able to penetrate our space-time-structure.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_578

Billy:

... Should I assume according to this declaration that it can be dangerous to get in contact with any Earth-foreigners or aliens? To find contact to extraterrestrials, that is what the Earthlings have been trying to do for decades, especially through the SETI programme, in which a probe with information about the Earth and the Earthly humanity was shot out into space.

Ptaah:

57. I know this, and it is effectively a profound stupidity of the earthly scientists responsible for it, because it cannot be foreseen what kind of Earth-foreigners will be when they get hold of the SETI-probe.

58. Civilizations of foreign planets, both in the Milky Way and in other galaxies, are not necessarily peaceful-minded and are conquering other habitats or worlds they colonize in war.

59. And yet, among these conquerors there are often quite barbaric beings who are in no way inferior to the Earth-humans in terms of similar machinations, as they are peculiar to them, if religious mania and sectarianism are left out of the equation, for in this form we know of no Earth-foreigners who have degenerated in terms of religious sectarian belief as the majority of Earth-humans.

60. Therefore it is particularly stupid and irresponsible what was started with the SETI programme, because if one day the probe falls into the wrong hands, it can become quite bad for the earthly humanity and lead to disaster.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_582

Billy:

... I would like to know regarding how you yourself takes care to behave when a death occurs and at the same time something festive. At the same time, I want to ask, how do you handle it when a friendship of a person very close to you is laid to the last rest, but at the same time a celebration is also pending, for example a marriage or engagement in one's own family, such as of one's own children, as well as the relatives. What do you Plejaren consider as an overriding obligation, an engagement or marriage or the last honours acknowledgements with regard to the deceased person who is laid to rest?

Ptaah:

7. What you call as a precedential duty is understood and maintained by us in such a way that, first and foremost a deceased human being in their bedding of rest, as you bring forth the sensitive expression, is offered their last respects and appreciation.

8. This goes before all festivities of any kind, indeed even if such arises in one's own family, therefore if a laying to rest is pending at the same time as a marriage of one's own children, for example.

9. If the parents or one parent stand in a close, honest friendship connection with a human being and he or she dies, then it must be implicit that the last honours acknowledgements and appreciation stands as first duty and priority with the laying to rest, whereas the festivity of a marriage will be left out of the attention, even of one's own children and relatives.

10. We are not acquainted with a betrothal celebration, as you maintain such, because with us such an action goes forth without celebration, because when two human beings provisionally join together for a communality of living in order to later unite in an open or closed bond, then that is done in a simple wise.

11. Our mentality as well as customs and traditions, necessitate that without exception everything is handled as I have explained, and indeed this applies for all our Erran peoples.

...

Ptaah:

16. Our folks are all living in a democracy, of the freedom and of the peace, so therefore no comparison can be drawn to what is happening on the Earth.

...

22. Furthermore, it must be said that our system knows a world government, which demands general democratic forms by all countries and peoples, as well as that of absolute peace and freedom for the people and the individual human must prevail and that therefore no war or other hostile acts may take place one against the other.

23. Furthermore an absolutely free circulation of goods and persons on the whole of Erra is given, wherein regarding this extreme care is taken that no flora or fauna seeds or even plants, as well as any fauna forms of life are transported from one region to another, as unfortunately the opposite is the case on the earth through the stupid and irrational globalization, by which originates much damage and wherethrough all sorts of coming calamities are yet to be wrought.

24. So there is no border customs for persons and wares with us on Erra, and every human being can freely go anywhere to wherever he or she wants, without being controlled by officials, and so on.

25. Now, even though everything is free and open, every country's territory has its own territorial boundaries, which are respected in complete uniformity by all peoples and not violated.

26. Each country and nation governs itself in spite of the world government, and indeed independently according to their own customs and traditions, wherein no regulations of the global governance are given, because this is only authorized to ensure that our world's system of values is preserved with regard to peace and freedom and for the legislation of the planet as also with regard to the dealings with the governments and peoples of other planets.

27. Regarding the regular and special legislations for all the necessities of everyday life and of the life, this is nation-wide and peoples-wide (internationally) uniform throughout and directed to absolute humanity, justice and equality for all human beings, so therefore only a single identical legislation and applicable law is laid down worldwide and is valid for all human beings.

28. So, laws and ordinances cannot be bent ...

29. And as for the intermingling between our peoples, it must be said that such occurs only in rare cases, in the wise when members of different peoples enter into bonds with one another, which however is actually extremely rare.

30. The rule is that the individual peoples and the prevalent ethnic groups in these dwell amongst themselves and therefore neither mix nor change their customs and traditions through other cultural influences.
31. This helps that each ethnic group's own system of health and all their characteristics are preserved, which contributes to the fact that diseases no longer appear, or even if, then only very rarely.
32. The whole issue of this non-mixing of peoples also contributes in that no diseases and epidemics are carried about, as well as one peoples part doesn't clash into some troubles with another ones, either with regard to foreignness or race nor concerning goods, products or language, etc.
33. Since, as a rule, the members of a peoples remain amongst themselves – with only very few exceptions in very rare intermingling partnerships – also no mixing-of-peoples and foreign-hostile and race-hostile conflicts arise with other peoples or between families and neighbours etc.
34. And what is also extremely important, is the fact that we know not of religions and sects, as well as not of different political parties and orientations.
35. All Plejaren-Erran nations are solely and equally inclined to the creational-natural laws and recommendations, which are taught by the spiritual leadership.
36. Consequently, with us Plejaren there is neither religious- nor sect-hatred, nor religious or sectarian cult-activities, rites, or any other such sectarian hostilities.
37. Finally, what is still very important to say, is the fact that there is not any prostitution in all our peoples in accordance with their entire cultural behaviour and as a result of the legislation, such as regarding the turning to the creational-natural laws and recommendations.
38. Everything is so regulated with us with regard to the democratic determinations of the people, that all peoples, i.e. their populations are information-technology connected with the centre of the world government as well as with the respective peoples-authority, which itself works out, on the one hand, agenda items as well as proposals from the authorities of the people or individual persons proposals, and puts these up for the evaluation and vote of all populations.
39. Regarding this, all peoples i.e. their populations are requested, three hours before a vote i.e. before a ballot, as you say in the given situation, to be present for a ballot for a certain period of time at the corresponding devices or those several which are mounted in public everywhere and in dwellings for voting operations.
40. The accrued matter which is brought to a vote, will then firstly be officially announced just three hours after the populations are present at the ballot devices.
41. The announcing of the ballot agenda item – which is always handled just a single item per time – takes place in such a wise that not only will all advantages be named and explained in detail, but also all of the disadvantages.
42. Only after this, when all the facts of the positives and negatives are cited, begins the period of the considering and reconsidering of the ballot agenda item put forward, for which a period of around 30 minutes – according to your terms of time – is set, while the human beings of all populations can electronically make known their position i.e. a yes or no, which of course will be automatically registered and tallied up.
43. In this wise, it is given that no gatherings of people can take place, in order to bring about a mass persuasion, therefore all persons voting must make their own opinion known.
44. All accrued election agenda items of any kind are handled in this wise, and indeed also with regard to an appointing of persons in the world government and the peoples authorities.
45. Additionally it must still be said, that the world government and the authorities are no more and no less than merely democratic representatives of the people.
46. These exercise only the supervision with regard to the compliance with the laws and regulations as well as the decisions of the indigenous peoples, together with their corresponding assigned forces of order, whereby however, they have no self-determining Gewalt, because the determination of all concerns and things is situated solely in the might of the planetary or national population.

47. The world government and the peoples authorities must therefore never act otherwise, as this is determined by the planetary or national population.

Billy:

Then the whole thing is based on a kind of internet? How does it stand, however, when crises and emergencies arise that require a quick decision and a prompt action?

Ptaah:

48. According to your understanding, you can call the whole thing as such.

49. And when a crisis or an emergency arises, which then requires a quick decision and a prompt action, then the whole planetary population or each relevant population of the people is called to the voting machines, namely in the form of a general mobilization alarm call, where only one hours time will be given for that to become active.

50. Then every person has the right to duly raise comments, which are heard and discussed, from which ultimately a logical decision must come forth, which is then put to the vote.

51. However, such situations are more than extremely rare, consequently a last such mobilization dates back two decades.

Billy:

However, if such a case of a mobilization occurs, then that can perhaps take a long time until something is well-regulated?

Ptaah:

52. Such can actually take up much time, whereby however, crises and emergencies are extremely rare, as I said a little while ago.

Billy:

And who leads and then directs the whole thing in such situations? And generally what is the nature of such crises and emergency situations?

Ptaah:

53. When it comes to planetary matters, they are carried out and handled by the spiritual leadership familiar with the matter, and in collaboration with the world government and the world's population.

54. When it just concerns matters pertaining to a country, then the authorities of the peoples concerned and the corresponding populations are needed.

55. And concerning the crisis and emergency situations, these can be very different, such as e.g. regarding a tactical intervention, if such is demanded from a region of a people or an entire planet of the Plejaren Federation.

56. Even extensive relief operations in one or more peoples, or even a whole planet of the Federation may be possible, such as in the case of threatening dangers from outer space or with natural disasters, and so on.

Billy:

Then with regard to Erra, actually there are seen more external i.e. extra-planetary situations, than just those that apply to Erra and its population?

Ptaah:

57. This is the case, yes, because on Erra we have reported, for as long as anyone can remember, no more crises and emergency situations, neither with regard to natural events nor with respect to the population.

Billy:

How nice if that would also be the case on the Earth. But if I gather correctly from your words, then at the very least not everyone in the Plejaren Federation stands in such a high level of development as you Plejaren, or am I wrong here? Is there in the Federation perhaps still peoples who are somehow unpeaceful and make trouble?

Ptaah:

58. You are not wrong, because although we Plejaren are making great efforts, federation-wide, to keep everything in a peaceful form, various Federation peoples are still deplorably devoted to unpeacefulness and thus also armed confrontations, which sometimes requires, yet only rarely however, our intervention.

59. However, any intervention on our part must firstly be approved by a consent of the total population of the Plejaren, wherein the pros and cons will extensively be discussed and weighed out, as our democratic vote formulas demand this.

60. The reconnaissance work regarding this is carried out by specialized spiritual guides and law enforcement forces, which also have the corresponding forward-looking capabilities in order to predict what will result as effects from the causes, which are taken.

Billy:

And how about it, when lots of folks come forward for a word, is there not a mess? And when I think that the entire world population gets in on the act, then ...

Ptaah:

61. Much attention is taken to ensure that order prevails and therefore no Ausartungen comes forth.

62. Therefore in each case it is carefully handled and spoken, whereby no excessive chatter arises and the individuals who have something to say, will not be interrupted if their objections and contributions are pertinent and correspond to the rationality.

63. Thereby the rule applies that only short and concise objections, clarifications and suggestions, as well as the listing of possibilities and necessary actions and so forth will be made.

64. Those fond of speaking, who want to run the speech-marathons, there are indeed those unfortunately, but every such word-barrage is interrupted and the word is passed on to the next person who has something to bring forward.

65. The fact that several people talk together, this is not permitted, therefore regarding this, there is no mayhem.

66. Therefore it may well take several hours or two or more days under certain circumstances, before a promising rational solution comes about and to a vote, which is useful and gives enough consideration to the crisis at hand or the emergency problem.

Billy:

With us one says, long speech, short sense. Unfortunately, with the running of long speeches without actually saying something substantial, this is also the case with us on the earth in politics. This is also expressed in our group every now and then, because similarly not everything is perfect with us. Some humans just like to hear themselves talk. But it is gratifying to hear that this problem occurs not only with some of our group members as well as with the politicians and people of our earthly peoples, but in your population as well. If I now understand correctly, then it is with you in such discussions of voting, commitment and action, since around such it is indeed my opinion, therefore no joyful chattering, but given the opportunity, only reasonable words, statements, action requirements and modes of behaviour.

Ptaah:

67. That is so.

68. Each speech marathon will be stopped, and any problems at hand of any kind must be quickly, well and efficiently handled and supplied a solution.

69. Therefore nothing should be pushed onto the back burner, as you tend to say at times.

...

Billy:

... If I have understood correctly, then one could understand the whole of your democracy similarly to a democratic rural community, as we still have this in Switzerland in the cantons of Glarus and Appenzell, whereby beforehand, regarding the election process, no propaganda, i.e.

advertising for a matter may be made, as this is however the case elsewhere than the mentioned rural communities in Switzerland. So that with you no mass persuasion can take place, as also no gathering of people can take place, as you had said, being that the election agenda is called only a short time before the elections open. And since the time for the election is only 30 minutes, and so each person is practically situated only by themselves and with their own opinion, no nationwide and partisan election propaganda can take place. Also as a result, no party system and no party dictatorship can take place, and I find that fair, good and democratic.

Ptaah:

72. That is correct.

73. We handle a direct democracy in this wise, which in every respect prescribes that neither the world government nor the authorities of the countries and their peoples may take any of their own decisions nor make regulations, unless the entire planet's population has decided about that based on a ballot and has considered something as right.

74. As I explained, all countries i.e. their populations have a uniform legislation, valid planet-wide and a determination of might, as well as with regard to all other things that uniformly affect all peoples.

75. If the authorities are elected in a nation, then this of course pertains only to the nation, i.e. its population, although the voting process remains the same, as if a planet-wide vote takes place.

Billy:

So only the people can determine who belongs to the peoples-authority or to the world government?

Ptaah:

76. This is indeed so, because such a process of a direct democracy corresponds solely in this wise.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_584

Billy:

... How do you feel about neutrality?

Ptaah:

22. We cultivate it in a very serious way.

Billy:

But what is it like in relation to your Federation?

Ptaah:

23. On all the worlds of our Federation the same laws, rights and regulations apply, both to the world governments of the different worlds and to the governments of the people.

24. Our Plejaren World Government is the guideline for all other world governments, as it is also the case for the governments of the people.

25. No world government, as well as no people's government, which you call e.g. cantonal or district and municipal government etc., interferes in any way in the interests of others, because they maintain neutrality throughout.

Billy:

On the 1st of March you said that you Plejaren on other worlds of your Federation are entitled to intervene in emergency situations or in the maintenance of order etc.; what about your neutrality?

Ptaah:

26. Interventions are only made according to established treaties with the different worlds, but such interventions do not mean more than assistance, which, above all, is only given when it is demanded by the majority of the respective world population.

Billy:

By aid I mean aid that is really only aimed at doing the best possible for the benefit of the respective populations. I also understand that this does not mean going to arms, but really only providing assistance. But what is it like when situations and events of violence occur on any world of your Federation?

Ptaah:

27. Then these are matters which have to be settled by the respective forces of order of the respective Federation worlds, and this in a way which corresponds to non-Gewalt (note Billy: non-Gewalt means: active use without harmful Gewalt).

28. In such things – if such things arise at all, which is extremely rare – we Plejaren have no authority to interfere and become action-oriented.

29. If, however, a decision is made by the respective world population to provide mediatory and advisory assistance, then we may of course become active in this way.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_585

Billy:

... This 3D printing technology, is it in any way comparable to your multi-cold duplicators, multi-duplicators, replicators, or whatever you want to call them, machines or devices?

Ptaah:

27. No, not at all, because it corresponds to a completely different technique than our duplicators, as you call these devices.

28. These 3D-printers need various material materials to produce any kind of objects etc., so they are still a rather primitive technology and therefore no comparison can be made with our duplicators.

29. Our devices do not need any material materials, because their basic material for the production of all utility and other objects, as well as machines, flying apparatus and residential buildings etc. etc., we obtain from the spheres of planets as well as directly from the space of the universe, whereby we extract the necessary substances from the inexhaustible cosmic sea of electrons and generate the necessary matter from the electrons, in order to then duplicate all conceivably necessary products from them by means of programmed templates.

...

Billy:

My question is not just about wild animals that you do not hunt, but also about all other animals and all the creatures. You are also producing meat through your multipliers, which, as I mentioned in the extract, is equivalent to animal meat. This synthetic meat, on the one hand, is it made up of animal protein and all the other substances that animal meat has, and on the other hand, is it also possible for you to synthetically generate different kinds of meat from animals and from creatures and also their meat taste?

Ptaah:

30. That is of course the case.

Billy:

Then another question on this: Do you kill any animals at all, as well as reptiles, fish, birds and other animal creatures?

Ptaah:

31. We Plejaren respect and protect all life of every genus and species, so we do not kill animals, creatures or other living creatures for food, care or other purposes.

32. If, however, necessity should require it, which is practically impossible, that as a result of life-support and thus for the food of human beings, living beings would have to be killed, then these would only be very low animals and low animals etc.

Billy:

This is also known to me, but I wanted to hear it from you again. But what do you define in terms of low animals and low animals?

Ptaah:

33. The comparison with earthly low animals is not just any kind of animal or creature, but their size, which is estimated to correspond to a dwarf rabbit of earthly norm.

34. However, killing is only permitted if no other food source, such as fruits, vegetables and herbs etc., is available.

Billy:

You also keep pets, such as the Ulrak, which runs around Quetzal's compound. Quetzal also has cattle and horses, etc., which he has brought from Earth to Erra because he loves to play farmer in an earthly way and often sits in his log cabin, which he has built in an earthly style. When he is there – in fact, I had to laugh out loud when I saw him – and he is reading old earthly newspapers, he has glasses on, but they only contain window glass.

Ptaah:

35. He finds it very romantic, so he pursues this leisure activity in his leisure hours.

36. Many of the human beings on Erra, as well as in our whole Federation, also indulge in some kind of speciality which they cultivate in their leisure time.

Billy:

We call it a hobby. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_586

Billy:

Then I would like to talk about why you are not allowed to accept gifts from earthlings, because I am always being asked to give you, your daughter Semjase or Florena, etc. things. It is simply not to be understood that you are forbidden to do so because of the possible introduction of bacteria and viruses etc. into Erra. It is true that if you drink or eat chocolate with me, you will first have to neutralize it with your little device, and you will always be surrounded by your own personal shield, which will protect you from being infected by bacteria or viruses here on Earth. It should not be forgotten that when you are with me, this shield also neutralises everything you come into contact with, including me.

Ptaah:

47. On the one hand our directives determine this in this way, on the other hand we have to protect ourselves from all the earthly influences which are harmful to our health, because the Earth is full of dangers for us with regard to bacteria and viruses etc.

48. So we must be extremely careful not to come into contact with any germs that are harmful to our health or in any other way, so as not to endanger our own health on the one hand, but also to ensure that we do not introduce dangerous germs into our flying apparatus or onto Erra and other of our worlds.

Billy:

But how is it that you used to bring all kinds of things from Earth to Erra?

Ptaah:

49. This required special permissions, whereby the things, as you call them, had to remain in quarantine for several months in specially equipped flying apparatus, where all objects, but also animals and creatures etc. were neutralised with regard to dangerous and harmful bacteria and viruses as well as vermin etc.

Billy:

You could also do that today, couldn't you?

Ptaah:

50. We could, but our directives prohibit it.

51. In special and important cases, exemptions can be granted, but these are very strictly weighed and are hardly ever granted anymore, because in the past very bad experiences were made by importing objects, animals and creatures etc. to Erra.

Billy:

Then it is also clear now that when we come together you make me neutralized by vibrations each time, so to speak, and harmless to you in terms of bacteria and viruses. I knew this from the first meeting with Semjase, because she told me in confidence, but if we are now talking openly about it, then this can also be said in the end.

Ptaah:

52. Which is nothing to object to.

Billy:

What else interests me about the exemptions, when things from other worlds want to be imported into Erra, to what extent are such exemptions granted, to which persons, and also for hobbies?

Ptaah:

53. In principle, all persons can apply for exceptional permits, which as a rule are also granted, although all security precautions must be taken and observed.

54. However, it is extremely rare that such applications are made, because there is no great need in our populations for things, objects and any goods from other worlds.

55. The interest is usually in things and goods that exist and are available on Erra.

56. If there is a need for goods which come from other worlds and which are of erra-planetary or erra-volcanic necessity, then these goods will be imported under the same security conditions as those which also apply to the extremely rare imports which are applied for by private individuals with exceptional permission.

Billy:

Quetzal and one of his friends have a hobby of terrestrial animals and vehicles. Are there others who have similar hobbies?

Ptaah:

57. This is not the case, as far as I know, because such incidents are registered by the world government, and no other person with the same hobby passions is mentioned in our records.

58. Nevertheless, there are persons who collect various things from other worlds and are passionately connected to them.

59. As I have said, this is very rare, because our people are more interested in our different cultures and all their connections to them than in things, objects and goods from other worlds.

Billy:

So, then, every human being has the right, when he wishes or wants, to obtain things and goods from other worlds.

Ptaah:

60. That is so, yes, but as I said before, such interests are extremely rare, because on Erra we have everything that the human beings and the entire population need.

Billy:

So the Errans are very frugal in this respect, but they are also frugal in other ways, aren't they?

Ptaah:

61. That is so.

62. Even if all Errans have everything possible at their disposal, they are also content with what is simply necessary for them.

Billy:

Which probably means that they do not overdo it in their demands, do not hoard and do not grab all kinds of things, even though everything is available to them in good measure at their whim?

Ptaah:

63. You said it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_588

Billy:

Actually, it would be time to officially mention what you just pointed out, namely that you retrieve the answers to many of my questions etc. with your little device, just as your daughter Semjase and Quetzal also did whenever it was necessary to answer my questions.

Ptaah:

73. Actually, we have never talked openly about this, because there was never any reason to do so, but it is indeed the case that I – as well as my daughter and Quetzal – cannot always reproduce all the data etc. only from our memory, which is why we always call up the corresponding data when it is necessary to be able to answer your questions.

Billy:

But still you have a fabulous memory. But it is perhaps good that the readers of the contact reports now know that many of my questions have always been answered in the way that you retrieved them with your little device. But I would also like to know how it all works.

Ptaah:

74. With this little device I transmit your questions to my archive in my flying apparatus, where your words are automatically converted into the language of the archive at the moment of speaking, evaluated and at the same time the corresponding answer data is picked out and transmitted to me again, directly into my consciousness.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_590

Billy:

... Now a question regarding your {Quetzal's} Ulrak, is the animal male or female? Ptaah once told me that it is native to Erra.

Quetzal:

51. It is a female mammal, and in fact it is an animal native to Erra.

Billy:

You Plejaren do not keep pets in the same sense as earthlings, that is, that animals are kept in human living quarters. ...

...

And how is it with you, is it usual to keep animals or animals in enclosures, as for example with us on Earth, where especially dogs and cats, guinea pigs, mice, rats, hamsters, birds and fish are kept and given false love?

Quetzal:

53. This is not the case here, because all animal and gelatinous life-forms, as well as all other life-forms, live in the wild, where they may also have suitable stables and shelters, as you once called such buildings.

54. But this is only true when animals or creatures etc. are looked after by human beings, which is extremely rare.

Billy:

You are a hobby farmer with cattle that you brought from the Earth to Erra. So you have cows and of course from time to time also calves, besides bisons, buffalos and horses as well as various red deer etc. I have also seen chickens, geese, ducks and rabbits on your very large grounds used for this purpose, and apart from a few animals that you look after yourself, there are also some cows that you milk, as well as two horses that you sometimes ride, all others living completely free and wild. You are also often surrounded by your Ulrak, which has simply become accustomed to you without any special training or education, as you told me. But how big is, according to the earthly masses, the whole huge area of land, which you control with all the life-forms on it in many different genera and species and which is also partly cultivated by your androids?

Quetzal:

55. According to the masses known to you, the entire area is about 340 square kilometres, but my personal property per family is only one hectare, while the rest of the land belongs to the general public, but is made available to me for the purpose of keeping animals and other forms of life.

56. Some settled life-forms originate from Erra itself, others from the Earth or from other worlds unknown to you.

57. The whole area of the country is open and freely accessible to all persons from all over Erra, who are able to enjoy themselves in terms of their interests and through observations of the animals, animals, birds, reptiles, amphibians, fish and other living creatures, as well as the diverse plants, flowers, blossoms, trees, bushes and shrubs etc.

58. My large area of land in this respect is known all over Erra and corresponds to what you on Earth would call a national park.

Billy:

As you told me once before, none of the animals and creatures etc. are killed, nor are they used for food or in any other way. And you also said that hunting is not allowed either.

Quetzal:

59. That is of correctness.

60. All animals and all creatures etc., including those in the wild, may not be hunted or killed in our country, unless there is an emergency situation when an animal or creature living under human care is injured by some unfortunate circumstance to such an extent that it suffers terrible pain and is no longer viable.

61. In such a case it may be released from its suffering by killing.

62. Hunting is not permitted as a matter of principle, because every animal and creature stock etc. in the wild can and must regulate itself by its own laws.

Billy:

And predators and birds of prey, do you also have them? That is actually to be assumed. But what about the protection of the human beings from predators, especially when confrontations arise?

Quetzal:

63. That is of correct, because predators, beasts of prey and birds of prey etc. are natural regulators of all wildlife in the wild.

64. And since we do not interfere with our nature in any way through human activities, everything in the whole of Erra's wildlife is regulated in a normal, natural way, so no human intervention is necessary.

...

69. And what you ask about the protection of the human beings when they are confronted with predators and large birds of prey – our largest Erran birds of prey have a wingspan of six metres, while the largest predators have a total length of five metres – they are driven away by vibrational vibrations.

...

70. Our vibrating devices are absolutely reliable and when we go out into the wild and it is expected that predators, predators or dangerous birds of prey may be present in an area, each person carries an appropriate vibrating device.

71. This ensures all safety in connection with dangerous encounters and, as far as our records make clear, there has never been a dangerous confrontation between human beings and any predators, beasts of prey etc. or birds of prey for hundreds of years.

72. So we do not kill any animals, beasts of prey etc. or birds of prey either, because no dangerous extreme situations can arise between them and the human beings.

Billy:

I wonder why you photographed the previous device {stack cutter} and now want to do it with the new one?

Ptaah:

53. The purpose is to archive all your equipment and machines necessary for you, the mission and for the construction and maintenance of the Centre, as well as for the management of fields, paths and forests.

54. We have also recorded the work with the equipment, devices and machines in action since the very beginning in the Center, both with all the group members and with you, when you were using the caterpillar machine. (note Billy: loader crawler for earthmoving with rear excavator) and the excavator, you have excavated the biotope and worked the pulpit lacquer and the garden with the tractor and the rotary cultivator (note Billy: rotary cultivator) and ploughed the snow with the snow plough (note Billy: snow plough) and the rotary cultivator has thrown away the snow.

55. All that we have photographed, we have of course presented to our peoples on Erra and also treated in public discussions, because the whole was completely foreign to our peoples, both in terms of earthly techniques, as well as your work with only one arm and your tireless commitment.

56. Our peoples could not imagine that, so the whole thing was only comprehensible to them by showing them the records.

Undoubtedly, dear friend. So let's play chess ...

Billy:

... And when I listen to your words, I think that on Erra you don't have all these problems regarding toxins in food, as is the case here on earth. This is precisely because I think that you do not apply any poisons and therefore no artificial fertilizers, pesticides and pest poisons to your food, such as berries, fruits, vegetables, herbs and fruit.

Ptaah:

135. Exactly, this is the case, because we only use natural substances that are purely vegetable and absolutely non-toxic for the environment, plants and animals and for humans in food cultivation and production.

136. On the other hand, we also produce a great deal of food through multi-duplicators, as you once called these devices, whereby the basic material for this type of food production are the all-pervasive and immeasurable masses of electrons from which anything can be produced.

... I explained to the listeners in the kitchen that you are carrying a tiny, millimetre-sized device with you, which has a vibration protection screen around you with a radius of action of about one meter, sphere of influence, half diameter, sphere of action, i.e. a diameter of two meters, which protects you on earth or on other foreign worlds etc. from bacteria and viruses, but also from insects and vermin, as well as from dirt, rain etc. and from any atmosphere. This protective umbrella, in which you are also given your own atmosphere, which I did not explain, allows you to embrace me or each other, allowing the umbrella to be squeezed imperceptibly to a fraction of a millimetre without being damaged in any way or ineffective for you as protection. ...

Billy:

And what about you Plejaren with traffic accidents? You don't ride on roads with bike vehicles, you glide through the air with hovering vehicles?

Ptaah:

32. Our planetary airways are designed and secured in such a way that accidents caused by collisions, etc. are impossible, and consequently human lives are neither harmed nor lamented, nor is there any material damage to the hovering aircraft.

Billy:

... As you have told me several times in the course of our conversations since 1975, the pear or avocado fruit was already genetically manipulated more than 13,500 years ago by extraterrestrials or by Plejaren immigrants in the tropical regions of Earth and called 'pear' by the people of that time, because the fruit was also used for feeding pigs. So there was a cultivation of naturally genetically modified avocados, which have been used as food by humans ever since. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_650

Ptaah:

16. First, the number of 144,000 people corresponds to a very early norm of a 'emigration power' created by Nokodemion, which was usually led by 228 commanders – although there were seldom small exceptions – who, together with the emigration power, were under the command of an emigration swiss.

17. Such emigration powers were volunteers who idealistically agreed to spend the rest of their lives with early humans on other worlds – as well as on Earth – in order to teach them many helpful things about life management and development.

18. For the first time, such an emigration force was sent out millions of years ago, followed by several more in four galaxies over all times, and thus also into the SOL system and finally to Earth.

19. The last one to Earth was sent according to earthly time calculation about 13,500 years ago, where the Nokodemion people emigrants on the one hand were to have an instructive effect on Earth-humans, which they partly did, but on the other hand caused for the most part many calamities, especially with regard to rising up as deities and bringing religions into being.

20. And they did so when they were smuggled into all earthly peoples and great tribal communities, whereby delusional beliefs in God developed among all peoples, tribes and groups etc. throughout the world, even among wild indigenous tribes.

21. This led to the emergence of religions and sects, which expanded more and more and have survived to the present day and into the third millennium, respectively, and will continue to do so for a very long time to come.

22. All those of these extraterrestrial immigrants who remained on Earth also died there, and since then their spiritual forms have also reincarnated and will continue to reincarnate on Earth, precisely in ever new personalities of newly born Earth-humans.

23. So the 144,000 emigrants and their superiors and leaders were integrated worldwide as instructors into all existing earthly peoples and large tribes as well as various groups in which they had to act as instructors.

24. And like I said:

25. Many also fulfilled this obligation and thus led Earth humanity in technical, medical and scientific regard on a higher level, however always in accordance with the possibilities prevailing at that time and also further on Earth.

26. In this way everything has been carried and developed since then up to the present time, consequently by the descendants of the old extraterrestrial immigrants from the Nokodemion descendants who came to Earth – who since then have been born again and again as new personalities and continue to be born -, innovations in medicine and technology etc., as well as new insights and expanded knowledge have been brought and continue to be brought.

27. And many of these distant descendants of the former 144,000 Nokodemion descendants-ethnic-emigrants became and are, as a result of their evolution of consciousness and their abilities of various kinds transferred to them by their total-conscious-blocks, very talented in certain areas and powerful in this respect in progressive innovations which are not yet possible for the pure Earth-created Earth-men.

28. And such persons from the number of 144,000 – as well as various others at other times, but also in the number of 144,000 each – were also the ones whom we, as the authoritative inventors, researchers, physicians, technicians, computer scientists and scientists etc. of certain areas on Earth, taught about knowledge, insights and developments etc. in an apparatus-impulse hypnotic manner and without their knowledge, which was made possible for us by our directives.

29. Therefore, when we committed ourselves to this teaching activity, we were only allowed to take care of the distant descendants of the former immigrants of the Nokodemion descendant peoples who were in active life, but we were not allowed to take care of any pure terrestrial human beings who existed from the ground up.

Billy:

How often did the Nokodemion descendants of such emigration powers, each comprising 144,000 people, come to Earth? And what would also be of interest to me here would be the number of people who have finally remained on Earth and died there as a whole of these immigrants, so that they were born again on Earth as new personalities and continue to be born? It would really be very interesting to know this, if you have records of it?

Ptaah:

...

31. If for a moment ... yes here yes, our annals refer to a number of eight different emigration powers of 144,000 persons each and 228 superiors each, who came to Earth in the course of more than two million years from the Nokodemion descendant peoples.

32. And here is a total number of 1,151,828 people who were involved.

33. Of these persons, 575,914 remained on Earth, died there and are born again with their old reincarnating spirit-forms as new personalities.

Billy:

And these have been decisive since time immemorial with regard to all developments and great achievements of humanity on Earth, are also active in the modern age and will continue to be so in the future. Through their help, in the course of time, many pure Earth-humans could also develop to a high level of knowledge and can, consequently, a great deal of progress has been made for some time in all areas and in every respect also by pure Earth-humans, I think, isn't it?

Ptaah:

34. That's true, but it's still mainly the reborn new personalities of the former Nokodemion descendants who are in the foreground.

Billy:

Can I understand it, but how did it happen that 144,000 each agreed to give up their highly developed culture and live on Earth with early humans like Homo erectus?

Ptaah:

35. On the one hand, they were pronounced idealists who were willing to provide development aid, so to speak, as is similarly the case on Earth, where such aid is provided for third world countries, etc. On the other hand, they were also very active in the field of development aid.

Billy:

Then it kind of rubbed off on Earth-humans.

Ptaah:

36. You can say that, but on the other hand there were also genetically manipulated refugees from the Sirius regions among the immigrants from the Nokodemion descendants, as well as fallible resp. delinquents of the home planets, who preferred – instead of being sent into exile, which was applied in the most drastic and severe manner – to emigrate with such emigration powers and at liberty to teach early humans in the manufacture of various kinds of products, such as tools and hunting weapons, clothing and food containers, etc.

37. Primitive art, music and all kinds of knowledge were also taught to early man by these immigrants, as well as knowledge concerning the heavenly bodies, medicine concerning medicinal plants, etc., and the use of fire, etc.

Billy:

And how and where were the distributions of these immigrant persons made among the early earthly human beings?

Ptaah:

38. Small immigrant groups were formed, which were integrated into earthly early human groups all over the world, while others joined early humans as loners or lived as their own small groups, which then also mixed with the early humans over time.

39. In these forms it was possible that mergers with the immigrants and the early humans could come about, which was however not always simple, but often connected with fights, which also claimed deaths on both sides.

40. But in the end everything regulated itself in one way or another, so that the teachings could also take place and bear fruit.

Billy:

So the whole thing was not easy, but therefore the actual creators of all progressive inventions of the early humans were to be led back to the immigrants of the Nokodemion descendants peoples. And this was the only reason why the humanity of today, which emerged from the early humans, could develop so drastically fast and as far as is the case today, with regard to electronics, inventions, craftsmanship, art, medicine, music and technology, etc. and so on. In principle it would not have been possible without the direct immigrants from the Nokodemion peoples and without their distant descendants and all their teachings, as well as also without your apparatus-impulse hypnotic influence of the descendants of the extraterrestrial immigrants that earthly mankind could develop so rapidly and to a large extent up to the today's conditions.

Ptaah:

41. During the first millions of years and millennia this was indeed the case, of course only in primitive developments of various things, for everything always had to be adapted to the corresponding state of consciousness of Earth humanity.

42. This is because it was only possible to avoid an overdevelopment in every respect, because such an overdevelopment could not have been coped with by the Earth-humans in terms of understanding and reason.

43. The early extraterrestrial immigrants naturally had to withhold their knowledge as well as their abilities and possibilities in every imaginable form and to downgrade themselves in this respect in order not to overtax the early earthly humans – who became known as 'Homo erectus' through research in modern times – and also later the more highly developed earthly humans with 'excessive abilities', on the one hand, and on the other hand in order to adapt to them in every necessary way.

Billy:

... How do the Pleiarians and the members of their federation feel about alliance love or about entering into love relationships; how high is the proportion of Pleiarian women and men in the total population who are classified into a polygamous alliance?

Ptaah:

62. Our federations are in no way subject to the provisions, laws and regulations of the relevant Plejaren forms, for all federations have their own, over which we Plejarens do not exercise control.

63. However, in all federations it is given that their own regulations, laws and ordinances are largely – but not necessarily – aligned with our Plejaren values.

...

67. The number of women and men out of the total population of registered polygamous alliances is not known to me personally, but only the last statistics, which were evaluated according to Earthly time two Earth years ago and resulted in a result of such alliances of 62 percent according to the total population.

Billy:

The rule with you is one to three or a man to three women, but more rarely also one to four. But what about monogamous alliances, lack of alliances or being single or alone and unregistered or free alliances, as you say, which are called 'wild marriage' by us, can you please also name the data in this regard?

Ptaah:

68. Of course.

69. Monogamous alliances are listed here according to statistics with 5 percent, non-alignment with 7 percent and free alliances with 26 percent of the total population, whereby here also in this respect no numerical data are given.

Billy:

That'll do, thank you. The next question is: In spite of the high level of consciousness and self-control of the Plejaren, are there still problems with jealousy, claims to possessions and comparable emotions between partners who have united in an alliance love?

Ptaah:

70. Unfortunately, such unworthiness can also appear with our Plejaren peoples, but in extremely few cases such unworthiness results, which are usually regulated without exception peacefully in the end and whereby the misconstrued in this way end their alliance for reasons of reason and remain from now on usually unaligned.

Billy:

Good and patented regulation, I think. Then the following question: How do the Plejaren keep it with the personal freedom within the alliance love form; are there any obligations and mutual dependencies that restrict freedom?

Ptaah:

71. Every form of alliance contains obligations for all persons of both sexes who are in alliances, which must be clarified and adhered to jointly in the alliance partnerships between the performers of the alliances.

72. Personal freedom must not be negatively affected in any way, but must be preserved and exercised.

73. So, in the case of alliances of all forms, the necessary obligations must also be discussed and complied with in mutuality, with no dependencies whatsoever being allowed to appear, which could restrict freedom, because, as I explained, personal freedom must never be negatively affected.

74. Personal freedom inevitably excludes degenerations of any kind that could question, damage, or dissolve the alliance, and consequently degenerating incidents in alliances are extremely rare.

Billy:

... How do the Plejari women and men practice everyday life in a polygamous alliance; does the man live alternately with a woman with whom he may have children, or do all of them live together in a polygamous alliance of united partners in a house or in a common dwelling?

Ptaah:

75. In this respect, there are various forms, depending on the agreements between the husband and his wives.

76. Thus, both polygamous Alliance communities in a single dwelling may be possible, as well as polygamous alliances in separate dwellings in one place or in different places for each woman and her children can be maintained.

77. This depends on the agreements of the allies.

Billy:

Then that's clear too. Then the following question: Who takes care of the upbringing of the children in a polygamous alliance?

Ptaah:

78. Of course, the education of children is without exception the task of the biological mother and father.

Billy:

Sure, can't and shouldn't be any different, I guess. Then this question: Do Plejaren women practice same-sex love or sexuality among themselves?

Ptaah:

79. This is not the rule, but it can be absolutely possible, which is also the case for rights, if certain women have corresponding bisexual predispositions.

Billy:

You regard male homosexuality and female lesbianism as natural-normal, as you once said, and consequently there are also homosexual and lesbian alliances, which can also result in monogamous and polygamous alliances of female-male form.

Ptaah:

80. That's right too.

Billy:

Then there was this question: It was once said that a couple should get to know each other better over a certain period of time in the Plejaren, before an alliance is formed and then it is examined whether the two people really should fit together and form an alliance. How exactly do the Plejaren and their spiritual leaders determine whether two people fit together so well that they can enter into an alliance love?

Ptaah:

81. Such exams are absolutely voluntary, but are nevertheless conditional on registration and are recommended and offered by the Spirit Leadership and used and conducted by the allies of all kinds

82. For more than 3000 years no case has been known that an alliance would have been formed without these prior checks, which also applies to the free alliances.

83. In this way, false alliances are so extremely rare that they are not recorded statistically.

84. The tests themselves are carried out after very precise and varied clarifications, factor analyses and tests, primarily with regard to the type and condition of the partnership relationship, the character value, as well as with regard to partnership freedom, partnership behaviour, partnership relationship ability, Descendant parenting skills, partnership crisis management skills, partnership compromise skills, partnership handling skills, partnership willingness, partnership ability, partnership trust, partnership openness, partnership attitude, partnership communication and partnership commonalities, etc.

85. The entire list of clarifications, factor analysis and tests includes 70 important moments, which also include non-partnership and social, but also psychological and interpersonal relationships, as well as educational and life-style values, etc., all of which, however, would have to be enumerated.

(Note Enjana: Exam takes three to six days, depending on the time.)

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_653

Billy:

... You promised me during your last visit to our private meeting that you would do some research in your annals in order to be able to give me more precise information on my questions regarding the fact that you Plejaren have been living in peace for more than 50,000 years, i.e. without wars and revolutions and terrorism etc., and also in a truly direct democracy. I am also interested in how it was before with regard to the forms of government and the administrations of your countries, and how did your united world or the community of nations on Erra come about? As you know, on Earth we have various state governments up to dictatorships, as well as lower administrations subordinate to the state governments, as is the case, for example, in Switzerland, where the Federal Council, the National Council and the Council of States form the supreme government, then in the cantonal governments as well as district and municipal administrations, and so on. Did you Plejaren have similar conditions in earlier times, or what was it like? ...

...

... But now I have another question: whether you Plejaren previously had similar forms of government to those that exist today on Earth?

Ptaah:

14. That was in fact the case, as the ancient records regarding a peaceful global world-leadership among several Plejaren folks were not heeded, for which reason insurrections, wars, revolutions and diverse forms of terrorism occurred.

15. But that resulted from the fact that five different folks distantly descended from the Nokodemion-lineage had settled on Erra, who were rivals to each other, about which however I should give a few significant explanations for your information.

16. Of course, I cannot be too detailed with those, but will only discuss the most important information, because the whole history is so extensive that a day-long lecture would be required to discuss it all.

17. Hence, I shall begin: our ur-ur-folk, from which I myself am distantly descended, bore since time immemorial the designation Nokdemisdarn, which means, in the language of our ur-ur-ancestors, in brief, folk of Nokodemion.

18. This ur-ur-folk comprised 11 folks, which had their homeworld on a planet called Errana in a star-system called Isdkura.

19. When the astronomers realized that a destructive change was happening in the star-system Isdkura, in which our ur-ur-ancestors lived, and that an annihilation of the whole system was imminent and the destruction was spreading rapidly, through which the home-planet Errana was also threatened with destruction, a resettlement-possibility in another star-system on another planet was sought for all the folks.

20. Such a star-system was in fact found after a few years, so all 11 folks – who in total comprised 510 million human beings – were resettled in the new system within 28 years, namely on two different planets in two different solar systems.

21. The cosmic destruction-process of the Isdkura-star-system lasted 214 years before the whole system was entirely wiped out.

22. The resettlement in the new star-system, which was about six light-years across, happened about 26 million years ago, and since then till the present time we have been based in the Plejaren-system, which will also remain so.

23. The resettlement occurred into two different solar systems on two life-bearing-able planets in a large star-system resp. a so-called open, loose star-cluster.

24. Already at the beginning of the colonization in the new star-system, it was called Plejaren by our ur-ur-ancestors, namely in alteration of the name Pleijara, after the Jschrjsch presiding over the resettlement.

25. Our ur-ur-ancestors chose this star-system-designation according to an old, passed down tradition that stated that the first folk that colonized a formerly uninhabited but now habitable planet in a new star-system should take for the name of the star-system the name of the Ishwish resp. Jschwjsch, or of the Ishrish or Jschrjsch in charge of the action.

26. Borrowing from the home-planet Errana, the new home-planet was then named, in abbreviated form, Erra.

27. This on the one hand, on the other hand the new planet Erra was colonized by the first six folks that had been following the teaching of the prophets since time immemorial and were therefore peaceful, democratic and heedful and following of the Creational laws and recommendations.

28. From this lineage descended all the clans of my genealogy, who have undertaken since time immemorial to follow and spread the teaching of the prophets, namely the teaching that had its origin with the universal prophet Nokodemion.

29. The ancient undertaking traced back to then, because – as our annals state – the most distant ur-ur-ancestors of my own lineage issue from the universal-prophet Nokodemion.

30. The mission on Earth is also in this succession of undertaking, which has lasted up to this day and in which also our early as well as our direct forebears were involved in recent millennia.

...

35. So, the home-planet of the emigrants from the star-system Idskura had been destroyed by a cosmic catastrophe, for which reason the humankind existing there had to leave and seek out a new home, which they found in the new star-system which was known to them and was located more than four thousand light-years away, which after the colonization they named Plejaren, and which contained, in the six-light-year-encompassing system-space, about 563 system-members.

36. In this Plejaren-system there existed solar systems with planets, among which two were capable of bearing human and other diverse forms of life.

37. Consequently, these worlds were considered for colonization by the settlers, so the first six folks – to which my ur-ur-ancestors also belonged – who formed a knowledge and teaching-successive community, colonized the planet that was called Erra.

38. The other five folks were entitled a planet in a neighbouring solar system that was given the name Erras.

39. This planet, too, was naturally a planet capable of bearing life for human beings and for other life-forms, so the settlers remained there from then on.

40. Everything went well for all the following millions of years, as the population of all folks was maintained, in accordance with the prescribed law, at a size of a little more than 500 million in total, as had been laid down in law since time immemorial in order that no overpopulation could occur and so that no unsolvable problems and no destructions to nature or to the planet be elicited.

41. But then it came to pass a little less than 112,300 years B.C. by terrestrial Jmmanuel-based-reckoning, that a might-obsessed Ishwish and an Ishrish from two of the folks joined forces in an Ausartung-corresponding wise, who united their two folks and brought about a Gewalt-rule by means of minions drilled in acts of Gewalt, and were able to enforce this against all resistance.

42. The conjoined populations were terrorized and tormented, as all the ancient traditional laws, recommendations, regulations and manners were replaced by Ausartung-corresponding new decrees, and the two might-obsessed ones were placed in the position of a higher might.

43. The process lasted more than 200 years and disabled the population in regard to their own powers of decision-making as well as in their intellect and rationality.

44. And this occurred in a form whereby the two might-possessors were obligatorily treated as absolute dictators, which quickly led to compulsory submissiveness and servitude of the population as well as ultimately to the delusional belief that the dictators be in possession of the almightiness and the Creation-power.

45. The inevitable consequence thereof led quickly and inevitably to worship of the dictators, and so to a state of belief of a religious form, because the human beings had submissively distanced themselves far from the reality through the Gewalt-rulership and imagined themselves, contrary to intellect and rationality, to be free, protected and independent, so long as they humbly, prayingly and undissentingly submitted to the Gewalt-rulership.

46. Hence, in a religious wise, real flesh-and-blood might-obsessed human beings were worshipped as Creational omnipotences, unlike the imaginary, unreal deities, as the wonder-working Creator-beings in our fairytale-forms were called.

47. In doing so, they unlearned that they owed their entire existence ultimately to their own achievement and not to the dictators.

48. Ultimately the human beings came to believe, in their centuries-long Gewalt- and compulsionaly suggestively indoctrinated delusion, that the Gewalt-rulers and their later successors of the same kind had in primeval times originally created them as human beings and had also created the air to breathe, the water to drink and even the sun, all the heavenly bodies, the planets and all life-forms.

49. For all the human beings, the Gewalt- and coercion-based delusional belief became an axiomatic resp. incontrovertible, unquestionable fact, so that all these things should have been provided to them since time immemorial by the Gewalt-rulers, who they believed to be Creationally superior to them, and that they were obliged to worship these dictators servilely, thank them for their benevolence, and in their presence to lower the gaze and cover the head.

50. Thereby, the belief came to be – and so the fact of religion – that, in having been created by the Gewalt-rulers resp. dictators, the human beings have a connection-back to these, thus exactly what is said by the term religion:

51. Binding-back (re-ligare).

52. This term relates, in the form of an irrational teaching, to the situation of the religion-believers having supposedly relinquished a connection to their dictators resp. creators, namely the belonging together with them, wherefrom there then be the obligation for them, the human beings resp. religion-believers, to reconnect with them.

53. It bears saying furthermore that, through the combination of these two folks and the delusional belief in the Gewalt-rulers resp. dictators as well as through their might-machinations and acts of Gewalt, also unpeace arose with the other three folks.

54. From this circumstance there resulted terrible and destructive wars between all the folks and, 75,140 years ago, triggered a planetary catastrophe, which ultimately spread over the whole planet Erras and took on global and devastating proportions, namely in that the planet and its atmosphere began to die off and slowly but constantly made all life impossible.

55. Hence, a mass exodus of the hostility-embroiled and embattled folks took place, and the nearest solution for them was to approach the planet Erra as their nearest place of refuge and there to set down their craft with Gewalt.

56. The anciently indigenous six folks on Erra additionally wanted to become involved in no belligerent actions, so they, albeit reluctantly, permitted the Gewalt- and invasion-ly immigration of the refugees and, naturally, refrained from their hostile entanglements, but did, however, endeavour in the name of the folk through the spirit-leadership to put an end, through peace-efforts, to the repeatedly igniting Gewalt- and war-actions among the Gewalt-ly immigrated folks, which however was completely without success.

57. The population-count of the Gewalt-doing immigrants consisted of 382 million human beings, thus all of those who had survived the war-actions on Erras.

58. Thus, the population-count on Erra rose to about 900 million, which naturally led to many problems and difficulties, which the anciently settled folks had to deal with, who naturally, in accordance with their laws, recommendations, rules and regulations, etc., were helpful to the folks of their neighbour-system.

59. They, however, did not conform to the laws and recommendations, etc, of the anciently indigenous folks, but continued their feuds and wars amongst themselves and against each other, and this continued for following centuries, yet the anciently indigenous six folks abstained and did not interfere, which was respected by the intruders.

60. This respect resulted from the fact that they knew full well that the anciently indigenous inhabitants of Erra were ready, in the event of an attack upon them, to defend themselves, and moreover were greatly superior to the would-be attackers in every respect.

61. For that matter, it further bears saying:

62. Of the eleven folks of that time thus only six of them were peaceful, democratic and, in regard to their way of life, aligned with the teaching of the prophet, which already since very early times had determined in every respect within these folks their life, their deeds, actions and behaviours and comprehensively likewise everything else about them.

63. In the course of time, these six folks formed themselves on our planet Erra together into a single folk, and this folk vested supreme authority in a nine-person spirit-leadership, which had the office of conducting the affairs of the folk according to the democratically-charactered folk-will, which has unfailingly remained the case to this day and also will remain so indefinitely.

64. The other five folks practised, as I previously explained, religious and higher-human-power-oriented belief-forms, so for the sake of Gewalt-rulers resp. dictators, whom they worshipped in a religious wise as their creators, which, for our great-folk, was naturally irreconcilable with the reality, and thus also did not correspond to the real truth.

65. All of these five diverse higher-power-believing folks were mutually unpeaceful and even hostile to one another, as similarly the populations were peaceless and loveless as well as aggressive amongst themselves.

66. Hence, also after their exodus from the unlivable home-planet Erras, they continued as before repeatedly to carry out hostile actions against each other and disturbed the peace on Erra, until ultimately, 74,200 years ago, a global war took place in all those regions inhabited by the war-obsessed folks who were engaged in their mutual hostility.

67. Toward our great-folk, however, they respected our efforts for peace and so kept at rest toward us and abstained from offensive actions against us, yet this was also no doubt ensured by our much higher technology in regard to defensive actions, for ours were very superior to theirs.

68. Insurrections, wars, revolutions and terrorism were inevitable among these folks of believably dictators because of the systems of government in operation over them, which were operated by the might-obsessed rulers.

69. These ruled the folks in a gruesome wise, similar to how has been done on Earth since time immemorial and as continues to be done, for this has been perpetuated into the present time.

70. The whole of the undemocratic systems were on the one hand practised in the form of monarchies, dictatorships and other Gewalt-rulerships, as well as, however, through similar forms as are called republics, etc, in the terrestrial sense.

71. Not until a final seven-year, extremely terrible and devastating global war, about 74,200 years ago, by the mutually hostile folks that had fled from Erras to Erra, did it come about at last – after more than half of the human population of these hostility-embroiled folks was reduced through the war-actions –, that the Errasans' minds changed for the better.

72. A political upheaval and transformation process was then sought with many ideas, which lasted around 14,000 years and did not bring any success, but always remained present and was taken up again from time to time.

73. The remaining war-folks of Erras engaged in rationality-wanting quarrels, were at odds with each other and brought forward some objections and proposals that could not be implemented, so everything came to nought.

74. They frequently imagined themselves to be disadvantaged, wanted special conditions, more might and rights, so time and again the whole matter fell through and the old forms of government were continued and validated.

75. That led again and again to insurrections, actions of war, to revolutions and terrorism.

76. Not until the individual spirit-leaders of these quarrelling, warlike folks confederated into a spirit-leadership and unitarily gave teachings to the war-folks, were the Errasans stimulated to concern themselves deeply rationally in the framework of the ancient-traditional teaching of the ancient prophet and to learn it comprehensively.

77. But the efforts for that fundamentally came from the spirit-leadership of the anciently indigenous folks, who intended to debut a whole-planetary leadership, if the warlike folks could assent to it.

78. Yet the teachings-giving and teaching lasted a further about 3,000 years, before the teaching was sufficiently accepted by and integrated into the thought-world of all the quarrelling folks that had fled to Erra and had incessantly sowed discord there, that the human beings began to cultivate a better attitude in themselves and toward the relations with the population of their own countries as well as the population of other countries.

79. Nonetheless, time and again there still arose aggressions and Ausartungs in regard to insurrections, acts of war and terrorism, and in general the responsible motives for these were religious and related to the various extant belief-communities still believing in the Gewalt-rulers and dictators.

80. Eventually there came at last the point in time when, in cooperation with the indigenous spirit-leadership, the spirit-leadership of the hostile folks had also worked out a new form of state-leadership, which was approved by all folks, according to the system of the old teaching of the prophet.

81. Having at last grown weary of the insurrections, wars, revolutions and terrorism, the countless dead and the destructions, ultimately, of the about 382 million human beings of the Gewalt-employingly immigrated hostile and embattled folks, more than half were killed by the global war, namely more than 217 million, and so there were only 165 million survivors.

82. This ultimately led to the situation that the rest of the hostile folks were actually willing to heed the drawn-up rules and proposals of the spirit-leadership and to approve these.

83. That did occur only with great effort, but such that rapid progress was made and the human beings who had been devotees of the higher powers disengaged themselves from their delusional belief, broke free thereof and assimilated into the democracy of the indigenous Errans and also unanimously into the rules and laws of the planetary spirit-leaders, who had been appointed by the great-folk as the supreme planetary spirit-leadership, yet there was also likewise a spirit-leadership responsible for each country resp. state.

84. Thus, for the entire planet and also for all the previously hostile, now however semi-peaceful countries resp. states, the planetary-unanimous leadership-form of the spirit-leadership could be implemented.

85. Consequently, all extant formerly hostile and Gewalt-usingly immigrated folks of all countries were, in the course of the following five-thousand years, further given teachings by the spirit-leadership in accordance with the teaching of the prophet and led into a peaceful future.

86. And since, through the Gewalt-ly migration of the formerly warlike folks from the planet Erras, the population of Erra increased by 382 million human beings – of which ultimately only about 165 million remained following their global war – and therefore the prescribed norm of few more than 500 million human beings had been greatly exceeded, naturally the population of Erra surpassed the established quantity.

87. They were naturally integrated into the whole Erran population, so the prescribed norm of 500 million was exceeded and this no longer accorded with the standard per the relevant law, so population-regulation-measures were taken in order to reach the correct population-size.

88. So, through the planetary spirit-leadership, a guiding and for the Erran total population unanimously valid behaviour-directive was drawn up regarding a strict birth-regulation, and explainingly promulgated to the population of Erra in all connected relations and concerns and put to a vote.

89. And as is recorded in our annals, the whole population of Erra assented to the directive without a single dissenting vote, so it was implemented and the goal of reduction of the population to the prescribed standard was achieved through an appropriate yet strict birth-control within 311 years of terrestrial time-reckoning.

90. From that point on, the size of the Erran humanity remained constant, for, as the immemorially prescribed norm pertaining to progeny has been, owing to intellect and rationality of the Erran population, upheld for the sake of their own and their world's well-being as well as for that of the nature, fauna and flora, the planet and its requirements, there are no destructive problems in this regard.

91. Lastly, it is to be said that during the subsequent five-thousand years, that is before the definitive peace could be created, it also happened, and without Gewalt or coercion, rather only through the once-hostile Errasans ever more following the teaching of the prophet and beginning to think, act and live according to it, that resultingly all of their religious issues became resolved and eventually there existed no more religion-believers on Erra.

92. That was then the definitive cause for our world being permanently pacified and democratized, and since then no insurrections, wars, no revolutions and no terrorism have occurred anymore, so on our planet Erra, about 52,000 years ago, among all folks unanimously the true democracy, and so also a henceforth-lasting peace were created, and with that also an ample freedom for all human beings on Erra.

93. Thereby, it came to pass that all ideas and belief-forms pertaining to undemocratic forms of government and behaviours of the earlier ruler- and might-government-forms on the planet Erras were forbidden by the formerly hostilely delusional believers of Erras themselves among their kind and replaced by new laws and regulations, etc, of the spirit-leadership, and these were accepted and approved by the extant remaining total population of Errasans in a democratic wise.

94. So, everything was regulated in every respect and this has upheld up to the present day, and shall also remain so for all the future.

95. The consciousness-development of the Erran population, which is to be assessed at between 20 and 30 million years higher than that of the terrestrial human beings, does not enable for us Plejaren any relapses into dark, de-evolutive and inhuman machinations, because the entire Plejaren population has once and for all progressed onto the way of the teaching of the prophets and shall also, with sureness, tread that way further.

Billy:

... So now I come to the next question, which refers to one of the four groups or groupings, of which there are actually five, whereby in this relation there is a double grouping, but which you both call the same, namely 'future Earth'. This may be a little confusing, but it is acceptable and does not refer to my question, because it is aimed at whether you are allowed to tell me openly whether you now know where this fourth group from outside Earth comes from?

Ptaah:

76. We know that by now, but ...

Billy:

I thought to myself, then not officially – was just a question. Furthermore, I think it has now become clear to me why you have always talked about grouping on the one hand or about grouping on the other, because if I have understood correctly, then you understand group to mean a closed community and in a grouping several groups of the same or different kind, don't you? In that case, I have misunderstood you for years.

Ptaah:

77. You obviously did, because what you are saying is true.

78. The term group is to be understood as a smaller or larger number of members coming together or belonging together, whereby these people form an ordered unit or a community, a circle of people who belong together on the basis of certain similarities because they have joined together on the basis of common interests and goals, as is the case with the FIGU core-group.

79. On the other hand, a grouping forms a closed combination of several groups of the same character, e.g. the FIGU core parent group and the FIGU passive group, study groups and interest groups, thus in this sense a grouping comprises several like-minded groups.

80. On the other hand, however, a grouping can also include a number of groups which are of completely different nature and interests and are therefore not a closed unit, but which in themselves form an autonomous, autonomous and independent whole, although these groups as a whole have one thing in common.

Billy:

Interesting, but annoying for me, because all these years I have misunderstood your and generally your Plejaren interpretation of group and grouping and I did not ask Latschkopf for an explanation earlier. But now it is clear to me what is meant by group and grouping, so if I have understood correctly, you are also talking about several groups in relation to the other groupings that you keep mentioning. So I was thoroughly mistaken that there were only four groups, because in reality there must be several of them. But then there are the grouping of the Earth-foreigners and the two other groupings that are based on earthly things. Is it permissible to speak openly about this?

Ptaah:

81. What you say is correct, but we can only talk about it in a private way.

82. You know ...

Billy:

Yes, I understand, because although I misunderstood you for years, I did not exactly fall on my head and know that you have to talk about your directives again. But if I repeat, then you have spoken of one group or of four specific groups on the one hand, therefore the speech was of a single group or of four groups from a specific grouping, as for example of the grouping 'Future Earth', which consists of two groups. And according to what I now know, the other groupings must comprise more than just two groups, perhaps three, four, five or more.

Ptaah:

83. Yes, that is how it is.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_675

Billy:

... But something else that refers to you Plejaren, because as you have explained to me, the majority of the population works only two hours or so per day according to our time, while the other time is used in a private way. You have told me that in your free time the Plejaren work and maintain their large private gardens, which cover at least one hectare or 10000 m². Others fly with their aircraft over land or around the planet and land where other people work to do private work together. And all this happens without any financial compensation, because you have no financial economy anymore. But even if you are only about 530 million people on Erra, there is quite a lot of work to be done to feed the whole population and to satisfy all their other needs. I will ask you how you manage this so that everything can be created when the majority of your humanity works only two hours a day for the general public; is there no problem with that?

Ptaah:

80. The whole thing would be impossible if we did not have our very sophisticated, extensive and diverse technology at our disposal.

81. Basically, of course, our planetary population also has to do a lot of work, which has to be carried out, but which is largely carried out by our highly developed technology.

82. The main of all activities is carried out by elaborate androids, apparatuses and machinery, which are monitored and controlled by the majority of the working population during the two hours of work.

83. And these are effectively only surveillance and control works to be carried out by the majority of the Erra population, according to times in day and night divisions, to which you once said 'around the clock' in another context.

Billy:

The majority of the population, what does that mean?

Ptaah:

84. It must be understood to mean all persons at any age from 140 years of age – which is to be understood according to Earthly years – and this is maintained until old age, because every person in our society is involved throughout his or her life, either for the general public or in a purely private way.

85. Our 530 million or so humanity is to be understood in terms of the people who carry out their work, which, however, do not include descendants up to 140 years of age, who also include a number of about 110 million.

Billy:

You mean 110 million. So there is no rotting in any way of the physical and thought-feel-psychological, as is very often the case with us on Earth, after people retire and then know nothing more to do with themselves. But I didn't know that you wouldn't count the 110 million descendants, who are up to 140 years old, among the approximately 530 million of the working people, but I think that this has to be added up because your planet Erra is about the same size as Earth, but has more mainland, as you once explained.

Ptaah:

...

89. We Plejaren measure in this respect the possible population according to the fertile land that, when cultivated for food products, produces abundant food for the total population.

90. As a result, no part of the population can ever be affected by famine, as is the case on earth, where around a billion people are currently suffering from hunger and many die from it.

91. And as far as such behaviour, which you call 'rotting', is concerned, Plejaren is alien to us, even if a person wants to withdraw from general work and only be active privately – which is of course possible, but must be guaranteed.

92. However, this is usually only possible at the age of 800, although very little use is usually made of it.

Billy:

Then it must also be the case that these people still have their entire livelihood when they retire from general work at the age of 800. How's that settled?

Ptaah:

93. They are fully granted everything necessary in every respect and for every need until the end of their lives, so they do not have to renounce anything in any way, but receive everything according to their desires, be it food or any things of any kind that they desire.

Billy:

So there are no people among you who are, as they say, poor or rich, if I understand your social system correctly, which is also due to the fact that you no longer have any means of payment or money.

Ptaah:

94. This is indeed the case, because since we have no system whatsoever with regard to a monetary or financial economy, but an equal structure of equality, on the one hand, with regard to social status and, on the other, with regard to the values of goods, there are no social and no social differences.

Billy:

And this also not between the simple people, the spiritual leadership and all those who have to carry out higher tasks than the normal daily general work.

Ptaah:

95. There are no differences whatsoever, and there must be no differences, because the equal status of the entire Erra population means that neither greed nor envy nor other negative factors, which could be caused by material causes, prevail.

96. Every plejarian person has equal rights, including the right to meet all his material needs within the same framework as any other.

97. Thus, all manufactured goods of any kind are available to any person free of charge, as are all other goods.

Billy:

And the rest of the majority of the population, what about it in terms of work and old age, how many percentages does this rest comprise, and what does it do?

Ptaah:

98. According to our calculations, the majority of the entire Pleiar population comprises 72 percent, which is active in the way I have just explained, while the other 28 percent is responsible for other tasks, in which, calculated according to Earthly hours, the working hours vary per day depending on the activity, but which are higher than two hours and are often 12, 15 or more.

99. This is the case, for example, with the exercise of tasks related to spiritual leadership, planetary control tasks, and various other important matters.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_679

Billy:

... Today I once again have some questions concerning the peoples of Erra and their behaviour in relation to various things such as work, state of consciousness, ethics, criminality and crime, etc., as well as the offspring of you Plejaren. It would be good if you would explain how it is with you on Erra with the duty to work and with the responsibility for it. ... The other day you said that you have a total adult population of around 530 million and around 110 million offspring under the age of 140. ...

Ptaah:

14. As I explained in an earlier conversation, the peoples on Erra remain among themselves, and only very few persons emigrate to other peoples, whereby the reason for this is usually living together with other members of the peoples, or if there is some unavoidable need to do so.

15. Otherwise, the individual peoples remain among themselves and preserve their own folk customs and traditions, etc.

16. With this I also explain that there are no migrations of peoples on Erra, but also no refugees for any reason, because there are no uprisings or even wars on Erra etc., consequently there are also no reasons for a flight from one people to another.

17. There is also no hunger among the peoples of Erra, for since we Plejaren adhere to the planetary requirements for the preservation of all life, so in relation to Plejarian humanity, nature and all its fauna and flora on the land, in the waters and in the air, the entire natural food cultivation and the further food production for the entire Erra humanity can be produced in abundance without any problems.

18. As far as unemployment is concerned, which you mention, we Plejaren do not have it, because all Plejaren of both sexes are comprehensively integrated into our planet-wide system of labour regulation.

19. So there are also no work-shy persons on Erra who would exhibit parasitic behaviour, as is often the case with Earth-humans.

20. Also with regard to criminality and crime there are none among the human beings of Erra, for the evolutionary stage of consciousness and ethics and their stability of value, as well as the resulting sense of duty and responsibility, are so highly developed in every Plejaren human being that negative deviations no longer appear.

...

23. According to our birth regulation it is to be explained that it is regulated on the one hand according to our high life expectancy, and on the other hand according to the number of the population, from which it results that consequently on Erra the descendants are also to be determined according to the deaths, as however also according to various other necessary regulations, which can only be made when a humanity has reached a necessary high level of consciousness, as is the case with our Plejaren peoples.

...

27. This is in contrast to us Plejaren, who are entitled to beget offspring at the age of 70 at the earliest, after which it can then take several hundred years until the next offspring is begotten – perhaps two or three hundred years, if at all, for the rule is – which is privately observed as an unwritten law – that offspring are first begotten only at the age after 150 years.

28. And this is so because all members of the population, without exception, learn several other fields of activity beyond the normal learning activity which lasts until the age of about 70.

29. Only then are all the main activity trainings completed, after which one enters into full and all-round active life.

...

31. And since with us Plejaren each marital alliance or other cohabitation may only produce three offspring, the fixed number of adults of about 530 million and of 110 million offspring under 140 years of age can be maintained by the regulation of our birth control.

32. The total Plejaren population of the world is regulated in such a way that it always remains approximately the same, which nevertheless means that the number of offspring can fall or rise by a few million, so that the number of around 110 million is not always exactly constant.

33. On the one hand, offspring may only be begotten on request, but on the other hand it can also occur that, as a result of various natural circumstances or necessities, more or fewer procreations are permitted.

34. So when I gave the figure of about 530 million adults and 110 million Errans under 140 years of age, these figures correspond to the present time.

Billy:

Your birth rate could not be introduced on Earth, I think. And the question: with regard to the peoples; are there no problems there with regard to the birth control that has been ordered?

Ptaah:

...

38. No, there are no problems, because among our Plejaren peoples, logical reason and logical reasoning are factors and values acquired thousands of years ago, which have become such a matter of course and for the benefit of the entire Erranian population that not even a suggestion of breaking the rule appears.

Billy:

... What you have now said with regard to the learning of diverse and varied activities, which we call vocational training here, you once told me that often 20 to 30 or even more fields of activity are learned, which are also practised alternately throughout your lifetime. ...

...

Billy:

But something else: as you once told me, on Erra you also radiate catastrophic events from alien planets worldwide, as well as in relation to natural disasters and overpopulation, which perhaps also contributes to the fact that from the Erra population – purely psychologically – there is a satisfaction and recognition in relation to the whole Erran forms of order. In addition, I think that Plejaren humanity is oriented towards this and accordingly also works to ensure that everything on Erra remains in good order in every way. For my part, I think that such emanations can have a good psychological effect, because there is no indifference among your humanity, as is unfortunately the case with the majority of Earthlings. ...

Ptaah:

...

44. And with regard to the entire Erranian world population, it is made aware again and again of the disasters and calamities that occur through overpopulation.

45. So, planet-wide, information broadcasts are repeatedly broadcast, through which catastrophic conditions of uprisings, torture, war, murder, revolutions, terror, strife, misery and distress, hunger, diseases, epidemics and terror etc. on overpopulation worlds are pointed out.

46. The reason, however, is not that of deterrence, but purely informative, to show what generally unpeaceful and barbarous conditions still prevail on those worlds which in every respect are still millions of years behind our entire Plejaren high development.

47. The whole thing also has an instructive character in regard to the very early past of our primitive peoples, which occurred in the same or a similar framework, as is also still the case today in a very lasting way on other and still extremely uncivilised worlds and among their peoples, as is also the case with regard to the earthly world population.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_688

Ptaah:

55. What will happen, however, when the Earth-foreigners, who have been moving in Earth space for a long time, or others who will sooner or later appear – which will also only be a question of time – is still open and will be an event that will certainly cause many problems for all Earth-humans.

56. It must also be clear that Earth-foreigners or Earth-future beings do not have to be the same kind as us human beings, because various Earth-foreigners are beings who are not human and also not peaceful.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_697

Billy:

... How do you Plejaren create interpersonal relationships, and how do you make contacts for friendships and alliances?

Ptaah:

51. In a very natural way, by holding events and making acquaintances, as well as through meetings of all kinds, such as getting to know other persons through acquaintances, neighbours, family members and friends, through travelling around, doing work, as well as through all kinds of other ways.

Billy:

So roughly on the same scale as we do on Earth?

Ptaah:

52. No, because the same thing that is practised on Earth through so-called Internet acquaintances does not exist here, just as it does not exist in the way that public bodies are searched for acquaintances and life partners.

Billy:

Then the next question: What is family life like among you Plejaren, the upbringing of children, the organisation of leisure time and the coexistence of parents, children and young and old? This question is also connected with how the education of children and young people is organised, whether there are schools like ours on Earth, what subjects are taught and learned, as well as what interests the children, young people and adults have.

Ptaah:

53. In this respect everything is given in a reasonable and correct framework, for the unalterable rule is that with us Plejaren in every family everything is maintained in a family-conscious, peaceful and correct manner, consequently there are not the same vicious scenes, Gewalt and quarrels, which often end with physical harm or even with murder and manslaughter, as is very often and increasingly the case throughout the Earth.

54. Our entire Plejaren population is trained from infancy in such a way that peace and freedom and equality between the sexes and between the offspring must be cultivated, and indeed they prevail in this way in every family.

55. Of course, it is also the case in our families that there can be disagreements between parents, just as there can be disagreements between children and parents – although this is not necessarily the rule – but every dispute is avoided and everything is always kept under control.

56. And this is indeed the case planet-wide and is observed as it is already taught through education and is also further taught later in adolescence through special educational courses.

57. The upbringing of children and youth is given in completely peaceful measures, not based on chastisement, but nevertheless strict in order to ensure the best.

58. Necessary recreation for children, youths and also for adults is also cultivated, whereby the whole is extremely varied, ranging from games to hikes, excursions and factual learning and hobbies, etc.?

59. The interests of the individual persons – children, adults, juveniles – are taken into account, which can be extremely varied.

60. And as to the question of the subjects which can be learned, these are, of course, according to our entire stage of development, accessible to every Plejarin and every Plejaren, according to their desire and ability, for learning and later practice, these subjects being as great in number as all our developments so far created, whether in regard to medicine, biology, zoology, every possible technique or manual skill, which is also necessary with us, as well as otherwise hundreds of other subjects.

Billy:

That should actually suffice as an answer. Then, what should actually be a statement and not a question, namely how you Plejaren observe the events on other planets and whether you are interested in world events, politics, society, art, culture of the Earth and in how the human beings are on the Earth and deal with their lives. I think that should be obvious, otherwise you would not come here and observe and analyse everything. And as you observe what is happening on other planets, I think you do that equally as you do here on Earth, in that you can control everything through your apparatuses and devices in such a way that nothing remains unseen to you.

Ptaah:

61. So the whole thing needs no further answer or explanation.

Billy:

Exactly. What does a daily routine of a human being on Erra look like, a child, a teenager, a woman or a man?

Ptaah:

62. During the first years of their upbringing, children are naturally with their parents, in whose care they can learn on the one hand, and on the other hand also play and do all kinds of things that bring them joy, but are also instructive.

63. From the age of 5, children are taught in schools in a variety of ways, while from the age of 14, young people learn specialist subjects – professions in an earthly sense – which continues until the age of 70, although there are also leisure times and 2 hours of work every day.

64. Women and men also have to fulfil the obligation of 2 hours of work daily for the whole community, after which all the other time of the day is used at their own discretion and their own leisure time.

65. All Plejaren people have their own small plots of land and a dwelling on them, the plots of land being cultivated and cultivated as gardens with vegetable crops, etc.

66. Also very often people fly overland to get in contact with known or foreign people somewhere on the planet and possibly to work together.

67. Women and men also do work together in their homes, where of course there is also cooking, cleaning and maintenance work.

Billy:

I know. Further this question: do all Plejaren and the human beings of their federation undertake journeys through space, and what are the requirements for this, and for what purpose do such journeys and missions serve?

Ptaah:

68. Neither among us Plejaren nor among our federates is there space tourism, for the populations only undertake journeys through space when there is an urgent need to do so.

69. Space flights to other planets etc. are only undertaken for economic trading purposes and the like, and for missionary purposes and for assistance to Plejaren-foreign planets and their populations, as well as for exploration and reconnaissance purposes.

Enjana:

2. That is correct, and I have to explain that the Earth-foreigners you mentioned, or their early ancestors, were already present and active here on Earth in prehistoric times, as they were afterwards, but also again and again throughout all the ages of the Earth, throughout all the ages and epochs of the world.

3. The various epochs and each era of the ancient history of the planet are to be reckoned in millions of years, during which the Earth-foreigners came to Earth again and again, whereby, however – as Ptaah has already explained to you several times, as he mentioned – we have not been able to fathom their effective origin until the present time, whereby we have, however, been able to discover that even these Earth-foreigners no longer know their own prehistoric origin.

4. Our research so far has only revealed that their prehistoric ancestors came into the DERN universe from another space-time structure or from another dimension, unknown to us so far, and then also reached Earth and other SOL system planets.

5. But as far as the origin of the distant and present-day Earth-foreigners and thus very distant descendants of those who came to Earth again and again in prehistoric times and also afterwards is concerned, their most distant descendants also come here to this day, whereby they also have stations on Earth.

6. As far as their present origin is concerned, we are very well aware of their present world of origin and the system, although we have no need whatsoever, and our directives also forbid us to make ourselves noticeable and recognisable to them, or even to make contact with them.

3. Question: Concerns landing of extraterrestrial intelligences.

{Billy} Answer:

A public landing of extraterrestrials at the beginning of the 21st century – whereby the appearance of the extraterrestrials was announced in the contact reports, but their nature and origin and also the exact time were only mentioned unofficially, was planned for the 10th year of the new millennium – should not have taken place by the consciousness-advanced Plejaren, but by Plejaren federates called up on call for preparation and standing by. This, in addition to other extraterrestrials who were to come openly to Earth – of which there was already talk earlier during contact conversations – but which was prevented by interventions of the Plejaren because the hostile and warlike developments of the human beings were too dangerous to Earth – which they still are and will also be far into the future. The aliens who were to land openly on Earth at the beginning of the third millennium, namely in the USA, would not have been the Plejaren themselves, but members of the Plejaren Federation. This is because they have a simpler and more simple development of consciousness than the Plejaren themselves, which means that they – in contrast to the Plejaren – could have easily entered the direct sphere of the human beings of Earth in order to communicate and work with them. The whole thing was to be done by first contacting the US government through me (Billy) and through an American intermediary {Lee J. Elders; see Contact Report 117 and Contact Report 122}, on the condition and precondition that the USA would have responded to a request from the Plejaren corresponding to the aforementioned matter in the early 1980s. This was to be done – as explained – through the mediation of my personality, in order to submit political and world peace-promoting guidelines and advice etc. to the USA through the Plejaren. These should have been considered by the state leaders of the United States of America and their results implemented peacefully in the countries dependent on and under the control of the USA all over the world, in order to create effective peace and real freedom for all peoples worldwide. If at that time the state powers of the USA in their megalomania had not reacted with nonsensical and for the Plejaren unfulfillable primitive stupid demands, when my US middle man submitted the Plejaren request to the US government, then in case of success also the then still existing Soviet Union and also China, Switzerland as well as the then incipient EU dictatorship would have been included. In this way, a worldwide process of peace and freedom and the abolition of dictatorships as well as the establishment of fully democratic government structures would have begun under the advisory supervision of the Plejaren and through the work of their federates. Furthermore, through ongoing Plejaren advisory assistance, the whole would certainly have become a state of peace and freedom encompassing the world and all earthly states within two and a half decades, which would also have led to the power of determination of the peoples in political and military matters and to the end of all acts of hostility to war on Earth. This would have created the basic prerequisite for a public landing of a delegation of peaceable Plejaren federates, for whom it was decided and determined that they would have had to assist earthly humanity with advice and action in every conceivable good and positive way. However, since the state leaders of the USA, in their delusions of grandeur with regard to their insane, pathologically stupid, nonsensical, confused, self-important and power-driven demands, ruined everything from the outset and condemned it to failure, the plan of the Plejaren to make an attempt to establish contact with the authoritative earthly governments was shelved again. However, it was left open to them and they waited a whole twenty years to see whether those who were active at the time or those who followed them in the USA would come to their senses and respond in the affirmative, but this was not the case. As a result, the whole programme of the attempt to establish contact was finally discarded, and the Plejaren closed everything down and declared unofficially that no further attempt of this kind would be made, and that they would therefore also not declare themselves ready for a second attempt, even if the US government should still come forward today or in the future.

Bermunda:

36. With us on Erra, news is also spread, as is the case on Earth, whereby of course it is also pointed out what is happening on Earth in all ways.

37. The same information is also spread among our federates, so what is happening on Earth is known far and wide in the universe.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

... With this I can say that the Earth-foreigners, who are generally simply called extraterrestrials or aliens by the Earthlings, have in fact been around for a long time. They stayed here and worked in many ways, as did their distant descendants, but they have also been active on Earth for centuries and millennia up to the present day, flying around and in and out of the Earth, and are observed again and again around the world by the Earthlings, whereby the American continent is of particular importance in this respect. Their early ancestors worked in many different ways on Earth, and also in various countries in Asia, North Africa and partly in Europe, but mainly in the early days in the North African country, which in later times was called 'Kemet' and then finally in later times Egypt, after which this name has been preserved until today. Your father Sfath taught me during a leap in time into the past to the land there, where the Earth-foreigners ruled at that time, whom he called 'long-skulls' and whom I have seen myself, that they had been on Earth for thousands of years. Because, in contrast to the round skulls of the human beings of Earth, they had skulls that were long and thickly protruding towards the back, they stood out unmistakably from the human beings of Earth just as other Earth-foreigners did around the world, such as giants up to about 3 metres tall, half-small people with large and somewhat v-shaped heads and excessively large eyes. Various such long skulls have also been found in modern times by archaeologists, etc., although to this day people still puzzle over what secret is connected with these skulls, which were not from human beings of the Earth, but belonged to Earth aliens. ...

...

Billy:

... But now I will bring up something from your history that your father Sfath has already told me about, namely, that you Plejaren on Erra and on other planets have been at peace among all peoples for about 52,000 years only because something strange has happened. At that time, I remember Sfath's explanation, a round structure or a large metallic sphere appeared above Erra and other Plejaren planets, after which all male and female inhabitants of all planets, so to speak, experienced a comprehensive change of heart. Neither at that time nor to this day, however, could you Plejaren fathom what this sphere was about, nor where it had come from and where it had disappeared to. Only one thing was clear, namely that through this sphere some process of consciousness took place in all human beings of all Plejaren planets, which immediately led to an all-embracing peace, as well as to freedom from strife, war, crime and so on. And as Sfath explained, as you also once did years ago, you never found out where this orb came from, who built it and where it disappeared to, consequently it was only clear to you that it was through this that your peoples came to peace and all that has distinguished you Plejaren as true human beings for 52,000 years.

Ptaah:

169. What had to be explained in this respect, you have now done, but I must mention that up to now, despite a great deal of research, we have not been able to gain any knowledge about the origin of the sphere, which was completely untouchable and secured against all attacks and therefore also indestructible, because it resisted all attempts at attack, which was a good thing in the end.

170. This large spherical missile, which according to our annals had a size that I have calculated to be 248 metres according to the earthly system of measurements, circled around each Plejaren planet for 32 days and nights, and then disappeared without a trace.

171. Since then, all the corresponding efforts to clarify the matter, which still continue today, have not been successful, which is why we also have no knowledge of what kind of technology the flying objects had, through which all our peoples were pacified.

{Note: See also Contact Reports 711:47+ and 728:179-182 for further information about this "orb".}

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_711

Ptaah:

47. I must begin by addressing what occurred on Erra and our other Plejaren planets some 52,000 years ago.

48. At that time, swinging waves were emitted from the flying sphere, which circled around Erra and also around the other Plejaren planets for 32 days each, which took control of a certain brain region and a precisely defined area in all planet inhabitants, against which there was no possibility of defence, as could be fathomed by our scientists at that time.

...

55. However, I may explain, which I will do only briefly and without elaboration, what happened to our ancestors 52,000 years ago, but I really do not intend to go into detail.

56. It turned out that the swinging-wave impulses emitted by the aforementioned spherical flying machine very effectively influenced certain areas of the brain of all the planet's inhabitants and had such an effect on special areas that all impulses of violence and degeneracy were appeased, but not extinguished, only put into a softened state and made peaceful.

57. This was sufficient for the populations of all the planets to fall away from all malignant violence and become in a peaceful mood within the time during which the spherical flying machine circled the worlds, but nevertheless they retained their free will and, above all, without external verbal influences from the state leaders and their unpeaceful propaganda, etc., they became more and more inclined to rationality and intellect, and began to think, consider, decide and act independently.

58. The calming swinging-wave influences, which acted only on certain areas of the brain and in these only on special areas, were neither aggressive nor compelling, for there were only vibratory impulses through which understanding and reason were stimulated and led to the populations discarding their collective world of thought within a few days, because they became free from all the unpeaceful suggestive collective thinking controlled by the governments and religions and were able to form their own independent thoughts and opinions.

59. By very quickly discarding their collective thinking controlled by governments and religions, and also very quickly learning and using their own individual thoughts, the human beings of the Plejaren planets learned and grasped their personal self-knowledge and formed their own and ever-increasing self-determination, through which they attained personal mental strength.

60. In a special way, the dropping and abandonment of all religious belief factors and thus the perception and realisation of the natural-creational laws, which are universally oriented towards peacefulness, freedom and self-reliance, had an effect.

61. When this was recognised by all Plejaren populations of all our worlds and every religious belief was discarded and frowned upon, manifold realisations were formed and from them the result of personal attitudes and far-reaching thought processes and certainties, which led to all human beings of all peoples setting themselves independently challenging goals and sticking to them even under difficulties, learning to cope with failures better and well, working out a higher motivation and achieving their set self-realisation goals.

62. It was also found that within only eleven days they were less and less distracted by the opinions of other persons and above all also no longer allowed themselves to be distracted by the suggestive, unpeaceful whispers of the government, nor allowed themselves to fall back into unpeacefulness.

63. On the contrary, all the populations of all the planets henceforth made all the necessary efforts and perseverance to achieve their goals.

64. Very quickly they became aware of their own abilities and just as quickly learned to control and master situations of all kinds that arose and quickly became mentally strong persons who also learned to make use of their abilities by constantly seeking and finding new challenges for their intellect and reason as well as for their self-development and self-realisation and by realising them, as well as themselves.

65. Thus, within a very short time, the individual human beings learned to cope with stress and strain and to live in control of all their self-created personality traits.

66. Through their steadily growing mental strength, they very quickly created a consciousness-like capacity that also had a strong effect on their mental and physical health, as well as on the fact that they were always setting themselves new, challenging goals and realising them.

67. And all this, together with many other positive developments, finally led within only 32 days – during which the orbital aircraft circled the worlds – to all persons of all populations finally freeing themselves independently and according to their own free will from all Ausartungen [getting very badly out of control of their good human natures] and from all violence and immorality, etc.

69. This realisation led the human beings of all our planets to renounce violence, immorality, degeneracy, evil and wickedness and also to conquer their bad habits.

70. It was also recognised, however, that in spite of all knowledge and efforts with regard to the conduct of life in the good, the correct, the human, and with regard to righteousness, as well as with regard to the observance of the natural positive creative laws, the human being always remains susceptible and can fall back again into old ungood, negative, evil and bad behaviour, if he does not make the necessary effort to control it in order to prevent it.

71. And it has been recognised that this can always happen again if the human beings are influenced from the outside in any verbal, physical or consciousness-, thought-, emotion- and psyche-burdening forms for long enough.

72. So in this respect all human beings of all Plejaren planets or their populations were subordinated to this natural-creative law of action in such a way that countermeasures had to be taken, which were recorded and followed in directives, and which consisted in the fact that no direct or otherwise harmful connections were to be sought and maintained with alien worlds and their populations, in order not to relapse into the old modes of behaviour through such contacts with alien peoples who were not like our ancestors.

73. We Plejaren of today are also human beings – like our ancestors 52,000 years ago and all our descendants since then – who must resist such external influences without being harmed, for unfortunately we are still susceptible to negative external influences that would cause us to relapse into the old ways of behaviour if we were to fall long enough into areas of negative influence that were harmful to us and were hit by factors that had a negative effect on us.

74. We Plejaren, too, are human beings and are ordered to develop within the framework of every natural-creational order and lawfulness, through a very laborious working out of our higher evolution of consciousness, which even after 52,000 years of peace we must follow and continue to learn.

75. And this we can do today through the life-teaching of Nokodemion, the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of the Spirit, Teaching of Life', which helps us unspeakably much in our further evolution of consciousness, but which was known to us only in small parts up to the beginning of your mission, but which you now bring and teach not only to Earth-humans, but also to us, in many expanded versions.

76. But as far as our ancestors were concerned, more than 52,000 years ago, they only gained their knowledge at that time and only then became aware of the effective facts and values of life

according to the natural-creative laws, when the flying sphere appeared and circled around our Plejaren planets, whereby all Plejaren populations were struck by its vibratory impulses and were appeased and peacefully tuned in a restrained, yet definite and effective manner.

77. Through these vibratory impulses their minds and reason were stimulated, whereby the populations turned to the gently urging peaceful impulses and gave themselves consciously learning to their evolution of consciousness.

78. Through this attention our ancestors of that time recognised the truth and effectiveness of the natural-creative laws and correct natural-creative-conditioned way of life, learned to fathom them and to follow them and made them their own, whereby henceforth all populations consciously developed according to them and aligned themselves to them in every way.

79. But they were able to do all this only after they realised that their entire very high technical development in all its forms and possibilities did not turn them away from their degenerations, their violent behaviour and from all evil, from all warfare and all destructive and negative and evil behaviour with regard to peace, real freedom, righteousness, justice and humanity as well as a way of life according to natural-creative laws.

80. Only through the influence of the vibrational impulses, which were emitted by the spherical flying device and by which they were peacefully influenced, did they find their way to personal change and finally, through their own development of consciousness, cognition and their efforts, their own will, their intellect, their reason and the use of their intelligence, they attained their personal inner peace, their personal inner freedom and righteousness.

81. And this inestimable gain and victory over themselves they also began to bring to bear externally, whereby all peoples also allied themselves among themselves in a continuing state of peace and freedom, and since then all violence, degenerations and wars etc. have also become a thing of the past

82. However, it must be repeated as a fact that all violence, wars, all hatred and falsehood, all discord, all unfreedom and unrighteousness, as well as all injustice and degeneracy, etc., in all forms, could only be ended. in all forms could only be brought to an end when the vibratory impulses of the Orb had an effect upon all the Plejaren peoples and soothed them into peace, whereby they became consciously powerful of their own independent and externally uninfluenced faculty of thought, as well as of their intellect, their reason and the application of their intelligentsia, and thereby their own self-evolution could take place.

83. This did not mean, however, that our ancestors 52,000 years ago, or since, were above any susceptibility to and reversion to the old degenerate, malignant, warlike, violent and all other negative forms and disregarding all natural-creative laws.

84. And this is not the case even in modern times, for even we Plejaren of today are not immune to this, just as all our ancestors were not.

...

Ptaah:

105. The negative factors mentioned, as they are drastically present in Earth-humans, also occur in the third grouping as well as in the Earth future beings, who on the one hand have already been on Earth for thousands of years or otherwise for a considerable time, again and again demonstrating their presence in various ways.

...

Billy:

... But it must be clear that in the vastness of the universe there are also other human beings and life forms who are equally 'sick in the head' and live with degenerations of all kinds, unpeaceful and unrighteous and therefore also make their existence hell by their own doing in a similar or the same way as the earthlings. And as Sfath has already said, it can be said that the absolute majority of all human and human-like creatures in our entire DERN universe have, through their own early degenerations, fallen into a convergent state with that of degenerated Earth-humans. This, however, can one day lead to enormous unpleasantness and even to acts of war with extraterrestrials and to the danger of the extermination or enslavement of Earth-humans, as well as to the annexation of Earth by Earth-foreigners. And it is precisely in this respect that crazy Earth-foreigners, who do not possess reason, rationality and intelligence for a penny, have done everything with the SETI project so that it can happen under certain circumstances if Earth-foreigners find the SETI probe. Through this crazy project, extraterrestrials are to be made aware of Earth and contact is to be sought with them ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_713

Ptaah:

112. This, however, can one day become a risky doom for Earth-humans, namely through the stupidity and irresponsibility committed by earthly researchers and scientists, namely with the SETI project 'Cyclops', or 'Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence'.

113. And such a fate can befall all Earth-humans if official contact with unpeaceful Earth-foreigners should one day occur; an attempt at contact which was started unreasonably and recklessly by the 'search for extraterrestrials' and which under certain circumstances can bring not only great horrors etc., but ultimately also a nasty end to all Earth human existence.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_717

Billy:

... But what I wanted to say when you interrupted me was simply this: "... whose presence on Earth has been based since time immemorial on behaving according to certain guidelines that also give them security and protection." I did not want to say more, for their existence could also be endangered if the real truth about them, their doings, their ways, as well as their origin and whereabouts, etc. were known, but this must not happen. Earth-foreigners are also beings whose right to exist and live must be granted and assured to them, but which would be endangered if certain facts about them became known. But this also applies to the earthly grouping, which also makes itself felt here and there.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_718

Billy:

Also good, then the following question is whether you guys influence planetary weather on Erra, like maybe through lightning control and cloud formation by lasers or something, if that is even possible. Also the further question is related to whether you have a poison industry to produce any substances, like herbicides, insecticides, neonicotinoids, pesticides and fungicides and so on.

Ptaah:

158. Weather manipulation in the context of your question is possible, but we do not carry out such manipulations on Erra.

159. The climate conditions of our planet are normal and are not influenced by our humanity in any way.

160. Regarding your other question, it is to be said that we do not have any production facilities on Erra where any toxic substances would be produced, so also not such as you mentioned.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_719

Billy:

... Now that we're on the subject, I can also combine it with something else, namely with make-up, which is common here on earth for women and also for men. Although I have also seen you on Erra, as well as all the women who come to me from you, that you take care of yourself cosmetically, but I have never seen that you look effective in the same or a similar way as the earthling women would paint on their faces. By that I mean the areas around the eyes, the cheeks and lips, as well as the draping of the lips, the tongue, the nose, the pubic area, breasts and other 'pieces of jewellery' embedded in the body, some of which are young people, but many women and men do. In and of itself, I don't care at all, because that's everyone's own thing and therefore none of my business. But I have something to mock, namely that I find the smearing on the lips extremely disgusting and the whole thing also disfiguring. I have nothing against a light, subtle and hardly or not at all visible lip care, just as I have no objections to a subtle skin resp. Facial and eye care, as I know it from your Plejaren women and as sensible women do with us. But I find a woman messing up her face in a painted war landscape just gross. In addition, the ostentatious lip-painted women are repulsive and look like disfigured circus clowns, who are still original in a certain way, but this does not apply to these women, but who, with their lip painting, look more like a worn-out deep-sea frigate and also act accordingly. What is your opinion on this, my friend?

Ptaah:

55. I can understand what you are saying and I would like to say that after listening to you, I am kind of glad that in our world as a whole, all women take care of themselves with the kind of discreet cosmetic care that you mentioned.

56. For my part, I also cannot find any pleasure in what female beings do in the way you have described.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_721

Ptaah:

30. The beginning of the spirit form of Nokodemion on Earth came about 389,000 years ago, when a Plejaren herald from the Nokodemion lineage named Aijum (meaning of the name: 'the prudent one') came to Earth with 144,000 human beings from the Nokodemion people and settled in the Gobi Desert.

31. However, the teaching that Aijum taught was disregarded, as has been the case since time immemorial and always, which is why there were always only a few who opened their ears to the efforts of the Annunciator.

32. The majority of the masses, therefore, did not care for the teaching brought by the herald, but in their delusion of faith continued to follow their gods, which equally led to differences and disputes among the various faith groups, as has always been the case, even in later times, and has remained so to this day among all the delusional believers in religion on Earth.

33. At that time, however, after only a short time, the hostilities among the immigrants broke out to such an extent that the city built in the desert and the other populated areas, as well as the Earth, had to be abandoned.

34. More than 25,000 years ago, new Plejaren immigrants arrived on Earth with a slightly yellowish skin pigmentation and mixed with already existing earthly human forms, resulting in another human species that migrated to a large island.

35. The original immigrants, who came from our ANKAR universe more than 25,000 years ago, had created a dimensional gateway millions of light-years beyond the Milky Way galaxy you know, and so entered the DERN universe and from there to Earth, where they settled in fertile areas that are now all part of China.

36. What happened about 389,000 years ago, after only a third of a century, then quickly led to the termination of the action and the abandonment of Earth, after which their distant descendants many generations later, about 13,500 years ago, once again formed an Earth immigrant community and came to Earth.

37. These settled east and south in various places in the areas bordering the Mediterranean Sea and sought a new beginning.

38. This, then, was after another ancient Pleiadian emigrant community had migrated and settled in the fertile lands of what is now called China, some 11,500 years earlier.

39. When then about 13,500 years ago the up to then last Plejaren community of immigrants came to Earth, then this happened in a completely secret form, namely because since the time of 389,000 years earlier other extraterrestrials had come to the Earth in the meantime and had settled down far and wide on all continents, above all the long-skulled ones.

40. In ancient Egypt in particular, they rose to positions of power, waged wars and subjugated tribes of peoples, such as those who called themselves 'Ebraya'.

41. It was these who, in later times, under the leadership of a Negrid Plejaren descendant called 'Avian' (note meaning of name: 'He who gives refuge') – who was, however, called 'Avrahm' by the 'Ebraya' – had joined forces about 4,500 years ago with the still few distant descendants of the ancient Plejaren immigrants who appeared about 13,500 years ago and also begat many descendants.

42. From these descendants begotten between Plejaren descendants and the 'Ebraya', a sixfold lineage of termination then emerged, namely from the reincarnation line of Nokodemion, whose spirit-form reincarnated several times and in rapid succession among the 'Ebraya'.

43. This was after the then messenger Aijum from the Nokodemion line lost his life in the Gobi desert during the warfare of the earth immigrant community about 385,000 years ago and his spirit-form either remained in the earthly realm or migrated and returned, about which unfortunately nothing is known in detail.

44. What is known to us, however, is that the old Plejaren immigrants very quickly mixed with the above-mentioned tribes of peoples, but it turned out that this time, too, unpleasant disputes arose, which led to the fact that, despite the efforts of the heralds, various of these peoples split up and partly also fell into bondage to other peoples.

45. However, when I speak of those peoples into which the Plejaren immigrants integrated themselves, I am not referring to large peoples, but to larger tribes of peoples that did not correspond to complex forms of social organisation.

46. The members of these tribes of peoples, which corresponded to a tribal ethnicity, traced back to a common ancestry, which ensured that a certain mutual cohesion was given as a result of kinship.

47. This, however, did not prevent larger national peoples, who could no longer be called tribes of peoples, but real great peoples or state peoples, from forcibly binding smaller tribes of peoples into servitude.

48. This was also partly the case with the tribes of peoples who had settled around the Mediterranean areas and had mixed with the Plejaren immigrants at an early stage, who were then forced into servitude in the land of the ruling long-sufferers.

49. But the same thing happened to the 'Ebraya' not only by the rulers in ancient Egypt, but also to their distant descendants by the king of the New Babylonian Empire, Nabu-kudurri-usur II, who is also called Nebuchadnezzar II.

50. The proto-tribal leader of the 'Ebraya' was a very distant Negrid descendant of a Plejaren group who had appeared on Earth as immigrants more than 13,500 years ago, who had also mixed with Earth-humans, this proto-tribal leader called 'Avian' living in a land area called 'Plecht', east of the Mediterranean, with a nomadic tribe of 'Ebraya' who called him 'Avrahm'.

51. The denunciation by six heralds with the Nokodemion spirit-form took place after the Plejaren immigration on Earth some 13,500 years ago and lasted until the time of the year 632.

52. The heralds were the following:

53. Henoah born 3rd February 930–894 before Jmmanuel (BC)

54. Elia born 5th February 891–780 before Jmmanuel (BC)

55. Jesaja born 7th February 772–690 before Jmmanuel (BC)

56. Jeremia born 9th February 662–580 before Jmmanuel (BC)

57. Jmmanuel born 3rd February -2–111, 9th May

58. Muhammad born 19th February 571–632 after Jmmanuel (AD)

59. They all endeavoured to teach the doctrine of Nokodemion not only among the 'Ebraya' but also among various peoples who existed in the regions bordering the Mediterranean to the east and south, as well as in Egypt and on both sides of the Red Sea down to its end.

60. But they also taught far eastward to Mesopotamia, where King Gilgamesh formerly ruled in Uruk Gart, as well as to the Aryan country.

61. What I still want to explain for today, this refers to the fact that also in the sister creation the teachings in the DAL universe are taught among the peoples who have migrated from our planets, so also among the people of Ischrisch Asket, as also among all Sonaer peoples.

62. And the fact that we also brought this teaching to Earth at an early time was due to the fact that our ancestors discovered a natural dimensional gate 22 million years ago by chance, which is located here in the DERN universe about 120 light-years beyond the Pleiades stars known to you.

63. The dimensional gateway was discovered because a moon from our ANKAR universe that had drifted from an exploded planet entered the DERN universe through this dimensional gateway, which our ancestors investigated and then found to be Earth's satellite.

64. One consequence of this was that over the course of millions of years small groups of Plejaren repeatedly migrated to Earth and also died here.

65. Later, when the first human life-forms also developed on Earth around 12 million years ago in various areas that are now Europe, Africa, Asia, North and South America, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, China and Russia as well as various islands, several small groups of our Plejaren ancestors had also already settled in some areas on the planet, but they all died out in the course of the next millions of years.

66. About 6 million years ago, when the distant descendants of the first human beings moved in a few specimens all over the Earth and had developed more highly over the next 3 million years, more Plejaren emigrants came to Earth, some of whom joined forces with the original earthly humans and mated with them.

...

Billy:

The norms established by Nokodemion with regard to morals, ethics, ethos etc. became valid for every single life-form up to the great mass of all human life-forms, whereby the only prerequisite for their use and implementation was to possess a clear consciousness as well as understanding, reason and a functioning intellect in order to be able to make the norms of behaviour valid.

All the conventions created by Nokodemion in primeval times and brought to Earth in the course of time and forgotten were, however, brought here again by early Plejaren some time before antiquity, when other Earth-foreigners were also coming and going and had already spread all over the world. Even from these, however, the early Plejaren kept themselves secret for millions of years, so as not to provoke interplanetary conflicts and also not to let such excesses break into their dimension. So they also held back from the Earth-foreigners who ruled in various pre-ancient countries on Earth, such as the Long Skulls, who exercised their might especially in the areas around the Nile and in the southland of the American continent. ...

115. This is known to me from our very numerous war records, which have been made by us during all wars and other weapons engagements on Earth since time immemorial, which are broadcast to all our worlds and Federation members as information, which has a general deterrent effect with regard to acts of war and terrorism.

58. Any person with Swiss citizenship who is of a different mind and violates it in such a way as to seek or even advocate membership in a foreign power, as you have stated in the Europe Union dictatorship, then such a person is not worthy of Swiss citizenship and should be immediately deprived of it and excluded from all political rights.

59. This would be done in our country according to our legal system if something similar were to arise, which will never be the case, because neither in our country nor in our entire federation do any dictatorial systems exist or are any elements that would produce such a nonsensical request.

60. Such a request would be considered a betrayal of our homeland, as well as a betrayal of our peoples, of our Plejaren and all-Federation sentiments and of our world, according to our legal system and state constitution.

61. Such a person, disloyal and disloyal to the homeland, would, according to the State Constitution, be pardonlessly excluded from all political rights of the society.

Billy:

... But while we are at it, perhaps we could spend a few words on how you manage to maintain your motility and remain physically mobile at all times. As many times as I have encountered Plejaren human beings on Erra or elsewhere, I have never been able to observe any who have had physical births.

Ptaah:

57. I also, of course, use our hydrodynamic regeneration converter technology, which ensures that we reach our old age in full mobility.

Billy:

I know that, because Sfath already explained it to me. However, I am interested in something else that I never asked about, namely whether and to what extent you can self-regulate your old age? ...

Ptaah:

58. Our long lifespan of over 1,000 years corresponds to an uninfluenced natural generative process.

Billy:

What do I understand by this? A generative process, if I look at 'generative' etymologically and try to classify and define the word value as such in relation to your long lifespan correctly, then it tells me that the whole thing is 'time-honoured' and must always have been so. Therefore, when I consider this 'generative' in relation to your long lifetimes, I think that this 'generative' must probably be associated or composed with a natural 'generating' and probably at the same time with an equally natural 'regenerative process'. I could also use this to define and explain the totality of life support from conception to death. Is it true or am I right – or have I fallen on my head?

Ptaah:

59. What you think and how you put it all together can be described as correct, because you obviously understand the etymological 'traditional' in this sense as the basic meaning of 'traditional' and the like, not only with regard to a word, but also with regard to other things, such as our age of life.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_750

Ptaah:

95. Ageing as a physiological process corresponds to an elementary life process which is inherent in all higher life-forms and represents a biological phenomenon which can be positively influenced and prolonged by the most diverse measures, but whose effectiveness cannot be cancelled or terminated.

96. In general, ageing is therefore a process of a series of different, highly complex organic processes that influence the entire organism and determine the lifespan of all biological systems such as cells, consequently also limiting the organs, tissues and organisms built up from them in terms of time.

97. This process of ageing can be influenced and extended by suitable means, although maximum limits are also set in this respect, consequently organ regeneration cannot take place endlessly, because when a certain state is reached by natural ageing of the organs, they become susceptible to ageing and fail inexorably.

98. And this brings me to the explanation regarding our age limit, which according to earthly time calculation is not normally given at 1,000, 1,200 or 1,400 years or more, because our Plejaren lifespan, calculated according to earthly years, which differs only by a few with our time calculation, amounts to an average of 380 years.

99. Furthermore, with regard to the age and ageing of our Plejaren humanity, it is to be said that many persons do not endeavour to prolong their lives and consequently do not avail themselves of any of the hydrodynamic regeneration converters available to all, but live through their lifetime normally and die just as normally when they have become tired of life.

100. Suicides are absolutely unknown here, as are also diseases.

...

102. Other persons of our humanity use the regeneration apparatus to live on for a few years, decades or centuries, especially when very long commitments lasting many centuries are made and exercised.

103. However, it is seldom the case that life beyond 1,500 years is sought, because inevitably, with time, life fatigue or the natural ageing process occurs, consequently, dying then also naturally becomes the end of life.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_754

Billy:

Then something else: If I remember correctly, on Erra you have no political parties whatsoever, as this bullshit exists on Earth. Can you explain to me how you guys manage to run everything world-community-wise?

...

Ptaah:

185. 1. We Plejaren have had no political parties of any kind on Erra or on any other of our worlds, as was the case in former times, since the peace came to all our peoples more than 50,000 years ago.

186. Parties of all kinds were then banished extensively from all Plejaren rules of government, because they led to constant disagreements, as our state chronicles record.

187. Parties always meant that they discussed, negotiated and determined motions and regulations concerning any municipal matters, laws, regulations, ordinances or other necessities, and that they decreed and implemented them, which, however, did not correspond to the will of the people as a result of disagreements.

188. This was the result of a wide variety of inaccuracies and deliberate falsehoods in election proposals, which were brought about by lying and deceiving the people, because they were not enlightened in accordance with the truth, but were misled with false promises and declarations.

...

194. 2 Since the abolition of any party system more than 50,000 years ago, our experience and knowledge has shown that since then no disputes, no political differences, no quarrels, no discontent, no quarrels of opinion, no disturbances of the peace, no other inconsistencies in local, regional or national communities, and no wrong decisions have arisen.

195. Nor have there been any planetary political dangers, uprisings, demonstrations, wars or terrorism etc. since then, not even in the slightest way, which, however, was often the case in earlier times and a general unrest was permanent, as our chronicles show.

196. 3. Our exact and clear knowledge and action concerning the suppression of all political parties – as such still existed in former times more than 50,000 years ago – prove since their legal abolition that in former times, and just when parties still existed:

197. a) Political parties led unrestrictedly and inevitably to differences of opinion, quarrels and quarrels as well as to violence, discontent and communal political as well as private discord, ...

203. Basically, then, it is to be defined by way of repetition and explanation that our entire system of electoral determination is geared to the fact that all the electoral facts that arise and have to be dealt with, which originate on the one hand from the peoples and on the other hand from the state bodies, are discussed, negotiated, explained, defined and decided upon in a thorough, detailed and comprehensible manner in question-answer mode over the entire planetary expanse by means of remote communication with the populations.

204. All facts arising and put to the vote will be made known to the populations of an arising territorial or the whole Pleiadian area 30 days before the election-determination date via the corresponding remote-communicative areas.

205. After that, the people can take part in the electoral process of their own free will at the corresponding time, which will be conducted in detail over a whole day, during which everything that has to do with the election will be openly discussed and clarified in a question-and-answer procedure and finally the election will be decided.

206. d) Finally it is to be explained that our committee, which is known to you, like all the persons who assemble in the great pyramid hall, as you call our great assembly place, determine at consultative meetings which facts arise that are to be brought before the people for the determination of the election.

207. As you know, there are about 1.5 million persons present in the Pyramid Hall, who are composed of all classes of the population and who fulfil this task according to their own free will, and consequently correspond not to certain but to voluntary deputies of the population, who declare themselves willing to do so, and who are also composed of other persons at each deliberative meeting.

208. The persons who designate themselves as deputies also voluntarily change among themselves during the sessions, so that several persons can give their opinion on a single matter.

209. When, at the end of the deliberations, everything has been discussed and clarified in detail and beyond doubt, which may take several days, then the final act takes place, in which, as a rule, there is unanimity in favour of an electoral provision, which is then presented in the manner mentioned to the people for their electoral determination.

...

Billy:

... how is it actually with you on Erra and on all other planets, do the human beings of the Plejaren have any private lethal weapons at all? And what about militaries, armies and security forces etc. regarding lethal weapons etc.? ...

...

Ptaah:

249. As far as your direct question concerning weapons among the Plejaren is concerned, i.e. whether the Plejaren privately possess weapons, I can explain that this is not the case, just as we do not have any weapons of war, nor do we have any instruments etc. that are designed to kill human beings.

250. We are only equipped with effective defence instruments that are manufactured in such a way that they cannot be used to kill, but only to temporarily disable human beings or other living beings of all kinds and species, without these being in any way impaired in terms of health or even bodily-organic damage.

...

Billy:

... But that is not what I want to ask, but whether demonstrations are also known at all among you on Erra or among you Plejaren?

Ptaah:

271. In our entire Plejaren-planetary realms, demonstrations such as are carried out on Earth are absolutely unknown, because no justifications whatsoever arise that could lead to such behaviour.

272. As you know, all the concerns of each and every person are profoundly settled by our Board, which presides – together with some 1.5 million voluntary representatives of the people and in the presence of the person of concern – and consequently nothing is ever left unresolved.

273. As a result, in such discussions, clarifications, determinations and negotiations, nothing arises that cannot be clarified to the satisfaction of the person concerned, group of persons or a community of people, etc., if such negotiations and clarifications, etc., have to be clarified to the satisfaction of an individual person, a community or a population by all those participating in them.

Billy:

I know that and have already experienced it together with your father Sfath. I also know that such an event happens only very rarely and just hardly ever.

Ptaah:

274. That is correct.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_763

Florena:

... Ptaah is far away on a Federation planet called 'Orbun' where a lengthy Federal conference is being held.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_766

Billy:

Earlier I started to ask something about the first and following journeys of the Plejaren, first 25 million years ago. As I know, contacts with earthlings were made again and again, but never on a large scale, but only with individual human beings, and usually only with captains of small groups or larger tribes, as well as with sages and clever inventors. There were also other Earth-foreigners on Earth with whom the Plejaren never had any contact, among them also the long-skinned and the giants, who lived especially in Egypt, South America and Asia. But there were also the small-bodied extraterrestrials, whose distant descendants still live in Asia today, but who hide from the so-called civilised and can only rarely be observed. On the other hand, a small group of small aliens had settled around Lake Sanura, which existed here in the Pirc region about 20 or 30 million years ago before it disappeared. I would like to ask you to what extent you are aware of your earlier emigration history with regard to migrations or other longer or shorter stays on foreign worlds, whereby I am asking specifically with regard to Earth.

Ptaah:

I can't give more details on that, because in that regard I have never dealt with it much, but only to the extent that I have some limited knowledge of self-orientation.

Billy:

But perhaps your knowledge is sufficient to enable you to tell me to what extent the early Plejaren interfered on a large scale with Earthling cultures here on Earth?

Ptaah:

I can comment on this, for I know from the historiography of our early emigrants who came to Earth that there was no direct interference in cultural or otherwise profound matters on Earth. No groupings of our ancestors saw fit to do so, nor have they to this day, except for one attempt {see Contact Reports 117 and 122} which we sought to test through you, but which did not materialise as a result of the megalomania of those responsible for it in the USA, but which we had assumed beforehand – and without foresight – to be so.

Billy:

So there were never any overt or covert contacts with governments, any peoples or major organisations etc., that is clear now, but what about contacts with you alien extraterrestrials here on Earth?

Ptaah:

There are also no records in the relevant historiography that would point to such occurrences, consequently no such contacts have taken place, and indeed not up to the present hour. We of the present time also have to refrain from such contacts and to do all we can to avoid being noticed by aliens, which is what our directives tell us to do in this regard, and for good reason, as you and Onkoton have already discussed.

...

Onkoton:

... To search for other life-forms in distant regions of the galaxy or in alien galaxies involves very great dangers, for very many alien life-forms of various kinds are not only aggressive but malignant. And when such beings get to alien worlds that offer life possibilities for them, they conquer them and exterminate all life that could be dangerous to them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_770

Billy:

Excuse me – you mean that you Plejaren also learn and study music and all the trimmings?

Florena:

Of course, and Bermunda is a renowned virtuoso on Erra and is proficient on several harmony instruments.

...

Billy:

Excuse me, what do you mean by 'persons who are very strictly involved with music'? Do you mean professional musicians, like the ones we have on Earth, who earn their living with music? If so, then the question: do you also have such musicians?

Bermunda:

I suppose you call these persons so. – Yes, that is the meaning of my explanation. And yes, we also cultivate music in this wise and conduct studies of musical teaching. And that I can explain everything to you for your understanding, that I am able to do, because through my musical education I am equally well versed in the fundamentals and forms of music as well as in the theory of composition, and also in the measures and time and notation, as well as in the naming of notes, rhythm, keys and tone levels, etc.

...

Billy:

... how many languages do you actually have on Erra?

Bermunda:

We have several languages, but only one that is common to all and that each person is completely fluent in.

Billy:

Then every person can communicate with every other person, wherever they meet.

Florena:

Yes.

Billy:

Then I have the question about prostitution, fornication. I was asked how you on Erra do it? Do you also have brothels or something like that?

Bermunda:

We do not know of such things. Our directives also do not contain any such records, because basically everything in this respect is frowned upon and regulated among our peoples before it comes to emergency situations. We have regulated everything in this respect in such a manner that androids are available to regulate all private needs in this respect, on a truly private basis, without any public prostitution taking place. Thus everything is regulated privately, in such a way in female and also in male respect, consequently female as well as male androids are available, but never human beings who would give themselves to this activity. Of course, partnerships of this kind exist between two human beings, but as such they are firm unions and consequently no prostitution is practised in this relationship either.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_781

Ptaah:

... as a rule not all alien beings from foreign celestial regions or from foreign worlds of foreign celestial bodies are peaceful-minded. Peacefulness is in no way common among life-forms in any universe, for peacefulness requires a socially balanced evolution, which unfortunately is not very common. Our Federation, which is spread over several universes of 2 Creations and covers so many light-years in earthly terms that they cannot be put into usual words, is quite peaceful, but outside the Federation community everything is of a different nature.

But let us return to our peoples on Erra, as well as to our other 5 worlds that exist in our vast double-solar system, some of which are also known to you. They all have the same systems of governance, so there are no differences whatsoever from one Plejaren planet to another, for each and everything is uniformly the same in governance, in the treatment of the rights of the peoples, as well as in their developments and everything else, so there are no differences whatsoever. This is also the case with regard to gender, i.e. female or male, as well as children, activities and abilities, etc., so that there are no special positions among us, not even with regard to the fact that a human being is valued more or less because of his achievements or his office, or enjoys more or less prestige, or would attract special attention as a prominent person. The fact that human beings make themselves great and go public because they want to present themselves in their wrong thinking and wrong feeling does not exist here. E...

Billy:

So there is no publicity lust, as we call it. There is no such thing with you guys, I already know that since the time with Sfath.

Ptaah:

No, that would also be frowned upon from the ground up. We are all equal as human beings, consequently we never do anything to make ourselves look, behave, attract special attention or value ourselves more than any other.

Billy:

Sfath said respectively: A human being who puts himself in the foreground and thinks himself special is not only selfish but always looking out for himself in every way, not honest, devious and will go over dead bodies if it is necessary for him.

Ptaah:

That's how it's taught with us and how young people are taught, even in their early youth, because according to our ethics it's not acceptable that one human being – for whatever reason – thinks he's more valuable than another. But if I were to go on about our universally valid systems: If, for example, we receive any knowledge and new achievements from the Sonaern, then these are made available indiscriminately and without conditions to all our peoples, who, by the way, all practise birth control and do not allow their population to rise above the level that could somehow bring harm and destruction, annihilation or extinction to the planet, its atmosphere, climate, ecosystems or nature and its fauna and flora. Since our planets are of different sizes etc., they are also inhabited with different numbers of human beings of the total population, so, for example, according to our calculations, Erra could support, feed, provide for and maintain about 1.4 billion human beings without any problems, without harming the planet, all ecosystems and thus nature and its fauna and flora for the duration of several million years.

...

... we do not have a military, because we do not need one, because all around everything is peaceful and our peoples of all planets are classified in this peacefulness. So also all our devices and apparatuses of possibly necessary defence do not have any lethal effect on human forms or animals etc., but in any case they only produce a paralysis which lasts for several hours, but without exception all vital functions are guaranteed and harmless. We may well learn to use such apparatus and appliances, but we do not hold exercises involving the use of such things.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_790

Billy:

This is actually what I have to say, and what I learned especially from Sfath nearly 80 years ago and have never forgotten. He knew a lot more about the human psyche than is peculiar to earthly psychologists, who fancy themselves kings of their field, but in reality and truth know very little.

Quetzal:

He was really very knowledgeable in this subject, which he also taught on Erra and was a master of it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_791

Bermunda:

... I must mention that we have had no murders on Erra and our worlds since time immemorial. This has already occurred after human beings separated from their religious beliefs more than 50,000 years ago and became free from all faith and thus free in themselves and also peaceful.

...

Bermunda:

But as far as religious faith is concerned, our faith-captured Plejaren peoples also had to realise and experience the truth about this over 50,000 years ago. This led to a great many of them ending their own lives. In the course of time, only those remained who began to cultivate their own thoughts, thought out their own decisions and carried out their own determined actions. And there also remained those who were fickle and who ultimately chose between religious faith and the reality of reality, consequently all religions and every human being whose faith very quickly became void and extinguished and the result was that the human beings became peaceful. This became established very quickly, as a result of which the nonsense of all religiosity and religious belief was recognised by the human beings themselves and reduced to absurdity. This gave rise to religion-free peoples who, without any religious belief, have now lived in peace and harmony for more than 50,000 years, because 1. the quarrels between the various religions were resolved, and 2. the human beings learned to think for themselves and also to decide logically, rationally and reasonably, consequently they also learned to act accordingly. This was also learned by the humanities and peoples belonging to our Federation, for our ancestors endeavoured to spread their new way of thinking and their new way of life and the necessary understanding of it, which was accepted and realised by all humanities in a short time.

Billy:

And the great orb at that time that had started all this, was that involved in that also with the Federated?

Bermunda:

Yes, that is how it is handed down to us.

...

Billy:

... Do you also have organ transplantation from one human being to another, or from dead to living, on Erra or elsewhere?

Bermunda:

But no, that is not possible with us, because all the dignity of a human being speaks against such a thing, because the dignity of human beings is inviolable for us. It is respected, protected and preserved in every way. This is laid down in our directives and obliges all directive order. All our peoples are committed to this and therefore they will never violate this directive and respect it as a human right, as the basis of all human dignity. This also includes peace and justice with regard to the humans themselves and their lives, whereby their fundamental rights as independent Wesen are also guaranteed and may never be violated. This fundamental right is bound up with the fact that no executive Gewalt and jurisdiction may ever be used as a directly applicable right against life and limb and therefore also not against organs, thus opposing the removal of organs, regardless of whether or not there is still life in them. ...

...

Billy:

So in terms of your directives, the meaning is, if I understand the whole thing correctly, that in any case there must be no transplantation of a foreign organ into a body.

Bermunda:

That is correct. But there is – if I may explain this in a simple way for the explanation – the possibility of a transplantation in such a way that a correspondingly necessary organ is grown from the body's own substance, if I may say so for the sake of understanding, which can then be transplanted. So our directives explicitly prohibit the transplanting of organs foreign to one's own body, which includes blood, as well as other fluids, but which are largely still unknown to earthly medicine for insertion into a living body.

Billy:

... I can still remember this. I still remember that there was talk of the corresponding organs being cultivated beforehand, depending on the possible need, before they have to be used in an emergency.

Bermunda:

That is correct, it corresponds to our procedure and practice. However, our directives forbid the removal of any organs from the deceased, because this is not only barbaric and unaesthetic and therefore unacceptable in every respect, but from a purely human point of view it means nothing other than desecration of the dead, what you call desecration of corpses on Earth. ...

Billy:

And – well, how did you Plejaren get into the business of growing human organs and transplanting them?

Bermunda:

As I know the history of our development in this regard, our path – explained in simple terms – led us to the early recognition of the properties of artificial methods for growing complex organ models from stem cells.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_794

Bermunda:

... But I would like to say that in the past it was also common for the military to play an important role and for wars to be fought until ...

Billy:

... I know, until the giant sphere appeared on Erra etc. more than 50,000 years ago and everything quickly improved and changed, as the military was also abolished at that time and true peace actually came about.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_795

Billy:

... But with him I not only learned a lot through journeys into the past and the future, which prove to me today that many things are not true what the scientists assume and spread as truth. Many things were really quite different from what they claim, for example, what actually happened with the Maya, or with other ancient peoples, and that foreigners really did come to Earth from other worlds, from far away and outside the SOL sphere of influence, from the distant expanses of the DERN universe – also the Long Skulls. What I wrote at that time, when it was, I do not remember, in response to a request to ... after which ... began. The Long-skulled were also in Babel, in Egypt, in South America and in Asia, where they ruled, whereby Sfath gave me the opportunity to check everything. ...

...

Bermunda:

... you have retrieved and created the correct peace sign, which has been prevalent among us on Erra and in our Federation for many millennia, conveying peace that is real and firmly exists.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_799

Billy:

That is unfortunately the case, because the earthlings simply allow themselves to be directed and let themselves be ruled over without daring and mustering the courage to say what would be necessary. The peoples are like will-less cows that are jumped on and ruled over by thuggish bulls and do not dare to stand up to them.

Ptaah:

What you say, we are aware of. We know that this has been so since time immemorial and will remain so for a long time to come, and for such a long time until the bulk of humanity finally awakens and demands its rights of being independent, so that it is finally no longer deviously and incorrectly guided according to the will of those in power, but is guided justly according to what it wants and determines for itself in common with its own kind, uninfluenced by vocal propaganda.

Billy:

You are thinking of the libertarian system that you have and maintain on Erra?

Ptaah:

Yes, you know that very well, and this maintains the free opinion of the human being as well as of the whole people, which also ensures peace and its freedom, Federation-wide in such a way that between all 274 worlds belonging to the Federation, spread over 702 light-years, there is vain peace and freedom.

...

Billy:

... But tell me, shouldn't we say what is actually connected with the naming of the 'foreigners', what is behind it, as well as that it is ... about, and that ...

Ptaah:

The whole of the connections of the 'foreigners' we must continue to keep quiet about, for far too much depends on it, which reaches far into the future and will change everything to such an extent that ... But about that silence is still the order of the day, and you must keep to it, as before.

Billy:

But I suppose I can bring that in and write down what we talked about, can't I? I'm sure it would also help me for not being asked anymore what and who these 'foreigners' actually are and what their purpose is.

Ptaah:

You really must not let any of this be known, because it would also be dangerous for your safety. Your knowledge of the whole of the connections of the foreigners, as we call them, so as not to have to say what they are really about, that should stay with you and not get any further, because it is really too ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_802

Ptaah:

Indeed, the whole thing is more than illusory for a long time to come, for that the Earth-humans, as emigrants into interstellar space, will ever reach outside the SOL system with their still very primitive technology, also in the future, is something that probably does not need to be talked about.

Billy:

Unless the 'foreigners', as we now call them, intervene and help, as you once said, the Earth-humans will never, ever reach galactic space with 'emigration ships'. The 'foreigners' have been particularly active again in the last 2 decades, as you keep saying, ...

...

Ptaah:

... it has been around 20 million years since our distant ancestors first came to Earth, and they kept themselves largely covered up, as did those who followed them all this time after. This has remained so to this day because it was forbidden even then, which has remained so to this day, for the Plejaren to spread out into another universe of Creation than just their own dimension. A special regulation arose very early with regard to the sister universe or the DAL universe, consequently 2 Plejaren peoples were allowed to settle there, so the Sonaer and those you know as the people from whom Asket originated.

As we know very well, a great deal is negotiated and decided by many of the leaders in all the states of the Earth, which, however, remains secret from the peoples and consequently does not reach the public. Such a thing is not possible with us Plejaren and, moreover, would not be permitted according to our directives, for every member of our Federation and planetary humanity is entitled to know explicitly everything that is discussed and decided by state leaders. Furthermore, it is handled in such a way that every negotiation of state duties, as well as other duties that arise, etc., is carried out reciprocally by other persons, thus never the same persons carry out a meeting, deliberation and decision, consequently different persons are involved each time. Furthermore, all meetings, deliberations, decisions, etc., are broadcast planet-wide, so that every single person of the populations of all the planets of our vast Federation and of our planet can interfere or intervene if he or she feels it is necessary. Ptaah:

Fundamentally, the discovery of a natural dimensional gate, still unknown to our very early ancestors, was the beginning of the whole of your mission, when it happened that about 25 million years ago a lunar structure penetrated this gate, which then found its way into this universe and to Earth and pushed away another lunar structure of little more than 1,000 kilometres in diameter, which was later captured by the giant planet Saturn. A group of explorers had also followed this lunar formation and thus found their way to Earth, which has since been visited again and again by our distant descendants, who brought a great many life-forms, plants and other goods with them to our planet, which at that time was still called 'Minator', but was renamed ERRA about 52,000 years ago, when the time of peace spread to our world. Everything old was supposed to be in the past, and so everything that seemed important to our ancestors was given new names, which is why the name of our planet was also subordinated to these changes and given the designation 'Erra', which in our language – which has remained the same since then and has not changed – meant something like 'soil' and 'earth'. This planetary designation was also used when a distant descendant of Nokodemion first came to this Earth world about 280,000 years ago and decided that the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of Creation-energy, Teaching of Life' should also be brought into this universe resp. into this dimension of Creation and thus to Earth. Thus it came about that via the level 'Arahat Athersata' later on, at a certain time, down-born energies of the Nokodemion could be born on Earth, which then happened for the first time about 14,000 years ago, after which this then further came about with Enoch, Elijah, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Jmmanuel, Muhammed and you. The name of our planet, however, i.e. 'Erra', remained and was then also adopted in the Latin language on Earth, but changed to 'Terra', which meant something like 'land' and was later also interpreted as 'Earth'.

The giant thing was 38 metres high, as your father said. So I have been wanting to ask for a long time whether there are also such water monsters on the seas here on Erra?

Ptaah:

That is so.

Billy:

Sfath explained that planetary internal earth movements would create such monster waves.

Ptaah:

That corresponds to the fact, because internal earth movements create such monster waves, with magma creating internal displacements that vibrate and spread to the waters of the seas, causing them to churn.

Billy:

... The question was raised as to how it is with you, whether you also have homosexual men and lesbian women, bisexual, sadistically or masochistically oriented people, etc. in your peoples?

If so – this is the second question – what do you call them in terms of gender?

For example, here on Earth we simply call these human beings man and woman.

Ptaah:

4. In terms of gender, we call them no different than Earth-humans do, male and female, in our language we call the man as Süre, and the woman as Kagir.

5. Moreover, it is to be explained that it corresponds absolutely to the conditions of nature that with regard to the sexes of human beings different forms appear.

6. This arises both with the actual human being, as we are, as well as with other human beings, such as giant or small human beings, as well as with human beings who have a completely different appearance from that of pure human beings, i.e. who are also physically different from us.

Billy:

Do you mean, for example, the appearance of Asina, because she is, I suppose, an actual human being, but she has a body and a head that are, if I may say so, reptilian.

{Note: see Contact Reports 90, 91, and 93 for information on Billy's first encounter with Asina.}

Ptaah:

7. That is indeed so.

Billy:

Good, but it is also the case with you and with human beings like Asina that everything is oriented in the same manner with regard to sex resp. sexual acts.

Ptaah:

...

9. But I want to explain the answer, namely that everywhere in all universes all differences of the sexual occur in its application, consequently normal sexuality resp. alloiophilia resp. heterosexuality is to be understood as bisexual between woman and man, if I may say so.

10. Apart from this, homosexuality also appears, in which this is oriented from man to man, while lesbianism applies to woman with woman.

11. In addition, there is the fact that, outside of the strictness of homosexuality itself and lesbianism, there are also two-gender forms of homosexuality and lesbianism.

12. In this form men, as homosexuals, also have sexual relations with women, as also, as lesbians, with men alternately, but these sexual forms are neither abnormal nor to be called repugnant.

13. On the contrary, however, this is often the case on Earth, mainly for confused and, as a rule, religiously devout reasons and misunderstandings.

14. As I know, it is considered deviant and even punishable by fine and death penalty.

15. Normality is also to be conceded in a completely natural framework, whereby the bisexual activity resp. the heterosexuality of every human being who is predisposed in this respect is directed towards this alone.

16. However, sexual sadism and sexual masochism are to be mentioned, which as pathological phenomena are natural in this form, but nevertheless correspond to a degeneration.

17. This, however, is absolutely incomprehensible to Earth-humans and testifies to how they have fallen prey to the faith and ignorance stupidity, because they are unable to ascertain it according to reality.

18. Consequently, they are unable to understand that everything is degenerate and at the same time naturally given and normal with regard to the effectiveness in this respect.

...

20. With regard to your question, however, I have to explain that all the forms of sexuality mentioned, because they are natural and normal throughout, are also given with us, as this is given in all spheres of all liveliness in the entire sphere of Creation.

21. Therefore, we cannot and must not speak of abnormality in what is purely normal, as Earth-humans understand and incorrectly represent it.

22. What is natural is based on the fact of Creation and is therefore a law of that which is natural.

23. And this is not only the case with the human being, but with all genera and species of all living beings, that is, with animals, creatures and all other life-forms.

24. Exceptions to this, however, are paedophilia, bestiality, sadism and masochism.

25. These degenerations – which, however, are to be called normal as a disease – are based on an addiction which the human beings acquire uncontrollably through fantasies and confusing imagination up to the point of mental morbidity and allows them to degenerate in an illusory way.

...

Billy:

... with animals, creatures and all other life-forms it is much rarer than with human beings that sexual manifestations arise that fall outside the usual.

Nevertheless, the same thing exists everywhere, not only on Earth, but universally in all areas of the 7 universes of Creation resp. in their material belts and thus on planetary formations on which any kind of life exists.

This is also related to rape and effective degenerations in relation to sexual acts, and also when this is only very rarely or never observed by human beings in other life-forms.

But the fact that it is actually the case that the sexual practices mentioned exist in all living beings is a reality and it is important that the human being knows this.

This also results in interminglings – which the human being consciously and deliberately uses to produce new species, etc. – whereby new species and varieties, etc. arise, but which also result in new life-forms according to nature, even if this contradicts every biology theory, etc. and is disputed by 'experts'.

This, of course, results just as consciously willed by the human being, who in no wise sets himself/herself any limits when he/she wants to achieve something in any form.

What results in further forms, however, with regard to sadism and masochism or even sado-masochism and sodomy, is generally the following, which, however, does not correspond to a personality disorder, as 'experts' falsely claim, but to a disorder of consciousness, because the personality can never be affected by any influences of a personal or foreign kind.

And it is also to be said that when I speak of the limits which the earthling does not set for himself/herself and thereby destroys much, then it is also to be said that nature is biologically founded in a different manner than so-called science claims, for out of it new genera and species arise, which, inexplicably for the 'wise' scientists, are given in nature, like certain diverse 'assemblages' from which new life results.

...

Billy:

Back then, when the dinosaurs existed, it was largely natural events that led to the disappearance of the great living creatures.

At that time, by the way – even if it is vehemently denied by the 'great' scientists and mad know-it-alls and insulted as wild fantasy – there were also human beings who, however, were not born here on Earth, but who actually existed, as I once saw on a journey back into the past with Sfath.

...

... Aha – so you are researching what all went on in your father's day.

Ptaah:

37. Yes. – Through that I also found a fossilised excrement of a human being there, which is called 'coprolite' on Earth.

38. When I examined it closely, I was astonished to find that the excrement was 74 million years old.

39. You have travelled together very far back in time, much further than only 25 million years ago.

Billy:

Yes, that was very interesting for me, because that is how I learned a lot of things that had already happened at very early times, when no Earthlings had yet been created on Earth through evolution.

And it is to be said that in those early times many things, indeed many things, were quite different from what the 'all-knowing ones' of today claim, precisely those who concern themselves with the past.

...

So, I think I may now speak openly and say that beings from the depths of the space of this universe visited the Earth before there were Earthlings.

Since then, however, their descendants have come here again and again, creating many things for the human beings of the Earth in the last 390,000 years or so, which were often only achieved with hovering techniques.

...

Whether the people who travelled far and wide were always persons of the same people, and also whether it was later their descendants who came here and who ..., I do not know.

But it is to be assumed that the various groups were somehow connected.

What is clear to me, however, is that some of the long-distance travellers rose up as 'gods' who were then worshipped by the earthlings and to whom human sacrifices were also made. Some of them were real giants of different sizes, but there were also human beings of normal sizes, and then also dwarfs of normal size, thus not microsomic human beings. [microsomia refers to humans with abnormally small bodies] And there were also long-skulled and tall-skulled people – which was then imitated by the earthlings by integrating the skulls of infants. Sfath explained that most of these long-distance travellers had mixed with the earthlings all over the world, so that it would also be the case in the distant future that tall stature, long-skulledness and tall-skulledness would be preserved and that earthlings of this kind would be born again and again if they traced back to the lineages of the mixing at that time.

Unfortunately, such beings from the vastness of the material belt also brought various bacteria and viruses to Earth, which since then have been spreading worldwide from time to time and even causing health havoc.

...

Ptaah:

46. Our presence has to remain undetectable, because our directives have recently been updated, because certain foresights concerning the future of earthly humanity and the foreigners are very unpleasant and require a stricter observance of our instructions concerning our activity on Earth.

...

52. For us, it is important that we fathom the activities of the foreigners very carefully inside and out.

53. Apart from the knowledge gained from this, we also know that we have to keep to what we have always maintained, namely that we remain unrecognised, both in relation to Earth's humanity and in relation to the foreigners, whose technology is very far behind ours, but whom they would inevitably want to get hold of if they could come into contact with us.

54. We know very well their aspirations and are able to anticipate what would result from contact with them.

...

Ptaah:

63. ... To this I can only explain that we Plejaren really have no interest whatsoever in interfering in any earthly matters, neither in political nor in private affairs.

64. Nor do we influence any Earth-humans, nor do we make any attacks on Earth-humans, nor on military or technical matters.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_831

Ptaah:

20. Much is happening today so infamously hidden that it is not known to the peoples, which is why the striving for more power of the state powers and all financial institutions has not only promoted their criminality, crime and corruption in such a way that, in imitating them, everything similar has also taken hold in the populations, so that all this can no longer be changed.

21. According to our investigations and findings, all this has taken on such degenerations in the last 150 years that a new form has arisen which has been spreading more and more for years, namely the electronic one, which has not proved itself in the long run with regard to the payment of purchasable goods and finally the payment for work.

22. This was the experience of our ancestors, which is why the means of payment for all kinds of goods and wages for work were completely abolished by us Plejaren, some 52,000 years ago, since we turned to peace.

23. This also had the consequence that all financial crime and crimes of the same kind immediately became a thing of the past and never appeared again.

24. All production sites for any kind of goods became the common property of all peoples, while work was no longer paid for with wages, because no means of payment were necessary anymore, because everything desired and necessary for life could be acquired without them.

25. In the course of time, as a result of more modern technology, working hours were also reduced, so that today only 2 working hours per day are required per person to do what has to be done.

...

Ptaah:

27. Our Erra is about the same size as the Earth, so our world population is correctly only 530 million, which would also correspond to the Earth's humanity, which is also what the Earth's population should strive for.

...

Ptaah:

35. In this manner, Earth-humans are on the way to one day being dominated, enslaved and harassed by artificial intelligence, as had also happened to our distant ancestors, who were only able to become free of everything again by abruptly destroying all artificial intelligences before they realised that they had been destroyed.

36. This had to be done by a secretly organised agreement, otherwise it would not have been possible to free oneself from the artificial intelligence.

...

Ptaah:

44. Otherwise, however, yesterday I came across, while reading the annals, that I may mention more than before that with regard to those who are simply called foreigners by us, I may openly say that my father Sfath and you observed them already in early times.

45. In this respect especially their ancestors on Earth, how they have wrought and in some cases allowed themselves to be worshipped as 'gods'.

46. But they were of the same character as Earth-humans, good or evil, and thus beings who were friendly or unfriendly, helpful or exploitative, peaceful, aggressive, open, devious and even warlike.

47. All these 'deities', as Sfath, my father, writes in his annals, were of various shapes and sizes, but human beings who ...

Billy:

... yes, I know that.

There were all kinds of shapes, but I did not see any like Asina, for example, reptile-like, as I call them.

{Note: see Contact Reports 90, 91, and 93 for information on Billy's first encounter with Asina.}

...

Ptaah:

51. So I will say more about what I was talking about before: As my father wrote, the foreigners of that time, whose distant descendants can still be observed in earthly airspace, were of a female nature, but also male Earth-humans in great numbers, who allowed themselves to be worshipped and glorified, but also built many buildings, etc. and taught Earth's humanity various forms of writing.

52. Many of their buildings and other works were only possible because of their highly developed technological abilities and their potentialities.

53. The foreigners, however, also exalted themselves above the Earth-humans, but they also taught them a great deal about the cosmos and the stars, which Earth-humans who were interested in them already dealt with in very early times.

54. This, as well as the coming into existence of the Earth-humans, which is different from what is wrongly taught on the Earth, is the actual origin of the coming into existence, as well as the origin of various races which are not of Earth origin.

...

56. But what I still have to say is the following: Over thousands of years, Earth-humans have, on their own initiative, imitated the constructions, etc. that were made by the ancestors of the foreigners, in a primitive manner.

...

61. Furthermore, it is to be mentioned that we Plejaren have to adhere to the strict directive that we must keep away from the foreigners at all costs.

62. Although they have developed their technology to such an extent that they could and can reach Earth and other worlds from the territory of their home stars, they are unable to penetrate our dimension of our universe.

63. And we are obliged by our directives that the foreigners never find the possibility to advance resp. penetrate into our dimension, because our – according to earthly time calculation – very laboriously won state of peace about 52,000 years ago could be endangered by intruders.

Tell me rather – this is a question that is often put to me – how it is with the women with you, whether they bother with make-up?

For my part, I do not know that either, except that all the Plejaren women I know personally are never 'painted up'.

Ptaah:

25. There you are asking a question for which you actually know the answer, because our female gender does not know this bad habit of self-defacement of the face, fingers and body as well as hair.

26. Hair is necessarily 'dyed' with medical means for medical reasons when this is necessary, but when the state of health no longer requires it, then the 'dyeing' is stopped.

27. The women on Erra frown upon any form of self-defacement of their naturalness.

Billy:

So they do not use lipstick, eyebrow pencil, nail polish, just as they do not use plumping or padding injections, skin care products and so on and so forth?

Ptaah:

28. To that I already said that such is absolutely frowned upon because only the natural is preserved and maintained.

Billy:

That's why I have never seen a woman on Erra 'painting' herself.

The non-Earth-humans, and thus the ancestors of the foreigners, those of ..., warned of this {climate change/"planetary warm period"} and of overpopulation thousands of years ago and declared that Earth's humanity should be kept on a small scale and not 'bred' in excess. But this was thoroughly misunderstood by those idiots and self-seekers and elements and know-it-alls who pose as prophets and God's messengers, which is why they devised themselves as self-appointed 'wise men' and 'God's commanders' and claimed the opposite of what was correct, so they falsified all the warnings of the Earth-foreigners and lied out of it 'go and multiply'. ...

... All this was first predicted thousands of years ago by a truth-bringer and those Earth-foreigners who were able to fathom the distant future on Earth and therefore knew what the future would bring, and all of the knowledge in this regard has proven and resulted to be correct to this day. Thus, however, what is really clearly foretold will continue to come to pass, for it is inevitable, and much is determined solely by the human beings of the Earth themselves, very often by overpopulation and the unreasonableness of those who instigate wars ...

Ptaah:

This is indeed so, for we do not mix our fields of work with those of other persons of the same kind, for each has its individual methods which we do not spread to others, for in this way discriminatory differences do not appear which would cause discord. Certain methods and work procedures etc. can be asked about and also answered for better application, but otherwise individual work methods and results are absolutely not addressed. This only happens when special information meetings take place in this regard, where this and that is discussed.

... from time immemorial the number 12 has been the 'value of all things', as well as the fact that the ancient ones who came here had 12 fingers and toes instead of 10. They also mixed with the earthlings at that time, so that it still happens today that very distant descendants are once again 'equipped' with it, precisely that they are born with 12 fingers and 12 toes. In addition, there is actually a whole tribe of indigenous people living in the jungle in South America, untouched by civilisation, whose human beings each have 12 fingers and 12 toes, as I saw for myself when I was there with Sfath. Of course, 12 fingers on the hands and 12 toes on the feet are called bodily aberrations or the like by earthly scientists. It is not known to them, after all, that it is a complete naturalness that was once brought here and can now and then break through as heredity in earthlings whose very early ancestry of parents goes back thousands of years, but this cannot be fathomed, just as it cannot be fathomed that their very early ancestors had mixed with the hereditary ones. As a rule, however, the true earlier ancestry of the ancestors thousands of years ago cannot be fathomed, which leads back to the parents of 12-fingered children and 12-toed descendants.

However, all those I was allowed to get to know here on Earth and on Erra, and indeed all of them, from the smallest dwarfs of about 80 centimetres to the titans of over 5 metres in height and the 'acid people' who are 6-fingered and honoured our cars with their acid hands and acid fingerprints, which did not exactly cause vain joy among some of our centre inhabitants,

I don't think I need to reply to that. But with regard to neutrality, I have something to say, namely what we Plejaren understand by it, and that for more than 52,000 years, when our ancestors introduced it – Karatreliion, as we call it – we have really had peace and freedom throughout our vast Federation, which was not the case before with our very early ancestors for millions of years. Bermunda:

... But if I want to mention something concerning our task, it is effectively not based on interfering with the events of humanity here on Earth, but our presence has been directed since time immemorial solely towards observing and registering how everything is developing, because our peoples and Federation members are interested in how far everything has to go until an overpopulation arises through a religious mania to the extent that such an overpopulation completely destroys a planet and all life. Even our peoples of our distant ancestors kept records of how everything developed in this cosmos of this universe on this world you call Earth. ...

Florena:

Why are these women here so coated with red lips?

Billy:

I took this booklet from the kitchen over there because I want to read an article in it. With the women here on Earth it is unfortunately the case that many do this because they probably believe that it 'beautifies' them.

Florena:

But look how these women have painted their lips red. That is really disgusting.

Bermunda:

Yes, that is really disgusting. We do not do that here on Erra. It looks really disgusting.

Billy:

A lot of women do it on Earth because they think it's beautiful. Smearing your lips with the so-called lipstick is just IN with many, you know that.

Florena:

Yes, but it is so disgusting.

Bermunda:

I can only agree with Florena. It really is very repulsive and disgusting. It is incomprehensible to me that Earth women use this disgusting painting because they perhaps think that it makes their appearance appear more favourable. But this is not the case because it makes the face look so distorted and unnatural with this smearing on the lips.

Florena:

Yes it is, it really disfigures the face.

Billy:

That is unfortunately the case, and I know that on Erra you do not use any makeup. But here on Earth it is different, because here there is a delusion among these women that painting the lips and such is advantageous.

Bermunda:

We do not see it that way, because it has an effect and it is disgusting.

Billy:

In addition to all this, I think it should be mentioned that if the 'foreigners' – who were already spread all over the Earth in ancient times and some of whose distant ancestors in the Indus Valley in Pakistan did something that could have been avoided if pure reason had prevailed there too, but which is obviously lacking in all human life-forms – then many things would have been different since time immemorial. But ignorance and imprudence are a fact that must also be attributed to the old and new foreigners – even if they were technically far ahead of the earthlings and are still ahead today. They have been circling around in earthly airspace since time immemorial and thus since time immemorial, but nevertheless they have nothing to do with what is attributed to them in connection with certain earthlings.

I already know from Sfath that you Plejaren literally 'inhale' earthly books and do not have to read them as we Earthlings do, but by a certain technique you simply 'absorb' a whole book or about 6,000 pages within about an hour or two and register everything as a whole in your memory. ...

...

Jjfa:

... Yes, it is indeed the case that we can acquire book knowledge in a very short time, which would take months or years through normal reading.

Billy:

Sfath explained to me that for the time being, once a work, a book, etc. is set up, it can be independently read in a short time and thereafter it is accessible to everyone and can be 'inhaled' in said process. As he explained to me, what has been read in then remains stored timelessly and is available to any human beings who want to 'listen in' to it.

That is so – yes.

The Plejaren and all their Federation members remain absolutely and in all respects neutral without ever doing an iota to interfere in any earthly matter. Billy)

(The Plejaren have never done anything to interfere in Earthly affairs since time immemorial when they first came here to Earth, as they do not to this day. Quetzal:

... we Plejaren, as well as our federates as a whole, are not at home in this time structure and thus not in this universe of Creation, but are displaced in space resp. dimension and time in another of the 7 universes of Creation. This, as well as others from our lineage, who however come from a universe resp. dimensional structure of the twin-sister Creation, come here to Earth, as do we Plejaren, because you work here with regard to the teaching that leads back to Nokodemion and which is also taught with us, and through which our peoples became peaceful and in this process sociable with each other. But when you are no more, then we will all withdraw for good, so that after 25 million years, when our distant ancestors found the passage anomaly to this space-time continuum and came here, we will then leave this universe space resp. the dimensional structure of Creation. I still have to explain that our appearance here was based on the prediction that our distant ancestors saw more than 25 million years ago that in the future the teaching of Nokodemion would be spread on this planet Earth, which is why also already at that time the anomaly of the passage from our universe into this one was used to move here. However, always and throughout the entire duration, from then until now, we remained strictly bound by the time of our distant ancestors and their descendants – and so also we ourselves – to what was decided. For this was the word that no interference in earthly affairs would ever take place without an official alliance with some authoritative earthly might of this Earth planet.

Quetzal:

I can answer that question for you, because that is part of our general knowledge that we Plejaren learn. The last war our ancestors fought was about 56 142 years ago, involving territorial claims.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_851

Quetzal:

This is very interesting, although it is not an anomaly, as is probably assumed by earthly scientists and called polydactyly by them. What I see here pictorially points to very distant descendants of foreigners who came to the Earth from a distant galaxy many millennia ago and mated with Earth-humans, whose descendants and again their descendants, etc., passed on physical peculiarities down to the present time, thus testifying to the immigration of foreigners to the Earth at very early times.

Billy:

Something that is still denied today by the too clever ones of anthropology and other 'bright minds' and 'sharp ones' and know-it-alls as well as other negators of truth, because in reality and in their lowly intelligence they are only illusory thinkers and incapable of putting 1 and 1 together. Besides, there were once the six-fingered little ones here in the Centre who left their handprints on the bonnets of cars and burnt them into the paintwork. This is because the little ones of this kind have a kind of acid skin, which means that on our world their touches on earthly materials leave acidic marks. We also have photos of this that someone has taken of the acid imprints of the touches. However, these little ones with the acid skin have nothing to do with the other little ones, the Trilans, who come from completely different worlds.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_852

Billy:

... Bernadette told me that I had mentioned something wrong, namely concerning the Trilanern and Adromedans. Somehow I must have confused the two.

{Note: See previous Contact Report entry 851.}

Quetzal:

That cannot be, because I seem to remember correctly that you were talking about the little Trilanern, in the context of the Six-Fingered Family living in Brazil.

Billy:

That's right, Bernadette gave me this page number here from the conversation report. Wait, I will look in the report – – look, this. Yes – here it is, page 7705 – ... yes, here. – It says: However, these little ones with the acid skin have nothing to do with the other little ones, the Trilanern, who come from completely different worlds. So it is correct and not a mistake. Wait a minute, I will phone Bernadette right away ...

So it was misunderstood, because it was assumed that 'the other little ones, the Trilanern, ...' meant the Andromedans, because I also call them 'little ones'. I never talked about the fact that there are other Trilanern without acid skin who come from another world in the same planetary system, but who have nothing to do with the Andromedans, but who were also not here with the acidic buddies, but who came here at a later time. As a result, no one also knew anything about these little ones. And because there was no contact with them, it also soon disappeared from my memory without me telling anything about these little ones and their visit. For me, it was simply that they were here once and that was that.

...

Billy:

... earlier we were talking about me forgetting this and that, like the visits of the non-acidic Trilaner. This is also the case with you, as I know that you also know forgetfulness, as I know from Sfath and Ptaah. Both told me that it was inevitable because it would be burdensome to remember everything that had happened in life.

Quetzal:

Yes, that corresponds to the truth. A good memory is valuable, but if human beings were able to remember too much, they would – as you once said – go mad. We Plejaren also show memory deficits, which corresponds absolutely to the norm of humanity. So if we show memory deficits according to the years we have lived through, then this corresponds to an absolute normality, which is also determined by health. And if you are therefore classified as having memory loss, especially when I consider your effective age, then that is completely normal. The memory does not simply diminish and become weaker, but the memory covers up certain values and thus creates a relief, whereby the health of the memory is preserved, consequently a memory becomes partially or completely current again, if a memory is stimulated by any circumstances or indications from fellow human beings.

...

Quetzal:

... As a result, already in ancient times, tremendous killings were committed all over the Earth and in many lands, as I know from records that I read before I came here and oriented myself a little more closely with regard to the history of Earth mankind, which Sfath researched and also summarised in annals. He also used records that were made by very early visitors of our ancestors up to 25 million years before our time, which we found in the sphere you know. They were ...

Billy:

... yes I know which sphere you mean, which is actually a huge and many millions of years old library sphere.

Quetzal:

Correct. – They were records from when the natural dimensional gate was found and the first of our very distant ancestors came through that into this DERN universe and ultimately to this Earth. All the records of the library sphere, as you call it, showed us other dimensional gateways near which some of our peoples settled on life-bearing planets. Furthermore, through the information records in the sphere, we became aware that at the time 267 million years ago, it was discovered that this Creation corresponded to a twin Creation, as well as that a way was found to enter the sister Creation, the 'Dajansini arg lasergnoralin' resp. the 'Second Born Creation', the twin Creation. Consequently, 2 of our distant ancestral peoples emigrated to the sister creation and settled there.

Billy:

Aha, then they were the ancestors of the Sonaer and Asket's people. As Sfath told me, there had been contact between them and the Plejaren for millions of years, but Sfath could not explain to me how this came about.

Quetzal:

I suppose that is understandable, for everything fell into oblivion, and the knowledge of the origin only became known to us when you were able to open the orb, which was sealed to all and could not be opened.

Billy:

Why that was so, I did not know then, as I still do not know now. Perhaps you can still find the secret solution on some records. ...

...

Billy:

... And when foreigners from the far reaches of the cosmos came to Earth, did 'miraculous things' and also built giant structures, these were also worshipped as gods.

Ptaah:

... my father wrote, and this is what I want to speak to you about specifically, namely, that you also made studies concerning the foreigners and observed many things for this purpose in very ancient times, and that they not only erected very great buildings by sound vibrations, but also brought medical knowledge to Earth. But these have been lost and forgotten in the course of the millennia that have passed, just as the great foreigners Horus, Dhanvantari, Thor etc. have been. I am also very interested in what my daughter Semjase told me, what she did with you, how you got to know the men Ketsch, Duram Ke, Forrestal and Area 18, as well as Gejat, Merlin and the foreigners working on Earth at that time, etc., and what they told you before the foreigners left and the Earth-humans known to you were all murdered by the secret services of the USA, and I want to know a lot more from you than what I can only read in the annals. The foreigners have been around for thousands of years and will probably also stay around, but we have always kept away from them for certain reasons, including their home worlds in this cosmos. With regard to them, the whole thing will become acutely topical in America and enlightenment will be demanded, because ... You together, you – father and you – have created clarifications at very early times in the past, with regard to which I want to learn a little more from you, especially, however, about their highly developed medicine, because as a physician I am particularly interested in this, as also in how the early foreigners taught their knowledge on Earth to those who were suitable for it.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_858

Billy:

... I once talked about this many years ago with Asina, the very amphibian woman who, amazingly enough, used about the same language as you are using now. Asina was a very special being and came from a people who called themselves 'Dogan' or something like that, as she also said another name, but I do not remember the context. And she also told me that her very, very early ancestors were able to cross over into the Ankar universe and then emigrated there – from a planet in our cosmos – from a system that was about 8 or 9 light-years away from Earth and had a large sun that could be seen from Earth. However, there was another small structure near this system that could not be seen from Earth with the naked eye. From this system resp. from its planets, various beings resp. species or so of amphibian people, but also other human beings etc. had come to Earth thousands of years ago, and as she knew, their most distant descendants were still here, with whom, however, for some reason unknown to me, they did not want to maintain any contact. And when I think about what Asina said about this, I think about the foreigners and the UFOs that are observed again and again all over the world. I did not want to say that at the time, but now it is perhaps interesting to know for those who want to know where Asina's distant ancestors actually came from. This, as well as what else she said is interesting, namely that today's descendants of the 'Dog' have had no connection with the 'Dogan', i.e. with Asina's people, for more than 800,000 years.

Asina's people, who, she said, actually call themselves 'Dogan', according to the ancient term 'Dog', belong to the Plejaren Federation. And what else is to be said: These creatures, which look like reptiles, are those who, however, as Asina said, have changed tremendously physically and no longer bear any resemblance to those who emigrated to the Ankar universe ages ago. And Asina only came to Earth and to me because she was otherwise already in our universe, and that was because she was supposed to investigate what is happening there today in the system that is 8 or 9 light-years or so away from Earth and is actually the true origin of the 'Dogan'.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_860

Billy:

... Jmmanuel's name was already in use since ancient times, i.e. at the time of the original Hebrews, who were called 'Ebraya', and of which the distant descendants, today's believers in the Jews, no longer know anything, because there are absolutely no more traditions about it. This people was led at that time by a rather deep black African called 'Avian' in the land of 'Pecht'. The original leader was a very distant Negrid descendant of a very small black-skinned Plejaren group that settled in Africa more than 13,500 years ago as immigrants and mixed with Earth's humanity, but kept away from the foreigners, so that they never noticed that Plejaren were on this world. The foreigners, who had been on Earth for a very long time and whose distant homeland was 8 or 9 light-years away from our world, did not realise the presence of the few Plejaren, whose descendants died out completely in the course of time. ...

...

... you Plejaren have nothing to do with the foreigners and their UFOs. ...

...

Quetzal:

While it is correct that this has been talked about, the committee now finds it imperative – as you should be aware – that it has ordered something specific in this regard. Namely, so that no misunderstandings arise, that we Plejaren have nothing whatsoever to do with the so-called UFOs and their crews. We Plejaren keep away from them and also do not allow Earth-humans to observe us through the appearance of our flying apparatus in the airspace. We also do not allow ourselves to be located, observed or otherwise elicited by the foreigners in any manner, which has been so held since time immemorial, for we Plejaren are not interested in any life-forms from this Dern universe realm entering the realm of our Ankar universe realm of Creation.

Safaar:

... You are not young as you were then, but that you have grown older, as well as your appearance is much different from the earlier time when we used to do various things together with my brother, I know this from the pictorial recordings that are broadcast in our house from time to time when special events occur.

...

Billy:

... But you still speak Swiss-German after so many years, as you did back then. You obviously have not forgotten it.

...

Safaar:

What you say about speaking: Yes, this has remained with me, because I find the language remarkably good, which is why I have formed a circle in which all members are interested in learning and speaking it. Moreover, it should be mentioned that in this way we also preserve other languages acutely, consequently they are not forgotten because, as I said, we speak them in circles and preserve them that way. In this manner, they do not fall into oblivion, neither in speaking nor in writing.

Billy:

I did not know that. I guess in circles means groups, right?

Safaar:

That is so, but now you know the reason why I still speak Swiss-German.

...

Billy:

... I have been thinking for some time that the time has come to say why you Plejaren are still here on Earth and why you did not leave our DERN-universe millions of years ago and return to your ancestral ANKAR-universe. And it is to be said that something was quite different at the beginning of our contacts with Semjase and Ptaah, namely that you let yourselves be seen, especially towards our members, visitors as well as various interested parties of FIGU, but also local residents, such as Mrs. Furrer from the post office in Schmidrüti, or Walter Balmer from Sitzberg, who could even photograph Ptaah's flying apparatus. However, this was suddenly disconnected when the military – which had the missile defence station here above Schmidrüti, but which has been dismantled in the meantime – and the authorities became even more intrusive than they already were, because we were the 'foreign fools', which we obviously still are, because we are being harassed again by the authorities. ...

...

Safaar:

... Further things are known to us, however, because we have always been and are also still being informed in detail about all the events that have occurred and continue to occur here on Earth. In any case, at least those human beings on all of Erra who are interested in what is happening here on this world know everything that is important, for it is the same on all worlds that a part of the people is only interested in this and that, just as another part wants to know only very sparsely or not at all what is happening.

What I now have to explain in regard to your question, however, is that we Plejaren – and indeed our earliest ancestors – have remained here on Earth because foresighted people have recognised that in the far future human beings will degenerate here on this world and indulge in a divine faith as well as in all evil, hatred, killing, revenge, persecution and wars, and with it murder, etc. as was already the case with our primeval peoples, whose most distant future peoples only found true peace some 50,000 years ago in the earthly calendar, which had already been striven for over millions of years by the efforts of righteous people and their successors and followers and successors and so on. And when this finally became reality, the beginning was not easy, however, because there were still no human beings who really knew how true peace had to be created, shaped and handled. Later, however, this already changed when human beings and human-like beings developed completely naturally into peace beings. Also in this DERN-universe and on this world, the Earth, 'foreigners' came very early, who created influences, whereby in time the natural of evolution constantly diminished and what led the human beings of this world to degeneracy, as it also happened elsewhere in this DERN-universe since time immemorial, for which we could find the reason in the fact that the same happened as here on this world. This degeneracy – which also existed in our ANKAR universe at the beginning of its existence and the first time of intelligent evolution among human beings, but has not existed for a very long time – our earlier righteous ancestors wanted to counteract very early, millions of years ago, but all their efforts always failed among the peoples. Through excursions to other worlds inhabited by human beings or human-like life-forms in this DERN universe, they also learned – which is known to you from my brother {Sfath} and your travels – that the aberrations of the human and human-like species are virtually everywhere in this universe. This, whereby invaders of such inhabitants into other planetary systems, and thus when appearing on other worlds, have acted and continue to act as gods and the like to their halfway intelligent inhabitants, if they are not met with logic, understanding and reason, and consequently – because they are highly developed in their knowledge and skill and in their technology, etc. – are seen and worshipped as gods.

We Plejaren, however, do not come to Earth to make contact with Earth-humans, and indeed we do not want anything from them, just as we do not want to make contact with the ... resp. the foreigners, as we call them, but we only come here because you teach and spread the teaching of Nokodemion, which has been established since time immemorial, to Earth-humans. To do something like this was decided some 25 million years ago by our distant ancestors of that time, even though they themselves had succumbed to most of the same evils as the human beings on this world Earth did later. But the righteous of the peoples of that time already determined the becoming of the mission on this world in this DERN universe about 25 million years ago, and the decision at that time actually outlasted the time of 25 million years. Consequently, however, more than 50,000 years ago, the decision that had survived until then was also taken up and it was decided that the request that had been made at that time should now be put into practice, consequently everything was prepared in such a manner that what was decided could come about. Then everything was arranged at the exact time that the intended mission could begin and thus the 'Teaching of Truth, Teaching of Creation-energy, Teaching of Life' could find its beginning on this world, which signifies the real life of the human being, whose path he is to follow and the value he is to develop within himself and become truly human beings. But this causes much more difficulties and permanent crushes than were expected, for more and more influence is exerted by the religions, just as for some time now the foreigners have also been making themselves more and more felt, acting as gods, which is why the killing of human beings began, who were intended as offerings to the gods. This was because the foreigners did not intervene and did not stop the horrors in this regard, although they came here and demanded that human beings should not be sacrificed or killed in any other way. This, however, gave rise to new strife among the human beings in this world, for the views developed that under all circumstances the statements of the foreigners had to be given 'conscientious consideration', which ultimately led to delusional ideas that these statements corresponded to a commandment and law and were classified accordingly, with the meaning that severe punishments were to be meted out if they were violated. On the one hand, this was a misunderstanding of the whole, and on the other hand, only the killing of those who violated it was appropriate. So it was not far off that human sacrifices were quickly demanded and offered in order to win the 'conscientious attention' of the foreigners resp. gods and to reassure them when what they claimed to do correctly was violated. But how they taught and demanded not to kill was misunderstood by human beings and, moreover, disregarded, so that people did not think and act according to the true meaning. Killing thus became a case of quick revenge and retribution from time immemorial, and this in turn gave rise to hatred, hence also wars, terror, degeneracy, destruction, extermination and murder, etc. Faith-wise, everything in this regard was spread and practised very quickly. Thus, through the appearance and the misleading teaching of the foreigners to the Earth-humans, exactly the wrong thing was done, which has been preserved until today, namely that which should never become with the human beings, namely a faith in place of thinking for oneself and grasping reality and truth. ...

Safaar:

... our very distant ancestors found a natural creation-like dimension gate in our ANKAR universe, which enabled a connection to this DERN universe about 25 million years ago. The origin was the occurrence of ... who entered this DERN universe from our ANKAR universe through the natural dimensional gate. It was brought by our distant ancestors to an artificially generated approximate speed of light, after which they followed this object, which finally brought them here to Earth. And it is to be said again in particular that we will neither make contact with the human beings here on Earth, nor with the foreign ones. And precisely for this purpose, our committee also wishes you to proclaim the following call as the foremost entry on your website:

Proclamation

1. The flying apparatuses called UFOs by Earth-humans have no relation to us Plejaren and our flying apparatuses.
2. The flying apparatuses of the foreigners as well as the incidents of any kind concerning them, which have occurred or will continue to occur in connection with the flying objects as well as with the foreigners themselves, do not concern us Plejaren.
3. We Plejaren have in no wise interfered in any earthly events and will also never interfere, whatever may happen.
4. We Plejaren will therefore not interfere in any earthly matters, events and occurrences that may arise in the future, this also not in one or the other context concerning the foreigners and their UFO flying apparatus.

...

Billy:

... But what is happening here on Earth with the foreigners and their UFOs is already much more than is announced and really happens in this regard. They are still covering themselves up, but they are obviously slowly on the way to being revealed. ...

Safaar:

... Obviously, here in this world, logic, understanding and reason are not yet so far developed in any wise among human beings and are still so primitive that these values are not able to take hold in such a manner that it is recognised that partisanship is absolutely the wrong thing to do in order to lead a state and its people. Knowing this very well, we have no party of any kind, consequently our Erra body is also free from any party system, just as there are no parties of any kind elsewhere on Erra.

Billy:

I know that, also that with you votes are taken solely by the vast body which represents the whole population of Erra, and whose members are never the same, but at every meeting are different ones from the whole Plejaren humanity, and also never become noisy or even quarrelsome.

...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_863

Billy:

If I go on to say something about the whole thing, it is that as soon as the human being does something that does not suit others, is not understood, cannot be comprehended, is envied or simply does not fit etc., hostility immediately arises, even though no one is inconvenienced or offended by it or comes to harm. It doesn't matter what it is about and how insignificant everything is, why the victim is attacked or maltreated, because the only thing that matters is that the victim should somehow be harmed, harassed or even killed because someone else simply doesn't like what they are doing. This very quickly leads to insults, harassment, destruction, or fights are instigated or even attacks on life are committed and those who are hated or simply envied for some sick and idiotic reason are murdered.

Quetzal:

This is well known to me, for we Plejaren learn from our earliest adolescence that such behaviour can never appear, for it has been known to us from time immemorial that this is a characteristic of those human beings who are selfish, as was the case with our ancestors in earlier times. However, when this was investigated and the reason was found that it was a form of jealousy and selfishness, then a subject of teaching was created in this respect, which became a duty of learning for every person, in order to prevent the evil from arising. Therefore, it also became compulsory that even the adolescent is confronted with it and learns that this unworthy of man kind of behaviour is learnt to combat at an early age in such a way that it already dissolves in its origins and it can never become a factor that can become a reality.

Billy:

... In any case, Ptaah explained in this regard, I mean because of the Giza intelligences, that the {Earth} foreigners really had absolutely no knowledge that they, i.e. you Plejaren, were on Earth at all and had been since time immemorial. Your locating technology defence is such, as Semjase already explained, as Ptaah also confirmed, that you can never be located with the best equipment and devices in this respect, not to mention earthly attempts of this kind. Our military is also incapable of this, because all earthly tracking technology is still so primitive that it is pointless to even talk about it. It is true that attempts are made again and again to locate you or even to get hold of you, but this is as pointless as if water were carried into the Rhine to make it overflow. There is even photographic evidence that the surveillance is actually taking place, although everything is denied through all the grounds, as also the fact that back in Maiwinkel a jet fighter followed Semjase for about 10 minutes as she visibly circled around for a long time with her beamship, and then simply disappeared, and that after I was still able to take a photo, whereby I was able to photograph Semjase's beamship and the jet fighter together.

Quetzal:

... Excuse me, but in addition I would like to read out what you wrote in teacher Lehmann's natural history lessons, which was in a notebook that Sfath took and left in his estate. At that time he was allowed to do that, because at that time no special precautions were required, as they had been raised and introduced in our country about 60 years ago, because many new pathogens were spreading on Earth and caused us Plejaren to be more careful.

Billy:

Yes, I am aware of that. Suddenly everything was then disconnected, as well as that consequently the stricter precautions were imposed on Federation members as well.

Quetzal:

That was so, yes. – We have been spared from the introduction of any pathogens as a result and since then.

... Furthermore, I want to explicitly mention this in particular, we have no interest whatsoever in interfering in any matters of terrestrial concern.

Billy:

As for the foreigners with their UFOs, that is another matter, but I do not want to say anything about it, for it is none of my business, just as you also remain neutral in every way and distance yourselves completely from them and do not want to have anything to do with them, just as you do with the earthly military and security forces. And you do this in such a way that even the foreigners with their futuristic technology and their other possibilities could not locate you, because the Sonaer technology is much more highly developed than that of the peoples who whiz around in earthly airspace with their UFOs.

...

Quetzal:

... It is all peaceful and harmless, which it should remain, and neither the security of the earthly states nor the Earth, its entire nature itself nor its fauna and flora are in any way affected, but only our Plejaren endeavour of our evolutionary and peaceful progress with regard to the Nokodemion doctrine, which you impart to us. ...

Billy:

Ptaah (wiretapped):

Firstly, I want to say that it is obviously very important that it is specifically mentioned again openly and made really clear that we are not connected with the foreigners who have been observed and seen for many years in Earth-humans' so-called UFOs in Earth's airspace. We effectively have nothing whatsoever to do with either the foreigners or their UFOs, consequently we also have no contact of any kind with the foreigners who navigate these flying apparatuses, nor do we have any other liaison with them.

Quetzal:

... Since our committee has met...

Billy:

... how is it that an answer can come so quickly from the committee? How often does it happen that an answer is always given so quickly?

Quetzal:

That is really not surprising, because at least half of the committee is always present every day because our far-reaching federation requires it. There is always something that needs to be discussed and negotiated. And when something special arises, it is given priority over everything else, such as the matters that come from you, if they are necessary, because it is not only in the interests of us Plejaren, but comprehensively in the interests of all our Federates, what happens in your Centre and on Earth as a whole. ...

Billy:

... This is also the case when artificial dimensional gates were created in the 'vicinity' of us in solar systems known here. Only beyond our Milky Way have some from your Federation settled, but I have only minimal knowledge about this, except that this was hundreds of thousands of years ago. And another question related to the UFOs of foreigners, but I have nothing to say about them because they do not belong to the Plejaren and therefore also have no connection with you. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_872

Billy:

I wonder, though, how you behave towards the foreigners?

Arlion:

We are in the Federation and act uniformly in it with regard to everything that arises, so we are careful in every wise to restrain ourselves with regard to the foreigners and to avoid any contact of any kind. We have nothing whatsoever to do with the foreigners, and we have not wanted to have anything to do with them since time immemorial and also do not want to have anything to do with them now or in the future. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_873

Billy:

... But what I want to ask you, because I keep getting asked about it: What does democracy mean to you?

Quetzal:

In a democracy, only the people decide; courts are also subject to the people in this respect, so a judgement is only valid with their consent. In our case, the committee represents the people. Every item on the agenda is submitted to the individual peoples before it is presented by their representatives, who form the committee, and the decision is made in favour or against. No state leadership is authorised to decide, order or implement anything independently without the consent of the people. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_874

Ptaah:

... As for our behaviour towards the foreigners, and indeed towards all their groups, that has always been based on the fact – which you are not supposed to talk about with anyone, as my father Sfath ordered – that ...

...

Ptaah:

... then it is still to be explained that all those who were here on Earth corresponded to groups that belonged to our Federation, but who did not adhere to the solidities that were collectively decided that no contact whatsoever should ever be made with human beings on Earth and in this universe. At that time, however, which was almost 25 million years ago, this was absolutely clear and was also followed, which was to prevent the way being found from this universe for an intrusion into our universe. This has also been followed since then, whereby our federation has also been greatly expanded and entry has been found into the sister Creation, namely the DERN universe [where Earth is, the Plejaren live in the ANKAR universe], from where we can also reach into the DAL universe [one of the seven material belts of our twin Creation]. Unfortunately, the expansion of our Federation then resulted in various groups rebelling against the integration into the Federation and separating themselves and ultimately fleeing from their home world and settling in this universe on Earth, because their technology allowed them to carry out the necessary dimensional transformation and thus to establish themselves here on Earth. Despite their rebellious behaviour, however, they kept strictly away from all foreign groups in any form, so that there was never a confrontation with them, and the foreigners also never gained any knowledge of the rebels who were established on Earth. They always arranged all their actions, deeds and their various nastiness in such a manner that they always appeared in a form as if it happened naturally. However, as far as making contact with Earth's humanity was concerned, they did not stick to never considering such, for on various occasions they did draw some Earth-humans into their domain through their means of long-distance communication, through which, for example, the name Ashtar Sheran also became known, i...

...

Ptaah:

However, as far as the foreigners with their highly developed technology and their flying apparatus are concerned, which are referred to here on Earth worldwide as UFOs and have been observed since time immemorial, their entire highly developed technology is very far inferior to ours, so that they are also unable to recognise us visibly or audibly, nor in any technical-apparatus-radar wise, etc. that they have yet to develop. So they are also unable to locate us or otherwise detect our presence. And since the fugitive rebels, despite their rebelliousness, strictly adhered to never engaging with any foreigners with highly developed technology, especially not in this dimension of this universe, they remained undetected for all the many millennia they were present here on Earth. They also, as a result of their own protection, strictly adhered to what was once federally decreed, consequently their being here was never recognised by the foreigners and never known to them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_875

Ptaah:

... It should also be explicitly mentioned that we have nothing whatsoever to do with foreigners and their UFOs and that we keep strictly away from them and do not allow them to locate us in any manner. It is also important to mention that we do not come from a planet in this cosmos, but that our home world Erra is in the cosmos of the differently dimensioned ANKAR universe, which as such belongs to the same Creation comprising 7 universes of different dimensions. However, as far as the foreigners with their highly developed technology and their flying apparatuses are concerned, as I have mentioned and which are referred to as UFOs here on the Earth and have been observed since time immemorial, but whose overall highly developed technology from an earthly point of view is very far inferior to ours, we keep our distance from them and therefore have nothing to do with them. The foreigners are not able to recognise us visibly or audibly, nor also in any technical-apparatus-radar wise, etc. that they have not yet developed. They are also unable to locate us or otherwise detect our presence – as are the Earth's military forces, who are so far behind the still very primitive Earthly technology that they cannot even recognise the true achievements of the inventions that have been produced since the middle of the century before last. This, just as the technology of the foreigners, which seems very futuristic to Earth-humans, is also far behind ours, and consequently they are also unable to locate us. Not to mention the fact that their technology – which is far inferior to ours – also makes them incapable of penetrating into one of the dimensional structures of the 7 universes of our Creation, and therefore certainly not into a dimension of a foreign Creation. This is because they lack the knowledge of the necessary synchronisation of the dimensions of the various universes that would enable them to change to another universe. It is also known to us that they have no knowledge of the fact that countless Creations exist in the infinite of the Absolute Nothing, just as we know that they have no knowledge of the fact that there are sevenfold and different sizes and levels of development of absolute forms. Our ancestors already orientated themselves about this in ancient times, and consequently this caused our ancestors to exercise caution and restraint very early on, which we also continue to do in the same manner. We Plejaren and all members of the Federation are very careful to ensure that no foreigners from this DERN universe can enter our ANKAR universe, from whom nothing good can possibly be expected. We Plejaren and the entire number of the Federation are completely and utterly peaceful, so we do not want any belligerent elements to invade our ANKAR universe. However, we do not know how far the foreigners – whom we therefore avoid for safety reasons – in this universe we call DERN are able to penetrate into the dimensions of the past and the future and therefore also manipulate them. All that is known to us in this respect, possibly to be feared and also the unknown, therefore prompts us to maintain contact and communication with you in such a manner that the whole thing is always and in every case shifted in time and place in such a manner that our presence together with you cannot be grasped by the foreigners. However, we have also secured this with regard to earthly attempts at possible underhand shadowing in such a manner that even electronic devices cannot make any kind of recordings. This is also the case when we move around the Centre or its grounds, as well as when we are looking for you in the buildings, for example, which is detected by the persons living there under certain circumstances, but the foreigners are still unable to find us out.

...

Billy:

... I am still interested in the fact that – as we have talked about before – the escaped rebels who came from your ANKAR universe to our DERN universe, despite their rebelliousness, always behaved in such a manner that they never got involved with any foreigners who had highly developed technology compared to the Earthlings and who might have had the opportunity to seize the rebels' technology. However, over the many millennia they remained among themselves and unrecognised by the foreigners, as they did by the Earth's humanity. Why did it occur like this?

Ptaah:

To ensure their own protection, all the factions of the fugitives adhered to what was decided earlier for security reasons.

...

Ptaah:

... So when foreigners make their presence felt – even from the distant future – they will also have nothing to do with us because we will keep our distance from them, as you know. In addition – which is a committee decision – we will withdraw from this DERN universe for good when you have gone your way. ...

Billy:

But there is the question, how is it regarding the year 3999, if ... {Note: In reference to the year 3999 please refer to Contact Report 704, Question 12 Answer.}

Ptaah:

... to talk about it is not good, but it may be said that in this respect everything remains as it was explained and will come to pass.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_876

Billy:

But tell me, do you also have cats on Erra? I did not see any when I was there.

Ptaah:

You also could not, because this mammal is not known to us.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_878

Billy:

But how am I supposed to comment on the questions, on the so-called UFOs of the foreigners and their origin, reason and destination, etc.? It is clear to me that your ancestors and those who fled from Erra have always maintained that no contact was ever made with the foreigners and that you have not allowed yourselves to be located since time immemorial and also continue to behave in this wise. ...

Ptaah:

... I knew that, but now I really understand why the foreigners also keep their distance from Earth's humanity. I have never thought about that myself, but what you say seems logical to me.

...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_879

Ptaah:

And how do you want to answer this woman's letter question "What, who and from where are the beings of the UFOs, and what do they want?"

Billy:

You know that your father, just Sfath, has already suggested to me that I never say anything about this, consequently I should keep quiet. I may say, however, that these have been seen and worshipped as gods or goddesses by Earthlings since time immemorial. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_880

Billy:

... As they say here: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure", and this proverb probably applies not only here on Earth, but also throughout the universe and in other universes, even if it is probably only known in the form mentioned here.

Ptaah:

There you are saying something that actually also applies with us and the entire Federation, but not in the words as you call them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_881

Billy:

... Some time ago, together with Michael here at the Centre, we talked about the Sonaer, who fled to the DERN universe 30 or 35 million years ago, i.e. to the sister universe, because there was constant war among your peoples in the ANKAR universe. The Sonaer then developed very quickly and far in technical terms, and when peace finally came to you Plejaren more than 52,000 years ago through the great and mysterious sphere and your federation came into being, there were again closer connections between you and the Sonaer in the DAL universe, which also includes the peoples to which Asket belongs, and I had the honour of getting to know some of the persons there. ...

...

Billy:

Now there is still the question to be answered as to why you Plejaren and consequently also I want nothing to do with the UFOs, why you also protect yourselves against any tracking by them and also from the surveillance of the Earthlings. Enough has already been said about this in recent months, and if I recite here what has already been explained, then only to the extent that it should be prevented that neither the UFO-nauts find their way into the ANKAR universe to the Plejaren and their federation, nor one day later the Earthlings, who know only murder and manslaughter, hatred and revenge, power, greed, war and terror as well as religious mania and imaginary gods. It must be avoided at all costs that this is spread again in the ANKAR universe and that things return to the way they were before peace finally came.

{Billy:}

Suddenly Asket grasped me by the hand and led me to a small entrance, opening to the pyramid.

Through long, musty passageways, we walked in twilight through the interior of the pyramid.

Then it was so dark that I could not recognise anything more.

I wondered about the fact that I did not collide with anything and that Asket found the way in spite of this literally Egyptian darkness.

(Translators' note. This German idiom "Egyptian darkness" corresponds to "pitch dark" in English.)

We walked in that manner for a long time and I felt that we climbed down somewhere on various occasions.

Then suddenly a very weak light was discernable precisely as if the first light of dawn entered, yet I was not able to fathom the source of this twilight.

Now we stood before an enormous, squared stone, somewhere deep in the pyramid.

Right before my eyes, suddenly the gigantic ashlar simply dissolved into nothing.

And already Asket pulled me over the position where, just a few seconds before, the giant ashlar had been completely joined with other squared stones.

A steeply descending passageway, which was guarded by two oddly-clothed men, opened behind the ashlar which had just now vanished.

And as I threw back a glance as I walked down the passageway, I could not help but ascertain that the squared stone, which had just disappeared, was again precisely as visible and completely joined as just shortly before, when I saw it for the first time from the other side.

As I made this assessment, Asket's "voice" whispered in my consciousness that I should be mute and not try to speak because we were in a place which was not constructed by her race and it additionally would not be even slightly useful if we were to be identified here and uncovered by the guards.

The guards we saw are members of, or are related to, a power-conscious, extraterrestrial group, who, through certain impure means, force a majority of Earth humanity under their control, in order to bring the entire Earth under their control.

So then I became silent and mutely followed my leader past the two guards, who took no initiative at all against us.

Quite obviously they could not see us and it seemed to me as if, for the two of them, Asket and I simply did not exist.

...

The passage, which was furnished throughout with steps, led steeply and deeply down into the pyramid – deeper and deeper it went down, and then, suddenly, we stood in a gigantic hall which seemed to overflow with light coming from everywhere and nowhere.

The hall was giant sized, as was the gigantic disc-shaped spaceship which rested here next to various smaller ships in the middle of this hall, deep below the surface of the Earth.

A giant spaceship deep below the foundation walls of the Pyramid of Giza.

...

Here, resting deep below the Pyramid of Giza, was actually a disc-shaped spaceship of approximately three hundred metres in diameter.

A ship similar to the one I already had seen once on June 2nd, 1942.

And this ship here must indeed already have been in this giant storage hall for centuries or even for millennia, very deep under the earth and, by my reckoning, at least 3,000 or 4,000 metres below, or to the side and downward, from the Pyramid of Giza.

Asket did not allow me very much time to sink into astonished contemplation of this ship, because she already pulled me by the hand further to a small plateau on which I had already, from a distance, been able to see some sort of still-unidentifiable things.

Yet with what this dealt did not stay a secret to me for long, because, as I arrived at this small plateau with Asket, I was not spared astonishment.

I required minutes in order for me to finally become conscious of the complete facts.

On the small plateau lay an ancient, large and very heavy, wooden, Y-shaped cross.

There were three rusty things right next to it, which, indeed, hundreds or thousands of years ago, must have once been hand-forged nails.

Or was the brownish-black coating on the nails not rust at all – was it perhaps blood?

Was it perhaps blood like the brownish-black coating on three different positions on the wooden cross?

It must indeed have been so because right next to these things lay an ancient wreath, wound around many times, with abnormally big thorns, on which this red-brown coating was likewise recognizable.

That this wreath of thorns was unmistakably constructed something like a crown could not be overlooked.

Also the about two metre, blackish, wooden rod and the purple-coloured cape were not to be overlooked next to a small leather pouch out of which glass pearls or glass stones appeared to have rolled.

It was unmistakable: here I stood before Christ's, respectively Jmmanuel's, crucifixion utensils.

It simply had to have been so and nothing else.

I was not even able to imagine another possibility.

Here I stood before everything which was connected with the death of Jmmanuel alias Jesus Christ – and the glassy stones in the little leather pouch were not stones, rather certain precious stones, whose sense and purpose, however, I was not yet able to fathom.

[https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_%E2%80%93_Part_1_Asket {3rd February 1953}:](https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_%E2%80%93_Part_1_Asket_{3rd February 1953}:)

184. But Sfath spoke the truth, because even as with all other religions, the Christian religion is also only an evil and wrong enslaving, poor piece of work of Earth-humans, who, in their establishment of religions, found the wealth promised to them, and power over fellow men, and found that they would be addressed by a degenerated group of extraterrestrial intelligences if they would spread the erroneous religious teaching.

185. I hereby speak of the extraterrestrial race, which here, since ancient times, wants to attain supremacy over the Earth humanity and, accordingly, to always again unfold the glow and flame of the various religions and always new sects because only through that may they obtain their goal.

186. For thousands of years they deceived the Earth human with religious "miracles" and "visions" of every kind, in order to maintain, and to yet further increase, the religious delusion.

187. Out of these grounds they have also created a mighty station under the Pyramid of Giza, in order to guide, from there, the religious delusional events of the Earth.

188. Self-evidently, they had to bring their great space ship into security, so they constructed the underground hanger where their ship has already been stored for thousands of years.

189. They direct and lead everything from under there that serves the purposes of religion and serves the religious and sectarian enslavement of the Earth human.

190. And, in order to top it all off, they made the utensils some decades ago which you have seen there.

191. They are as false and inane as the attitude of this space-faring group itself, because the true utensils of Jmmanuel and also the cross are already long rotted away and decayed to dust.

192. The imitation of the utensils succeeds as deceptively genuine, and this falsification would not be recognized even by an expert of your science with all the devices and apparatus available to him, because, in those kinds of things, this evil-minded group work with the most extreme precision and greatest ability.

193. The life-forms seen by you are the guards of the secret station and they kill every life-form which is ever lost in there.

194. Their technical possibilities for the positioning of distorting radiations are, at any rate, very small, subsequently we can go in there, unconcerned, in invisible form.

195. The meaning of the falsified Christ-utensils lies in the intention that an Earth human, in a very short time, will be influenced in a hallucinatory way by these malicious life-forms, to such a degree that all that was seen by you can be transmitted to him as an entire experience.

196. This Earth human already stands under the influence of these malicious beings.

197. Often he is transferred into a trance state by them and then the images are transmitted to him.

198. He thereby perceives and feels everything exactly as if he hears, sees, feels and experiences it in reality, although he only lies and sleeps somewhere, and everything is impressed into him as a dream.

199. In the state of being awake, he will be just as much tricked as his friends and acquaintances by images of space ships which indeed can be projected so true to reality that anyone can catch them on film.

200. These appearances are, however, without exception, only nebulous and holographic pictures which are not able to exhibit actual contours.

201. The entire meaning lies therefore only in a malicious deception with the purposes that the concerned Earth human, who will be called (Reinhold) Schmidt, talks about himself - and spreads the images and experiences, and so forth, implanted in him by means of holographs and dream-state-hallucinations - in order to maintain the religion of Christianity.

202. Thereby such an Earth human will become an unconscious deceiver of himself and of all those who believe his explanations.

203. Indeed, he does not know that he has never been in this pyramid with the spaceship and the counterfeit utensils, or that it has all only been implanted in him as reality, through trickery, and that he has never flown in a spaceship ...

...

205. The list will be very long of those Earth-humans who, already in the shortest period of time, will appear publicly to fraudulently and maliciously bring their fellow humans under their power by saying that they are in contact with beings of extraterrestrial origin.

206. There will be many among them who will do this as a result of delusion or for religious and profit-driven reasons, while others will be partially steered by the malevolent life-forms in the pyramid.

207. In order to make these fraudulent assertions appear more believable, they will even go so far as letting it be spread that the extraterrestrial intelligences are very interested in the terrestrial Christian religion, and, in this regard, will very gladly be taught by the Earth human.

208. The first weighty steps in this direction have already been undertaken in order to spread this new false teaching and thereby to make the evil soil of religion which is increasingly retreating into the background, more fertile again.

209. Everything is intended to appear as if the extraterrestrial life-forms, up to now, in a religious regard, have been misguided and are ignorant, and that now they will find the great salvation on the Earth and will carry it out into space.

210. It will be asserted that these extraterrestrial life-forms will even be grateful to the Earth-humans for this, because only through them will they recognize the son of god, Jesus Christ, as redeemer and lord of the universe, and so forth, and to that end, towards the end of the millennium, even the Pope will extend the hand, at least in the form of the alleged universal validity of Christianity.

211. This will already be so within a very short period of time, because the plans for these evil machinations are already being evaluated and converted into reality.

212. However, the Earth human should protect himself from these machinations, because they only serve the purposes of enslavement by those who maintain their station in Giza.

213. If the Earth human continues to work according to their wishes and demands, then they will, in the not too distant future, as in earlier times, appear officially in order to again bring Earth humanity under their rule through murder, tribunals and barbarism.

214. That will then be so if the Earth human continues to allow himself to be led astray by their religions, and brings himself so far that the evil life-forms can again appear as angels and gods, as they have done in earlier times.

215. But if they do not succeed in that, then in spite of that, further danger from them exists, because they are so malicious that, if need be, they will also try to reach their goal by barbaric violence and a great worldwide war.

...

218. But, if the Earth human continues to live attached to religions, then he thereby only serves the wishes, and desires for power, of those who have worked for a long time towards the conquest of Earth and thereby for world control.

219. The Earth human must pay very precise attention to these things because otherwise a worldwide war of annihilation threatens him, which, as the Third World War, could bring the final defeat and enslavement over the Earth - directed and steered by the malicious extraterrestrial life-forms under the pyramid of Giza.

...

257. You will therefore attain the proof that, that which is known to you as the New Testament is exactly as much a malicious falsification as all the other religious books which exist on this world.

258. These were not only maliciously falsified by Earth-humans themselves, rather also often with the help of the malicious extraterrestrial life-forms who steered many events of this kind from the pyramid of Giza.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Asket%27s_Explanations_%E2%80%93_Part_2_Asket {4th February 1953}:

6. For if a life-form were to attain great knowledge and wisdom at too early a stage in its own development, then an inevitable and unstoppable catastrophe would be the effect and consequence, as it is threatening at present also on the Earth, because through the unconscionability of the malevolent extraterrestrial intelligences already mentioned several times, these imparted to some Earth's human beings, so-called scientists, a knowledge of which they were not yet able to cope:

7. Namely, the knowledge of the secret of the foundation stones of life – the atom, through which the atomic bomb could be created by revealing this secret.

8. Once in possession of this dangerous weapon of destruction, it was only a short step to its use and a repetition of the earlier events in Sodom and Gomorrah.

9. On the 6th of August 1945, the first of these deadly weapons was detonated, and three days later the second.

...

19. If these human beings, the Earth-humans, are to be helped, then this can only happen if they leave their ways of destruction and perdition and finally free themselves from the delusion of religions, the hunger for power and profit, etc., so that the dark enslaving powers no longer find a target.

...

32. Do not, however, mentally look for great help from these groups and from such organisations, etc., for as they are all half-blinded to the real truth by the scheming machinations of the evil-minded extraterrestrial group, they will give you only limited help, if any.

33. The might of the BAFATH beings, the aforementioned malevolent intelligences in the pyramid at Giza, coming from the distant Ring Nebula region and descendants of the ancestors of Earth's humanity, is very great, and everywhere they know how to exert their influence.

34. Thus they spare no intrigues and no infamous machinations, and use even the enlightenment efforts of Earth-humans to achieve the aims of their madness and greed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_026

Billy:

... So I start from the assumption that certain forms of life which are strange to you are trying to wander around from the vastness of the universe on our Earth and in the space of the world and to influence other forms of life in various forms. On the other hand, I also suspect that one or more groups of descendants of your old race have not yet returned to you, and that they are still living according to the forms of a deity. Since they still have to live according to the old forms, it can practically only be that they influence many life forms and also the Earth-humans according to this and appear as emissaries of a god. ...

Semjase:

...

41. With your speculations you are very right, because there are other forms of life in the earthly space than just ours.

42. There are also still some splinter groups of our own former races here, but also on other worlds where they still live according to their old forms.

43. They constantly try to influence the life forms, especially the Earth-humans, according to their forms.

44. Already the ancestors had appeared as gods, and they still do.

45. They are anxious not to release the Earth-humans in particular from this form and to continue to make them dependent on themselves through stoic references to religious heresies, etc. and to cast them under their spell.

46. For a long time they have been trying again to break into your world in order to subdue humanity on the Earth.

47. The more religious the human being on the Earth is or becomes, the more this madness is given the opportunity of fulfilment.

48. This would mean that humanity on the Earth could once again fall into evil religious confusion and that bloody religious madness, such as the Inquisition, would once again rule your world.

49. That is why they try to suppress the truth by religious delusion.

...

52. But further it is added that said forms of life here and there, however rarely, actually make contact with terrestrial humans and deceive them by their religious influences.

53. On the other hand, many Earth-humans are subject to deceptions, caused by hallucinations or by certain unconscious workings and intended illusory projections of the extraterrestrial life-forms for the purpose of underpinning their heresies.

54. Great suggestive influences for deceptive purposes also belong to it, as do appearances of many other forms.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_031

Billy:

... many claim that they are in connection, etc., with star people, otherworldly, and spiritual and purely spiritual beings.

Asket:

165. In reality this is only the truth to the extent that these Earth-humans are connected with other terrestrial life-forms, through the Earth-humanity's collective subconscious, and are inspired or even misled, cheated and swindled by these, which are themselves still at very low levels, and which compared to the great mass of Earth-humans are not, or are only in a few things, further developed in consciousness.

166. In addition however, there also appear low Earth-human intelligences, who in their thirst for might would like to hold the scepter over their fellow Earth-humans, and being aware of the earthly religious heresies they try to take advantage of this and thus, according to their lust for power they influence the ones who have fallen into religions and sects.

...

Billy:

What do you think about the influences of these low life-forms and low essence forms on humans, if these actually intervene in the affairs of Earth-humans – do they bring or have any benefit for the Earth-humans?

Asket:

168. They have this only partially, like everything that is evolving.

169. Often behind these contacts lurk collective human subconscious forms, etc. But also a very great danger, which unfortunately the Earth-humans will only be able to recognise after evil wars and catastrophes have befallen them.

170. In many cases powerful leaders on the Earth have also subconsciously been maliciously influenced by such collective human subconscious intelligences and, as desired, trigger death and destruction, ignorance, doom, deception, hatred and annihilation; this in political as well as in religious areas, however individuals are also affected by these malicious collective subconscious powers, and as a consequence then, in delusion or delusional belief, they commit murders, suicides and mass murders, and trigger catastrophes.

171. These human beings who are influenced by such collective subconscious intelligences, resp. collective subconscious powers, belong however and without exception, to sectarian religious beliefs, which constitute the main breeding ground.

172. These Earth-humans will be approached through the collective subconscious forces in the form that they are transmitted the delusion that God personally, or Christ or Satan, etc., has issued them the command for murder, war or suicide, etc. –

173. If the Earth-human would finally get rid of his/her deadly sects and religions, then these misleading or malicious collective subconscious intelligences, resp. collective subconscious powers, would lose their suggestive power over him/her, because where truth and logic and the compliance with the Creational laws prevail, evil can no longer assert itself.

174. But since these malicious human-collective subconsciousness-intelligences are aware of this, they very skilfully control and direct the lives of sects and religions.

175. They even understand how to propagate the madness of religions and sects, and to push the Earth-humans more and more to an evil religious-sectarian fanaticism.

176. In this connection, the infamous machinations of alleged contacts with extraterrestrials or high spirit-forms, etc., are very popular with them.

177. To the Earth-humans who listen to these subconscious-voices they present themselves as "envoys from God", "guardians of peace", "keepers of the universe", "angels", "on behalf of Jesus Christ", and as "praise and salvation heralds", etc..

178. As collective subconsciousness-based, inspirationally-transmitted influences, these voices designate themselves as such, and claim repeatedly as well, that they are some high-standing spirit-forms, deceased or even pure spirit-forms, etc.

179. In utilisation of their diverse capabilities the collective subconsciousness-voices are also able to create hallucinations and fantastic apparitions for the Earth-humans, mostly on sectarian religious basis, such as saint figures, images of Christ, images of Mary, crosses, etc., which appear to the Earth-human as "miracles" and entangle him/her deeper and more madly in the religions and sects.

180. And that this is actually so, of it you could convince yourself, when I led you to the crucifixion utensils in the depths of the Giza pyramid.

...

Ptaah:

850. Secretly, however, malignant intelligences of masses addicted to world domination created their station on Earth and on a neighbouring planet and upgraded the cultic religions.

851. This was all done in secret and with the use of many evil means.

...

Billy:

... But what is it now about the Giza-Heinis also taking human beings for flights?

Ptaah:

996. I see, you are thinking of the world domination addicts.

997. Well, in earthly terms, these life-forms are enemies of Earth-humans, but on the other hand they are also enemies of us, whereby by us I again mean all intelligences of extraterrestrial origin.

998. So they have nothing in common with us in terms of our tasks.

999. Therefore, when I spoke earlier of only three Earth-humans being taken on flights into outer space in this century, I was really speaking only of us, not of these malignant life-forms.

1000. In order to achieve their devious aim, they have made contact with various Earth-humans and have also taken them on very short flights into space, but only outside the Earth's atmosphere, and such occurrences are many more with them than with us.

1001. For our part, we are anxious only to take Earth-humans out into free space who, according to their evolution of consciousness and spirit, are capable of evaluating these flights.

1002. The malignant life-forms, however, transport Earth-humans who are absolutely incapable of consciousness into the near Earth space in order to make them willing and to deceive them in order to be able to exploit them for their plans of world domination.

...

Billy:

Aha, and how is it then with those who are fooled and misled by evil intelligences, who are fooled into believing apparitions of images and voices, such as the Giza fritters do to consolidate their dark plans?

Ptaah:

1073. These human beings too must not be accused of deliberate deception and conscious fraud, for they too act in good faith.

1074. These persons are misled and deceived by the malignant intelligences.

1075. They are made to believe false facts and various false images and voices.

1076. But they are not able to analyse these, because their spiritual and consciousness-based knowledge and ability are not yet capable of the power to find the truth.

1077. Therefore these persons are not deceivers and not swindlers, but deceived and swindled who act in good faith.

1078. Like those who are guilty of self-deception, they can only be accused of not making a real effort to find the truth and of relying not on knowledge but only on a belief.

...

1086. In addition to these contactees, there are 723 Earth-humans who are under the control of the Giza intelligences.

1087. But these we must not stamp as real contactees, for they are misguided and serve the evil plans of the world-domination addicts.

1088. But several of these have already come out to the world public decades ago and spread reports and photos which have been made to appear to them by these evil intelligences.

1089. Some of these misguided people and those exploited for evil purposes have very well-known names, especially in ufological circles.

1090. Fortunately, there are not many of these contactees who have come to public attention so far.

1091. There are only 27 of them in the total number who have been pushed into the public limelight as misguided ones by the world-domination-addicted intelligentsia.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_033

Semjase:

5. The object which appeared yesterday and the day before yesterday was the same that you had already photographed on the evening of the 20th of April.
6. This however was not a beamship, as you assumed, but a small spaceship.
7. It also did not belong to us, but to other and rather unfriendly intelligences.
8. These strive very much to interfere with our work and maybe even to destroy it.
9. They have been particularly interested in you for months, because they want to get you into their custody.
10. The reason for this is the following:
11. These intelligences are striving to bring the planet Earth and its humanity under their sovereignty.
12. For this they make use of very unfair means, and do not even shy away from human abductions.
13. They are one of those groups which operate with the earthly religions, and which successfully profit from it, as unenlightened Earth-humans get into connection with them and become religiously influenced.
14. Misled by these intrigues, the deceived contact persons then work unconsciously for the evil purposes of these troublemakers, and step by step they slowly bring them closer toward their goal.
15. Namely the goal, means the domination of the Earth and of the Earth-humans, which these intelligences have already been working towards for thousands of years.
16. Unfortunately, the deceived ones often come out of their silence, and spread the religion-induced misguidances that these ill-intentioned liars have given to them.
17. And they achieve great success through this, as you already well enough know, because the Earth-human is exceptionally strongly trapped in unreal religious paths.

Billy:

That is known to me, but what does this have to do with these "birds"? To which group do they belong? Are they perhaps members of the 'pyramid moles'?

Semjase:

18. If you mean the Giza intelligences, then I confirm it.

Billy:

I almost came to that conclusion from your words, but what do these guys want from me then? You already told me that they were a danger to me.

Semjase:

19. They surely are a danger, and a very large one which you must not underestimate.
20. They know the history of your life and your task very precisely.
21. They know that you must enlighten humans as the prophet of the truth, and that you must bring back the true spiritual teaching.
22. This represents an enormous danger for them, because through it, the modern age human will sooner or later abandon religion, and will then seek the true religion in association with the Relegeon, because they will in other words, find and recognise the real truth.
23. As a result, these evil intelligences would naturally be hindered in the execution of their domineering plans, and their very long term enterprises would be put into question.
24. Their previous mode of operation, to secretly work with the false religions, was and still is their only way to achieve their goal and to appear as gods and angels.
25. They do not have another possibility, because they know very well that if they were to take dominion over the Earth and its inhabitants by force, the Earth folks would recognise the truth, and rebel against it by all possible means and fight back.
26. A war would become inevitable, but this is something that these intelligences could not afford, because they number only a few thousand beings.

27. Their technology is very outdated and they must fear the terrestrial explosion weapons in every respect.
28. Because of this, nowadays they would even be less able to involve themselves in a war with the Earth-humans, than they would have in previous times.
29. Their only possibility is to drive humanity into the final madness of their religions, in order to appear as gods and angels and take over the dominion of the Earth for themselves as they once did, before they were displaced again.
- ...
31. We have already been striving for a long time for a termination of the progress of these intelligences, and we are also capable of putting them in their place.
32. For a few months now, they have been trying to abduct you, to stop you from promulgating the truth.
33. With their appearance, they hope that you would let yourself be tempted to move to a convenient place for them, where they could kidnap and deport you.
34. Therefore be very alert and do not let yourself be enticed into making unwise moves.
35. We do monitor these evil-wishers, however they are equal to us in certain things, and we have our hands full with them.
36. Practice therefore the most extreme caution, because they truly do not shy away from any scheming.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_034

Billy:

But you had in the past mentioned that humans are also kidnapped by aliens in the Bermuda-triangle.

Semjase:

188. Sure, but it is as rare as it is on all the rest of the Earth.
189. For those abductions mainly the Giza-Intelligences are predominant, together with time travellers and other elements of the universe.
190. However, these incidents are truly very rare and count for less than 0.02% of all abduction cases on the Earth.

...

Billy:

... I am now still further interested in a matter related to the so-called appearances of Saints. I mean those phenomena, that are in a religious fashion dressed up in a holiness like for example the alleged appearance of a so-called Saint, after which the dear humans at the location of appearance are then creating places of pilgrimage out of it. ...

...

Semjase:

195. You know very well that these phenomena are only personally generated visions or machinations of those power groups and those Earth humans who want to cast their spell over the Earth humans through the religious forms of appearance, and in others are caused by Earth humans through their exuberant religious imagination.
196. This means, on the one hand, that the evil-minded extraterrestrial Giza intelligences, who want to bring the Earth into their power, cause such phenomena by projections or play such a role themselves, and, on the other hand, that Earth-humans afflicted by the religious delusion send out their horrendous fantasy by their consciousness-based powers and cause such phenomena by projection or visually-semi-materially.

...

201. And you also know very well that as another example the appearance of Fatima was nothing else but the evil play of the Giza intelligences, who let one of their ships appear in radiant light and then one of their female life forms appeared as the Mother of God, although they made the mistake that the woman remained in her space suit and this was registered by critical observers.

...

Semjase:

275. I have told you several times that various groups are working to disrupt our work, and your work in particular.

276. These are, without exception, associations, individuals and groups that have fallen into untruth, partly by religion and partly influenced by the dark powers of those addicted to seeking power.

...

277. You also know very well that every human is able to influence other human beings at unlimited distances in such a manner that they do exactly what they are commanded to do.

...

279. ... my speech is related to the world domination addicts mentioned earlier.

280. And I am talking about those of extraterrestrial origins who want to bring this world under their control, the Giza intelligences.

281. They use not only mystically inclined and misguided earthlings, but also other groups, mostly those that for some unclear and rather confused reason show anarchistic tendencies, such as the Red Army in Japan, the German Baader-Meinhof-Group, the Red Army Faction and the American Symbionese Liberation Army.

282. The latter group, the American, is to be inspired by the aforementioned malignant intelligences to commit an extraordinary crime.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_035

Semjase:

3. You shall once again interfere in earthly events and exercise your powers, for things are happening which are of decisive importance with regard to the standing of the reality of all extraterrestrial life-forms.

4. The world domination-addicted intelligences of Giza are preparing a very malicious crime to harm various other intelligences they dislike and question their credibility.

5. In recent times they have made great efforts to influence terrestrial humans in sectarian form in order to commit, in this form, an unusually malicious crime against human life, whereby the existence of extraterrestrials is to be made impossible and ridiculous, but whereby on the other hand their madness of religion for the purpose of their world domination addiction is to find new breeding ground for them.

6. Here's the thing now:

7. For some time now, a couple of earthlings in particular have been under the evil influence of the Giza intelligences in order to initiate criminal and degrading things in their evil sense.

8. The purpose of these machinations is to mislead earthlings in larger masses with the lying instruction that the Earth will no longer be habitable in about a decade.

9. According to this assertion of lies the Earth-humans would therefore die en masse and everything would fall prey to death.

10. However, it is not given that all terrestrial humans must die, why a rescue by extraterrestrials is intended.

11. Willing persons would therefore be picked up by extraterrestrial intelligences by a spaceship and brought to another, better and more beautiful world, where they would have a free and better life.

12. This has already been announced through billboards and other advertising.

13. Also, a meeting serving this evil cause was already held last Sunday (14th September 1975; Declaration of 16th September 1975) to get hold of the willing.

14. That is what happened in America in a place called WALDPORT {see Heaven's Gate cult}.

...

Billy:

... But tell me: What about the Gizeh twerps? Asket once told me something about how they wanted to influence a person to make him believe that he had been in the pyramid and had seen the crucifixion utensils there. She told me that in 1956, but I have never heard of such an incident before. Didn't the Gizeh fellows run this undertaking back then? If it were true, I should have heard something about it.

Semjase:

43. The deception manoeuvre has taken place, and the Gizeh intelligences have even succeeded very well.

44. The deception took place with an American named REINHOLD SCHMIDT, a grain buyer from California.

45. But he was also misused for other things, so he was fooled into travelling to the Arctic with a spaceship and so on.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_036

Semjase:

29. Via the then leaders of the Thule Society and their clairvoyant Hanussen I, the Giza intelligences managed to take possession of the being of Adolf Hitler and to abuse him for their dark and malicious purposes, without him resisting it, because a delusional greed for power had flared up in him himself.

30. In addition to this undertaking, innumerable forces in the form of human beings of Earth who had fallen prey to the Giza intelligences were regarding their consciousness manipulated and placed in his closest vicinity, whose influence he was also unable to withstand.

...

33. Adolf Hitler had succumbed to a delusion of power and was also maliciously abused by the Giza intelligences, with the old Thule Society playing a not inconsiderable part in this, which, however, cannot be transferred to the society of the same name of the new form.

...

35. A few days ago, through painstaking research and surveillance, we were able to gain a clear understanding of the fact that Ashtar Sheran actually exists and that the only reason we could not recognise him was because he fraudulently wrapped himself in this name.

36. A part of his real name is ARUSEAK along with another sequence of names, and he is a cousin of the supreme Giza intelligence.

37. On their behalf he controlled the old German Thule society, in which he introduced two strong telepathic factors, but which also influenced many Thule society members and various outside groups on a telenotic basis, including those who received the pseudo-messages of Ashtar Sheran.

...

107. The events of Fatima actually trace back to these intelligences, as do many similar events.

108. All we knew so far was that the Giza intelligences were responsible for all these events and that everything was done by Ashtar Sheran or by his command.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_038

Quetzal:

15. Aruseak, alias Ashtar Sheran, and so forth, is, as far as the fulfilment of his apportioned mission is concerned, the leader of an assembly of intelligences consisting of thousands of individuals, who, until 15 years ago, stood under the direct command of the world-control seeking KAMAGOL.

16. Aruseak and Kamagol are, according to their blood association, cousins, as it is named by you.

17. But Kamagol is the leader and ruler over a splinter group of many thousands of descendants who, in earlier times were separated, which means that this group had been separated by those powers who, earlier, possessed the control over your Earth and whose highest leader was an JHWH.

18. As it has always been, however, power struggles and lust for power also ruled among them, as unfortunately is characteristic of the human life form in its course of evolution.

19. One of the most greedy for might at that time was ARUSSEM, who, with a group of many thousands broke away from the majority of the celestial sons who had already become peaceful, and went his own way with the mind to make the Earth and its life forms subordinate.

20. His way of obtaining his goal was that of lies and deceit, of misleading and false teaching in the form of cultic false teachings which he was able to very skillfully weave into the religious teachings.

21. Through emissaries, and Earth-humans who had succumbed to him, he mixed these teachings among the Earth-humans whereby he soon won many followers of his false teachings.

22. It was primarily the gypsies on the Nile and in the further vicinity of the Mediterranean Sea and the Red Sea, who fanatically hung on his false teachings and began to spread them.

23. But the Hebrews, as they were, later freed themselves from this rule, as Arussem had to cede control to his successor, who was then named JEHOVAH, and so forth, in the tongue of the Earth-humans.

24. Having grown in the number of their people, the Hebrews created their own might and elected themselves as chosen ones.

25. They assumed for themselves the right to be qualified for world-control and to be worthy as chosen people, although they were never a people, rather only a low human group of gypsies of all kinds of colors and races who had come together.

26. But since the events of that time, they unjustifiably presented themselves as the first-ones, as the pre-entitled to rule the Earth, faithful to the examples who wanted to bring the whole Earth into bondage.

27. Thereby they became renegades, as also were their models, who now from their side, had to seek new ways to realise their wishes for power.

28. They found these ways then also through Kamagol the First, who succeeded Jehovah, who had assumed the name of an JHWH.

29. Like no ruler before, Kamagol the First forced all terrestrial religions into the frame of blood-demanding cults which, unfortunately, were able to be maintained on the Earth up to the current time.

30. In spite of many efforts of the righteous celestial sons they were not able to prohibit his evil machinations, therefore he could grasp the cultic religions around himself more and more and control the world.

31. Mighty in many kinds of technical and consciousness-related resources and powers, Kamagol's assembly was able to force the Earth-humans into its power and completely lead them into a cultic religion confusion.

32. However, also Kamagol the First could not assert his position of power because, after he had created for himself a centre and a headquarters deep under the surface of the pyramids of Giza, he was overthrown and disempowered by his own son, KAMAGOL the Second.

33. In many things he was even more malicious than his father, which he also soon proved through the introduction of monstrous mass killings of the Earth-humans.

34. Very many bloody events on the Earth which were carried out through the cultic religions, in truth, concern the will and the influencing of Kamagol the Second.

35. He and his assembly have become known, in insider circles, as the GIZA INTELLIGENCES.

36. This is because they maintain their actual command centre there and guide all events from there.

37. Many kinds of efforts were undertaken to prepare an end for this command centre and the driving force of this malicious assembly, yet that has basically failed up until now, because they have secured everything so much that effective alterations could only be obtained with malicious illogical force, which is not allowed to us and all others who are oriented regarding these facts.

38. Kamagol the First now selected one of his cousins as the authority over a group of thousands of individuals which had a quite special mission to fulfil - or would have had.

39. This task was essentially based on the telenotic guiding of various groups of humans of Aryan lineage into certain paths, in particular in Germany, America, Argentina and Brazil, in order to provide unconscious assistance for Kamagol's plans.

40. During the first time period, Aruseak, therefore Ashtar Sheran and whatever his other names may yet be, followed these orders unconditionally, so thereby Kamagol allocated further great power.

41. But in the course of time he obtained many kinds of understanding and modified his behavior.

42. Until then, he acted only according to the orders of Kamagol, so he only modified his tactic unnoticeably and thereby influenced, firstly, his assembly, which he indeed required.

43. By and by he obtained their trust, and they acknowledged him as their actual leader.

44. So it was an easy game for him to, by and by, include the obtained understanding of the truth and also to act according to it, even with the knowledge of his assembly.

45. With their acquiescence they loosened themselves from the control of Kamagol and formed a new splinter group.

46. That happened in the Earth year 1933.

47. Since then Aruseak followed his mission, imposed on him by Kamagol, to a degree, and transmitted his messages to various Earth-humans using telepathic impulses.

...

Billy:

... Your explanation says therefore, that Aruseak has broken away from the Giza Intelligences and has made himself autonomous. ...

...

Semjase:

144. A real vision describes a certain form of a guided vision.

145. It is a form of vision that is dominated by many intelligences, including the Giza intelligences.

146. By these arbitrarily provokable and steerable visions, different extraterrestrials – and also we – influence life forms, in order to obtain certain impressions for them in this way, which are instructive to them and which they are to make accessible by spreading also to others, in order to also purposefully affect the surroundings.

147. These steerable visions are so massively realistic that the influenced life form becomes convinced that it has experienced the vision as reality.

...

179. As you have been oriented by Quetzal, Aruseak has been pinning his hopes on the Giza intelligences, and therefore it is necessary to wait for further development first.

180. Furthermore, we are informed about the names in books and writings of the Ventla-Publishers as well as many other groups and individuals.

181. But as contact persons they are completely foreign to us, although we know from many of them that they partly belong to the Giza intelligences or grossly abuse any truth.

182. The Ventla-Publishers are sectarian in nature, and also publish false contact reports.

Billy:

There will be an uproar, Semjase, because Ventla-Publishers has a lot of names ...

Semjase:

183. ... of which only a few belong to very few real contact persons.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_039

Semjase:

174. 723 Earth-humans are contact persons of the Giza-Intelligences.

175. These, however, are not counted among the real contact persons.

176. 27 of these 723 Giza contact persons have come to the public worldwide.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_043

Semjase:

55. ... the Giza Intelligences, which unfortunately we are not always able to monitor very precisely with their dark machinations.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_044

Semjase:

85. But I do not want to exclude the possibility of explaining to you that the persons I have described as negative may have been in connection with the intelligences of Giza or may still be in connection with them, because we do not exercise precise control over them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_051

Semjase:

60. At three different locations, extremely small amplifier stations were set into trees at intervals of 230 meters each.

61. These stations with a size of just under one square centimeter, functioned and served as relay stations which interference transmitted oscillations from a central transmitter in very intense and dangerous values.

62. The central station floated in a constant position high in free space, but we could not clarify its origin.

63. We only have probability calculations for this, but with only 47 values they allow a very small evaluation.

Billy:

I understand, but I am still thinking about a certain possibility.

Semjase:

64. We have also considered this possibility, and there are indeed several things that point to Giza.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_054

Billy:

... Would you rather tell me how many other alien races are actually still stationed on the Earth?

Semjase:

54. There are seven more of them.

...

Billy:

Are the Giza intelligences included in these seven races?

Semjase:

57. They are not.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_055

Billy:

... But much more interesting would be the answer to the question whether Ganymede, the moon of Jupiter, is inhabited and whether it is perhaps a spaceship?

Semjase:

96. Ganymed is a very metal-like small planet and not habitable.

97. There are no people living there either, but there are a few alien human life-forms that are stationed there for a short time.

98. But it is not a spaceship.

Billy:

But the life-forms that are stationed there maintain the contacts with the Earth-humans?

Semjase:

99. Sure, because they are the Giza intelligences.

...

Billy:

But now something very special: Did you already hear that: 'Sigma Roma'?

Semjase:

159. – – – What is this question?

160. How did you get this knowledge, and what are you doing with it?

Billy:

You seem to be alarmed?

Semjase:

161. Are you surprised?

162. What is the purpose of this question and how do you know about this code, and what do you intend to do with it?

...

168. Then why do you break the code and speak it backwards?

...

170. More than that, my friend, because I know the Giza intelligences too well not to worry about you when you come to me with their code.

Billy:

You are not saying that these two words are a code of these Giza twerps?

Semjase:

171. What do you think I am worried about you for?

Billy:

Oh you blue Heinrich, I did not know that. I received this 'Sigma Roma' from Mr. Reiz. He explained to me that he had received this code through a telepathic contact from somewhere and that I should tell you about it.

Semjase:

172. Is that really the case?

Billy:

I am not lying to you.

Semjase:

173. I do not accept it, and I do not see anything like it, but the Giza intelligences have many possibilities.

174. Well, the words of the code are offset and I do not want to mention them in their correct composition, because they do not...

Billy:

...hold a certain seductive value. I already figured it out myself. Right?

Semjase:

175. You think very quickly, but I must ask you to be silent about it.

Billy:

Naturally.

Semjase:

176. It is the code of the intelligences of Giza through which they make themselves mutually recognisable.

177. This is important to them, for their various groups unlawfully call themselves descendants of various races and celestial systems to earthlings.

178. This is how they call themselves life-forms from Mars and Venus, but they also use our pro forma home worlds for fraudulent purposes.

179. It is therefore safe to assume that Mr. Reiz was connected to one of these intelligences and received the code from them because they assumed that we would represent one of their groups.

Billy:

Fabulous, these twerps have their dirty fingers everywhere. ...

Billy:

114. Recently I was told that one evening about three or four weeks ago a triangular and radiant ship hung almost vertically high above our house for about twenty minutes.

115. This was told to me by an innkeeper who wanted to have the object observed.

116. It is interesting to note that exactly at this time in our house different people began to rotate and I finally ran away because everything became too much for me.

117. I thought about it and came across all sorts of things.

118. Do you have any idea what kind of ship it might have been?

119. You know, it must have looked like a delta, with bright rays of light at the front and colourful play of light rays at the back.

Semjase:

137. You say delta-shaped?

138. That can only have been Giza-Intelligences who let their influence play.

Billy:

120. That is exactly what I was thinking and explaining to the others; I do not know any other ships of this kind.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_070

Semjase:

145. Jehavon ruled until about 3,660 Earth years ago, until he was likewise treacherously murdered by his only son Jehav, who then snatched up rule for himself, after 340 years of his father's reign.

146. Jehav ruled wickedly, and always screamed for blood and revenge, until 3,320 years ago in your chronology, during which time he sired three sons, who were named Arussem, Ptaah and Salam.

147. Megalomaniacal like his father Jehavon, he let himself be proclaimed as creator, and celebrated as such, and like his father, he caused terrible devastation among the three human races, and he demanded blood and death.

148. As addicted to power as his father Jehav, was also his firstborn son Arussem, who constantly wanted to take over his father's power.

149. Thus he also finally murdered his father Jehav, and wanted to snatch up the power for himself.

150. But he failed profoundly, because his younger brother Ptaah and his youngest brother Salam positioned themselves against him, in order to expel and ban him into exile, because, having become disgusted by the constant wars, power struggles and bloodshed, Ptaah and Salam already made an effort themselves for many decades to lead humane forms of life.

151. Therefore, already for a long time, they assembled around themselves many like-minded ones, with whose help they gained control of Arussem and his 72,000 followers, and expelled them.

152. But Arussem secretly returned to the Earth, and settled down with his army, in the land of Egypt, in the old cubical constructions which had existed there unused for more than 70,000 years.

153. Deep in the interior of the Earth and deep below the pyramids, they established themselves securely, whereby they converted the rooms and buildings deep below the present pyramids of Giza, as a centre for their wicked purposes, from where they and their descendants since then tried to realise their tyrannical plans, but as of now without noteworthy success, although their way of obtaining the goal of deceit, lying and intrigues was through false teachings and the leading astray of the uncorrupted Earth-humans through religious teachings of madness and cults, and many kinds of other evil machinations.

154. Due to their expulsion they, however, forfeited very much, because all possibilities for technological and otherwise scientific further development was prevented for them, as also however was all their research, and so forth, which thereby led to the quite rapid reduction in their life expectancy, and today still only amounts to an average of 94 years, which in relation to today's people converts to practically only about 20 years higher than the average in European regions.

155. This means for the renegades, called the "Giza Intelligences" by us, that they are slowly dying out, and today are still only fewer than 2,100 in number.

156. Due to complete isolation from outer space, these remaining ones will also be no more, in fewer than three decades, because they are all already old and no longer capable of procreation.

157. But in spite of that they still maliciously hold firm to their tyrannical plans, and they do not see themselves as beaten.

158. Arussem ruled until about 3,010 years before your time reckoning began [3,010 BCE] until a powerful forced departure was secured for him by a mutineer by the name of Henn, who was called Jehovah in the tongue of the Hebraons, and likewise also gradually within his own ranks, whereas the appellation "The Cruel One" was added.

159. In the year 2,080 BCE already old and weak, he was displaced, and his nephew Kamagol the First, took over the evil command of the Giza Intelligences, in order to expand the headquarters below the surface of the pyramid of Giza to a murderous centre of power, which allowed no possibility at all of being destroyed anymore.

160. Like no ruler before, Kamagol the First forced all Earthly religions under his control and created terrible cults which demanded human blood, which were able to be partially maintained until the present.

161. All efforts from outside were in vain, as his position of power could not be broken.

162. But also Kamagol the 1st was only a human, so one day he met his own fate from out of his own ranks, in the form of his own son, Kamagol the 2nd, who overthrew him and deprived him of power, and let him die miserably in a deep dungeon.

163. Kamagol the Second was in many things even more malicious than his father, which he soon revealed, after taking over power, through the introduction of monstrous mass murdering of Earth-born terrestrial human beings, who he slapped under his religious power through many kinds of means.

164. As one of the last really extremely long-lived, Kamagol the Second attained a great age and died a natural death just a few days ago, which we were able to ascertain just 2 days ago.

165. He departed this world on the 27th of December 1976, therefore around 10 days ago.

166. The still remaining Giza Intelligences, already old and weak in many cases, but still filled with hate and tyrannical plans, do not give up.

167. But indeed their days are numbered, so in three decades at the latest they will be no more.

...

Billy:

29. However, what is the name of the new superior twerp among the Gizeh-wretches?

Semjase:

182. According to our information no new ruler will emerge.

183. In future, all decisions are to be taken by joint council.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_076

Menara:

24. The main thing is that the intelligences of Giza have made themselves noticeable again and are trying by all means to disrupt the construction of the Centre.

25. But not only that, because they try to destroy everything in all possible ways, because in their evilness they fear and have to fear the truth.

26. This is also the reason why all sorts of evil has befallen you in recent times and that you have had various accidents and other nuisances.

27. Some of your group were and are particularly at risk, which is why Semjase warned you some time ago at night when you could prepare the persons concerned to exercise special caution.

28. These are all the persons in the group who are particularly sensitive to the forces of the negatively controlled Giza intelligences, who have agreed in alliance with the Brazilian group to use even malicious means to destroy the Centre.

29. Be careful, therefore, for you may be threatened by danger in a material form even from Brazil.

30. The consciousness-based influences of the intelligences of Giza should not be taken lightly either, as you are used to saying, because they are particularly dangerous.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_079

Billy:

107. What about these negative influences that have had such a strong effect on all of us?

...

Semjase:

...

174. In the main, the Giza intelligences were guilty for the negative events.

175. Realising that your Centre lies very exactly on a magnetic radiation centre, they were tempted to exploit this in their favour and bring forces into play that you could not cope with.

176. As you yourself know very well, you too had all sorts of trouble and misery in order to cope with, or at the very least to reject, all kinds of hostilities.

177. Even when it is a mystery to us how you could do that, this fact nevertheless remains.

Billy:

110. At times it was also very crazy for us.

111. Many simply cranked through, spun out and went crazy.

112. This affected the work and much more.

...

115. Nevertheless, I do not want to ascribe all events to the Giza twerps and the swinging waves of the stars, because in many cases the spinning out of the individual was because they did not know what to do with all the work that had to be done, within which was the factor that they were unaccustomed to this kind of work, which also helped with everything.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_080

Semjase:

60. What is certain so far is that the Giza intelligences have joined forces with a group of fleeing and malignant intelligences from space {see next entry} who are involved in the concerns of the Giza intelligences and are helpful to them.

61. Their outer forms correspond to your observation that they have oversized eyes and some other special things about them.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_081

Ptaah:

42. Certain events of the recent past can even be traced back to this, because through the unreasonableness of a certain member (Margreth Flammer) who, despite repeated warnings, continues to indulge herself with new spiritualistic sessions, negative swinging-waves were able to spread from the medium in question, registered by a brain-analyser of the Giza intelligence's that found a weak spot and consequently created that artificial insect, with the help of a malignant refugee group from a space-time displaced area of the Pegasus constellation, guilty of bacterial contamination in the Center.

...

Quetzal:

2. The evil occurrence with the collapse of the wall could have been avoided if the reports had been followed.

3. Semjase had long pointed out that the Center was to be secured and guarded.

4. However, this advice was not followed, which is why it was possible to push down the wall.

...

7. It is a work by the Giza-intelligences in collaboration with the refugees from the Pegasus area.

8. They were located by and brought to the attention of the group in Brazil about 6 weeks ago, after which a connection was established between them.

9. The merger with the Giza-intelligences was then only a matter of time.

10. Best oriented about the processes in your Center and in detail about the group members, they also know about the growing existence of the actual value of the Sohar-Centre {see the last entry here, a meditation area at the Semjase Silver Star Center}.

11. But this, the actual value, means extreme danger for them, because when it is completed and when it is in operation, then they have finally lost.

12. This is precisely what they want to prevent, which is why every inconspicuous path to destruction is right for them.

13. So they took advantage of the knowledge of the Pegasus refugees and of their equipment.

14. A swinging-wave vibrator, working on a microwave basis, thereby came to them very conveniently, in order to cause damage to the actual value of the developing Sohar-Centre and to possibly destroy it.

15. A Pegasus refugee, whom you have observed, investigated the data of the value, after which on August 30th around the fourth hour of the morning the Pegasus ship was directed to the Centre to bring the swinging-wave vibrator into action.

16. The swinging-wave bundle was placed behind the wall, which had already collapsed earlier due to a water ingress.

17. The strong swinging-waves released caused a very high vibrational wave, which within a few seconds pulled the nearly 150 centimetres thick concrete wall from its anchorage, lifted it a little and hurled it forward, which is why it had fallen so far forward.

...

19. The microwave swinging-wave vibrators work with such a strong potency that in a few fractions of a second they are deadly to any form of life in such a manner that it acts like a lightning-fast ageing process, which even an ignorant person could immediately detect.

20. But this is precisely what the negative Giza-intelligences cannot afford, namely that things can be determined that point to their actual existence.

21. If this were to happen, they would publicly expose themselves and reveal their existence, after which your explanations, which you would certainly spread, would be accepted by the Earth-humans, and especially by scientists and the authorities, with the result that the Giza-intelligences would be searched for and every religion, which are their best aid for their world domination plans, would be shaken.

22. Therefore, they must not do anything to indicate their existence, which is why they would not have done anything if any of you had watched in the vicinity of the area of value.

Billy:

20. I understand. –

21. So the twerps will not do anything that would be inexplicable to the Earth-humans, which is why everything is arranged in such a manner that it looks as if it were earthly?

Quetzal:

23. That is correct.

...

Billy:

26. But tell me, Quetzal, how does the crazy vibration swinging-wave work?

Quetzal:

24. It is a swinging-wave vibrator, not a vibration-swinging wave.

25. Unfortunately, I am not allowed to explain officially how it is constructed, but you can be assured that the Earth scientists are already developing these apparatuses in their early days.

26. These, however, are completely different in operation from those of the Pegasus refugees.

27. They are highly transformed by a precisely tuned thought oscillation, after which they generate the necessary energy.

28. The Giza-intelligences are not able to do this, because they are not able to generate these thought impulses, thus they were dependent on the Pegasus refugees.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_082

Semjase:

35. The truth is that Margreth's various séances over the last three months have released and radiated secrets from her subconscious by the medium that referred to the Sohar-Centre.

36. These negative vibrations in this sense were located and analyzed by the Giza intelligences, who were only then informed about the emergence of the Centre.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_092

Semjase:

38. You destroyed your blockade by all your work and your burdens, which you did not realize, because your anger almost made you race and lose all control.

39. As a result, malignant swinging waves penetrated into you, which are directed at you by directional beam devices through the Giza Intelligences.

40. The rupture of the blockade meant that these swinging waves were able to penetrate you unhindered and trigger reactions in you that are dangerous not only for yourself but for all our tasks, because you act so unreasonably and emotionally when these swinging waves hit you that have to work destructively upon you.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_102

Billy:

67. In Schmidrüti there was a wedding this morning, and as is our custom in many places, some people shot different salutes into the morning sky.

68. The three of them were, and I was able to determine that these explosives took place in Schmidrüti.

69. After the third shot, however, only two or three seconds later, a tremendous thunderclap roared directly above our house roof, roared down through the chimney and made the whole house tremble to its foundations.

70. What was not nailed down, clanked and clattered.

71. The whole thing seemed to me like the blow from a [breaking of a] sound barrier, as I have experienced on several occasions.

...

Quetzal:

91. Menara and I were at a low altitude directly above your actual Centre in a state of invisibility.

92. Suddenly, after the first explosion in the village, a triangular ship shot in from the south, just when the second explosion took place.

93. At a height of only about 60 meters, it hovered briefly above your house, only to shoot into the sky with triple power immediately after the third explosion in the village.

94. I immediately realised what this meant and acted in a fraction of a second.

95. Our ship shot forward and the next moment it floated directly over the fireplace of your house, less than 10 meters above the ground.

96. Then the blow came from high above and threatened to smash our ship, which fortunately withstood the vicious force.

97. The huge soaring cracking sound of the breaking sound barrier fanned away from the ship and raced across the house, while the acoustic waves continued downwards in spite of everything and hit the house as an evil force, shaking it very hard.

Billy:

81. Then these were our dear friends, the Gizeh-twerps, yes?

Quetzal:

98. That's correct.

Billy:

...

87. Did you and Menara at least this time give these lousy brothers a little lesson?

Quetzal:

99. That was Menara's work.

100. The Giza ship, a remote-controlled apparatus, the last of its kind they possessed, was completely eliminated by her after a short chase.

Billy:

88. Aha, so you blew it out, yes?

Menara:

14. It was like that, yes.

Billy:

89. Thank you, my child, I am glad.

90. Then we do not have to fear anything similar anymore?

Quetzal:

101. Certainly, because other ships of this kind are no longer owned by the unpleasant intelligences.

...

103. Somehow these evil ones must have analysed the marriage day and the custom associated with it, because all probability indicates that they made this attempt at your destruction only because they knew the explosion custom, because such an explosion would have been attributed to the destruction of the house and your death.

Quetzal:

18. Since days already we had to realise unfortunately that negative forces penetrate again with different group members, which are sent out in hateful form by the Giza Intelligences.

19. This, probably because Menara and I prevented their murderous attack on your Centre and then destroyed their flying apparatus.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_105

Quetzal:

72. But now to other and more important things that relate to you, such as the malicious attack of the Bafaths, the Giza intelligences, on you on the afternoon of March 30.

...

75. It was a psycho-shock of unimaginable intensity imposed on you, according to the strength of which you should succumb to a heart attack.

...

88. What is being done by our side is that we are considering the idea of removing the Bafath beings from the earthly system, getting hold of them, destroying their entire stations by a total elimination or restoring them to their original state, and abandoning them, deprived of any technology whatsoever, somewhere in a strange and uninhabited region of a distant galaxy, where they can live out the rest of their lives built on evil.

Billy:

49. Man, Quetzal, that would be the hit of a million years.

50. But, why do you now want to go behind these jerks by force?

Quetzal:

89. Their dangerousness suddenly becomes much greater, which is why we have to resort to logical Gewalt [form of power], in other words to gewaltsamen Gewaltlosigkeit [powerful powerlessness].

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_107

Pleija:

13. Unfortunately, already for a long time, Quetzal could no longer be granted leave, and neither could all the others.

14. The reason for this is that all were in full and constant effort, in order to remove the Intelligences of Giza, who desperately made all attempts to escape us.

15. Thus, the whole undertaking took a long time, and only on the 17th, so four days ago, could the last ones be captured by Quetzal and his assistants, so he is now deporting them to a very distant galaxy in the Neber system, where they can do no more harm, for there, they will have no technology and must rely on their hands, if they want to continue to live.

16. It was simply enough, because what these malicious ones have all undertaken in recent months, in order to rid the world of you and destroy everything, was just too much.

Billy:

I thought so, too. But could not these heinous ones have already been deported before?

Semjase:

25. It was not our right to do that, for we have to respect the will of a life form, even if it is wrong or malicious.

26. You know that, nevertheless.

27. The fact that it could now come to this deportation, however, lay in a self-defense situation.

28. The malicious and insidious attack on your residential building justified this tough course of action.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_109

Billy:

104. But wait, first of all, may I still direct another question to you regarding the Giza twerps?

...

106. It would interest me and all others, what was actually done with all the underground buildings, with the equipment and the ship and the rooms, after you transported the fellows away.

...

Ptaah:

...

124. All equipment and the ship were completely eliminated by us.

125. As well as the buildings that were erected in the rooms.

126. The rooms themselves were then filled with solid matter, namely with rock and other matter.

127. This was done on the technological basis of the de- and re-materialisation.

Billy:

108. Then today, practically nothing points to the former existence of these things anymore?

Ptaah:

128. No, for it had to be.

Billy:

109. I understand.

110. But did you also fill in all the other corridors and rooms?

Ptaah:

129. No, we let these remain, of course.

130. Only everything that was necessary was destroyed.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_174

Billy:

... But then, I saw it, and it was not a person with a lamp but rather a huge mass of ionized air that looked like a luminous fog in the light of the yard lamp. But peculiarly, there were strange movements that flowed from this ionisation-thing, out of which an enormous hand then emerged, which moved towards the fence and appeared as if it was searching for and reaching for something, but oddly enough, it avoided the direct light of the yard lamp towards the side and towards the top, and at the same time, I realised that I was met with evil swinging waves ... when Ingrid made her remark, she referred to the fact that she had been sitting with me the night before on the sofa in front of the barn, when on the upper path in the rabbit enclosure, possibly someone from your federation materialised, who for 15 seconds was a bright green and was surrounded by a corona of blinding white light, from which a radiant red figure emerged, while all the air around ionized, and then there arose a strong smell of sulfur. This was about an hour after I had observed two other materialisations, but which appeared red in colour, near the shed during Ferdinand's night watch, but these were not seen by Ferdinand, even though he sat on the bank beneath the pulpit and actually should have seen these things. In all other respects, the whole process of the ionisation of air seemed to me such that these forces cannot simply arise out of the air, but beneath the ground slope behind the trees, there probably must have been some ship, from which these forces were sent up to us. This impression was reinforced in me even more after I ran out, having recognised the structure from the window, left the office, and wanted to rush to the yard lamp behind the office. As I ran around the corner of the house, I saw that the ionizing structure paused suddenly and alarmingly in its climbing-hand-over-hand movements, in order to become a furiously rotating whirl within a split second, like what happens with water or with a sandstorm, whereby this rotating whirl created a compression in itself at breakneck speed and first rushed down and then backwards towards the forest, in order to flare up brightly there, high up in the branches of the trees, and in order to disappear between the tree branches.

...

Quetzal:

9. It was a product of the Giza Intelligences, with whom we had not sufficiently considered their capabilities of consciousness with their deportation.

10. Very well, we had them sent to a safe place, appearing in a very remote galaxy, where they were completely isolated.

11. But we did not take into account that they were capable of creating, as an entire block united in spirit-telepathic form, a thought transmission factor of unlimited range.

12. So they got together as an entire block, and somewhere in the universe, they found a human race of negative directives that gave them a response and which consults with the Giza Intelligences using highly sophisticated spacecraft.

13. With this space-flying race that is still unknown to us until now, a dangerous conspiracy was forged, in order to make the Earth subject to the Giza Intelligences once again.

...

15. The fact that you have already booked rather large successes, which were first made possible and which were achieved to a large extent through the intrigues and negative machinations of the brothers H. and K., has placed the largest thorn in the eye of the Giza Intelligences and poses the largest threat to their desire for world domination that is of a religious-sectarian form.

...

17. But how the Giza Intelligences and their new co-conspirators could build up the negative forces directed against you and concentrate them to such a terrible extent is, so far, inexplicable to us.

...

27. Furthermore, it is still to be said that we brought an aircraft with Giza Intelligences under our control, and we now have the fallible ones in safekeeping, which is foolproof and supervised.

28. However, the aircraft of Giza's allies withdrew using a hyper-leap procedure that is not recognisable to us, so we also could not detect any structural swinging waves neither with the entry into hyperspace nor with the exit of the craft from the same.

29. Nevertheless, we determined that within a diameter of 7 kilometres around the central point of the Center, a negative power bell of the same kind was constructed, as it embodied that force which exerted a vicious attack against you, which fortunately failed, however.

...

31. As my analyses have shown, this energy bell is a force of energy phenomenon that is transmitted from somewhere, but we cannot identify where the true origin is and where lies the transmission channel of the materialised energy bell.

32. With certainty, we could only determine that this transmission channel must be located at least over 5.5 light-years from the Earth because within this distance range, there are found in the free space the smallest particles of these forms that are inexplicably produced by this great power.

...

35. That is of correctness, and finding the transmission channel is truly just a matter of time.

36. But this is to be our sole concern, which is why we have also equipped a little more than 11,000 flying-machine units with the most modern analysers and sensors and so on for this task.

...

Billy:

... Also, greet for me in thanks all those who work for us Earthlings in the 11,000 spaceships.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_175

Billy:

You did not let me finish speaking.

Quetzal:

71. It is our common nature, for we often understand the questions before they are uttered.

...

Quetzal:

80. Namely, ANDRON (the one who knows how to assert himself), who is the largest in body mass among our allies and who stands at over 5 terrestrial metres tall, materialised there and slowly walked towards those bushes across the meadow, where the spying man kept himself hidden.

81. This frightened cruel one suddenly realised that you, your mission, and we had been defamed by the brothers H. and K. and that throughout his life, he had acted inferiorly and wrongly.

82. He recognised that Andron could not be a terrestrial life-form but rather had to originate from another planet somewhere because according to his knowledge, there were no such large human beings on the Earth, let alone one who could materialise himself at an edge of a forest.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_176

Quetzal:

40. The three days on Erra will be strenuous for you, and you will hardly find any sleep during this time.

...

Billy:

You can give me your 'special food' and your 'special drinks', which expel sleepiness.

Quetzal:

42. Those will be necessary either way, nevertheless, it is appropriate that you find plenty of sleep.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_177

Billy:

Good, but just one favour, my friend: In each case, when you are in my office at night and are rumbling around, then I do not mind if you adjust the radio station for me each time. But that you simply leave the couch a mess and let the chairs stand all over the place, I do not think this is very polite, and it does not correspond to your concept of tidiness.

Quetzal:

44. I ask you to excuse this, for such happens unintentionally in each case.

45. Occasionally, the swinging waves of group members, who are carrying out the watch, urge us in each case to remove ourselves very quickly when they arrive in close or near proximity of your workroom.

46. Thus, we must then leave the area hastily, whereby we can no longer produce the necessary order.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_179

Quetzal:

4. We have finally succeeded in tracking down the allies of the Giza Intelligences and have succeeded in coming into possession of them and all of their technical aids.

...

8. By getting a hold of the Giza allies and their technical aids, we have encountered things and realisations that make us ashamed, for we ourselves did not expect such things and also did not consider them with our premonitions or suppositions.

...

11. During the course of yesterday afternoon, on a small planet system, which we call the Karan system and which is located on the far side of the Andromeda system, one of our search units identified impulses that were identical to those which emanate from the energy bell that is roofed over you {see Contact Report 174:Q29-32}.

...

Billy:

And how far away is it from the Earth?

Quetzal:

13. 2.8 million light-years, thus, far on the other side of the Andromeda system.

14. But now, hear what we found:

15. Our unit followed these impulses to a small and very inhospitable planet, where metal domes were soon spotted, which were located in a large desert and from which the impulses were apparently being emitted.

16. This quickly proved to be true, as defensive reactions of the dome stations appeared, which very quickly brought our unit under control and to a halt, after which the stations were then seized and the inhabitants were arrested, but it turned out that it was another faction of the Giza Intelligences, who had to leave the Earth at a very early stage and who had formed a separate people, whom they call SABAN.

17. As it turned out, these folk have always been in constant touch with the real Giza Intelligences remaining on the Earth, so it was easy for them and their allies to get in touch after the deportation through us, through a consciousness block, after which the Sabans then helpfully stepped in and gave the Giza Intelligences every aid, while they themselves also actively cooperated and even pursued the same objectives since ancient times.

18. In addition, they had not remained idle over many centuries, but they developed malignant technologies that enabled them for several months to send out, across millions of light-years, negative swinging waves that were polarised toward the smallest targets, which exhibit the characteristic that they take the available negative swinging waves of the same kind from the target and concentrate them into an immense ball of power, without the originators of the swinging waves noticing a reduction in their strength and without the originators of the swinging waves losing anything of their own swinging waves.

Billy:

Ah, I understand. Then the negative swinging waves of the believers, sectarians, and religious fanatics, etc., are probably those which are taken and concentrated into an enormous and destructive ball of power, right?

Quetzal:

19. That is of correctness, but that is not enough because as a result of the acquired technology, the Sabans have succeeded in having their swinging waves affect targets, located millions of light-years away, in such a concentrated manner and exactly to the millimeter, such that they could locate and hit a fly on the Earth from their impulse location in the Karan system.

20. Taking advantage of these, they attacked those group members, who are still, in certain parts, dependent on faith and who indulge in unrealities and in uncontrolled emotions, etc., whereby these ones increasingly thought and acted illogically and improperly.

21. But now, that should not and cannot be an excuse for the misconduct of the fallible ones because already long ago, they should have overcome the conditions of such degeneration and instability, so that they could not be attacked by and could not be influenced by such powers any more.

22. However, these fallible ones are not the only ones who were directly impacted by these Giza impulses because the same thing also happened with many other human beings of the Earth, who have been in contact with you within a nearer or further framework, since the days when Semjase first made contact with you.

23. It is just that previously, we knew nothing about all this, so we could do nothing about it.

24. We also lacked the knowledge that several centuries ago, a Giza group had isolated itself and had departed from the Earth, in order to form their own new nation, which continued working, nevertheless, within the old framework and with the same goals, far from the Earth and in constant connection with the remaining Giza Intelligences.

25. Only now has all of this become clear and perceptible to us, after we have apprehended the criminal elements, of whose existence we had no knowledge.

26. And now, in order to remove the danger of these elements, we are forced to eliminate all the achievements of their efforts, whereby great difficulties arise, nevertheless.

27. The Sabans have so secured their installations that if we attempted to destroy them, a catastrophe, reaching far into the cosmos, would be triggered.

28. This through a time effect, according to which after a certain time, an immensely far-reaching and deadly reaction of destruction would be triggered on their planet if we simply destroyed the installations.

29. So, in the course of yesterday afternoon, we had to use the special commands, by which the existing danger could be averted.

30. The time effect of the release of the disaster and destruction had to be reversed, so that the time becomes reduced to the starting point, whereby a defusing then occurs.

31. It has ...

Billy:

This would be, so to speak, a time bomb, of which you speak, if I understand you correctly. In addition, your comments must mean that this time bomb cannot simply be defused but that its ignition can only be stopped if the already-started time period is stopped and is then reversed back to zero-time, whereby the danger can only be averted, then, if the already-started running time has arrived back at its starting point. This is clear to me so far, but I do not understand why you cannot destroy the installations if you can already stop the flow of the time period.

Quetzal:

32. The whole thing is constructed so ingeniously that the catastrophe would be released even if the flow of the time period was just interrupted and the installations were destroyed.

33. The only way to prevent the catastrophe is to reverse the time of expiry and make it effective in retrograde.

34. Only then would the danger be averted, after which we could then perform the elimination, but we must count on the fact that we need to dissolve the entire planet into energy because it has been so thoroughly developed and transformed that it is truly nothing more than an overkill bomb that, in its gigantic magnitude, would completely destroy everything within millions of kilometres if it would come to explosive effect.

35. Nevertheless, this danger has already been averted by us, so that the time flow is now declining and will reach the starting point again on next Sunday at 14:11 hrs and 8 seconds, according to your time reckoning, after which we can then perform the elimination, but this will still take another 46 minutes to complete.

36. Until that time, which must be clear to all of you, there will still exist the influencing swinging wave impulses of a negative form, by which some group members are still unnoticeably influenced.

37. So you can only count on the fact that at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, everything will be in order again, and no more interference can occur through the swinging wave impulses.

Quetzal:

40. The annoying concerns surrounding the Giza Intelligences are finally settled, according to which we are now only dealing with the analyses of the discovered and seized material.

41. However, this will take several years to complete, as I have already explained to you earlier.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_215

Billy:

... what was it with Sodom and Gomorrha; what actually happened there – how were these two cities destroyed?

Quetzal:

117. Several factors are to be mentioned:

118. On the one hand, a meteorite fell to the Earth and exploded high over the area of the two cities, which would now actually be designated as larger villages.

119. This led to devastating destruction of both cities, triggering a massive earthquake, by which the Earth was torn open – like in Petra – and by underground volcanic activity, small and larger chunks of sulphur were flung high and across the country, which also naturally caused much disaster, and by this – as also by the exploding meteorite – many human beings were killed.

120. The remaining part of the total destruction was caused by the megalomaniac and crazy God of the Hebrews, an extraterrestrial who had his headquarters deep under the pyramid of Giza.

121. His punishment for the disobedience of the population of Sodom and Gomorrha, against his commands, was that he let two small atom bombs ignite over the two cities, which finally levelled everything to the ground, killing all humans and animals.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_264

Ptaah:

19. Several times your own films, which you gave to the photographer Schmid during the first time of your contacts to develop and to make pictures, were replaced by completely new and faked films, consequently you already received many false negatives and photos from the very beginning – or even faked pictures.

20. This also happened with the film on which you captured Asket and Nera and which you only got back months later, and which was in fact a product of the Black Men who had found and photographed Asket's and Nera's doubles in America, after which the pictures were edited and handed over to you by Schmid.

...

26. It was precisely with regard to these pictures that we found out that Schmid immediately handed over the film handed over to him in this respect to the 'Black Men' or to the 'Men in Black', as they are called in your ufological circles, as the case may be, who within just a few days were able to locate and photograph the Asket-Nera doppelgangers in America several times, so that the two pictures known to you were created and handed over to you.

27. The Giza intelligences also played a certain role in the whole thing, as well as on other occasions, as you know very well.

28. But we were not able to clarify the exact connections.

29. It is clear, however, that they had an impulse telepathic negative influence on a large number of people on Earth to damage, defame or even kill you, as has been attempted several times – unsuccessfully, fortunately.

30. And in the end everything was done to make you and your mission impossible, especially by accusing you of cheating on photo forgeries.

31. And both the 'Men in Black' still work today, as do the decades-long impulse telepathic negative machinations against you and your mission to be destroyed.

32. And affected by these impulses of the Giza intelligences should be all those who work full of intrigues, slander and other negative machinations against you and the mission without having knowledge of the impulses.

Billy:

Not exactly pleasing. – But how long will these Giza impulses continue to be effective on Earth?

Ptaah:

33. This may take another 200 or 300 years.

...

Billy:

Actually, I feel sorry for the schemers and slanderers, because if they are blinded by the impulse telepathic machinations of the Giza intelligences, there is hardly any hope for them that they will ever come to reason and truth in this life, consequently they are more and more mistaken. – By the way, you have sent these Giza twerps elsewhere – is it really the case that they cannot get back to Earth from there or cannot make contact with other intelligences to influence them and cause new harm?

Ptaah:

47. The Earth-humans can be sure that they will never again be bothered by these degenerates.

48. Other intelligences are also safe from them.

...

72. And these enemies against you and your mission, that is beyond doubt for us, are all purely earth-human persons, who are under the influence of the Giza impulses, which are still effective for a long time.

Billy:

So also {Ka} Korff and B.?

Ptaah:

73. Without any doubt.

...

112. Nevertheless, it must be said that the dangerous telepathic impulses of the 'Men in Black' as well as the impulses of the deported Giza intelligences that will remain effective for a long time to come must not be regarded as harmless.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_424

Ptaah:

29. As to the Gizeh Intelligences and the Sirian Black Men, that is another matter which leads back many thousands of years, whereas the Brazilian Group consisted of former Nazis who were able to take over an object of the Gizeh Intelligences, what we also were able to find out.

30. This group does not exist anymore today, and the Gizeh Intelligences were sent into exile and are becoming extinct.

...

35. Some others, such as Dan Fry and Schmidt etc., were by the Giza intelligences through means of teleprojection put into pseudo-realities with visionary experiences, which they deemed to be reality.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_452

Billy:

... Firstly I would like to question you regarding the deportees, the Gizeh-twerps and the Pegasus-refugees. In the 81st Contact on the 4th of September 1977 Quetzal said the following:

...

Thereto now the question: At that time it happened, that the Pegasus-refugees attempted to cause severe damage to us in the centre. How does it now make sense, however, their appearance on the Earth thus, since you have recently said anyway, that through your clarifications you have determined that during the last 300 years there have been no other Earth-foreigners other than those which you mentioned to me. However, what was it then with the Sirians and Ashtar Sheran and gangs?

Ptaah:

5. We were only later able to clarify the facts about the Pegasus-refugees, when the whole story about the Gizeh-Intelligences clarified.

6. The refugees belonged to a splinter-group of the Gizeh-Intelligences, who lived in the space-time-displaced region of the Pegasus-constellation and who had entered an alliance with the faction living on the Earth, therefore they were counted as one of the Gizeh-Intelligences and consequently were not described as special foreigners.

7. Therefore, also today we do not refer to these as special foreigners, which also applies to the sirian fanatics and the faction of Ashtar Sheran, who for a very long time on the Earth tried to cause mischief again and again and also were in alliance with the Gizeh-Intelligences.

8. All factions of the Gizeh-Intelligences consisted of escaped criminals, delinquents and power-addicts, who practically in every connection with the Gizeh-Intelligences were willing with reference to their machinations and acted according to their plans.

9. Definite knowledge with respect to all of these connections of the Gizeh-Intelligences and all of their factions, however, we first received, when we could establish contact with the scientists of the Sirians, whereby also the fanatical small group, who were fundamentally responsible for the murder-attempts on you, could then be eliminated by sirian forces.

10. Then it was also this small fanatical-group with few members, who reported in detail about all of the connections, before they were sent into exile.

Billy:

Oh so, then the Sirians therefore were active on the Earth for a long time. It is to be probably assumed, however, that they were not from the beginning allies of the Gizeh-Intelligences, while however the Gizeh-twerps and the Pegasus-refugees apparently already from the beginning belonged together. But why were they then refugees?

Ptaah:

11. They had to escape, because they also caused mischief on the world where they lived and were pursued by security forces of their home-world.

12. Yet it was, however, some other Earth-foreign fraternised factions, who were part of the Gizeh-Intelligences, who were in contact with these and had their bases with them.

13. We do not consider these also one of the Earth-foreigners of course, that I mentioned to you.

14. Still you are mistaken respecting the sirian Men in Black, because these also formed links with the Gizeh-Intelligences from the beginning, also like the faction of Ashtar Sheran.

15. The Gizeh-Intelligences controlled all approaches to the earthly airspace for millennia and forced all those, who they could use for themselves, into the alliance through despotism and a forcible change of power of judgment and attitude.

16. Since, however, you have never asked and apparently were also not therein interested regarding these connections, we also have never spoken about it.

Billy:

I understand a brainwashing, that comes about by a forcible change of the power of judgment and attitude of the human being, through strong psychic and physical pressure, in which also drugs and electromagnetic, electric and mechanical torture are often applied.

Ptaah:

17. This corresponds to the meaning of my words.

Billy:

Then, that now is finally clear. The connections with the Gizeh-honchos and other extraterrestrials are therefore much trickier and more extensive, as you told me. But even so, I also have never asked about it, consequently you also have told me nothing about the details. Then, however, I have a problem again, and in fact with the extraterrestrial aircraft, that the Brazilian-group had, from which I was set about in the year 1976 in Winkelriet near Wetzikon. You told me at that time – which unfortunately was not recorded in any contact-report – that it concerned a beamship, which indeed was piloted by people from a distant galaxy, and in fact with poison gas breathers or such, that they, however, were members of your federation, if I am not mistaken. With the 65th Contact on the 23rd of October 1976 you said the following:

Ptaah:

52. Further also, I was able to clarify the events in the Winkelriet near Wetzikon near your domicile, so in addition also the existence of that track of a beamship, which was not from one of our beamships.

53. With the track discovered by you, it concerns a ship of the Brazilian private interest group, who had sent out a command for the most exact probe of your circumstances.

54. In accordance with my investigations, it was about five people, who checked everything very accurately.

55. The ship doesn't even represent a product of the power-group itself, but loot.

56. It was stolen from a crew from a distant galaxy who landed in Brazil years ago, who had to make a forced landing because of some damage.

57. The interstellar drive of the ship was completely destroyed and cannot be repaired again, at least not by the technicians of this power-group.

58. Only the planetary anti-gravity-drive is fully functional, which is suffice for planetary flights.

59. However, you saw the same ship weeks later in the Winkelriet, where you on your very irrational search for this, for you, mysterious object, also discovered this, which put you very much in danger.

60. Two men were in the terrain out there and observed your arrival, which was an easy game for them, because at the time they observed you constantly.

61. In the desire to kill you, they prepared everything and steered you to the place of the planned event.

62. It was your luck, that you drove in your vehicle with caution and without lights on that dark night, because it was only through this, that you were not exactly recognisable in the darkness, that the shot from the gun missed you.

Ptaah:

18. Unfortunately you are mistaken, dear friend, because the strangers were not members of our federation, but they belonged to another group of the Gizeh-Intelligences and were stationed also with these, whereby they had to make an emergency landing in Brazil at that time and were captured by the Brazilian-group.

19. Actually they were poison gas breathers, who all died, when their respiration-equipment failed.

20. They could not leave the Earth anymore, because their interstellar drive was completely destroyed, which was a work of the Gizeh-Intelligences, as we found by experience through the members of the Sirian group.

21. The reason for the destruction of the drive was so that they could not flee, because the Gizeh-Intelligences had a `change` in fundamental attitude.

Billy:

And the Gizeh-twerps didn't undertake anything, as the ship had to make an emergency landing in Brazil, and the respiration-equipment failed, so also nothing, since the old Nazis of the Brazilian-group captured the ship?

Ptaah:

22. Their nature and behaviour was, that they simply gave up lost aircraft, as also they were not concerned about missing people etc. either.

23. Furthermore they were on close terms with the Brazilian group, which, however, that already for a long time does not exist anymore, because everyone of the faction has died by now because of ageing and illness.

Billy:

All members of this group were former officers of the German empire who escaped from Germany to Brazil, they were mainly leading lights and henchmen of the Nazi-empire and therefore escaped war-criminals.

Ptaah:

24. This was actually the case.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_457

Ptaah:

28. And what is currently in the earthly airspace, apart from us who are Earth foreigners, are those three groups of which we have spoken several times during the last months.

...

31. However, we should also mention those strangers who have been in contact with the intelligences of Giza since ancient times and who came to Earth from distant worlds.

32. These, however, we do not count among the usual very rare Earth foreigners who came or are coming to Earth.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_710

Billy:

... Then I want to end this subject and hear from you what you have to say about the matter of the Giza Intelligences, who were in reality the Earth-foreigners, of whom there has been talk since time immemorial. ...

...

Ptaah:

47. But the threat of the secret agents and dark figures had to be prevented, which could only be done by deliberate misleading, and this also with regard to the Fatima event, which we misleadingly called the machination of the Giza Intelligences instead of the Earth-foreigners, when it came up in our conversations.

48. In fact, the Giza Intelligences were also Earth-foreigners, whom we actually deported, but who were just as unknown to the Earth-foreigners as we were to them.

49. Like us, the Giza Intelligences also had similar devices for complete shielding, so that they too could not be located by the Earth-foreigners and could also not be perceived in any other way.

50. Consequently, they also knew nothing about their presence on Earth and were therefore simply non-existent for the Earth-foreigners.

51. So, confusing as it all may seem, we had to put the Giza Intelligences in the foreground, which, according to our providential plan and hope, obviously appeared to be a fantasy product of your statements by the Earth-foreigners, the secret services and 'Black Men', as well as our contacts and conversations.

52. This only furthered the controversy, which, however, helped the fulfilment of our plans, because the interest of the Earth-foreigners, secret services and 'Black Men' quickly waned and you were left alone by them, which has since been maintained in your favour.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_724

Billy:

... Ashtashran, like the Giza intelligences, also belonged to the old split-off old Pleiadian splinter group, which had already departed to our DERN universe more than 22 million years ago and was up to mischief in it. In particular, the Giza intelligences were in some respects malevolent elements, while Ashtashran was also evil in other ways, spreading an impulse-driven delusion of belief about his person among the earthlings.

Now, just as you Plejaren of today exercise caution and secrecy towards the strangers on Earth, these two groups were also careful never to make themselves known to the strangers, which they have succeeded in doing extensively and without any problems throughout the ages, so that the strangers still do not know of their former existence, just as they do not know of yours. And the trick of the two groups, the Ashtashran alias Ashtar Sheran and the Giza intelligences, was that they were only in our presence when they caused mischief, whereas they were resident in another space-time plane and only came into our presence temporarily and unnoticed by the strangers. So that is one thing, while on the other hand your Plejaren existence must now also be addressed, for which a few things need to be explained. Firstly, as far as I know, the strangers on Earth have never been able to ascertain the existence of the Giza intelligences themselves, but have at most heard of them and, as a result, even assumed, because they themselves could not perceive them – because the Gizaers, according to their old Plejaren technique, were able to shield themselves against any locating etc., as you Plejaren are also wont to do today – that the speeches would only correspond to suppositions or a fib. And as far as Ashtashran alias Ashtar Sheran is concerned, as far as I know he was never in our presence anyway, but worked on his confused believers on Earth from another space-time plane.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_797

{Note: It is not clear (to me) whether or not the Umigos mentioned in this Contact Report are the same as the Giza Intelligences/Bafath, or another group of "aliens" who also "set up their headquarters deep under the main pyramid at Giza in Egypt".}

Bermunda:

... the whole of the lowliness against you goes back to your childhood, because a woman hated you because you told her your opinion about religion and faith when you were a boy. However, this woman was a fanatically strict believer and belonged to a faith community to which she complained about you, consequently some lengthy consultations took place and then attempts were made to win you as a member of this community. The smaller group somehow came into contact with beings that were alien and called themselves Umigos, although it is not yet clear how this was possible. These alien beings were originally also fanatical believers in an all-creating higher might, which they called Selidan and worshipped. In the course of time, however, they fell away from this erroneous belief and turned to Christianity and sought like-minded people far and wide, which they also found in your hometown, among others. But how the connection with the woman came about, who became the actual origin of your lifelong embrace, has not yet been clarified.

These Umigos were vicious and fanatically hostile to everything that did not correspond to their views and their faith, therefore they tried to secretly undermine the faith of all human beings, which was different and strange to them. This was done imperceptibly in such a way that with the help of their devices brought from their homeland, they influenced almost all believers – with unnamable exceptions – of the earthly religions worldwide through their electronic micro-technology, which was still absolutely unknown on Earth at that time, and its possibilities in such a way that they gradually lost control over their own thinking and became largely incapable of thinking for themselves and also unstable. Furthermore, they influenced the believers in such a way that they fell prey to malice and blood lust, whereby they created enmities again and again, which led to evil wars, to religious murder and all imaginable evil. In the course of time, however, it came to pass that the Umigos, through the influences of the Earth-humans' faith in Christianity, became doubtful of their higher might, ultimately repugnant and apostate from it, consequently becoming more and more foreign to their faith, which ultimately led them gradually to turn to the earthly religion of Christianity and to acknowledge the God of that creed.

Something that also happens today with Earth-humans who are lulled by religious platitudes or who very quickly change their faith through coercion or benefit and become believers in another religion. With the Umigos, however, it was a lengthy process that took a long time. But when Christianity began to spread, they finally turned to it and stuck to it. ...

How the Umigos came into contact with the woman and this religious community in your hometown has not yet been investigated by Arlion and his followers, to which he also said that this was not really important, because the only thing that was important was what resulted from it, and that was what haunted you throughout your life.

...

... just now I was talking about this woman being a strict believer, regarding the Christian faith, yet she was as vicious in her disposition as the Umigos who had set up their headquarters deep under the main pyramid at Giza in Egypt.

Billy:

Something dawns on me, namely the Giza Heinis, who were then caught and deported by the Plejaren. Am I right?

Bermunda:

Yes, they were, a splintered group of a criminal tribe of our Federation that found passage into this universe and likewise to Earth, because they had our through...

Billy:

... because they must have been secretly following the Plejaren when they came to Earth to join us. Bermunda, that's about the way it was, isn't it?

Bermunda:

Yes, that is how it was, as I have been oriented in that regard. ...

Billy:

Horat, was her name, but I do not know exactly how her name is spelt correctly, just whether this name has an additional H or not. I also want to mention that the majority of all believers are probably deeply unbalanced in their character and in such a way that all evil immediately breaks through to the outside and these human beings quickly become active in the respective form, up to and including hatred and killing etc.

Bermunda:

What the additional "H" concerns is not important. But what you are saying with regard to the evil deep in one's character, that is undeniable. – Now, Arlion related that there were 11 other persons, men and women, with this numerous faith community who revealed a nature that was strictly devout, but like the woman, they were also evil, but maintained good relations with some of the local government, specifically 2 men named ... and ... who had intimate relations with the woman, although all 3 were married. This woman also had an intimate relationship with your teacher ... with whom you spent 1 year in Year 4, who often beat you mercilessly in front of all the students and ...

Billy:

I remember that, and furthermore, I once saw him and the woman you are talking about on the so-called 'Volebers' when they ...

Bermunda:

That will not have pleased them both, but let me report further. Arlion explained that the woman and the other 11 persons hated you and wished you to die, which of course did not come to pass, so it was arranged that very evil was done to you and that you were shouted down.

Intrigues were devised and carried out against you with the help of the community officials and the police, with teachers also helping, but they honestly supported you, but they were forced to

...

Billy:

... to howl with the wolves, otherwise they would have been out of a job, like teacher Lehmann, I know, because he told me himself.

Bermunda:

Yes, that's how it was, but I do not have to tell you about that, because you know yourself what happened and how you coped and managed everything. But Arlion said that in the whole affair the Umigos were very much involved, so in their wickedness and Christian fanaticism they did much to harm you how and where they could. They succeeded very well with the help of the influenced members of the local government, but your will to resist was stronger than their intrigues and all the malice that was shown to you. Besides, I must also mention, the umigos used 2 of their 5 devices, which they possessed and handed over to the woman, to maliciously influence many human beings in your hometown. These devices, powered by electrical energy, produced an electronic micro-vibration that could be widely broadcast and adjusted to certain human beings. One of the devices was given in 1948 by a man of the 11 group, namely ..., to an American friend whom he did not know belonged to the Dark Government of America. Since then, the latter have been using the virtually indestructible device to this day to influence or even kill certain persons according to their will and benefit. The Umigos brought these devices with them from their homeland, and they are constructed of metal unknown on Earth, which the experts of the dark government have not yet been able to analyse. The devices can be used in many ways, e.g. to induce hallucinations in human beings that seem so real that the people concerned firmly believe that what has happened to them is real. This happened, for example, with Semjase and other persons in your workroom, as Arlion explained. They also have many other efficacies, one of which is how they are used to attack your electronic devices and negatively affect your work and damage everything when you work with them. The emanations of the electronic microwaves also work in other ways, such as how you described to me the strange occurrence that happened in the kitchen of the Centre. But in another way, the second device was used by the group in your hometown to influence various persons in such a way that they did everything that was harmful to you, which ultimately led to you being taken everywhere and harassed. You, however, did not let yourself be influenced and always remained yourself, as you had learned from Sfath to defend yourself against foreign swinging waves of various kinds and to simply neutralise them. This is the reason why you were never affected by malicious swinging waves and consequently all attacks of any kind against you were ineffective. However, it is different with regard to the electronic devices and other materials that you have to handle for your work, for these naturally react to the negative influences that are directed towards them, consequently they no longer work correctly for you when you work with them, while other persons can use the same devices without any problems. How it works in this way is because all the swinging waves are aligned with your personality, but are deflected by your defences and transferred to the equipment or material you are working with.

...

When the last three of the first adversaries died of old age, and then also two of the descendants, so that today there are only seven persons left, two of whom, however, are struggling with death because they are afflicted with the Corona plague, the three of them, who have extraordinarily good knowledge and abilities concerning electronics, took out again the futuristic device that had been stored for a long time for them, which at that time the woman had received from the Umigos and with which various persons had been influenced, and made it functional in order to harm you. The Umigos could no longer be asked because they were deported, and so the descendants worked so persistently on the futuristic device until it became functional again and they found out how they could use it. Since then it has been used to do you such harm that you should get into trouble with the human beings, and in such a way that it is very difficult for you to prove that the incidents that occur are not of your making. This already started when you returned to Switzerland in 1969, and since then there have been repeated attempts to deprive you of your life, which even ... tried to do. It has happened 24 times so far, but every single attempt on your life failed as a result of inexplicable providence.

Billy:

... it is very interesting that the foreigners did not even know, as you say, that the Giza twerps had been on Earth for a long time and were up to their mischief.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_864

Billy:

Well, what the foreigners know about it, I don't know, but Ptaah told me that they know about it. But they are not supposed to know anything about the Giza intelligences, because these have always remained hidden from the foreigners, because they have kept back from them just like the Plejaren. Furthermore, what I also recently learned from Ptaah, they were from the Ankar universe and came from there to Earth. This because they destroyed their home planet themselves in their evilness, which is why they came here by the old route. Meanwhile, since being taken away and brought back, they are free, but inaccessible to flight technology on a world of the Plejaren Federation and under constant supervision, consequently they can do no more harm. Ptaah explained that their viciousness has not diminished, consequently they are still of the same mind as before.

Quetzal:

I am aware of everything in this regard.

Billy:

I think so, for it was a Plejaren action when these Heinis were taken away, which also the foreigners could not perceive, as Ptaah said. Consequently, they never knew anything about you Plejaren and also about the Heinis in Giza and their evil machinations. ...

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_870

Billy:

... Therefore, I am also only aware that all of the Giza twerps were renegades from somewhere in your Federation. They were just small groups of criminals, like we also have on Earth. But the twerps ran away in your universe, came to Earth and settled here. Your security forces then 'collected' them and brought them back, where they were settled somewhere on an uninhabited planet and deprived of all the means that would have given them the opportunity to fly out into space again. ...

Extraterrestrials – “Grays”

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Grey_alien

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_037

Semjase:

9. For quite some time so far unknown to us intelligences have been visiting the Earth.

10. It was not until 1961 that we became aware of them, when they seized two Earth-humans for study purposes, brought them into their spaceship and subjected them to a physical-chemical analysis.

...

36. Our examinations in the year 1961 revealed that there was nothing to fear from these space traveling intelligences.

37. They are humanoid in form and in fact only did research.

38. Their forms are absolutely human, though their body dimensions are somewhat different from ours.

39. Their size varies between 126 and 163 cm.

...

40. They originate from the planetary and star system ZETA RETICULI, as I already explained to you.

41. This system is located at an average distance of 37 light-years from the Earth.

42. Their spacecrafts are similar to our beamships and are extremely well equipped and very suitable for space travel.

43. The atmosphere of their home world is very similar to the earthly atmosphere, so that they can breathe it without great difficulties.

44. However, they are provided with close-fitting filter suits, which offer them protection in a number of respects.

45. To the human beings of Earth I would say that they are similar to the suits given to the fantasy figures Batman and Superman in the comics, except that in this case the face and the whole head are completely wrapped in the suit, whereby the area around the eyes is secured by viewing and protective 'glasses' built into and integrated into the suit.

46. No doubt you are familiar with the fantasy films of French production about a criminal named FANTOMAS.

47. If you look at this fantasy figure and replace its eye area with dark protective lenses, you have a pretty good representation of the Zeta Reticuli intelligences in their suits.

...

62. Of course, they differ from us only in their anatomy as well as in their size and skin color.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_039

Billy:

... But now, I have a question for you: what, actually happened with the two drawings that you promised me, regarding the Zeta-Reticuli Intelligences?

Semjase:

58. Unfortunately, I could not make these for you.

59. The permission for it was not granted to me.

...

61. In order to be able to make the pictures correctly, I would have had to draw certain details, from which insights for the earthly scientists would have arisen, which they are not yet permitted to obtain.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_238

Billy:

... I have one more question about things I have been asked over and over again, like the 'little greys' in America. As crazy Americans claim and stir up an immense propaganda for it, the American government should maintain contacts to these 'little greys' and even allow them to carry out inhuman experiments on terrestrial humans, in addition to gruesome animal experiments, etc. There should even be an exchange program between these 'little greys' and the Americans and the Americans should profit from the technology of the little twits, from which I have not yet discovered an iota. Also an alleged former secret agent of the CIA with the pseudonym 'FALCON' should play a certain role, as well as the constellation RETICULI or what that should be called.

Ptaah:

246. I have told you several times before that this whole puffed-up story and all the trimmings are nothing more than a crazy and deceptive fantasy of power-hungry elements that make many kinds of profit out of it, even including government agencies and intelligence services.

247. Similarly, or even remotely similar, or on the same scale, are countless other identical or similar stories and allegations concerning alleged contact with humans or other beings from foreign worlds, whereby I would like to point out another time that at the present time you are the only human being on Earth who has actual contact with extraterrestrial life-forms, both in telepathic and physical form.

248. All other claims made by any human being on Earth in this regard are either pure invention, hallucinogenic, insane, delusional, conscious or pathologically fraudulent, fanatically religious or otherwise unreal.

Billy:

You have explained this so often, but the lunatics and the sceptics on the Earth simply do not allow themselves to be taught. ...

...

Ptaah:

...

291. The innumerable liars, swindlers and deceivers and the pseudo-scientists in matters of ufology, alleged contacts, channeling, etc. and the believers of these gloomy and slanderous and misleading machinations, however, are all recognised and denounced, no matter whether it is about the falsehoods of the alleged 'FALCON' of the American secret service or about other lying stories and machinations of 'LITTLE GRAYS' and other nonsense.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_246

Billy:

... on a private basis, fraud, lies, charlatany and fraud have been practiced in these matters for a long time, which, according to your statements, should increase in the future. Unfortunately, this also discredits and ridicules the real UFO observations, if we want to stick to this name. But there are other UFO observations, namely those that fall within the scope of official and military secrets. This also involves various events of the past and present, about which a great deal has been written, claimed, talked about and kept secret in the private sphere of so-called UFO research. Stories about crashes and salvages of UFOs also appear, e.g. the case of New Mexico towards the end of the 1940s, etc. But also names like 'Falcon' and 'Condor' etc. play an important role, whereby it should concern CIA members etc., who should pass on UFO information to the public under these pseudonyms, of course without letting their face become recognizable. Also the so-called 'Little Greys' play a very important role, which allegedly in the USA about three million people are said to have insisted, impregnated and maltreated with operation scars and painting etc. ...

Ptaah:

37. Which, of course, is sheer nonsense and has no reality at all.

38. We are well aware of the hysteria of such delusions in America.

39. This is already spreading to Europe, with a particularly fertile soil to be found especially in Germany.

40. On the other hand the delusion and the hysteria are still consciously stirred up from different places, whereby also this 'Falcon' appears, whose false information is taken by all stupid believers gladly as cash coin.

41. Certain official bodies, offices and organizations also deliberately allow such false information to be disseminated, whereby the reasons for this are very varied.

42. I am not yet allowed to speak openly about this, nor about which things correspond to the truth or untruth in matters of UFO crashes and UFO salvages as well as other related matters.

43. Also with regard to the clarification of earthly offices and military and defensive forces in matters of UFOs, my duty of secrecy, which is apparent from one of our directives, is that we must not interfere in any matters of human life with which we are not in official contact.

44. So we must also keep in mind that we must not decipher secrets that are kept by earthly authorities, government officials, security organizations, the military, etc.

45. Which secrets earth authorities and military as well as security organizations guard etc. regarding interests of allegedly extraterrestrial aircraft and humans etc., must remain according to our directive instructions their secrets, which we do not have the right to air.

...

Billy:

... Then a question about the Hills in the USA, which had been abducted by life forms of extraterrestrial origin, namely by human beings from the area of the stars Zeta Reticuli, 37 light-years away. I believe that you told me at the time that this was correct.

Ptaah:

47. Yes. –

48. This forced contact is also the origin of the nonsensical stories and hysteria about the 'Little Greys', which have nothing to do with the truth in any way.

49. The fear and hysteria and the imaginative stories about the 'Little Greys' correspond to a well-managed false propaganda to put certain things in a false light on the one hand and to conceal certain events and machinations on the other.

Billy:

What is certain is that there are inhabited planets in the area of Zeta Reticuli, planets inhabited by humans. Does this apply to both Zeta Reticuli 1 and Zeta Reticuli 2?

Ptaah:

50. This is true, but we do not maintain any contacts with the local inhabitants, who are not even aware of our existence, which we have been observing for several millennia.

51. However, our interests do not lie in establishing contact with the ways of life of those areas, since they do not yet possess certain forms of development that would be necessary for establishing contact.

Billy:

Probably in reference to your directives?

Ptaah:

52. That's right.

...

Billy:

Well, then we can talk about something else again. My question refers once more to alleged contacts of human beings of Earth with extraterrestrials, whereby the specific is directed at claims which in my opinion sound quite ridiculous. Apart from the approximately three million human beings who were in America allegedly harmed by extraterrestrials and subjected to all kinds of tests, whereby many women supposedly developed pregnancies and the 'Little Greys' allegedly then stole the hybrid children after the birth, the kidnapped and harmed human beings of Earth would after the tests have often suffered from pain and complained about operation scars and burn marks etc. In addition, however, cows and cattle are also said to have been outrageously massacred by the 'Little Greys', and namely also by the thousands and millions, whereby the beasts were allegedly also missing various organs and at the same time mysterious things are said to have occurred too.

Ptaah:

73. This of course does not correspond to the truth, but to an unbelievable nonsense, which fanatical or otherwise incapable UFO- and ghost believers only too gladly want to recognize as real truth and believe in it rock-solidly, although not a word of the whole dizziness corresponds to the truth, which is well-consciously invented and controlled by certain organs for deception and scaremongering, in order to achieve certain goals.

74. In addition to these organs and persons, however, there are still many UFO-phantasts, who are mostly secternically burdened, who themselves care for their bodies by teaching themselves wounds and burns, etc., by implanting crystals or pieces of metal into their flesh and letting everything scar in order to then claim that they have been kidnapped and persecuted by extraterrestrials, of which the scars and burns, etc. would testify.

75. Incompetent hypnotists, who then subject such persons to so-called 'truth hypnoses', then claim that the information given in hypnosis by the hypnotised would unfailingly correspond to the truth, because hypnosis could not lie.

76. However, it is never taken into account that a person in a hypnotic state can tell and pronounce the worst lies just as untraceably as is the case with the so-called technical lie detectors, without the specialists being able to recognize the lies, because the technical devices of this kind on earth are still so imperfect that they can be outwitted with simple and man's own means.

77. With regard to the allegedly massacred animals, it must be said that this is just as much unbelievable nonsense as the alleged pregnancies in American women caused by the 'Little Greys'.

78. The massacred animals are also purely earth human machinations for the purpose of scaremongering and misleading all those who are incompetent in the matter of UFO matters, spirits and extraterrestrials and simply believe all nonsense unthinkingly, if they are extraterrestrials and their flying machines or ghosts or religious 'appearances' and other imaginations etc..

79. In some cases, however, no terrestrial humans are involved in such events, but predators who tear and mutilate the cattle.

Extraterrestrials – “Reptilians” (conspiracy theory)

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Reptilian_conspiracy_theory

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/David_Icke

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_031

Billy:

... Recently it was explained to me that in various governments of our Earth extraterrestrial intelligences are carrying on their activities and are even permanently employed there. What is this all about, can we believe these statements?

Ptaah:

365. You call such things fairy tales.

Billy:

So this means that there are no 'star people' working in our Earth governments?

Ptaah:

366. That's what it says. –

367. If these statements were true, then peace would have come to Earth a long time ago and Earthly humanity would have been taught the truth by the governments.

...

Billy:

But it is said that these extraterrestrials would secretly and undetected participate in or with government agencies.

Ptaah:

373. This is also not so, which your logic itself can confirm.

374. If it were really so, then within only a few days no authority, no government and no military power would hunt down our ships, because we actually have all possibilities to nip such things in the bud.

375. If we were to be active in any governmental bodies, there would be peace on Earth.

376. So all the claims are nothing more than lies, I mean, when such things are claimed by us or by any other extraterrestrials.

377. Such lies are often due to religious machinations of some sectarian elements and of unscrupulous fantasists, liars, swindlers and frauds.

https://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/Contact_Report_441

Billy:

Around 22 years have now passed since you and Quetzal told me privately that you had comprehensive cognitions in regard to terrestrial UFOs and the massacre of animals and alleged abductions which were disguised as the shoddy efforts of extraterrestrials. You said thereby that, in regard to this, involved in these machinations are governments, the military, as well as industrial businesses and powerful ones of finance, which constitute a special group, to which still smaller groups are also related. At that time you promised that you would officially explain more about that when the time is ripe for that. Can one now speak publicly about that?

Ptaah:

21. With the named group, it concerns a worldwide branching from governments, the military, industrial groups, secret services, paramilitary and powerful ones of finance, as you correctly said.

22. Those in the know and contributors are only certain elements of the same, who profit greatly, financially and power-politically, from their secret machinations, for which reason the entire powers of the government, military and industrial as well as finance are not involved in the situation and are also not informed in regard to this.

23. The group is not organized, as such, rather is only a loose collection, whereby their interests, however, have a common form, which, already since the 1920s, was designed to operate a continuous, ingenious, large-scale disinformation campaign regarding the question of extraterrestrial life.

24. The group, which is split into many small groups, has many kinds of technical possibilities at their disposal, which they employ for their evil and human-misleading purposes.

25. That started with technologies of electromagnetism to do with precision electronics and computer engineering, up to and including apparatuses through which brainwashing and the programming and altering of consciousness is evoked in humans.

26. They even have back-engineered beamships at their disposal, whereby, in certain contexts, even antigravity finds application.

27. It has also occurred many times that premeditated "abductions" of Earth humans by "extraterrestrials", and the massacre of animals, has been and is faked by this group.

29. Also wrong information and falsified pictures of alleged extraterrestrial flying devices is strategically circulated worldwide, whereby according to our investigations, about 98% of all false pictures, films, videos and false information is directed at moving the Earth humans to angst and terror of extraterrestrials and to engender hate and thoughts of revenge in the Earth humans.

30. Therefore, in this way, angst, terror and hate is stirred up against all life foreign to Earth.

31. Especially films for cinema and television serve this purpose, as also, however, do many books which are constructed on lies and untruths and are written partly by "experts" in psychology and psychiatry.

32. All this nonsense sells very well to the Earth humans because many on the search for the effective truth trust and believe this false information, and these films and pictures.

33. Angst, horror, terror, hate and revenge always sell well, while the truth appears too banal and therefore appears uninteresting as well as not worth knowing.

34. Only the fantastic and unreal find a place in the interests of Earth humans. 35. However, precisely that is the launching platform for the infamous machinations of the worldwide group, because, through disinformation and fear-mongering in regard to the malicious foreigners to Earth, the entire group, which reaches right around the world, derives horrendous advantages of a financial, governmental-power, military-power as well as an economic form.

36. The entire war, electronics and weapons industries, and so forth, thereby gain an enormous boost.

37. Yet, in the worldwide group, secret paramilitary units also exist as smaller groups which carry out the same kind of operations which, however, are mostly controlled by the worldwide group.

38. In particular, these small groups carry out premeditated abductions which are credited ostensibly to the extraterrestrials, as well as, however, also simulated appearances of alleged extraterrestrial flying craft, which are then collectively declared to be extraterrestrial UFO appearances and are often observed, photographed and filmed by many people.

39. Thereby the illusion of an ostensible extraterrestrial abduction or observation of extraterrestrial flying devices is evoked.

40. What is further to say about that is that, in this worldwide group, with all the small groups who partly also work autonomously, there exists a proper "UFO trade" and a subculture in regard to animal massacres and abductions and so forth.

41. The entire thing is secretly financed through governments, the military, industrial groups and financially powerful ones who are interested in angst, terror and hate being stirred-up to their highest forms in regard to the alleged evil extraterrestrial foreigners, because they can thereby gain gigantic financial profit and advantage.

42. It is on this basis that, in every regard, from this group, only stories, cinema and television films and observations of UFOs will be accepted and profitably exploited, which are based on everything negative and – as is becoming proverbial with the Earth humans – on the malicious and aggressive nature of the extraterrestrials.

43. Only that which evokes angst, fear and terror as well as engenders hate and revenge is accepted by the group and exploited worldwide in order to obtain enormous profit with it.
